CASE DISMISSED.

Wm. Chesney appeared before Magistrate Langley this morning on the charge of assaulting his wife, inflicting grievous bodily harm. The evidence showed that the accused married while attending the Collegiate and just before enlisting for overseas, where he served two years. Since coming home he and his wife have had several quarrels. It was claimed that on May 9th the accused threw his wife out of the bedroom so that she injured herself by falling on her head, but under cross examination she admitted drawing blood by striking her husband with a boot.

The Magistrate dismissed the case, stating that it should never have been brought up and gave both parties some sound advise.

Mr. G. W. Hatton appeared for the Crown and Mr. Joseph Wearing for the accused.

OBITUARY

WILFRED McCLAVEY.

The death occurred last night at St. Joseph's Hospital of Wilfred McClavey of this city aged 41. The deceased leaves his mother and one brother and sister, Mrs. Morin of this city and John of Peterboro.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning at nine o'clock from the family residence, 145 Stewart street to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

MRS. E. W. WASSON.

The sudden death in Toronto on Friday of Mrs. Ernie W. Wasson, formerly Miss Minnie Jones, youngest daughter of the late Joseph Jones of Peterborough, following an operation for meningitis, occasioned profound regret among her many friends here. Mr. Wasson with his sister-in-law, Mrs. W. E. Wright of Winnipeg, and Mr. Fred E. Jones, came down with the remains on Monday at noon. The funeral being held from the home of her brother, Mr. Edward Jones, 337 McDonnel street, Tuesday afternoon at 2.30, an impressive service being conducted by tme Rev. Robt. Pogue of St. Paul's church. The following were the pallbearers: Mr. R. Denne, R. Hicks, C. Graham, F. Stenson, W. G. Montgomery and R. Turner.

Mrs. Wasson leaves to mourn her, her husband, Mr. E. Wasson, and one son, Arthur, her mother, Mrs. Jones, who has been living with her in Toronto for the last two years, her sister, Mrs. Wright of Winnipeg, and three brothers, who have the sincere sympathy of their many friends.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Robert Carson left for Toronto after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Duffus, Monaghan Road

Mrs. J. H. Seels leaves to-day for Calgary to attend the I.O.D.E. Convention to be held in that city next week.

Constable Foster Jackson, R.N.W.M.P., Ottawa, is in the city visiting his aunt, Mrs. W. H. Gould, 576 Cedar street.

Miss Seabourne Hamilton, Miss Robina Gordon-Camming and Mr. Herbert Bradburn have returned from a short motor trip to Hamilton.

Captain G. G. Winterbottom is in Lindsay to-day.

Mrs. M. F. Ward of Toronto, the elocutionist who appeared in last night's concert at Trinity church, was the guest of Mrs. W. A. Greenslade during her stay here.

Miss Helen Warmington, who has been visiting her aunts, Mrs. McCarthy and the Misses Phelan, Montreal, returned home last night.

AT THE ALLEN

In Old Kentucky Home, the feature picture at the Allen, has at each showing drawn an almost capacity house, and the daring deeds, beautiful women and fearless men which make up the wonderful film, justify its being called one of the really big pictures of the day. Every scene grips, hundreds of night riders chase an assassin, moonshiners fight, a thrilling horse race and countless other exciting situations are embodied in the picture in which Anita Stewart, beloved of all movie fans, appears to perhaps better advantage than in any previous production.

DETROITERS, AND OTHERS, KEPT ROAD HOUSES BUSY

WINDSOR, May 19. — Notwithstanding the fact that all near-beer saloons were kept closed tightly in this city yesterday, no similar action had been taken in regard to the [illegible] road-houses along the river front, both east and west, and these places did a rushing business throughout the day. There were consequently more cases of intoxication than usual in the Police Court to-day forty-one persons being fined $17.50 each for this offence. Seventy-five per cent. of this number were residents of Detroit.

IN MEMORIAM.

GRUBBE.—In ever loving memory of Ada Louise Haselwood Wrighton, beloved wife of Robert William Grubbe, daughter of the late William and Maria Haselwood Wrighton, and great-granddaughter of the Baron de Codin, who died at Peterborough, Canada, May 19th, 1919.

WORBOY.—In loving memory of Private Fred Worboy, died of wounds, 10th May, 1916.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PETERBORO CHEESE BOARD HELD TO-DAY

The charge to the factories would be 5 cents a box. Mr. W. W. Moore who has been a government official and has had wide experience in farming and dairying will have charge of the Montreal office. "We are opening up on a small scale at first", Mr. Cowan said. The president of the company Mr. R. W. Ireland of Wellington Prince Edward County.

Mr. Cowan was put through a cross fire of questions by Mr. A. Ayre of the firm of A. A. Ayre & Co. cheese buyers, Montreal and by Mr. T. H. Thompson of Madoc their buyer. Mr. Ayre and Mr. Cowan engaged in a discussion over the proposition which appeared to be greatly opposed by both men and also by J. Cooke the buyer from W. S. Cooke and Son, Belleville. Mr. Cowan made the statement that one of the greatest opponents to the Quebec scheme was A. A. Ayre and Company.

Mr. Ayre forcibly denied this statement and warned Mr. Cowan that he would call upon him to prove it.

"Well, I will stand by it—and I can prove it, if necessary," Mr. Cowan replied.

"We don't want to disrupt everything—we want absolute harmony," the promoter of the cooperative stated.

Buyers Opposed.

Mr. Thompson said that the buyers had never opposed Mr. Cowan's cooperative company.

"If Mr. Thompson had been at the Picton meeting he would have seen buyers opposing it," Mr. Cowan added.

Mr. Cook moved that the election of officers be held off for two weeks, followed by a motion of Mr. Thompson that the old officers be re-elected. It carried unanimously and the last year's officers will hold down their respective chairs for the coming season.

The following cheese was on the slate:

	Boxes
Warminster	60
Selwyn	25
Villiers	30
Warsaw	55
Oakdale	20
Ormonde	70
Young's Point	65
Lang	10
North Dummer	20
Norwood	53
	428

The bidding opened at 28c by Mr. G. A. Gillespie. Mr. J. Cook raised him to 28½c and they eventually went to Mr. T. H. Thompson for 29¼c.

Norwood, Killarney and Warminster held out till the last but finally gave in when it was announced that the next sale would not be held for three weeks, till June 10th, as two weeks would be the King's birthday. Lang did not sell on account of its small shipment.

The meeting adjourned till June 10th.

BOLSHEVIK STILL CLAIM ODESSA

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 19.—Odessa is still claimed by Russian Bolsheviki and Rumors of its capture by Ukrainians have not been supported by subsequent messages. Allied commissioners here are without official information as there is no means of communication between this city and southern Russia.

SUGAR STOCKS ARE ARRIVING

(Canadian Press.)

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 19. — Six ships laden with sugar are now en route from Cuba to this port, harbor officials stated to-day. The boats are held up in Cuba by strikes. More are to follow them. So great is the quantity of sugar to be laid down here in a few days that a local refinery has chartered a portion of the extensive government sheds to store it.

DEFEATED POLES.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 19.—The Bolsheviki won an important success over the Poles in passing the Dvina River at Polotsk, in the Government of Vitebsk, according to an official Soviet Government statement to-day.

The Poles were forced to withdraw, tion received the Bolshevik with enthusiasm.

PROVISION FOR PRISONERS AFTER SENTENCE SERVED

NEW YORK, May 19.—Arrangements have been made between Canadian and American prison reform societies whereby citizens of either country deported after serving prison sentences will not be dumped across the border without provision being made for them, it was announced here to-day at the conference of the National Committee of Prisons and Prison Labor.

FIND SKELETON OF BABE WRAPPED IN NEWSPAPER

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, May 18.—The skeleton of a baby wrapped in a copy of The Ottawa Free Press of December, 1910, was found in the attic of a house on the outskirts of Hull on Saturday evening.

New tenants had moved into the house, and in the course of a general house-cleaning, the gruesome discovery was made.

BROADER LUXURY TAXES, BUT BUSINESS PROFITS GET

manufacturer or importer, instead of the retailer, as now.

FILMS—A tax of fifteen cents for each day used abolished, because of inequality of incidence as between small and large theatres.

All the foregoing taxes are effective from to-morrow (Wednesday), the 19th May.

INCOME TAXES RAISED.

INCOME TAX—By last year's legislation income taxes payable this year on 1919 income were substantially raised. A further general addition to these taxes of five per cent. is now added, on incomes of $5,000 and up, to be effective this year.

In future, income tax returns must be accompanied by a cheque for at least 25 per cent. or the whole of the amount estimated to be payable. If paid in instalments, interest at 6 per cent. is to be charged, and payment in full is required within six months after return is made by means of three equal bi-monthly instalments. Heavy penalties are provided for incorrect returns.

MODIFY PROFITS TAX.

BUSINESS PROFITS TAX—Present tax is modified by increasing the exemption allowed from 7 to 10 per cent. and changing the schedule of taxation to the following:

On profits in excess of 10 per cent. on capital, but not exceeding 15 per cent., tax will be 20 per cent.

On profits in excess of 15 per cent. on capital, but not exceeding 20 per cent., tax will be 30 per cent.

On profits in excess of 20 per cent. on capital, but not exceeding 30 per cent., tax will be 50 per cent.

On profits in excess of 30 per cent. on capital, tax will be 60 per cent.

For small businesses with capital of not less than $25,000 and under $50,000, 20 per cent. on all profits exceeding 10 per cent. will be taken, instead of 25 per cent. as at present.

Under legislation of last session, the maximum scale of business tax is in effect this year, and the modified tax will apply to 1920 profits, taxable in 1921.

WAR CUSTOMS DUTIES OFF.

TARIFF CHANGES—The 7½ per cent. war customs duty is taken off all remaining items. Last year the five per cent. British preferential war tax was entirely removed, as well as the 7½ per cent. on food, clothing, agricultural implements, etc. The war customs duties imposed in 1915 are now entirely removed.

Sir Henry also announced that public sittings for tariff revision would be held throughout Canada after prorogation. "Our policy," he said, "calls for a thorough revision of the tariff with a view to the adoption of such reasonable measures as may be necessary."

Articles of luxury, Sir Henry said, should be heavily taxed. Food commodities and other necessaries of life, not produced or manufactured in Canada, should, if taxed at all, bear only such imposts as were necessary for revenue purposes.

VOL. XLVI. NO. 119 — PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1920 — PRICE TWO CENTS

MAIL CLERKS WAIT ON THE GOVERNMENT

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, May 20.—Claiming that anything less than a minimum salary of $1,680.00 per year is not acceptable to their membership, a strong delegation from the Dominion Railway Mail Clerks' Federation, an organization that is 1,500 strong, is in Ottawa to urge the Government to grant the original maximum decided upon by Arthur Young & Company, and taken as final by the Federation.

The president, Mr. W. F. Griffith, who heads the delegation, said his organization had accepted the ruling of the classifiers of the service, which placed the maximum at $1,680.00. It was only two weeks ago that they heard the Board of Hearing of the Civil Service Commission had recommended that the maximum be $1,560.00. This was passed upon by the Commission, but not by order in Council.

The purpose of the delegation was to persuade the Government that their work was worth a maximum of $1,680.00.

The delegation included: W. F. Griffith, St. John, N.B.; C. E. Power, Halifax; A. Audet, Quebec; A. Mathot, Montreal; S. Ferguson, Ottawa; G. R. Jackson, Toronto; J. P. Allen, North Bay; J. A. Stewart, London; J. F. Kerr, Moosejaw; S. C. Bell, Calgary; S. C. Bates, Vancouver.

ECONOMY IN USE OF "GAS" NECESSARY

IMPERIAL OIL CO. EMPHASIS SERIOUSNESS OF SHORTAGE OF GASOLINE—URGES STRINGENT ECONOMY TO SAVE EVERY DROP.

Mr. B. R. Wilson, district manager of the Imperial Oil Co., has received a circular letter from the sales department, Toronto, which is of vital interest to all gasoline consumers. That there is a great scarcity of gasoline and that everyone must economize is the pith of the communication. During the last few years the consumption of gasoline has risen 500 p.c., and in the same time production has only increased 150 p.c. Reserves of gasoline have had to be drawn on, but still the demond has exceeded the production until now the company is faced with a serious situation By economizing in the use of the precious liquid a crisis may be averted.

Shut Off Motors.

Drivers are urged to shut off their motors when they leave them standing on the curb even if only for a short while, to have their carburetors adjusted perfectly so that they will deliver maximum power for the gas used. It is urgently advised that pleasure driving be cut down to the vanishing point so that there will be enough for the farmers and other consumers for vital industries.

This message will not be welcomed by the pleasure fiends who do their best to wear down the city's asphalt, but that there is a shortage of gasoline is undeniable and sacrifices have to be made if necessary industries are to carry on.

Mr. Wilson also sounds a note of warning to motorists who persist in smoking when filling their gas tanks or running the engine at the same time and believes that steps should be taken to force this measure of safety not only for the motorist, but for the citizens as well

Jump in Price.

That a substantial jump in the price of gas will take place shortly is the opinion of the Imperial oil manager, and he anticipates that it will be 30c before long. Recent increases have taken place in the States. Every economy must be exercised if there is to be enough for the farmers and others to whom it is a necessity if greater production is to be carried out

ASSESSMENT BILL CAUSES A FURORE IN TORONTO HOME

(Special to Examiner)

TORONTO, May 20.—An income assessment bill apparently caused a furore in a Toronto residence. At any rate the man who received it appeals to the court of revision upon the following unique grounds. "The sending of notice caused my wife to believe I am holding back part of wages." The applicant was assessed $380 and the department says that as his employer returned his income at $2,080 and he is entitled to only $1,700 exemption the assessment was justified.

Many lads now earn more than the assessable $700 per year and among the appeals from the upper part of ward seven is that of Stanley C. Brent of No. 7 Miller avenue also objects to income tax because "my age is only 15 years next month."

Cavalry Patrols

ONE MAN KILLED IN CLASH WITH SOLDIERS IN IRELAND.

(United Press.)

LIMERICK, Ireland, May 20th.—One man was killed and a woman and girl wounded in clashes between civilians and police and soldiers here last night. The streets were patrolled by the Military to-day Fighing started last night when crowds attacked a hall where the Masonic Society was meeting. Stones were hurled through the windows of the building.

CAVALRY PATROLS

(United Press.)

DUBLIN, May 20.—Cavalry patrols were active throughtout Ireland last night and early to-day. A squadron of Hussars replaced Constables in policing the Bray district. Troops patrolled Londonderry last night to prevent a renewal of continued rioting there. The military also was reported active in the vicinity of Skibbereen. A detachment from a naval brigade arrived with three guns to take over the barracks.

Troops Arrive.

Canadian Press.)

DUBLIN, May 20.—Contingents of British cavalry and infantry are arriving in Ireland, but the total number of troops now in the island is still considerably below that of a year ago. Troops have hitherto been used merely as additional police officers and have not been numerous enough to cope with disturbances. Soldiers therefore have been called in to strenthen the garrisons. Government operations are being directed to maintenance of ordinary law. When cattle are driven from farms, troops are not concerning themselves with the nature of the dispute between farmers and raiders, but are trying to punish cattle drivers and with the aid of cavalry restore cattle to owners. It appears that burning of police barracks were attributable to the foresight of Sinn Fein leaders who anticipated that an extension of military activity was contemplated by the government and that barracks would be used by detachments of soldiers. Difficulty is apprehended in finding lodgings for soldiers and construction of fortified huts is possible. Thus far there have been no attacks on soldiers, but an insufficient military would undoubtedly be inviting to the raiders.

GEORGE STREET MEMORIAL TABLET

The memorial tablet in honour of the men of the George Street Methodist Church, who served in the War, will be unveiled on Sunday morning next at eleven o'clock. The public will be cordially welcomed at this service, and a special invitation to be present is extended to the relatives and friends of those whose names appear on the tablet, and to the officers and members of the Peterborough Rangers, the Peterborough Battery, the Machine Gun Company, the Dragoons, and the Great War Veterans' Association.

HOLIDAY BILL AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Like everything else the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board undertakes, the celebration at the Exhibition grounds will be something big, something worth while to stay in the city for, and something suitable to the day it is being held on.

The day's activities will commence at 1.15, when headed by the G.W.V.A. and 57th Band, C Company 4th Canadian Machine Gun Brigade, 140 strong, and the Boy Scouts, will parade to the grounds, leaving the Armouries at 1.15 sharp. At 1.30 the speeding in the ring will commence, when three good, live events, a 2.25, a free-for-all, and a colt's race will be run.

At 2 p.m. England will clash with Scotland in a football match, which contains much promise for sport enthusiasts in the fact that both teams like the countries they represent, are out to come out on top.

At 3.30 a big lacrosse match between two picked teams has been arranged for, and the boys are out afternoon and night practicing for the big event.

The sports above mentioned are only a fraction of what other attractions have been secured and which will outdistance any other 24th of May celebration.

DEFLATIONS ACROSS THE U.S. BORDER

CUTS FROM 25 TO 75 PER CENT. IN EVERYTHING EXCEPT FOOD.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Advertisements in newspapers to-day gave convincing proof of the comprehensiveness of price deflations in retail lines except food. Cuts ranged from 20 to 75 per cent., with the largest reductions occuring in commodities classified as luxuries. Food remained high. People must have it and must pay the prices demanded. The current deflation is attributed to the trend to economy that has taken possession of the public. Some specific effects follow:

Furs are selling in Fifth Avenue for $75 which were held for $100 several weeks ago. Shoes that were selling at $20 are now offered at $11.65. A woman's suit prices at $245 may be had for $100 less.

Men's clothing has dropped in proportion. Blue serge suits that were $50 are advertised at $28.50. Palm Beach suits have dropped from last year's price of $20 to $12. Collars that climbed to 30 cents are being offered as low as 21 cents.

CONVERSATION BY WIRELESS SERVICE

INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION IN OTTAWA TO-NIGHT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, May 20.—For the first time in Canada, an audience attending the Royal Society of Canada conference here to-night will actually hear a conversation carried on between Ottawa and Montreal by wireless telephone.

The experiment will be carried out by Lieut.-Commander Edwards, of the Radio Telegraph Branch of the Canadian Wireless Service.

Wireless messages will be sent to and received from Kingston and Montreal.

The audience will be privileged to hear both song and cheers over the wireless 'phone, and to enable them to do so, a huge sound amplifier has been installed in the ballroom of the Chateau Laurier, where the Royal Society is in session. If conditions are favourable the conversations should be clearly heard.

For the experiment, the Marconi Wireless Company of Canada has loaned the apparatus.

To-night's lecture is to be a popular one. It will deal with the great inventions that contributed so largely to the final triumphs of the Allies in the War.

An imposing array of apparatus has been set up in the Chateau ballroom for the experiments it is proposed to conduct.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET REPORT

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 20.—Stocks continued their downward course when the market opened to-day Central Leather opened at 63 1-8 off 1-8; Crucible 127 off 1 3-4; Southern Pacific 91 unchanged, Pan American Pet 92 off 1 1-2; Baldwin 106 1-2 off 1-2; U.S. Steel 90 1-4 off 3-8, U. S. Rubber 89 off 1; Republic Steel 85 1-2 off 1, Corn Products 89 up 1-4; Canadian Pacific 110 off 2 3-4; Studebaker 60 1-2 off 2 3-4; U. R. Stores 70 off 1 3-4; Mexican Pet 165 off 1-4; American Woollen 09 off 2 12.

It was evident that the bears were still in the full of their drive, and motors, steel, and shoe stocks were hit hard at the opening. A few minutes later Steel Common sold down to 90. Crucible, after opening down 1 3-4 to 127, dropped to 125. In the motor group Pierce-Arrow lost 3 1-4 to 46. Oils were hit somewhat less than the other stocks, but all of them suffered. The fall of commodity prices, high banking rates, and the disorganising of transportation were still the bear arguments to-day.

The fall in retail prices were especially affecting the leather, shoe, and woollen stocks, while the steels suffered more from the transportation disturbances. It was stated on the street that there has been considerable buying at present levels by men connected with the investment department of a number of New York banks. At the same time, there was no organised resistance to the bear drive, and bankers were simply picking up these stocks as the market fell.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 20.—Foreign exchange opened easy to-day with fractional decreases. Demand sterling opened at $3.80 3-4 off 1. Franc cheques were 14.30 off 58. Lire cheques were 19.82 off 30. Belgian cables 13.70 off 45. Marks made a new high at 2.02 23 cables 2.02 3-8 up 3-8. Canadian dollars opened at $.8075.

MEETING ON THE MARKET LAST NIGHT

LARGE CROWD TURNED OUT TO HEAR THE ADDRESSES—BAND IN ATTENDANCE.

The causes, the negotiations preceding the strike of the machinists at the C.G.E., and the attempts of the machinists and other workers to settle the strike as quietly and as expeditiously as possible, and the phases surrounding the supposed settlement on Saturday last were fully set forth by Mr. H. W. Harper, business agent of the machinists, at a public meeting called in the Market Square last night for the benefit of the citizens in general to give them an opportunity to hear matters in connection with the strike explained.

Led by a mixed band, the labour men marched down from the Labor Hall to the square where, from a wagon, the addresses were given in true democratic style to a large number of machinists, eelctrical workers and other tradesmen, in addition to citizens in general who felt interested enough in the strike to turn out and hear Mr. Harper state the case of the men. With a box for a table, Mr. C. Horsfield, president of the Machinists' Union, presided at the meeting. He introduced the Machinists' representative to the assemblage and Mr. Harper took the floor at once.

No Connection.

Mr. Harper in beginning, stated thta the meeting was called at the request of the Machinsts' Union in order to give a true story of the strike and the negotiations in connection with it, to condemn the wrong impression that lived in the minds of some of the citizens as to the ultimate motive of the strike. It had been said in the local house, the speaker stated, that the trouble was connected with the Hydro and Chippewa strike, and many citizens had the same impression. Mr. Harper emphatically denied any connection between the two strikes.

"Now the machinists have nothing to hide. As a labour organization our only object is to sell that labour at the best price." The speaker said that there were conditions in the homes of the labour men that must be remedied. That was why the conditions under which they lived affected their ability to produce their best work. They could not care for their wives or their children in the way they wanted them to be cared for, and it was only just that these conditions be removed.

On March 15th, he said, they presented their agreement to the local shops—not to only one of them. It was to take effect on April 1. Abont 95 p.c. of the demands have been secured. "We realized that a strike was to be used only as a last resort." On the claim of many citizens that the men were Bolsheviks and agitators, Mr. Harper stated with emphasis: "I want to say that I have never met a cleaner brand of trade unionism than exists in Peterborough." (Cheers.)

The Agreement.

The agreement called for a 48 hour week, but this was later abrogated, but the speaker did not mean that the shorter day was not wanted. He said that it was needed by everyone to bring more comfort into their homes. On the remarks of several citizens to the effect that they hoped the strike would be defeated, Mr. Harper claimed they had no right to make such statements, when they did not understand the conditions of the phases of the strike. "It is not right for men on the other side who live in palaces to tell us they hope we are defeated."

Forty days in all were spent in negotiations. They asked for 80 cents an hour for the machinists. In Toronto the men had asked for 90c, and many were signed up at that rate. "We finally compromised and decided to accept 75 cents. The main question was that of a minimum rate of wages." The speaker denounced the present bargaining for labour as if it was coal or eggs instead of human life. He named different countries in which this minimum wage was in force. "Fair minded people all over the world are realizing that labour has some rights and should have a little say in the prices it is being sold at," the speaker added.

The Classification.

The classification of machinists and specialists was one of the objections of the men. At first they desired 65 cents for the specialists but later came down to 60. Mr. Harper said that the first committee of men that met the company felt that they had not got the consideration they deserved. The company would only agree to dealing with indivdual cases. Following this he approached Senator Robertson and Senator Nicholls with a view of holding a meeting in Ottawa. In this, at first, the company only wanted to deal with each man individually. "We said we would go farther than we had gone with any company yet and would divide the men into different groups and submit the matter to a board of conciliation, but it was turned down." Once again Mr. Harper approached the management, and with the local manager went to Toronto, but nothing came out of this meeting either. By this time the men were getting impatient and on May 6th they went on strike.

The matter was then taken up by the City Council, and the speaker commended the Council for what they

New Licenses For the Retail Trade

ELABORATE SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTING TO THE GOVERNMENT OF SALES UPON WHICH LUXURY TAX MUST BE PAID-- FEE WILL BE NOMINAL.

TAX ON PURCHASE PRICE

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, May 20.—Check on the payment of luxury taxes will be maintained by system of licenses which will shortly be put into force through the department of Inland Revenue. As provided in resolutions, the fee for vendor's license will be a nominal one of two dollars per annum but the license will be subject to cancellation for any failure to comply with the luxury tax regulation, and loss of license would carry with it loss of right to trade. By this means, it is expected the inland revenue officials will be able to keep close track both on the making of proper returns and on payment of tax by the retailer to government. Decision of the point has not yet been reached, but it is probable that fortnightly returns will be required of retailers selling goods liable to luxury tax Monthly returns probably will be required of manufacturers and wholesalers in connection with tax of one per cent on sales.

Method of Collecting.

OTTAWA, May 19.—The question has been asked whether retailers ought to collect the new excise taxes on goods of all the classes mentioned in the luxury tax resolution and already included in their stock. The articles covered by the resolution are divided into two categories in so far as collection is concerned. Taxes on one set of articles are collected by the retailers; taxes on the other list are collected by manufacturers, whole salers, or jobbers when they make sales or when they pay Customs duties, if the goods are imported. Thus retailers will collect the tax on boots and shoes, hats, caps, hose, men's neckwear, specifiield articles of men's and women's apparel, fans, purses, trunks and valises, sporting goods, velvet and silk fabrics, classes of tableware, ribbons and lace embroidery, smoker's accessories, fancy pocket knives and pencils and toilet articles, carpets, curtains, chandeliers, gold and silverware and jewelry, at present in their possession.

They are not called upon to collect the taxes upon pleasure boats, cameras, confectionery, firearms, musical instruments, playing cards, perfumes and liquors. Taxes on such goods are collected by manufacturers, whole salers and jobbers when they sell or import them. That is to say, a retail merchant is not required to collect from a purchaser the new tax of 20 per cent on a phonograph already in his hands. The instrument in question has already been taxed 10 per cent, tax on phonographs bought by him to-day or hereafter for re-sale. He will then no doubt pass on the amount of the tax to the purchaser of the machines

Some retailers have been inquiring whether the counter tax on boots and shoes and clothing selling at more than specified prices is applicable to the total price or to the amount by which the selling price exceeds the sum stipulated in the resolution. Some have been of opinion that the tax should be collected only on the amount by which the selling price exceeds the specified price. They have been misled by the provision of the United States taxation measure, and are wrong in their interpretation of the new Canadian measure. Under Sir Henry Drayton's resolution it is officially stated the articles mentioned will be free of excise duty when sold at the prices specified in the resolution or less. When sold at prices in excess of those set forth in the resolution the whole of the purchase price will be and the regulations governing the subject to taxation.

It is stated that on credit or instalment sales the purchaser will have to deposit the amount of the tax when he enters into the agreement to buy.

The new taxes are naturally causing some confusion immediately after their promulgation. Many people believe they will always be difficult to collect and check. When the system of collection is perfected administration of the legislation are issued, however, many of the present difficulties will be removed.

Curtail Inflated Credits

MONTREAL, May 20.—The new policy of curtailed credit adopted by Canadian banks will force retailers to make quick stock turnovers, will send prices tumbling down, reduce wages and in general bring about a saner financial condition in the Dominion, according to Edward Brown, provincial treasurer of Manitoba, just returned from a tour of the United States.

"The end of the present era of high costs and high wages is in sight," he said here. "This is the result of the new policy adopted by all the banks of the land. We have been pyramiding our financial resources. It was only natural that before long the peak must be reached, and when upbuilding was no longer possible a crash was bound to come.

An Orgy of Expansion.

"Manufacturers have been indulging in expansion; retailers have followed suit and wages have soared in the mean time to heights never dreamed of before. The effect of the new policy adopted by the banks—that — of curtailing credit very largely—will be the return of industry and commerce to lines of sanity and stability everywhere. Credit will be forthcoming now only where it is absolutely essential in order to save an undertaking from financial disaster.

"The immediate effect upon retailers will be that in place of securing further credit to carry them along they will have to make a quick turnover of their stocks, and in order to effect this it will be necessary to get the ready money. In other words, prices, wil have to fall."

Mr. Brown, who has since predicted wheat will soar to $3 per bushel this Summer, sees in the cut in prices in Wanamaker's stores the first signs of the collapse of prices in Canada and the United States.

"The movement will spread everywhere," he continued. "There are many evidences that the banks are putting their new policy into effect and that already the tendency of prices is downward.

Merchant Refused $15,000.

"This has resulted in some strange refusals of credit, but it is for the public good. One merchant, with a stock of $165,000, all free of encumbrance, has been refused a loan of $15,000 or of any sum with which to buy fresh stock. He was told to sell goods that he had on his shelves, and so get the cash out of his business. Before this he had never had any difficulty in getting abundance of credit. Other banks to which he applied gave him the same cold shoulder. The result of the repeated refusals was that he started a sale of his stock at reduced rates — from 25 to 50 per cent. below his previous selling prices — and through it got the money he needed to make purchases.

"Reduction in cost of living, it may be a little slow at first, but gathering momentum as it progresses, is surely starting in Canada. Readjustments in the wage scale will follow until we are back to saner methods."

Wage Demands Refused.

That this is a true summary of the situation in the Dominion is evidenced in many ways. Employers who a year ago were quite ready to agree to the high wage demands of their employes are granting only a part of thair demands this season.

THE SOVIET FORCES ARE ON THE MOVE

A NEW OFFENSIVE HAS BEEN STARTED AGAINST THE POLES OFFICIAL REPORTS.

(United Press.)

LONDON, May 20.—Russian Soviet troops have started a general advance against the Poles over a fifty mile front in the Polotsk-Lepel region a Moscow wireless despatch to-day said. Russian forces pierced the Polish front May 14th the despatch said.

The enemey's attempted resistance was futile, the Soviet Communique claimed adding that the Polish retreat continued amounting to a panic in some districts.

The scene of the present Bolshevik offensive, presumably directed by General Brusiloff would be along a line west of the city of Vitebak about 325 miles north of Kieff. Polish communiques partly confirmed the Moscow statement the Poles admitting their troops had been forced to fall back after severe fighting south of the Dwina River which flows northwest from Vitebak toward Riga

ADDRESSED THE LOCAL COUNCIL

MR. JOSEPH WEARING GAVE AN ADDRESS ON THE INCOME TAX.

At a meeting of the National Council of Women this afternoon at the Y.W.C.A., Mr. Joseph Wearing gave an addres on the "Income Tax." He stated at the outset that it was perhaps the most unpopular form of taxation, partly because people objected to have their private affairs looked into and partly beacuse it was almost impossible to operate such a tax so that everyone would pay his just share. But the burdens of debt which we have at present makes a Federal income tax a certainty for many years. Mr. Wearing then gave a synopsis of the Act, showing its development and then dealt with municipal income tax as it is worked out through the Assessment Act. Mr. Wearing dealt with the differences of opinion with regard to the exemption clause and stated that an amendment would probably be made this year to make the interpretation clearer. At the close of this address the speaker showed where the different Acts effected women particularly.

CARRANZA IS OUT FOR GOOD SAFE SPOT.

Canadian Press.

MEXICO CITY, May 20. — President Venustiano Carranza, with a few followers was reported on May 18th. to be in the village of Chignahuapan, in the northern part of Puebla State, according to the bulletins issued at headquarters here.

It is believed that he is heading for the virtually impregnable fastnesses of the Zacapoaxtla Mountains, which Victoriano Hurta failed to occupy after a year's campaign in 1914.

HAD TO GO TO BED' HEADACHES SO BAD

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS MADE HER WELL

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 30 Maple Ave., Amherst, N.S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad after-effects. Price 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. his famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Final Returns.

On motion of Messrs. Wilson and Lillico, the tax collector's final returns were accepted, and Mr. Brown's salary of $200 was passed and ordered to be paid.

Moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Lillico ,that the Court of Revision be held at the town hall, on Monday, May 31st, at 2 p.m.

Moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Owen that a grant of $10, be made toward the Peterboro County Plowmen's Association. Mr. H. G. Webber appeared for the association.

School Boundaries.

A bylaw was passed defining the boundaries of each school section in the township.

Mr. Thos. Glover and several other residents of Brown street, were present and asked the council to lay a water main on Brown street, as a local improvement, the water to be supplied by the city.

Moved by Mr. Lillco, seconded by Mr. Dobbin, that the reeve and Mr. Owen be a committee to work in co-operation with the Brown street committee to ask the Peterboro Utilities Commission to give water to these residents.

Mr. W. D. Warne, who was present, asked the council if they intended building the concrete sidewalk on the north side of Brown street, which was petitioned for last year. Mr. Warne was instructed to have a new petition prepared and presented to the council at the next meeting.

Repairs for Crusher.

The clerk was instructed to order a new jaw for the stone crusher.

A communication was read from City Clerk Armstrong asking the township to pay a portion of the cost of drainage at the corner of Lansdowne and Haggart streets.

It was moved by Mr. Dobbin, seconded by Mr. Lillico, that the reeve and Mr. Owen be a committee to inspect the drainage at the corner of Lansdowne and Haggart streets.

Bills Passed.

The following bills weer passed and ordered to be paid:

On motion of Messrs. Dobbin and Lillico, Dr. Greer's salary as Medical Health Officer, was increased from $90 to $180 a year.

The meeting then adjourned.

HIGH PRICES IN LINDSAY

HOUSEKEEPERS HELD A MEETING—DISCUSSED BUTTER AND EGGS, POTATOES, MILK AND MAPLE SYRUP.

LINDSAY, May 20.—A fairly well attended and representative meeting of the ladies of Lindsay was held in Lindsay in the Council Chamber to talk over the high cost of living and the advisability of forming a Consumers' League.

Nearly all of the ladies present took part in the discussion and showed how hard it was for the average housekeeper to make ends meet and keep her family under present day conditions. Prices were soaring with apparently no sign of decreasing for some time.

Butter, eggs, milk, potatoes and maple syrup were the chief items mentioned in the matter of high prices, and it was felt that something should be done to assist in bringing down the prices.

A committee was formed to look into the matter, and it is expected that another meeting will be called next week to form an organization.

Mr. Alex. Clark was present and called the meeting to order, as well as explaining the reason for gathering together to discuss conditions.

Later on Mrs. A. M. Paton was voted to the chair.

During the course of the evening Mrs. J. McCrea told of her experience in connection with the Fair Price Commission in Lindsay, and stated her belief that the prices took a considerable drop in Lindsay because of the investigation held by the Commission, but that the prices were beginning to go up again.

HUNDRED MURDER CASES IN CHICAGO

SIX JURISTS WILL TRY GREATEST HOMICIDE CALENDAR IN HISTORY.

CHICAGO. — One hundred murder cases—the biggest homicide calendar ever given a criminal court in America—have just been placed in the hands of six Chicago judges.

Two jurists, who in the past, have heard nothing but murder cases in the Chicago criminal court, have had to appeal for help, and four additional judges have been added to clear up the violent maze.

Within the past week five bloody-handed criminals have been sentenced to be hanged. Others have been sentenced to life imprisonment. As the trials proceed, Chicago maintains its steady pace of "a murder a day."

Henry Barrett Chamberlain, head of the Chicago Crime Commission, to-day explained this carnival of crime as being the most forcible example on record of the need of the Americanization of the alien elements.

The great majority of the one hundred murders were committed by the aliens or by new Americans who have not absorbed the Amerijican spirit, he said. "Americanization is a high-sounding term to many persons," he said. "To the man in the street it means teaching the foreigner to read and write and spell and to know the name of the president—a job for the school teachers and reformers.

"One hundred murders, the greater part of them by men and women who have come to our shores from other countries puts a different face on the subject.

"Americanization means making good citizens out of our untutored acquisitions. Reading, writing and schooling generally is but the first step. It brings us -- with a jerk when we look at the Chicago crime record."

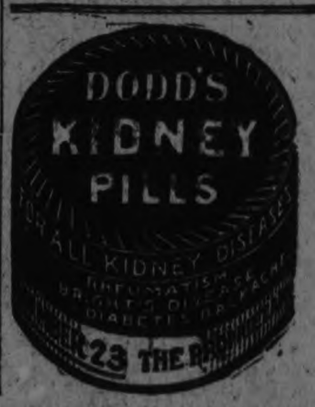
SAYS STEPFATHER MADE HER STEAL

ABILENE, Kan., May 20.—A confession that she and her stepfather, A. Van Walters, had robbed stores in several Kansas City stores was made by Nancy Van Walters, fourteen. Her stepfather, Nancy told the police, compelled her to assist in robberies while he posed as an oil salesman. Van Walters was bound over for trial on the girl's statement. The police are seeking a home for Nancy.



FROM EXHAUSTIVE STUDY OF EXPERIMENTS MEN MAY LIVE FOR CENTURIES

AN IDEA GROWING IN FAVOUR IS THAT DEATH IS NOT INHERENT IN THE INDIVIDUAL CELL.

Seeing that people nowadays gravely discuss communicating with Mars, and ouija boards, and that one lunatic has offered to be shot to the moon in a rocket, it would seem fitting to offer a few remarks upon the chances of people living to be 1,000 years old. It is declared by American scientists that it may be possible for people to live that long. All that is necessary is that a way should be found to keep the body always at a temperature of 7.5 degrees centigrade. Now the centigrade system divides the temperature between freezing point and boiling point into one hundred degrees, and it can be thus calculated how comfortable it would be to live at 7.5 centigrade. It has been suggested that life at this low temperature might be rather monotonous, since all sensations would be in a very low key. Nevertheless, some people might be willing to buy 1,000 years of life at this price, especially if they knew that it would not merely be their old age that would be prolonged, but their youth and their maturity as well. A man would feel like a boy—or maybe like a boy frog—until he was a couple of hundred, and would not begin to feel really aged until he had reached about 1,500.

A Long Chilly Life.

The experiments which have led to the belief that in certain circumstances it might be possible to prolong life almost indefinitely, were made by Dr. Jacques Loeb, of the Rockefeller Institute, and Dr. Northop, the subjects being fruit flies. They raised 87 aseptic successive generations of fruit flies, on aseptic yeast, their natural food, removing all chances of infection or death by accident or violence, to see if the lives of the flies would thereby be prolonged. Despite all their care, the flies died at the allotted time for these insects, twenty-one days. The next test was made with similarly chosen flies, livin gin reduced temperature. The natural heat of the fruit fly's body is 30 degrees centigrade, and they found that as they reduced the temperature, the span of life increased. Thus at 25 degrees, the flies lived for 38 dayes; at 30 degrees for 54 days; at 15 degrees to 123 days, and at 10 degrees to 177 days. It was thereafter a simple mental feat for these learned scientists to calculate that if the human temperature were similarly and suitably decreased it might be possible to live for nearly 2,000 years. In case some thoughtless reader should let his mind stray to the Eskimos, it should be pointed out that it is not the outside temperature, but the heat of the blood that is concerned.

Death Not Inherent.

An idea growing in favor is that death is not inherent in the individual cell, but is only the fate of more complicated organisms in which different types of cells or tissues are dependent on each other. Says Dr. Loeb: "In this case it seems to happen that one or certain types of cell produce a substance or substances which gradually become harmful to a vital organ like the respiratory centre or medulla or that certain tissues consume or destroy substances which are needed for the life of some vital organ. The mischief of death of complex organisms may then be traced to the activity of a black sheep in the society of tissues and organs which constitutes a multicellular organism." If this mysterious black sheep could be located or eradicated the prospect of a much longer lease of life would be assured, but so far it has been as hard to locate as the vitamens. What vitamens are is not known, but they are known to be essential to life, and are supplied by taking a large quantity of fruit or vegetables in the daily food.

A Chemical Reaction.

What is the seventy years which the psalmist said was the years of man's life? Physical chemists are inclined to believe that it is the time for chemical reaction. Between the process of digestion and the process of disintegration there exists a close analogy. Two ferments change the solid meats into blood. One is pepsin, which exists in the stomach; the other is trysin, which exists in the intestines. These two attack and break up the larger insoluble molecules of amino acids, which are absorbed by the blood and carried to the cells of the body, where they are utilized to build up new solid cell matter. These two ferments exist in many other cells, apart from the digestive organs and possibly in all the cells of the body, and the question has been asked why they do not constantly digest and thus destroy the body while life lasts. The tentative answer has been given that the co-operation of both ferments is required in the same cell for the work of destruction, and that this co-operation becomes possible only at a certain degree of acidity, which cannot be reached in the living body on account of the constant removal of acid through respiration and oxidation.

The Mysterious Glands.

When respiration ceases, however, the degree of acidity necessary for the digestive action of both ferments in the same cell is reached. Therefore if happens that what occurs to the dead body is exactly what happens in life to the food that is taken into the stomach. The body becomes digested and liquefied. That is the fact of death from the standpoint of the physical chemist. The theory of life has not been so easily traced. Recent discoveries seem to attribute to the ductless glands of the body amazing qualities that govern not only growth but life itself. These glands supply an organism, called hormone, as yet not isolated and not more clearly identified than vitamens, whose disappearance is followed by decay and death. Experiments on lower forms of life show that if the thyroid gland is removed from a tadpole it never can become a frog, and if thyroid glands are fed to tadpoles the change into froghood is hastened.

THE PROVINCIAL TAX.

The proprietors of moving picture theatres had just commenced to chuckle yesterday over the announcement that the Federal government had abolished the tax on films when the brightness caused by that encouraging news was changed to gloom by the changes announced in the Theatre and Cinematograph Act by Hon. Peter Smith, the Provincial Treasurer. Mr. Smith evidently regards the moving picture industry as a legitimate source of provincial revenue, for he has increased the tax on theatres and motion picture houses by twenty-five per cent. The tax is regulated according to the population of the municipality in which the theatre is situated. In Peterborough for example, the proprietors of the local theatres will have to pay 35c. each year for every seat in the house: that is a moving picture theatre which will seat 1,000 people will have to pay a yearly provincial tax of $350 instead of $250 as was the case last year. Dance halls, athletic fields and skating rinks in municipalities of 10,000 people and over do not escape, for the changes in the act require them to pay a tax of $10 per year. With the Federal government collecting ten per cent. on each article of equipment used in athletic games and the Provincial government levying an amusement tax on every admission ticket sold and also a yearly tax on the parks and rinks where the games are played, the pastimes of the young men of Ontario will soon be in the prohibitive class. Both the man who plays and the man who looks on will be hit by the new Provincial and Federal taxes.

YESTERDAY'S VOTE.

The result of the voting upon the Canadian Raybestos by-law yesterday showed emphatically that the ratepayers believe that new industries are a source of benefit to Peterboorugh, and that whenever an opportunity is given of securing a factory upon reasonable terms it should be embraced. The vote upon yesterday's measure was not large, but it was decisive, the figures reading 366 in favour of the by-law and but 39 opposed. Every polling booth gave a substantial majority for the by-law, showing that the sentiment in all aprts of the city was the same on this question.

As a result of the vote Peterborough gains a new industry that commences operations here under most favourable auspices and with bright prospects. It is the only concern of its kind in Canada, and judging by the success of similar companies in the United States, should speedily develop into an industry of large proportions. The company will immediately commence renovating the plant they have purchased and erecting the proposed additions so that the beneficial effects of the locating of this concern in Peterborough will be felt at once. Within three months they promise to have at least twenty-five employees at work, and within fifteen months from that time they will be giving employment to at least seventy-five workers.

THE TRUTH IS ENOUGH.

At last night's public meeting in the market square Mr. T. Tooms, M. P.P., announced that at the next session of the Legislature, if it were possible, he proposed to introduce a bill to make it an indictable offence to offer false inducements to people to emigrate to Canada. It is difficult to see where the Provincial Legislature has any jurisdiction in such matters, but nevertheless the evil that Mr. Tooms called attention to should most certainly be checked if a way can be found to do so. It is unfortunately true that workers in the old country have been induced to come to Canada by promises of huge wages in the cities and on the farms. Only recently farm labourers have arrived in this district who claimed that they had been promised $85 a month and their board, and mechanics have been told similar stories in connection with their coming to Canada. If there is any method within the reach of the Canadian authorities that can be utilized to stop this practice of deceiving the people of Great Britain as to the wages and other conditions in this country, then by all means let that method be adopted. Canada has to many advantages to offer new citizens to make it necessary to bring immigrants here under false pretences. Men who are induced to come by means of highly coloured promises that are nothing short of lies, naturally are prejudiced and bitter when they find they have been deceived, and it is idle to expect them to become loyal and enthusiastic Canadians under the circumstances. The simple truth about Canadian conditions should be sufficient inducement; there is no need of mendacity and deception in recruiting new citizens.

THE BUDGET.

No budget that has ever been introduced into the House of Commons has so drectly affected the mass of the Canadian people as that brought down by Sir Henry Drayton on Tuesday. Its effects will be far-reaching and immediate and there was nothing in the Budget speech to bring comfort to the people. There are no tariff reductions to help bring down the cost of living, while the new excise taxes to be collected alike on goods of foreign and domestic origin will directly hit the consumer. These taxes were described by the Minister of Finance as luxury taxes, and in their application to many articles this description may be accurate. But they are to be levied on many other goods that do not come under this category, for even such commodities as wearing apparel above certified prices are to be taxed. Shoes for example, which sell at $9.00 a pair and upwards will cost the purchaser an additional 10 per cent. So will caps that cost more than $2 and suits that cost more than $45.00. The limit, in view of the present cost of such articles, seems to have been made too low. The prices used as a basis are about the cheapest at which such articles can be purchased. And the public will be surely perplexed to understand how the description "luxury" can be used in connection with them.

The consumer, under Sir Henry Drayton's system of taxation, is the one who suffers. The manufacturer's net protection continues for the wiping out out of the seven and one-half per cent. war tax is more than balanced by the substitution of an excise tax which will be passed on the consumer as usual. The excise tax it will be noticed, is to be levied on both domestic and foreign articles, so that the Canadian manufacturer continues to get the full benefit of tariff protection. It was proposed by Liberal members that the excise tax should be placed only on domestic goods, leaving the present tariff on imported articles. This would have the effect of lessening the net protection of the home manufacturer and preventing the excise tax from being passed on to the consumer by being added to the selling price.

Undoubtedly the Budget has added new burdens to those that the Canadian people have already found almost unbearable. The new excise tax will add to the cost of living, for it includes many articles that are necessities rather than luxuries. There is little promise of tariff reform, and as the Globe puts it, "The result of the form of excise taxation introduced by Sir Henry Drayton will be the retention in the pockets of many already rich beneficiaries of the tariff, of large sums that should have been diverted to the public treasury," while the government organ, the Mail and Empire, admits that "there is no question that the new budget with its excise duties on so many articles when sold by the manufacturer or retailer will give a tremendous boost to the second hand business."

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

ANOTHER UNHAPPY DAY

CHAPTER CXXVII.

Late in the afternoon I ordered the car and went for a ride. I went alone. I had noticed what I thought an eager look on Miss Pierce's face, and so out of sheer perversity I would not even take Junior and leave her free to do as she might wish for an hour or two.

I neither knew nor cared where I went. I leaned back and nursed my jealous thoughts. It had been, always would be, Leola, that first wife. Then it had been Irma Barton. Now it was to be Marta Pierce. What a name for a dependent, almost a servant, I thought sneeringly—"Marta." Surely Everett's penchant for odd names was always catered to in every woman he seemed to care for at all—Leola, Irma, Sandra, and Marta.

It was nearly time to dress for dinner when I returned, no happier because of my ride. I realised there was an unusual activity in the dining-room, but if I gave it thought at all it occurred to me that Mrs. Gray was talking to the servants, perhaps finding fault with something. I hurried upstairs into the nursery. I played a few moments with Junior, then went into my own room to dress. That eager light was still in Marta Pierce's eyes. What could it mean? I heard her crooning over Junior as she put him to bed, and my lip curled. Was she so happy because of Everett's attentions, she must needs sing?

Right then and there I made up my mind she should go. I would say nothing to Everett. But the next day I would start looking up another nurse. Of course she must be competent. But she need be neither pretty nor young. I almost regretted letting Miss Lane go. She might have stayed with us a hundred years and I shouldn't have to feel jealous of her.

In a spirit of perversity I put on the most unbecoming dress I had. When I looked at myself in the mirror a picture of Miss Pierce came before me, and I quickly took it off and, calling Hetty to help me, I dressed as elaborately as if I were going out.

"You look lovely!" Hetty said when I was ready to go down.

What ailed them all? Hetty, too, had an eager look in her eyes. Suppressed excitement fairly radiated from her. Oh, well, it was because they were happy, I thought—while I was always miserable. I wasn't always miserable and I knew it. But I was in one of my moods of self-pity, in which I could see nothing but the dark outside of the clouds, and had no wish to see the silver lining which is always to be found if we look for it.

I heard Everett come in. Why didn't he come upstairs? I crept to the nursery door and listened. Had Miss Pierce gone down, and were they again talking confidentially?

I heard her moving about the nursery and returned to my room slightly relieved. Then after a few moments Everett came up the stairs whistling gaily.

"Why all this elegance?" he asked, as he kissed me with unusual tenderness.

"Oh, I felt like dressing up, that's all!" I answered ungraciously. We always dressed for dinner, but unless we were going out I seldom put on my very best dinner clothes as I had done that night.

"You look very charming, but—not very happy. Anything gone wrong?"

"No—nothing."

"Then I'll run in and say good-night to Junior, and get into my togs. Mrs. Gray said dinner was nearly ready."

I started to follow him into the nursery. Then I halted. No, I would let them be together. If he wanted to make love to her I couldn't stop him by going in, and I might hear something if I listened.

He left the nursery door open. He played just a moment with Junior, then I distinctly heard him say:

"You did as I asked you to?"

"Yes. Everything is all ready."

He made no reply, but his face was beaming when he came back. He hurried to dress, and I did not speak to him, save to answer a question, until Hetty announced dinner, that eager look still on her face.

Alkali in Soap Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

GOT WRONG NUMBER; STEALS TELEPHONE

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—Police are looking for a man who made a telephone call from a Filbert street restaurant, failed to get his number, struggled through an argument with the operator, and in his anger cut away the telephone cord and receiver and rushed out of the place with the receiver in his pocket. The customer had deposited his nickel. After the usual interval he got a wrong party. Argument with the operator failing to produce results he shouted into the transmitter, "Vell, I know you got my nickel, and I know I don't get me no number, so I takes dis here with me."

SUITS PRICES TO DROP SAYS FINANCIAL EXPERT

"WOMEN ALREADY COMPLAINING," COMMENTS ONE OTTAWA POLITICIAN, AND WOMEN VOTE,

OTTAWA, May 20. — That the price of suits will be reduced as a result of the ten per cent. tax imposed upon them by the Federal Government, is the opinion of the tariff expert of the Finance Department. "You will see that merchants will avoid the tax as much as possible by making $45 suits $40 suits," he said. "And this will apply both to men's and women's suits." To that extent at least the consumer will benefit if the prediction proves true, but he gets it in the neck in so many other places that the new budget is not expected to prove popular with the masses. "The women are already complaining," commented one politician, "and that is bad, because you see, the women now have votes."

The agrarians maintain that it is a "manufacturers' budget," and would move an amendment to the Fielding amendment were such a move permitted by the rules. They want all-round reduction of the customs tariff, and particularly on agricultural implements and machinery, the necessaries of life and building materials.

The machinery for collecting the new taxes will prove cumbersome and expensive, it is pointed out, and it is inevitable that there will be considerable annoyance to merchants.

PRINCETON FARMER GORED TO DEATH

Driving Bull out of Stable When It Attacked Him in Frenzy.

WOODSTOCK, May 20.—Crushed against the walls of the stable by an enraged bull, A. G. MacKenzie, a well-known farmer residing near Princeton, on the 2nd Concession of Blandford, met a tragic death here. Mr. MacKenzie was driving the animal out of the stable when it turned on him in a frenzy, crushed him to the wall, and in a very few moments battered the life from the man's body. Some men working nearby attempted to drive off the wild creature, but before they could do so MacKenzie had succumbed. He had lived in Blemish Township about two years, where he was well-known and highly esteemed. He was a valued and influential member of the community and of the Presbyterian Church, Princeton. Two daughters, a brother and a sister survive him.

PRINCETON FARMER GORED TO DEATH

WOODSTOCK, May 20.—Crushed against the walls of the stable by an enraged bull, A. G. MacKenzie, a well-known farmer residing near Princeton, on the 2nd Concession of Blandford, met a tragic death here. Mr. MacKenzie was driving the animal out of the stable when it turned on him in a frenzy, crushed him to the wall, and in a very few moments battered the life from the man's body. Some men working nearby attempted to drive off the wild creature, but before they could do so MacKenzie had succumbed. He had lived in Blemish Township about two years, where he was well-known and highly esteemed. He was a valued and influential member of the community and of the Presbyterian Church, Princeton. Two daughters, a brother and a sister survive him.

FLEET FOOT

WHAT you would have to pay for a single pair of children's leather shoes will buy several pairs of Fleet Foot.

And Fleet Foot have many other advantages.

The rubber soles prevent slipping in play, and promote quietness in the house.

These shoes are easy on the feet—and so carefully made of such sturdy materials that they give excellent wear, even with children who are "hard on shoes."

There are Fleet Foot shoes in sizes for men, women and children.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not 'Aspirin' at All without the "Bayer Cross"

For Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

COST TO PROVINCE OVER $800,000

PENSIONSBILL FOR WIDOWED MOTHERS GIVEN SECOND READING.

TORONTO, May 18.—The bill providing pensions for widowed mothers with two or more children went through its second reading at the Legislature Tuesday night without changes, the unanimous opinion being that the principle of the bill is correct, though there was some complaint from the Liberal members because the bill does not specify any schedule of pensions to be paid to the mothers. Premier Drury explained in reply that the Government wanted to get the bill through in the simplest possible form, in order that they might add to it later from the experience gained in its operation. There was also the difficulty of the fluctuating value of money, and there was the other difficulty that the needs of families of the same size are rarely the same. He felt it would be the duty of the Government to provide for the appointment of local boards, who could assist the Provincial Commission to work out the payments which would be due to each family. Though there was some discussion upon the clause which calls upon the municipalities to pay 50 per cent. of the costs of pensions, no change was made.

In introducing the second reading, Hon. Walter Rollo pointed out that the estimated cost of the pensions for one year would be $800,000, and he added that there are 9,000 children in the Province who will benefit. K. K. Momuth, of South Waterloo, wanted to include illegitimate children and their mothers, while J. C. Tolmie, of Windsor, thought the wives and families of men sent to jail should also be cared for by pensions. Hon. Mr. Rollo disagreed with the Windsor member, declaring it would be the duty of the Government to provide work for the men sent to jail and to turn their wages over for the support of the families.

BRUSSILOFF NOW VIRTUAL RULER

SUPREME AUTHORITY AT MOSCOW PASSES TO THE FAMOUS GENERAL.

LONDON, May 20.—According to information received through indirect channels, says the usually correctly informed diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, Gen. Alexel Brussiloff for the time being has virtually assumed the supreme authority at Moscow, formerly wielded by Lenine and the other peoples' commissaries, and the only question is to what use he will put that authority should he succeed in checkmating the Poles.

In the Supreme Council of War the peoples' commissaries have been relegated to a scondary and passive role, even Lenine not having ventured to claim the presidency as against Brussiloff. It is gathered, however, that the commissaries have taken care to employ a number of generals personally hostile to Brussiloff, such as Gutor, Klembresky and Evert, and are relying upon the diverging ambitions of the professional soldiers to prevent any single one from becoming too powerful.

THE SUTCLIFFE WILL PROBATED

Frederick W. Sutcliffe, of Lindsay, has been granted probate to the will of his sister, Charlotte Sutcliffe, who died Nov. 26 last, leaving $8,613. The will was executed at the Y.W.C.A. at Saskatoon, Nov. 15, 1918, and directs that the deceased be buried as simply as possible, no eulogy to be said at the funeral. Scripture read, the name to be inscribed on the monument in Brampton, Ont., cemetery.

Two sisters, Clara E. Starr, of Toronto, and Alice H. Adams, of Saskatoon; and three brothers, Joseph S., of Barrie; Fred W., of Lindsay, and Jos. Albert Sutcliffe, of Trenton, share the $6,337 interest in the estate of her father. A niece, Miriam C. Sutcliffe, of Toronto, receives $100; Nellie Starr receives a $100 war certificate and an opal ring. Helen and Eva Sutcliffe, of Trenton, receive a share in the money in the Building Savings Co. of Ottawa. Irene Elmore, of Beamsville, a niece gets a turquoise ring and locket; while Edna Harris of Parry Sound, a Halifax bar pin. Madeline Wilson, of Oshawa, receives a pearl star, and Miss F. B. Clarke, of Ottawa, receives one-quarter of the money on deposit with the Building Saving Co. The Y.W.C.A. of Ottawa gets the furniture that is stored there, and $10 to the foreign department of the Y.W.C.A., 332 Bloor west, Toronto. She also provided for the payment of her dues to the missionary society of the Dominion Methodist Church, Ottawa.

ONE JURY FED TWICE; OTHER GOES HUNGRY

CLEVELAND, May 20—Two juries were serving in Criminal Court. It became the duty of James Lawrence, bailiff, to take them to lunch at the county's expense, one jury at a time.

He marched the jury from Judge Kennedy's courtroom to a nearby restaurant, and half an hour later marched them back again. Afterward he gathered together twelve good men and true and with them made another pilgrimage to the eating house.

It was not until next morning, when the jury in Judge Bernon's courtroom complained that they hadn't had any lunch the day before, that Lawrence discovered he had taken the same jury twice.

when Eve delved

She was a modern Eve—far more interested in delving in her garden than in Rupert and Matrimony. But when he sat beside her in her little blue car, he knew she was just the wife he needed. And because he wanted her so much he found himself "a mute, inglorious Milton" when it came to actually asking her. ¶And then—well, who'd ever imagine an apple green gardening set and a terrible thunder shower would have any influence with a man who wanted a wife, but then you never can tell — you'd best read "A Spring Song" by Margaret Wise and see for yourself! HUNGARY TELLS WHY SHE WILL SIGN PACT

THE ONLY WAY TO SECURE ORDER AND BEGIN RECONSTRUCTION.

(Canadian Press.)

BUDAPEST, May 20.—The reasons given by the Cabinet Council for signing the treaty as a temporary measure were:

First, necessity for immediate reconstruction, with the hope of obtaining foreign credits, and also to prevent further deprecation in the money of the country.

Second, to establish internal order and get the workmen employed and to prevent the military party from becoming too strong and precipitating another revolution, which Hungary could not survive.

Third, it was feared that failure to sign would hazard the rich harvests through Hungary's less fortunate neighbors finding an excuse for another occupation of the country.

Fourth, a strong central Government will afford opportunity for Regent Horthy to reorganize the administration and increase outside friendships.

Fifth, the signing will give the necessary calm during which to elect a king and dispose of the present Provisional Government.

TIPS FOR TAX-TAKERS

OTTAWA, May 20.—Instructions for the levying of the new taxes, in force to-day, have been sent to tax collectors throughout the Dominion.

Cuticura SOAP and Cuticura Ointment

The pore-cleansing, purifying and sterilizing properties of this wonderful skin soap, using plenty of hot water and soap, best applied with the hands, which it softens wonderfully and the soothing and healing properties of Cuticura Ointment for redness and roughness, pimples and dandruff, if any, will prove a revelation to those who use them for the first time.

Concerning

The June Bride

And Her Trousseau

TO THAT ALL IMPORTANT INDIVIDUAL, THE JUNE BRIDE, this store offers a wealth of suggestions for every trousseau need. Whether one plans a honeymoon at the seashore, a jolly "roughing" party to the north woods or in the brand new home, there are distinct wardrobe needs. This store is prepared to furnish the bride with everything from the intimate details of lingerie, the bridal gown, trousseau frocks and hats down to her supply of household linens and bedding.

On the Vacant Lots All Over Our Land on These Bright May Days

there are groups of lusty lunged, sturdy boys putting every ounce of their strength and enthusiasm into some athletic contest—playing the game with undaunted spirit and finding a new thrill at every turn.

It's a fine spirit that will prove invaluable if they carry it with them in later years when making their careers. This store finds pleasure in playing the game of buying and selling. Its merchandise is marked in plain figures, and to be fair to all there is one price only.

The Cressman Co. Ltd.

A short Negligee of Pale Blue Crepe de Chine, with a Cream Net Lace collar. The same beautiful Lace is used on the sleeves and to finish the hem. The one-inch Pale Blue Ribbon Girdle that goes around the waist is prettily bowed in front. The price is $8.95.
Others up to $15.00.

Bridal Lingerie of Exquisite Workmanship

The feeling for fine lingerie that has not been displayed hitherto is appreciated by this store. For trousseaux we have an exquisite collection of lingerie that will appeal to the bride in its soft sheerness, fine needlework and embroidery. Every bride will want to follow the quaint old custom of having a goodly supply of lingerie in her chest when she examines our assortment.

Pink Satin Camisole, with the yoke edged with Pink Georgette, and also the hemstitched straps. Perpendicular groups of pin tucking on the yoke. Price $3.95.
Others from $1.98 to $5.50.

A gown of Pink Crepe Meteor. The yoke is cross-barred with double pin tucks and Mauve French Knots embroidered in the panels. The yoke and armholes are edged with a fine Val Lace run with Blue Ribbon. Price $12.00.
Others in Silk and Satin from $8.95 to $15.00.

Envelope Chemise of Pink Crepe de Chine. The yoke is elaborately trimmed with Lace and run with a wide Pink Ribbon. All the edges are finished with Lace. Price $8.95.
Others from $6.95 to $10.00.

Pyjamas of Pink Crepe de Chine. The yoke is patterned with Lace Insertion, a Pale Blue Ribbon Bow and Blue French Knots. Blue Bows adorn the shoulders, and all the edges are finished with Lace. The price is $12.75.

Three Handsome Gowns That Have Much to Recommend Them

IVORY DUCHESS SATIN furnishes the material for this handsome number. It has a one-piece Draped Skirt and a long Bodice that is garnished with a Silk Embroidered Motif. The waist line is defined with Pearls and the V-shaped neck is plain. A long court train descends from the shoulder and has an Embroidered Motif by way of relief. The ¾ length sleeves have pointed cuffs that flare out. Price $95.00.

This demure little Dress has a White Satin foundation. The White Georgette Peplums that hang over the hips are really continuation of the waist. They are prettied with two groups of fine tucks and the over-blouse Bodice is similarly treated. A White Satin Girdle encircles the waist and finishes with a bow at the back. All of the edges are bound with White Satin and the sleeves are nearly elbow length. Price $49.00.

There are some who favour a coloured Gown, and if such be your taste, this one of Pink Georgette, with its all-over pattern of White beaded cross bars, will induce you to decide in its favour. There are two large beaded Motifs on the front of the Skirt and one on the Bodice. There is a little colour introduced into these—the tints being French Blue and Jade Green. A soft draped girdle of Georgette encircles the waist. The sleeves are full length. Price $49.00.

There are many who prefer to work out their own arrangement for the bridal gown and for these there is much in our silk department that will be in accord with their ideas.

A charming supple Charmeuse in Ivory tint is of Swiss manufacture, and is priced at $6.00 yard.

Ivory Duchess Satin, with a rich sheen, can be had in a 36-inch width, and is priced at $3.75 and $4.50 yard.

Crepe de Chine, with just a hint of Cream in it, is very alluring. It is 40 inches wide, and priced at $2.25 up to $4.50 yard.

If Georgette has been decided upon, here is our elbow proof quality in Ivory, in a 40-inch width, and priced at $3.00 and $4.75 yard.

Hats to Include in the Trousseau

With so many altogether charming Hats, a Bride might easily be perplexed in choosing her collection.

There are Tailored Models, Sports Hats, delightful Flower-trimmed Hats of rough Straw, and Lace-veiled Hats showing the Spanish influence. Knowing that one cannot depend wholly upon the success of one's Frock for a charming appearance, a wise Bride studies her Trousseau and selects a variety of Hats to complete her Costumes.

Arrived To-Day.

HOW LUXURY TAX WILL BE COLLECTED

OTTAWA, May 18.—Mr. R. W. Breadner, Commissioner of Taxation for Canada, was asked to-night how merchants would proceed to-morrow morning in connection with the collection of the new taxes which become effective as soon as business opens to-morow.

Mr. Breadner said that each merchant selling goods that come under the new taxes would show the price of the goods on his invoice and also the amount of the tax, whether it was ten or twenty or fifty per cent. Two copies of the invoice would be made out, the merchant keeping one. He would keep his copy in hand, and ultimately hand it over to the Inland Revenue Department. The department would then collect the money as represented by the invoices.

Thus anyone buying a fifty dollar suit will get a bill reading: "To suit of clothes, $50. To luxury tax, 10 per cent., $5. Total, $55."

The man who buys a $200 phonograph will receive a bill reading: "To phonograph, $200. To luxury tax, 20 per cent., $40. Total, $240," and so on.

G. B. ANHART IS ELECTED REEVE OF MARMORA VILLAGE

BELLEVILLE, May 20.—An election took place at Marmora village to fill the position of reeve owing to the recent death of Reeve R. T. Gray. Messrs. G. B. Airhart and B. C. Hubbelt were the candidates, and the former won by a majority of 16 votes.

MURRAY STREET CHOIR CONCERT

Murray street Baptist church was crowded last night on the occasion of the choir's annual concert. The large audience was in itself a fine tribute to the abilities and enthusiasm of the choir as it was also an expression of the talented services of Miss Ida Sanderson and Mr. Asa Huycke, respectively organist and director.

The best of the choir's four numbers in the interesting programme was Dudley Buck's "Te Deum". The harmonies were rich and well balanced, the choral tone was smooth and full and the soloists particularly distinguished themselves especially Miss Lillian Eastwood, Miss Florence Scott and Mr. Walter Evans.

The open number was W. Bendall's arrangement of "The Lady of Shalott" for ladies' voices. he music is expressive of the spirit of Tennyson's poem which received sympathetic interpretation.

Two compositions by Mr. Huycke, a patrol and serenade, written for the piano and organ and played my himself and Miss Sanderson were well received. They were heard for the first time and in the originality of the themes and their development Mr. Huycke gave further proof of his creative powers. They compared well with his other compositions and their presentation was marked by prolonged applause. Mr. Huycke's versatility was again exemplified in his vocal solo "The Trumpeter" which was very acceptably sung, his solo part in the choral number "Three Kings Have Journeyed" and again in the arrangement of the concluding chorus "Steal Away to Jesus" after the style that is termed "Negro Spiritual." The effects he seeks in a great deal of his work was illustrated in "The Violet and the Bee" which was repeated from last year's concert and lost nothing of its charm in the second hearing.

In addition to her accompaniments which are always appropriate Miss Sanderson contributed two organ solos. The mood suggested in "Twilight Melodies" was compellingly evoked.

Mr. Rupert Gliddon is not often heard as a cornet soloist but his rendition if "The Lost Chord" accompanied by Miss Sanderson and by Mr. Otto Gliddon at the piano was a reminder of attainments as a virtuoso. His tone was excellent and in the forte passage was taken with ease.

Miss Mary Urquhart won new admirers in several recitations both of which were encored.

An incident of the concert was the presentation of a group picture of the choir by Dr. Morgan, chairman of the music committee of the church to Dr. Scott, chairman of the Trustee Board In this happy interlude the choir was praised for its faithful and efficient work which both speakers said was deeply appreciated by the congregation of the church.

GREATEST OF ALL PIANOS

"I have travelled the world over," writes De Pachmann, one of the world's great pianists, "and have had the opportunity of using pianos bearing the names of the greatest piano builders of all countries. I do not hesitate to say that the Heintzman and Co. piano, that I used in my Canadian tours, surpassed in beauty of tone and delicacy of touch any piano I have used anywhere." FIGHT RESULTS IN TWELVE KILLED

BATTLE AT MATEWAN BETWEEN PRIVATE DETECTIVES AND CITIZENS ENDS WITH DEATH OF TWELVE.

(Canadian Press.)

MATEWAN, W. Va., May 20.—With 100 deputy sheriffs armed with rifles patrolling the streets and detachments of state constabulary expected to arrive at any moment the situation in this mining village, the scene of the killing of twelve persons last night in a battle between private detectives and citizens was quiet early to-day. Last night's shooting, in which Baldwin-Felts detectives clashed with the citizens and Matewan police, resulted, according to authorities from the action of the detectives who evicted a number of miners from the Stone Mountain Coal Company houses yesterday. Two Stone Mountain Company mines were closed recently when it became known that an effort was being made to unionize them. The Miner's claim that detectives were sent to disposses families of workers who have been dismissed.

PUBLIC SITTINGS TO BE HELD WITH A VIEW TO TARIFF REVISION

INVESTIGATIONS TO BE CONDUCTED BY DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF EXPERT AND OTHER ADVISERS.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, May 19.—After prorogation, public sittings with a view to tariff revision would be held throughout the Dominion, the Finance Minister announced in the course of his Budget speech yesterday. The investigations would be conducted by the Department of Finance with the assistance of such expert and other advisers as would be necessary to conduct a thorough inquiry. The policy of the Government called for a thorough revision of the tariff with a view to the adoption of such reasonable measures as were necessary:

(a) To assist in providing adequate revenues; (b) To stabilize legitimate industries and to encourage the establishment of new industries essential to the proper economic development of the nation—to the end that a proper and ever-increasing field of useful and remunerative employment be available for the nation's workers; (c) To develop to the fullest extent Canada's natural resources; (d) Specially to promote and increase trade with the Mother Country, the sister Dominions, and Colonies and Crown dependencies; (e) To prevent the use of the tariff for the exploitation of the consumer, and (f) To safeguard the interests of the Canadian people in the existing struggle for commercial and industrial supremacy.

"As a means of raising revenue, Sir Henry Added, "the tariff should be so adjusted as to place the chief burden upon those best able to bear it."

Articles of luxury should be heavily taxed through the imposition of Customs and excise rates. Necessaries of life, not produced or manufactured in Canada, should if taxed at all ,bear only such imposts as were necessary for revenue purposes.

TAXES ON CLOTHING ARE ON THE RETAIL PRICE.

OTTAWA, May 19.—Excise taxes on wearing apparel, etc., are payable on purchase price, that is, on retail price, when the purchase is made.

Taxes on yachts, automobiles, liquors, etc., payable by importer or manufacturer, apparently on Customs valuations or manufacturers' prices.

LARGE INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP OF TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING WAS HELD LAST EVENING—OFFICERS ELECTED.

At a meeting held last evening in the S.S. Hall, the members of Trinity Church elected their representatives to the Quarterly Official Board. At a meeting of the Board held last week the Stewards and District-Visitors were elected and the report of the year's work was read. A large increase in membership as well as in the various funds of the church was reported.

During the year ending April 30th 192 new members were received Of these 44 came in by letter and 148 on profession of faith. Of the latter group 25 were junior members. After deducting the names of those who removed by letter and the number died during the year, a net gain of 68 was reported.

The Connexional Funds for the year totalled $6924. The three leading items were $2157 for the General Missionary Fund, $807 for the W.M.S. Fund, and $200 for the Educational Fund. The Ladies Aid raised $800 during the year and the Sunday School a like amount. The grand total including $15,706 raised by the Trustee and Quarterly Boards amounted to $24,912.

When the whole work of the year was surveyed it was found to be the best year in the history of the church.

The following are the names of the officials elected at the recent meeting of the Board and at the meeting of the Congregation last evening.

TENDER GUMS — A WARNING

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

What is Pure Paint?

It is a matter of common knowledge that pure rubber alone does not make the best tires, neither does pure cement alone make the best concrete. In both cases other materials are added, resulting in a composition best suited to give the utmost in efficacy and service for the purpose required.

The same principle applies to paint. White Lead and Zinc Oxide alone do not make the best paint, neither can they be termed pure paint, because these two pigments alone do not produce a paint capable of enduring and giving the service required under varying conditions.

In order to obtain an exact knowledge of the correct admixture of paint ingredients which would give the utmost in endurance and service, test fences have been maintained in various sections of the country. These fences have been exposed to all the extremes of weather and climate, so that the tests were most severe.

The chart shown herewith illustrates the results which were obtained from tests extending over three years at the Atlantic City test fence, and were confirmed by similar tests conducted on test fences in other sections of the country.

These tests absolutely bear out the theory upon which Crown Diamond Paints are constructed—that is, that paints giving the best efficacy and service are those in which the tinting materials are strengthened by a moderate amount of reinforcing pigment.

Note the test results of the above formula as shown on the chart and compare with those obtained from an admixture of White Lead and Zinc Oxide alone.

You will see that these tests are convincing proof that from the point of efficacy and service,

SPARK'S CIRCUS HERE JUNE 1ST

SHOW WILL BE ONE DOGGONE THRILL AFTER ANOTHER.

Three rings! Sure there are, if you doubt it, cout 'em Tuesday, June 1st. The No. 1 Advertising Car in charge of J. M. Randolph arrived in the city this morning and his crew of 22 men immediately started to work putting up the flaring posters and bills that set forth the wonders innumerable of the big performance.

The Sparks Circus bears the distinction of being one of the oldest largest and best and this year's program includes lions, tigers, leopards jaguers and even camels vying as acrobats with human stars. Its going to be just one doggone thrill after another, from the opening act—the two herds of monster elephants, each group being worked by lady trainers, to the great "Matoka" who causes many gasps of wonderment in his backward and forward slides for life from the loftiest point in the large tent, to the ground—a distance of 150 feet.

Are there clowns? Well, I should say yes! Forty of them and each and everyone can produce more laughs in a minute than all the mother-in-law jokes can in a century They are as full of funny capers as Russia is of Bolsheviki and just to add good measure a score or more of high class arenic stars are interspersed thoughout the entire performance.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

LOCAL BASEBALL COMMENT

Baseball in the Central Ontario district has received a contribution in the form of a sport calendar, giving among other baseball news the fortunes of the Central League in 1919. The calendar was prepared in Oshawa and bears the earmarks of Jack Nott, secretary of the League. Here is one of his bouquets: "Peterborough had the largest gate receipts, got the largest from last year's executive, chased the largest number of men around and did the largest amount of mousing. They have let the mouse loose first again this season. Last year's rivals hook up on opening day, May 24th, Peterborough at Belleville; Port Hope and Oshawa —great will be the fall there of—for two."

Jake Solomon's East Peterborough Amateur Baseball League is gaining speed. The erstwhile City League chief has called a meeting to organize the league, on Wednesday night, May 26th, at the Windsor Hotel. Five clubs will enter namely; Lakefield, Indian River, Nassau, Keene and Asphodel. Work on the farm will not suffer through the introduction of baseball. The teams will play on a schedule that will not interfere with the season's busy spots.

No games were played in the Michigan-Ontario circuit yesterday because of rain. Hamilton, with Frank Shaughnessy playing first base, ought to be thankful for Jup. Pluv's efforts to save them from another beating.

The fans will have a lot of fun at the bone-yard next Saturday afternoon. Canadian Generals are taking the Veterans as a light lunch, while the ex-soldiers promise the first big baseball surprise of the season.

Lindsay Warder — Mr. Walter Gerow, the popular efficient first base man of the G.T.R. baseball champion team, was last night the victim of an accident which will put him out of the game for some time. He was taking part in a game when in reaching the home plate from third base in some manner he slipped and fell, injuring his right shoulder. The injury was of such an extent as to require medical attention.

At a meeting of the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association last night, W. J. Macdonald, of Port Hope, was asked to furnish affirmation and his case will be considered. He played two games for Wellington in 1918.

FORMED NEW MINISTRY.

LONDON, May 20.—Francesco S. Nitti, Premier of the Italian Cabinet which resigned on 13th May, has formed a new Ministry, according to a Central News despatch from Rome.

TYRONE POWER

Owing to the phenomenal success achieved by Mr. Tyrone Power, the eminent English actor, and his excellent company of English artists in "The Servant in the House" when seen here a few months ago, it has been decide by the Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, to bring back Mr. Tyrone Power as a special return engagement in another of his great successes, "The Little Brother," a powerful drama of love by Milton Goldsmith and Benedict James for one day at the Grand Opera House, for one night only, on Monday, May 24th.

This drama, which has received the endorsation not only of the most prominent dramatic critics of the United States and Canada but also of many of the leading clergy of all denominations is a vivid lesson in religious tolerance and in the need of the universal brotherhood to overcome the limitations of creed bigotry.

MORALITY FILM COMING TO GRAND

Sir Hugh John Macdonald, chief magistrate of Winnipeg, was one of the first persons to endorse the motion picture production, "Enlighten Thy Daughter," the drama that is announced for the Grand Opera House the week of May 10. In his letter he said: "I would say that I consider it not only perfectly unobjectionable, but likely to do a great deal of good in impressing upon fathers and mothers the duty they owe to their daughters and the necessity of enlightening them as to the pitfalls with which they may meet on entering the world."

"It seemed to me like a silent sermon," said Rev. Charles G. Patterson of St. Stephen's Church, Winnipeg. C. F. Plewman, boys' work secretary of the Winnipeg Y.M.C.A., said this, in part: "Although the film dealt with a very delicate subject, there was very little in it that could jar the finer sensibilities of the most fastidious."

That "Enlighten Thy Daughter" will grip the people tremendously is a foregone conclusion. It is a story of the world's mystery. It concerns every thinking man and woman and it ought to be the concern of every young man and young woman. It tells about two girls. One was brought up in the atmosphere of loving parents who guided her every footstep. The other was brought up in an equally loving atmosphere, but through a sense of false modesty the mother hesitated enlightening her daughter—until it was to late.

It is a story that is seen in everyday life, but one that goes by unobserved until brought home, or near home, forcibly. It handles a delicate problem in a way that tells the truth, missing nothing, yet without offence.

Could all the illustrations favoring the enlightenment of the rising generations be gathered together, could all the sorrow and suffering that has been endured through ignorance be visualized, how many are there who would consciously walk right into the condition? Many believe that ordinary home training will accomplish the proper results. Others again believe in all kinds of methods except the right ones. Those who have made a study of the question invariably declare that 99 per cent. of the disasters are due to ignorance.

"Enlighten Thy Daughter" will be shown tw ice daily —at 2.15 in the afternoons and at 8.15 in the evenings.

Corn soups may be made of canned corn, seasoned with onion and some bouilion cubes.

PALE, ANAEMIC WOMEN NEED BETTER BLOOD

Vinol Will Enrich the Blood and Create Strength

Physicians Recommend It and Druggists Guarantee It

How many women do you know who are perfectly well, strong and healthy as a woman should be?

They may not be sick enough to lie in bed, but they are thin, nervous, run-down, tired and devitalized.

Women are so active nowadays, and so much is expected of them that they constantly overdo, and suffer from headaches, backache, nervousness and kindred ills.

Such women need VINOL, our non-secret cod liver, iron and hypophosphite tonic. It creates a healthy appetite, aids digestion, makes rich red blood and imparts strength and energy to every nerve, muscle and tissue of the body.

One woman recently wrote us saying: "I was all run-down, thin, pale, and oh, so nervous, but two bottles of VINOL put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. VINOL has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever taken put together."

VINOL is a wonderful strength creator—so why not try it on the guarantee of your druggist.

This world wants more men who are thorough. We have so many starters, but so few finishers.

Point out a dozen men who have been successful in life, and investigation will demonstrate every man in the bunch to be a finisher, a stayer, a laster. Thoroughness is the true test of permanency.

The half and half humans who never complete, never perfect, are pretty small potatoes and few in a hill.

The fellow who puts the coping on a job, who completes the thing, is in big demand.

WOOD SHORTAGE IN PETERBORO

The city is at present experiencing one of the greatest shortages of dry fire wood in the history of Peterborough, and practically none, other than kindling wood, is to be had. The situation has had a marked reflection upon the sale of coal oil, which, though high in price is being consumed in large quantities by the housewives.

The wood men in the city have no hope for any better situation until the fall.

SMALL BOY HAD NARROW ESCAPE

LAKEFIELD, May 20. — Jerome, the infant son of Mr. J. J. McFadden, lockmaster at Lakefield, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday.

While playing near the Locks, he fell into the water. Helen, his seven-year-old sister, saw him disappear into the water, and notified her father, who rescued the boy as he was going down for the last time.

STRIKE NEGOTIATIONS MOVED TO TORONTO

Negotiations in the C.G.E. strike were transferred to Toronto to-day. Mayor McIntyre, Ald. Whitehouse and Mr. Harry Harper expected to meet Senator Robertson, Minister of Labour, and in turn to confer with Senator Nicholls, president of the C.G.E. Company.

BANKS AND THE FALLING PRICES.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, May 20.—An attack by the banks on the high prices through credit restriction was reflected in to-day's stock market. Additional losses of one to three points at feverishly active opening, with extensions during the course of the morning, were generally attributed to further enforced liquidation for out-of-town interests.

A very considerable part of the reaction was believed to have resulted from more pressing need of merchants and others who found their credit impaired by vigorous methods adopted by the banks at the earnest solicitation of the Federal Reserve Board.

Local bank officials received messages from their correspondents testifying to the rising tide of price-cutting movement throughout the United States.

Traders believed that the letter of Secretary of the Treasury Houston, opposing the soldier bonus bill in any form might remove one cause of the present financial uneasiness.

The market during the first three-quarters of an hour showed little distinct trend one way or another. Steel after being forced below 10, went back to 91 1-4, while Studebaker recovered nearly 2 points from the opening. There was some evidence during the second hour that some lines had been oversold and that a recovery might be expected.

WEDDING BELLS

DAVEY—HUTCHINSON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at All Saints' church on Wednesday, May 19th at 5 p.m. between Violet, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hutchinson of Wescott street, and Frank Davey, eldest son of Mrs. Smith of Bonaccord street, the Rev. R. B. Grobb officiating.

The bride, charmingly attired in silk crepe de chine and wearing the customary bridal wreath and veil, entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Mr. Fred Hartshorn, and was assisted by her sister Lily, who was attired in major crepe de chine. Her little sister Doris acted as flower girl and preceded the bride into the church. The bridegroom was assisted by Mr. Harry Kelsey.

After the ceremony the guests, who numbered over 40, assembled at the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of, after which music and dancing were indulged in until the wee sma' hours.

The happy couple were the recipients of many costly and beautiful presents, amongst which was a very handsome five o'clock tea service, the gift of the employees of the C.G.E. compensator department, where the bride was formerly employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Davey will reside in the city.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Frank Degen of the Peterboro Fire Department left on Tuesday morning and his youngest son, Clifford, to spend his holidays with friends in Kitchener.

Miss Traill is in the city to-day from Lakefield.

Mr. Gordon Matthews has purchased the residence at present occupied by Mr. J. J. McBain.

had done in the way of a settlement. Mr. Harper said that there were three divisions in this country to-day, capital, labour and the public, the latter represented by the Council, all with an equal right for a hearing. They met with the Council and at last the schedule of 50 cents an hour for helpers and 75 cents for machinists, with 60 cents for specialists was drawn up. Mr. Harper said that he felt that the agreement between the men and the company was authentic and the men would be back to work on Monday all right if the men accepted it.

Told to Stay Out.

On Saturday at 2 o'clock, he stated, that he received word from the management that the men need not come in on Monday. "We were dumfounded. We felt that a nigger was in the woodpile somewhere. Mr. Harper said that he did not know whether it happened over the illness of the manager or what the exact cause was of the change. The speaker went to Toronto to where he was told that the trouble with the other men at the plant caused the company's stand. "I asked over the phone if there was any danger of the machinists 'agreement not being carried out provided the other troubles were settled. "Oh I don't think so," I was told.

The speaker said that he wanted the public to know that they had sent the girls at the plant back to work for they did not want them to suffer when they could be of no avail in the strike. In addition they were paid $12 a week by the Machinists' Union for the week they lost. He went on to say the machinists responded to the call of the government during the war for greater production of munitions by admitting many into the trade, which was one of the highest, most skilled trades, and how since the war they have found it mighty hard to put up the barriers again and get back to the desirable conditions of before the war. He felt that it was his duty to call the meeting and explain why the men were still out and did not return on Monday.

In the Home.

Mr. Harper hoped that in this age of collective bargaining laws would soon be enacted making strikes an impossibility, and at various parts of his address he expressed only regret that they had to revert to the strike, and he sincerely hoped that it would soon be amicably settled. Speaking on the shorter hours question he said it was an insult to the labouring classes to accuse them of laying down on production when they asked for a shorter day. "I tell you if you go home feeling tired and worn out after a 9 or 10 hour day you feel that you have given something towards greater production." The cause of the strike has been in the home again, reiterated the speaker. "You are not eating as good food, you are not dressing as well, you are not as happy as in 1914."

"We have nothing to hide in this thing. We have the courage of our convictions, but we will not tolerate anything but law and order." (Cheers).

Mr. Harper felt that when their conditions were granted the men would work better than ever and the strike would tend to produce better harmony between the men and the company and better conditions in their homes could only follow. "I only wish I could say now that the men were back in the shop and all was harmony."

Greeted with loud cheers, Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.L.A., who came down from Toronto for the meeting, took the platform. "Men and brothers, I am here but I was not invited." Mr. Tooms said that they were astounded in the city when they heard that the strike was not over. Referring to last night's Examiner, he said he saw that Mr. Patterson was buying his labour on the open market. "I wonder if you realize that is human life." Continuing he denounced the advertising of Canadian firms in the Old Country for labour, promising lucrative wages, but when emigrants arrived and found the real conditions there was nothing but disappointment over their step. Next year he hoped to be able to introduce a bill to make false advertising of this kind an indictable offence.

"I want to tell you that labour no longer believes that poverty is a necessary evil, and we are out to find the reasons for it." Mr. Tooms emphasized the need for a minimum wage and enumerated the countries that adopted the minimum wage, and he stated that the government was introducing a minimum wage bill for girls at the present session, a police court case that was reported in one of last week's papers proving the need for it. That labour was only out to get better conditions and higher conditions and not everlastingly after the dollar was the opinion of the local member.

"We have heard much of co-operation," said the speaker, "and as as far as you are concerned you have done your part. Men I congratulate you. I only hope the employers rise to your standards of ethics," concluded Mr. Tooms.

PROTEST ENGINEERS ARE UNQUALIFIED

At the regular meeting of the Trades Council last night a resolution protesting against the employment of unregistered stationary engineers by the Quaker Oats company beyond the emergency period of thirty days was passed and copies ordered to be sent to Mr. Tooms, M. L. A. and to the chairman of the Board of Examiners of the Stationary Engineers of Ontario.

COUNCIL TO MOVE ALONE

WILL INVOKE NEW LEGISLATION WHEREBY MUNICIPALITY MAY DEMAND BOARD OF CONCILIATION ON LABOUR DISPUTE.

SEN. NICHOLLS REFUSED

Mayor McIntyre, Ald. G. N. Gordon and Ald. Frank Whitehouse attended at Toronto to interview the Minister of Labour and the Hon. Frederic Nicholls, President of the Canadian General Electric Company, in the hope of terminating the C.G.E. strike. An appointment was arranged with President Nicholls and he refused to meet Mr. Harper, the Organizer of the Machinists' Union for Ontario. The deputation was inclined not to visit Mr. Nicholls at all upon his refusal to discuss it with the men's representative, but finally decided to see him with the view of obtaining his consent to a Conciliation Board. A very lengthy discussion took place. Mr. Nicholls stated his position and finally concluded the discussion by stating he would not accept the Conciliation Board, which was suggested by Ald. Gordon to deal with the question of a minimum rate for the men, but would be willing to take up the question of individual cases of wages before a Board.

Mayor McIntyre, Alderman Whitehouse and Alderman Gordon were most urgent and insistent upon Mr. Nicholls agreeing to meet Mr. Harper or commitees of the men to deal with the question of settlement of the strike, but Mr. Nicholls absolutely refused to go into the matter of meeting the men's representative, as he said he had met him before, and discussed the situation and he had made up his mind that he would do nothing further than the offer he had already made through Mr. Patterson.

The Mayor telegraphed to Mr. Armstrong, from Toronto, to call a Council meeting to-night to deal with the whole matter and to ask the Minister of Labour to appoint a Conciliation Board, which will be dealt with to-night.

The Mayor and the committee with him state that they feel the seriousness of the situation as the strike is effecting the business men, landlords, and every person in the city, as well as the men out of work, and the company itself. The Mayor, and the other members of the Council have given a great deal of time on this matter, and Mayor McIntyre, Ald. Gordon and Ald. Whitehouse all said to-day they intended to see the thing through, and if it was a fight to a finish they were going to get into it and stay with it till it was finished.

THE WEATHER

This is the most beautiful season of the year. The trees are bursting forth into full foliage, the many delicate shades of green having a freshness and delicacy which they will not show after a few weeks' exposure to the heat and dust. The fruit trees are a mass of color, bearing promise of heavily laden limbs if all goes well. Each blade of grass appears to vie with the other in rapidity and luxuriance of growth, and the gentle shower of last night will make its beneficent results show everywhere—on the poor man's 8 x 10 lawn and the broad acres of the autocratic farmer. And yet there are people who do not appreciate, apparently do not even see, the beauties of the springtime! Last night the temperature only got down to 57 degrees, being the warmest night up to the present time. Yesterday's highest was 76, the highest up to date. The rainfall last night was not heavy, only .04 of an inch. The season at the present time is advanced about as far as usual, and is several weeks ahead of last year. Heavy rains prevailed from May 20th to 24th last spring, and the maples were not in leaf until the 30th. Cool weather also prevailed. The year previous was further advanced. The trees were in leaf by the 21st, and high temperatures prevailed from the 17th to the 20th, 86 degrees being reached on two different days.—W.P

PETERBORO JOINS RANKS OF THE MANY ONE PAPER CITIES

AFTER JUNE 1ST THE EXAMINER TAKES OVER THE NEWSPAPER BRANCH OF THE BUSINESS OF THE PETERBORO REVIEW CO., LIMITED—REVIEW WILL NOT ISSUE AFTER THIS DATE.

The knowledge that the rapidly increasing cost of newsprint, labour, and every other article that enters into the production of a daily newspaper, has caused the disappearance of many well known journals throughout Canada, will perhaps cause the announcement that on Monday, May 31st, The Peterboro Daily Review will cease publication, to be received with less surprise than would otherwise be the case. The Examiner has absorbed the circulation of The Review and, taking effect on June 1st, will take over the subscription lists of that journal, and The Examiner will from that date be alone in the field. With the Daily edition of The Review, The Weekly Review likewise ceases publication.

The passing of The Review is merely a repetition of an occurrence that has taken place in many other cities and towns in the Dominion. Newspaper after newspaper has been forced to give up the struggle against the ever-increasing expense of operation. With newsprint tripled in price, wages at a high level, news service and telegraph service costing much more than formerly, and every other item of expense growing steadily higher, it has come to be recognized that in the smaller cities, and in the towns, there is room for only one newspaper. During the last couple of years many journals have ceased publication. In some cities there has been an amalgamation of the two competing papers; in others one of them has given up the field to its competitor. But however the result was arrived at it is a fact that in most of the smaller cities of the Province there is but one newspaper. In Windsor, Brantford, St. Catharines, Galt, Woodstock, Brockville, St. Thomas, and other cities, this is true, and now Peterboro takes its place among the one-paper cities. Even in Toronto, the pressure of the rapidly mounting cost of operation has resulted in the disappearance of The Times, and The World has been forced into liquidation. Few industries have been so vitally affected by the different circumstances of the past few years as has the newspaper business, and it is evident that many more journals will be forced to suspend publication.

To the advertisers of Peterboro the announcement that there is to be only one newspaper n the city from the first of June, will be received with satisfaction. Their advertising appropriation has only to be arranged with one paper in view. No duplication of copy is necessary and the advertiser knows that he can cover the whole field satisfactorily and thoroughly.

The Examiner will use its utmost endeavours to give the people of Peterborou and surrounding district, the best of service in the matter of news, special features and advertising value. The knowledge that upon The Examiner alone devolves the responsibility of providing this district with a bright, clean, readable newspaper, will be a spur to the management and staff, and their efforts will be devoted to making The Examiner a paper that will be eagerly welcomed in every home. All political parties in this community will have an opportunity to place their views before the people through the medium of The Examiner, whose chief energies will be directed towards publishing a newspaper that will appeal to every citizen.

In taking over The Review newspaper, it is this branch of the business only that has been transferred. The present management will continue to conduct the Job Office and Bindery in its present business stand, 164-166 Hunter Street.

Price Cutting Wave Sweeps Over Europe

RADICAL DROP IN PRICES REPORTED FROM LONDON, ENGLAND.

LONDON, May 21—"The price cutting cycone that has hit the United States is beginning to sweep over Europe," said Sir Edward Mackay Edgar, leading British financier and economist, in an interview.

"The general strike of buyers began a week ago, and I believe it will continue until a general and radical drop in prices has been effected," he said. The movement is attracting enormous interest in the business world here, and it is generally felt it is bound to succeed

"Evidence that the prices in Europe are declining from their zenith is seen in the slump of Egyptian cotton, a drop of 30 per cent. in 10 days.

"My own corporation is unable to sell ships because of the prohibitive prices due to the cost of raw material. It is believed here that America is undergoing a nation-wide voluntary experiment of self-denial.

"Success of such tactics is inevitable, provided the price slashing movement is accompanied by an increase of productiveness."

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET REPORT

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., May 21.—The stock market opened irregular to-day. Opening prices were: Anaconda, 55 1-8, up 1-8; Chandler, 124 1-2, off 1-4; American Loco., 89 1-4, up 3-4; Crucible 124 1-2, off 2 5-8; Central Leather, 63 1-8, off 7-8; General Motors 25 1-4, off 1-8; U. S. Steel, 91 3-8, off 5-8; Pan American Pet. 95, unchanged; Columbia Gramaphone, 30 1-2, up 3-8; Studebaker, 63 1-4, up 1-4; Cuban American Sugar, 58 1-2, off 3-8; Southern Pacific, 92 1-4, up 1-4; Canadian Pac., 112 7-8, off 3-8; Bethlehem B, 87 3-4, up 1-2; Mexican Pet. 170, unchanged; Republic Steel, 87 3-4, off 1-4. Shortly after the opening Crucible dropped to a new low on decline at 123 1-2. Sugar stocks were somewhat reactionary, because of the threatened boycott on the product by preserves manufacturers. Cuban American gave 3-4 to 5-8 and other sugar stocks dropped a half point or more. All motors held firm.

The sharp rally of Liberty Bonds had a favorable effect on the entire stock list, Steel Common, after an early low at 91, got above 92, while other Steels ralied from 2 to 4 points. The buying of oils was the feature of the morning market. Pan-American which had sold as low at 91 on Wednesday, jumped to 97. Motors were not in such great demand as at the opening. Traders believed the disorganization of transportation would materially affect earning of the Motor Companies.

THE MEXICO REVOLUTION

CARRANZA IS HEADED FOR THE UNITED STATES, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

By Ralph H. S. Turner.
(United Press.)

MEXICO CITY (via Galveston), May 21.—Venustiano Carranza, deposed President of Mexico, plans to make his way to some port in the Tuxpam district and take ship either for the United States, according to latest reports here.

The revolutionary government, it was believed, would not object to the President's escape, although in some quarters it was said the revolutionists desired Carranza's capture so they could obtain a formal resignation before he left Mexico.

LACROSSE, RACES AND FOOTBALL FOR HOLIDAY CROWDS

The chief attraction in Peterborough on Empire Day will be the programme of sports at the Exhibition Park. It includes a car of three horse races, a football match between representative Scottish and English teams, and a lacrosse game between two picked teams, the first match played here since before the war.

Apart from the attractions the Fair Board have arranged for the holiday, there is also the consideration that any surplus gate receipts will go into the treasury of the Fair Board, and will be used with contributions and other funds on the new buildings which are planned for erection this year.

Both the lacross and football games should be unusually interesting, and the races will draw their usual following.

PEAK OF HIGH PRICES HAS PASSED ON WOOL

SLUMP OF FROM TEN TO TWENTY PER CENT. AT BOSTON AUCTION.

BOSTON, May 21.—The price of wool slumped yesterday, a break of from ten to twenty per cent. occurring at the auction sales conducted here under the auspices of the British Government. Only seven mills took part in the bidding, and but thirty per cent of the wool offered for sale was disposed of.

Buyers were agreed that the peak of high prices for wools had passed According to the Commercial Bulletin, the drop reflected cancellations of orders for goods, delays in transportation and declines in the Liverpool and London markets for raw wool.

The sales at which to-day's break in prices occurred were the first of a two days' auction, the fifth to be conducted in the United States by the British Government, and announced as the last. The average prices were from 10 to 20 per cent. below those of the last British sales.

The remaining 13,000 bales of the British stocks will be offered to-morrow.

Food to Come Down

William Fellows Morgan President of the Merchants' Association, in discussing the same subjects, said: "The reduction of the prices of merchandise, which now seem to be prevalent throughout the country, has been anticipated, it was inevitable as one of the steps of deflation which we must go through in order to regain normal conditions. The necessary preparations for the shrinkage of values, which really means an increase in the value of the dollar were long ago made by the banks. I do not anticipate that we shall have any trouble as a result of it, although certain lines of industry may be more or less disturbed.

"This re-adjustment has been retarded by the interruption of the transportation lines, especially in this city. The tendency of this interference with the free movement of merchandise has been to keep prices at high levels and even to increase them by cutting off supplies. The fact that food prices have not declined, I believe to be attributable mainly, if not entirely, to this cause. Our progress toward normal conditions will be accelerated and the danger of distance will be lessened by putting a stop to transportation hold ups, which constitute a menace tio the entire community."

OBJECT TO DECONTROL

DIVISION IN CAMPS OVER THE CONTROL OF WHEAT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., May 21. — Should government control of wheat be abandoned this year is the most vital question of the day among grain dealers and farmers. A cursory investigation shows those most interested are divided into two camps, the grain dealers for the most part being in favour of decontrol as soon as possible, and farmers adhering to the stand taken recently by the Canadian Council of Agriculture which is that control should continue until "national buyng" is discontinued in foreign countries.

Canvas of grain dealers and farmers representatives to-day brought many opinions.

S. T. Smith of Smith, Murphy & Co., declares competition will restore the grain trade to normal more quickly than any other method.

"Why should government control grain business any more than any other?" he asks.

But he is not sure if present is proper time for re-opening market difficulties in handling the crop that might arise, he says:

J. C. Gage, of the Consolidated Elevator Co., who returned to-day from Ottawa and who attended the recent grain convention in Chicago, said he was not in a position to speak as to the advisability of decontrol. He did say, however, that foreign market conditions were misunderstood by many people although government buying is still in operation among European countries. There is keenest sort of competition among various nations since allied countries have begun to do their trading independently.

United Sttaes will begin decontrol this year, he said be gathered from discussion at Chicago, but it will be effected gradually. The government of that country has found control too expensive, he said.

Alderman F. O. Fowler, of the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association, says control will result in better prices for producers. Anglo-Saxons will not tolerate government control for any length of time, he declared.

Generous Grants to the Exhibition Board

SPECIAL COMMITTEE MEETING WITH ENCOURAGING RESPONSE IN APPEAL FOR FUNDS FOR NEW BUILDINGS—$4,341 ALREADY RECEIVED.

LIST NOT COMPLETE

Subscriptions ranging all the way from one dollar to $250 are reported by the special committee of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition Board which has been quietly making a canvass for the purpose of securing funds for new buildings. The lists are not yet complete but they show the generous response that citizens as a whole are making to the appeal of the Fair directors for contributions that will enable the directors to provide permanent accommodation the need of which has been emphasized during the last few years.

Collectors who interviewed the manufacturers have turned in the following results up to the present:—

C.G.E. Co.	$250
De Laval Co.	$250
Quaker Oats Co.	$250
Canadian Woollens Ltd.	$250
Peterboro Examiner	$250
Canadian Packing Co	$250
Peterboro Canoe Co.	$200
J. J. Turner Company	$200
Campbell Milling Co.	$200
Peterboro Cereal Co.	$200

Canadian Nashua Co.	$150
Colonial Weaving Co.	$100
A. McDonald Lumber o.	$100
Adam Hall Company	$100
Vermont Marble Co.	$100

This makes the prese total $3400, and the committee is confident that the amount will be considerably increased when the subscriptions are all received. The directors are delighted with the spirit manifested by the business houses. Their donations will be spent on a new manufacturers' exhibits building which it is expected will be ready for this year's Fair.

Other Suscriptions.

Other lists show the following subscriptions:—

The J. C. Turnbull Co.	$100
Richard Hall Son	$100
A. W. Cressman Co	$100

G. A. Pringle	$ 10
W. Coros	$ 2
Porter S. White	$10
Fitzgerald & Eastwood	$ 5
A. W Clysdale	$ 2
G. W. Fitzgerald	$ 2

he aggregate of all those contributions is $4341. The directors have other lists which will be published shortly, but they hope that before completing their work that all citizens who desire to help build up the Exhibition will send their subscriotions either to Mr. R. Denne, the Peterboro Examiner or to any member of the Board. Those who can afford to give a dollar are urged to do so in the same spirit as those who can make a larger grant It is all welcome, is positively needed and will be carefully expended.

TONS OF CORDITE BEING EXPLODED

Powder Was Manufactured for War Purposes.

(Special to Examiner)

BROCKVILLE, May 21.—Over 20,000 tons of Cordite and powder which were stored near Smiths Falls during the war by the Imperial munitions board are now being exploded in half ton lots under orders from an officer of the board. The store house has been guarded night and day ever since hostilities ceased.

ASKS PROTECTION FROM LEAGUE

PERSIA MAKES APPEAL TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS AGAINST BOLSHEVIK AGGRESSION.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 21.—Persia has appealed to the League of Nations to protect her against Bolshevik aggression. The appeal, which follows the landing of Bolshevik forces on Persian soil from the Capian Sea, was made through Persian Foreign Minister, who is in Paris. The appeal alludes to the presence in Enzeli harbor of warships belonging to anti-Bolshevik forces formerly operating under General Denikine, and maintains that Persia acted within her rights as a neutral with regard to these vessels. It points out that she declined to allow the ships to enter the harbor until she was assured she would not be hampered in disarming and interning them.

Captain A. G. Thompson, of the Scandinavian-American line, has in his life travelled 2,000,000 miles of ocean and has made 233 round trips between New York and Copenhagen. He is now in his 71st year and has about decided to take a vacation, although loath to do so.

PETERBORO MERCHANTS DON'T KNOW HOW THEY WILL LIKE THE NEW TAX

THEY ARE WAITING TO SEE HOW "GEORGE" GETS ALONG—NOTICES WERE RECEIVED TO-DAY.

This morning's mail brought to the merchants in the city the first definite realization of the new luxury tax, when the invoices with the government tax attached, arrived, and a diversity of opinion was expressed by George street retailers. Some feel that the tax is justifiable and quite in accordance with the country's needs, while others are practically up in arms and declare that the country will never stand it and it will never go through.

Interviewed this morning, Mr. Robert Fair said he believed that when the public realize that the tax is to pay the soldiers' pensions, not for public works, they will look upon it as more or less of a patriotic duty. Mr. Fair said he believed that the tax will be far from burdensome and that people will adjust themselves to it quickly. It will mean doubtless a lot of taxable goods will be done without, such as ribobns and laces, while the bulk of the readly to wear goods come below the taxable standard, only a few suits being carried of taxable price.

Minimum Too Low.

Several of the boot and shoe merchants agreed that the tax will make the cost of living higher as the tax has been levied on goods of two low a price. Scarcely any shoes for men are carried at any lower price than $9. The poor man will be hit and in an effort to avoid the advance will endeavor to purchase inferior goods which will last about half as long as the better grades.

The men's furnishing merchants, most of whom were backward in expressing an opinion, apparently feel that the luxury tax will result in the purchase of inferior garments. Most of them said they would rather wait a week or so to see just how the tax works out before expressing any opinions.

"Don't say I said so," was the general admonition of the merchants interviewed.

Revenue Officer.

When interviewed by the Examiner yesterday Mr. W. H. Buller, in charge of the Inland Revenue office here, and on whom the responsibility for the collection of the new luxury tax will rest, said he felt the new tax would in time work out all right, once the merchants, wholesalers and manufacturers became fully conversant with it and evolved a successful book-keeping system to cover it. Mr. Buller first received intimation of the new tax at 8.10 on the evening of May 18. On the 19th it went into effect, he said, and any merchants who were not acquainted with the new tax had only themselves to blame. He expected that although heavy penalties have been provided for non-compliance with the new regulations, that there would be a certain amount of leniency in carrying it out at first.

Hundreds of inquiries had been made at the office, he said, so to do away with any confusion he sent a full copy of the new tax to the secretary of the Board of Trade for him to have copies made for the guidance of those coming within the jurisidction of the tax.

Sounds Easy.

Mr. Buller explained how the merchant would be able to keep track of all luxury sales by making three bills in triplicate. One he would keep himself, one for the purchaser and one for the Inland Revenue officers. At the bottom of the bill the excise tax would be entered. On the 15th and 20th of each month a full invoice attached to a declaration sworn before a justice of the peace or a notary public must be returned to the office.

Mr. Buller's district covers the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Haliburton, Northumberland and Durham and all returns in this district must be made to the local office unless there are deputy officers appointed as there are now at Cobourg and Port Hope. In all probability an officer will be apointed at Lindsay.

Evaders of the tax will be dealt with stringently and Mr. Buller said that the preventative officers in Toronto will be on the job night and day, and a system would be evolved so that no one could "slip one over on them."

The local officer admitted that it made a great deal more work for his department ,but it was not anticipated that any large increase in staff would take place.

The tax was an excellent thing in Mr. Buller's opinion to cause merchants to cut down the high cost of clothing and other essentials. On the other hand if people still persisted in buying luxuries the government would get increased revenue.

On the confectionery clause he said it would not include buns and cakes, but only the dainty confections.

"The merchants all took it pretty well," he said.

DESERT WASHINGTON AS WAR WORK ENDS

THOUSANDS EMPLOYED IN BUREAUS AND DEPARTMENTS RETURN TO NORMAL ACTIVITIES.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The demobilization of Washington is proceeding at such a pace that it is conservatively estimated here that by July 1 the population of the capital city will be from 60,000 to 75,000 less than when the war ended.

By demobilization is meant the disbanding of the gigantic organization built up here by the Government for war purposes. Thousands of clerks, nobody in Washington knows the exact number, have already been relieved of duty and have left the city, and officials estimate that from 10,000 to 20,000 more will go by July 1.

The rapidity of the exodus from Washington is best illustrated by what happened between the taking of a police census here during November, 1919, and the taking of the Federal census in January, 1920. The police census fixed the population at 455,428. The Federal census, taken about a month later, showed 437,414, or 18,014 fewer residents than the police census showed.

In 1910 Washington had 331,000 inhabitants, the Federal census showed. It was a quiet, rather sleepy and very dignified town, not a city in the modern sense, but the war converted Washington into a "boom town." War workers poured in by tens of thousands. The Shipping Board, the War Risk Insurance Department, the Treasury and the War and Navy Departments, with their tremendously expanded business, absorbed thousands, and in addition there came a sizeable host of "dollar a year men" and volunteers, with their families and their servants.

The hotel keepers were frantic, and on many a night during the war hundreds of persons slept, or tried to, on the hard benches of the Union Station, because there were no beds to be had.

Government Built Dormitories.

The Government was forced to build dormitories to house the workers. Families who never before thought of such a thing rented rooms to war workers. Rents soared to unconscionable figures, and even at the highest rates there were not nearly enough houses and apartments to meet the demand. Real estate dealers reaped a golden harvest. Prices of property went up until today they are more than double, in some cases, what they were before the war.

Washington, the centre of the nation's war activities, was transformed from a rather staid, dignified Southern town into a metropolitan city. The transformation, however, was not accompanied by the necessary expansion of public utilities, with the result that the capital was a big city in population and a small town in accommodations.

In addition to the thousands who lived in Washington proper, the population was swelled by the thousands of soldiers and marines stationed in nearby camps. There was a huge quartermaster camp at Camp Megis, less than a mile from the Capitol. At American University, within the city limits, was an engineer camp, where thousands studied. At Quantinco, Va., near by, was a great Marines' camp, and in Maryland, but a short distance away, was Camp Meade. At Fort Myer, at Arlington, just across the Pontomac from Washington, there was a big camp. Belvoir, Va., just down the river, housed thousands of engineer officers.

These camps drew visitors to Washington, further taxing its housing and other facilities, and, in addition, the service men spent their furloughs and leave periods in the capital.

Compared to California Gold Rush.

During this period a Senator from the West attempted to find a house or apartment in Washington for his family. He is old enough to have seen something of the boom days of the great West. After a vain attempt to get quarters within the limit of a Senator's income he said:

"Washington is just like a California gold camp in the old days. At first when there was nobody there but the pioneers, they picked each other's pockets. Then the strangers came, and everybody turned in and picked pockets."

The initial exodus was of those who had been sticking to their war jobs just because they didn't want to be slackers and cut and run under fire. Soon after the armistice there was a general reduction of the activities, hence of the personnel of some of the scores of bureaus and departments. From then on the exodus was steady. Bureaus closed up their work and were disbanded. Their clerks could find nothing to do in Washington, so they went back home. Every month since the war ended has seen hundreds, and some months thousands, of these workers depart.

The soldiers are gone, the camps deserted. The visitors who come now are the usual ones who always come, and the "dollar-a-year-men" are back at their paid work.

Then came Congress with a demand for economy. Threats were heard that some departments would be abolished. That sent more people away. Some left of their own accord, rather than wait for dismissal. Bureau chiefs reduced their staffs. Other reductions now in contemplation will send thousands more away by the end of the fiscal year, when the present appropriation will expire.

The war population of Washington was subject to such fluctuations that nobody will probably ever know accurately just how large the population was, though every esimate puts it at well over 500,000 in November, 1918. It has fallen considerably more than 50,000, and the end is not yet.

The enthusiasts are mournful, for they feel that the next census will show not an increase but a decrease in Washington's population.

FIVE SMALL BOYS WERE REMANDED

With a string of five charges of theft and shop breaking with intent to commit an indictable offence, four young boys, ranging in ages from 14 to 16, were arraigned in the police court this morning.

Two heart broken parents appeared with their wayward sons, but two of the lads were there without any family support.

The alleged thefts are for $66.25 from an uptown store, $2 worth of peanuts from the peanut wagon, which is housed in Moloney's livery stable at night, one pocket knife, and one searchlight from a local bicycle shop. Two charges of attempting to break into shops with intent to commit an indictable offence also are laid against them. The period over which the crimes extend is from April 27th to May 20th.

After the charges were read by the Magistrate the parents elected summary trial.

Magistrate Dumble consented to a week's remand but felt that the boys were two young to go to jail.

"It is no wonder that children go to the devil, when the parents don't care," he said, when it was pointed out that only two of the families were represented.

"Now this case stands over," he addressed the quartette. "You are all put on your honour till a week from to-day at 10 o'clock. Will you be here?"

"Yes, sir," answered the boys in a chorus.

It is understood that there are other boys implicated in the robberies and the police will carry on a close investigation in the meantime.

OBSERVANCE OF VICTORIA DAY AT THE POST OFFICE.

On Victoria Day, Monday, May 24th, the Post Office will be closed except during the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. During which period the lobby of the Post Office will be open. Postage stamps will be on sale and the General Delivery and Registration Wickets will be open.

There will be no delivery by letter carrier. All outgoing mails due for despatch after noon on that date will be closed at that hour.

All Money Order, Savings Bank and Postal Note wickets will be closed. There will be two collections only made from the street letter boxes, commencing at 8:00 a.m., and 9:00 p.m.

NEW CANADIAN CENT STRUCK AT THE MINT.

First Two Coins Presented to Sir Thomas White.

OTTAWA, May 19. — Canadian cents of the new size were struck at the mint for the first time yesterday. The first two coins minted were presented to Sir Thos. White by the Master of the Mint.

The Prince of Wales is president of the oldest hospital in the British Empire, St. Bartholomew, at Smith Field. This hospital was founded by Betere, the jester of Henry VIII., in 1133. He delighted the patients, especially the old and bedridden ones, by personally visiting each one of them.

CHURCH UNION IN COBALT

Presbyterian and Methodist Congregations are to Join Forces.

COBALT, May 20.—A meeting is being held here with the object of uniting the Methodist and Presbyterian churches in this town, the united congregation to use the Presbyterian edifice. Rev. J. D. Byrnes, and Rev. F. L. Brown, officials of the two denominations are here for the meeting.

Faint and Dizzy Spells
Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women becomes rundown and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price, by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

KINGSTON GIVES BONUS FOR HOUSES BUILT NOW

A by-law submitted to the ratepayers of Kingston yesterday providing for the exemption from taxes of new houses up to $2,500 for a period of five years was carried by a majority of 572 to 104. This bonus applies to houses built on vacant lots in the years 1920 and 1921 and is intended to encourage building.

Why Physicians Recommend Magnesia For Dyspeptics

"Take a little magnesia after meals" is now a favorite dyspepsia prescription among thousands. The reason for this lies in the fact that practically ninety per cent. of all stomach trouble is due to acid which irritates and inflames the delicate mucuous membrane lining of the stomach and makes natural digestion impossible. Medicines, drugs and diets all fail simply because they do not remove the acid, the cause of all the trouble. The value of magnesia, which is neither a medicine nor a drug in the ordinary meaning of these words, lies in the fact that it naturalizes the acid. Of the many forms of magnesia such as oxides, carbonates, milks and fluids, the best is undoubtedly Bisurated Magnesia, a teaspoonful or four tablets of which in a little hot water, after meals, instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation of the food and thus insures painless, natural digestion. Pure Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist and stomach sufferers should give it a trial.

CHARGE HOARDING OF HIDES

Thousands in Storage in San Francisco, Says Woman's League.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21. — Hides are stored in California warehouses "by thousands" and are selling at decidedly lower prices than in 1919, according to an announcement made public here by Mrs. Edward F. Scanlon, President of the local branch of the State House Wives' League, which organization has been investigating the leather industry in an effort to discover why shoe prices are high.

"Members of the league delegated to make this investigation have made a personal canvass of the leather of the (San Francisco) Bay district, and the findings are startling," Mrs. Scanlon said. "The finest grades of hides which brought 70 cents a pound in 1919 are selling to-day for 40 cents. We have made a careful study of the different elements that make up the retail price of shoes. We find the labor cost of a pair of shoes never exceeds $1.80."

TO SAVE SUGAR

In cooking rhubarb much sugar may be saved by the use of baking soda. Dissolve the soda in boiling water, in the proportion, say, of a good-sized teaspoon to a quart, and pour it over the rhubarb. Let stand for about five minutes, and then turn into a colander to drain. Stew with not much more than half the quantity of sugar you have been accustomed to use.

GERMANS STUDY LANGUAGES

English and Spanish Especially Popular Among Prospective Emigrants.

BERLIN, May 21.—Foreign language schools are busier in Berlin than they have ever been before, the underlying desire of the pupils being to leave the Fatherland for possibly happier shores. Virtually everybody is learning English, with Spanish a good second, both languages being popular with prospective emigrants to North and South America.

French is mostly studied by women with a penchant for culture, and the Scandinavian languages seem to be popular with stock exchange and bank clerks. Contrary to expectation there is very little demand for Russian, and still less for Turkish, which enjoyed a brief spell of popularity during the war.

Empty gasoline tanks are more dangerous than filled ones for the reason that they will not be entirely emptied and the remaining gasoline will vaporise, the vapour will mix with the air in the can, and the mixture may be explosive.

MEN WERE GIVEN THEIR PAY SLIPS

(Canadian Press.)

NIAGARA FALLS, May 20.—Announcement of Hydro officials that work would commence at seven a.m. instead of eight, caused considerable trouble among workers engaged in Hydro development here. Federation men told employees to start work at eight but on arriving these men were given their pay slips. The men took the stand that the new agreement called for an eight hour day. The Chippewa end of the work is said to be almost at a standstill. No news has come from Queenston, although rumours say conditions are not so bad there. Engineers and mercantile men are said to contemplate leaving in a body at the end of the day.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, May 20.—Mr. C. J. Sloan, inspector of the Royal Bank, is in Lakefield to-day on business. He will join Mrs. Sloan at Mount Julian for the week-end.

Professor M. McKenzie, of Toronto, went up to his cottage to-day.

The steamer Stoney Lake passed through to-day on the way to the Lakes with a scowload of lumber.

HOW'S YOUR BLOOD?
Pimples and Eruptions Mean Bad Blood

People who have impure or impoverished blood should be careful to take only a temperance remedy made of wild roots and barks, such as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is and has been for nearly 50 years. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and accumulations begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the eliminative organs.

In place of the impurities, the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, boils, carbuncles, eczema, rash, acne and many skin blemishes will disappear. Then you must remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache.

Get Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to-day at any medicine dealers, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., or branch Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Ont.

BRAMPTON, ONT.—"A few years ago I was in a nervous and run-down condition and felt greatly in need of a tonic. A friend who was being helped by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advised me to try it, too. It helped me from the very start and eventually restored me to perfect health. I feel in a position to praise the 'Golden Medical Discovery' very highly and take pleasure in recommending it to all those who are at all nervous, weak or run-down." — MRS. ESTHER PRATSON.

THE MINERS WILL RETURN TO WORK

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 20.—Decision by the miners' union in the Department of Nord and Pas De Calais to resume work to-day has been ratified at a meeting of miners' delegates, and information of this action has been telegraphed to all mining centres in France. Railway workers in the south of France and employees of transportation companies at Marseilles have also decided upon an immediate resumption of work. Employees of transportation companies at Grenoble have decided to withdraw from the General Federation of Labor and to establish an independent union. Workers at Lorient have decided to return to their posts to-day.

short toot, listen and toot again

If motorists would obey that injunction "short toot, listen and toot again" there would be fewer motor accidents and fatalities. It is the carelessness of the motorists in general regarding public safety that will eventually bring the wrath of the law hurtling down upon the head of the just and unjust motorist alike and motorists who desire to avoid being penalised by stern justice should read a highly instructive and illustrated article, "Short Toot, Listen and Toot Again" appearing in the May issue of

Some eighteenth century tapestries fetched $50,000, while others, illustrating the Odyssey, brought $32,400. Furniture from the bedroom of Louis XV. netted $22,000.

HAD ECZEMA
For Over 28 Years

Eczema or Salt Rheum manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust is formed, and the intense burning, itching and smarting especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat is almost unbearable.

The success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in skin diseases of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties, and we know of no other remedy that has done or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture.

Mr. James Walker, 152 Niagara St., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have been using Burdock Blood Bitters for some months past, and find it an excellent remedy for skin eruptions. I have suffered with eczema for over 28 years, and have tried almost everything you could think of. I was recommended to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and I am now clear of my skin trouble. It is certainly a good remedy and I shall recommend it to all my friends."

ENCOURAGING BUILDING.

The passing by the ratepayers of Kingston of a by-law exempting from taxes up to $2,500 for a period of five years all dwellings erected on vacant lots during this year and next, is a measure of assistance in dealing with the housing problem that might be adopted in other cities. The Kingston Council has shown its progressiveness by submitting such a by-law and the ratepayers have indicated their approval in a decisive manner by registering a vote of five to one in favour of the measure. The result of the experiment will be watched with a great deal of interest. The situation not only in Kingston, but in every other municipality in Ontario is such as to necessitate many inducements of this kind before any substantial building programme may be expected. The Kingston authorities deserve credit for their attempt to encourage building operations and for having made a more sincere attempt to deal with the problem than have the councils of many other cities and towns.

EMPIRE DAY.

Empire Day was observed in the schools of Peterborough to-day with fitting exercises and ceremonies, and it is well that the children have this annual celebration to bring before them the greatness of the British Empire, for outside of the schools the occasion passes unmarked. In Canada there is too little attention paid to the significance of the national holidays. Most people of course know that May 24th is Victoria Day, kept as a holiday in memory of good Queen Victoria, but it is unfortunately true that there are many who are hazy as to Dominion Day— who hardly know why July 1st is a public holiday. The schools will have to see that the rising generation knows more about such occasions, and therefore the special attention paid to Empire Day and its significance is welcome. We are sometimes inclined to smile at the flag waving of some of our American cousins, but after all there is much to commend in the manner in which the children attending the American schools are taught to love their flag and what it stands for. It may be carried to excess in some cases of course, but nevertheless the system has its good points.

EXEMPTION FOR SOLDIERS.

One of the Toronto branches of the Great War Veterans' Association, after condemning the new so-called luxury tax, has passed a resolution to be forwarded to the Dominion government asking that ex-service men be exempt from the levy for a period of five years. They take the position that the men who fought overseas have contributed their share of sacrifice that they should not be called upon to pay these taxes that arise out of war conditions, and furthermore that the difficulty that the soldier has found in re-establishing himself into civil life will be increased as a result of the new budget. There is unquestionably considerable logic in these contentions, although it is hardly probable that the Federal government will pay much attention to the resolution.

The new taxes will cause many a thoughtful veteran to reflect upon the gratuity scheme that Sergt. Flynn wanted to load upon the country, and to realize what the raising of the $700,000,000 or $800,000,000 that would have been needed for that purpose, would have entailed. It was a mere detail—the securing of that huge sum—according to many advocates of the scheme, but when it is realized that the new tax on luxuries which seems to hit everybody, is only expected to raise a revenue of $70,000,000, the immensity of the Flynn gratuity plan becomes apparent.

AN AMERICAN VIEW.

(Waterbury American.)

Strikes are not popular at present. There have been increasing evidences of this. Strike after strike has failed of late. The great body of people are so much concerned about their own difficulties in making both ends meet that they have no sympathy with the efforts of others, whom they think better off than themselves, to better themselves, especially when these efforts add to their own burdens. Public opinion is unsympathetic. Public opinion comes from the great middle class, which at present considers itself the chief sufferer from high prices. They are intelligent and orderly. They know that the cure of present troubles is economy and hard work, the revival of industry, the restoration of steady, continuous transportation, the co-ordination of the parts in the machinery of living. They are practicing self-denial and giving up their own way in many things in order to bring about normal conditions. They think others should do the same thing. They have no patience with discontent, which manifests itself in ways that make matters worse. That is why strikes are not popular and fail. The thing for everybody is first to pitch in and help get out of the hole and then take up individual or group grievances in the way to get them settled.

COMING DOWN.

Some welcome news comes over the wires to-day, points out the Hamilton Herald. From different parts of the United States there are reports of falling prices. The movement appears to be general. All through the middle west dealers are cutting prices. In Boston retail merchants to-day announce reductions of from 15 to 50 per cent., in all classes of goods. They realize that the time for a drop has come, and they don't wish to be left with large stocks of high-priced goods on hand, to be sold at a heavy sacrifice later on. Better sell now at a comparatively small reduction.

It is announced also that American bankers have shut down on credits for purposes of speculation in foodstuffs. In this move the American bankers are following the lead of the Canadian bankers, who some weeks ago started to curtail credits. It is a prudent policy, and will undoubtedly tend to reduce inflated values of commodities.

In our own country the process of lowering prices is not yet very noticeable, but it is sure to come. And when things are cheaper and the cost of living less workers of all classes must be content with the pay they are getting, and in some cases with less. The great thing is to keep on working and producing. That will make things easier all round.

STATE INSURANCE.

The announcement that the special Parliamentary Committee on Pensions and Re-establishment may recommend some form of state insurance for returned soldiers, whose applications for insurance have been rejected by the regular companies, will cause much satisfaction among the veterans generally. The commitee, it is understood has thoroughly investigated this question, has consulted a number of insurance experts and is ready to recommend the adoption of a system that will assist many returned men who have been unable to protect the future of their families by taking out an insurance policy. Many veterans of the war, whose disabilities have not been apparently considered serious by the Pensions Board, have found the doctors who conduct the examinations for the insurance companies have taken a different view of their condition with the result that many applications have been flatly rejected and the men found themselves unable to secure a policy. The adoption of state insurance to cover such cases has been strongly urged by the G.W.V.A. and other associations of returned soldiers and undoubtedly it would be a source of satisfaction to the veterans to know that the securing of an insurance policy is being made possible with the assistance of the government.

RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES.

One phase of the emotional reaction which the world is indulging in to-day is international jealousies. Countries which regarded each other as brothers during the war are now peculiarly susceptible to offence. Everything was forgiven then; nothing is forgiven now.

This world-condition, plainly observable in Europe, has its manifestations also on this continent. The tone of the press, the run of current conversation, the spirit in which a citizen of either country crosses the boundary, has changed from cordial admiration to testiness and pepperiness. Pin pricks hurt more than sword cuts did two years ago.

The supply of pulp and paper from Canada to the United States has brought out this latent dislik. Speeches have been made and applauded in Congress which contain thinly veiled threats of 'retaliation in case Canada should slacken the generosity of her exports of these articles. The inevitable response from the Canadian people is an attitude of resistance to outside interference.

The trouble is one which a little diplomacy will smooth over. But back of this, and other possible similar troubles, lies the cornorate mental attitude of the great body of citizens of the two countries. There are excitable folk in both lands, ill-controlled and irresponsible, to whom it is hopeless to look for any calm and wise action. Fortunately though such form a noisy they do not form a numerous group, and it is possible to appeal to the sound sense and tranquil judgment of the bulk of the people of both nations.

If any man, provoked to anger by overhearing some slurring remark concerning himself, by a neighbor, would reflect how little he himself means by many similarly careless words he has uttered about his neighbors, he would moderate his wrath. He would recognize that no deliberate ill-will lay behind the unfortunate remark. It was a trivial, haphazard utterance, unworthy of serious attention. Most of the things which set people against people are of that nature—idle, purposeless words and acts—not at all the proper foundations for a nation's judgment and will.

Here are two peoples, with the same standards of living, the same high inheritance, the same enterprising spirit, children of the same past, makers of the same future! The unity of one English-speaking civilization is theirs. The glory of a hundred years of peace shines out for the wonder and admiration of the five continents. No hasty word, no passing mood, should move them from genuine international goodwill. —The Farmers' Sun.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

AN ANNIVERSARY AND A SURPRISE.

CHAPTER CXXVIII.

Blithely Everett answered the summons, humming gayly as he took my arm and led me downstairs. As we neared the dining room he whisked a handkerchief from his pocket and playfully said:

"I'm going to blindfold you, Sandra." Suiting the action to the words, he tied the handkerchief loosely over my eyes before I could object, so astonished was I.

He led me into the room where in spite of being blindfolded I sensed a suppressed excitement, and a feeling that there were people in the room. H placed me in my chair, then untied the handkerchief.

Bewildered I looked about, in capable of speaking. The table was brilliant with flowers and all the best service. There before me, were Alice and Duane Sloan, Barret Edmonds and Miss Callum, Mr. and Mrs. Weeks—old friends of Everett's and people whom he knew I liked, altho they were so much older than I,—and Ruth Loring.

"Many happy returns of your anniversary, Sandra." It was Duane Sloane proposing a toast to which they all responded by standing and drink ing the cocktail which had been poured before we sat down.

I was absolutely overwhelmed and chagrined. It was our wedding anniversary and I had forgotten all about it, because I had been so busy nursing a grudge against Everett and Marta Pierce.

But the drinking of the cocktails gave me a moment in which to recover myself. I would not let them know I had forgotten, altho Everett of course was aware of my indifference.

I had hid my hands on a box beside my plate as I sat down and now it lay there without my realizing it.

"Look at your gift from Everett, Sandra," Alice Sloane urged. "We are all wild to see it."

I opened the box and the most wonderful rope of pearls lay on the white satin bed. They were superb, and I gave a little cry of delight and appreciation as I looked at them.

"Oh, Everett, how lovely! I" exclaimed, forgetting for a moment the guests at the table.

"I am delighted if it pleases you," he said in his most courtly manner, but with a loving look.

Then I passed them around to be admired. After they had all seen them, Everett rose, and coming to me clasped them about my neck, at which they all exclaimed over their becomingness.

The dinner which now claimed our attention was perfect. Mrs. Gray had outdone herself. There were favors for all—dainty irridescent fans on satin-wood sticks for the ladies, and cigar cutters for the men beautifully initialed.

After dinner we played bridge, and then before we broke up I played for them on my lovely new piano, and Alice Sloane sang. It was after two when they left.

"Did you enjoy my surprise, Sandra?" Everett asked as the door closed after the last guest.

"Indeed I did! It was lovely! And my pearls, they are simply wonderful and I thank you so much, Everett." I said nothing about it, but I was horribly chagrined that I had not remembered it and had a gift for him. Then I asked: "How did you come to think of getting those dainty fans for the ladies? They were lovely."

"That was what Miss Pierce and I had our heads together over the day you came near surprising my secret. I had seen one, but it was the only one in the store. I asked her if she would go and shop for them, and she kindly consented to do so on her afternoon out. She attended to the marking of the cutters also. I hadn't the time, altho I selected the style of lettering I wanted."

So all the excitement I had noticed, the private talks, the eager looks had been because of something which was to please me. I never had felt so humble, so meek, as I did when Everett unclasped my pearls and said:

"I think, dear, everyone in the house was happy because they were going to help make you happy. I felt they all should have a gift, from the cook to Mrs. Gray, because the the cook to Mrs. Gray because they entered so whole-heartedly in my plans for your surprise."

IN THE GLOOMING

The old-age pension officer was questioning an old lady with a zeal worthy of a noble cause

"And now," he said, "we have come to two important questions: Have you ever been in receipt of parish relief?"

"Never!" answered the old lady.

The officer turned to the last question on the list.

"Tell me," he said, "have you ever been in the hands of the police?"

Shyly she hung her head.

"Come, come," he said; "tell the truth!"

"Well," she whispered at last, "I don't se as it's any business of the Government, but in my young days I was a cook and you know, girls will be girls; but still" —proudly—"he was a sergeant!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Middle Aged Women

Women should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, shortness of breath, excessive nervousness, irritability, and the blues—which indicate the approach of the inevitable "Change" that comes to all women nearing middle age. We have published volumes of proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest aid women can have during this trying period.

Read About These Two Women:

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run-down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. Goddes, 918 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life."—Mrs. Frank Hanson, 1316 South Orchade Street, Urbana, Ill.

HASTINGS NEWS

HASTINGS, May 19.—The funeral of the late Mr. John Collins was held on Sunday morning. Service was held in the Ronan Catholic Church after which the remains were laid to rest in the church cemetery. Deceased had reached the advanced age of 76 years and had lived in Hastings for a number of years.

A rather strange coincidence occurred when the late Mr. Collins, youngest sister, Mrs. Thos. Howard, of Toronto, passed away just a few hours previous to the death of her brother.

The funeral was held here on Saturday from the G.T.R. Station to the Roman Catholic Cemetery for interment. Much sympathy is expressed for the relatives of the deceased.

Mrs. Rirard and son have moved into the residence on Front street recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Langley and family.

The many friends of Miss Alice Learmouth of Saskatchewan, daughter of Mrs. T Learmouth, town, will be pleased to learn that she has been successful in obtaining the gold medal out of a class of twenty nurses. The class graduates in May 18th.

Rev. Mr. Courage of Newfoundland with his family arrived in town last week. The reverand gentleman been appointed to the incumbency of St. George's Anglican parish here.

An At Home was held in the Town Hall on Friday evening under the auspices of the Bachelors of Hastings. A good time is reported.

Mrs. L. Gould of Toronto, is visiting at Sunny Brae, the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Huycke

The U.F.O. of Hastings are running an excursion on May 24th to Pengelley Cemetery where a monument to the memory of the late Joseph Scriven will be unveiled. Two steamers will leave the wharf here.

Mrs. J. Doughty and Miss D Jones of Preston, are visiting her son, Mr. C. J. Doughty.

Mrs. J. Staples of Lindsay, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm Tate.

Miss Dorothy Franks spent Monday in Campbellford.

Mr. Julian Carter of Havelock, spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. E. Prentice spent the week end with friends in Foxboro.

A little girl has come to brighten the hearts and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McGee.

Dr. De La Matter took a trip to Toronto on Monday.

Several ladies went to Stirling on Tuesday to attend the N.W.S. convention.

Mr. Malcolm Baker spent Sunday in Warkworth.

SIR H. PELLATT SEARCHED.

QUITE HURT OVER IT.

NEW YORK, May 19. — Sir Henry Pellatt and Mr. Gordon Perry of Toronto, while on a recent trip to New York, weer given a personal demonstration of the enthusiasm displayed by some U. S. prohibition enforcement officers in seeking for Canadian alcoholic refreshment at the border. The experience is described in a letter from Sir Henry printed in New York Sun.

Sir Henry declares that the incident convinced him that prohibition in the U. S. is bringing about "a condition of things in which the old time name of 'land of liberty' becomes little more than a joke."

"It involves an intrusion upon ordinary individual rights," Sir Henry continues, "that is contrary to the simplest principles of British liberty. No man is any longer free to arrange his own life as he likes. His going and coming are watched by a horde of spies and informers. The ordinary peaceful traveller is treated as if he were a criminal."

Went Through Everything.

"When we came to the American border, in walked a customs inspector. He first went through our valises, then our overcoats that were hanging on the pegs. Then each one of us had to get up so that he might lift up the seats and look underneath among the pillows, etc.

"He then took the sofa seat off and made a thorough examination of the cushions. After this he went into the washroom and looked around, even taking the top off the ice box. I truly believe that the only place that he did not look was down our throats.

Sir Henry expresses the opinion that "it is ridiculous that any law should be tolerated which necessitates such treatment of the ordinary citizen." He sums up the result of Uncle Sam's experiment in prohibition, as he sees it, by declaring:

"Public morality is being undermined by a vast illicit traffic in intoxicating liquor, often adulterated in the most poisonous way, and the public conscience is being shocked by the sight of people being deliberately tempted to break the law by appeals to friendship or sympathy on the part of hired informers."

CONSIDERABLE ANXIETY OVER RASPBERRY CROP

ST. CATHERINES, May 20. — While the warm weather of the past few days has brought out the fruit blossoms pretty well, the growers are anxiously awaiting developments in view of the heavy frosts recently, and the long weeks of cold weather this Spring. They take a hopeful view, however, and say that the cold weather kept back growth so that the frost danger was considerably lessened. There is much anxiety for the raspberry crop, because of the backward weather and absence of rain.

SAYS POLICE ROMEO HAS ANOTHER WIFE

LOS ANGELES, May 20.—A notice published in the Venice Vanguard furnished the latest sensation in the ill-fated romance of Miss Frederika Wolfe, member of a wealthy family, and John P. Shea, formerly connected with the Vencie police.

In this notice Miss Wolfe gives warning that neither she nor any member of her family will be responsible for Shea's debts, and adds:

"I am not and never have been his legal wife. I was tricked into an illegal marriage, as J. F. Shea was already a married man when he married me an May 1, 1919. I have applied for an annulment of the marriage.

Miss Wolfe is a niece of Captain James Donovan, who owns a large amount of property in the Ocean Park district. She is at her mother's home with her baby, less than a month old. In her suit for annulment she alleges that Shea has a legal wife and that therefore his marriage with her was illegal.

The girl and Shea eloped, but at the end of the honeymoon she left him and returned to her mother's home. She began suit for divorce, but before the case was called in court she changed her mind and again ran away with Shea. They journeyed to Arizona, leading a sort of nomadic life. In Arizona, Miss Wolfe claims, he tried to force her into a life of shame. She escaped and once more returned to her mother.

Belleville, May 18.—At a meeting of the City Council held last evening, a by-law was passed to raise by debentures $100,000 for the erection of a new public school in the city; also a resolution was adopted, that, to encourage citizens to build during the present year of 1920, all new dwellings completed during the year 1920, other than built under the housing proposition, be exempted from assessment and taxation for the years 1921 and 1922, and that the land on which the dwellings are erected be assessed for the years 1921 and 1922 at the same assessment as 1920.

TAKE TIME TO CHEW!

It's the secret of good digestion. It is Nature's plan for utilizing all the body-building elements in food—but be sure you are chewing a real food. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is all food. It is 100 per cent whole wheat. Its crisp and tasty goodness encourages thorough chewing—hence thorough digestion. Children fed on mushy porridges do not develop sound teeth. Two of these little loaves of Shredded Wheat make an ideal breakfast.

CANADA A NATION—HOW MUCH?

By H. F. GADSBY

The chief topic is of course, the post at Washington. Whither does it tend? Who will get it? What would Goldwin Smith say if he were alive? Only nine years ago we were deciding not have any truck or trade with the Yankees. Now we cannot get too close to them.

It all springs out of the Canada-a-nation idea. Canada has been a nation for quite a long time now with full liberty to do almost anything she pleases except declare war and make peace—so long as it was countersigned by Great Britain. We have advanced to the dignity of a Minister at Washington which enables us to do our business direct with Washington instead of through the Colonial Office, thus demonstrating that the base of a triangle is less than the two sides, but Great Britain still does the countersigning. The strong, friendly hand across the sea still retains its hold but allows us a little more play for our amour propre.

Mr. Rowell claims, by implication, that he discovered Canada-a-nation, but, according to MacKenzie King, all he did was to stress a fact already accomplished. As father of his country Mr. Rowell would probably like to see Canada have a couple more children, Newfoundland and the British West Indies, but this possibility is still in the womb of the future. Meanwhile, Canada is a nation and Mr. Rowell is her prophet if Canada will let him be so.

Ever since the war developed our pride and gave us a vote in the League of Nations, Canada-as-a-nation has come along very fast. She has found out that she has more nationhood about her than she ever suspected and is taking full advantage of it. Amendments to the British North America Act find a frequent place on the order paper and one way and another Canada shows a disposition to assert her full rights as an active partner in the British Empire of free commonwealths.

The friends of British connection are pleased to note that Great Britain appoints the Canadian Minister to Washington— on the advice of course of the Canadian Government —and that care has been taken to interlace his duties with those of the British Ambassador, whose substitute he may become when that exalted personag is sick or gone on a journey. This is the rule of brotherly affection—Downey Street in the velvetest of gloves.

Canada as a nation will pay the bill, the first appropriation for which is eighty thousand dollars, not a big sum, diplomatic expenses at Washington being considered. We might have made it a round hundred thousand and given our Minister a margin for a few state dinners. Luckily Washington is bone-dry now and state dinners do not cost as much as they used to do. In a pinch the Canadian Minister might call on the British Ambassador— who will presumably have a well-stocked cellar—for supplies, but otherwise it looks as if the job might go to a prohibitionist with a little black moustache and a far-away look in his eyes. Mr. Rowell had his future read in the tea-cup not long ago and the best of good luck was predicted for him.

The Washington job is variously viewed by the Members of Parliament. Quebec, of course, is pleased. Canada-a-nation does not daunt the hearty nationalists from that province. Canada-as-a-nation within the British Empire, Canada-as-a-nation "on her own"—one surmises that Quebec has a heart for either fate so long as Quebec's privileges are fully guaranteed. Certain Western members, whose names need not be mentioned here, look even farther along the road on which independence is only th half way house. Whatever their views they are pleased at this first installment of Canada's nationhood even if it has a long string to it. It is much more convenient to take things to a British Ambassador who is just round the corner than to wait for the return mail from Downing Street.

Whose Job Is It?

In some quarters the Canadian ministership to Washington is not regarded with favor, the argument being that Canada suffers from too much government already and that it only multiplies trouble to have Canadian Ministers in foreign countries. Where, they ask, is the thing going to stop? A Minister at Washington, presently another Minister in London—the Canadian representative on the Imperial Council—why not another Minister to Paris, and so on ad infinitum? How are we going to pay for all these supernumerary administrators, the country being as hard up as it is?

However, these are minor details. The main question is, Who is to get the job at Washington? Mr. Rowell has denied the soft impeachment but there is reason to believe that he would not refuse it if the thing was made unanimous. Looking the future squarely in the cold blue eye Mr. Rowell probably feels that Washington would be a good place to be when the crash comes, even if the job does last only two years. Of course a change of Government means a change of Ministers at Washington but by 1922 Mr. Rowell will have made such a name for himself that posterity will be quite satisfied to have him go back to his law practise in Toronto. Mr. Rowell has been studying the job up for the last three years and could take a hundred marks on any paper on ambassadorship that the Civil Service Commission might set. League of Nations, British North America Act, Declaration of Independence, Brotherhood of Man—Mr. Rowell has it all at his finger ends. Moreover, he has been working at it—working at it from all ends, Ottawa, Washington, London. If Premier Lloyd George goes by the news cabled him from Ottawa by Mr. Rowell's various news services he will understand that there is only one great man in Canada and that his name is Rowell. If merit, industry and advertising can do the trick, the job is Mr. Rowell's without further parley.

Comes a doubt, however—a chilling doubt. Would Premier Borden like it? He has the edge on everybody else when it comes to handing the honors out. He is the source of blessing. Suppose he should, choose to honor himself. Aye, there's the rub. If he likes the job at Washington, all he has to do is to reach for it. Sir Robert may not be the expert on international relations that Mr. Rowell is but he has the kind of knowledge that a diplomat needs, the knowledge of polite society, golf courses and country clubs, which is cavaire to Mr. Rowell.

Sir Robert has an intimate acquaintance with all the pleasure resorts along the Atlantic seaboard—and that is enough geography of the United States for any Canadian Minister to begin with. He can learn the rest as he goes along. Besides, Sir Robert is our greatest cosmopolitan—our chiefest citizen of the world, at home in every country but his own. Yes, Sir Robert can have the job if he wants it. Will be magnanimous and make way for a faithful servant who has been mugging the job up ever since he got a good look at it? All these doubts and more were on Mr. Rowell's face as he listened to Sir George Foster reading the fateful announcement. Is the good boy to get his silver cup or not? As Dr. Munyon says, "there is hops," and on hope Mr. Rowell must wait till Premier Borden makes up his mind.

A strong point for Mr. Rowell is that if he drops out of the Cabinet he need not be replaced. The Presidency of the Council under ordinary circumstances carries no salary with it and is usually attached to the premiership. As Mr. Rowell has no regular portfolio his disappearance from the Cabinet would not entail the appointment of another Cabinet Minister and a dangerous bye-election.

Besides, Premier Borden may be looking to Londaon rather than to Washington as a suitable spot for his dignity. There is a place on the Imperial Council which Sir Robert would fill with satisfaction to everybody, not to mention a Canadian law-lordship on the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council which has long gone a-begging. The High Commissionership is another plum that hangs from the tree, said tree being guarded meanwhile by Sir George Perley for Sir Robert Borden or Sir George Foster, both of whom have a taste for plums.

RETAILS HIS BLOOD AT $600.

Hopkins Student Keeps at Work While Giving Eleven Transfusions.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—With eleven punctures in his left arm, from which came each time about 500 cubic centimeters (one pint) of perfectly good blood to be appropriated by some other person, a student in the junior class of the Johns Hopkins Medical School is "still going strong," has never missed a day from class as a result of this loss, and is $600 better off financially.

Opportunity for students of all classes to sell their blood for from $50 to $100 a pint comes daily at the Hopkins Hospital, and though the hospital authorities abhor the idea of the students capitalizing this act of humanity, it has been found to be the best way to get the right kind of blood for sufferers.

It is said that many a man in the junior and senior classes has sold his blood one or more times, and it is estimated that more than half of the entire student personnel has done so.

Dr. Carlisle Lentz, one of the admitting physicians of the hospital, speaking with regard to the students earnings this extra money, pointed out reasons why it is better to let them sell their blood than call for volunteers from outside.

"In the first place," he said, "if the hospital would advertise for a pint of blood at $50, the admitting room and corridors would be so crowded that the next day there would be no moving about in the hospital. In the second place, each student's blood was tested by the Wassermann method when he first entered the school, and rated in a certain class, depending upon the result of the test; so that, when a patient has need of blood of a certain class, students in that class are called up and asked if they have a pint or so to spare that day. In this way, the operating surgeons are and the delay incidental to testing the blood of outside volunteers is obviated."

HISTORIC URN WILL BE TRANSFERRED

GLEN FALLS, N.Y., May 20. — With military honors the historic urn containing the mortal remains of Major Duncan Campbell, Laird of Inverawe, Scotland, who died in Fort Edward, July 17, 1758, of wounds received in Abercombie's futile attacks upon Montcalm's entrenchments at Ticonderoga on July 8, 1758, will be moved from Memorial Day from the Union Cemetery, near Hudson Falls, to the plot in the same cemetery where is buried the body of James McCrea, who was scalped by the Indians in 1777, and whose name has been passed down through history, thus linking two of the most famous and romantic stories of colonial warfare.

The ceremonies which will mark the removal of the body of the major of the Black Watch Regiment, to whom four times appeared the apparition of his murdered cousin, whose murderer he had given shelter, warning him that he would meet his death at Ticonderoga, are being arranged by the New York State Historical Asociation and the St. Andrew Society of Scots.

ALFRED H. EMERSON, owner of big stock farm, who says Tanlac built him right up after having a bad case of Flu, which left him in awful bad shape. Says Tanlac is only medicine that helped him.

"I have taken only one bottle of Tanlac, but it has done me more good than all the other medicines I have taken put together," said A. H. Emerson when he called at Guppy's Drug Store, Portland, Me., the other day. Mr. Emerson lives near West Scarboro, Me., where he owns and operates one of the largest stock farms in that section of the country.

"After I got up from the flu last winter I was in mighty bad shape," he continued. "I was not only in a weakened, debilitated condition, but I also suffered awfully with indigestion. My stomach was so weak I could hardly digest anything and could hardly bear the sight of food, much less eat anything. As I was not able to eat any nourishing food I kept getting worse and worse and I was badly discouraged over my condition as it looked like I would never get my strength back again. My nerves were all upset and my sleep was broken and irregular. I felt tired and worn-out from morning until night and could hardly drag one foot after the other.

"I took many different kinds of medicine but nothing did me a particle of good until I began taking Tanlac. As I said before, I have taken only one bottle, but it has made such a remarkable change in my condition I feel like a different person altogether. My appetite is splendid now and I can eat anything I want and as much as I want without the slightest touch of indigestion. My strength and energy have returned. I sleep sound and get up in the mornings feeling ready for a big day's work. Tanlac has put me back on my feet and everybody certainly ought to know about this medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug o., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

TREK OF FARMERS FROM U. S. GROWS INTO HUMAN TIDE

FOUR HUNDRED FROM TRANS-MISSOURI AREA ALREADY THIS YEAR.

BRING $1,094,030

OMAHA, Nebraska, May 19.—Forty-five thousand men and $50,000,000 have gone from Nebraska to western Canada in the last twenty years.

Western Canada is "coming back" in the opinion of the central western farmers in the U.S., and in the first three months of 1920, almost as many settlers from the trans-Missouri country have gone to Canada as went all last year. In the opinion of the well-informed, the great tide of emigration of 1912 and 1913 is about to be repeated.

Few people not on the "inside" have any idea of the large number of settlers who have gone into Canada from this trans-Missouri country. Here are the figures. They are real eye-openers.

In 1896 the Canadian Government opened a land office in Omaha with W. V. Bennet in charge. Bennett is still in charge of the office. He has kept an accurate account of the men and millions movement through his gateway. At least fifty per cent. more men and millions have gone from this territory in the twenty-four years than passed through Bennett's office, but no account is taken of this "outside" movement. The figures given are absolute and accurate.

Figures Are Amazing.

In the twenty-four years the Omaha office has been open, 44,856 settlers applied for certificates to Canada. They took with them $49,919,205.00.

Practically none of these have come back to the United States, so far as Mr. Bennett knows.

The year 1912 was the big year in emigration from this district. When the world-war opened the movement to Canada was in full swing. But hostilities put a check on the move. With that damper out of the way, the movement to Canada is again under way.

In 1912 emigrants to the number of 4,463 applied for certificates at the Omaha office of the Canadian Government. These 4,463 people took with them to Canada $5,165,485. The following year, 1913, fewer applications were filed with Bennett but the amount of money possessed by them was larger. In that year the number of emigrants was 3,529 and their possessions were worth $5,512,395.

Then came the war and emigration from the trans-Missouri country almost ceased. In 1915 but 732 went to Canada through the Omaha office. They tok with them $1,509,360.

Last year, 1919, only 498 asked Bennet for certificates to Canada. Their goods were valued at $1,050,000.

But the big movement has again started. In the first three months of 1820, 383 settlers have gone through the Omaha office. They took with them $1,094,030.

'Same old reason," says W. V. Bennet, in explanation of the revival of emigration. "Farmers down here selling their lands at tremendous prices and going to Canada and buying land just as good for one-third and less of what they sell for. That explains the whole thing."

The first settlers from the middle west to go to Canada were so doubtful of that country that before they would stir out of the Missouri valley, they had to receive assurances that if they didn't like it in Canada they could come 'home' without expense.

"In 1896, the first year the Canadian government kept an office in Omaha, I sent just sixteen people up there in the entire year," says Bennett. "And I had to provide round-trip passes for every last one of these before they would go. I am glad to say that not a single one of those return passes were ever used. It seems funny now, to think of a fellow demanding a return pass before he would cross the border."

These sixteen pioneers paid their own railroad fare to the Canadian border, but from that point each man was given a pass for himself, his family and his household goods to any point west of Winnipeg to which he wished to go. And with each pass was a return coupon.

In 1897 the movement had grown to such proportions that 137 men went from the Omaha district into Canada. They carried with them $52,000.

A Prosperous Class.

Here's a "note" on the improvement in the class of settlers now going to Canada. In 1897 the average amount of money taken by the settlers to Canada was about $400. Those who have gone to Canada this year have taken with them, for each man woman and child, $2,800. Last year the average was $2,100.

Western Canada is taking some of the very best farmers and citizens out of the entire trans-Missouri country. Forty-five thousand citizens in twenty years $49,919,205 i nthe same time.

"As for the prospects of emigration to Canada, the figures tell the tale better than I can," says Bennett. "Almost as many in the first three months of this year as altogether last year. Office swamped with applications for information. Words can't give a better idea."

QUEEN ALEXANDRA IS SERIOUSLY ILL

LONDON, May 19.—The condition of Queen-dowager Alexandra, who is suffering from a bronchial cold, is causing anxiety, says The Star today. The newspaper cites the fact that Alexandra is now seventy-five years of age, and declares that such a cold must be considered a serious matter to a person of her age.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

ONLY ONE MOTHER.

Hundreds of stars in the pretty sky,
Hundreds of shells on the shore together;
Hundreds of birds that go singing by;
Hundreds of bees in sunny weather.

Hundreds of dewdrops to greet the dawn;
Hundreds of lambs in the purple clover;
Hundreds of butterflies on the lawn
But only one mother the wide world over!

A gentleman needs no label, and a scoundrel needs only his oft repeated assertion, "I'm a gentleman," to prove his true nature.

Whatever your trouble it is not as you think it is, unless you make it so by dwelling on it and brooding over it. Do not be like the old lady who said, "Yes, dearie, "I've had a plenty of trouble in my life, but most of it never happened."

In governing children, parents should always remember their own thoughts and feelings when they were children. If they will keep their youthful spirits they will be able to understand their children better. Too many parents seem to have forgotten that they were young and felt like having a good time all the time, too.

It has been my experience that you must have leisure to be unhappy. Half the troubles in this world are imaginary, and it takes time to think them up. But it is these imaginary ones more often than the real ones that break a young husband's back or a young wife's heart.

Too many of our young men have an over-abundance of something which they call dignity. It doesn't prevent them from loafing all day in the poolrooms or about the streets, or from accepting money from their parents. But it does prevent them from doing any kind of manual labor. This is beneath their "dignity," or so they term it. In most cases their parents are hard-working people, so "son" must have all the so-called "dignity" of the family.

There are mighty few young people who go into marriage with any real idea of what it means. They get their notion of it from among the clouds where they lived, while they were engaged, and naturally about all they find up there is wind and moonshine or from novels which always end before real trouble begins, or, if they keep on, leave out the chapters that tell how the husband finds the rent and the wife the hired girls. But if there is one thing in the world about which it is possible to get all the facts, it is matrimony. Part of them are right in the house where you were born, and the neighbors have the rest.

Did you ever stop to think, fathers and mothers, that just the fact that you are father or mother isn't enough to make your child love you? The child isn't going to love you for that fact alone if you give it no other cause or reason. And many fathers and mothers do not. To be sure you house and feed your child, but the law requires that to some extent, and while the child may not be old enough to reason this out he does feel in many instances, and rightly too, that his home and food are not provided through any efforts prompted by love. You may love your children dearly, but not one person, unless he happened to be a mind reader, would ever guess it, so how can you expect the child to know it? In many homes the children hear nothing from their parents but words of censure or reproach. They are denied many pleasures for no reason whatever so far as they know or can understand. It is natural that they begin to feel that their parents take pleasure in their disappointments. Many times children must be denied pleasures, but a little explanation on the part of the parents would not lower their dignity or their ability to discipline and it is the child's right. Try telling them some night how kind and helpful they have been that day and how much they mean to you. It takes so little to make their little hearts happy, and nothing is so pitiful as an unhappy child. Enough unhappiness will be their lot later in life without thrusting it unnecessarily in their paths so early.

WHY EXPERIMENT?

Food scientists claim that the leavener is largely responsible for the flavor, texture and wholesomeness of your home baking. That on no other one ingredient does so much depend. It is important, therefore, to use a baking powder that you know possesses the necessary leavening qualities.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

and is the only strictly high class baking powder in Canada selling at a moderate price. Its reputation is built on purity and highest quality.

REJUVENATED BY "VITAL" TABLETS

People are to-day trying every means to keep young. Some are being fed on monkey glands, and others are having glands of other people injected into their system. We claim the method of injecting glands into the system is unnecessary. The revival of youth can be brought about by taking the French rejuvenator, VITAL Tablets. A person of sixty can feel like a person of twenty. We do not claim VITAL Tablets will do all this instantly, but by taking them regularly for a time, and the time will depend upon the person, but one will gradually feel younger, and eventually you will come back to the land of youth and pep. Diseases of every description will gradually disappear, men and women will be healthy and strong, doctors' bills will be reduced to a minimum. If you are not feeling yourself, go to your drug store and procure a box of these celebrated French Tablets; and you will experience such a change for the good, that you will forever bless the inventor of this wonderful rejuvenating tonic. VITAL Tablets are sold at all good drug stores, at Fifty cents per box. Start taking them today. To-morrow you will feel better.

KING GEORGE'S WARDROBE

The late King Edward was reputed to be the best dressed monarch in the world, and, naturally, being continually in the public eye, he was often responsible for setting new masculine fashions.

It has been said that he was accustomed to as many as six changes a day, not including those for special functions.

King George, however, is noted for the simplicity of his attire, and has the habit that is so dear to Englishmen of wearing his clothes for a considerable period. His Majesty has always an extremely neat and tidy appearance, and seems to favour a grey lounge suit for his indoor hours, whilst his favourite outdoor dress is that of an admiral in the Navy, which suits him so well.

The Royal Wardrobe is a very large one, and contains more than one hundred uniforms for wearing on various occasions. For instance, a visit to France to inspect a certain regiment of which His Majesty is colonel necessitates a French uniform, while on his return, another costume must be forthcoming to enable him to take part in some civic function.

Having such a considerable number of clothes to deal with, a system must be employed to store them.

The Royal Wardrobe proper is at Buckingham Palace, and one large room is devoted entirely to articles of wearing apparel, which is carefully attended to by a staff of specially-chosen valets, each one of whom has his own particular work to perform, such as brushing and pressing. The sides of this room are divided into sections, and each section is devoted to the uniform of a different country, the section in its turn being divided into shelves and drawers, each devoted either to the Army or Navy, or perhaps the particular regiment in which His Majesty holds honorary rank.

Thus, in the section devoted to Spain, there is a special division in the shape of a drawer devoted to every regiment whose uniform His Majesty has a right to wear.

In addition to these official wardrobes, there are, of course, His Majesty's private clothes, which are presided over by a specially-appointed valet. This section is again divided in clothes of different thicknesess and styles, suitable for th various seasons, whilst another partition is reserved entirely for dress suits and evening clothes.

Each garment is marked distinctly, so that the valet will be able to replace it in the proper place.

There is a considerable amount of work to be done in keeping these suits in order, for each garment must be brushed and pressed regularly once a week, and the same care is shown towards the uniforms which are seldom used, as towards the things most likely to be needed.

Of course, His Majesty's collection of foreign uniforms must be kept up-to-date, and directly the head valet is informed of any slight alteration made in a particular uniform, the old one must be cast aside, and a new one made.

As only the highest skilled labour is employed, a perfect fit is assured, and the King is not subjected to attentions of the tailors, nor does he have to be fitted with all the various additions to his wardrobe.

ABIE THE AGENT AND NEW DANCES

June Columbia Record Laugh and Dance Hits.

Abe Kabibble in "Abe Kabibble at the Ball Game" and "Abe Kabible Dictates a Letter" is the same old Abe Kabibble, a personal friend of half the country in the Harry Hershfield cartoons. Hershfield himself is the man who recites these two screamingly comic Columbia Records.

The Columbia Saxophone Sextette plays two new fox-trots for Columbia Records this month — "Who Wants a Baby?" a medley for-trot, and "The Crocodile." This sextette is made up of the pick of more than sixty saxophone players, and its dance records show that the picking was good.

The Columbia Orchestra contributes "Delilah," a lovely medley waltz, and Prince's Orchestra plays as the coupling to this "In Shadowland," another waltz. Both these records are fully up to the standard Columbia has set for dance records.

ROUMANIANS ARE BUYING GOOD ONTARIO FARMS

ORONO, May 19. — Roumanians who are coming into this district are looking about for good farms. Dremetrick Warwick and family who lately came to this district had with them a countryman recently, who, it is stated, upon failing to find a farm in this locality, bought 100 acres near Waterford, for which he paid, including some stock and implements, $14,000.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?
The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.
Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.
Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.
Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

PETERBORO HOUSING QUESTION

(By F. H. Dobbin)

By advertisement appearing in another column of this paper it will be seen that the Housing Commission is inviting offers from people who hold available property, to sell the same to the Commission for the purpose of use on which to erect dwellings. There is within the city limits ample property for the purpose but it must be remembered to make it available the price must be such as a workingman can afford to pay.

It is a truism that a good lot is never dear. Many a poor house has been sold on the basis that the lot was eligible. Plenty of moderately good houses have lacked purchasers because the lot in which the building stood was a poor one. Poor in the sense of its juxtaposition to other buildings that had been erected after the house had been built. So, in moderation, a good lot is worth considering. If at all within the limit that the prospective owner can afford to pay.

It will be noticed that preference will be given to properties located on streets served now with the usual public utilities. Sewers, water, sidewalks, gas, etc. This to avoid so far as possible the expense to the city of putting down additional service such as would be necessary on streets not already equipped. From the offers received a selection will be made and consideration given to availability, price, etc. It will be conceded that there is a limit over which the workingman cannot afford to go in providing a lot, and this will be considered in making selections.

The Frontage.

It has been the rule to define frontages in Peterborough, principally on the basis of a 50 foot frontage. The Housing Act calls for a minimum of 35ft, except in exceptional cases, such as if a piece of property could be available of, say, 30 ft frontage. The idea being to have light, sunshine and room at and about the house.

While the offers for properties are coming in the Commission, having procured plans and profiles and general lines of dwellings will consider and select two or three types for construction. Say houses of four rooms, five rooms and six rooms. In all these the hall and bath room do not count as being rooms. So a house of four rooms will have, if the plan be selected, hall and bath room in addition to a living room, kitchen and two bedrooms, with necessary closets. The same thing applies to the other plans. It is true that what people term a plain, commonsense house can be built. Such a plan is easily devised. But the endeavour will be made to get a variety, and to introduce, while not necessarily expensive changes inside and outside that will make the dwellings attractive. The basic idea is to get the prospective owner into his house at as moderate a capital cost to him as possible. To do this certain things may be considered.

The Heating.

It is rapidly becoming a question as to whether heating a house of small size is, or cannot be capably done with stoves instead of a furnace. Still to put a furnace into a house after it is finished is inconvenient. So that all houses will be built with the warm air ducts placed in the walls at time of construction, and carried down to the cellar, ready to be attached to the furnace, together with the proper gratings in the baseboards or floors. Before taking the house the buyer can elect and have a furnace or not, as he prefers. If he decided on the furnace, it will be put in and the cost added to the sale price.

This might make to the buyer, at present prices a difference of immediate expenditure of nearly 200.00. The sanitary requirements call for washbasin and closet in the bath room, the bath tub may be omitted temporarily but in the attachments must be provided. Leaving out the tub would make a difference that could be considered. In the same way the cement floor in the cellar could be dispensed with, for the time being, to be added afterwards at pleasure. Or the house can be completed and the costs charged in the sale price.

It is not imperative that bricks should be used, though at present prices of materials brick is no more costly than wooden outside coverings. But there is the stucco form of building that is litle appreciated in Peterborough. Many houses have been built at Sault St Marie, of stucco. The winter weather is equally as severe as in this district and yet these houses have given very good satisfaction. When applied properly, and on a metal lath the covering is permanent. There is, of course, the usual cement foundations.

In Groups.

Plans and specifications are in preparation and so soon as these are approved tenders will be called for on which to consider the building. Contractors will be invited to undertake the building of groups of houses of one or more of the forms as indicated. It is thus hoped to get a concrete view of the situation, so far as cost is concerned, and based on the cost a decision will be made whether to go on and build or to let the project stand. Houses are needed and necessary. But it is not imperative that any excessive cost be met in order to be able to say that we have built.

While we all respect the feeling of sentiment that is voiced in the remonstrances against the use of the King Edward park property there is the practical side of the question, and that is what appealedto members of the Council Could it have been made use of twenty-two dwellings could have ben erected without any cost to the city at large for sidewalks, sewers, water or gas. All these conveni ences are there. Then it is almost a certainty that at some time in the future the exhibition park will be taken in by the city for park purposes. If that be done there is little use for parks close together. I thought was also in the mind of the Council. And best of all, instead of taking say, $20,000.00 of the money to be raised by the sale of the debentures to buy lots, the cash could have been used to erect seven more houses, the avails from the sales of the park lots to come back to the City Trust in due course. However, the matter is settled by the statute in such cases made and provided.

CIRCUS CLOWNS COMING TO TOWN

Paradoxically speaking, the brainiest men with the circus are those who are the most foolish. All of which is by saying that one of the hardest jobs in the circus is that of being a clown Of course, all that a clown must do to bring a laugh is just to "act funny". But it is in acting funny that the brains are required. Hence the reason that he forty clowns form one of the chief items of expense in the heavy payroll of the Sparks World Famous Shows which is to exhibit in Peterboro on Tuesday, June 1st.

Once upon a time it was easy for a clown to be funny. He had his comic song. He had his lines which could reach every part of the small tent in which the circus of the past held its performance. But that day has passed. The clown has no chance for words now, no chance for songs or for jests. In the Sparks Circus this year the great canvases cover nine acres and seat close to ten thousanl persons. Only a man with the voice of a steamship siren could talk to an assemblage like that.

Therefore the clown of to-day must be a pantomimist of extraordinary intelligenuce. He must make his every movement supply all that voice could add. He must make his every movement supply all that voice could add. He must make himself a living caricature of the events of the day—for the old idea of a chalk-smeared face and a ruff around the neck has passed as a standard of clowndom.

WILL STAY OUT OF THE SUGAR MARKET

Fruit Men will wait for Prices to Decline.

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, May 20. — National Preservers and Fruit Products Association announced here to-day that its members will stay out of the Sugar market until the sugar prices decline from the present high level.

The association claims to represent 85 per cent. of the manufacturers of the country who make jams, jellies and preserves.

AN OPTIMIST.

Recently a baby was born in Ohio with three well-developed teeth.

There's an optimist for you. Coming into the world expecting to get a lot to eat at present prices.

VON BUELOW'S SON KILLED

War Prisoner Is Shot Dead Trying to Escape from Rumania.

VIENNA, May 21.—A son of General Buelow, of the German Army has been killed while trying to escape from Rumania, where he was a prisoner of war, according to a Budapest dispatch.

Two Rumanian soldiers had been bribed by young von Buelow to take him and a companion across the Maros River, it is said. When the boat was in midstream the soldiers attacked their passengers. The assailant of von Buelow's comrade was disabled, but in the struggle the struggle the boat was capsized. While struggling in the water von Buelow was shot dead.

OFFERS FOR PROPERTIES

OFFERS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Housing Commission for the City of Peterborough, up to Saturday, May 22nd, at six o'clock p.m., from those who have lots for sale, within the city limits, suitable for the purpose of the Commission and on which to erect dwellings.

Preference will be given to the Properties fronting on streets already supplied with water, sidewalks, sewers, gas, etc.

Lands of such frontage as to be conveniently sub-divided into lots not less than thirty-five feet of frontage preferred. Depth of the lots to be stated, and if to a lane, rights as to use of the lane.

State price at which properties will be sold. A rough sketch showing location and adjacent buildings, if any, will be helpful.

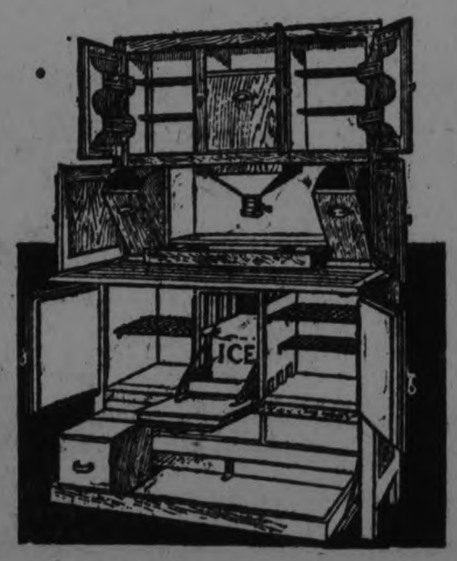
REGULAR $105 VALUE

This is one of the greatest values that could possibly be offered on this class of goods. They are the same in every detail.

These Refrigerator-Cabinets are constructed principally of three-ply laminated materials (oak and other suitable woods). These woods are treated with a patent cement process, and under heavy hydraulic pressure are sealed together; ¼ of an inch thickness is equal to a full inch of unlaminated wood. This treatment also makes the wood impervious; it will neither shrink, check nor split.



STORE OPENS 9 A.M. The CRESSMAN Company Limited CLOSES SATURDAY 9.30 P.M.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL."

All the mystitism, the treachery, the wonder and the magnificence of the East is embodied in "The Virgin of Stamboul," the feature at the Grand and the film compares with such wonderful spectacular productions as "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance" and "Broken Blossoms." The plot centres about Sari, a beautiful Turkish beggar girl, who in her search for alms attracts an American soldier who has organized a band of desert dwellers, and a Sheik, cold and brutal. Each has resolved to marry her, the American because he has fallen desperately in love with her, and the Sheik to seal her lips regarding a vile murder he has committed in a Mosque, and which she witnessed. In the absence of the American, Sari is sold to the Sheik and he returns to the city to find her about to be carried to the harem. Immediately, however, the American sets out to recover her and in so doing his band of desert brigands are brought into the story in a spectacular ride across the desert to the town where the vile Sheik holds sway. In a fight which ensues Sari is recovered and the Sheik's life ended.

The picture was witnessed last evening by a very large and representative audience who thoroughly appreciated the picture and the work of Priscilla Dean in the title role, whose delineation of the character of the beggar girl will be recorded amongst the remembered characterizations of this uncertain art of the unspoken drama. Her support is exceptionally fine, the Sheik especially introducing all the subtlety and reserve of the East in a really masterful manner.

And yet it should be easier to tell the truth than to manufacture a lie.

Honestly, don't you believe that all people who do not agree with you are wrong?

AT THE EMPIRE

"Her Five Foot Highness," a Universal film featuring Edith Roberts, supported by an admirable cast, more than pleased the audience at the Empire Theatre last night. With a clever plot filled with plenty of clean fun and humor it is a feature well worth seeing. Edith Roberts in the title role made a real wild and woolly westerner as Ellen Wilshirn, owner of a Texan ranch. It transpires that her uncle the Duke of Wilshire has just died in England, leaving the entire estate to little Ellen. Through the cunning cupidity of her father's lawyer, Saunders, she is cheated out of her rights, but eventually gets what is rightfully hers. Her western ways carried out in England cause no little disgust and embarrassment to her elite relatives, but are irresistible to an appreciative audience, and cause many a smile. Her sunshine smile charms one at least of the English nobility, but he has to take second place to a regular Texan cowboy.

SUMMER HOLIDAYS WILL COST MORE.

Your summer holiday is going to cost you more. The prices at summer resorts have followed the upward trail of the high cost of living. Roughly, there will be a 20 to 25 per cent. increase in the charges made for rooms at Ontario's holiday hotels this coming summer. Rooms which last year cost $11.00 or $12.00 a week will this year be rented for $12.00 or $15.00. Fifteen dollar rooms have gone up to $17.00 or $18.00. Such was the way the proprietors figured last fall when they were supplying data to the Hotel Red Book of Canada.

APATHY.

While War's dread thunder rolled across the skies
Above its wild, reverberant roar were heard,
Like silver trumpet-calls, far voices rise
That woke the soul to action with a word.

The selfish man forgot his selfishness,
The weak forgot his weakness: every heart
Thrilled with new strength and tireless eagerness
To bear, in that great conflict, each his part.

From every side the burning message came:
From rank to rank, where raged the deadly fray;
Heroic deeds were as a torch of flame
To light, with beacon glow, a comrade's way.

And he who was not to the battle called
Set to his lips the Clarion of Cheer,
Lest one soul fail, by black despair enthralled,
Of Victory's summit, lifting high and sheer.

The War is over, the heroic deed
Seems of the past—a half-remembered thing;
And where the voice that, in our present need,
Some great awakening song of truth shall sing?

What prophet now, shall cry the certain woe
That waits a people who, from mountain-height,
Vision all good, only to fall as low
Into abysmal selfishness and night?

God, touch onec more some prophet's lips with fire,
Breathe through some singer's voice, a kindling spark,
Lest we, beneath the curse of self-desire
Find ourselves crushed and compassed with the dark!

ROYAL C. KEELY HELD PRISONER IN RUSSIA

AMERICAN EFFICIENCY EXPERT, GUEST OF LENIN, JAILED ON EVE OF HIS DEPARTURE.

LONDON, May 21.—The Morning Post's Reval correspondent, telegraphing on Saturday reports the arrest in Russia of Royal C. Keely, the American "efficiency expert," who, at the direct personal request of Lenin, went to Russia eight months ago to study that country's industrial problems. The correspondent says:

"After spending the last two months in a weary round from the office of one commissary to another in an endeavor to obtain permission to leave, Mr. Keely finally secured the necessary papers and yesterday reached Yamburg, the last station within the Soviet frontiers. There he was taken from the train and placed under arrest by the local Extraordinary Commission for the suppression of counter-revolution, acting, it is said, under an order telegraphed from Moscow.

"It is not known upon what technical charge Mr. Keely was seized, but it recognized here that the real reason for detaining him is that the Bolshevist Government is unwilling to allow any one with so exact and detailed a knowledge of the country as he possesses to get out of its control.

"There is evidence that the Bolshevist authorities are now in something of a panic on this score. Last week they arrested, just at the time of his departure, the correspondent of The London Herald and made a thorough search of all his notes and papers before they permitted him to leave. A Mrs. Harrison, representing The New York Evening Post, is understood to be in virtual detention at Moscow.

"In this connection it is to be noted that the Soviet authorities have taken the most elaborate precautions to safeguard the observations even of that surprising group of innocents comprising the so-called British labor delegation, which a few days ago passed through here on its way to the Bolshevist frontier."

BRIDGENORTH HAPPENINGS

BRIDGENORTH, May 21. —Mr. and Mrs. Felix Wolff, of Hamilton, have returned to the Park for the summer. Mr. Harry Wolff, of New York, is expected during the first week of June.

Professor and Mrs. G. Bull, of Erie, Pa., motored here on Wednesday and are remaining over Sunday. They made the trip of 320 miles in less than a day and a half.

Dr. Simmons, of New York, son-in-law of Prof. Bull, will occupy the latter's cottage after July 1st. Mrs. Simmons will accompany him.

W. C. Hodgins, of the Turnbull Co., has bought the Houghton cottage. The sale was handled by Mr. John Telford.

Captain Sam. Pearson has built another cottage in the Park. It was completed in thirteen days by Mr. Ernest Telford.

There has been a great demand for cottages and even the vacant houses in the village are all taken.

Dan Sullivan has enlarged the pavilion which will be ready for May 24th. It has been painted white and green.

THE J. C. TURNBULL CO. LTD.

YOUNGSTERS SEE PLANT OF CANADIAN PACKING COMPANY

Sixty-four boys from all parts of the city were treated to a rare good time yesterday afternoon when, through the courtesy of the Canadian Packing Company they were shown the entire working forces of this plant. The visitors were met at the door by representatives of the company and divided into two groups; the one under the guidance of Mr. George Logan and the other under the supervision of Mr. Gordon Thompson. Throughout all the various processes of caring for the products and by-products of the packing industry these men brought their respective groups into a fuller first hand knowledge of preparing meats for the home and export market.

In the lard room the guide showed all the various methods of rendering Rose Brand Lard and explaining each in detail left no remaining question in the mind of the individual boy. Each was shown how the fatty particles were rendered in large vats, by live steam: how the mixture of steam and water were clarified and then under pressure and skimming even the residue which might be thought to be waste, is made to yield up a further portion which is returned to once again go through the vats. Truly it may be said that the "squeal" is the only part of the hog not put to a good use in this and all other departments.

From the lard room the party were taken upstairs to the room wherein the vats are filled for the lard rendering process and were privileged to have a peep into the interior of one of the hoppers. A peep was all that was necessary for the heat is excesive from the steam. In another branch of this same room the killing process was explained in detail without the actual demonstration. Some were heard to regret the accident which caused the shut down in this chamber of quick transition. Quick it is indeed, for 220 hogs can be passed through in one hour on a killing day.

At the cutting table a squad of men were found trimming down to sides of bacon for the European market. In the cooling room, long rows of departed porkers waiting their turn to come to the table; in the cooking department the culinary art was shown in operation on a large scale as evidenced by the large numbers of bologna and hams prepared. One boy was heard to describe the interior of the roasting oven as being "just like a ferris wheel." The filling of sausage was a real scream to the group gathered round who saw the limp casing rapidly grow in size as the valve was opened. The product of to-day's labour is destined for the market of those who favour garlic in large quantities.

Down in the refrigerator a real marked change from the summery weather outside was encountered. Hoar frost on all the pipes and a temperature creeping down in the neighborhood of zero brought back memories, pleasant or otherwise, of January days. The artificial ice making was explained by the guide in such a way as to be grasped by the smallest boy present.

These trips to the different factories are held every Wednesday under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. They are not confined to Y.M.C.A. boys alone but are for every boy in the city who desires to gain an insight into the manufacture of the products which go from Peterborough to the markets of the world. Next Wednesday at 4.15 p.m. an opportunity will be given to see through the De Laval Company's plant under expert guidance and every boy is urged to be on hand.

CAMPAIGN FOR SERBIAN RELIEF

At a mass meeting held in Peterborough on 10th May, which was addressed by Sir Richard Winfrey, M.P., Peterborough, England, and Commissioner William Ward, of the World Brotherhood Federation, it was unanimously decided that an appetal should be made through Press for contributions toward the World Brotherhood Fund for the maintenance, education, and training of destitute children of Serbia.

The Department of Child Welfare at Belgrade, in their official statistics, state that "There are 500,000 war orphans in Jugo-Slav territory, and that of this number more than 100,000 are without father and mother."

During the occupation of the country by the Austrians, Hungarians, Germans, and Bulgars, the state of the children in Bosnia, Herzegovina, Dalmatia, and Montenegro was indescribably horrible. In these countries wide areas were devastated and plundered, and the result was a state of famine. Child life was decimated by tuberculosis and other diseases.

The mortality rate among children in certain districts became five times greater than in the period before the war. In pre-war times the mortality rate among children in their first year was from 15 to 18 per cent.

A Campaign.

In a letter to Commissioner William Ward, of the World Brotherhood Federation, Dr. Milos Popovitch, writing from Belgrade, says:

"I understand that the World Brotherhood Federation is organising a campaign on behalf of the children in Jugo Slavia, who have been left parentless and in misery as a result of seven long years of war.

"Serbia is in need of whatever help you can bring to her at this time. It is true that the hour has passed for temporary forms of relief work, but the need for money, materials, and personnel to save the lives and protect the future of our children is as great if not greater than ever. We have now a splendid opportunity in this country to provide schools, agricultural training centres, orphanages, and other institutions necessary for the welfare of child life, but in view of the fact that there are 500,000 war orphans, it is almost impossible for us alone to undertake this work, and we are therefore ready to welcome the co-operation of our friends and Allies in this work."

Bishop Nicholai Velimirovic of Belgrade, Serbia, in a communication to Commissioner Ward before leaving for Canada, says:

"You are going to Canada where some manifestations of sympathy with Serbia will take place in connection with the work of your Brotherhood. . . . We look to Canada—the wonderful daughter of Great Britain—not only as to a big mine of precious stones, but also especially as to a big mine of precious and spiritual forces. . . . Europe has been Christian because she has had no choice (being burdened with traditions of the past); and Canada has become Christian in spite of her free choice."

The need for help for these destitute children is simply appalling and Dr. Clive A. Stoples, a Canadian doctor and specialist for children considers that the most effective way to help them is through this system of farm schools, where boys and girls will be trained, the boys in farming and such industrial branches as carpentry, blacksmithing, boot making, metal working, brick making, etc., with lessons in English, and the girls in dairying and poultry raising. One hundred children are also in residence and are being trained in an orphanage in England.

The Canadian Brotherhood Federation has pledged itself to render immediate assistance to a need which is so vitally pressing. Serbia was one of our most devoted Allies. In the great retreat to Corfu the bones of her little ones whitened the dreadful trail to the Coast. The remnant of her children should be saved. As you love your own children, your home, and Canada, give liberally to this deserving cause.

Contributions sent to the Editor or handed to the Local Treasurer appointed to act for the Fund will be most gratefully received. Repreccentatives of the Federation will also be in the city during the week and will be glad to receive donations on behalf of the Fund.

The objective is five thousand dollars for Peterboro city and county covering a three weeks campaign. The committee follows: Judge Huycke, Mayor A. A. McIntyre, R. M. Glover, Rev. F. E. Malott, C. E. Curtiss, W. H. Dunsford, manager of the Bank of Commerce, treasurer.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE RECONCILED TO THE NEW TAX

Mr. W. H. Buller stated this afternoon that there were no new developments in connection with the new luxury and excise taxes to-day. Enquiries he said had fallen off considerably and everyone who came under the tax was about reconciled to it. The sworn declarations of those coming under it must be in by the 15th and 20th of each month he said it should be the 1st and 15th. The Board of Trade have been busy giving out copies of the tax regulations to all desiring them

Will the tax be collected on second hand goods. For instance a second hand piano?

"Oh! No. I don't think so. They have never collected any other taxes on second hand goods" Mr. Buller replied.

The exact interpretation of the tax he said he was leaving to those who came under it but in special cases would wire to Ottawa to get a fuller explanation.

THE HOUSE ADJOURNED

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 2.—Ontario Legislature adjourned until 3 o'clock Tuesday.

CHURCH CLEARED OF INDEBTEDNESS

Mr. H. P. Kennedy, of Toronto, who is in the city visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Kennedy, Water Street, relates an interesting event that took place in Toronto on Wednesday evening of this week, when the $33.50.00 mortgage on Trinity Methodist Church was burned.

The campaign to raise the money was started during the Forward Movement Campaign, and among the contributors was Sir William Gage, who gave $5,000.00. A final effort to clear the church of all indebtedness resulted in Sir William Gage contributing another $5,000.00, and the mortgage was officially destroyed on Wednesday evening. Mr. Kennedy is secretary of the Trustee Board of this church, an participated in the ceremony.

CAPT. WINTERBOTTOM INSPECTED CADETS

On Wednesday, Captain G. G. Winterbottom conducted the annual inspection of the Collegiate Institute of Lindsay, and was later escorted from the Agricultural Grounds to the town by the boys.

In the evening, at a banquet which followed the inspection, the Captain paid a warm tribute to the efficiency of the boys, and reminded them that the uniform they wore was worn by many great soldiers, and must be respected and looked upon with pride.

MEETING OF COUNCIL OF WOMEN

A very interesting meeting of the Local Council of Women was held yesterday in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A., Mrs. Harstone, the president in the chair.

Miss Walton, convenor of the committie on Objectionable Printed Matter, gave a very excellent report and said that her committee hoped to meet witha some what similar committee of the Baard of Trade in an endeavour to improve the character of moving picture plays. A letter was read from the Chautauqua's management stating that they would be in Peterboro this year from August 9 to 14th.

Miss Lancaster gave a very interesting paper on "Citizenship" in which she received the historical development of representative government of representative government.

Mr. Wearing also addressed the meeting, speaking on the "Income Tax", and paying special attention to the points of particular interest to women.

$100,000 FIRE.

Large Loss of Flour and Sugar.

(Canadian Press.)

ST. JOHN, May 21.—Approximately one hundred thousand dollars' damage was caused by fire last night in the village of Millford, near here. Fire started in a bakery and the flames soon spread to nearby buildings. The baker's establishment and warehouses contained eighteen thousand dollars' worth of flour and six thousand of sugar, which were completely destroyed.

DIED.

The Funeral on Monday, 24th May, to Little Lake Cemetery. Service at the House at 2.30 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Amos Thomas.

Lack of a serviceable engine does not render an auto useless. A camping trailer can be made from the body and rear wheels of an old car.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED

LATE DESPATCHES DEAL WITH WORLD-WIDE EVENTS.

Canadian Press:

MADRID, May 21.—Martial law has been proclaimed as a result of broad disturbances.

The Government statement issued this morning made the announcement that martial law had been put into effect. The statement chronicles disturbances during which rioters pillaged shops, especially those of bakers and grocers. Some private houses were attacked, although no actual robbery was committed.

COUNTER ATTACKING.

Canadian Press:

WARSAW, May 21.—Polish troops, counter-attacking the Bolshevik forces on the northern sector of the battle-front, have driven the Soviet armies back 12¼ miles near Erzyzezopol, according to an official statement issued here to-day.

The statement declares that on the middle Beresina section, the Bolsheviki were repulsed, when they tried to force their way across the river.

ASSUMED COMMAND.

Canadian Press:

WARSAW, May 21.—General Alexis Brussiloff, former Commander-in-Chief of the Russian Armies, is understood to have assumed the command of the Bolshevik offensive against Poland. In Polish military circles it is though the Soviet is designed to overrun Lithunia, and extend the Bolsheviki front westward to East Prussia. Military authorities here declare that vast stores of munitions and supplies have arrived in East Prussia in anticipation of a break in the Polish front before the Bolsheviki offensive.

INVESTIGATE MILK.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, May 2.—A permanent commission, to report on the cost of milk production and distribution and retail prices obtained, 1will be named by Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, next week. The commission will furnish the public with reports every three months, so that the public will be informed of profits being made.

E. S. Archibald, of the Federal Agricultural Department, Professor Leitch, of the O.A.C., Guelph, and R. F. Hicks, Newtonbrook, will be three of the five on the commission. Two others will be named to represent the distributors and consumers.

Hon. Mr. Doherty expressed invitation to members of the House this morning to visit the Ontario Agricultural College.

He was followed by C. F. Swayze, of Niagara Falls, who extended the invitation to members to visit the Falls and inspect the Hydro development.

A HUGE LOAN.

Canadian Press:

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A loan of at least a hundred and twenty-five million dollars out of a three hundred thousand revolving fund to enable railroads to purchase equipment required to meet the transporation needs of the public, was approved to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

HEAVY BUYING.

Canadian Press:

NEW YORK, May 21.—Heavy buying of Liberty Bonds and Victory Notes in the first hour of to-day's trading on the Stock Exchange resulted in many substantial recoveries for these issues from recent low records.

NEW PROBLEMS.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, May 21.—New problems are daily arising in the administration of the new luxury taxes. An important point for decision has been raised by a Canadian manufacturer. Before the budget, he said, he contracted to fill a large order for goods now subject to an additional excise duty of ten per cent. The selling price of the goods is determined in the contract. The budget resolutions provide that in this case excise duty is payable by the manufacturer. If the manufacturer contends, he pays duty, not only will his profit be wiped out, but he will have to fill the order at a loss.

It is probable that when the resolutions are in committee, amendments will be made to correct any anomalies existing.

HYDRO ESTIMATES.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, May 21. — Premier Drury promised H. H. Dewart, Liberal leader, at this morning's session of the Legislature, that next year the Hydro estimates would be presented in detail. When the consideration of these estimates was concluded, Mr. Dewart protested against the Government asking the House to pass them in bulk.

FOREST FIRES.

Canadian Press:

SHERBROOKE, Que., May 21. — Greatly exaggerated reports of forest fires in Bellechasse County were circulated yesterday to the effect that millions of feet of lumber were threatened. The general manager of the Quebec Central Railway stated to-day that less than twenty cords of wood were damaged, the fire being quickly extinguished.

PEACE TREATY.

Canadian Press:

PARIS, May 21.—The Times says to-day that the Hungarian Peace Treaty will be signed in Trianon Palace Hotel at Versailles on a date to be fixed by the French Foreign Minister. Baron Lars, as plenipotentiary, will sign for Hungary, the newspaper adds.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

AFTER A HARD BATTLE LAST NIGHT THE CANADIAN GENERAL HEAD LEAGUE

THE C.G.E. OPENED THE SCORING---AN EVEN FIRST HALF---TWO PLAYERS ORDERED OFF—CALEDONIANS 2, C.G.E. 1, AT HALF-TIME---BOTH TEAMS ADDED A GOAL APIECE—PLAY UNINTERESTING SECOND HALF—C.G.E. 4, CALEDONIANS 3.

History was made in Peterboro last evening for an attendance at a Football match There was nearly a thousand spectator present when the captains of both teams were called together at 6.30 sharp to play the official League Game between the Caledonians and the Canadian General The teams played as selected as follows:—

Caledonians:—R. Brinton, goal; J Willshaw and R. Willshaw, backs. J. Frost, S. McMillan and A. Duthy half backs; R. Hannah, Matt Shaw, Ed. Hardie, Jas. Shaw and R. McDowall, forwards.

C.G.E.—J. Naples, goal; B. Mason and J. McDonald backs, A. Paskins, H. Turner and H. Bestard, half backs A Manders, C. Hotson, A. Gash, J. Williamson and Ed. Bartley.

Referee—Mr. Bates.

Goal in Five Minutes.

C. G. E. won the toss and decided to play with the sun at their backs. Play opened quietly, with neither side showing anything important. A nice break-away on the C.G.E right wing left J. Williamson with the ball on a bad judged play on the part of J. Willshaw right in front of the goal where the C.G.E. inside left just tapped it through for the opening goal. On the centre, Matt Shaw ran down the field beating his opponents on nice play but his parting shot went past. A foul against Turner looked dangerous for the C.G.E. but McDonald headed back down the field to Williamson who struck the ball with his hand—the foul kick brought nothing Play went from end to end until R. McDowall on the left wing out ran the C.G.E. defence.

Referee Awarded the Goal.

He travelled into goal and tested the C.G.E. goal keeper with a low fast shot that Naples let drop out of his reach. The ball lay in the goals, with the Caledonians claiming the decision. Calling the two linesmen together the referee awarded the goal to the Caledonians.

Mason, the C.G.E. captain, questioned the verdict but the referee carried the ball to centre and placed it in play. A little while later McDonald took a foul-kick that tested Brunton who punted over the the cross-bar for a corner—it was fruitless. Mid-field play was in evidence with two fouls being given against Hotson and McMillan. On a foul kick McMillan had two good tries at the goal.

Matt Shaw Scored.

Manders got a corner kick off J. Willshaw that went into mid-field pla McDowall catching the return we down the wing where McDonald kicked past to save his goal, from the beautiful corner kick Matt Shaw headed through easily. Just afterward Manders and Hoston tried repeatedly to break through but Bob Willshaw held them in check for six consecutive throw ins. On an individual effort by Jas. Shaw the play was transferred to C.G.E. goal where he beat the whole defence and with only the goal-keeper in front of him, shot widely over the cross-bar. Nothing of interest took place for ten minutes while each goal-keeper was tested in rotation.

Bastard and Hannah Ordered Off.

Brunton had to save a stinger from Wag Hotson. He punted the ball up in the air to the right field where Hannah accidently fouled Bestard in an attempt to get the ball while dropping to the ground. The referee awarded a foul to the C.G.E. and without any provocation from Hannah an unwarranted blow to the face was given Hannah by Bestard. Hannah made no attempt to retaliate. The referee called the two players together and put them out of the game. Getting the play started, Bartley received a nice pass from Wag but his finishing was weak. The ball was in mid-field when half time arrived. Caledonians 2; C.G.E. 1.

Half Time.

On resuming the both teams were playing ten men a-piece, with the C.G.E. adopting the one back game, while the Caleys had Matt Shaw on the right wing. The whole C.G.E. forwards went into Brunton goals, but McMillan and Willshaw played nice football on the attempt of the C.G.E. forwards to break through.

Both Teams a Goal A-Piece.

After three minutes play Maunders out played A. Duthy and swinging the ball across to the left wing, they ran it through the goal and evened up the score. As quick as a flash the Caledonians hemmed the C.G.E. defence in with McDowall being the prominent in the attack. He passed to McMillan who drove hard for goal Naples jumped up and cleared. Matt Shaw endeavoured to shoot it through but stil clinging on he turned around quickly and lifted the ball high over the players heads for the third goal for the Caleys. Later on Frost sent a long shot into goal, the C.G.E. goal-keeper making a clever save. Three fouls were awarded against the C.G.E. with the Caley's receiving no advantage from them. The play was stopped a few minutes owing to Hotson jumping at Brunton after he had made a clearance. He was checked for having his knees up while making the charge The Referee warned both players. A "throw-up" was given about eighteen yards out from the Caledonian goal. Manders got hold but shot past. Play run from end to end with both sides finishing very poorly.

C.G.E. Even Up.

A break away by Manders on the right was tackled by Willshaw who conceded a corner. Manders taking the kick landed theball in the centre of the goa, and in the melee J. Williamson scored the third goal for the C.G.E. At the other end Ed Hardie and R. McDowall shot past.

The Winning Goal.

Rough tactic now developed into the game with the kick and the rush being the order of play. Turner received the ball in mid-field, shot across to Wag who completely baffled Duthy, and R. Willshaw making a poor attempt to stop him. He drove for goal and found the mark for the leading goal. The Caledonians tried to make the game a draw but they failed.

Anaysis of the Game.

The following analysis of the game as awarded by the Referee will be of interest

C.G.E.	1st Half	2nd Half	Total
Goal kicks	6	9	15
Corner-kicks	4	1	5
Fouls	4	5	9
Offside	1	0	1
Goals	1	3	4

Caledonians	1st half	2nd half	Total
Goal kicks	4	5	9
Corners	4	1	5
Fouls	3	1	4
Goals	2	1	3

NOTES ON THE GAME

When the two captains toss the coin they expressed the wish for a clean game which the referee corroborated. During the second half, Hardie and Mason fell on the ground, where Mason hit Hardie on the face, but the referee did not put them off.

The well known goal keeper of the De Laval, Jones, was right behind the goals when the questioned goal was awarded. He said: "It was a foot over the goal line."

The Caledonian s have the best defence while the C.G.E. best forwards. McMillan was the outstanding player on the field.

CANADIAN ON TEAM

The Moose Jaw club of the Western Canada league has one Canadian on the team. He is Lescher, a southpaw pitcher.

COMMENTS ON THE GAME

Representative Cook of the De Laval,—"It was rough and hard game. The teams equal on play, with the C. G.E. advantage in weight but superior football with the Caledonians. Bestard and Hannah should not have been ordered off. Referee very weak in his decisions."

J. W. Parkins, President of C.G.E.—"Caledonians best defence, with our boys having the most of play. Referee did well under the circumstances."

Alex. Dick, President of Caledonians—"The C. G. E. have superior weight, but the referee spoiled the Caley's whole team when he ordered off Hannah, and lost the verdict to them."

McDonald, left back C. G. E. — "Ground not fit to play on, but we require new referees."

Peter McArthur, senr.—"An equal game but the referee made a mistake putting off the players. Brunton's goal keeping failure."

Jones, De Laval—"Fast game but it was too bad the incident of the first half happened. Referee slow in his decisions. As a parting shot he said: "He was glad to see the ladies so prominent."

Bishop, G.W.V.A.—"C.G.E. had the best play and liked the combination of the Manders and Hotson wing. Why did the referee not put off Mason and Hardie?"

Lindsay, De Laval—"Game worth a draw."

F. McKinley, G.W.V.A. — Rough game. Caledonians best defence, with C.G.E. forwards showing better understanding.

Clark; C.G.E. Secretary.—A pretty fair game. A very poor playing ground. The C.G.E. had most of the play.

TY COBB TO SUCCEED JENNINGS AT DETROIT

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the star among stars in baldom is to become the pilot of the team with which he has played for more than a decade, the Detroit Tigers, succeeding Hughney Jennings in 1921. Jennings has been offered the vice-presidency of the club by President Frank J. Navin with more power than he now wields.

Ty never had any ambitions to be a major league manager until this year when Tris Speaker's success aroused desires of taking a fling at the job, and, it is said, Navin will give him the change.

Speaker and Cobb are wonderful ball players, but while Speaker started out as if he will be a successful pilot it is doubtful if Cobb can trot along the same road. Why? It's a case of temperament pure and simple.

Cobb doesn't sem to be in favor with any great number of players, as is Speaker, and especially not with his Detroit buddies. Ty has always done just as he pleased. He generally skipped the irksome duties of spring training and was more or less of a free lance during the season. This did not make much of a hit with the other Detroit players.

It might come to pass that Ty would prove himself an A No. 1 pilot having profited by his mistakes in the ranks, and become an 18-karat buddy of his men. But Detroit fans don't think the Peach will ever do as a major league boss. But then you can't always sometimes tell.

KID WILLIAMS BACK FROM HIS RETIREMENT

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Kid Williams, the former bantam champion, will make his reappearance in the ring after a long absence here on May 24, when he will meet Patsy Johnson in one of the eight-round bouts arranged by Promoter Phil Glassman for his opening card at Shibe Park. Other bouts will be between Lew Tendler and Eddie Fitzsimmons, Johnny Kilbane and Harry Brown and Ralph Brady and Joe Tiplitz.

LAJOIE IS PICKED TO PILOT SYRACUSE

SYRACUSE, N.Y., May 21.— Napoleon Lajoie is to break into the International league as manager of the Syracuse club, succeeding Ambrose McConnell, if Ernest Landgraf, owner, is able to come to terms with the former Big League star.

NATIONAL GOLF BODY SEEKS GAMBLING BAN

NEW YORK, May 21.—An appeal to stamp out gambling on tournaments has been sent member clubs by the United States Golf Association. The officers have found pool selling, book-making and individual wagering generally prevails.

TYRONE POWER

It is doubtful if any play ever presented in a Canadian theatre held as much human interest of an intense and absorbing type as the one in which the eminent English actor, Mr. Tyrone Power, was seen in "The Servant in the House" when he played the part of the "the Drainman" at the Grand Opera House last month. The play was a morality one; it was a play that preached the timely doctrine of human brotherhood between all classes; in "The Little Brother," which will be the play in which he will be seen at the Grand Opera House for one night only on Monday, May 24th as a special return engagement; the lesson of tolerance as between one creed and another will be driven home with a tremendous force.

In "The Little Brother" Mr. Power will play the part of a Russian priest—a fanatic of the most pronounced type. This priest and his brother were separated when children during a Jewish pogrom in Russia. After many years they meet in New York, when one has become a Russian priest and the other a Jewish rabbi. The daughter of the rabbi and the ward of the priest have fallen in love despite the bitterest opposition from the priest and rabbi. They marry, live happily and their union is blessed with a child. The rabbi and his daughter are reconciled but the priest endeavors in vain to persuade the young mother to give up her child in order to avoid the vexed question of settling its religion when it grows up.

Eventually the two brothers are united. The priest bends to receive the Rabbinical blessing and returns to his own church to continue his own work, a broader-minded man who has learned the lesson of tolerance and human brotherhood.

Mr. Power's impersonation of the Priest is said to be one of the most vivid and intense dramatic portraits ever seen upon the modern stage.

He will be supported by the same excellent company which was seen here in "The Servant in the House" which includes Mr. Harvey Hays, Mr. Walter Edwin, Mr. Harold de Becker, Mr. J. Irwing White, Miss Alma Chester, Miss Chela Knight; two new members will be seen in "The Little Brother," Mr. Robert Taber and Miss Edna Holland, daughter of the late E. M. Holland, known throughout Canada and the United States as one of the greatest English actors of his day.

It has been estimated that the English language possesses fully 75,000 more words than the French, German and Spanish languages combined.

OLDEST SPORTING INSTITUTION IN PETERBORO WILL CLOSE UP

REMAINING FUNDS WILL BE TURNED OVER TO THE PLAYGROUNDS ASSOCIATION.

This week sees the closing up of the affairs of the oldest sporting institution in Peterboro, one that was founded over 50 years ago, the Peterboro Boating and Rowing Club. It was organized in 1867 by a number of our athletic young men of the period and nursed along and kept up until it was turned into a joint stock company in 1876.

The stockholders included men who have been identified in after life with the commercial and professional activities of the town and afterwards city. E. B. Edward, R. A. Morrow, E. H. D. Hall, T. B. Clementi, H. LeBrun, R. M. Dennistoun, F. J. Buckett, Fred Barlee, George Barlee, W. J. Nesbitt, R. E. Wood, George C. Rogers and many others. These are the names the town used to conjure with when public activities were on the carpet.

The club prospered, acquired a site on the bank of the river at the end of King street, and built commodious boat houses, bought four-oared practice boats, single scull boats and canoes, and for years the semi-weekly regattas on the lake were summer events that drew throngs of spectators. Presently, having ambitions, and being filled with ideas of acquatic prowess, the Club brought out from England a beautiful four-oared shell and went through the province to have a try at the many annual regattas. The crew rowed at Toronto, Barrie, Lachine and other points, where they met the best and worthily held up their end—winning many trophies and much renown. The shell was built for the famous "Paris" crew of St. John, New Brunswick, captained by the famous oarsman, Walace Ross. Some hitch coming about as to the boat the local club steped in and purchased it.

The shell is now housed on the premises of the Peterboro Canoe Co., where it has had for many years very careful attention and is cherished as a visible evidence of passed prowess.

The building of the C.P.R. spur line along the bank of the river spoiled the water front for the Club. Besides the members were waxing in years and weight. And the younger generation was not coming forward to take up the oars. The property was sold to the Ontario Canoe Company (now the Peterboro Canoe Company), and the equipment passed over to another organization, the Chemong Rowing Club. But transplanted to the Lake side the project was not a success. Difficulties of getting to the lake and back of a summer evening interfered, and eventually the Chemong Club went to pieces.

From the proceeds from the sale of the premises and equipment was derived a fund from which the stockholders were all repaid their stock at face value, with interest at 8 per cent. for ten years, a very satisfactory settlement. But some funds were left over after the settlement and these have been enshrined in the shape of a Victory Bond, and will this week be presented to the Playgrounds Association as a slight token of esteem and respect and appreciation of what may be termed one of our most worthy sporting organizations. Mr. E. H. D. Hall and Mr. F. H. Dobbin are the two surviving trustees of the Club. Mr. George Hatton and Mr. A. Stevenson are members who recall with much interest the days that are gone, when the club supplied a heap of fun of the right kind, where each man contributed his personal and physical work and efforts to the general uplift. There may be surviving, but out of the city, a few others, but not many.

DOUBLE HEADER IN THE CITY LEAGUE TO-MORROW AFTERNOON

The double-header in the City League series to-morrow at Riverside Park should provide a lively afternoon's programme for the fans.

The Great War Veterans and Canadian General teams clash in the two o'clock fixture and it promises to be a real battle. The G.W.V.A. opened their season with a victory last Saturday and are out to make it two straight, while the Canadian General crew will try to make up for their loss of last week by breaking into the win column. Either Wade or Gus Rose will pitch for the Great War Veterans, with Morse behind the bat, while Manager Rahmel will use either Frost or Lornie Rose on the rubber and Ross doing the receiving. The G.W.V.A. will be strengthened by the presence of Harry Corrin, who will play first base for the Lebarr gang.

In the second game the Thistles and Canadian Woollens come together. Manager Mulhall of the Woollens, will start Len Johnston on the firing line, and he promises to make things interesting for Louis Yeotes' team. The Thistles will try out Freddy Scates, a youngster with a lot of stuff, who is a member of the Examiner ball tossers. In fact it will be an Examiner battery that will work for the Thistles, for Max Swanston will be behind the bat.

Mr. Alex. Kay will be umpire-in-chief for both games.

The Canadian Woollens teams for to-morrow will be as follows: Bergoine c., Johnston p., Legros 1b., Coughlin 2b., Mulhall s.s., Russell 3b., Heenan l.f., Shaw m., Gilchrist r.f. Subs, Smith, Kennedy, Lawrence.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

INTERNATIONAL TEAMS PICKED —SATURDAY GAMES—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

After the C.G.E. and the Caledonian game last evening, the Peterborough Football Association executive met and picked the International teams to play on the 24th of May at the Exhibition grounds at 3 o'clock prompt. The players chosen are the best men in the league to represent the two countries—England and Scotland. It was decided the lnegth of time to be played will be 30 minutes each way.

Mr. A. McKinley was chosen as referee for the International, and Alex. Dick and Dick Evans the respective linesmen.

Scotland—C. Fenners (Caledonians), goal; Ed. Hardie and S. McMillian (Caledonians), backs; J. Thom (Caledonians), R. G. McLeish (Machine Gun) and J. Lindsay (De Laval) half-backs; R. Hannah (Cal.), M. Shaw (Cal.), J. Shaw (Cal.), F. McKinley (G.W.V.A.), and R. McDowall (Cal.). Reserves—A. Morrison and A McArthur (Cal.)

England— W Jones (De Laval), goal; B. Mason (C.G.E.) and B. Willshaw (Cal.) backs; J. Frost (Cal.), J. Cridland (Can. Woollens) and A. Edwards (G.W.V.A.), half backs; A. Maunders (C.G.E.), C. Hotson (C.G.E.), H. Norman (G.W.V.A.), G. Hartshorn (De Laval) and Ed. Bartley (C. G.E. Reserves—J. Perry (Machine Gun) and A. N. Other.

Scotland will play in Caledonian colours and the English team will use C.G.E. colours.

The Caledonians and the De Laval play at the Exhibition grounds on Saturday at 3 o'clock. The game will be refereed by Mr. Bates.

The De Laval team— W. Jones, goal; G. Hartshorn and M. Godfrey, backs; A. Nichols, Ed. Humpage and W. Brown, half-backs; F. Hartshorn, J. Long, J. Cullan, J. Lindsay and E. Abrahams forwards.

Caledonians team — A. Brunton, goal; J. Willshaw and R. Willshaw, backs; J. Frost, S. McMillian and A N Other half-backs; R. Hannah, M. Shaw, Ed. Hardie, Jas. Shaw and R. McDowall.

A very interesting match will be played at the Oval on Saturday between the Canadian General and the Machine Gunners at 3' o'clock. Mr. A. McKinley will referee the game.

C.G.E. Line UP

At noon to-day it was announced that the following C.G.E. line-up will play to-morrow instead of the team named above.

Goal, Naples; lb, Mason rb McDonadl; lh, Bestard; ch Cowie; rb Parkins; ol Bartley; il Turner; cf William son; ir Gash; or Bills. Reserves, —Young.

Machine Gun Line Up.

W. Flowers, goal; J. Crow and J. Perry, backs; A. Metcalfe, R. G. McLeish, and H. J. Darling, half-backs; J. Payne, J. Fraser, Wm. W. Bell, E. Bell and Hig Darling. Reserves, J. Metcalfe and J. Roberts.

It is an understood fact that if two teams at the finish of the football season have the same number of points, goals do not count. The goal average only being taken into consideration in regard to the standing of the teams in the league. The two top teams having the same number of points must play a game to decide the city championship.

The Comrades' Football Club (Park street Baptist church), will play the Great War Veterans an exhibition game on the Exhibition grounds next Wednesday evening, commencing at 6.30 prompt.

Toronto, is home for the holidays.

BASEBALL

Paddy Livingston's stay with the Red Sox was brief. The veteran catcher has drawn his unconditional release and has returned to his home in Cleveland.

No other club in the majors has a better ground-covering set of outfielders than Washington. Milan, Rice and Roth are all unusually fast on their feet.

SPORT FROM THE EXCHANGES

Belleville Ontario:— "Anyone who drops around by the exhibition park any night except Saturday will find that there is earnestness in the ball tossers' heart this year. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday, the G. T. champions have been working hard and last year's players and newcomers are coming along under the eagle eye of Tommy Fegg. He is taking the rough edges away, and the team which will face the Petes on the 24th will be a hand-picked aggregation. On Monday Fegg had Goyer and Mills withone side and Parker and F. Foyer for the other. Several lively innings of ball resulted. Altogether a real good workout was the result. Parker and Frank Goyer are new ones to the Belleville fans, but will bear watching.

Brantford, Ont., May 10.— Admitting Norwich into the Brantford district of the O.H.A.A. is expected to heighten the interest in the series for the senor amateur championship. The Norwich team has the only one-armed second baseman in the game in Gordon Boyd, a former professional who lost his arm and was then re-instated in amateur ranks. He is declared to be a whirlwind.

Will the Lindsay Greybirds prove to be "greyhounds," asks the Oshawa Reformer.

RESULTS IN THE BOWLING TOURNEY

Last night a number of single, doubles, and three men teams were played and not much change in single and doubles. Jack Maynard is still leading in the single with 745. Jack Green next with 626, G. Green 618, King 610. Curvin got in fifth place with 597. In doubles Ritchie and Pinnette are leading with 1206. Maynard and Barette second 1243. The three men team, Ritchie, Curvin and Oke went in first place with 1684. Travers Roberts and King went in to second with 1565.

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL BOYS CONTINUE WINNING STREAK

Queen Mary school boys' team continued their winning record last evening, making it five straight games, when they defeated Centrals in a senior series school league ball game by the score of 8 to 1. Centrals got their only run in the sixth, when, with a runner at third base. Umpire Alex. Kay called a balk on the Queen Mary pitcher.

Once the game was well under way the Westerners won as they pleased. They hit well, and were aided very largely by Centrals' misplays.

The winners excelled in defensive work. When Hardill's benders were hit into the infield the basemen and shortstop were always reliable. When the ball went to the outfield, McCall, Wilson and Franks accepted all chances, their judging of fly balls being splendid.

The excellent performance of Mahood at first base was watched with interest by many of the older spectators. The batting orders:

Score by innings:

Queen Mary.. .. ..0011330—8
Centrals.. .. ..0000010—1

The "Luxury Tax" on Clothes

The Government at Ottawa has Issued a decree that henceforth the purchaser must pay, in addition to the selling price a tax of 10 per cent. on all Suits or Top Coats exceeding in price $45. Take for Example a 50 Dollar Suit:

To Suit of Clothes - -	$50.00
To Luxury Tax, 10 per cent.	5.00
Total - - - - - - - - - -	$55.00

This extra tax on the cost of Clothing is due to Governmet action —NOT TO THE DEALER.

Right now, just as in the past, you will find here splendid values at $25, $35, $37.50, $40, $42.50 and $45. None of these prices are subject to the new taxation. We especially invite your inspection at this time. To the man who has not yet purchased his New Suit for the Holiday we say COME HERE.

Blasco Ibanez, who is now back in Europe, was made to say things before the University Club of Philadelphia about the dominating influence of American women over their men folks and stirred up a tempest which quickly subsided when the noted author declared the report to be untrue. He admitted saying that the women here have time for culture and arts while their husbands pursue dollars. He admitted when he was in love he was more dominated than the most henpecked.

OAK HALL

LOCAL BASEBALL COMMENT

Westclox and Cressman's ball teams staged a practice game at Sacred Heart church grounds last evening, the clock-makers finishing in front after a comedy of errors and hits. The teams are rounding into shape and will furnish some excitement in the Mercantile League.

Central Leaguers and Veterans had to be content with a workout on the side-lines at Riverside Park last night, the diamond not being ready for play.

Cobourg girls have organized to play baseball. It will now be in order for the P.C.I. girls to form a team to beat the fair coeds of the Lakeshore town.

Because of so many new golfers having joined the club, Belleville Golf Club has apointed an instructor.

As intimated recently, the new "dead ball" rule has failed to deliver. Commencing with games next Monday, the big leagues will revert to the old order of things.

YOUNG BROWN BLIND.

Young (Abe) Brown, the New York boxer, has become totally blind. He had been active in the ring until his eyes suddenly went back on him.

Embroidery is used on linen, organdie, batiste, crash and muslin for Summer dresses.

The dopesters who had consigned the White Sox to a certain second division berth are not making much noise these days. Gleason's men are stepping along as fast as they ever stepped in championship years.

Canned apricots can be frozen like any other fruit for dessert.

When making sweet sandwiches, see that the jelly or jam is firm.

When beating whites for cakes, use a flat dish and a wire whip.

A BALL GAME FOR THE HOLIDAY

HINDE DAUCH TEAM OF TORONTO WILL PLAY CANADIAN WOOLENS.

Baseball fans will not have to do without a ball game on Victoria Day after all, for the Canadian Woollen team of the local City League, are bringing the fast Hinde Dauch team of Toronto here for the holiday and will stage an exhibition game at Nicholls Oval at 1.30 o'clock sharp. Our old friend Wallie Parnell, who used to play shortstop for the Peterborough team when Dan McCabe was the pitching ace of the club, is manager of the Toronto outfit. The game should be an interesting exhibition.

A $10,000 CIGAR

Cigars are more important than kisses—in Leroy Scott's picture, "Partners of the Night," which will be shown at the Allen Theatre today and to-morrow.

One of the cigars which comes to light in the fifth reel of this extraordinary production by Goldwyn Eminent Authors is worth $10,000. It belongs to Bradley, chief of detectives—or he thinks it does. This cigar is a vital factor in catching the gang of crooks and saving the lives of two men and a woman who are the central figures in "Partners of the Night."

Watch for that cigar!

TO CONTRACTORS

MONTREAL TO BE IMPORTANT FUR MARKET

Canada is now exporting to other countries according to Dominion Government figures, $14,000,000 worth of furs and skins in the course of a year, and a number are brought back into the country ,purchased by Canadian dealers at foreign sales and resold to Canadians. The value of furs and skins exported during the fiscal year 1918-1919 was $13,737,621. Of these $9,743,464 worth went to the United States, $3,763,955 to Great Britain, and $230,202 to other countries. Some extent of the values to which these exports have risen can be obtained from the fact that the value of the export of furs and skins in 1917 was but $5,837,383. During the month of March 1919, the value of these exports was $2,080,704 as compared with $1,420,158 in the corresponding month in 1918. It has been estimated that eighty per cent. of the silver foxes of the world come from Canada.

For nearly four centuries Canada has been one of the largest and most productive fields of the fur trade, and it is impossible to estimate the number or the value of the costly pelts taken from the traps of the Dominion in this period. Yet, until quite recently, the fur trade was hardly organized on a business basis, and beyond the trapping and taking of the furs the various phases of the industry passed out of Canadian hands. Traders bought from the trappers and then the raw materials went to the large foreign markets.

There has gradually dawned a realization of the money lost in this way, however, and in future Canada will market her own furs and Montreal become one of the most important fur markets of the globe. For years London, St. Louis and New York have been the selling centres to which Canadian furs have travelled and St. Louis had the world's premier fur mart. The auction at Montreal will be conducted by a large company capitalized at $5,000,000 and will be largely co-operative in nature. It is the intention to hold three auctions a year, the first about next March.

The opening of a Canadian fur market is a natural development. Artificial breeding and fur ranching This industry is fairly general throughout Canada, and in Prince Edward Island the industry which has been in operation for more than thirty years, has assumed very important proportions. In 1914 there were in the island no less than 2[illegible] fox ranches with nearly 4,000 foxes

FUNERAL WAS HELD .... YESTERDAY.
The funeral of the late John Brown took place yesterday afternoon at 2.30 from his late residence, 29 Crescent Street, to Little Lake Cemetery. Mr. Brown had been a faithful member of the Park Street Baptist Church for a number of years, and, owing to the absence of the paster, Rev. B. Greatrix conducted the service. The beautiful floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

DANIEL BELLEGHEM
The death of Daniel Belleghem, which took place early this morning at the family residence, 190f Hunter street, closes another chapter in the pioneer life of Peterboro. The deceased was born in Quebec city, seventy three years ago and moved to Peterboro wth his parents when three years of age. Early in his business career the late Mr. Belleghem was associated in business with the late George Tanner and subsequently took over the business and brought it up to its present day standard. The deceased took a practical interest in the development of Peterboro and was always ready to promote its progress. He was a Methodist in religion and a Liberal in politics.

In the earlier years of his life the late Daniel Belleghem was a prominent member of the Peterboro Lodge A. F. and A. M., of which he was a former past master. He was also a Knight Templar, an Oddfellow and a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

The following children survive, Mrs. T Herbert Prust of Edmonton, Laura at home, Bert of the Bank of Montreal staff, Chicago, and Walter and Arthur at home His wife predeceased him two and a half years ago.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence to Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house will be conducted by the Rev. A. J. Thomas.

WILLIAM GEORGE THORNE.
The funeral of William George Thorne will take place from the family residence at Lock 19 on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery. The G. W. V. A. are meeting to-night to arrange for a military funeral.

The death of the deceased took place very suddenly. He was enjoying his usual good health on Wednesday morning, and carried on his duties as before. After his supper at night, he was taken ill very suddenly, and in spite of all attempts to revive him, death took place early the following morning.

Deceased, who was 32 years of age, was assistant lockmaster at Lock 19, and was held in the highest estimation by his employers and associates. He was a great favourite with the boatmen, and had many friends, to whom his death has caused great regret. He went overseas with the 39th Battalion, but was prevented from going to France. Since his return he had been employed at the Trent Canal.

He leaves a sorrowing wife and two young children, to whom the sympathy of the community will be extended.

MR. W. H. MALOTT
The Rev. F. E. Malott, pastor of Trinity Church received a message yesterday that his eldest brother, Mr. W. H. Malott had died suddenly in Dallas, Texas. Mr. Malott left Canada about thirty years ago and after travelling extensively in various parts of the world established a business in San Francisco. A few months ago he opened up a new business in Dallas. On Monuday of this week the Rev. F. E. Malott received a letter from his brother telling him of a contemplated visit to Canada in a few months. The death was due to heart failure Mr. Malott leaves a wife and one son, Lieut. Theodore Malott, who had but lately returned from France and who was with his father at the time of his death.

AUTOMOBILE EXPRESSION LIBERALITY

VIEWS OF THE MANITOBA GREAT WAR VETERANS—NOT FOR SOLDIERS.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, May 22. — "Pile it on," was the word of the Manitoba veterans to Sir Henry Drayton at a mass meeting last night.

"You can't tax our luxuries—because we haven't any."

Whatever the attitude of the Parliamentarians Sir Henry's budget has the wholehearted support of the returned soldiers. Every item on the luxury list elicited rousing cheers.

"We won't have to pay yet we will reap the benefit of greater revenue."

Leo Ward, the president of the Manitoba Command of the Great War Veterans, said: "We will deserve more from the new budget than anyone else in the country for we will save them going and coming."

Take motors—the principal luxury of the day—the distribution of those in Winnipeg is: One for every eight persons who did not go to war; one for every 200 returned soldiers.

"And out of all the 80,000 cars in Manitoba only 1200 are owned by veterans. We consider motors an expression of liberal means," said Ward.

TWO SMALL ROOF FIRES YESTERDAY

SPARK FROM PASSING TRAIN CAUSED ONE.

Two roof fires two hours apart, gave the firemen two short runs yesterday.

At 4:45 the south east end of the Peterboro Canoe Co's warehouse on Water street, caught on fire in some unknown way, but was extinguished in about 15 minutes. The damage will not be large.

From a spark from a passing train a small fire started in the roof of the most northerly of the coal sheds of J. E. A. Fitzgerald and Co., bordering on the Lindsay tracks. The blaze luckily was discovered in its early stages and the alarm sent in. A line of hose was laid from Stewart street and the Niagara of water smothered the fire out before it had a chance to get well started.

"PUFFING BILLY," THE FIRST LOCOMOT VE

One hundred years ago a practical locomotive was built in England, ran successfully for many years, and is still in existence. It was christened "Puffing Billy," and was built and partly invented by Timothy Hackworth, a foreman smith at Wylam, and a clever mechanic. Hackworth was Stephenson's great rival, and there's no doubt that the "father of railways" spent his Sundays at Wylam making notes and sketches of "Puffing Billy." For this reason Hackworth deserves a more prominent place in locomotive history than has generally been assigned to him.

"Puffing Billy" was finished on 9th May, 1813, and was put to work hauling coal waggons between Wylam Colliery and the wharves on the Tyne. The engine appears to have been successful from the start, and it attracted much attention, mingled with opposition, from those who were interested in horse traction.

"Billy" had to undergo repairs and improvements from time to time, until he became lighter in weight, and was able to round curves with greater ease. The engine, however, worked continuously for about fifty years, and it was the first successful locomotive in the world. In 1865 "Puffing Billy" was placed in the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, where it can still be seen resting upon some of the original rails.

MR. ASH REMOVED TO LARGE PREMISES

Mr. J. A. Ash, the well known electrical contractor, has leased the up-to-date store premises, No. 282 George street, next Grand Opera House. His former headquarters on Charlotte street, had become too small for his growing business, and a larger premises was imperative. In his new store, Mr. Ash has introduced special lines of electrical supplies and appliances which afford a selection of the most reliable articles on the market.

Either Bill Crowley or Dick Rice will pitch for the amateurs and Gordon for the South end gang.

PLAN DISSENSIONS IN BRITISH ARMY

RUSSIAN SOVIET AGENTS LOSE NO OPPORTUNITY TO SPREAD PROPAGANDA.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 22. — Disquieting incidents affecting the discipline of certain regiments of the British army have occourred recently says the Daily Sketch, and the investigation has revealed the fact that agents of the Russian Soviet government have perfected a plan to make the army a hotbed of dissension.

Stern measures to smash this organization have been decided upon, the newspaper declares, and some important arrests are imminent. In addition wholesale deportations are to be expetced.

TO UNVEIL MEMORIAL IN GEORGE STREET

In the George Street Methodist Church on Sunday morning a large memorial tablet will be unveiled in honor of the men of the congregation who served in the war. Short addresse will be given by Lieut.-Col. E. B. Clegg, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, and the Pastor of the Church. Appropiate music will be rendered by the Choir and soloists. The public will be cordially welcomed at this service and a special invitation is extended to the officers and members of the Peterboro Rangers, the Peterboro Battery, the Machine Gun Company, the Dragoons, and the Great War Veterans Association. The service wil be held at eleven o'clock.

GROCERIES MAY GO UP DUE TO TAX

A MOVE IS ON FOOT TO HOIST THE PRICE OF CANNED GOODS AS A STARTER.

The consumer has got another jolt in the neck. The cost of living as far as groceries not exempt under the new tax particularly canned goods, is due for another increase. No exemption can be claimed under the new budget for canned goods of any kind, dried fruit or vegetables or rice, on the ground that they are foods. This matter has been finally straightened out by the commissioner of taxation and as a result the consumer will be forced to pay 3 p.c. more on canned goods and some other groceries.

The manufacturer will have to charge the wholesaler one per cent. on canned goods, the wholesaler in turn charging the retailer one per cent on the turnover above the one per cent. paid to the manufacturer. By the time it reaches the consumer there will be three per cent. added in taxes. It was thought that canned meats and dried fruits would be exempt, but a tax will have to be levied on all these lines.

Rice Included.

An increase, owing to the tax is predicted on all canned goods. It was thought that rice would also be exempt, as grains and seed in their natural state are exempt. Rice, however, is sold after it has been husked and polished and therefore is not in its natural state.

The new taxes are causing considerable annoyance to merchants in the city, and the bookkeepers are having a particularly busy time. Despatches from Ottawa state that questions continue to pour into the department and it is believed that it will take some time to get the new act enforced. Many local business men look for a slump, while others believe that the new tax will make no difference.

Another Point Raised.

A manufacturer has asked for a ruling in cases where a manufacturer has entered into a contract to supply goods which were not delivered before the luxury tax came into force Monday. He says that his whole profit will be wiped out if the tax is collected since his selling price is fixed by contract.

THE WELL BABIES' CLINIC

As a rule, men do not like housecleaning time, and neither do babies. In the first place, they cannot see any sense in it at all, and secondly, it interferes a little with their plans to attend the babies' clinic.

But in spite of such drawbacks as house-cleaning, moving, etc., the work of the clinic is going steadily on, and already many good results have been shown.

Every Tuesday afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock, in the ladies' room at the G.W.V.A. hall the clinic is held. Nurses trained in handling and caring for children, take the babies as they come in, register them, weigh and measure them, and then pass them on to the physician in charge for a thorough examination. Often glaring defects are found, which the mother has not understood and she is instructed to see her family physician, without delay. In minor matters, the attending physician helps her over the hard places, by timely advice.

At the end of every month, an open meeting is held, and besides the regular work, demonstrations will be given of how properly to do, many things in connection with the care of children.

This month, this open meeting falls on Tuesday, June 1st. After the clinic proper, Dr. McPherson and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson will speak, and the King's Daughters will serve tea. Come and bring a friend, if you haven't a baby, and yet acquainted with the work.

BOLSHEVIK OFFENSIVE PROGRESS.

Along Beresina River Advances Made.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 22.—The Bolshevik offensive against the Poles along the more northerly part of the front, in the region of the Beresina River is continung to make progress according to Friday's official statement received by wireless to-day from Moscow.

The Communique reads: "In the direction of Molodschne after fierce fighting our troops forced the River Tharnitsa.

"On the right bank of the Beresina we occupied a number of villages west and southwest of Beresina village. In region of Borisov our troops starting an offensive occupied several villages south and east of Borisov."

GENERAL WILLIAMS FOR NO. 2 DISTRICT

Williams, who has been G.O.C. military district No. 3 for the past year, is to be transferred to the command of military district No. 2 at Toronto, and that he is to be succeeded here by Major-General J. H. Elmsley. It is understood that the transfer will occur about June 1st.

Carranza Murdered

DEATH OF THE FUGITIVE PRESIDENT REPORTED TO WASHINGTON.

By A. L. Bradford.
(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 22.— Disavowal of the murder of Carranza and punishment of his slayers may be required of Obregon by the United States before this country will consider recognition of the new regime, it was understood here to-day. Official comment was withheld while the government made inquiries of its agents in Mexico regarding the reported death of the fugitive president.

President Wilson refused to recognize Huerta with blood on his hands. In several instances the United States has communicated with Latin American nations urging that presidents, ejected from office by revolutions, be safeguarded and permited to depart.

The Mexican situation to-day was further complicated by the report forwarded to the State Department from Chisuahua that Villa has captured George Miller, a British citizen superintendent of the Alvaredo Mining and Milling Co. at Parral and holding him for $50,000 ransom.

KILLED ON THURSDAY.

(Canadian Press.)

MEXICO CITY, May 22.—Venustiano Carranza, who fled from this city on 6th May, and who took refuge in the Puebla Mountains, was killed at one o'clock on Thursday morning at Taxcalaltonga, according to an official anouncement here.

Carranza's companions, the names of whom are as yet unknown, are declared to have shared his fate.

The attack, which resulted in the death of the President, was led by General Rodofo Herrera, it is said.

Report from Taredo says that Adolfo de la Huerta, Governor of Sonora, had been elected Provincial President, but confirmation of the report was unobtainable this morning.

GREYBEARDS WILL CEASE TO HEAR DIVORCE CASES

MATTER HAS BEEN TAKEN OUT OF THE HANDS OF THE SENATE.

Mr. C. R. Widdifield received word this morning from Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., that the Bill granting Frederick Tristram Clarke, dyer, employed at the Canadian Woollens Company, Peterborough, an absolute divorce from Elizabeth Croft, of Lindsay, had been finally passed by the Commons, the same having been passed by the Senate some time ago.

The Bill was applied for and carried through the Senate and Commons by Mr. C. R. Widdifield.

This is one of the very few cases from Peterborough applying for divorce, and will be the last Parliamentary divorce, as in the future the Courts in Ontario will deal with the matter, and divorce will be dealt with similar to an Act in the Supreme Court of Ontario. The new method will bring down the cost of divorce considerably.

LOCAL DEMAND DOMESTIC HELP

MANY APPLICATIONS RECEIVED AT EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

At the Government Employment Bureau during the past week there were 49 applications, 39 vacancies, 37 were placed locally, and 6 were transferred.

The farm labour situation is improving and the Bureau has had a larger number of applications for farm work of late though there still remains about 10 vacancies

The domestic help situation is very bad and the Bureau has no applications for this sort of work.

MONEY LOST IN BUILDING SHIP CANAL

NEW WELLAND SHIP CANAL WILL NOT TOUCH PORT COLBORNE.

(Canadian Press.)

WELLAND, May 22. — News has reached this city that the Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals has given out the information that the new Welland ship canal will not touch Port Colborne. From this it has been concluded than an 18 1-2 mile canal will be built from Port Maitland to Welland and that the millions of dollars already expended in work at Port Colborne, and from Port Colborne to Welland, will be abandoned.

The Port Colborne Board of Trade are taking the matter up with Ottawa.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET REPORT

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Short covering and absence of the usual week end profit taking by professional traders resulted in substantial gains being registered by leading issues at the stock market opening to-day. Transactions were in good volume. Interest apparently centering in oil, although the equipment also displayed firmness. U. S. Steel opened at 91 7-8, up 1-4; Corn Products 90 3-4, up 1-4; American Smelter 57, up 1-4; Pan-American 97 1-2, up 1 5-8; Mexican Pet. 172, up 1 1-4; Retail Stores, 72 5-8, up 3-8; Reading, 82 3-8, up 7-8; American Loco., 91 1-4, up 1 1-4; Baldwin 111, up 1; Studebaker P 63 3-8, up 3-4; U. S. Rubber 97 3-8, up 7-8.

Mexican Oil stocks responded to news of the death of President Carranza with higher openings. Rails showed gains from 1-2 to a full point.

Foreign Exchange.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 22.— Foreign exchange was steady at the opening to-day. Demand Sterling opened at $3.83 1-2, up 3-8; Franc Checks 13.87, off 5 centimes; Lire Checks 19.02, up 10; Marks Demands $.0240; Cables $.0242, up $.0004; Canadian Dollars $.8915.

STORY INTEREST VIES WITH ACTING IN REX BEACH FILM

New Goldwyn-Beach Picture "The Silver Horde" Replete With Thrills.

In Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde" produced by Goldwyn, story interest vies with excellent acting for first place among the many good things that can be said about this production "The Silver Horde" as a novel proved to be one of the most pronounced literary successes of the present day, not only in the volume of its sale, but also in the word-of-mouth notoriety that it inspired.

On the screen this tale of strife and love in the primitive North retains all of its plot strength and interest and is further enhanced by the convincing realism in action which only the screen can over. To the multitudinous readers of the book it will be very thrilling to see those wonderful characters, Boyd Emerson and Cherry Malotte, directing Big George's fight against the money-worshipping trust interests of New York, taking part on the side in a little romance which gradually eliminates the haughty Mildred Wayland as a factor and settles down to a plain case of mutual adoration between Emerson and Cherry.

The unpleasant, hateful people in the story such as Marsh, unprincipled head of the Marsh Canning Company Wayland, the financial power behind the conern, and Swanson, a prominent figure in Marsh's criminal schemes, are happly disposed of in a manner proportionate to their deserts giving the picture a rounded-out and gratifying ending.

The cast of "The Silver Horde", which is the feature of the program at the Allen Theatre, starting Monday contains such noted screen favorites as Robert McKim, Myrtle Stedman, Frederick Stanton, Betty Blythe, Curtis Cooksey, Hector Sarno Carl Clyde and R. D. MacLean. Frank Lloyd directed the production.

BRITISH FORCE TO WITHDRAW

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 22.— Official advices from Persia to-day state that the Bolsheviki who landed at Enzeli, on the Caspian Sea, despite their promises, have cut roads leading to Rasht, twenty-five miles south-east of Enzeli. The British force, which is a small one, was forced to withdraw to Rasht, advices add.

WESTERN CROPS SUFFER DAMAGE

(Special to Examiner.)

REGINA, Sask, May 22.—In Southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan heavy winds past few days have done damage to crops on lighter land through drifting. Wheat seeding is now all completed in Western Canada. Latest date known and in many cases oats are in ground and farmers are busy seeding barley and flax. There is need of rain.

Airplane Flights

ADDITIONAL ATTRACTION ARRANGED FOR THE HOLIDAY AT THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS.

If an airplane hovers over your house top on Monday morning do not think it is going to bomb you or drop propaganda or snatch clothes off your elevated clothes line or do any of the hundred and one other little mischiev. out stunts attributed to the sky pilots. This machine will be a real peaceable flyer owned by the Bishop Barker Co. of Toronto and here for the holiday at your service. Exhibitions of stunt flying will be given with all the frills, and if you care to go a'flying yourself they will be right on the job to show you around the heavens.

It is expected that the machine will arrive here about 9.30 from the city.

Although this is one of the big features of the day there are many others. At 1.15, with the bands of the 57th and the G.W.V.A. in the lead, C Company, 4th Canadian Machine Gun Brigade, 140 strong, and the Boy Scouts, will parade to the Exhibition grounds.

At 1.30 the races commence, with a 2.25, followed by a free-for-all and colt's race.

Football Game.

The football game between England and Scotland, scheduled for 2 p.m., promises some real excitement, as both teams have been carefully chosen and are eager to get into the fray. The lacrosse match at 3.30 will provide some of the grand old sport for the old lacrosse enthusiasts to revel over and the younger generation to marvel at. Besides these there will be the regular concessions, ice cream stands with pink lemonade and everything.

All arrangements are completed to handle the monster crowd which the excellent programme will attract to the grounds on the 24th.

GOOD CONCERT LAST EVENING

L.O.L. NO. 50 STAGE SUCCESSFUL EVENT.

Victoria Hall was filled almost to capacity last night when one of the best concerts which have been put on in the city was given by the Wm. McKendry Company of Toronto, under the auspices of L.O.L., No. 50.

All the numbers, which included duets by Mr. McKendry and Mrs. Jean Winter Tye, comic songs by Joe Williams, and solos by each of the talented members of the company, were thoroughly appreciated, and the Lodge was heartily congratulated for their enterprise in securing so high-class an entertainment.

Mr. J. H. Spence, who occupied the chair, welcomed the audience, and spoke of the difficulties which had been overcome in booking the company, which had to be done three weeks ahead in order to secure it.

EMPIRE DAY IN THE LOCAL SCHOOLS.

Yesterday Empire Day was fittingly celebrated at the various schools in the city. At Queen Mary School, Mrs. W. R. Morris spoke to the pupils on the founder of Empire Day—Clementina Fessenden—and referred to the fact that one of her direct descendants, Molly Wood, was a pupil of Queen Mary School at the present time.

Rev. James Rollins spoke of his experiences overseas, and impressed the children with the importance of learning to obey, pointing out the fact that in the Army every man, even to the General, is under orders.

During the afternoon the children sang several choruses, including, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again," "John Bull's Children," "O Canada," and "Here's a Health Unto His Majesty," while the small children sang very effectively, "Fling Out the Flag."

PARAMOUNT INFLUENCES OF THE WEEK

MONEY MARKET REFLECTS ACTION OF THE BANKING UNION.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, May 22. — The paramount influences of another unsettled week in the stock market embraced the more restricted credit situation, the nation-wide movement against higher prices, freight congestion and the weakness of Liberty bonds on heavy liquidation.

Increased discount rates ordered by Federal Reserve Board and the absolute lack of time funds at all the principal centres directed renewed attention to the scarcity of money for all but the most essential and legitimate purposes.

Little improvement was shown in transportation conditions but the decision of the government investigating the interstate commerce commission with almost plenary powers is expected to bring a speedy readjustment in that quarter.

The financial interests viewed with some satisfaction the extent of the campaign to deflate commodity costs and the local banks announced their intention to cooperate with officials of central bank. Recent liquidation of securities in this market has already aided materially it is claimed, tawards restoring normal credit conditions.

Many interesting domestic developments of the week diverted attention from international affairs, including foreign exchange market.

Reports weer again current of additional gold imports from London but local sterling rate, usually the barometer of such movements, was not materially altered.

The only noteworthy feature of foreign remittance record was the strength of the German mark which approximated 2 1-2 cents against February's low price of one cent.

A TIP FOR MEN

Men who want new togs for the first big summer holiday should not forget to visit Thornton Bros.' Semi Ready Store, George street. A permanent roof at a moderate cost

IF you are going to erect a home, store, factory, garage or other building with a slanting roof upon which an attractive, permanent covering is desired at a moderate cost you will find that Brantford Crystal Roofing meets your requirements.

This roofing is comprised of felt, asphalt and crushed crystals of quarry slate and weighs 80 to 85 lbs. per square. Its extra weight will give you an idea of its durability and permanency.

Brantford Crystal Roofing is sold in reddish brown and dark green, which are the natural, unfadeable colors of its crushed slate surface. This roofing adds beauty to any roof covered with it. Being in rolls and pliable it is very easily and quickly laid, which is an advantage when the need is urgent, labor so scarce and wages so high.

Brantford Crystal Roofing

is non-absorbent and therefore completely waterproof. It makes a solid, permanent roof which is proof against rain, snow, frost and heat. Flying embers and clouds of sparks may fall on its crushed slate surface but they harmlessly die out without injuring the roofing.

For further information, prices, etc., apply to our local branch.

KILLED BY A FALL FROM STEPLADDER.

COBOURG, May 19.—While engaged in cleaning a window, Miss Annie Russell fell from the stepladder on which she was standing to the pavement below, suffering a fracture of the skull, which caused her death Miss Russell had been nursing Mrs. Reid, and was cleaning one of the ground floor windows in the latters' home at the time of the accident.

EXEMPTION FOR HOUSES BUILT THIS YEAR.

BELLEVILLE, May 20.—All the houses erected in Belleville during the present year are to be exempt from taxation for th years 1921 and 1922, xcept those built under the Housing Scheme, unless the City Council changes its mind.

That body has decided by a four to two vote to encourage building this year and to have the solicitor's opinion o' the matter. If it is legal, a by-law will be introduced.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore it is o. supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BURN "SINEWS OF WAR".

Confederate Currency Seized in Richmond Destroyed by U. S. Treasury.

WASHINGTON.—The final chapter in the financial history of the Confederate States of America were written in the Treasury Department the other day when sixty million dollas in Confederate money was destroyed to relieve the congested condition of the Treasury vaults.

The currency comprised the "sinews of war" in the Confederate Treasury at Richmond, and was seized by the Federal troops when the Southern capital was captured.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ELECTION RIOTS IN TOKIO.

Houses of Government Candidates Who Lead in Early Returns, Attacked.

HONOLULU, — Incomplete returns from the election in Japan show the Government Party leading, according to a Tokio cable to the Nippu Jiji, a Japanese-language newspaper here.

The dispatch reported that the residences of several Government candidates and the offices of the Shima and Birossim, two newspapers supporting them, were attacked by adherents of the Opposition after the arrest of Mr. Hayage, an Opposition candidate, on a charge of illegally influencing the election.

Heavy rains in eastern Japan paralyzed railway traffic, damaged much property in Tokio and districts to the northwest, and caused postponement of the general election in some places.

NOT BREAD ALONE.

Oh, Christian, wherefore anxious care,
And sordid strife, for gear and gold,
While you to mansions bright, are heir,
Unfailing treasure, wealth untold.

A rich inheritance, in trust,
Secure beneath a Father's seal,
Beyond corroding, moth or rust,
Where never thief breaks in to steal.

This whole wide world, if we could gain,
'Twere but to our eternal cost,
If for its joys of transient strain,
The immortal soul for aye be lost.

For life consists not in those things,
That fade and perish in a day,
All earthly on swift silent wings,
Pass, like light vapory clouds away.

Why should a mortal then be fain
To grasp a great and full supply
Of loaves and fishes, all but vain,
The hungry Soul to satisfy.

The Soul must famish and decline,
On the best bread, earth can afford,
It lives by every word divine,
And the blest Spirit's grace outpoured.

Ungrateful, shall we then despise,
Blessings of basket, and of store,
That bounteous Heaven freely supplies
In stream unceasing, flowing o'er.

Nay, for each good, and perfect gift,
Descending from the Source above,
May we, our hearts adoring lift
In humble gratitude and love.

—Mrs. A. F. Calder.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

MIXED-FARMING IN WESTERN Canada—In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands —open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing dairying and livestock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in the neighborhood of Lloydminster and Battleford. These rich districts will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seagar Wheeler grows the worlds' prize wheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm here.

These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until end of fourth year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is six per cent.

CAN BUILD BRICK HOUSE FOR $2,500

WINDSOR, May 22.—The contention of Windsor builders and contractors that the Government allowance of from $3,500 to $4,000 with which to build workmen's homes under the Government plan is insufficient, is not borne out by entries in the books of Building Inspector Parker.

It is quite possible according to the Inspector's records, which are based on figures supplied by contractors at the time building permits are applied for, to build a substantial brick house for $2,500 and a duplex for $4,000.

ONE BRANTFORD FIRM WILL PAY $40,000 TAX

BRANTFORD, May 21. — The general opinion expressed here as to the new taxation propsals is that the ultimate consumer wil bear the burden of the new levies.

City Treasurer A. K. Bunnell thought the one per cent. tax would mean that Brantford industries would contribute handsomely, one firm alone would pa y $40,000 tax on the basis of last year's business as well as the excess profits and business tax. The taxing luxuries, he thought, was a good move, tending to force production of necessities such as motor trucks rather than luxuries such as expensive cars. The tax was, he said, likely in some cases to be passed on to the consumer, though in some cases it would only be borne by the manufacturers.

GARDEN SEASON AND DEPREDATING HEN

Strathroy Despatch:—The beginning of the gardening season marks the beginning of the neighborly disputes over chickens. This is one question to which there are not two sides. The man whose chickens dig up his neighbor's garden is absolutely in the wrong. Accidents will happen, of course, and if your neighbor, as a rule, keeps his chickens shut up and one slips out and scratches up your favorite bed of sweet peas or radishes, said neighbor deserves forgiveness. But any man who wilfully allows his chickens to run helter-skelter through his neighbor's yards deserves to be gently but firmly requested to leave town.

"ONE-MAN" STREET CARS NO NOVELTY

STORY OF THE EVOLUTION OF PASSENGER SERVICE FROM PRE-ELECTRIC PERIOD.

The "one man" street car instead of being a novelty is about as old as the street railway business itself, writes W. D. Mahon in the "Motorman and Conductor," published in Detroit.

"It is true that the first street cars put into operation did use two horses and a conductor, but this did not last long. The companies soon decided that it would be better for the riding public to have one horse for a car and to have one man do the work of both driving and conducting. They said that to work two horses on a car was a bad proposition, that the horses would jerk in starting up and that would cause sore shoulders for the horses, which would be very bad for the riding public—and so they installed the one man car with one horse to pull it. This arranegmetn saved the public the trouble of paying their fare to the conductor. All they had to do was to get on board and deposit the cash in a box and then hunt a strap on which to hang. It was in fact about the first self-service establishment of our country.

"As time went on, travel so increased that they were compelled to put two horse cars on—that is on some of the lines. Then the municipalities had to force them to put conductors on these cars. As time went on electricity was adopted as the motive power to drive the street cars. Many of the companies simply overhauled their cars and equipped them with electric motors and continued to run them with one man, and this continued until until all the legislatures of different states and the city councils of the various cities forced them to change the style of their cars and to put on conductors in order to protect the public. If you care to hunt the testimony for thees facts, go to Louisville, Ky., and see the long fight that city had to eliminate the small car and to put on the large cars with conductors In Dayton, Ohio, the companies equipped the electric cars with mirrors and other modern devices and had it so arranged that the motorman through the mirror could have the interior of his car always before him. Yet with all these arrangements it did not give the proper protection to the public and the legislature of Ohio passed a law compelling these companies to put conductors on their cars in order to protect the public."

The "one-man" cars, writes Mr. Mahon, afford no benefit to the public not provided by the regular types, but they yield increased revenue to the companies. They are in many respects dangerous to the public, due to the fact that passengers are locked in and are served by the motorman alone. Should he faint or meet with death while the cars are in operation there would be no assistant to assume control of the car.

The solitary motorman besides has the additional burdens of answering questions of passengers, making change and punching transfers and is actually doing the work required of two men on the standard cars.

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning them Mrs. P. Laforest. St. Nazaire, Que., writes:—"For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to be able to advise other mothers to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE VEGETABLE GARDEN

The Belated Garden.

So many people move in the spring, even where they do not have to, as in Montreal, that the garden work is frequently interfered with. In fact, many feel that after the cares of moving and fixing up the new home it is aoo late to think of manuring and digging and raking and planting. There never was a greater mistake. The only difference is that the things planted will be different.

Nearly everyone is settled by June, and at that time practically all the early vegetables can still be planted. The only difference will be a later crop and a smaller one.

But if you cannot get at your garden for two weeks later, June 5, do not despair. You can still have a good garden.

If you cannot get started till July 1, don't worry, you can still have a garden. It will not be the prize garden of the section, but it will give you a good return for the time and effort spent on it.

It is all a question of choosing the vegetables which will suit the conditions.

The June 1 Garden.

If you get at your garden by the first of June you can have as good a crop as if you had started with the going of the crop, except that those vegetables which require the whole season to mature are better left out. For example, Brussels Sprouts, parsnips, salsify, leeks, etc., hardly justify the space. All the other early vegetables can be planted and will give great results.

The June 15 garden is not quite so good a proposition, and the July-planted one is worse still, but it is a mighty good asset at that. A garden planted as late as July 15 last year in Montreal gave the gardener his fall and winter supply of those vegetables which it was not too late to plant.

A Guide to Late Planting.

As a guide to those who are in this position a list is given below for different dates. Of course, there is no fixed rule in gardening, and the list given will not fit all circumstances. What is intended is a fair guide to the amateur, and from this path he can branch off as he likes when he knows the woods a bit better.

Up to June 1 plant beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, Swiss chard, chives, corn, cucumbers, kohl rabi, lettuce, onions (seed) onions (sets), parsley, peas, potatoes, spinach, pumpkins, squash, leeks, Brussels sprouts, parsnips, radish, tomatoes, turnips.

After June 1 don't plant—Brussels sprouts, leeks, onions (seed), parsnip, salsify, cauliflower seed, round or flat radishes.

After July 1 do not plant—Cabbage, cauliflower, celery, corn, cucumbers, pumpkin, squash.

Of course, this is a very arbitrary division, but if you follow it you won't be far out; bush beans can, of course, be planted later; tomatoes can be set out as late as the 15th; swede turnips can be planted after July 1; but the longer the delay, the drier the soil, and most of the seeds and roots need moisture to urge them along.

The May Frosts.

The frosts of May or early June are the bugbear of the gardener who tries to beat out the season. What can be done to prevent loss from it?

The situation of the garden is frequently not changeable, seldom in the cities. But if there is enough ground to choose the position of the garden, choose a high ground where there is wind. Frost does not settle as a rule where wind sweeps. In the hollows is the worst place, for frost settles there owing to the dead air. Many a tender tomato and cucumber on a hill has pulled through a hard night when its brother in the hollow gave up the ghost.

In the small garden boxes made of any material, stove pipes, newspapers, bags or old cotton, are frequently used. For instance, a few years ago April was so sunny as to bring out the blossoms on the strawberries early in May. Then frost came The bed was covered with newspapers with stones to hold them in place at the corners, and the bed came through four days of frost untouched. It is not the thickness of the covering that does it, any covering at all at that season of the year is almost certain to keep off the frost.

In the large gardens when stuff is grown for the market, fires and flares are often used at night, but this is not practicable for any but the commercial sized lot.

THE MERCHANTS' TROUBLES.

While the public as usual has to pay, nevertheless the new sales taxes announced by Sir Henry Drayton do not make very pleasant reading for the merchants. A study of the regulations indicate that the clerical staffs of business concerns will not have much cause to complain of too little work to do for the collection of the new tax means a vast amount of bookkeeping. The merchants who deal in the various articles set forth in the tariff resolutions are required to make semi-monthly returns of the sales of these articles and of the taxes collected therefrom. Sales receipts will have to be made out in triplicate, one for the customer, one for the dealer and the third for the government, and the same procedure will have to be followed by drivers of delivery vehicles when taxable goods ordered by telephones are being delivered. It is obvious that many merchants will have to employ a larger clerical staff, while the government will need a regiment of inspectors to look after the proper collection of the tax. Some dealers who handle a variety of goods will have a much more difficult task than others, for their goods will have to be classified into two lists, one of which is composed of the articles that are exempt and the other of those that are taxable and there will be more or less confusion on this account.

HELP THE ARMY.

To-day the people of Peterborough are given an opportunity through the medium of a tag day to assist in the Self Denial campaign of the Salvation Army. Peterboorugh's share in the world-wide jubilee canvass was placed at $5,000, of which the members of the local Salvation Army pledged themselves to raise $1,000. During the past week there has been a canvass conducted by a number of public-spirited citizens who appreciate the grand work that is being done by the Salvation Army and who have been doing what they could to make the canvass a success. The result has not been as good as the fine record of the Army merits, but Peterborough has still a chance to make good by a liberal response to-day when tags will be sold on the streets in the culminating effort of the campaign. The complaint is often heard that there are too many tag days—possibly there are, but after all there is no other way in which any cause can be so effectively helped by the community and the burden be so thoroughly distributed as by this medium, which gives every one a chance to help and does not press heavily on any person. There should be a general response to to-day's appeal for the work that the Army has done and is doing is sufficiently appreciated to warrant the belief that the citizens will be glad of this chance to help.

A LITTLE WARNING.

Many local motorists, unconsciously of course and with no intention of doing so, succeed in making a nuisance of themselves when the fire department is answering an alarm, by congesting traffic in the path of the horse apparatus and rendering the danger of an accident very acute. It is their practice as soon as the motor engine passes to swing their cars in behind and dash for the scene of the fire, forgetting that the hook and ladder truck is coming along behind. Firemen complain that the passage of the latter apparatus is often interfered with by the multiplicity of cars hurrying to the fire and it can be readily imagined that with the horses on the run and the heavy apparatus swinging and lurching behind them it is not an easy matter to pilot the ladder truck through a tangle of motor cars. This trouble has been experienced on several runs recently, and it might be well for motor car drivers to know that impeding the fire department is an offence that is covered by a local by-law, carrying with it the penalty of a fine. Most of the drivers who have been guilty of getting in the way have not realized that their actions have been a source of trouble, and this warning will doubtless be sufficient to cause them to abandon the practice. The best course is to wait until all the fire apparatus is past, then follow it to the scene of the blaze. Trying to stick at the rear wheels of the motor engine or to race the other apparatus is a dangerous experiment.

THE COUNCIL'S ACTION.

The City Council is quite justified in using every effort in its power to bring about a settlement of the strike in the Canadian General Electric Company's plant, which is now in its third week. Indeed, the members of the Council would be shirking the responsibility of their position if they did not strive in every way possible to end the present situation. Every day that the strike continues represents a heavy loss not only to the company and to the men who are out of work, but to the whole community, for the set-back caused in business circles by such a large body of men being idle is felt more or less by everyone. If there is any means therefore by which a settlement can be hastened the Council is only doing its duty in endeavouring to hit upon a solution of the problem. At last night's Council meeting it was decided to take advantage of the new section of the Industrial Disputes Act, whereby a Conciliation Board may be demanded by any municipality in the event of a labour dispute. The Minister of Labour is being asked by the Council to appoint such a Board. What the result will be it is too early to prophesy, but the experiment is well worth trying, and it is in the interests of the whole city that any way out that suggests itself should be acted upon. As a result of the strike Peterborouhg has already lost some good citizens who have accepted positions in other cities, and the exodus will undoubtedly grow larger if there is not a satisfactory settlement reached in the near future. Without entering at all into a discussion as to the merits of the case advanced by the parties involved in the dispute, it is a self evident fact that any industrial disturbance that causes the loss of citizens of good calibre is a calamity that every friend of Peterborough should be eager to see ended.

THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND THE COST OF LIVING.

At a hearing before the Board of Conciliation in the Ottawa building strikes matter, figures were quoted as official from the government Labor Department to show that the necessary cost of food for a family of five is at the rate of $1,298 44 a year, and a labor representative figured that on this basis the necessary cost of living is $2,092.44 a year. The statisti cs suggest doubt. As a matter of actual fact, three-quarters of all the manual workers of Canada and a considerable proportion of the professional classes in Canada are not getting $2,092 a year or anything like it, so that the figure mentioned shows that the Dominion Department of Labor, or whoever is regularly getting up the estimate of cost of living is not going upon the actual facts of the case, and the consideration of a necessary minimum, but upon what the Department or the officer who estimates for it thinks should be a comfortable scale of means of expenditure for everybody.

This idea of the Department of Labor would be a nice one if its consequences were confined to theory. As a practical matter, to be quoted before Board of Conciliation and Arbitration as an argument for increased wages, two ominous queries occur, namely, first, what is the possible effect on the whole people, and secondly, is a comfortable means of expenditure, as distinguished from and greater than a necessary minimum, a fair criterion of what workers should be paid?

Taking the second point to begin with, it is a platitude to say that some work is more valuable—more productive—than other work. Also that some work is not worth more to the community in general than a simple livelihood for the work. To fix therefore a liberal scale of expenditure for all workers upon merely the theory that every worker ought to have the money is neither just to the community as a whole, nor just to the more valuable or productive classes of workers, who are entitled to better pay than the less valuable ones, but are not going to get as good pay as they should if inferior classes of workers get more than they are worth.

But the probable big injustice is to the whole people. If the actual productive value of work is not to be the criterion of wages, but somebody's estimate of what will be a comfortable scale of existence and means of expenditure, high above an actually necessary income, then in proportion as the expense of all work is boosted, the cost of all living is boosted too.

The frame of mind which would like to see everybody living generously is an admirable one. But if that frame of mind in the Dominion Department of Labor drives conciliation boards to increase wages on the basis not of productive value but of comparatively generous living, the ultimate influence is an increase o fwages which in turn increases the cost of living, which again in turn renders necessary a new generosity on the part of the Department of Labor, and then another increase in wages, and so on indefinitely, while the mass of the public groans under the squeezes.

Some work is worth more than other work, and the pay of work should be judged that way.—Ottawa Journal.

CARS MUSN'T TURN IN BLOCK CENTRES

MUST PROCEED TO INTERSECTING STREETS—NEW TRAFFIC RULE.

In a letter to the Council last night Sir Adam Beck promised an early report on Peterboro's projected street railway expansions. He regretted the delay in supplying this information stating that important matters had demanded the Commission's attentions.

New Traffic Rule.

Ald. Gordon's suggestion that the Traffic bylaw be amended to require automobiles to turn at street intersections instead of in the centre of block as now carelessly practised was put into effect by bylaw last night.

Water Rate Too High?

H. A. Ferguson wrote that he was paying a water rate of $2.25 for two taps while other citizens were charged only $1.83 for six. He believed he was overcharged and the Utilities Commission will investigate his complaint.

Oppose Council's Power.

The Trades and Labour Council's resolution opposing the system by which the City Council is empowered to elect an alderman to fill a vacancy that occurs in their ranks during the year was referred to the Legal committee.

G.T.R. Shows the Way.

J. D. McMillan, superintendent of the local division of the G.T.R., wrote that the company is conducting a "clean-up" campaign especially on their property in cities and towns. Near the Rink street crossing of the Port Hope line the Canadian Chicle Company had left a number of cement blocks on the railway's right of way. The fence on the east side of the property was also tumbled down in places.

City Clerk Armstrong informed the Mayor that Mr. George Lundy had promised to remove the trespassing blocks.

Mr. McMillan invited the citizens to co-operate with the company in their "clean-up" efforts.

CHAPTER CXXIX.

For once I couldn't sleep, because of my own failure to do what was right. Always it had been the other way round; always some one else had been to blame for my discomfort, my unhappy thoughts.

I'm glad I hadn't time to look for another nurse," I muttered. "And I'm awfully sorry I forgot our anniversary." It was lovely in Everett to plan all that for me. Perhaps he cares more for me than I have thought. Surely he must care a little to go to so much trouble and expense to give me pleasure. My pearls are wonderful. I am so glad he didn't give me sapphires. I wonder if he is beginning to understand I dislike them because Leola always wore them," and so for hours my thoughts ran on.

"Stay in bed, dear," Everett said when he rose. 'It was awfully late when you went to bed, and I have an idea you didn't sleep well. I heard you tossing several times."

"How did you come to expect a woman to sleep the night she first owns such wonderful pearls? I do hope no one steals them," for the first time thoughts of that long-time past robbery of my sapphires coming to me.

"We will take care they are put where a burglar won't find them. One experience of that kind is enough. Now go to sleep." He darkened the room, and kissed me goodbye.

Tears filled my eyes. He had been so kind, had done so much for me the day before; his voice had been so gentle as he bade me go to sleep that I could only weep because of the ache it made in my heart. I SO wanted him to take me in his arms and make a great big fuss over me this once, if he never did it again. Of course I was glad he was kinder, that he treated me with more consideration, but sometimes I used to think I would rather he would beat me if he only showed me some of that passionate love he had given Leola.

Men really are stupid where women are concerned. I have learned that Everett was but a sample of all men in that respect. A few words of love, a real kiss—instead of the peck on the cheek most men give after a short period of married life—a little coddling and fussing over, will make even the strongest-minded New Woman, a man's devoted slave. How much more will it make a young, domestically inclined woman love him? the woman to whom he and her home are her all.

So I wept scalding tears even though I had received kindness and beautiful pearls.

Miss Pierce came in about eleven o'clock with Junior. I had wakened and asked for him. She put my beautiful boy on the bed beside me, and while I played hilariously with him, I thanked her for the interest she had taken in the surprise planned for me.

"I was so glad to be of use. "she replied. "No one could help being happy, Mr. Graham was so like a boy planning to surprise you. He was afraid you would suspect. 'I think you never will realize how pleased we all were when you went driving. It gave us a chance to decorate and do all there was to do without being fearful you would find out what was going on. I think it would have broken Mr. Graham's heart if you had."

"It was all lovely," I said as Hetty brought me a tray with a tempting breakfast. "Wasn't it Hetty?" I asked.

"Indeed it was ma'am." Then timidly: "Would you let me see your pearls? Mrs. Gray says they are so lovely."

"Of course you may see them. They are in the dressing table drawer. The key is in the usual place."

"Oh——!" the long drawn sigh of delight made Marta Pierce and me both laugh.

"Bring them here, Hetty. I'll wear them while I eat my breakfast. I want to get used to them."

She clasped them around my neck They fell down over my nightdress and both girls gasped with delight. Hetty handed me a mirror to look at myself, and I joined them in expressions of enthusiastic admiration of their beauty. They were servants, but for a time we were just three girls together, laughing and chatting until Junior, feeling he had been neglected long enough, clutched the edge of my tray and spilled my coffee. It had become cold while we admired the pearls, so no damage was done.

1,400,000 FRENCH WERE KILLED IN THE WAR

Country Lost 57 Per Cent. of Her Men Under 32 Years of Age.

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, May 19.— What is perhaps the first concise and comprehensive statement of France's war losses has just been made by Captain Andre Tardieu. In describing what he calls "the balance sheet' of France, Capt. Tardieu states that during the five years of war 8,000,000 men were mobilized, of whom 1,400,000 were killed. With those wounded, France lost 57 per cent. of her men under 32 years of age.

Concerning material losses, Captain Tardieu states that 600,000 houses were destroyed, 75,000,000 acres of arable land laid waste, and 3,000 miles of highways and 25,000 miles of highways destroyed. Mines, which produced 55 per cent. of France's total coal output, were damaged or destroyed; 11,500 factories, which before the war produced 95 per cent. of the woollen goods, 90 per cent. of the linen material, 70 per cent. of the sugar, and 60 per cent. of the cotton goods, were crippled.

One third of France's ships were sunk by German submarines.

An English Custom
Becoming Quite Common in Canada

Every country has its national customs and habits.

For instance, England has the custom of serving afternoon tea.

English homes, stores, offices, factories, work shops, hotels and tea rooms serve afternoon tea. It is part of the national life of England.

Our soldiers poked fun at it, but were not long in acquiring the habit.

And they are not giving it up now that they are back home.

They are influencing a more general adoption of afternoon tea in Canada.

To-day this English custom is quite common in Canadian homes.

It is spreading. New tea rooms are opening all over Canada. Hotels are making a specialty of afternoon tea. The habit is invading offices, stores and work shops.

A few minutes rest in the afternoon with a cup of good tea is a wonderful reviver, giving new zest to the busy business man, stenographer, clerk and worker.

Afternoon tea is a good business proposition.

Easily and quickly made. Very inexpensive.

WELL, WOULDN'T YOU?

Clarence Moncure wears dove-colored spats;
He spends hours selecting his neckties and hats;
Keeps his watch on his wrist and his contours incased
In clothing that indicates exquisite taste.
He plays excellent bridge and can dance like a dream,
While at dinners his friends say his line is a scream;
And success for a hostess can't fail to be sure,
If her party is graced by young Clarence Moncure.

Bill Simmons is rawboned and awkward as sin,
But his features are lit by a good honest grin.
He's a bonehead at bridge, and his small talk consists
Of remarks on the weather—and then he desists.
At a dance his manoeuvres resemble a dray,
But he's sweet and obliging, the hostesses say,
And his boss always says Bill is worth any two
Of the rest of his men when there's real work to do.

Now honestly answer, would you rather fill
The spats of Moncure, or the brogans of Bill?
You'd rather be honest Bill Simmons? You lie!
You'd rather be Clarence Moncure. So would I.

SIKH'S SACRED EMBLEMS.

It was recently reported that General Dyer had been presented by the Sikhs with a sacred comb, the quoit and the dagger.

By being presented with these, General Dyer has received what is practically the greatest honour a Sikh can bestow upon any man not of his religion.

When the son of a Sikh himself becomes a Sikh, in other words, when he is admitted to the religion, he is given the comb, dagger and quoit and from the day he receives them he guards his sacred possessions most jealously.

The quoit, of course, is the national weapon of the Sikhs. Men serving in Sikh regiments of the Indian Army wear a small quoit, about four inches in diameter, in front of their turban, but the actual weapon is much larger and heavier, and has a razor-like edge.

The Sikhs have a deadly aim. The quoit is thrown in much the same manner as was the discus in days of old—that is, the thrower gets a firm footing, flings his hand right back, and then brings it suddenly forward, releasing the weapon —and woe betime the unfortunate enemy whose neck gets in the way.

Oily skin and shiny nose

How to correct them

Do you know that the oil in your skin is necessary to keep it smooth, velvety, supple? This oil is constantly being produced by the glands of the skin. When it is too abundant the result is an oily skin and a shiny nose. You can relieve this embarrassing condition by using the following treatment as frequently as is necessary.

With warm water work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap in your hands. Apply it to your face and rub it into the pores thoroughly—always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with warm water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

This treatment will make your skin firmer and drier the very first time you try it. Use it as often as your skin requires, nightly if necessary, and before long you will see a marked improvement.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

INTERESTING ARTICLE BY MR. F. M. DELA FOSSE—CHATS ABOUT BOOKS

As this will conclude the series of talks on books, it may be as well to answer a question which has sometimes been asked, namely, why more attention has not been paid in these articles to new books. The answer is not hard to give. Present-day literature is being reviewed in hundreds of magazines and periodicals, and it is the fault of the public if it does not make itself acquainted with the criticisms of the day. These articles have not aimed at criticising any book. The object has been to bring before the reader a literature of a bygone day in order to show how much we are losing in letting it slip away from our memories. The literature of the last generation was, on the whole, on a much higher plane than the literature of the present. People took more time to think, and the result was a maximum of body with a minimum of froth. If anything were needed to confirm this statement it is to be found in the judgments of eminent writers themselves. Five years ago a round robin from a well-known American periodical was sent to various authors asking them for their opinions on the six best novels in the language. It will be seen from the sum of their joint dicta how many novels of the present day figured in their judgment.

Here are the books:

Robinson Crusoe, Westward Ho! Vanity Fair, Ivanhoe, Lorna Doone, David Copperfield, Tom Jones, Scarlet Letter, Tristram Shandy, Old Wives' Tale, Man of Property, Adam Bede, Anna Karenina, Pendennis, Old Curiosity Shop, Pickwick Papers, Kips, Tono-Bungay, Under Western Eyes, Oliver Twist, Moll Flanders, Roxana, Pamela, Clarissa Harlowe, Sir Charles Grandison, Uncle Tom's Cabin, Cloister and the Hearth, Last Days of Pompeii, Ben Hur, Sentimental Tommy, Peter Ibbetson, Way of All Flesh, March Hares, Guarded Flame, When Valmond Came To, Pontiac, Rob Roy, John Inglesant, Wreckers, Barchester Towers, Moonstone.

Out of that list there are just eight books written by authors now living. Where present-day literature has made a real advance is probably in the line of travel and adventure. Improved modes of locomotion have made the remotest corners of the world more or less accessible to travellers, and the result is seen in the flood of really fine tales of adventure that are offered to the public.

Worth a Dozen.

Mention has already been made in this section of a book entitled "Small-talk at Wreyland." The Saturday Review said of it on its appearance that it was worth a dozen of the silly volumes which now flood the book market. Its chief charm lies in the unexpected turns that succeeding pages take. There is no sustained narrative, but it is full of quaint anecdotes and bits of archaeological lore and glimpses of old-world life and character. Its intensely English atmosphere should make it a favourite with all who love the Motherland or claim it as their birthplace. Not the least interesting part of the book is that which refers to superstitions which are still rife in quiet rural villages and hamlets. It may be a shock to many enlightened minds to be told that a belief in witchcraft is prevalent in many places in England. From my own personal experience, I know that it is also alive in certain out-of-the-way corners of Canada. It is a survival, of course, of the beliefs current in the Old Country, which were brought over by immigrants in years gone by. Several years ago, I was living in the Muskoka district, which had been thrown open only a few years before to settlement. The country was wild and rugged, and a considerable proportion of those early settlers fitted in well with their surroundings. One day, when out hunting, I chanced on a small shanty in the middle of a miserable clearing. As nobody answered my knock at the door, I passed on to the rough log barn, a few yards away. A curious sight greeted me. The wife of the owner of the place was seated in the middle of the floor, engaged in tying a stout rope into knots. She seemed to be muttering a weird sort of incantation. Her face chimed in well with her occupation, for malignancy glowed in every feature. On my astonished query as to what she was doing, she replied that she was engaged in combatting the power of the "evil eye," which was being exercised by a near neighbour, Mrs. O'Halloran, on her cow. She told me that every time she twisted a knot in the rope, the object of her solicitous endeavours would be afflicted with a not too delectable pain in her diaphragm, and she wound up with the venomous ejaculation, "I'll learn her to leave my cow alone." I found out afterwards that her next door neighbour also firmly believed in the power of the "evil eye," as exerted by Mrs. O'Halloran, but that she went about her remedy in a different way. She told me that prayer was the best medium for good results, and that whenever she milked she took her pans to the spring nearby, uttering words of Scripture and praying all the way, and that she had never known the procedure to fail. "Small-talk at Wreyland" tells us that superstitions ideas rule also in regard to medical cures and remedies. One example will suffice. A child having been laid up, the father was asked how it was faring. "Oh," he said, "it be a sight better since we put'n through a tree." Here was another example of carrying out a pagan rite. The father had split an ash-tree and had wedged the hole open with two pieces of oak. He and his wife, at sunrise, took the child there and passed it three times through the tree, from east to west. The mother then took the child home and the father pulled out the pieces of oak and bandaged up the tree. The belief was that as the tree healed the rupture from which the child had been suffering, would heal also.

Poetry suffers a good deal from neglect in Peterborough as elsewhere. I mean the poetry of the celebrated singers. The world would become very blase and uninteresting, I suppose, if we only had a set and limited supply of literature to read and a small background of ideals and formulas of life and conduct to fall back upon. Now writers, even if they do not sing in the glorious cadences of the poets of past days, have, at any rate, a way of telling truths in a way which appeals to the spirit of the day. But is that spirit a good one? There are many thoughtful persons who believe that the present condition of our literature is a striking sign that the race is retrograding, not owing to the decadence of man's mind-power, but to the fact that he has turned his intellect towards greed and money-grubbing. Invention and rapacity are working hand in hand and are producing a state of affairs of which our ancestors had no conception. Mighty empires have perished in the past and some are in the process of passing now. Where will be the use of our wonderful, sky-piercing structures, our enormous fleets, our marts, and our industries—yes, and also of our prided literature—when engines of destruction of stupendous power are being constructed. Unless our Christianity puts a spurt on and magnanimity rules in our hearts rather than on our lips, civilisation will be extinguished, and man will revert to the days of the Troglodytae, and become cave-dwellers and haunters of desert places.

MR. M'MASTER SCORES PSEUDO-LUXURY TAX ON SMALL EARNERS

LIBERAL MEMBER FOR BROME SAYS UNION GOVERNMENT HITS DIRECTYL AT MAN OF LITTLE SALARY OR FIXED INCOME—TAXING CHILDREN'S SPORTING GOODS AND NEGLECTING WAR-MADE WEALTH.

OTTAWA, May 21.—I say that the Government's luxury tax is but a pseudo-luxury tax. It is in reality a tax upon necessaries." This was the opinion expressed by A. R. McMaster, M.P. for Brome, in the course of a vigorous and telling expose of the Borden Government fiscal methods and new budget proposals.

"An excise duty on luxuries," declared the member from Brome, "is a proper thing. But does the minister think for one moment that boots at $9 a pair are luxuries? Does he think that a suit at $45 is a luxury? Why he should know that no man can buy a suit that will wear at anything like that price. If there is any class which deserve consideration by the Government, it is the proletariat, the man with small and fixed income, the salaried man who must dress on a equity with his employer, the man with a big family, and that is the class which is to be hit by this so-called luxury tax."

Poor, Picayune Thing.

"Then," said the member for Brome, "let us take the tax on sporting goods. Surely it is a poor, picayune thing to tax the implements of pleasure, the boy of his skates or baseball, the girl with her skiis, and the Government knows that it won't get much revenue out of such a tax in any case. There is an appropriation in the estimates for the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, but the Government turns around and taxes their bowie knives and other small paraphenalia."

BABY WILTSHIRE.

Too weak to take milk.

256, Francis Road, Leyton.

Dear Sirs,

I wish to thank you for the benefit our baby girl got from Virol. We say Virol saved her life. A fine child at birth, but began wasting at 7 weeks. At 2 months the doctor advised us to try Virol. We had lost all hope of the child living, she was so thin. From 2 to 3 months she lived entirely on Virol, being too weak to take milk; but when she improved we gave her Virol and milk, which she has had ever since, and is a lovely baby now. She sleeps well, and is cutting her teeth fine. This photo was taken when she was twelve months old. She is so bonny and has nine teeth.

Yours truly,

A. M. WILTSHIRE.

Virol increases the power of resistance to the germs of disease, and replaces wasted tissue, it is therefore a valuable food in Measles, Whooping-cough, Infantile Diarrhoea, etc.

ANAEMIA ROBS ITS VICTIMS BY STEALTH

Conditions of Thin Blood That Could Be Corrected Easily Are Stealing the Health and Energy of Many Men and Women, Boys and Girls

Anaemia, which literally means bloodlessness, is one of the most prevalent troubles of the present day. If neglected it is apt to develop into pernicious anaemia, one of the most hopeless diseases. While anaemia attacks men and boys, it is more prevalent among young girls and women and for this reason every woman, particularly every mother, should know how to recognize the signs of this trouble which makes its approach so gradually and so stealthily that it is often far advanced before the nature of the trouble is noticed. One general symptom of anaemia is pallor. The cheeks gradually lose their color, and the lips become pale and white. With this loss of color there come a tendency to fatigue, a palpitation of the heart, and breathlessness after slight exertion, with occasional headaches. In the more severe cases fainting spells frequently occur.

In ordinary anaemic conditions, including the anaemia that affects young girls in their 'teens, Dr. Williams Pink Pills are all the medicine required. Fresh air, sunlight and nourishing food will do the rest. Any woman or girl taking Dr. Williams Pink Pills can tell by the growing redness of her lips that the pills are making her blood rich and red.

Run Down and Nervous.

The effectiveness of this tonic treatment is illustrated in the following case: Mrs. Geo. Arn, R.R. No. 6, Simcoe, Ont., says:—"Some years ago my daughter, then a young girl of eleven, became very much run down and nervous. She was troubled greatly with sick headaches, and frequently with vomiting spells, and although we lived just across the road from the school she was not able to attend. She was taking medicine all this time, but it did not seem to do her any good. I had often read of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and finally decided to give them to her. By the time she had taken two boxes she seemed much better, and before the fifth box was finished, she was again in the best of good health. I am satisfied it was Dr. Williams Pink Pills that brought this about, and I have since seen equally good results in other cases."

Completely Run Down.

Mrs. S. B. Miller, Elmira, Ont., says:—"I look upon Dr. Williams Pink Pills as a family medicine, and have reason to praise them for what they have done in our home. Some years ago, while we were living in Alberta my husband was so completely run down that he was unable to do any work, and even to carry a pail of water would exhaust him. A doctor was called in who said his heart was affected, and that medicine would be of little use to him. This worried me and I finally urged him to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. He began their use and in a short time the swelling in his hands and feet disappeared. We decided to return to Ontario, but the doctor said he could not stand the trip. But the doctor was mistaken, for through the use of the pills, he gained such strength as to be able to look after his harvest, and in a month later we returned to Ontario. My husband still takes a box or two of the pills twice a year, and they keep him in good shape. I have also found the pills good for my growing daughters, and we are never without them in the home."

Pains in the Side.

Given a fair use Dr. Williams Pink Pills put new, rich, red blood into the veins. This new blood reaches every organ and every part of the body, bringing rosy cheeks, brightness to the eyes, strength where formerly was weakness and a wretched state of half health. Among those who have thus benefited is Miss Edna E. Weaver, R. R. No. 1, Chippewa, Ont., who says:—"I was very much run down, weak, nervous and troubled with pains in the side. I tried different medicines, but without any benefit until I began the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Under the use of this medicine I gained strength, had a better appetite, slept better and the pain in my side disappeared. My health has since remained excellent and I advise anyone who is troubled with anaemia or weakness to give Dr. Williams Pink Pills a fair trial."

All Aches and Pains.

Another of the thousands who have found new health and strength through Dr. Williams Pink Pills is Mrs. John Waite, Springfield West, P.E.I., who says:—"No words can convey the blessing Dr. Williams Pink Pills have been to me. I was in a badly run down condition. My blood seemed to have turned into water; my head ached; I was troubled with dizzy spells and would frequently fall down. I slept poorly at night, the least thing would worry me and I simply was a bundle of aches and pains. Doctor's medicine did not do me any good, and then I decided to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Under their use I have regained my health, and feel I owe so much to them that I write this to advise all who are weak or run down to give the pills a good trial."

Felt a Complete Wreck.

Miss Mabel Feeper, Liverpool, N.S., says:—"Before I began the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills I felt like a complete wreck of my former self. My blood was thin and watery; I suffered from faint and dizzy spells, and had headaches almost every day. I was taking doctor's medicine, but it was not helping me and at this time I was learning my trade as a tailoress, and was forced through my illness to give up work. After reading an advertisement of Dr. Williams Pink Pills one day I decided to give the pills a trial. After taking two boxes I felt that I was being benefited, and continued their use until I was fully restored to health. The pills certainly did wonders for me, and I cannot recommend them too highly."

Build up the Blood.

The purpose of Dr. Williams Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after-effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug, and cannot injure the most delicate system. You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Voiles, as Lovely as the Summer Days for Which They Are Intended

There will be less laundering this season if the present vogue for dark colored voiles holds good. They are certainly blessed with much beauty and enlivened with bright hues. The designs are entirely novel and there is a distinctiveness that is theirs alone. If you inspected our stock a few weeks ago you will find it quite different now. It is constantly changing.

Evidences of Carelessness Are to Be Seen on Every Paved Sidewalk in Every City

Imprints of Boots mark the place where someone stepped on the soft cement without thinking.

In operating a Store, it is easy to make a bad impression that will last as long as the Store itself. This establishment never wilfully offends its patrons, and does its utmost to eliminate carelessness.

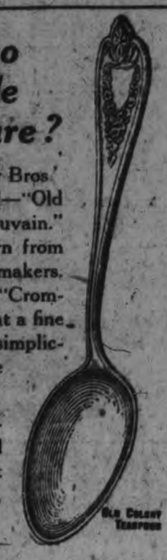
Will Your Gift to the June Bride Be Silverware?

Three beautiful "1847 Roger Bros." designs that are greatly favored—"Old Colony," "Cromwell," and "Louvain." The latter is the latest pattern from the factory of these famous makers. It is somewhat similar to the "Cromwell," the difference being that a fine leaf design relieves the severe simplicity that is characteristic of the "Cromwell".

"1847 Rogers Bros." Silverware has been tested and found worthy as a good investment for more than seventy years. It is attractive and will last.



If You Give Her a Hoover Electric Suction Sweeper

you give her the only combined Electric Carpet Beater, Electric Carpet Sweeper, and Electric Carpet Cleaner on the market—and a nap straightener, a colour brightener, and a rug life prolonger besides. That is why the "HOOVER" enjoys such great popularity—because it is more than a Vacuum Cleaner.

Embroidered Voiles

They are fine in quality and beautiful in colour and pattern. The Embroidery is a tiny little sprig or spray distributed not too closely on the material. You have choice of the following colour combinations: Red on Navy, Rose on Slate, White on Reseda Green, Green on Sky, Light Grey on Dark Grey, and Pink on Pink. They are 38 to 40 inches wide, and priced at $1.75 yard.

A Fine Display of the Season's Novelty "Mystery Voiles"

They have beautiful shaded grounds and floral shadow patterns, that commence with a decided color and then gradually tone away until lost in the ground work.

One with a Pink ground has an irregular shaped square that is half Black and half Grey. It is about three inches in size. Price $1.75 yard.

The same in Light Blue.

Another pleasing effect is a Navy ground with an all-over floral pattern that shows trailing vines and large roses, subdued with shadings. Here and there you will find a little Heliotrope intermingled. The price is $1.75 yard.

The same in Grey and Black, and also Light Blue with Rose, Black and Helio.

Plaid Stripe Skirtings

There are Tans, Fawns, Grey, Green and Blue. The stripes and checks are tiny Crepe lines that are quite pleasing. They are very new, and priced at $1.85 yard.

Scalloped Tea Napkins

We have had many inquiries for these Napkins, and have just now succeeded in securing a shipment. They are 12 inches square, and have scalloped edges and embroidered corners. Priced at $7.75 and $9.00 dozen.

Damask Tea Serviettes, 15 inches square, with hemstitched edges and fleur de lis and poppy patterns. They are priced at $7.10 dozen.

SEE BEST CIRCUS HORSES WITH SPARKS THREE-RING CIRCUS.

Lovers of horses will find unusual delight in the horses of the Sparks Circus, which is coming to Peterborough on Tuesday, June 1st. The general collection is unusually fine even for organizations that make a specialty of beautful and well trained wonders, but no where before has such horses as those that are ridden by the equestriennes who do the artistic riding. There's a reason.

The Sparks Dancing Horses havee been taught every conceivable gait known in the worl of equestrianism. Horses that dance the one, two and three step, tango and more modern shimmy are among the members of this noted stable. In addition to the dancing horses, three groups of statue horses and dogs in a series of classic poses are also a feature of this great circus. Then too, there is Caesar, champion high jumper of the world, who will be seen ot each performance in an attempt to lower his own record of 7 ft. 4 inches. He will be ridden by Miss Minnie Thompson, America's greatest horse woman and a well known figure at the New York, Boston and Chicago Horse Shows. . .

FRIENDS NOTICE A BIG CHANGE IN HER

"I FEEL STRONGER THAN I EVER DID," SAYS TORONTO WOMAN—TANLAC PROVES MERIT.

Still another highly esteemed Toronto woman relates her remarkable experience with Tanlac. This time it is Mrs. A. G. Blissengen, residing at 215 Jarvis street.

"My friends, who used to sympathise with me on account of my poor health are now congratulating me on how healthy and well I look," said Mrs. Blissengen recently. "Tanlac surely must be the grandest medicine in the world. At the time I began taking it I only weighed one hundred and twenty-four pounds and now I weigh one hundred and sixty-six.

"About two years ago I began suffering from what is commonly called a general run-down condition. My appetite left me and my stomach was so weak and upset that I could not eat a thing without feeling nauseated afterwards. In spite of all that I could do I kept losing weight. I felt tired out all the time and finally got so weak I simply had to stop trying to do my housework. I went to the country but after spending some time there I came back home feeling as bad as ever if not worse. Then I tried more medicines but it seemed that the harder I tried to get well the worse I got.

"Passing by a drug store one day I happened to notice the Tanlac display in the window so I went in and bought a bottle and the first two or three doses helped me. Soon my appetite had a new start and my digestion began to lose its grip. By the time that my first bottle was gone I was sleeping better and felt more rested and refreshed in getting up in the mornings. Then I bought another which made such a great difference in my condition that I bought another, and so on until now I am like an entirely different person. My appetite is so keen that I can hardly get enough to satisfy me and every sign of indigestion has left me. I am actually weighing 31 pounds more than I did even when my trouble started two years ago. I am feeling stronger than I ever did and have never felt finer in my life. Tanlac has given me such excellent health, and I feel so grateful for it that I can't help but think of others who need it like I did and I wish that I would tell them personally about it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

King George is giving a great deal of attention to the hunt now going on throughout his kingdom for tall men who are all the better the more inches they are above six feet. There are only 18 left of the 200 who constituted the grenadier guards before the war, and there is a steady hunt for men to bring up the strength of his body guard.

Just a Few Words to the Young People

MADAME LAMBERT TELLS THEM TO USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

To Prolong Their Health and Strength—She Has Used Dodd's Kidney Pills with Entire Satisfaction.

Lyster Station, Megantic Co., Que., May 21. (Special)—Among those who testify to the benefit received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills none is more enthusiastic than Madame Frederic Lambert, a well-known resident here.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me both relief and satisfaction," Mrs. Lambert states. "For two years I suffered from kidney disease, which greatly enfeebled me. I tried other treatments from time to time, but without success.

"Having read much about Dodd's Kidney Pills, I decided to give them a trial. I bought four boxes and the result was to my entire satisfaction.

"I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to young persons to prolong their health and strength."

Madame Lambert speaks especially to the young, but Dodd's Kidney Pills have been used by young and old who have suffered from sick kidneys and the diseases that spring from sick kidneys. The results they have given are their claim to popularity with the Canadian public.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the standard remedy for kidney trouble.

HOME MADE CAKE.

The other day a man of the "old maid" type entered a downtown bakery, relates the Indianapolis News. He announced his intention of buying a cake. One after another the obliging saleslady showed him, only to be told that this one was "too coarse," this one "too yellow,' and the others wrong in some way or another. "What I want," he finally said, "Is an honest-to-God home-made cake. I don't mind the price, just so I get the cake." "Then if you dont' mind the price," retorted the weary saleslady, "why don't you get married, and have a wife to make you one?"

PEARL WHITE

A good deal has been written lately about Pearl White, the movie thriller, for it is as impossible for popular film stars to avoid publicity as it is for actresses on the stage, but not many people know that a chance visit to a lonely log cabin had much to do with her choice of profession—or rather with her parents' choice. Miss White was born in a remote district in Missouri, of Irish-Italian parents. Her first home was a small log cabin at the foot of the Ozark Mountains. Visitors from the outer world were rare, and the principal callers of the lonely homestead were Indian trappers, who brought their skins and furs to her father for sale or exchange. But one day a new sort of visitor turned up—a travelling showman. Little Pearl was only five years old at the time, but the showman had a practised eye and he remarked her beauty and professional possibilities. He spoke to her parents, and it was through his persuasion that they decided on acting as her career. Had not the travelling showman passed that way, Pearl White might have adopted some other vocation, and the film would have lost one of its brightest stars.

A cheque for $3,000.00 was received to-day from the Vancouver Defence Fund.

10 Years of Eczema —A Sample Cured Her

Are you reading the weekly Canadian letters, telling stories of suffering from skin diseases and how cure was effected?

Here is part of a letter from Mrs. Henry Harvey, Black Lake, Que. Write her if you desire.

"Ten years of eczema on the face. Treated unavailingly by doctors. A sample alone of D. D. D. cured me, etc."

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. When a prescription for skin disease has letters of cure and endorsement from nearly every city and town in the Dominion, surely it is enough to convince the most skeptical.

Relief from itching torment is immediate. Just try one bottle of D. D. D. today on our positive guarantee. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D. soap, too.

APPEAL TO ROBERTSON

COUNCIL SENDS APPLICATION TO MINISTER OF LABOUR TO APPOINT BOARD OF CONCILIATION.

FOR C.G.E. STRIKE

An application requesting the Minister of Labour to appoint a board of conciliation to mediate in the C. G.E. strike was embodied in a by-law passed by the Council last night a copy of which City Clerk Armstrong was instructed to forward at once to Senator Robertson.

Introducing the bylaw and the merely formal resolution conveying the same petition, a copy of which will also be sent to the Minister of Labour, Ald. Gordon stated that the reason the City Council was interested in the C.G.E. strike and its settlement was because the company would receive under the fixed assessment bylaw which the citizens had indorsed over one million dollars from the City of Peterboro which the ratepayers had to put up, and therefore this strike came within the scope of the recent amendment to the Industrial Disputes Act. Under such condition this Board may be applied for on the initiative of the Mayor without a request from either the employees or the employer between whom a dispute has arisen.

A second reason was that every ratepayer is directly interested, the employees and business and merchants in particular. Therefore the people have a direct financial interest. The Mayor, Ald. Whitehouse and myself put it up to Senator Nicholls to agree to a board of conciliation on the minimum wage question but he said he would not consider it."

Ald. Gordon said he believed the strike was injuring Peterboro and would continue to injure it. A manufacturer wouldn't want to come here with such conditions existing. They affected the Raybestos bylaw vote," Ald. Gordon said.

He referred to Ald. Whitehouse's persistance in trying to persuade Senator Nicholls to assent to a board of conciliation in order that a serious and amicable effort might be made to settle the strike.

Ald. Whitehouse Disappointed.

"I want to express my disappointment in having to bring this matter before the Council" Ald. Whitehouse said in seconding Ald. Gordon's motion. "I found Mr. Harper and the other members of the machinists' committee willing to deal in a fair and courteous manner. I was disappointed that the agreement reached between Mr. Patterson and Mr. Harper was not adopted. We expected at least to have some co-operation from Senator Nicholls and his management in Toronto.

I felt that it was essential Mr. Harper should be present at that interview because our members were not acquainted with conditions and questions which might come up and which we wouldn't be able to answer. My pleading with Senator Nicholls was not gratified and the interview was anything but satisfactory. Senator Nicholls left the impression that he didn't want our interference and would not be dictated to by any party or parties"

Ald. Whitehouse considered the demands of the men reasonable. The minimum wage they were asking for was not excesive. They were of the average paid throughout the province. In Montreal the Vickers shipyard and the Canada car company were paying a minimum wage of 80 cents to their machinists. Two Brantford firms he quoted paid the same rate and another 75 cents. Toronto companies were cited paying 90 cents, and Brantford 85 and 90 cents. Others could be quoted from the list, Ald. Whitehouse added.

"I feel that the demands of the men are just," Ald. Whitehouse concluded. "I am disappointed in viewof the fact that Peterboro has given concessions to the C.G.E. company. We were entitled to more consideration than we received from Senator Nicholls."

A representative of a Hamilton company was now in the city trying to induce some of the machinists to go there to work. Mayor McIntyre briefly summarized the interview with Senator Nicholls and deplored the failure to gain his approval of the proposed board of conciliation to which the dispute could be referred.

It has been stated that the intermediary board Senator Robertson has been asked to appoint lacks the authority to enforce its recommendations or finding. It is hoped, however, that it may lead the way to a settlement.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who Are Just Ready to Drop

Vinol Will Enrich the Blood and Create Strength

Physicians Recommend It and Druggists Guarantee It

Many women act as though they just wonder how they are going to get through this trying season and do their work. They may be overworked, or influenza or a chronic cold or some sickness has left them flat—McKinn Co. readers 1472 without strength or ambition, and thin, nervous and devitalized.

If such women only knew what VINOL, our non-secret cod liver, iron and hypophosphite tonic will do for them we would not be able to get enough to supply the demand.

In a natural manner it creates a hearty appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood with thousands of red corpuscles, creates strength, and the system is filled with renewed vigor.

Do not let any druggist sell you a substitute for VINOL, as there is nothing like it, so nothing else will do.

BY AEROPLANE TO PARIS.

A distinctly novel attraction has now been provided in the C.P.R. office windows at Charing Cross, an attraction which has been much admired by the crowds who have gathered to make inspection. The fine windows usually devoted to the exhibition of things Canadian is being occupied by an excellent model aerodrome of the Aircraft Transport and Travel, Limited, at Hendon, together with scientifically accurate models of various types of aeroplanes and airships.

Such a display in a railway and shipping office may seem rather unusual at first sight, but is really a sign of the times, also marking much enterprise on the part of the Dominion Express Company of Canada. Realising the importance of maintaining a really "Express" service, if its name is still to be justified, the Dominion Express Company, the premier Express Company in Canada, made arrangements to act as Passenger and Parcels Agents for the Aircraft Transport and Travel Limited on their London-Paris daily air service.

It is thus possible for either passengers or parcels to be booked for conveyance by aeroplane to or from London and Paris through any of the Dominion Express Company's offices in Europe, and these, in addition to London are to be found in important cities such as Liverpool, Glasgow, Manchester, Birmingham, Bristol and Paris.

The advantages of this arrangement are many, for the Dominion Express, holding as it does the exclusive right of shipping Express parcels over the entire C.P.R. system, as agents for the Aeroplane Service can ensure that an Express package scheduled to catch a certain ship actually reached its destination in Canada in the shortest possible space of time. As time is money nowadays, more than ever it was, it is easy to realise what an important adjunct an Air Service is to an Express Company.

The time-table shows that only 2¼ hours is occupied on the journey to or from London and Paris—urgent letters are carried at 2 shillings and 6 pence per ounce over the ordinary letter rate.

Parcels for delivery in Paris on the same day have to be handed in at the London office of the Dominion Express Company, 62-65, Charing Cross, London, S.W., before 10.30 a.m. The parcels rates range from 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. per lb. according to quantity, while special rates are quoted for large and regular consignments. The single fare for passengers is 15 guineas which includes a car to convey the passenger to Hounslow, the starting point. The Dominion Express Company's officials at Charing Cross have every reason to believe that a large proportion of Canadian visitors to Europe this year will take advantage of the ease with which it is now possible to book seats for a real flying visit to the Continent through their office. In fact, if they so wish, a motor car can pick them up in Trafalgar Square, and in under three hours they can be walking along the Champs Elysees.

Sir Harry Lauder arrived in England the other day after an extended tour in Australia, the United States and Canada, and leaves almost immediately for a three months' trip in South Africa, which he will visit for the first time. He reported himself in the very best of health, a fact which he attributed to his simple living, his fondness for work, and his even temper. He said: "I like to whistle when I'm putting on my kilts in the morning, and I'm very easy tempered." Such a recipe for good health would be worth trying if some of us did not find it so difficult.

FAILED TO MAKE PROPER RETURNS

COST ONE OF ACCUSED $600—FIRST PROSECUTION IN CORNWALL.

(Special to Examiner.)

CORNWALL, ONT., May 22.—The first prosecutions in this section for failure to make returns for 1918 under the income war tax act were heard before Police Magistrate Danis in the Cornwall Police Court yesterday afternoon. The prosecutions were in charge of W. F. Scott, of Ottawa, one of the solicitors of the Ottawa District who was accompanied by A. H. Maynard, auditor of the Department. Eleven cases were up for hearing. None of the accused were local residents all being farmers or merchants from neighboring townships. One of the accused has been out of the country since November 1917 another has been dead for over a year and two of the cases were withdrawn by Mr. Scott of the other seven cases all were convictions but in six of them the Magistrate reserved sentence for a week while in the seventh, a fine of $600 and costs was imposed.

WITH FINGERS!

CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off—

Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

THE DOURO COUNCIL MEETING

Minutes of Douro Council Meeting held May 10th:

The members of Douro Council met at the Town Hall, Douro, on Monday, May 10th pursuant to adjournment.

On motion the minutes of last meeting were read and adopted.

By-law 884 authorizing the Reeve and Treasurer to borrow certain sums as required for school and township purposes; and By-law No. 885 appointing Patrick McMurray a member of the Board of Health were passed.

The following accounts were passed, viz:—J. B. Fraser, salary as Medical Officer of Health for 1919, $20.00; Clerk, postage, $5.00; W. E. Brooks, overcharge of statute labor, $6.40; P. G. Lowns, spikes for culvert, 50c; Wm. Quinlan, shovelling snow, $3.00.

Moved by G. Graham, seconded by Wm. Quinlan, that the Clerk get an increase of $50.00 in salary and that this resolution be signed and sealed by the proper authorities to give it the force of a By-law. (Carried.)

Moved by R. Moloney, seconded by W. Quinlan, that the Collector be authorized to collect the balance of taxes for 1919 forthwith. (Carried.)

Council adjourned to meet as a Court of Revision on Monday, May 31st, at ten o'clock a.m.

RECORD FOR TRADE FLIERS.

French Aeroplanes Covered 81,707 Miles in Three Months.

PARIS, May 22.—Commercial aviation is developing rapidly in France, according to a statement issued here by the Government Air Navigation Service, covering the activities of three months of 1920. Lines now connect Paris with London, Toulouse with Rabat, Morocco, and Toulouse with Bordeaux.

According to the statement, a total distance of 81,707 miles was covered by planes plying between these points. One hundred and one passengers were carried, as well as 5,700 pounds of freight and 402 pounds of letters. These totals do not include the freight and mail carried between Toulouse and Bordeaux.

Between Paris and London 76 trips were made over a total distance of 18,970 miles, 41 passengers being carried, in addition to 4,570 pounds of freight and 182 pounds of letters. Over the Toulouse-Rabat line, the total distance covered in 47 trips was 52,962 miles. Forty passengers were carried; 950 pounds of freight and 220 pounds of letters were transported. Between Toulouse and Bordeaux 9,775 miles were covered and 20 passengers carried.

EELS INTERUPTED LIGHTING SERVICE

Havelock Standard — The electric lights were exceedingly dim for a few nights, and on Saturday night they were almost invisible. Dozens of eels were removed from the wheel on Sunday, and consequently the lights on Sunday night were back to their old brilliance.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM SUGGESTS A NEW PARTY NAME

WILL PERPETUATE THE UNIONIST PARTY IF RENAMED "PEOPLE'S PARTY."

OTTAWA, May 22.— It is quite clear as the Budget debate proceeds that those who call themselves Unionists, at least the great majority of them, are preparing to sink or swim under the present banner. J. H. Burnham, member for West Peterborough, an admittedly strong Conservative and protectionist of former years, declared here that he was willing to sacrifice much to perpetuate the Unionist party. But he wanted it to change its name. He suggested "People's party," and he claimed that the Budget policy had given it birth.

People's Party Born.

"Here is a new and a great policy and a great party that has discarded for once its old partisan name in order that it may impress all forms of thought; in order that it may offend no one, but may secure without any invidiousness the support of every man who thinks well of the proposals laid down before him," he declared.

RE-DECORATING G.T.R. STATION

The exterior of the G.T.R. station is being redecorated by the company painters and already a marked improvement can be noticed. The station will be finished in the same shade as formerly—a dark maroon—and the repainting will add materially to create a good impression of Peterboro to travellers passing through the city.

Superintendent Harrison, of the Ontario Division of the Canadian National Railways passed through on the G.T.R. to-day en route to Kinmount to inspect the I.B.O. branch.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

A great deal of interest is being taken in the campaign for swimmers at the Young Women's Christian Association. "Every girl a swimmer" is the slogan and the teams are doing their best to make this come true At present Miss Helen Metherel's team is ahead, but the others are close behind. Some people do not seem to realize that they can start to learn to swim at any time. It is never necessary to wait until a new class starts. But the very best time to begin is right now.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. AMEDEE GARCEAU

32 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1918, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician.

I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again.

I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives', as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

MORE WHEAT IN U.S. ELEVATORS THAN IN SPRING OF 1919

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Lack of transportation prevented the liquidation of a large part of last year's wheat crop in the United States and threatens delay in movement of the crop soon to be harvested, grain dealers from the southwest and northwest declared here at a conference called by Julius H. Barnes, head of the United States Grain Corporation, to discuss plans for meeting the situation to result from termination of Government control, June 1.

Dealers said that cars for movement of grain must be furnished on a perferential bases, if distress was to be avoided in the wheat belt.

Twenty per cent. of last year's wheat crop still is held on farms in many localities while elevators in grains centers are filled the dealers said.

Mr. Barnes said the conference was not called to discuss further regulation of prices as he was convinced that Government control should be injected into the field of individual initiative only during war. He predicted that difficulties would prevent the ready reinstatement of pre-war commercial practices, but said that further Government control in peace-time trades was too high a price to pay for the solution of these difficulties.

The wheat director said he was not alarmed about the country's future bread supply. Predictions of $40 flour and twenty-five cent bread, he said, were without justification. Current weekly farms deliveries run almost three times those of a year ago, he said, while elevators and mills held 127,000,000 bushels of wheat, as compared with 95,000,000 a year ago.

Transfer of Coal Cars.

Transfer of 20,000 box cars from eastern territory to lines west of Chicago and a corresponding movement of 30,000 coal cars from the west to the east, was recommended to the Inter-State Commerce Commission yeserday by a committee of railroad executives as an important necessity toward breaking the freight jam.

Views of the executives will be considered and a decision reached "as soon as the complexity of the question permits," a statement from the commission said. It also was suggested that prority movement should be accorded this re-location of equipment, which, however, was said to be going forward now as rapidly as possible.

RETAILERS ARE AFTER THE WHOLESALERS NOW

BIG NEW YORK STORES REFUSE TO BUY TILL PRICES ARE CUT.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, May 22. — The price cutting movement here reached some of the wholesalers, when managers and buyers of prominent department stores announced their establishments would refuse to purchase from jobbers until substantial reductions were made. The department stores which claim to offer reductions from 15 to 50 per cent. now demand that wholesalers make concessions to them.

An official of one of the largest department stores with branches in six cities, said: "We are not buying future stocks now and will not until manufacturers and wholesalers come down with their prices. Normally we buy $750,000 of furs on our initial purchase. So far we have refused to purchase a single piece."

Similar statements were made by oficials of other stores.

Some representative wholesalers of wearing apparel said they believed the price cutting movement throughout the country to be artificial and uneconomic, asserting that it has stimulated buying without a corresponding increase in production and a reaction is bound to come.

STOLE JAIL'S POTATOES WHILE GUARDS PACED WALLS

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, May 22.—Wednesday night, while armed guards paced the walls of Bordeaux Jail, so that the inmates might be in safe keeping, thieves sneaked up to a small shed in which is stored the jail's supply of vegetables and stole one hundred bags of potatoes. A hue and cry was immediately raised and many residents in the vicinity, thinking that some dangerous criminal had escaped, took to cover. In order to steal the potatoes a wagon or some other vehicle must have been used, and the police are doing their best to apprehend the villians who would deprive their fellow-criminals of one of the necessaries of life.

Saves Fuel and Food

The continued high cost of foodstuffs and household supplies require the strictest economy.

The most expensive foodstuffs are used in baking, so always be careful to use the right kind of Baking Powder, otherwise great waste may result.

Many thousands of people recommend

EGG-O Baking Powder

because it effects the greatest economy.

Its double action absolutely assures perfect baking at all times.

Egg-O also helps save fuel because it does not require so hot an oven as is required by other powders.

Always follow the directions—one level teaspoonful to one level cup of well sifted flour. You use from a quarter to a half less powder when you use Egg-O.

When buying Egg-O the larger tins are the most economical size for family use.

Ten years without a corn

Countless people boast that record now.

Years ago they started using Blue-jay. Never since has a corn pained twice. And never has a corn stayed a week.

You can quickly prove that corns are needless. Millions have already done it.

Think what it means.

No more paring, no more pain, no more unsightly pads. Dainty shoes without unhappy hours.

Apply a touch of liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster.

The corn pain will end. And soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.

The action is gentle but sure. Blue-jay is the scientific method, created by this world-famed laboratory.

It is not like the methods which are harsh and crude.

Try Blue-jay on one corn. Buy it tonight from your druggist. Live the rest of your life without corns.

A DAY OF BATTLES

May 6th seems to have been notable for battles in the past. On that day in 1097 the Crusaders were repulsed by the Turks in an assault on Nicorea with severe loss; and in 1183 the troops of the great Saladin—after an eight days' siege — stormed and captured the strong city of Amid from the Christians. In 1429 the French under Joan of Arc, defeated the English before Orleans, and the next day the Duke of Bedford raised the siege of the city.

On 6th May, 1527, Charles, Duke of Bourbon, was slain in the storming of Rome, which city was given up to all the horrors of pillage by his victorious troops. In 1589, the English, under Sir John Norris, defeated the Spaniards under the Comte de Andrada at Puente de Burgos, after a short but sharp conflict, in which their Royal Standard, bearing the arms of Castile and Leon, was captured.

In 1622 the Palatine troops, under George Frederick Maagave, of Baden Durlach, were totally defeated at Wimpfen, after a well-fought battle by the Imperialists, under Count Tilly and Gonsalisco de Cordova. In 1644 the Parliamentary Army under the Earl of Manchester, stormed and captured Lincoln from the Cavaliers. In 1742 Frederick the Great defeated the Austrians with heavy loss at Chotersitz. In 1753 Major Lawrence relieved the British garrison of Trichinonoly. In 1757 there was fought one of the most obstinate and sanguinary battles of the eighteenth century, between the Prussians under Frederick the Great, and the Austrians under Prince Charles of Lorraine and Marshal Brown (who was killed) at Prague. In 1780 the British under Col. Tarleton, surprised and defeated the Americans on the Santee. In 1783, the Myroseans were defeated by the British, near Mangalore, under Col. Campbell. In 1800, the Austrians under General Kray, were defeated by the French under General Moreau.

In 1807 the French stormed and captured the Kalk Redoubt and also the redoubts of the Holmlohe, Dantzic. In 1827 the Turks under Reschid Pasha defeated the last field army of the Greeks. In 1848 the Sardinians under King Charles Albert, were defeated by the Austrians under Marshal Radstoke at St. Lucia, near Verona. In 1858 Sir Colin Campbell captured Bareilly from the rebel Sepoys. In 1854 indecisive fighting took place in the wilderness between the Federals, under General U. S. Grant, and the Confederates under General Robert Lee. In 1897 the Greeks were defeated near Pharsalia by the Turks under Edham Pasha. In 1915 desperate fighting took place on the Gallipoli Peninsula at Baba Tepe between the British and Turks.

SALT RHEUM FOR FIVE YEARS

On Face, Arms and Hands. Cuticura Heals.

"I have had salt rheum for the past five years. My face, arms, and hands broke out all over in rough scaly patches so that you could hardly put your finger where there was not a patch. I got so I could not sleep at night.

"Seeing Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised I thought I would give them a trial, and after using a full-sized box of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Thomas Hogan, Essex Junction, Vt., Dec. 18, 1918.

Successful Complexions Renewing Treatment

A treatment for sallow, muddy, freckled or blotchy complexions that is always successful is the nightly application of ordinary mercolized wax for from one to two weeks. This method is sure to succeed for the simple reason that it literally takes off and discards the old complexion. The wax possesses the peculiar property of absorbing the worn-out, faded or discolored surface skin, with all its imperfections. This is done so gradually, the skin coming off a little each day, in fine, almost invisible particles, that no inconveniece or discomfort is experienced—and the most careful observer cannot detect the use of this treatment.

The mercolized wax, which can be had at any drug store, is applied the same as cold cream, but not rubbed in, and washed off in the morning. The new complexion produced in this way, exhibiting the true beauty of health, is not to be compared with the kind made by cosmetics.

STRIKE FOR MORE WORK.

Michigan Students Demand a Ten-Hour Day of Manual Labor.

HOUGTON, Mich.—Workmen engaged in razing the ruins of the burned chemistry building at the Michigan College of Mines struck for more work. They demanded a 10-hour working day. The time was limited to eight hours.

The strike, which involved thirty-five men, has been compromised. The laborers are to be permitted nine hours daily employment.

Incidentally the thirty-five were students. They volunteered to occupy their spring vacation period at 44 cents an hour.

When the work was stopped at 4 p.m. on the afternoon of the first day, by the decree of President McNair, there was a loud protest.

T. E. Richards, assistant professor of mechancial engineering, "boss" on the job, persuaded the "hands" to return to work the following morning, promising arbitration. He was compelled to report that Dr. McNair stood firm.

"All right," was the reply, "no ten hours no work, that's all."

Dr. McNair was compelled to compromise. He gave an hour, the laborers gave another.

"I considered eight hours enough for students to put in at manual labour," Dr. McNair said. "I think so yet, but the students disagree with me."

The crew has earned $3.96 a day each all week.—Detroit News.

All nature at the present time
Is beautiful and fair—
But sordid man, with groveling soul,
He does not seem to care.

He does not hear the birds' sweet song—
His mind is set on pelf;
His thoughts are not of Nature's God,
He thinks but of himself.

But may our thoughts take higher flight

Constipation, Piles and Stomach Ills Can be Cured by Internal Bathing.

Constipation is the cause of most of the ills common to people now-a-days. It comes mostly from neglect in not heeding the signs which nature has been trying to give us that everything is not right within. Stomach ills, headache, loss of appetite, impure blood, rheumatism, piles, pain in the back, lack of energy and sleeplessness are in most cases due to imperfect elimination or constipation. To be healthy all the time you must be clean inside and the J. B. L. Cascade, used with pure sterilized water is the only perfect appliance ever devised for this purpose. It is easy and pleasant to use and any member of the family can be benefited by its use.

When the system is kept clean there is no chance for germs to lodge and the many ills easily contracted under other circumstances will be avoided. Thousands of Canadians have been restored to perfect health by the J. B. L. Cascade If you don't feel well all the time just try Internal Bathing. Then you will appreciate the advantages it has over any other means of restoring your health. Pills are dangerous. Don't be continually taking medicine for constipation. Bathe internally.

The J. B. L. Cascade is now being used in thousands of Canadian homes all of whom appreciate its wonderful value. It is being shown and explained by the Warne Drug Co., who will be pleased to give you a wonderful and instructive book by Dr. Charles A. Tyrell, called "The What, the Why, the Way of Internal Bathing." Ask for it to-day.

TO NAME MILK COMMISSION TO REPRESENT ALL CLASSES

Manning Doherty will announce next week the names of the five men who will compose the permanent commission for investigating milk production. Some time ago the Milk Producers Association requested the Minister of Agriculture to appoint a commission to find out whether profiteering is going on in any branch of the milk business. The Minister evolved the idea himself of apointing a body to keep in touch with the cost of production and market prices.

Three members of the commission will be E. H. Archibald, Dominion Department of Agriculture; Prof. Leitch, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; and R. F. Hicks. Two others, to represent the distributors and the consumers, are to be appointed.

RECOVERY IS RAPID IN THE PIAVE REGION

NOT A TRACE OF A TRENCH OR SHELL HOLE IS NOW TO BE SEEN.

TREVISO, Italy, May 22.—A trip of about 100 miles through the Piave region revealed the extraordinary manner in whinh that territory, which was under heavy bombardment for over a year, is recuperating. Not a trace of the trench or shell hole is to be seen. The farm land has been cleared of all the debris and every square foot of it is under cultivation. The pepole have come back and are working feverishly. Business is carried on the same as before the war with the exception that most of it is done outdoors, in wooden shacks or under tents.

Some of the towns, such as San Dona, on the Piave, give you the impression of being in the midst of a very busy country fair. People buy and sell in the open air and seem unmindful of the fact that many of the houses around them are still in ruins. The correspondent saw even a young man proposing to his sweetheart in a little clearing in the midst of piles of debris which was being used as a sitting room. The unintentional intrusion startled the young lover and made the youth drop the ring he was about to place on the girl's finger.

The extent of the devastated zone in the Venetian provinces is of about 5,000 square miles and 350 towns were entirely or partially destroyed. Of the 75,000 houses badly damaged by shell fire one-fourth were so completely razed that several disputes have arisen among the owners as to the location of their sites. Nearly 1,000 schoolhouses and 332 churches were destroyed. The total damage done to buildings of various kinds have been estimated at 15,000,000,000 lire.

For almost every house destroyed, especially in the rural districts, a respectable looking wooden shack has been put up temporarily by the Government. An interesting feature in the reconstruction of these buildings is that the walls are not built two or three feet thick, as they were before the war, but thin, in the American fashion, as was remarked by a local architect. This reduction in the walls makes it possible to rebuild the house with the stones derived from the debris on the premises.

For the reconstruction of necessary works, such as railroads, electric plants, mills, canals and aqueducts, the Government has already spent 500,000,000 lire. Through the Federal Institute of Credit the Government has also distributed 200,000,000 lire to private citizens whose property was destroyed and who are entitled to an indemnity equal to the value of the property before the war. The same Federal Institute has set aside 1700,000,000 lire for the acquisition of cattle, horses and sheep to be distributed among the farmers to replace the animals they lost in the war.

Signor Nava, Minister of State for the Liberated Provinces, declared recently that as regards the reconstruction of devastated regions Italy is at the head of all nations damaged by the war. After seeing what is being done along the Piave one is inclined to agree with him.

ONLY WIFE'S HIRED MAN

Harry Von Tilzer, Song Publisher, Says He Draws $25 a Week.

Harry von Tilzer composer and publisher of popular songs and head of a publishing concern bearing his name, told Justice Lydon the other day that his present earnings amount to $25 a week. Von Tilzer said he long ago transferred all his stock in the corporation to his wife and he is merely an employee.

Mr. Von Tilzer revealed his present financial status in connection with a judgment for $3,173 obtained against him by Miss Jean Newcombe in 1916. The publisher asked the court to vacate an order obtained to examine him to ascertain whether he had sufficient assets which might be attached to make good the judgment. Justice Lyndon denied the application of Von Tilzer.—New York Tribune.

WOODCHUCK MEAT BECOMING POPULAR

The woodchuck, also known as the ground hog, is paying the price of the high cost of living. For years chucks have been unmolested, save as an occasional land owner rid his premises of them, on the ground that they dig up the field and eat his grass or a young marksman proved his ability by quest for live game. But these happy days, for the woodchuck, are past, and with the mounting price of meat he has become an article of generally accepted food. Properly prepared there is no more tender morsel than wood chuck, either warm or cold. The meat is nearly white and resembles chicken. While these qualities have been known, few people have sampled woodchuck until recently, but this spring hunters are bringing in the dressed chuck and outpointing old H. C. of L.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

LOCAL BASEBALL COMMENT

Jack Nott missed this one for his Sport Calendar according to Jake Solomon who overheard it when the Petes played in Oshawa last season One Osbawa fan and his lady friend arrived at the ball yard in the middle of the game. "We're doing fine. We have a man on every base." he said. "What of it," she remarked. "So has the other team."

With the schedules half way through, Queen Mary boys have a stranglehold on 1920 senior honors, and Queen Alexandras are the likely winners of the junior series.

With the new unforms for the Central League team "somewhere on the rails", the Petes will borrow the Canadian Generals' costumes for their first game at Oshawa, on the holiday.

A large delegation of Peterboroites will travel to Toronto on Monday to see the ponies kick their heels and view the fistic bout between Jimmy Wilde and Patsy Wallace.

The selection of "Mickey" Murray for the third corner, in the Central League team's line up, will please the large majority of fans. Murray's fearlessness, and steady work, as goaler for the Intermediate O. H. A. team, are demonstrated equally well on the diamond.

Well, here's hoping all best wishes for Alex. Kay's safe sojourn in Cobourg on the twenty-fourth. The holiday games are:

Port Hope at Oshawa; Peterborough at Belleville; Lindsay at Cobourg.

And here are the winners: Oshawa Peterborough and Cobourg.

Loule Yeates is using Harold Wilgar, at second base, in the game with Canadian Woollens this afternoon

PERSONNEL OF TEAMS FOR LACROSSE GAMES

The teams for the exhibition lacrosse match at the Fair Grounds on Monday afternoon will be selected from the following groups:

No. 1—H. Scriver (goal), Goodfellow, Haight, Creighton, Tudhope, Lawson, T. Scriver, Thirnbeck, Foley, Johnston, King, K. Mein and Meagher.

No. 2 — Dillon (goal), Mein, Hatton, J. McCoy, G. Donovan, Dunford, Lowes, L. McCoy, Todd, Robertson, H. Donovan, C. McCoy, Whitney and Hamilton.

These players will make two good teams and their positions will be definitely decided this afternoon.

A Bye for Locals.

Johnny Sutherland has received a reply from J. E. Dundas, secretary of the O.A.L.A., notifying him that Peterboro has been given a bye in the lacrosse grouping owing to the lack of teams in this district. Tweed may be heard from shortly but the best that can be expected for a while are exhibition games.

All the players are requested to be on hand early on Monday, and as many as possible should participate in the procession from the Central Park to the Exhibition ground.

CARPENTIER TO BOX BEFORE GOING HOME

MANAGER ISSUES STATEMENT IN WHICH HE SAYS FRENCHMAN IS READY TO FIGHT.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, who is touring the country giving exhibitions of his ring ability, will not return to France until he has had at least one real fight against an American heavyweight.

Manager Francois Descamps made this declaration in a statement issued here in reply to the caustic criticism which his tardiness in arranging for an American competitive appearance has occasioned. Manager Descamps did not show any preference for opponents for his protege, nor did he give an indication of when or where a bout between Carpentier and a worthy American rival would take place.

In replying to the attacks on Carpentier's activities since coming to this country, Manager Descamps said, in part:

"We are here to fight Dempsey. We are ready, in one hour, to box him for the championship, whenever and wherever he elects to dictate. Georges will split the purse any way Dempsey dictates. If, for any reason, Dempsey is not available, I will sign Georges Carpentier to fight any other fighter in America. First come, first served. Don't make any mistake. We are not going away without fighting. I can arrange all my business any time to show what Georges can do in real combat."

Carpentier will join the circus at Elmira today for a limited engagement. Jack Curley, who is promoting the tour, declared that the enterprise to date had resulted in a success.

Tom O'Rourke, manager of Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight, immediately upon hearing of Carpentier's determination to engage in at least one bout here before returning home, promptly issued a challenge on behalf of Fulton, offering to close a match with Carpentier on any conditions dictated by the French heavyweight.

TIME OF GAME WAS CHANGED

The time for the game which was staged between the Hind Dauch team of Toronto and the Canadian Woollens on Monday afternoon at the Oval has been changed to 10 o'clock in the morning, when they will meet at the Riverside Park. The change was made so as not to interfere with the afternoon's sport at the Exhibition Grounds.

"PASSION FLOWER" IS COMING HERE

"The Passion Flower," by Jacinto Benavente, in which Nance O'Neil, one of America's foremost emotional actresses won one of the most remarkable artistic triumphs of the past season in New York, where the play ran throughout the theatrical season, was accorded the most pronounced approval by the discriminating critics and special writers in the Metropolis. The importance of the play and the general production attracted not only the regular critics, but the literary as well. Benjamin de Casseres, for instance, gave vent to this passionate tribute to the play:

"'The Passion Flower' is one of the greatest plays ever written because it is a masterpiece of technique; it evokes the atmosphere of Fatality in a way that has been equalled or surpassed only by the Greeks, Shakespeare, Ibsen, Hardy, Turgenev, St. John Irvine, and Tolstoy—at his greatest. It is evolved according to the best Freudian laws, which are as profound as life. One must see this great play by washing himself clean of all Broadway conventions. We understand why we have got to go abroad for our ideas and our art. No American could possibly have written what Benevente has done in the 'Passion Flower.'"

"The Passion Flower" will be seen at the Grand Theatre on Saturday, May 29th, and promises to be the engagement de luxe of the season.

TYRONE POWER

The presentation of "The Servant in the House" with the eminent English actor, Mr. Tyrone Power, created such an impression on the patrons of the Grand a few weeks ago that Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., will again present the distinguished English actor, in another of his great successes, "The Little Brother," by Milton Goldsmith and Benedict James, for Monday.

There is a general consensus of critical opinion that Tyrone Power has seldom if ever achieved a finer stage portrait than he does as the Little Brother in the drama of that name, which Trans-Canada Theatres Limited, will present at the Grand as a special return engagement. Mr. Power has played this role in many of the big dramatic centres of population of the United States and Canada, and everywhere it has been received as a remarkable and impressive piece of acting.

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, May 22.— Martial law was declared in Tschen plebiscite area Wednesday by International Commission. Bitter feeling has prevailed recently in the district between Czecho-Slovak and Polish workmen and some clashes have been reported.

Race Clash.

(Canadian Press.)

FAYETVILLE, N.C., May 22. —In a clash between whites and blacks last night one white was killed, one mortally wounded, two others shot and several houses in the negro section of the city were burned. This morning the situation had calmed down. The trouble started it is said, in an altercation between a white girl and a negro woman in suburban of the village.

TREES PLANTED AT THE SCHOOLS

On Thursday afternoon a unique event took place at the Queen Mary School, when a tree was planted by each of the ten classes in the school at intervals about the school grounds.

In planting the tree representing the Senior Fourth Class, Miss Gwynneth Hall, who was appointed to do so by the class, said:

"I name this tree the Prince of Wales. May it grow and flourish, and be a fitting emblem of the Prince, whose charming personality has endeared him to all Canadians, and even to people not owing allegiance to the British Empire. May the tree be well watered and cared for, and may it never want a friend."

In planting the remaining trees, which were named Vimy, Queen Mary, King George, Joan of Arc, Sir Douglas Haig, Lord Kitchener, John Bull, and the Beaver, a similar speech was made.

LIBERALS SUPPORT NORRIS GOVERNMENT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., May 22.—The Liberals of Manitoba who opposed the Union Government at the general elections held in 1917, are assembling under the banner of the Norris Government for the Provincial elections to be held in July.

It is stated on official authority that two of the most prominent officials of the "Laurier Liberals" for Manitoba declared that they estimated that 80 per cent. of the Liberals who supported the Laurier candidates in 1917 will suport Norris candidates this summer.

Fred C. Hamilton, who was a Laurier Liberal candidate in Marquette in 1917 will be Norris candidate in the Winnipeg free-for-all this summer.

THOROUGHNESS

This world wants more men who are thorough. We have so many starters, but so few finishers.

Point out a dozen men who have been successful in life, and investigation will demonstrate every man in the bunch to be a finisher, a stayer, a laster. Thoroughness is the true test of permanency.

The half and half humans who never complete, never perfect, are pretty small potatoes and few in a hill.

The fellow who puts the coping on a job, who completes the thing, is in big demand.

Many aspiring young men have acquired the virtue of Thoroughness by taking a Full Course in the REYNOLDS.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Reynolds, who died May 23, 1919.

The home it has been darkened
By the shadow of a death,
It was one, a loving mother,
And her we'll ne'er forget.

The gates of Heaven were left ajar
A voice had whispered "come,"
And in the silence of the night
God took His loved one home.

A vacant chair now tells the tale
Of the debt that she has paid,
Angels bright, watch day and night
O'er the grave where she is laid.

The silver cord is broken
A life well spent is o'er,
At peace, asleep in Jesus
She rests for ever more.

DOWNEY.—In sad and loving memory of our dear son and brother, Signaller Carl J. Downey, who died of wounds in France, 22nd May, 1917.

Somewhere in France.

Somewhere in France, near the long battle line,
Stands a cross on the grave of that dear son of mine;
He suffered, he died, that his country might live—
Paid the full price, gave all he could give.
Though he lies far away from his home o'er the sea,
We hope for to meet him in the land that's to be.
We think of him in silence, no eyes can see us weep.
But treasured in our inmost hearts his memory we will keep.

ALBERT SMOKE OF CHEMONG WINS OLYMPIC TRIAL RACE

DEFEATED 21 CONTESTANTS AT ST. CATHARINES YESTERDAY AND QUALIFIES FOR MARATHON OF THE OLYMPIC AT ANTWERP.

WON BY 200 YARDS

Albert Smoke, of the Chemong Indian reserve, qualified for the marathon race of the Olympic games at Antwerp, Belgium, this summer, by winning the fifteen mile contest at St. Catharines yesterday.

A press despatch says:

"Charles White, the veteran Toronto runner, ran neck and neck with Smoke for nearly nine miles, when the redskin shook him off. "Jimmy" Dellow, of the Gladstone A. C., Toronto, caught Smoke at 12 miles, and for nearly two miles see-sawed for first place. Dellow had allowed Smoke to acquire too great a lead before challenging him, and was unable to hold the Indian, who pulled away and had a safe margin of over a minute at the finish.

Graduate of Examiner Race.

Albert Smoke is a three times winner of the Examiner road race, of which he will be the second Olympic representative, Fred Simpson of Hiawatha having run in the London Marathon. Smoke went up to St. Catharines accompanied by his trainer, Dan Whetung, Jr., J. W. Taylor and Frank Joe of the Curve Lake community. He was unheralded and practically unknown, but he stepped out in front and could have kept there had he wished. According to Dan Whetung he resumed the lead when he wished and finished fresh and easily.

A few weeks ago Smoke intimated to some of the Indians at Chemong that he intended to enter the Olympic trials, and without any fuss took up light training along the roads of the reserve. He came through the St. Catharines race in good condition, complaining only of slightly sore feet. He will continue his training and will be ready for the Dominion Olympic trials in Hamilton about the middle of July. Smoke is not compelled to run in this elimination race, being already assured of the trip to Antwerp.

FRENCH PRESIDENT INJURED BY FALL

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 25. — President Deschanel, who was injured yesterday morning by a fall from a train near Montargis, spent a good night and his physician issued a bulletin this morning saying his condition was as satisfactory as possible, although rest was necessary.

BODIES WILL NOT BE EXHUMED

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, May 25.—The Militia Department has issued a statement emphasising the reasons why it would be practically impossible to exhume the bodies of Canadian soldiers buried in France in order that they might be brought to Canada for burial.

The Governments of France and Belgium have, by special decrees, forbidden the removal of bodies from these countries. The opinion is that these restrictions should not be removed, reads the statement.

Colossal Work.

The statement adds that it would be a colossal work to empty some four thousand graves and to allow some persons to remove the bodies of soldiers would be contrary to the spirit of equality.

Any effort to exhume the bodies would be opposed to the spirit in which the Empire gratefully accepted the offers made by the Governments of France, Belgium, Italy, and Greece to provide land in perpetuity for our cemeteries, and to adopt our dead.

FORMER LOCAL MAN ON VISIT

MR. R. J. BIRD RENEWS ACQUAINTANCES OF HIS YOUTH.

Mr. R. J. Bird of Los Angeles, Cal. who left Peterborough in 1870 is a visitor in the city, the guest of his sister, Mrs. S. W. Duprau, 174 Dublin street. Mr. Bird who is now the salesmanager for the O'Brien Varnish Works is taking a six weeks vacation and is greatly pleased to get back to the place of his birth in order to renew old acquaintances which he observed are now very limited many of his friends of boyhood days in Peterborough having passed away during the past few years.

During his business career he has had occasion to visit almost every place of importance in America and Mr. Bird makes the statement that he believes Peterborough to be the finest located city from a residential standpoint, that it has the best business section and greater manufacturing possibilities than any city of a similar size he has visited.

Of Los Angeles he is very optimistic and now that the older settlers of that city are passing away their idea of making that city more of a resort is being replaced by commercial and manufacturing enterprises controlled by younger men which is giving Los Angeles an impetus that is carrying it forward to a wonderful future.

BUGGY STRUCK BY AN AUTOMOBILE

On Sunday night at 8.30 a car driven by George Rutherford, was travelling north on George street. At Sherbrooke street a horse and buggy driven by Miss Lizzie Rice, of Otonabee, was standing on George street. The automobile struck the buggy, throwing Miss Rice to the ground. The driver stopped the car and picked the girl up and took her into 247 George street and pohned Dr. Eastwood, who attended her.

It was found she suffered a severe cut on the back of the head, which required three stitches. She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. The damage to the rig was slight.

PROMINENT SHIPOWNER MEETS DEATH IN AEROPLANE CRASH

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, May 25.—Under the most tragic circumstances E. H. Beazley, of Vancouver, a leading ship owner, met death in an aeroplane crash on Monday afternoon. Accompanied by his wife and Mr. Charles Meek, a son-in-law of the late Sir Wm. Whyte, and a former resident of Winipeg and Montreal, Mr. Beazley motored to Minoru airdrome, proposing that the entire party should go on successive flights. Mrs. Beazley first went up and safely returned. Beazley was the second to go and was with Pilot A. R. Baker not more than six hundred feet from the ground, when hundreds of watchers saw the plane become unmanageable and go into a nose dive. Mrs. Beazley was one of the first to attempt to rescue her husband, but he was quite lifeless, being carried three feet into the ground when the crash occurred.

Baker will recover from his injuries, consisting only of unimportant bruises.

Tide of Emigration to Western Canada

SETTLERS COMING OVER FROM THE UNITED STATES—NEWS FROM THE WORLD OVER.

(Canadian Press.)

OMAHA, May 25.—According to a statement by W. V. Bennet, in charge of Canadian government land office, the great tide of emigration of 1912 and 1913 to Western Canada is about to be repeated. In the first three months of 1920 almos tas many settlers from the Trans-Missouri country have gone to Canada as went all last year. The statement adds that during the past twenty years, forty-five thousand Nebraskans have emigrated, taking with them approximately fifty million dollars. Explanation is that farms in Canada can be purchased at one-third the price required for lands in the United States.

DRIVEN BACK.

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, May 25. — Bolshevik troops, which succeeded in crossing the upper Beresina river in several places, have been driven back again with heavy losses, including more than four hundred prisoners, according to the official statement issued here. The enemy is attacking along the entire northern Polish front, but have been checked everywhere, it was declared.

(Canadian Press.)

BERNE, May 25.—Polish government has just made known that as soon as the Polish army has obtained military objectives assigned to it, the government will declare itself ready to enter into pour parlers with the Bolsheviki. The place of the meeting will be designated later.

VILLAGES OCCUPIED.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 25.— Russian Soviet forces have occupied a number of villages on the west bank of the Dnieper river from fourteen to twenty-seven miles north of Kiev, according to official wireless messages from Moscow.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES FOR THE DAILY EXAMINER

Owing to the greatly increased cost of newsprint and all other costs going into the production of a newspaper, The Examiner has been forced to increase its subscription rates, and on and after June 1st next, The Daily Examiner will be sold as follows delivered:

Yearly	$6.00
Half-Yearly	$3.00
Quarterly	$1.50
Monthly	50c
By Mail Monthly	40c
Weekly through newsboys	15c
Single Copies	3c

The Examiner is about the last of the Daily Papers to increase its subscription rates. We had hoped that the price of newsprint would come down and permit us to continue the old price, but find that it is absolutely necessary to follow the course of all other newspapers in order to continue our publication.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET REPORT

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 25.—Railroad securities came to the fore at the stock market opening to-day, several issues in this group registering substantial advances. Pressure which forced declines in the motor and steel shares yesterday was not in evidence in to-day's trading.

U. S. Steel opened at 90 3-4 up 1-4. Tobacco Products 63 3-8 up 3-8, Anaconda 64 1-4 off 3-4, Mexican Petroleum 172 1-2 up 1-2, Baldwin 109 1-2 up 1-4, General Motors 124 78 up 1-4, Pan-American Petroleum 98 off 1-8, Reading 80 1-8 off 1-4, Sinclair 29 1-4 off 3-8, Southern Pacific 91 5-8 up 1-8, Bethlehem B. 86 off 3-8, Crucible 120 1-2 up 1-4.

Shortly after the opening, Pan-American A. stock ran up to 98 3-4, and Crucible sold off to 119.

Ging into the second hour the entire industrial list gave a good account of itself. U. S. Steel made an early high of 91 1-2, up nearly 2 points over Monday's low. Baldwin led the equipments, getting close to 111. The main trading centred in oils. Doheny stocks were the leaders. Pan-American went up to 99 1-2, compared with a low last week of 91. Mexican Petroleum was quoted at 174 up 10 over the recent low, while Pan-American bonds at 94 7-8 was up 6 3-8 from Monday's low.

EXCHANGE MARKET.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 25.—The upward movement which has recently characterised dealings in foreign exchange continued to make further progress to-day. Quotations on sterling demand fluctuated, but in general in buying it held at $3.84 off 2 1-4 from yesterday's close. Franc cheques were up 15 centimes at 13.37. Lire cheques up 5 centimes at 18.82. Marks made a new high on the present movement at $.0262. Cables were up $.0075. Canadian dollars $.8025.

Held An Autopsy

RESULT STRENGTHENS OPINION THAT PRESIDENT CARRANZA WAS MURDERED.

(Canadian Press.)

MEXICO CITY, May 25.— President Carranza committed suicide rather than be taken prisoner, according to a telegram given out at headquarters of General Gonzales. It purports to have been sent from Carro Azul, Puebla State, on May 20, by Col. Rodofo Harrara who, previous reports said, was responsible for the President's death.

Reports of the autopsy performed on the body of Carranza at Tlaxcalantongo fail to agree with the claim of Harraro that the President committed suicide, is was asserted in official circles here. Surgeons, it is declared, found that Carranza had been struck by two rifle bullets, one of which penetrated his breast and the other his abdomen. Bullets entered from in front and the conclusion of those who witnessed the operation is that the President had been assassinated.

ORIENTALISM COLOURS BOLSHEVIST TYRANNY

FRENCH OBSERVER FINDS MOSCOW DRAB, APATHETIC, BUT FULL OF TERRORS FOR ALL MEN.

PARIS, May 22.—"Bolshevism in Russia is an alias for revenge upon Europe," is the striking phrase of the Petit Parisien correspondent, Charles Pettitt, at the end of a remarkable description of the Moscow of to-day, compared with the pre-war Moscow with which he was evidently familiar.

He says that in the old days Moscow always had the appearance of an Oriental city in which Europeans seemed strangers. To-day the Soviet capital is unchanged in aspect. The Bolsheviki have neither pillaged nor destroyed it, to the outward eye, but Europeans have vanished. The dirty, lethargic crowds that throng the streets are Oriental in looks, in garb, and fatalistic apathy. Oriental, too, is the absolute despotism of Bolshevist rule: "The Soviet State is a tyrant as supreme and as bloodthirsty as the worst of the Tsar."

Most Oriental of all is "the terror that walketh in darkness." the stealthy denuncation which broods like a fog over the whole city and makes men look askance at man. The Red inquisition acts without noise, without violence. There are no auto da fe processions of its victims through the Moscow streets. But the suspects suddenly vanish and are sen no more Pettitt says:

"Like all Orientals, the Bolsheviki have the art of telling beautiful stories. They delight in inflamng the popular imagination of the Western masses and in hiding under stately names the horrors of their real existence Fine phrases from the East have always had great success in the West and the Bolsheviki are splendid phrase-makers. For me, I know Asia too well, and that makes a difference For instance, in China when one hears of 'the street of the Golden Lotus leading to the Canal of Jade,' a wonderful picture is presented to the Occidental mind. In reality it is a sordid, stinking alley on the edge of a filthy drain. It is the same with the Bolshevist dreams of a workers' paradise on earth. In point of fact Moscow has but little of interet. It is a great town of Oriental appearance, rather dirty and badly run, where it is impossible to find a piece of soap to wash the hands or a bit of bread to put in the mouth. It is calm, inert, fatalistic and resigned. No one works or bustles about. One can die there very easy of hunger or typhus in the midst of general indifference. There are neither rows nor revolutions, ferocious Red Guards or Chinese executioners, but everyone keeps guard on his words, his acts, even his very looks."

FUNERAL YESTERDAY

The funeral of the late Daniel Belleghem took place yesterday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral was held under masonic auspices. Service was held at the house at two o'clock by the Rev. A. J. Thomas. The pall-bearers were Dr. Carmichael, Dr. Scott, Mr. H. Rush, Mr. J. Connal, Mr. A. E. Dickson, Mr. B. F. Ackerman

PREMIER DRURY UNVEILED JOSEPH SCRIVEN MEMORIAL

IMMENSE CROWD TOOK PART IN THE SIMPLE BUT IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY AT BEWDLEY.

"This monument was erected to the memory of Joseph Medlicott Scriven, B. A., (T.C.D.,) by lovers of his hymn which is engraved hereon and is his best memorial.

"Born at Seapatrick Co. Down, Ireland, Sept. 10, 1819, emigrated to Canada 1844, entered into rest at Bewdley, Rice Lake, August 10, 1886, and buried here.

"Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."

Yesterday afternoon the Scriven Memorial was unveiled by Premier E. C. Drury, following a simple but beautiful ceremony and one that will linger long in the memory of those who witnessed it.

It was a fitting conclusion to a project that began several years ago to erect a memorial to Joseph Scriven, the reconized author of that hymn which has brought comfort to sad and stricken hearts throughout the entire world, "What a Friend we have in Jesus."

Thousands of people attended and the quiet country roads were packed with cars and people. Three boats came from different points. The Salvation Army band was in attendance with Adjt. and Mrs. Buntin, Staff Capt. Byers of Toronto, and a large number of Salvationists.

Music that was most fitting for the ceremony was beautifully rendered by the band.

The ceremony was supposed to commence at 2:30 o'clock but the Premier and the party from Millbrook were delayed and it was after 3 o'clock before the Premier and Mrs. Drury, the president of the Memorial Committee, Rev. William D. Lee, D.D., Rev. A. H. McConnachie, M.A., Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., and others of the committee, arrived from the dinner held at Millbrook.

Trafic Heavy.

From early in the morning Bailieboro Methodist Epworth League and Bensfort League were busy erecting the booths and tables in readiness for an unprecedented crowd and their anticipations were fulfilled. At noon from far and near the cars and conveyances filled with people began arriving and the country road was soon lined with vehicles, automobiles predominating.

The boats brought more people, and by the time the ceremony commenced the road and fields were black with crowds. Estimates of the numbers present varied from four to six thousand.

Joseph Scriven is buried in the Pengelly cemetery, a small family cemetery lying about a half mile from Rice Lake on the side of gently sloping hill that slips down into the tranquil waters of Rice Lake. It is some 3 or 4 miles east of Bailieboro, and slightly more from Bewdley, situated at the head of the lake. Far removed from the general routes of travel it has been known to few but it has served for 34 years as the quiet and simple resting place of the author of this hymn. It is a lovely spot and yesterday the country in its remarkable shades of green, the wooded slopes and the placid lake, and the deep blue of the sky all combined to make the scene one of rare beauty. Joseph Scriven has reposed in a spot that is as beautiful as his hymn.

Joseph Scriven.

Joseph Scriven was born in Ireland in 1819 the third child of Capt. and Mrs. John Scriven, of the Royal Marines. There were three boys and three girls in the family. Until he was some 15 years of age he was educated by a Dr. Doncaster. In 1835 he and his elder brother entered Trinity College, Dublin, but he only spent about two years there and then at his father's and uncles' request he entered Addiscombe Military College, Surrey, as a cadet, on September 6, 1837. In 1839 he resigned because of ill-health. He then re-entered Trinity College and in 1842, when 23 years of age, obtained his degree as Bachelor of Arts. He appeared at this time to have some idea of entering the ministry but some years later, in 1844, came to Canada. For some time he taught school at Clinton, Ont., and then became private tutor at the home of Captain Robert Lamport, R. N., to his son, Theodore. In this capacity he acted for three years. Afterwards he lived in or near Port Hope for upwards of 25 years.

He had some little income when he first came to Captain Pengelly's and with this he helped the poor and needy in the district, ministering to the sick. He preached at the country fairs and gatherings and those

THE SHORTCOMINGS OF THE D.S.C.R.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, May 25.—The shortcomings of the D. S. C. R. vocational training were aired before a special committee on Pensions and Re-establishment this morning. W. Nicol, Kingston, Newman, Ottawa, and S. Stafford, Toronto, told the committee there was hardship among vocationally trained men, and asked for an extension of the training course.

Mr. Stafford thought the D. S. C. R. was doing everything possible to give the men a new start in their work, but there were flaws in the regulations.

Mr. Nicol claimed there was a waste of money through men being placed in the wrong courses. At the present time the D. S. C. R. progress report overcame these difficulties, but the men discharged before these reports started had not recourse.

Mr. Newman declared he had wanted to take an electrical fitting course, but was advised not to do so, and took up show card writing. He was doubtful of making a successful living out of this after finishing the course. He thought there should be a committee of three men to advise prospective students instead of a single officer.

BONNER-WORTH CLAIM $22,250 IN COURT CASE

The Bonner-Worth Company's claim of $22,250.00 against Geddes Bros. of Sarnia, is the only case before the Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford in the non-Jury sessions of the Supreme Court here to-day.

The action is to recover the cost of yarns sold by the plaintiff to the defendant. Geddes Bros. admit owing $11,430, and have paid this sum into Court. The remainder of the claim, they state, represents cancelled contracts, to the cancellation of which they allege, the plaintiffs agreed.

The case will not be heard until this evening owing to the Judge's arrival on the 5.30 G.T.R. train.

Flying Americans.

Wilbur and Orville Wright began their experiments with the aeroplane fourteen years before the great conflict awakened Americans to the wonderful part that aircraft was to play in warfare. The first flight of these famous brothers over the barren sand dunes at Kitty Hawk, N. C., lasted but twelve seconds. It was another American, Glenn H. Curtiss, who made the first successful flight in a flying boat. He was then working on aeroplanes for the navy and experimented with a biplane equipped with floats. Giving this up for one with a true boat body, straightway came success. That was in 1911, and the first great stride toward giving the American navy its fleet of fighting boats that fly followed five years later, when congress set aside $3,250,000 for naval aircraft alone.—F. E. Evans in St. Nicholas.

SIGNS OF A WORLD BREAK IN PRICES SEEN IN LONNON

OVER-STOCKING OVER-SPECULATING, AND THE CURTAILMENT OF BANK CREDITS AHE CAUSE.

(F. A. McKENZIE to Toronto Star.)

LONDON, May 22.—A sensational break in prices has begun here as a result of over speculation, overstocking and through the curtailment by banks of credit facilities. Inordinately high prices of clothing have partly brought their own remedy by the public refusing to buy. Consequently, manufacturers, wholesalers and speculators find themselves with unsaleable stock. The Lancashire cotton trade found itself early this month, for the first time in years, faced by a slackening demand. While the majority of mills have contracts to keep them going for some months, fresh contracts are not arriving. A number of mills in the Bolton and Blackburn areas to-day are closing down, for a fortnight, making holidays their excuse. China, India and the Middle East are reselling cottons instead of making fresh purchases, this following the mad speculation in Lancashire mills which Sir Herbert Dixon, chairman of the Fine Cotton Spinners Association, yesterday described as only comparable to the South Sea Bubble. It is helping to bring the crisis.

The fall in price of Egyptian cotton is only beginning. Its price is still more than twice above the average during Government control. All orders yesterday were selling orders. Trade defenders declare the fall in woollen prices will not affect retail charges, as clothing fabrics manufacturers are being booked up at high prices many months ahead. Enquiries show, however, that this view is probably incorrect as cloth buyers are revealing signs of nervousness. Tailors are endeavoring to cancel orders with merchants, the latter generally refusing to accept cancellation.

Everything indicates we are on the eve of a big slump in shipping, due to the excessive amount of building. This is the real barometer of industrial conditions. Lower freights mean lower prices generally.

Declines General.

The main interest here is felt over the possibility of a fall in food prices. There have been certain falls already, partly seasonal, partly because of overstocking. Canned goods experienced a great slump, there being an enormous overstock here. The best quality of tinned beef sold to-day in the west-end stores at a shilling per pound. Canned fruits declined in some lines by forty per cent. in one month. Tea trade contemplates a fall in price of twenty-five per cent. after Government control ceases. Dried fruits are available in excessive quantities. The shoe trade was reported last week to be suffering from excessive stocks. Factors had ordered extravagantly, not expecting to obtain all their orders. But manufacturers with improved plants have filled their orders. Consequently, warehouses are full, but export business has not expanded as expected. Factors have chosen this time to attempt a further big rise in retail prices for the highest grades. Their plan, however, is reacting on themselves. I find the general view in responsible circles is that we have now witnessed the first real sign of a world fall of prices.

MUSIC AND SPORTS ENTERTAINED THE CROWD AT EXHIBITION PARK

A LACROSSE REVIVAL

A field day of sports with incidental music by the G.W.V.A. and 57th regimental bands provided an interesting variety of attractions for the big crowd that spent the holiday afternoon with the directors of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition. The grandstand was comfortably filled particularly by the devotees of horse-racing, while many times that number were grouped about the football pitch where after the international match in which England vanquished Scotland by the score of 2 to 0, Canada's national game of lacrosse held its group of admirers until the National Anthem and the supper bell sounded together.

There was no carping at the weather man's grey skies for they held the promise of more rain, and if the city populace is not rushing out to help the farmer till his land, they are at least willing to forego a little sunshine from their field sports if the intervening clouds will sprinkle a little nourishment on the field crops the conditions of which are getting front page space these days while sports are tucked away near the back. However, the sun that never sets on the British Empire was scarcely missed in the beaming radiance of the smiles with which President R. Denne, Vice President Reg. Turner and other directors of the Exhibition warmed the crowds. There unremitting efforts to make the Exhibition Park a community centre for every public holiday are beginning to reap results that tends to keep the people at home and at the same time amused, incidentally spending their money here and particularly turning a few odd dollars in to the treasury that must be the basis for that bigger Fair the directors and many other citizens dream of. And Lady Luck's affinity for Mr. Denne was again manifested in yesterday's success in all its features if attendance, weather, athletics and surplus for the cash box.

The music by the bands was quite a pleasing setting to the programme of sports. There was an abundance of it and it was generally well played.

The prospect of rain probably accounted for the absence of the airplane which the directors had expected for the day. Selectons that were not on the cards were the songs by Messrs. Bob Hendry and Frank Pratt Mr. Henry in his kilts and bonnet was quite appropriately dressed for his solo "Bonnie Jean", and he also sang "When I was Twenty-One". Mr. Pratt's numbers were "Out on the Deep" and "Peace and War". They used a huge megaphone that was decidedly effective in the clearness with which it amplified and carried the voices.

The Football Match.

The executive of the Football League had no trouble in selecting an English team but for the Scottish they had just eleven players. That meant the Scotsmen had no defence men and had to play Hardie and McMillan as backs. The Scotsmei played as selected and the Englishmen introduced Turner and McDonald in place of Hartshorn and Mason. Promptly at 3 o'clock Referee McKinley lined up the teams as follows:

England—Jones (De Laval) goal; B Willshaw, (Cal.), and McDonald, (C.G.E.) backs; J. Frost (Cal.), Cridland, (Canadian Woollens), and Edwards(G.W.V.A.), half-backs; Manders, (C.G.E.), Hotson (C.G.E.), Norman (G.W.V.A.), Turner (C.G.E.) and Ed Bartley (C.G.E.) forwards.

Scotland—C. Fenner, (Cal.) goal; Ed. Hardie (Cal) and McMillan (Cal) backs; J. Thom (Cal), McLeish (Machine Gun) and Lindsay (De Laval) half-backs; Hannah, Matt Shaw, Jas. Shaw, (Cals) McKinley (G.W.V.A.), and McDowall (Cal), forwards.

Referee—Mr Alex. McKinley.

There was no advantage in winning the toss so Mr. Roland Denne kicked off. England attacked on the left where Bartley put past. Scotland retaliated on nice play by McDowall, who got a corner off McDonald. The Scots left winger placed a beauty into Jones hands who conceded a corner on the other side. Hannah lifted the ball into centre. Turner cleared to Bartley. Hardie returned thekick to go past. A foul against McLeish for handling looked dangerous for Scotland. Frost tested Fenner with a long drive to goal. Next few minutes McMillan misjudged the ball with Bartley in close attendance who finished by shooting over the cross-bar. At the other end McDonald had to kick to touch to save his goal from McDowall. Quick as a flash Turner and Bartley worked down the field, Bartley swinging the ball across to Hotson and with nobody on him kicked past the upright.

England Scores.

But Hotson made sure the next time he came down for he sent a rock et shot into the Scots goal-keeper who made a nice clearance but Norman lying close in caught the ball as he was clearing registered the first goal. Scotland tried hard to tread through after this but their shooting was very weak in front of goal. Even and uneventful exchanges took place for next ten minutes. Each goal-keeper being visited in rotation with Fenner getting the most to do and did it well. Just before half-time the Scotsmen put on pressure to the English defence but could not score. Midfield play was the order of the play when the referee called half-time—England 1, Scotland 0.

Half Time.

On resuming, Bartley was was brought up for being offside. The Scotsmen raided the English goal, McDonald conceding a corner—it was fruitless and went into play, Cridland punted it forward to Norman who tested Fenner, saving nicely on coming out of his goal and Norman getting hold hit the cross-bar with Fenner out of his goal. McMillan cleared the situation Nice combination by Hotson and Manders made things lively for the Scotsmen as "Wag" drew out the defence with the left wing uncovered passed to Bartley.

Fenner Saved Twice.

Fenner saved the low ground shot of the English left winger and Norman caught the rebound, drove hard to goal with Fenner touching it as it went through. The Scotch team players changed around positions, Matt Shaw went back, Hardie to centre-half and McLeish right half and Thom to inside right.

A foul-kick against Bartley brought relief to the Scotsmen as Turner was waiting to put through. The play run from end to end with neither side claiming any advantage in play with Bartley getting the most awards for offside that the Scotsmen played to perfection to keep the English forwards out. On a visit to Jones' goal the dilatory methods of the Scotsmen left the defence an easy clearance. The excitement grew high as the game came to a close with the Scotsmen attaching England' 2 goals to nothing.

The Lacrosse Revival

The lacrosse club more than lived up to the advance notices sent out by its press agent and general manager, Johnnie Sutherland. The two teams selected from the material from which Peterboro's intermediate O. A. L. A. team will be recruited provided what might be called in movie parlance a flash back to those other Victoria Days of some twenty years ago. They were well balanced although Jack Creighton's blue and white gang opened up a pace that looked like a walk away. They had the long end of a three to nothing score before Dillon's green shirts got started. At half time they were leading by 5 to 4. The greens tied it early in the second half but the game ended with 7 to 6 for the Creighton clan.

The game was especially interesting to its followers in its display of the available players who are giving lacrosse a real revival this year. Dillon and H. Scriver both made fine stops in goal, and after Harry Donovan moved back to the nets Dillon made a long run down the field in his old form. Bill Meagher was also out until near the close of the game when he corralled a couple of small boys who were suspected of picking some of the players pockets in the dressing rooms. The Exhibition Park seems to be infested with youngsters who have the easy money habit. Not so long ago they cleaned the C.G.E. football team of everything to jackknives and watches, and from all accounts made a real haul that day.

Grover Halpin handled himself well and Lowes tried hard but his shooting was wild Dunford, Lou McCoy, Harry Donovan, Vic Hamilton and Todd made things lively for the Creighton defence after the first fifteen minutes. Donovan took a lot of the work and found the pace hard. Dunford was good, and McCoy and Todd were both responsible for many of the green team's goals. McCoy carried the ball in close and around the nets Todd showed a fast and flashy stick. George Mein back on the defense seemed about as good as of old; he was fresh at the finish and his stickhandling was clean and accurate. When Meagher retired Keith Mein, trotted out and worked near his "Dad" with a boyish eagerness that caught the crowd's attention. This lad already has lacrosse style, and in a few years should be a good one.

Frank Goodfellow at point for the Blue Shirts played a cool strong game and will round out the regular defense. J. McCoy was also useful, but the shock troops were Creighton, Tudhope, Scriver and Lawson with young Thirnbeck also in the line. They were bumping into a defence that mixed things warmly but they did not back up. Creighton fed his home consistently and in Tudhope, Scriver, Lawson and Thirnbeck had a fast centre field that is young and willing and should be contenders for regular places. Somebody will have a fine job selecting a team from these players and Louie McCoy, Dunford, Harry Donovan and the others. Gene Donovan and Johnson were both off in shooting probably because of the checking Mein, Halpin, Lowes, and Meagher put over them. Thirnbeck is a lively looking player, and with more experience in carrying the ball and handling his stock in tight corners will be valuable. He is sturdy and in good condition, and is also fast. Quite a number of the two teams lack the condition to carry them through a hard game. On the whole their passing was good. They are not all up to the cleverness of Todd or Mein Creighton or McCoy just to name some of those who have a finished style. Goodfellow and Harry Donovan are others, and these just mentioned check closely, but at that the set to Dunford and Scriver at centre had all afternoon was evidence that the younger players are not lacking in pepper.

Old fans agreed that the team will do with more wind and practice. In fact many expect them to go a long way if they never get a start in the Ontario League, and a regular fixture will draw something like the old time crowds.

he game was refreshingly clean. Lou McCoy was cut by a check over the right eye and Scriver lost a molar that was broken off when a fast pass caught him on the lower jaw. They were both minor and unintentional accidents. "Sandy" Whitney had an easy time as referee.

The teams were as follows:—

Athletics (green)		Excelsiors (blue)
Dillon	goal	H. Scriver
Mein	point	Goodfellow
Meagher	point	J. McCoy
Lowes	1st def	Creighton
Halpin	2nd def.	Tudhope
Dunford	centre	Scriver
L. McCoy	2nd home	Lawson
H. Donovan	1st home	Thirnbeck
Hamilton	outside home	E. Donovan
Todd	inside home	L. Johnston

THE HORSE RACES.

The horse races made a good card, resulting as follows:

Use Cocoanut Oil For Washing Hair
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy, lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

MINSTREL SHOW AT THE GRAND

A good minstrel is like a good circus, it appeals to all classes. Tens of thousands attend a minstrel show who never think of attending any other character of entertainment. This is because they know there is nothing to offend or embarrass them and they are at the same time sure of a hearty laugh.

This season Harvey's Greater Minstrels uses its own scenery exclusively; it has fifty people in the first part; it boasts of the finest wardrobe ever worn by any minstrel organization, and claims to have the best trained Octaroon Beauty Chorus on the road.

The modern minstrel must have expert dancers, charming singers and high class vaudeville, and with Harvey's Greatter Minstrels, which appear at at the Grand Friday, May 28th, there will be a successfully arranged programme with a happy combination.

One of the features of the vaudeville section of the programme is the work of the Musical Kirk. Among the remarkable things he does while using musical instruments of his own make and design is the trick of smoking, singing and playing an instrument at the same time. The stub of the cigar is down in his throat out of sight and the smoke pours forth from his mouth as if from a volcano, all the time he is singing and playing a banjo and dancing. In addition to Kirk, who may be classed as the musical comedian, the long list of end-men headed by Duke Anderson and Chas. Beecham, the two most celebrated colored comedians in the world; there must be something the matter with any person who will not laugh at the facial expressions and snappy jokes of the pair. They are ably assisted by other capable comedians and the Octaroon Beauty Chorus is closely seconded by the large company of male voices.

They will be met, no doubt, by a large house at the Grand Friday, May 28th, matinee and night, at popular prices.

Gabriele d'Annunzio, the hero of Fiume, will not sit down to a meal if there are 13 at the table. He drinks only a special kind of Rhine wine. His favorite dish is "Scampi," a small crab fish that resembles the American shrimp, and is found only in the Quarnero. He knows all that has been written about this food. He is a lover of ice cream. The dining table must be done in red, the walls and furniture must be covered with red tapestry, and he must have his favorite flowers, morning, noon and night.

Men and Women, you now have a chance of Regaining your Health since the Importation of "VITAL" TABLETS
The Great French Tonic
AT ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS.
Weak and run down, tired and full of pains. Do you know that you can feel better in a few days if you are only wise enough to take VITAL, the Great French Tonic. Your pains and aches will go. If you are run down, no ambition, tired and lazy VITAL will make you strong. VITAL builds up the nerves, purifies the blood, removes rheumatism, cleanses the whole system, drives out everything that pertains to disease. Disease cannot live where VITAL is. Why suffer? Surely your life is worth a few dollars. Well then you can buy VITAL for 50c a box at all drugstores.

RUSSIANS CONFIRM RUIN UNDER SOVIET

REPRESENTATIVES OF CO-OPERATIVES REPORT COMPLETE FAILURE OF THE ECONOMIC SYSTEM.

WASHINGTON, — Deterioration of every branch of economic life in Soviet Russia continues and not even the slightest improvement in any direction is in sight, according to the report of two representatives of the Russian co-operative organization of London who were delegated to visit Moscow to ascertain whether it is possible to establish trade relations with Bolshevist Russia. Extracts from the reports of these delegates, copies of which have just reached Washington, fully confirm information received through official channels relative to the collapse of the Russian economic system, under the Soviet regime.

The two delegates, whose investigation in Soviet Russia lasted from Feb. 10 to March 28, were themselves Russians, F. I. Shmeloff and N. V. Makeff. The principal points made in their report are as follows:

The whole country, according to the delegates' report, is in power of the Communist Party, which continues to carry through Socialist measures according to its program. It is stated, however, that there is a notable tendency toward centralization of authority by subordinating the local Soviets and economic bodies to the central organization. Formerly the heads of the three local institutions were always elected. It is now the practise of the central authorities to nominate the Presidents and members of the local organizations, and it is stated that in order to obtain majorities in the Soviets the Communist party resorts to all methods, including force, which it has at its sole command.

The town population of Soviet Russia is said to be dying out in the literal sense of the word, the yearly mortality rate in Moscow having reached 118 per thousand. Typhus is raging in the villages to a still greater extent in the towns along the railways. Medical aid in the towns is scarce and is almost non-existent in the country villages. There are no drugs at all.

Compulsory labor and the collection of products as taxation in kind is reported to be greatly irritating the population.

The peasantry sell agricultural produce very unwillingly, according to the report, and the peasants deliver raw materials only under compulsion.

Only the official press of the Government or the Communist Party is in existence.

The report states that all industry and trade is socialized and nationalized, and is under the control of special central bodies under the direction of the supreme soviet people's economic council. At the mills and factories there are no raw materials, fuel or organized labor. The workmen who remain are bound by iron discipline and every breach of regulations, even of such as are practically impossible of observance is punished by fine or arrest. On these grounds and mainly in matters relating to the food supply strikes occur which are always suppressed in a pitiless manner.

Small industry is under the control of the provincial and district economic councils. The central bodies dealing with special branches of national industry cannot harmonize among themselves and measures adopted by them, nor can they coordinate them with those adopted by the local economic councils. As a result of these conditions output in all branches of national industry is continually declining.

Defy the Laws to Trade.

The distribution of all commodities with the exception of raw materials, should by law, be carried out exclusively according to the plans of the provincial supply committees through the cooperative unions. Nevertheless, private trade is practised extensively and openly in the market, bazaars and open spaces, although continuously at the risk of confiscation and other penalties. Big commercial transactions are also made, having as their object the sale of goods and of house property, notwithstanding the fact that it involves the risk of trial before a revolutionary tribunal.

The countless quantities of paper money issued have made the currency of Soviet Russia absolutely valueless. All productive enterprises and Government institutions exist by the issue of paper money. There are no credit operations. The State bank has been abolished. In its place there is being organized a budget clearing office. No serious projects for the improvement of the finances are contemplated. It can only be noted as a fact that paper money is taken very unwillingly and everybody avoids it whenever possible.

Generally speaking, the report states, national industry is ruined, the railways are working very poorly, trains running only twice, or even once a week, and the rolling stock is destroyed.

Mlle. Martha Gauthier, a French girl, now visiting New York, is regarded by some as the great war's greatest heroine. As a war nurse she served both the French and Americans in the front-line trenches, was wounded four times and served in a German prison camp. She has the Legion of Honor, the Medaille Militaire and the Croix de Guerre.

ONE WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Of Interest to Childless Women.

Toronto, Ontario. — "I suffered for a long time from a female weakness, inflammation, and a terrible backache caused by that condition. One day one of your booklets was left at my door, and I read how other women with troubles like mine had been made well, so I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of Sanative Wash, and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have the finest little baby boy that any mother could want. I want to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who has female troubles." — Mrs. Joseph La Bella, 778 Shaw Street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong, and this good old fashioned root and herb remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

MONDAY, MAY 25TH, 1920.

THE EXHIBITION.

The splendid donations that have been received by the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition to be used in making further improvements at the grounds must be gratifying to the directors of the Board for the support that has been offered is concrete proof of the interest the people of Peterboro are taking in the Exhibition and of their confidence in the men who are at the head of its affairs. Although many large sums have been subcribed and are most thoroughly appreciated the directors are equally rejoiced at the number of people who have made smaller contributions. They welcome them as shareholders in the Exhibition which they want the people of Peterboro and district to regard as their own. The subscription lists are still open and contributions will be gladly received. Important improvements are planned for this year and it is the ambition of the management to make this autumn's Exhibition the most outstanding success yet registered. The many subscriptions already acknowledged are the evidence of the desire of the people to assist make it probable that the hopes of the directors will be more than realized.

THE NEW TAX.

It is claimed for the new luxury tax that it will cause a reduction in the price of many commodities and the argument is advanced that the merchants who have been selling goods at prices a few dollars above the taxable minimum will lower the price enough to exempt them from taxation. For instance, it is pointed out that dealers selling boots that have been priced at $10.00 a pair would prefer to drop the price down to $9.00 rather than lose a sale because of the luxury tax. If the system works out in that way without causing a corresponding advance in the price of other articles then there would be reason to welcome the new tax as a valuable contribution towards the reduction of the cost of living. Unfortunately, however, for the consumer there is a temptation to make up for the drop in the price of certain goods that has been made to bring them into the exempted category by raising the prices of other articles that are either well above the minimum or well below that figure so that the net gain to the public would be nil. Examples of this balancing of prices have already been heard of, enough to discount the theory that the luxury tax will prove to be a friend of the consumer.

SESSIONAL INDEMNITIES.

In spite of the approval that greeted Premier Drury's firm stand in the Ontario Legislature against increased sessional indemnities for the members of the Provincial House, approval that indicated unmistakably the opinion of the people that increases were unwarranted and unnecessary, many of the Federal members are still clamoring for a bigger allowance for the Dominion Parliament. There is no sign that the country as a whole is any more in favour of large indemnities for the Federal members than the people of Ontario were for bigger pay for the Provincial members and the M. P.'s who are pressing for the increase are doing so in the full realization that they are trying to get something that the majority of their constituents do not want them to have. Frankly it seems to be current opinion that many of the members are not worth the $2,500 sessional indemnity they are in receipt of at present. Some of them are rarely seen in the House and others who are perhaps more faithful in their attendance are of little real importance insofar as the conduct of public business is concerned.

In his Budget speech Sir Henry Drayton pleaded eloquently and effectively for economy both from a national and individual standpoint. Only the expenditures that were most necessary should be undertaken, he declared, and undoubtedly the Finance Minister is correct. But if his policy is to be carried out how in the name of common sense can any member of Parliament logically claim that his allowance should be increased to $4,000? The members should see to it that the country's business is transacted as expeditiously as is possible, speed up the legislation and cut down the proceedings of the session to the things that are of importance. If they do this they should be able to carry on very comfortably on a $2,500 allowance and at all events they would be giving a practical demonstration of that economy which Sir Henry Drayton so fervently urged.

THE DUTY OF MEMBERS.

In his speech in the Budget debate the other day Hon. W. S. Fielding, the former Liberal Minister of Finance, drew attention to a matter that the average member of Parliament fights shy of for obvious reasons. Hon. Mr. Fielding was endorsing the Finance Minister's statement that economy both in public affairs and in private business was a necessary policy for Canada and the Canadian people at the present time and in doing so he called upon the members of the House to do their share by standing between the Minister and the people of their respective constituencies who might be inclined to make demands upon the treasury for expenditures for public work that was unnecessary and extravagant. The old conception of a member of Parliament proving his fitness by the amount of public money he could get expended in his riding, Mr. Fielding evidently believes, should not hold good to-day, and in view of the financial condition of the country there will be many people who will agree that the veteran Liberal is most certainly right. It has been the practise—and there was not much objection to it in the piping days before the war—for representatives of the different constituencies to endorse every application for public assistance that came from their ridings. In the present circumstances, however, Hon. Mr. Fielding urged the members who were better acquainted with the necessity ror economy than their constituents to have regard only to the fact of whether or not the work asked for was absolutely necessary. Unquestionably such a policy would assist in eliminating national waste and in promoting national economy and Mr. Fielding's advice is helpful and in the public interest.

AN ASSESSMENT INJUSTICE.

In view of Mr. R. R. Hall's opinion on the same point as given in the Examiner recently the following from the Toronto Star is of interest:

Amongst those who have felt the pinch of dollar-shrinkage, none are more entitled to sympathy than elderly people who are dependent for their livelihood upon a small income from invested capital. Their investments in many cases bring no higher a return than formerly, and where this return was barely sufficient a few years ago, it is obviously altogether insufficient to-day. Savings which they looked upon as adequate to provide them with an income for their declining years fall short of their requirements.

This class of citizen regards with natural resentment a somewhat peculiar provision of the Assessment Act which grants exemption from municipal income tax in the case of money derived from investments, bank deposits, or mortgages, only "if such income does not exceed $800 and the income of such person from all sources does not exceed $1,500." The wording of the clause is such that while an income of this nature amounting to $800 is tax-free, an income of $801 is taxable, and not only on the extra dollar over the $800, but on the whole $801. Toronto's Assessment Department recently had before it the case of a woman whose income was $800.65. The law required that she should pay on the whole of that amount, whereas if she had been inreceipt of 65 cents less, she would not have been taxable at all. If she had been dependent upon wages, she would have been in a different class altogether and entitled to an exemption of $1,700 if a householder of $1,400 if a non-householder.

THE FALL OF PRICES.

The wave of price reduction beginning in New York through the patriotism or the busines sagicity of an eminent merchant, sweeps over the country. From every section come reports of cheaper goods. The turn of the tide seems at last to have arrived.

The price lessening naturally attaches chiefly to clothing and to miscellaneous articles rather than to food. Agricultural producers are less organized and more keenly competitive than other producers. Their prices depend more directly on supply and demand, and are thus more the resultants of natural economic law. No great addition to the supply of foodstuffs has occurred, and in the domestic field no decrease in the demand. The cost of eating is likely to continue along present levels for some time.

But factories do business on estimates. They commonly take orders far in advance of manufacture. They guess what expenses will be and what prices safely can be fixed without heaping up unsold surpluses.

A manufacturer has a horror of overstocked warehouses. Similarly the retailer, who also does business on estimates, dreads overfilled shelves. For three years the retailer, amazed by a swelling demand which apparently nothing could stop, has been busy retagging, and this winter has pushed up his profit margin. But he has no desire to be caught with an overstock. So he adopts drastic measures to transfer his goods to consumers, knowing that if the downward swing gains headway it will continue down through its own momentum.

The relief is coincident with the relative decrease in the foreign demand and the deflation of credit which the Federal Reserve Bank is wisely forcing. The theories of the experts are thus vindicated. The heavy exchange against Europe is slowing up exports and stimulatin imports. Higher money is bringing liquidation of overextended business.

That prices will drop to their old levels is most improbable. They did not after the Civil War. The new wage scale buttresses present prices, and a wage scale is not easily budged. In not a few lines, particularly in the dominant agricultural one, it is not certain that prices have gone up faster than farm wages and cost of agricultural supplies. Nor can deflation be carried very far without creating a condition the country would revolt against.

Nor is it desirable to have a sudden fall of prices. The ill effects of a rapid fall are almost as grave as those of a great rise. If there is not to be a disorganization of industry, which would mean non-employment and hard times, a cuttin-in-two of prices, for which many clamor, would be dangerous.—New York Sun.

WHISKEY WILL RISE SIX DOLLARS A CASE

TORONTO, May 25.—The net effect of the new tariff on Government liquor sales will be to boost the price of whiskey about $6 per case and other liquors in proportion. Meanwhile, until Ottawa gives a ruling on certain disputed points, the Ontario License Board has instructed the Government vendors to sell on the old basis. One of the points in question is whether the tax applies to wine gallons or imperial gallons. Whether the tax will have the effect of curtailing sales through vendors is problematic.

"You know what human nature is," said Mr. J. D. Flavelle.

"Liquor to some people is more necessary than bread and butter."

THE STOWAWAYS.

The high cost of ocean travel is increasing the number of stowaways. Scarcely a ship arrives on this side of the Atlantic that does not contain several unregistered passengers, and the majority of them are Russians and Germans fleeing from their own countries.

If It's Rubber We Make It

Rubber has become probably the most universally used material in the world. In every factory, office, store, and household, some article of rubber is used daily as an important part of the equipment. Few users recognize its utility or its quality—to them the important item is price.

When you buy rubber goods be certain that you get a Dominion Rubber System product. It is your assurance of superior quality and satisfactory service. These products include Rubber Goods for every conceivable purpose, in standard stock sizes, or specially made to meet your needs, in factory, mill, mine, lumbercamp, shipbuilding, marine, or other industry.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

PDACE FOR A TIME

CHAPTER CXXX

Following my anniversary my jealousy was in abeyance. I had felt so mortified over my actions (altho I flattered myself no one had probed them) that I was meekness itself.

I rode with Miss Pierce and Junior, occasionally with Mrs. Gray as a companion. I visited Alice Sloane and my other friends, and they visited me. (I went to the theatre or other places of amusement with Everett; and I practiced and studied religiously. Mrs Barr still came to me twice a week. My reading with her had begun to have its effect. It had insensibly broadened me, but it had been like the change in Everett—so slowly accomplished I had not realized it was happening. Instead of resenting her presence, I now felt annoyed if anything prevented my hour's reading with her. My French was also improving, and we were reading Flaubert in the original; which delighted me.

Everett was very much interested in this phase of my life—more so than was warranted, I thought, until one day he said to me.

"I am delighted with your awakened interest in your reading and music. I am much older than you, Sandra. There will perhaps come a time when I will no longer interest you greatly—altho I shall try; then your reading, your wider knowledge will take the place of what I might continue to do for you were I a younger man, and will so keep you contented."

I made no reply. I could think of nothing to say. It was tht first time he ever referred to the future as connected with the disparity in our ages.

I wanted to be old. I now know that he longed inexpressibly to be young. The irony of it,—neither satisfied, both reaching out for something to make us happy together, instead of just BEING happy and trusting each other and God for our future!

There was one subject of which we never tired; Junior. Often when Everett was at home for the evening and we had no guests, we would spend the entire evening planning his future. He had been entered at Groton as soon as he was born. After that we were rather divided between Princeton, Harvard and Yale. So we would argue the merits of each, and invariably would end up by saying: "Well, we've time enough to decide that," then go on talking of WHAT we would like him to be. I wanted him to be a great lawyer. Or someof the sort. A professional man. Everett preferred he should be a business. This too we would talk over together amiably, altho we disagreed.

"The world needs good business men educated, honest men of affairs. Since the war we have realized what a power the business man is in the world; how necessary he is Everett said once when I, rather snobbishly, said a professional man had a better social position.

So we spent happy hours planning for our son.

But as always my peaceful frame of mind was not to last. Twice a woman had called on the telephone and asked for Everett. When I had said I was Mrs. Graham, she had quickly hung up the receiver, and altho I had tried both times to have central find out where the call was from, I had failed.

I had not told Everett. She might call again, and I be more successful in locating her.

"A lady called while you was out, ma'am." Hetty told me when I returned from a shopping expedition.

"Did she leave her name?"

"No, ma'am. She asked for Mr. Graham. Then she asked what time he came home to dinner."

"What kind of a looking woman"

"Nice looking ma'am—dressed nice.

For days I scarcely left the house, so anxious was I to find out who this woman was. I had given up hope that she would telephone again or call when one night just at dinned time the 'phone rang. Everett was dining at the club.

"May I speak to Mr. Graham?" she asked.

"He is not at home. This is Mrs. Graham. I will give my husband any message you wish to leave."

"Thank you, but I prefer to talk to Mr. Graham," and once again I was unable to find out where the call had come from, or who had called.

To-morrow—An Emotional Episode

RAPID RESTORATION IN SOME REGIONS

French Are Making Great Progress in Recovering from the Devastation Left by the War.

PARIS.—Great Progress in restoring something like normal conditions has been achieved by the inhabitants of the devastated regions of the Somme during the eighteen months since the armistice.

Of 400,000 acres in a completely useless state, statistics show nearly half have been put in cultivation, and this year's havest will yield a cereal crop of more than 3,000,000 bushels. At the end of the year it is expected there will remain only 70,000 acres unreclaimed. Twenty-seven million of 60,000,000 square yards of trench and shell holes have been filled in, and 11,000,000 square yards of barbed wire entanglements removed.

At the time of the armistice there were 205 towns and villages more or less demolished, giving an area of 4,500,000 square yards of debris to be cleared. About a quarter of this has been done. The towns of Amiens, Corbie, Ham, Nesle, Boyes and Ailly-sur-Noye and several neighboring villages have been almost cleared, and more than 8,000 of the 20,000 damaged houses have been repaired and made habitable. Ten thousand huts have been erected, and of the 1,300 industrial plants more or less demolished 230 are in full operation and 436 in partial operation.

In addition, rivers and canals have been repaired and are being used. Wells and ponds which were filled up with refuse have been cleared, and railroads, both main lines and light, restored.

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

CORONER WOULD SHOOT SPEED FIENDS

OTTAWA, May 25. — Declaring that he had spoken time and again about violations of the speed limit by automobiles using Montcalm street, Hull, Coroner T. B. Davies, presiding at the inquest here into the circumstances surrounding the death of Eugene Gravelle, hit by an auto on Montcalm street on Tuesday evening, announced that if there was no other way to prevent speeding, he would take the law into his own hands and "shoot."

"There is no law that would make a man hang for such an act," he said.

HER CASE SEEMED HOPELESS

But "Fruit-a-tives" Brought Health and Strength

20 Sr. Rose St., Montreal.

"I am writing you to tell you that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives". This medicine relieved me when I had given up hope of ever being well.

I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia—had suffered for years; and nothing I took did me any good.

I read about "Fruit-a-tives" and tried them. After taking a few boxes, of this wonderful medicine made from fruit juices, I am now entirely well"

Madame ROSINA POIRIE.

BABY DROWNED IN A TROUGH

OAKVILLE, May 22. — Though scarcely able to do more than toddle around, the little fourteen-months-old daughter of Wurtzel Biggar, a farmer living a few miles north of here, slipped into the barnyard the other morning without the mother noticing that she had disappeared from the house. In less than fifteen minutes she was missed, and on a search being made her body was discovered in a water trough.

Every effort to resuscitate her was made, but without success. There was comparatively little water in the trough.

The Biggars are a young couple, and this was their only child.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, May 25. — A most enjoyable entertainment was given on Friday evening in the basement of the Methodist Church under the auspices of the Epworth League, the entertainer being Mr. J. W. Bengough, of Toronto, the celebrated cartoonist. This is Mr. Bengough's third visit to Lakefield. Rev. Soford Dixon presided and introduced Mr. Bengough, who declined to characterize his entertainment as a "lecture" because of the variety of subjects dealt with and his rapid night from one to the other, illustrating in every instance by a sketch so speaking that the audience were kept in gusts of laughter from beginning to end and the small boy seized the point of the jokes and pictures as readily and with as keen enjoyment as his elders. Mr. Bengough's wonderful gift, by which every quick touch and stroke of his crayon tells instantly of its purpose is an entertainment worth while. His sketches were as follows: "Man with Bald Head"; "Boy Eating Pie," transformed from an acute and obtuse angle, the former the piece of pie and the latter the mouth. This picture was latter changed into a girl. "Coon" formed from the letters forming the word and further amplified to portray a domestic scene which he illustrated still more tellingly by a song in excellent voice; "A Dude and His Shadow" illustrating the single tax and its purpose and kinks; "Cohen on His Way to Palestine"; "Englishman, Irishman and Scotchman" developed from a plum pudding, potato and thistle respectively; "Five Year Old Girl" evolved from a sunflower as drawn by an art student at a young ladies' boarding school. In connection with this picture as completed he recited "Little Orphant Annie" delightfully. His local sketches were: Mr. T. Spence driving his horse 'Phil," Mr. Jobitt, calling "All Aboard for Peterboro," and Mr. J. H. Chant "The Busiest Man in Town," with six hands, one containing a way bill, one freight, one telegram, etc., and all for the G.T.R. These pictures, like the others, elicited shouts of laughter and hearty applause. At the close of the evening the sketches were sold, some privately and others by auction.

Miss Electa Preston, of the Normal School, Peterboro, was home for the week-end.

Miss Daubuz was in Peterboro on Friday.

Mrs. Lawrence Mahan, of New York, was in the village on Friday.

Mr. W. B. Walton, of Peterboro, was the guest on Friday of Mr. James Walton and Mrs. F. J. Burgess.

Mrs. H. J. Stuart was a visitor to Peterboro on Friday.

A New Cottage.

The steamer Stoney Lake made a trip up the lakes from Peterboro on Thursday carrying a large lot of miscellaneous freight, including a scow load of lumber to build a cottage, 36 x 40 for Mr. T. H. Glover of Peterboro. It is being built next to Mr. Morphet's cottage on Sandy Point.

Another large lot of lumber was taken up to Sandy Point to Mr. Jack Ayotte who is building a one and a-half story cottage next to Mr. Harry Fitzgerald's and is to be 40 ft. square. It is being built for Mr. Budreo of Toronto.

Stil another lot of lumber was delivered on a little island next St. Peter's Anglican Church for a Rectory for the minister in charge. It will cost probably in the neighborhood of $2,000 and is being built by Mr. John Cassidy.

Prof. Michael MacKenzie and two sons, of Toronto, were on board and were landed at their island.

The Inspector of Hulls for this district was on board the "Stoney Lake" from Lakefield to Young's Point making an inspection.

Among those on board were Mr. Robert McCauley, of Peterboro, for Mount Julian.

Miss Denne and Mrs. Widdifield who had been at their island for a few days returned to Peterboro on Friday.

Mr. Ephriam Bronson, of Burleigh, left on Friday with Mr. William Nixon, foreman for the Manley Chew Lumber Company Camp at North Bay.

The "Stoney Lake" made a trip to the lakes on Friday with a large cargo of freight and passengers on the arrival of the noon train. Among the passengers were:

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sloan of Toronto; Mr. H. Sutherland and Mr. Harry Sutherland of Toronto; Mr. W. G. Ferguson of Peterboro; Mr. Fred. Addison of Toronto; Mr. J. D. Collins of Peterboro; Sheriff Hall and Miss Hall of Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Lech of Peterboro; Mr. James Donnell of Peterboro; Mr. Henry Beck of Peterboro; Mr. Alex. Gibson of Peterboro; Mr. John Foster of Peterboro; Mr. Levi Paynes of Lakefield; Mr. Adam Mitchell and Mr. Adam Klippert of Toronto; Mr. Tyrer and the "Vimy Troop" of Boy Scouts numbering twenty, who are to camp at South Beach. Nearly all remained over until after the 24th.

Mr. K. G. Lech is putting in a very handsome fire place in Kenmore Cottage at Stoney Lake.

Miss Irene Madill, of Trenton, was home for the holiday.

Mr. J. M. Bygott, who has been appointed G.T.R. station agent at Campbellford, was in the village over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Deseronto, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bygott over the holiday.

Miss Marjory Laing, of Toronto, was home for the holiday.

Mrs. W. W. Leonard was a visitor to Peterboro on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Campbell and children, of Peterboro, were visiting friends in the village on Monday.

Mr. Wm. Murduff and family moved to Peterboro on Monday.

Mr. Floyd Rogers, of Kingston, was visiting his grandmother, Mrs. D. Rogers, over the holiday.

Miss Lelia Pattrick of Millbrook, was a visitor to her home on the holiday.

Mr. Thomas Wilson and daughter, of Peterboro, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Peacock at the Commercial House on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wall, of Peterboro, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Watley over the holiday.

The stork appeared at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parberry of Douro, leaving a little boy.

Miss Molly Johnson, of Toronto, is a week-end visitor to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Johnson.

Misses Loretta and Mildred Watley, of Peterboro, were week-end visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Watley.

Miss Beatrice Montgomery, of Toronto, is a week-end visitor of her sister, Mrs. T. Junkin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bissell, of Toronto, are holiday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Higgins.

Mr. Clarence Bell and Miss Bell, of Toronto, were up at Stoney Lake over the holiday.

THE DREAD PYORRHEA BEGINS WITH BLEEDING GUMS

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

AUTHOR OF SEVENTEEN BOOKS AT SEVENTEEN

If all reports are true, Miss Winifred Sackville Stoner is a child prodigy. She has just reached the ripe old age of seventeen, and has to her credit seventeen books and more than ten thousand verses. In the face of this remarkable record one is inclined to wonder when she found time to play the games that children delight in.

When she was four years old she was taken on an extensive travel and beguiled the time by translating Virgil. When in Berlin she is reported to have lectured the All-Highest in Esperanto. She is said to speak 17 languages and to make about one hundred dollars a week writing for magazines.

But Miss Stoner is not a delicate little lady. She was working in the "movies" once, and during the taking of a film the director scolded her in what Miss Stoner considered an unjust manner. She promptly threw him into the lake.

"Thanks to my jiu-jitsu," says Miss Stoner, "I shall know how to manage my husband."

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

For Colds, Pain, Rheumatism, Aching Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, and for Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

THE SUN LIFE OF CANADA, with over $105,000,000.00 of Assets, is the logical place to Insure.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

MEMORIAL DEDICATED TO MEMORY OF A SOUTH MONAGHAN SOLDIER

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY IN THE CENTREVILLE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Deeply impressive was the dedication ceremony held at Centreville Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning last when the memorial window erected by the stewards to perpetuate the memory of William Henry Murney of South Monaghan, killed in action, in August 1918 was unveiled. This is the third memorial window to be erected by the Township Council in South Monaghan Churches to immortalize the memory of those who made thesupreme sacrifice from this district.

The service was attended by a very large assemblages from the surrounding district including the immediate family and friends of the late Sergeant Murney, the reeve and township councillors and many visitors from outside points.

The service by the Rev. A H. McConnachie was most impressively and beautifully carried out and inspiring and uplifting to the maximum degree. His sermon and his references to the fallen soldiers were poignant with emotion. He emphasized the duty they performed, their sacrifice that they made willingly, gladly in their first flush of manhood that humanity might be free and should this not serve to inspire to urge us on to a life to deeds worthy of their sacrifice of life and all it held dear. He appealed for more consideration for the returned men who had offered all they held dear for Canada and especially for the wounded and blinded veterans did he bespeak for helpful consideration. Reading letters and transcripts from letters from Sergeant Murney's officers his outstanding soldiers, his indomintable spirit his convictions in the cause were shown. His military career had been marked by his true service to the cause. When only 20, he enlisted with the 21st Battalion, proceeding overseas with the second contingent. For nearly four long years he carried on; his faith and courage never faltered. Thrice was he wounded and thice promoted and he was also decorated with the military medal and bar. Following his last severe wounds he returned to the trenches valuntarily and in August 1918 paid the supreme sacrifice. "For our tomorrow they gave their to-day" concluded Rev. McConnachie.

The Memorial was unveiled by Lieut-Col. T. Johnston who in a few words commanded the plan of the Council in erecting these decorative windows. He urged for greater help for the returned who were in want and enumeration and case of existing want. The church is the only place for the returned man to look to, he said. Col. Johnston paid the highest tribute to the late Sergeant Murney, who saw the need for men and answered the call unhesitatingly.

Memorial

The beautiful stained glass window which had been covered by a Union Jack was then unveiled and the beautiful stained glass window exposed to view while the Last Post was played by Mr. Walter Hughes. Following this ceremony the National Anthem concluded the service.

ALD. R. COPPING AND HIS BROTHER HONOUR PARENTS

TABLET UNVEILED IN MEMORY OF LATE MR. AND MRS. GEORGE COPPING.

TORONTO, May 25.—Sunday afternoon, at St. Paul's Anglican church, a tablet was unveiled to the memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Copping, by their son, Norman Copping, which is the first tablet erected in the Dominion to the memory of victims of the Lusitania.

The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Cody, who, in paying a warm tribute to the late Mr. Copping—who he referred to as one of Toronto's outstanding, upright business men—stated that it is well to be reminded of what we may very easily forget, and that he was glad the tablet will perpetuate the solemn judgment of mankind against the breach of international law and honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Copping, together with one other regular member of St. Paul's congregation, were all drowned, and also two of the pupils of Havegal College.

The tablet is a very handsome bronze one, mounted on marble. At the corners are maple leaves on green, and the badges of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club are also introduced. The inscription, which bears the coroner's verdict, is as follows:

"In loving memory of George R. Coping and his wife, Emma, members of this congregation, who were drowned when the S. S. Lusitania was sunk off the Irish coast by a German submarine, May 7th, 1915.

"'And the sea gave up the dead which were in it.'—Rev. xx., 13.

"'I am persuaded that neither death.....nor depth shall be able to separate us from the love of God.'—Rom. viii., 300.

"Finding of Coroner's jury, May 10, 1915.—'This apalling crime was contrary to international law and the conventions of civilized nations; and we, therefore, charge the officer of the snbmarine, and the German Emperor and the Government of Germany, under whose orders they acted, with the crime of wilful and wholesale murder.'

"Erected by their sons, Norman and Russell Copping."

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Norman Copping, there were present representatives from the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, the Granite Bowling Club, and old Business Men's Association.

The above refers to Ald. Russell Copping of Peterborough.

MILITARY AND NAVAL NEWS

All ex-flying officers who are desirous of joining the Canadian Air Force which has been authorized by the Government are asked to send in their names to Captain G. G. Winterbottom at the Armouries as soon as possible.

Colonel Gardiner, A.D. M.S., military district No. 3, has retired but will continue as medical officer for Royal Military College

The cruiser Rainbow now at Esquimault will be sold minus the two six inch guns.

Commadore Hose of the Canadian Navy will probably succeed Admiral Kingsmill and goes to England presently to take over the cruiser and two destroyers the Admiralty has given to Canada.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL EVENING

On Monday evening the Epworth League of Mark street Methodist Church was entertained at a most enjoyable evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carl, Euclid avenue. A game of baseball was played in which the pastor, Rev. C E. Ross took part after which dainty refreshments were served on the beautiful lawns surrounding the house. At the close of the evening a resolution of appreciation of their hosts hospitality was pasesed unanimously.

A SALVATION ARMY PILGRIMAGE

(By FRANK RUSSELL)

Yesterday, May 24th, was Empire Day—the anniversary of the birthday of the former Queen of England and Empress of India—Queen Victoria—which is always marked in this Dominion as a public holiday, and is looked forward to with pleasure; for surely it is practically the first holiday of the Spring. Good Friday which should be considered as a holy day and not as a holiday (the latter word being only a corruption of the former) being usually cold and inclement and without much in the way of outing facilities.

The Salvation Army had arranged a sort of Hegira, or pilgrimage; their Mecca, or objective, being a little plot of land only about one rod square, or forty feet each way, constituting a miniature "God's acre" in the middle of a grain field overlooking the waters of Rice Lake. This solitary spot, apparently near nowhere, for beyond one or two small farm houses, no sign of habitation was visible—is known as "Pengelly's Cemetery"—so called after Commander Pengelly of the British Navy, whose body lies here. Altogether in this fortieth part of an acre repose the earthly remains of twelve mortals, the names of three only being known, viz., Joseph Scriven, the objective of yesterday's pilgrimage, Captain Pengelly, and the young lady to whom Scriben was engaged.

In former years pilgrimages occupied years and were carried out under great hardships. The more rigourous devotees would have hard dried peas within their boots to add to their mortification and self denial. But in these days of Cook's personally conducted pilgrimages, the peas—if used at all, are well boiled—the caravan is composed of Pullman cars or palatial steamers. Anyway, on whatever scale, they are conducted in comfort.

Yesterday the Salvaton Army chartered the flagship of the Stoney Lake Navigation Co's fleet, viz., "The Stoney Lake," timed to leave the George street wharf at 8:30 a.m. As usual Admiral Frank Young was there with his cheery smile to bid God-speed to the passengers, while the ship herself was under the command of that tried and favorite veteran, Commodore Scollard. This officer, and his subordinates, never fail to promote to the last degree, the comfort and happiness of their passengers—whether male, female or little children.

There was a goodly crowd on board—not too many to make it uncomfortable, but just enough. Every creed and sect seemed to be represented among the pilgrims and on might say, almost every tongue.

At 8:30 the warning whistle advised us that we were about to cast off, and within a minute or two we were cleared of the landing pier. Very soon the band began to enliven the visitors with popular tunes, including those ever-living sweet old Southern melodies which came into vogue at or after the American civil war—"Way Down upon the Swanee Ribber," "Poor Old Joe," and others of that ilk will live forever.

The day was grey, with a very light north east breeze; in many respects a good day for a water trip, as there was no glare and just enough breeze to carry away the smoke made by such Phillistines as the writer who indulged in the vile(?) but soothing and inspiring weed, tobacco. For what is life without a smoke?

Soon the fun was fast and furious. Young ladies were seen exchanging hats with their male friends, probably with a view to exchange of ideas. Picnic hampers were quickly in evidence and the pilgrims seemed to be having a real good time. We carried "W. P." the well-known weather man, with us, and he gave us a day without rain. Good old Walter!

At noon we arrived at a most dilapidated old wharf; not even fit for kindling wood was it, and which this scribe was told was a government wharf! Oh, save the mark! If the government be as rotten as the wharf may the good Lord help us! This wharf was apparently near nowhere—if you know where that is—but although out in what ordinarily would be a desert, there were great signs of life. Mecca was about half a mile distant and the road was lined, not only with pedestrians but by rigs and autos of every kind, sort and description, from the magnificent high-powered roadster to the Ford. Al fresco booths and dining tables and flower stalls had been erected in a field on the road side which seemed to be well patronized by those who had not the foresight to bring their own provender. And the crowd! My goodness! Where did they all come from? They were all part of the pilgrimage, of the country round, for the visit to Mecca was for the unveiling of an obelisk to the author of a hymn which has as is well known, a big vogue, commencing "What a Friend we have in Jesus." A description of the unveiling ceremony will appear in another column, or sufice it here to say that the ceremony to be performed by Premier Drury was billed for two o'clock and it was half past three before he and his retinue put in an appearance. And our steamers—and there were three of them—the Stoney Lake from Peterboro, the Geneva and the Rainbow from Hastings—were under orders to leave at 3:30 p.m., and half a mile or more away!

As a matter of fact it was close on 4:30 before the Stoney Lake pushed into the waters of Rice Lake homeward bound, and it was eight o'clock when we again saw Peterboro.

The return journey was pleasant enough, although the air was the least bit chilly. Supper baskets seemed to be the objective of most. Then sections of the band played popular tunes, marches, song tunes, and so forth, with a hymn tune interspersed. And then some songsters sang some well known psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, books were closed and then Auld Lang Syne was played by the band. "God Save the King" was both played and sung, the finale being the valedictory song or hymn, which ever it may be. "God be with us 'till we meet again." By this time the George street wharf had been reached and the human freight discharged itself, from the Stoney Lake, with thanks to Captain Scollard, and bearing with the members the remembrance of a really pleasant Salvation Army pilgrimage.

Hand-made blouses have long collars and panel fronts.

ANOTHER CIRCUS COMING TO CITY

HAGENBECK-WALLACE SHOWS HERE ON JUNE 8TH.

Though the billboards and store windows are announcing through bright lithographs the coming of the big Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus on Tuesday, June 8, it is noticeable that no banners have been tacked upon the sides or fronts of business buildings, as is the policy of other circuses.

Advertising car No. 1 was in town all day and when this fact was mentioned to J. C. Donahue, advertising manager he remarked:

"No there are no banners tacked about your city and there will not be. This method of advertising has been discontinued by the big circuses, though it is still being used by the small eight and ten car shows. The big circuses feel that this policy mars the beauty of the city. Not alone do these banners spoil the beauty of the community, but they also ruin the buildings. The banners are generally left hanging after the circus leaves the city, and they soon become faded and raggy, hanging there to the disgust of the property owner and the community. Many lives have been lost when the owners have attempted to climb for the banners to remove them. Not experienced in making for the high places the property owner would lose his balance and fall, sustaining serious injuries and oftentimes death. No, this is the policy that the big circus have discontinued and it is hoped the small ones will follow."

The Hagenbeck-Great Wallace Circus is the largest visiting Canada this year and the only wild animal show. Greatest of care is declared to have been taken in completing the programme, with the result that the time worn phrase, "Every circus is alike," cannot be truthfully applied to this circus.

A feature only provided by the circuses is a downtown ticket office. This circus will open one on show day where general admission and reserved seats will be on sale throughout the day at the same prices charged on the circus grounds. The location will be announced later.

To Shrink a Flesby, Flabby, Wrinkled Face

The woman whose face has a bloated appearance at times, as well as she whose face is permanently over-fleshy or flabby, should use the simple saxolite solution. This is made by dissolving one ounce of powdered saxolite in one-half pint of witch hazel, ingredients which any druggist can supply. Use as a wash lotion. There is nothing better to reduce the face to a normal appearance. The loose skin shrinks, bagginess and wrinkles are ironed out. Not only does the effect quickly show in one's improved looks, but there is also a comfortable feeling of firmness and smugness.

This treatment is far superior to massage. The latter, as a matter of fact, can afford but temporary relief and its continuance tends to break down the muscular tissue and aggravate the trouble.

VISITORS WERE BEATEN 7 TO 2

The Canadian Woollens ball team of the local City League, sprung a surprise on the Hinde and Dauch team of Toronto at Riverside yesterday morning, beating the Toronto gang 7 to 2. The visitors were under the wing of Wallie Parnell, the old Peterborough shortstop, and got off to a bad start, the Woollens scoring five runs in the first innings. Smith pitched a steady, effective game for the local crew.

HOME TEAMS WON OPENING FIXTURES

The Central League got off to a good start yesterday, all there home teams winning. The Petes were beaten 5 to 2 at Belleville.

At Cobourg where Alex. Kay was umpire in chief the Cobourg crew won their first league game in two years by beating Lindsay 8 to 3. Wallington did the heaving for Cobourg and Lefty McElroy was on the rubber for Lindsay.

Oshawa had a light lunch with Port Hope trimming the team from President Lockington's town by 22 runs to 2. Finnegan Hills and McDonald who pitched for Port Hope got a terrible lacing.

SERVICE AT GEORGE STREET

The exceptionally large congregation at George street Sunday morning testified to the interest shown in the unveiling of the memorial tablet for the men who did their part in the great war. The order of service was arranged to suit the occasion, the pastor being assisted by Lieut.-Col. E. B. Clegg, Rev. B. Greatrix and Messrs. S. R. Armstrong, H. G. Walker and T. W. Robinson.

Value of Memorials.

Lieut.-Col. Clegg, in a few well chosen words, dwelt particularly on the value of memorial tablets. Historians will chronicle the great events and battles, will laud the great generals and praise the great statesmen. They will also approve of or criticize the efforts of the politician. For the great mass of men who fought for their country, however, the only way their deeds will be remembered will be by the memorials raised in their honor. The speaker also voiced a note of warning, staing that the Germans are defeated, but will rise again in the years to come. It is the duty of the nations to check by all peaceable means the efforts of the Teutonic race to obtain world power. If this cannot be done peaceably it will be the duty of the nations to again go to war. If that time comes the memorials which are being erected will stand up as an inspiration to uphold the traditions of the great war.

Rev. A. J. Thomas gave an inspiring address, pointing out the necessity of men having to go to battle to protect the Empire. He sounded a note of warning concerning the forces that are at work against the formation of a greaer and better Canada. It is the duty of every citizen to do his part, and returned soldiers have a large part to play in the building up of the Dominion in the years to come.

A Slight Token.

Mr. H. G. Walker, chairman of the Tablet committee, spoke of the difficulties encountered in preparing the memorial and expressed the feeling that the very best tablet was only a slight token compared with the sacrifices made by the soldiers.

The tablet was then unveiled by Mr. T. W. Robinson, one of the two oldest remaining trustees of the church and by Mr. H. G. Walker. During this ceremony the congregation rose and Mr. Thomas led in prayer.

Excellent Judgment Displayed.

In speaking on behalf of the congregation, Mr. S. R. Armstrong dwelt on the excellent judgment of the Tablet committee and stated that the congregation will be greatly pleased with this memorial, which will adorn the walls of the church in years to come.

Evening Discourse.

At the evening service the pastor gave the second of a series of sermons on the mountains of the Bible, basing his remarks on the events which transpired in connection with Mount Nebor. He drew lessons from the life and characteristics of Moses — that wonderful leader of the children of Israel.

In speaking of the achievements of Moses Mr. Thomas pointed out that at 40 years of age Moses was a fugitive, at 80 he was stirring his countrymen to leave Egypt and at 120 he completed the greatest task of the ages. Single handed, but by the power of God, Moses broke off the bounds of his people.

Such an example as Moses should stir the soul of every youth. We should be ambitious to make our lives count for something that is worthy and sublime. We cannot place too much importance on intimacy with God. It was Moses' faith in God and God's faith in him which was the secret of Moses' power. We should live every day so that death will not be a calamity but rather a translation of spirit from the Pisgah of earth to the Canaan of Heaven.

AT THE DANCE

If the attendance at the opening dance given by the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., at Chemong Park last evening is an indication of what the season will be, the Chapter is assured of a successful outcome. The pavilion was filled, and over $100.00 was taken in at the door. The music was supplied by Mr. Otto Gliddon.

Chaperoned by Mrs. Harry Cressman and Mrs. J. G. Campazzi, the following were amongst those present: Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Warne, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perks, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Lockhart, Miss Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Richardson, Mr. MacLaren, Mr. J. Bateman, Mr. Alec Fortye, Mr. Douglas Huycke, Mr. M. Next Dance.

The second dance will be held on Friday of next week.

THE LADIES WIT H SPARKS CIRCUS ARE ATTRACTIVE.

Pretty and attractive women are one of the features of the Sparks Three Ring Circus which is coming to Peterboro for a one day's stay, Tuesday, June 1st, on the Exhibition Grounds. Probably one of the prettiest, as well as one of the cleverest is Miss Irma Conners, who is an exact replica of the world's favorite screen star, Mary Pickford—in fact among her associates of the circus she is known as "The Mary Pickford of the High Wire." Among the many feats accomplished by this little Miss is the graceful execution of all the modern ball-room dances now in vogue. Then there is dainty Flora Bedini and Bessie Hollis, both equestrienne starswhose beauty adds greatly to their truly wonderful exhibitions of riding. Another of the Sparks galaxy of pretty women is Minnie Thompson, America's greatest horsewoman, and whose likeness has graced the pages of many of the leading magazines and Horse Show publications. Miss Thompson will introduce Caesar, champion high-jumping horse at both performances in this city and an attempt will be made to lower his own record of 7 ft., 4 ins. Of course there are many other beautiful women with the Sparks Circus and they will all be seen in the two-mile long, open cage street parade at 10.30 a.m. on Tuesday.

FORMER ASHBURNHAM BOY WILL GET U. OF T. DEGREE.

Dr. William Pakenham, Dean of the Faculty of Education at the University of Toronto, of which he is a graduate, will receive the degree of LL.D., from his Alma Mater at the coming Convocation.

He is a brother of Mr. Frank Pakenham, King Street, and of Mr. James Pakenham, Ashburnham, and of Gilbert Pakenham, Water Street.

Dr. Pakenham is an old Ashburnham boy.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE LITTLE BROTHER"

Mr. Tyrone Power whose most striking portrayal of the part of the Drainman in "The Servant in the House" made a lasting impression up on the local playgoers who were fortunate enough to witness that performance, scored another triumph in "The Little Brother" in which he appeared before capacity audiences at the Grand yesterday afternoon and evening. "The Little Brother" is not as well known as the "The Servant in the House", but it is a drama of throbbing interest to which the lesson of the necessity of tolerance between creeds is emphasized most effectively Mr. Power has a part that calls for neat dramatic ability and he easily answers the demands made upon his talent his performance being one that the audiences of yesterday will long remember He plays the part of a Russian priest, a fanatic who has been separated from his brother in childhood during the massacre of the Jews in Russia. When they meet in New York many years afterwards one brother is a Russian priest, the other a Jewish rabbi. When the daughter of the rabbi and the ward of the priest fall in love there is naturally bitter opposition on the part of the two brothers. The development of a spirit of tolerance between the two as the drama is carried through to its conclusion, forms an impressive theatrical performance in which Mr. Power rises to heights of genuis. A splendid company including the members of the caste who played "The Servant n the House" here, gave the star splendid support.

PREMIER DRURY JOSEPH UNVEILED SCRIVEN MEMORIAL

who remember Joseph Scriven say that his was a true Christian life, modelled on the teachings of the Bible.

The early ath of his fiancee, Eliza Catherine Roche, in 1860, when only 23, was a shock from which he never fully recovered. When he was found dead in an attitude of prayer in the flume of a dam near Rice Lake, on August 10, 1886, his body was laid away in the Pengelly cemetery near by, beside the grave of his love.

About 1860 he published a hymn book of his own composing but it did not have a large circulation. His great hymn was not in this book, but it was written about 1837 and is believed to have been dedicated to his mother.

For years his grave has remained unmarked in this quaint old cemetery but through the efforts of the committee in charge a public subscription was taken up and with the proceeds a large granite memorial was erected and suitably inscribed. The inscription is on the front. Above it and on two sides are inscribed the three verses of the famous hymn. It stands 17 feet high and cost over $11,000. The cemetery is situated in from the road and a cement walk was built into it, greatly improving the picturesque burial ground.

The Memorial.

The small cemetery was filled with people and surrounding it the crowds thronged. Preceding the ceremony, the band played several sacred selections in an excellent tone and metre and credit should be given the bandsmen for participating in the event gratis. The memorial was draped with a flag. Immediately in front of the monument was the speakers' platform.

Movie men and camera men and newspaper men in the crowd waited impatiently in the jostling crowd for the ceremony to commence.

With no ostentation the party arrived about 3:30 and pushing their way through the throng made their way to their platform.

The doxology, "Praise God, from Whom All Blessings Flow," went up up from the vast assemblage, led by the band, strongly and clearly and this song of blessing reverbrated through the wooded dales as of one voice.

Following the Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison ,Rev. A. H. McConnachie, of Centreville Presbyterian Church, read the Scripture lesson, Psalm 112. Rev. W. H. Higgs, of Madoc, who was one of the originators of the project, led in prayer.

The chairman read letters of regret at their inability to be present at the function but conveying their best wishes, from Premier and Mrs. Borden, Hon. and Mrs. R. N. Rowell, Hon. and Mrs. Mackenzie King.

From one in a much humbler walk of life, Robert Leckie, of the House of Refuge, Cobourg, formerly of Port Hope, and a friend of Joseph Scriven, a testimonial to his philanthropy and kindness was received: "As I stand on this platform and look at the enormous mass of people drawn to this gathering I confess my feelings are beyond expression." Dr. Lee looked on it not as a local or provincial or national but an international gathering, to do honour to Joseph Scriven. He said that the meeting was held in addition to the unveiling ceremony for correcting a wrong impression as to the author of the hymn—sometimes credited to Bonar. The matter was investigated and all credit for composing it was denied by Mr. Bonar. "We wish to give honour to whom honour is due."

The Cemetery.

In the burial ground sleeps 28 people of whom only 12 are identified, Dr. Lee said. On the one side sleep Miss Roche, on the other side Capt. Pengelly, while between lies the sacred dust of Joseph Scriven," Dr. Lee said, pointing to the grave. He believed in the resurrection day and he honed that when Joseph Scriven rose on the resurrection day he would be able to see his own monument which he neevr saw when he was alive.'

"Joseph Scriven lived his day and when his work was done slept in that little plot there."

"I think we are fortunate in having the Premier here to unveil this memorial."

During the collection the assemblage sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name."

I am glad to be here this afternoon and do honor to what, not to a man who did great material things, not to a man who built railways or amassed a fortune. He did what? He contributed a thought that will never perish. Premier Drury was pleased to gather and do honor to a simple life whose life and work was witnessed by the greatest thing found in humanity, the need for depending on the eternal power. He contributed a thought in a beautiful hymn, expressing the need of humanity, an immortal need which we canot get away from.

"The remains of Joseph Scriven will lie here until perhaps this order of things has passed away and the Master will reign on earth once more. Joseph Scriven contributed more than men higher up in the world, in higher positions, men who have been lauded as great. "While we are here honoring Joseph Scriven we are here to honor all simple lived men."

Premier Drury then unveiled the memorial. "May this memorial stand to the appreciation of the people of Ontario of a humble fellow citizen who gave expression to the greatest need of humanity."

From the platform the cinema operator caught the unveiling. Premier and Mrs. Drury were presented with two beautiful bouquets of roses by sweet little girls in pink, the Misses Ruth Dawson and Beryl Wood. Rev. Clarke, of Millbrook, spoke briefly on behalf of the Ministerial Association, expressing their pleasure in the happy conclusion of the work and the co-operation and sympathy given the project.

Rev. McConnachie moved a vote of thanks to Hon. Drury and said that they should be proud of their farmer premier. Rev. W. H. Higgs seconded the vote. He congratulated the committee on the successful completion of the work, which he said had been supported nobly by all. The vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Drury was tendered by Dr. Lee.

"I thank you friends. It is a real honor to be here and do honor to whom honor is due.

With the singing of the author's hymn and the Benediction the ceremony was concluded.

At Millbrook.

Premier Drury, accompanied by Mrs. Drury, spent the holiday in Orono, Millbrook, Bewdley and Omemee. At noon he motored from Orono to Millbrook, and was tendered a public reception by members of the municipalities of Cavan and Millbrook, Reeve W. Wood presided. Addresses of welcome were read by W. S. Given, representing the municipalities, and William Belch, representing the U.F.O. The Premier gave a short address, in which he reiterated his policyof dealing openly with the electors and placing all the cards on the table. Activities of the present session were reviewed.

At the close of the public session the Premier and his party were entertained at luncheon, and later in the afternoon the Premier motored to Bewdley, where he officially unveiled the monument to the memory of the late Joseph Scriven.

In the evening he journeyed to Omemee and addressed a largely attended meeting that was held in connection with the holiday celebration.

THIS FEEBLE AGED WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Builds Up Strength and Vitality For Old People

She says: "I am seventy-three years of age and suffered from a weak, run-down, condition, and was so feeble I could hardly get around; my daughter induced me to try VINOL, and it gave me a good appetite, I sleep well, am stronger and healthier in every way, so I can get around and do all my house work."

The reason VINOL is so successful in such cases is because it contains the tissue building and medicinal elements of cods' livers, aided by the blood-making, strength-creating, properties of tonic iron, beef peptone and hypophosphites.

Thus in a natural manner it increases the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood with thousands of red corpuscles and imparts strength, health and vitality to every organ, muscle and tissue of the body.

If feeble old people only realized the good VINOL will do them, our druggists would not be able to supply the demand.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural colour and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural colour and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

GIRLS WHO DISAPPEAR.

Tragedy of the Thousands That Sink Into Oblivion Yearly.

Police statistics of New York city show that at least two girls disappear from home every day in the year.

They vanish into oblivion. Soon they are forgotten, but the heartache of the mother left behind is never stilled. It will ache on through the remaining days of her life.

And what becomes of the girls who disappear?

That is a problem that we will not attempt to solve. We only know that they are swept away by the great whirlpool of life.

The federal statistics furnished by the bureau of vital statistics show that 50,000 persons disappear each year. They vanish into oblivion. A greater proportion of these are young girls. The men who disappear turn up sooner or later in most cases, but the girls, as a rule, are forever lost. Having cut awtr from their social ties, having burned their bridges behind them, these disappearing girls abandon usually all thought or hope of returning and become isolated members of the social colony of which they once were members. They prefer to struggle on as best they can.

It is one of life's tragedies.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Curl Hair This Way and Keep It Healthy

It has been found that the use of a harmless fluid which druggists know as "silmerine," will keep the straightest hair in curl for the longest time, giving it the appearance of true naturalness, besides keeping the hair softer and glossier than possible with the heated iron. The liquid should be applied with a clean tooth brush before doing up the hair, drawing the brush through the hair from crown to tip.

The hair will be beautifully wavy and curling, and will lie easily and loosely on the head, as it should, considering its welfare from a hygienic standpoint. A few ounces of liquid silmerine will last for months and as it is really beneficial to the hair, it should be generally adopted by the fair sex. It will not spot or discolor scalp or hair, nor leave any sediment, grease or stickiness.

THE BANK OF ENGLAND.

It Is a Private Company, but Acts as the Nation's Banker.

The Bank of England is not, as most people think, a government institution. It is a private company, but reaps a good profit by acting as the nation's banker. The remuneration paid to the Bank of England for the management of the national debt was fixed in 1906 as a yearly sum of the rate of £325 per million pounds and at the rate of £100 for every million pounds above this amount.

Before any of the government money that goes into the Bank of England can be spent a certain procedure has to be followed. First of all an order signed by the king and countersigned by two lords of the treasury has to be forwarded to the comptroller and auditor general of the exchequer and audit department. Then the comptroller hands an order to the treasury authorizing the Bank of England to debit the exchequer account and credit the account of the paymaster general, who makes all payments on behalf of the various departments.

Afterward the comptroller scrutinizes all the accounts paid to see that the money has been spent in accordance with the wishes of parliament.—Westminster Gazette.

ROMANCE OF COAL.

Some of the Products This Complex Material Yields to Man.

Coal seems to be rather an uninteresting thing. Who would imagine that the great, ugly black lumps could afford any one a subject worthy of study? And yet this same coal has given civilization many of its greatest possessions. The beautiful pink scarfs worn by women are colored with dyes that come from coal. The gas used to illuminate and to heat our homes is a product of the distillation of coal. Valuable chemicals, such as benzine, naphthalene and toluene, are coal products.

The tar used in paving streets and protecting roofs from rain is also a byproduct of the commercial treatment of coal, and finally aniline, the basis of aniline dyes and coloring materials, is one of the valuable chemicals contained in coal.

Coal is indeed one of the most complex materials to be found in all nature. To learn what it is we must go back to the dim, geological ages. The luxuriant vegetation of these past times, untrammeled by human feet and uncut by human hands, year after year grew, bloomed, faded and decayed, forming deep beds of rotted, woody fiber.

By degrees certain gases, such as hydrogen and oxygen, were partly lost from the mass of vegetable material. Pressure and heat converted this material into what we know as coal.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING.

Joys That Come In Reaching the Peak and Getting Back to Camp.

A great deal has been written by mountaineers about the joys of climbing, says Walter Prichard Eaton in Harper's Magazine. The joys of climbing are often a good deal like those of heavy dumbbell exercises. In Glacier park you want to sing the joys of coming back to camp in the afternoon and loafing on a bed of balsam boughs, with your tent flap open wide to the view of lupines and violets in the meadow and distant snow capped peaks beyond. You want to sing the joys of fragrant food and steaming tea, of twilight slowly gathering as though so fair a day were reluctant to depart.

To ascend a peak, to see the tumbled world at its wildest, to sit again in camp tired and warmed with food, to hear with one ear the camp cook telling bear stories, with the other the birdlike calls of the ground squirrels, to smell the resinous wood smoke and the balsams, to catch now and then the tinkle of little ice water brooks from the snowfields, to watch the sunset blush on Heaven's peak and the stars come softly out above the battlements of the divide—well, that is, I fear, to spoil you for any other life.

The little ice water brooks sing a siren song in the uplands starred with violets, and woe to him whose ears have heard. He can never be quite happy again east of the Great Divide.

Training Naval Gunners.

When England trains her gunners for the sea she sends them to Whale island in Portsmouth harbor. Here the entire island is given over to steel sheds which are built like gun turrets on a battleship. The great guns projecting from these sheds are dummies, though they are exact counterparts of those on a battleship. The prospective officers and men are made to go through the exercise of range finding, loading, aiming and "firing" these guns as rigidly as if they were in a real battle at sea. The heavy steel projectiles are hauled from the magazine by hydraulic and electric cranes, just as in an actual ship. A real breech mechanism locks the projectile and its powder charge in the gun, while an intricate swivel mounting of steel swings the gun into the firing position. —Popular Science Monthly.

Remarkable Luck.

In Gold Hill, Nev., in 1877, one of the mining bosses—Tole by name—had trouble with some of the laborers in his mine. One night three of them attacked him in a barroom. Two of them pinned him down, while a third stood over him with a revolver. The muzzle almost touched his stomach. Once, twice, thrice, a fourth and a fifth time the weapon shapped. Tole closed his eyes. Each moment he expected to be his last. The disgusted ruffian threw his disappointing weapon on the floor with an oath and, joined by his aids, left the place. Tole wiped the cold sweat from his brow, mechanically picked up the discarded weapon, went to the door and fired off every charge, remarking that it was just his luck.

How He Cleared Himself.

While passing along a busy street in Dublin a lady was relieved of her hand bag, and Sandy was arrested on suspicion of having snatched it. He was placed among a group of men, and the lady was asked to single out the culprit. She passed down the line till she came to Sandy.

"Officer," she said, "I think that is the man, although I did not see his face, but his clothes appear to be similar."

"The lady's wrong, sir. I was wearing a different suit. Can I go now, sir?" said Sandy.

Very Formal.

"Are you on very friendly terms with your neighbor in the apartments?"

"Well, no. She's rather formal—always sends her card when she wishes to borrow flour, and if she wants both flour and sugar she sends two cards."—

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

GOYER IN OLD TIME FORM AND THE PETES ARE BEATEN AT BELLEVILLE

ONTARIO CHAMPIONS WON CENTRAL LEAGUE OPENING GAME BY 5 RUNS TO 2—WINNERS BUNCHED HITS ON KIRN IN THE SIXTH AND SEVENTH FOR ALL THEIR RUNS.

GAME WAS SNAPPY ONE

The good left arm of Freddy Goyer, Belleville's star southpaw, which pitched the Grand Trunk team into the Ontario championship last year, has lost none of its cunning. The Peterborough team tried conclusions with Goyer yesterday in the opening game of the Central League series at Belleville and lost the verdict after a snappy contest by 5 runs to 2. The elongated left-hander was the same old mystery, mixing a hopping fast ball with a curve that broke in bewildering fashion, and outside of the fourth innings, when the Petes bunched three singles on him for a counter, he had Manager McCabe's bunch thoroughly in check. Outside of those three massed safeties, the Petes only got two other hits, a single by Cherrett in the first innings and a double by the same player in the eighth. Goyer had fourteen strike-outs to his credit and was going stronger all the time, allowing only one hit in the last five innings.

Howard Kirn was Manager McCabe's selection and for the first five innings the big right-hander outpitched his southpaw rival. In the five sessions Belleville collected only two singles and not a counter, while the one run scored by the Petes in the fourth looked as big as a house.

The break came in the sixth, however. With one gone in that session the Belleville hitters, held in check for over half the game, broke loose, and three hits in a row by Ross, Frank Goyer and Weir, followed by an infield out, send two runs over, giving the Ontario champs the lead. They came right back in the seventh and cinched the game by bunching four hits and two sacrifices, which with the dropping of a throw by Harrison, added three more counters. Seven of the nine hits secured off Kirn were massed in the two innings.

Both teams fielded in snappy fashion, the infields doing especially nice work. The two shortstops, Cherret and Weir, both had pretty catches of flies to short left, and Holyman, the Petes' second baseman, made a nice diving stop of a hard hit ball by Parker in the fifth that robbed the batter of a hit.

It was an interesting ball game all the way, and the 1200 fans present enjoyed every minute of it, the home crowd naturally growing delirious in the sixth when the Belleville team came from behind to win out.

The Belleville team had several changes in the line-up from last year, but do not look any stronger. Goyer and Mills, the crack battery, are 75 per cent. of the team and Weir, the little shortstop and Ross the hard-hitting outfielder, come pretty near to being the other 25 per cent. Weir fielded perfectly yesterday and had three timely hits, while Ross was also prominent in the rallies that broke up the game.

Cherrett led the Petes with the stick with a double and a single, and Bob Ross, who caught Kirn in good style, despite a sore hand, drove in both of the Petes' runs.

Mayor Riggs, of Belleville, pitched the first ball, but there were no other opening ceremonies.

First Innings.

Peterborough — Adams rolled to Frank Goyer. Cherrett singled past second. Lowe popped to W. Mills and Murray fanned. One hit.

Belleville. — W. Ross was tossed out by Holyman. Frank Goyer died the same way. Cherrett made a nice catch of Weir's fly back of third.

Second Innings.

Peterborough—Harrison lifted one to Weir. Holyman walked. Jackson was safe on Parker's muff, but Goyer got out of the hole by fanning Ross and Kirn. One error.

Belleville—W. Mills got a life when Adams dropped his fly. The big catcher stole second, but was stranded. Lavoie struck out. Kelleher rolled to Kirn and Jackson got Parker's fly. One error.

Third Innings.

Peterborough—Adams was thrown out by W. Mills. Cherrett fanned and Lowe rolled to Frank Goyer.

Belleville—H. Mills flied to Adams. Kirn tossed out Fred Goyer. W. Ross lifted one to Murray.

Fourth Innings.

Peterborough—Murray singled on a line to left. Harrison dropped a Texas Leaguer in the same field. Holyman and Jackson fanned, but Ross singled to right, scoring Murray and sending Harrison to third, while the batter reached second on the throw to the plate. Kirn missed three. One run, three hits.

Belleville—Frank Goyer singled to right, the first hit off Kirn. Weir dropped a safe one into left. W. Mills flied out to Adams, and when Goyer tried to go to third on the throw to the infield, Ross tossed him out by an accurate peg to Murray. Kirn got Lavoie for the third out on a tap in front of the plate. Two hits.

Fifth Innings.

Peterborough—Adams walked, but died stealing. Mills to Weir. Cherrett grounded out to second and Lowe missed three.

Belleville — Kelleher struck out. Holyman made a nice play on Parker's grass cutter, getting the runner by a step. Murray threw H. Mills out.

Sixth Innings.

Belleville—Fred Goyer was out on a fly to Murray. Ross ripped a single through short, the ball bouncing over Cherrett's head. Frank Goyer singled to left, a short fly which Jackson nearly got. Weir cracked a liner between short and third, scoring Ross and taking second on the throw to the plate. W. Mills rolled to Holyman, Goyer scoring. Kirn got Lavoie on a roller. Two runs, three hits.

Seventh Innings.

Belleville—Kelleher singled to left Smith, batting for Parker, sacrificed, Kirn to Harrison. H. Mills singled over second, scoring Kelleher. Fred Goyler moved the runners over with a sacrifice, Kirn to Harrison. Ross singled to right, sending Mills home. Frank Goyer struck out. The third was low and Ross had to throw to first. Harrison lost the toss and the runner was safe. W. Ross scoring. Weir doubled to left. Kirn threw out W. Mills. Three runs; four hits, one error.

Eighth Innings.

Peterborough—Cherrett doubled to left, Weir made a nice catch of Lowe's fly. Murray fanned and Harrison grounded to Weir. One hit.

Belleville—Hagerman, batting for Lavoie, fanned. Kelleher missed three and Smith grounded to Holyman.

Ninth Innings.

Peterborough— Holyman went to second on W. Mills' bad throw to first on a roller in front of the plate. Jackson fanned. Holyman went to third on a wild pitch. Ross grounded to H. Mills at first, Holyman scoring. Kirn struck out. One run, one error.

FAMOUS DOG KILLED.

BELLEVILLE, May 25.—"Vimy," Lieut. Gerald N. Spafford's police dog, which he picked up in the trenches at Vimy Ridge in April, 1917, met a violent death on Front street, when struck with an automobile in front of Mr. A. Robinson's store.

NANCE O'NEIL IN "THE PASSION FLOWER."
At the Grand For One Performance Only, Saturday Evening, May 29th.

Nance O'Neill, the eminent American emotional actress, whose work on the international stage marks some of its brightest and most effective creations, has a new and by far more important role than any she has ever played, in Raimunda, the deceived mother, in "The Passion Flower," by Jacinton Benavente, a play which has been acclaimed by press and public as one of the really notable events of the decade. The tremendous power of this actress has found no adequate outlet for many years. For the last two years she acted skilfully and colorfully in "The Wanderer," but at best her dramatic genius was lost in this vast spectacle. In "The Passion Flower," however, she has found herself.

SATURDAY CITY LEAGUE GAMES WERE LOPSIDED

C.G.E WON FROM THE VETERANS 14 TO 3, WHILE THE THISTLES BEAT CANADIAN WOOLLENS BY 23 TO 1—WINNERS IN BOTH CASES ALWAYS HAD THE GAME IN HAND.

The games in the City League series on Saturay were too one-sided to give the fans a thrill, the Canadian General team beating the Veterans by 14 to 3, while the Thistles swamped the Canadian Woollens with a 23 to 1 count. Neither winner was ever in danger.

It was a case of brother vs. brother in the first game, Lornie Rose pitching for the Canadian General outfit and Gus Rose for the losers, and the younger brother won the argument without a great deal of difficulty. He allowed the Veterans only five hits and refused to issue a free ticket, while brother Gus was in a much more generous mood, handing out seven bases on balls and hitting another batter. As the winners bunched most of their eight hits right where they would do the most damage and the Veterans obligingly mixed their misplays in with the hits and passes, it was no wonder that the runs came fast. The Canadian General crew scored three in the first, another trio in the second and came through with eight in the fifth session. The Veterans got their three counters in the sixth on hits by Murphy, Wade and Gus Rose and two errors by Jackson.

There was no particularly brilliant fielding feature.

The box score tells the story:

The second game gave the fans a chance to look over Louie Yeotes' whole string of pitchers, and the Thistles an oportunity to fatten their batting averages—otherwise it was notable only through the size of the score.

The Thistles bumped Len Johnston for seventeen safeties, six of them doubles and the Woollens kicked in with ten errors. The result was 23 runs scored in six terms at bat, ten of them being sent over in the third innings. Harrison, Swanston and Shaughnessy were the leading swatters, the first named having three doubles and a single in five times up, while Swanston had a double and two singles in four times to the plate and Shaugnessy had three singles in as many times at bat.

The Thistles introduced Fred Scates as their first pitching selection and the youngster got by in good style. The losers bunched two singles with an error in the first innings to get their only run, but in the second the youngster retired the side himself. He had good control and speed and looks promising. Kirn worked the next two innings, allowing one scratch hit and no runs, and Hap Harrison pitched the last three sessions, holding the Woollens to one safety and no counters. Kirn struck out the side in the third and left three base runners stranded.

A running catch of a difficult foul fly by Chris. Bergoine was the fielding feature.

FAVOURITE ACTORS IN REX BEACH FILM

"The Silver Horde," the new Goldwyn offering which will be shown at the Allen to-day and to-morrow, is a glowing tribute to the ability of the author, Rex Beach. It is an Eminent Author production and meets the high standard for pictures of this brand.

The story fairly pulsates with the spirit of indomitable courage and daring which marks those who defy the ruggedness of the north and the vicious elements it breeds in the struggle for existence. The cast is made up of players of excellent types, all equal in ability to present true characterizations.

Most of the action revolves about the parts played by Myrtle Stedman, Robert McKim, Betty Blythe, Curtis Cooksey and Frederic Stanton, players popular with lovers of the screen who puts many thrills and a great deal of romance into the fight waged by the trust interests against the independent faction for monopoly of the salmon canning industry in Alaska.

Rex Beach journeyed to the northwest with Director Frank Lloyd and the cast for the exterior scenes made in that location, and rendered much assistance in keeping the action realistic and in harmony with his visualization of the story he wrote.

OPENING OF THE COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

Barrie's and the Westclox clash in the initial game to-night at six p.m. sharp at the Oval diamond. Both sides have fast teams so the competition will be stiff.

The Westclox team has been drilling steadily for the past six weeks, and have hung up an unimpeachable record in practice games, not yet tasting defeat. But the game to-night promises to be the speediest yet.

The Westclox batteries will be Wolf or Carnahan in the box with Prosser behind the bat.

CANADIAN GENERAL LOST TWO VALUABLE POINTS SATURDAY

A BEAUTIFUL GOAL BY BARTLEY—JIM BILLS PROMINENT—C.G.E. ONE GOAL AHEAD AT HALF TIME—C.G.E. WITH TEN MEN LEAD TILL 20 MINUTES TO GO—HIG DARLING EQUALIZED—W. BELL ADDED THE SECOND GOAL.

GUNNERS 2, C.G.E. 1

The fast-going Canadian General team were the guests of the Machine Gunners at Nichol's Oval on Saturday last to play off an official league match. A fair crowd was in attendance when Referee A. McKinley lined up the teams as follows:

C.G.E.—J. Naples, goal; B. Mason and J. McDonald, backs; A. Parkins, W. Cowie and H. Bestard, half-backs; J. Bills, A. Gash, H. Turner, J. Williamson and Ed. Bartley, forwards.

Machine Gun—W. Flowers, goal; D. Perry and J. Crow, backs; M. Metcalfe, R. G. McLeish and Harold Darling, half-backs; J. Payne, L. Fraser, W. W. Bell, E. Bell and Hig. Darling, forwards.

C.G.E. won the toss and Gunners faced the sun and against a light wind. Like a flash the C.G.E. attacked Flowers' goal where Gash shot past. On midfield play a goal was given against Parkins, the C.G.E. goal-keeper made a clever stop as he punted the ball over the cross-bar for a corner—it was fruitless. At the other end Williamson and Turner played down upon Perry who made the latter offside on attempt to play the ball. Ted Bartley came into prominence on left wing where Crow kicked to touch. The Gunners retaliated with force, McDonald kicked past to save his goal—corner went into play and the Gunners got two more that were unproductive.

Opportunity Aplenty.

On a solo run down the left, Bartley crosed to Williamson and with nobody but the goal-keeper to beat headed over the bar. Gash repeated the same thing a few seconds later. Trying to make amends Gash sent a rocket shot into the goal, only to see Perry divert the ball over the bar for a corner—went past. Twice in succession Jimmy Bills had a try but his parting shots were high up in the air.

Turner Saved a Goal.

H. Darling shot into the defence and E. Bell caught hold and turned the ball to the far side from where Naples was standing. It was travelling through as Turner jumped upon the ball, then went to Darling and E. Bell, the latter was judged offside. Play was running from end to end with neither team showing any effort to score. "Ted" Bartley accepted a nice pass from McDonald.

A Beautiful Goal.

He tricked Metcalfe, then Crow and running at full speed down the wing wasted no time as the ball came to a drop at his foot. The ball travelled like a shot along the ground, giving W. Flowers no chance whatever. A break-away by Hig. Darling gave the C.G.E. defence a fright, he beat two defence men and with a screw shot just missed the mark. Just afterwards Bills missed an opportunity to score, then he placed two beautiful corner kicks into goal, Gash just missed the mark by inches. Offside against Bartley brought relief to the Gunners. On an attack by the Bell Brothers Cowie kicked the ball into his own goal and in the nick of time Mason cleared.

C.G.E. Pressed Hard.

Bartley and Crow provided a vaudeville turn on the wing that helped to brighten up the game. Ted was working hard and lashing a dandy pass across the goal-mouth. Williamson, Turner, then Gash had a try at goal, with the Gunners putting up a stiff defence, until just before half-time the whole forward line of the Gunners hemmed in the C.G.E. defence and on a nice pass from E. Bell, Fraser shot wildly over the bar. Hig. Darling making an attempt to score. Half-time: C.G.E. 1; Machine Gun, 0.

Half Time.

On resuming it was noticed that Turner and Wiliamson changed places. A break-away on the C.G.E. left gave the Gunners a lot of trouble. From a foul kick Parkins tested W. Flowers with a hard shot from about 20 yards out, Perry cleared, with a punt. An individual effort by Hig. Darling resulted in him making Naples stretch himself to save his goal and with an open goal in front Hig. shot over the bar. Twice in succession Flowers had to save from Bartley and Gash. The Gunners' defence were playing a great game and held the fast-going C.G.E. forwards in check repeatedly, Perry being conspicuous by his cool manner in making a clearance. During one of the attacks Flowers punted out to touch.

Flowers Played a Great Game.

Bills always could get corner-kicks from the Gunners but not goals. Two corners in rotation brought nothing, then Bartely had a try at the other side—a well-placed corner to Turner finished with Flowers clearing the goals easily. At this point of the game Bestard retired from the field which left the C.G.E. with ten men. Play was confined to the left wing of the Machine Gunners where Hig. Darling made Parkins and Mason take a back seat in sprinting. He tried often to get through on his own but McDonald always stoped him at the crucial moment. On one of the visits McDonald had to concede a corner to E. Bell that was fruitless.

Turner Broke Through.

On combination play Gash and Bills went up the wing and Turner receiving the ball broke through but he had not the strength to finish the play with only Flowers to beat. No less than five fouls were given next 10 minutes. Gash was injured accidently but continued playing.

Hig Darling Equalized.

The left winger was working like a demon on a break-away carried the ball right into the goal for the equalizer. With ten minutes to go the C.G.E. tried to gain the lead but to the surprise of everybody present, McLeish checked Cowie and passed forward to W. Bell who accepted the opening to go forward with the C.G.E. backs bewildered at his play. Cool as a cucumber he beat Naples easily for the winning goal. After the centre J. Williamson and Crow collided, referee awarded a foul against the Gunners. Without any hesitation J. Williamson hit Crow—a fight took place with Flowers coming out of his goal to take part. Referee ordered Williamson and Crow off. Thirty seconds to go. The game ended—Gunners, 2; C.G.E., 1.

Summary of the Game.

The C. G. E. had the advantage in the first half and Bartley's goal was the best scored goal of the season. Bestard retired after ten minutes of the second half. Hig Darling deserved the goal he got and W. Bell winning goal disheartened the C. G. E. Crow unintentionally kicked Williamson as it is his style of play. Williamson hit Crow a punch and the Gunner retaliated with an upper cut that made C. G. E. player groggy. Flowers had no right whatever coming out of his goal to get amongst it. The referee received a jab on the face from Williamson and returned the compliment by ordering the players off.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE I.O.D.E.

NATIONAL OFFICERS ATTEND THE CALGARY CONVENTION.

(Special to The Examiner.)

CALGARY, May 25.— The twentieth annual meeting of the National Chapter I. O. D. E., formally opened yesterday. Over 100 delegates were present and most of the National officers were in attendance. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. W. D. Spence, provincial organizing secretary and educational secretary of the newly formed provincial chapter of Alberta. The speaker made a strong appeal for unity, co-operation and the sacrifice of self for the good of the Order, concluding with an exhortation to the members to be kind. The address of welcome was responded to by Mrs. Arthur W. Adams, regent of the municipal chapter of St. John, N.B., who characterized the meeting as the banding together of the daughters of the Empire of the whole Dominion, confidence in the officers and the cultivation of that spirit of morale which made the Canadian troops in Flanders steadfast was emphasized.

The entire assembly stood while greetings to their Majesties the King and Queen and to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire were read.

TRUCK COLLAPSED.

Jos. Careau, motor ladder tender at No. 3 Fire Station, Quebec, was instantly killed here while responding to an alarm in the busy section of St. Joseph street. When he attempted to prevent a collision with a farmer's wagon, the two rear wheels of the huge truck snapped in the car track and the man was dashed against the iron post. He fell at the very feet of a passing priest, who went to administer the last rites of the church, but the man was already dead. The alarm was rung in for a small blaze.

CALEDONIANS HAVE NOW ADVANTAGE BY DEFEATING THE DE LAVAL 7-0

REFEREE BATES FAILED TO APPEAR—THE CALEYS HAD A FOUR GOAL LEAD AT THE INTERVAL—FULL TIME ARRIVED WITH THE SCOTSMEN 7 GOALS AHEAD.

A very poor attednance of spectators witnessed the DeLaval and Caledonian Game on Saturday, at the Exhibition Grounds. Teams:—

Caledonians:—C. Fenner, goal; J. Willshaw and R. Willshaw, backs; J. Frost, S. McMillian and A. Hardie, half-backs; R. Hannah, M. Shaw, J. Shaw, Ed. Hardie and R. McDowall, forwards.

DeLaval:—W. Jones, goal; W. Godfrey and G. Harshorn, backs; W. Brown, J. Frick and Ed. Humpage, half-backs; G. Hartshorn, J. Lang, J. Cullan, J. Lindsay and J. Haw, forwards.

The Game.

Game started twenty minutes late owing to the official referee not making an appearance and Mr. George Allen was mutually agreeed upon by the respective captains. In the opening exchanges Ed. Hardie missed an open goal. The DeLaval goal-keeper held the Scotsmen in check for next 15 minutes but finally he had to admit defeat to Jas. Shaw. The DeLaval retaliated with force but only got two unproductive corners. On an individual effort Hannah, the DeLaval defence gave way but the ball went to Hardie who shot past. The Caley's had the upper hand of the game after this and Matt Shaw and Hanah added goals to their credit. On a visit to the Caley's goal the DeLaval forwards were slow in accepting a chance to score, as McMillian cleared to Jas. Shaw who made straight for the sphere and added the fourth goal: Caledonians4; DeLaval, 0:

Half Time.

On resuming, McDowall went down the wing and scored after five minutes play. The DeLaval tried hard to score but the Caley's half-backs were always cropping up just as the opportunity came to prevent them. Even and uninteresting exchanges were the order of the play until Hannah on the wing accepted a pass and lashed the ball across to Matt. Shaw who converted easily. Just afterwards the inside-right scored a beautiful goal. Frick deflecting the ball out of Jones' reach. There was no further scoring though the Scotsmen's goal had a narrow escape when Hartshorn drove into goal with the goal-keeper out of place, but J. Willshaw stopped it with his head and cleared. Caledonians, 7; DeLaval, 0.

Frick, at centre-half for DeLaval, put up a creditable performance for a new player. He has the weight and speed, and should be a valuable man with a little more experience.

McMillian's "head-work" was a feature of the Caley's defence.

All This EXTRA For You
Don't buy a bicycle just because it looks good. A bright appearance often hides poor materials and workmanship.
Buy a C. C. M. Bicycle.
The beauty of the C. C. M. is more than surface deep. There are three coats of brilliant, waterproof enamel over a coat of anti-rust. That means an enamel that will stand wear and weather.
The smooth, highly-polished nickelling is over rust-proof copper. That's why C. C. M. nickelling retains its bright appearance and wears so long.
You don't always spin along smooth pavements. Sometimes you have to bump over ruts and cobble stones. So the C. C. M. frame has the long, strong "Fishmouth" reinforcement at the joints. This makes a powerful frame with a large margin of safety.
C·C·M· Bicycles

are also easier-riding.
The special construction of the driving parts gives the direct drive that makes the C. C. M. a joy to ride!
And the new Hercules Positive Drive Brake—the Coaster Brake without a side arm—is included without extra charge. The C. C. M. dealer is waiting to show you these EXTRA-value bicycles. Call without delay.
This trade mark is on the frame of every C.C.M. Bicycle.

A GREAT MINSTREL SHOW.
Mr. H. W. Jackson, the advance agent of the Sparks Circus, when in town the other day, paid a business call to the Examiner and in the course of conversation made the statement that Harvey's Greater Minstrels, playing at the Grand on Friday night next, was one of the very best Minstrel troupes he had ever seen. He witnessed their performance in London, Ont., a couple of weeks ago.

VOL. XLVI. NO. 123 PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, 1920 PRICE TWO CENTS

TRAFFIC ON TRENT CANAL THIS SEASON

SENATOR W. H. BENNETT, OF MIDLAND, LOOKS FOR A LARGE INCREASE.

"Just tell them that the tourist trade over the Trent Canal this year will be unprecedented." Senator W. H. Bennett of Midland, with a smile flitting across his tanned and weather beaten face that shows his close relations with sun and wind, told the Examiner this morning. Last night he arrived in the city and this morning visited the Trent Canal offices, leaving on the noon train for Ottawa.

The Senator is very optimistic as to the success of the Trent Canal in opening up a district that cannot be beaten in North America for its beauty, splendour, its excellent fishing and hunting and ideal healthy climate. Already the hotels at Muskoka and Honey Harbor are taxed to capacity and such a tourist trade has never been known in that district.

Entrance Completed.

The entrance to Georgian Bay at Washago is being completed, and by July 1 or possibly a few days sooner, 35 foot boats can make the entire trip from Trenton to Georgian Bay, a distance of some 216 miles. Boats of 135 feet can go to Lake Simcoe.

The Senator declared that he had numerous promises by Americans and others to make the entire trip up the lakes. The advertising campaign carried on largely under the supervision of Senator Bennett has had a wonderful interest-arousing effect, more than was ever anticipated, and the Americans are enthusiastic over making this splendid water trip, he said.

Charts are being completed of the entire route and in the near future will be on sale at nearly all book stores.

A very interesting and illuminating article by Senator W. H. Bennett appeared in last week's 'Saturday Night,' in which a trip through the canal was described and the points of interest explained fully. Several photographs of local interest illustrated the article.

ENTERED COUNTER CLAIM FOR $20,000

GEDDES BROTHERS, OF SARNIA, ALLEGED LOSS OVER DELAYED SHIPMENTS.

Mr. Justice Latchford reserved judgment last night at the conclusion of the only non-jury case before the Supreme Court in which the Bonner-Worth Company sued Geddes Brothers of Sarnia for $22,250 the price of yarn sold in December 1918 to the defendants.

The only witnesses were Mr. Edgar Worth and Mr. Gordon Gerres. The defendants paid $12,530 into court and alleged that the rest of the sum claimed by the Bonner-Worth company represented cancelled contracts. Geddes Brothers also entered a counter-claim for $20,000 stating that they had to pay an extra price in the market on account of alleged delays in the shipments from the Bonner-Worth Company.

This was the only point argued by the opposing counsel when the evidence was all in. R. C. H. Cassels of Toronto and J. F. Strickland appeared for the plaintiffs and Archibald Weir and A. McKinley of Sarnia for the defendants, for whom F. D. Kerr had also acted as representatives in the preliminaries.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES FOR THE DAILY EXAMINER

Owing to the greatly increased cost of newsprint and all other costs going into the production of a newspaper, The Examiner has been forced to increase its subscription rates, and on and after June 1st next, The Daily Examiner will be sold as follows delivered:

Yearly	$6.00
Half-Yearly	$3.00
Quarterly	$1.50
Monthly	50c
By Mail Monthly	40c
Weekly through newsboys	15c
Single Copies	3c

The Examiner is about the last of the Daily Papers to increase its subscription rates. We had hoped that the price of newsprint would come down and permit us to continue the old price, but find that it is absolutely necessary to follow the course of all other newspapers in order to continue our publication.

COMMISSION INVESTIGATE OPERATIONS

STARTLING EVIDENCE GIVEN AT TO-DAY'S HEARING OF THE TIMBER LIMIT PROBE.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, May 26.—That on several occasions he had urged upon Hon. G. H. Ferguson the necessity for greater publicity in regard to the sale of timber limits, but in vain, was the statement made by Albert Grigg, Deputy Minister of Department of Lands, Forest and Mines befor the Commission investigating sale of timber limits here to-day. It was revealed that over four hundred square miles of timber limits were sold to the Graves Bigwood Lumber Co. just prior to the elections last fall without any investigation or report from the department officials. Mr. Grigg in answer to Justice Latchford said that he could not agree with methods employed.

TRAINING MEN FOR AIR FORCE

In reference to the announcement that applications for service with the Canadian Air Force would be received by Captain Winterbottom at the Armouries, the Captain stated this morning that the Government has authorized an air force of 5,000, four thousand ground men and one thousand flyers the latter all officers, with Major-General W. G. Gwatkin C. B., C. M. G., as inspector. It is believed that the selection of General Gwatkin is a very creditable one owing to his splendid organizing ability, proved during the war and owing to the fact that the air force will very necessarily be composed of young men nearly all of whom have had a large and varied experience in air fighting but are somewhat short on strategical knowledge. It is thought that there will be two training stations one practically certain at Camp Borden and the other very likely on the Pacific coast. There will be no large supply of stores or equipment kept owing to the rapid changes and improvements in machines. It has been decided that one month's training during two years will keep trained men fit and officers will be given an opportunity to take the training when it may be most convenient to them.

Machine Gun Corps.

One company of the Canadian Permanent Machine Gun Corps with one major, four subalterns, and twenty other ranks have been transferred to Victoria from Kingston, Major Britton in command.

ALBANIA IN IN THE THROES OF CIVIL WAR

LONDON, May 26. — Messages from Durazzo picture Albania as in the throes of a civil war the ultimate consequences of which it is impossible to forecast, according to an Exchange despatch from Rome to-day.

The provisional government seems incapable of dominating the situation and its call to the colors for the establishment of the national army remains unanswered, the message declares.

The Greeks who formerly were anxious to occupy Northern Epirus, have decided to delay occupation fearing complications and attacks by bands, advices assert.

The civilian population is petitioning Italian commands not to withdraw their garrisons from the interior.

ENGLISH PRINCE MAY BE KING OF GREECE

Constantine Leaves Switzerland to be Joined by His Son, now King Alexander.

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, May 26. — Ex-King Constantine of Greece has arrived in Salso from Maggiore, on the Swiss-Italian border, having obtained permission from the Allies to leave Switzerland. He will be joined soon by King Alexander, now in Paris.

According to widespread reports which are given credence in some quarters, Alexander does not intend to return to Greece, but will accept exile with his father. It is predicted that an English prince will succeed him.

EIGHT MORE BATTALIONS ARE HELD IN RESERVE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 6. — Aside from fresh troops recently sent to Ireland eight more battalions are held in reserve for transfer thither on short notice according to Daily Mail.

K. OF C. NOTICE.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL WILL BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT, MAY 26th, AT 8:15 2d122 9710

EMPLOYEES TRAVELLED FIRST-CLASS

(United Press.)

LONDON, May 6. — Cooks and stewards occupied first class cabins in the steamer Kaiserin Auguste Victoria to-day when that vessel sailed for New York.

The luxury enjoyed by the galley and dining room forces resulted from a controversy over accommodation between the cooks and the stewards and the officials of the steamship line, which delayed the sailing on the vessel for eleven days.

Finally the company agreed that the men should have the best accommodation available on this trip, and that they would immediately build new and more commodious compartments for their employees on the steamer.

Mexican Trouble

THE COMMISSION URGES A FORMAL HEARING TO ESTABLISH RESPONSIBILITY.

(United Press.)
(By Ralph Turner)

MEXICO CITY, May 26.—Blame for the assassination of former President Venustiano Carranza was definitely placed upon Rudolfo Herrero and his followers in the report made to-day by the commission sent to Taxcalantongo by General Alvaro Obregon to investigate Carranza's death.

The commission, in making its report, urged that a formal hearing be held, declaring such action necessary to establish Herrero's motive and the responsibility of the individual members of his band, as well as to determine the conduct of Carranza's cabinet members, his friends and defenders who accompanied him in his flight.

REV. E. E. SCOTT SPEAKS TO-NIGHT

WELL-KNOWN BLIND PREACHER AT TRINITY CHURCH.

To-night a treat is in store for the people of Peterboro. The Rev. E. E. Scott, the eloquent brind preacher of Canadian Methodism, will give an address in Trinity Church.

Mr. Scott is one of the few men who have the rare gift of oratory. His addresses are masterly in thought and delivery. He is being brought to the city by the men of the Peterboro District who are holding their annual meeting to-day and to-morrow.

The meeting in the evening at Trinity Church is open to the public, and all who wish to attend will be most cordially welcome. Captain Maurice Park will sing. The meeting begins at 8 o'clock. No admission fee. A collection to defray expenses.

PRESENTATION TO MISS META DEFOE

A presentation was made to Miss Meta Defoe by the employees of the Peterboro Lock Co., on Saturday, May 22, owing to her leaving to train for a nurse.

The following address was read by Miss Jennie Smith:

Dear Miss Defoe:—It is with deep regret that we learn of your intended departure from our midst and it brings back to mind the many happy associations we have enjoyed in our work with you.

Much as we regret you leaving we are not so selfish as to not see that it is for your own good and advancement and we wish you "God Speed".

We would ask you to kindly accept this small token of our respect and friendship and may it bring to you good times in the future and remembrances of good times gone by.

On behalf of the employees of the Peterboro Lock Mfg., Co., Ltd., Miss Lucy Coupli presented her with a gold wrist watch.

Miss Defoe made a suitable reply thanking the employees for the gift and saying that she could not express her thanks in words.

Thrones Refused

MANY VACANT THRONES ARE ON THE MARKET.

(United Press.)

LONDON, May 26.—Reports from Hungary and Greece that English born kings are desired, were not regarded seriously here.

In any event, the acceptance of the throne of either of these kingdoms by an English prince is regarded as most improbable since Prince Arthur son of the Duke of Connaught, has already refused to accept the rule of either of the nations. It is certain none of the sons of England's King would be permitted to accept either of the thrones.

While Princes of the House of Teck and Battenberg have renounced their royal status in favor of British peerages, it is doubtful if the King would permit their acceptance, fearing the effect of anti-British propagandists.

COAL EXTREMELY SCARCE IN CITY

DIFFICULTY GETTING SOFT COAL FOR THE "J. B. M'COLL" TUG.

So scarce is soft coal in Peterboro that James Garrow of the Trent Canal Staff, after tuning up the tug, "J. B. McColl," for the season's work, discovered this morning that it was next to impossible to get enough coal to fill its small bunkers.

Enquiries from several of the dealers elicits the further information that soft coal was quoted at $8.25 at the mines last Friday, which would bring the local price to $14. And the highest that has ever been paid here even during the war's most stringent period was $12 a ton. Whether Mr. Garrow obtained a supply of fuel for the government tug was not learned but his first enquiries were reported fruitless.

Anthracite is not quite so scarce, but it is insufficient for the summer demand that is now casting a long glance forward to the next winter. At one yard there was a brighter note of optimism than at others doubtless for the reason that the shipments are coming along a little more freely. Deliveries are far below the normal One dealer who expected 1,000 tons during April received 700 tons, and this month has got nothing.

Under-production and transportation tangles and tie-ups are ascribed as the chief causes of the extreme decline in coal deliveries ,and although the summer is not yet here some of the dealers are decidedly apprehensive of a severe coal shortage next winter.

BOLSHEVIK FORCES HAVE ADVANCED

CREDITED WITH MANY ADVANCES ALONG BATTLE FRONT—FIERCE FIGHTING 16 MILES NORTH-EAST OF KIEV.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 26.—Retchitz village, on the right bank of the Dnieper, about 125 miles north of Kiev, has has been occupied by the Bolshevik forces, which are also advancing on the fortified outskirts of Dobruisk, on the Beresina river, according to an official announcement by wireless from Moscow. Along the upper reaches of the Beresina, Soviet forces are said to have occupied a number of villages. On this front the battle is going on over a front forty miles long. Fighting is proceeding sixteen miles north-east of Kiev, the statement declares, and attacks by Polish and Ukranian troops along the Kiev Poltava railway have been repulsed. Polish forces fighting in front of Minsk have received reinforcements and are fighting stubbornly against the Bolshevik menace, the statement says.

MUSIC IN THE ARGENTINE

When we find the peoples of the Argentine Republic buying not only an occasional piano, made by Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co. Limited, George and Hunter streets, Peterboro but ordering in large numbers, we commence to form a very high opinion of the musical taste of these people of South America. There is on the way now to South America a shipment of eleven pianos and player pianos of Heintzman & Co., Limited.

THOUSANDS DESTITUTE IN SERBIA

HALF A MILLION SERBIAN CHILDREN CRY FOR RELIEF.

Half a million Serbian children are fatherless and destitute. Malnutrition emperils the lives of thousands of these little ones. Fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters were swept away by ruthless war. Tuberculosis has taken hold of 35 per cent of the population of Serbia.

It is for these sufferers that the Canadian Brotherhood Federation, a branch of the World Brotherhood Federation, is seeking aid from the people of Canada. A campaign is now in progress. The City and County of Peterboro is asked for a gift of $5,000 and to facilitate subscriptions, the co-operation of every bank in the city and county has been willingly given. Mr. W. H. Dunsford, manager of the Bank of Commerce is Treasurer.

The campaign in Peterboro opens today, and continues until the 15th of next month. The people are urged to give quickly and liberally, for the need is urgent and great.

Capt Joe Lawson, representing the Canadian Brotherhood Federation with headquarters at Toronto, is in the city for organization purposes, and he hopes to meet many of the citizens to further explain the needs of the stricken Serbians.

MOVIE KISSES PRUNED BY JAPANESE CENSOR

Illustrating something of the practical aplication of censorship in Japan, an article in the last number of the Educational Film Magazine contains the following:

"In a Japanese picture show an actor is not permitted to beat up a policeman, or hit him in the eye with a custard pie or in any way to discomfit or discredit him and his dignity. The policeman always comes out on top or else there is no policeman in the reel.

"Mary Pickford cannot kiss anybody excepting her husband in Japanese picture houses. She might possibly be permitted to kiss her brother, but that would require deep consideration on the part of the police censors. There can be no violent struggles or knife plays in Japan.

"And now it is desired to show a young artist in his studio, the young artist whose father is a prominent banker, the young artist with bushy hair and Robert Mantell eyes who is making a Madonna portrait of the little girl of the Hull House district, and who will surely marry the little maiden as soon as she has been heartbroken and they have drifted apart, only to meet on a battlefield, where he is a doughty doughboy and she a wonderfully gowned Red Cross girl, with the shells bursting all around them.

"They have gone over the top together, you know, and she wears white so that the Germans may know just where the American line is, and he wears a sport shirt and carries Old Glory in one hand while he waves a rifle in the other hand and carries a trench knife in his teeth.

"Oh, it is a terrible strain on the Japanese girls to have that man wounded! The Red Cross girl bends over his bleeding form and—she recognises him! They start to embrace when the Japanese censor intervenes. The artist recovers and they live happily ever after in a million dollar California bungalow, where so many other movie mates have lived before them. But if the young artist should be shown in his studio, gazing soulfully at his Hull House model, the background must first be divested of all nude statues."

PRESIDENT RECOVERING

Ordered to Take a Complete Rest.

Canadian Press.

PARIS, May 26. — President Deschanel is recovering from injuries he received here on Monday morning, when he fell from the train near Montargis, but must take a complete rest which may extend until late in the summer, according to a statement by his private secretary this morning.

The President, according to the Echo De Paris will not go to Rambouillet, as was announced on the date of his accident, but to the estate of his father in law, Renebrice, a member of the Chamber of Deputies near Rennes.

CEMETERIES AND PARKS MAY BE BIRD SANCTUARIES

"Cemeteries and parks may be made into bird sanctuaries; park, fair and cemetery caretakres can be made honorary game wardens under the act, so they may have the power of a constable to take prompt action," states Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, in a letter dealing with the Migratory Birds' Convention Act received by the City Council and referred to the Parks committee. After pointing out that birds are the chief controlling agency in keeping down insect pests which destroy field crops and trees, he states that by the erection of bird houses, stopping the depredations of nest-destroyers and controlling other destructive agencies, this protection can be increased.

Inland Revenue Dpt. Interprets New Tax

SERIES OF QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS PROVIDED AS EXAMPLES —ONE PER CENT. AT CUSTOMS HOUSE ON ALL IMPORTED GOODS.

The interpretation of the new Federal tax measure has been given out at Ottawa in answer to a flood of inquiries. A few of the questions and answers are as follow:

Questiog—Does 30 per cent. excise tax on patent medicines and other such excise apply on salesfully completed prior to, but delivered after, 19th May? Also is 20 per cent. excise on phonographs in substitution for former 10 per cent. or additional?

Answer—Luxury and sale tax applicable to goods shipped or delivered after 19th May. Excise of 20 per cent. on phonographs substituted for former 10 per cent.

Question—Must 1 per cent. tax be paid at Customs House on imported material, dyes, raw cotton, wool, etc.?

Answer—Sales tax of 1 per cent. payable at Customs House on all imported goods.

Question—Shall we be required to affix stamps to our drafts drawn in sterling on our British customers in payment of cheese and butter exported to Great Britain?

Answer—Tax will be payable if and when assented to.

Question—Is the 1 per cent. sales tax collectable on contracts and sales made previous to 19th May not yet shipped or delivered?

Answer—Sales tax collectable on goods shipped or delivered after 19th May.

Question—Is luxury tax on merchandise in effect starting 19th May, and is merchant to charge 10 per cent. over $3.00 on every shirt?

Answer—Tax payable on total purchase price. Example: Shirt costing $5.00, tax 50 cents.

Question—Is 10 per cent. tax in amendment 1 (A) intended to include electrical appliances such as electric irons, toasters, percolators, wholly or partly nickel-plated finish?

Answer—Plated electrical appliances mentioned, adapted for household use, are taxable.

Question—Watches, clocks and unset diamonds are not mentioned in published schedule of taxation. What is luxury tax on these? Also is the former tax repealed?

Answer—Former excise tax on jewellery repealed from 18th May. Classification of jewellery is not changed.

Question—Does Federal tax mean 2 cents per share or 2 cents per hundred shares as regards mining stocks, the same as Provincial tax?

Answer—Tax of 2 cents per share not payable until Act is assented to.

Question—Must manufacturers of candy and confectionery charge sales tax, also luxury tax?

Answer—Sales and luxury taxes are both applicable.

Question—Inform me whether coke is included in list of exemptions from one per cent. tax, or if tax aplies to coke.

Answer—Coke subject to sales tax.

Question—Clocks and watches are not mentioned in published reports of taxation schedules. Under what heading are they included?

Answer—Clocks and watches not specified silver, gold, and plated articles adapted for household or office use subject to taxation.

Question—Are jams made of fruit and sugar and canned vegetables and fruits exempt from the sales tax? What about grape juice?

Answer—Jams, canned vegetables, canned fruit, and grape juice subject to sales tax.

Question—Is musical instrument and gramophone tax payable at time of sale by Canadian manufacturer, or when imported, indicating a change on manufacturer's or importer's price, and to be paid by manufacturer or importer. In other cases the statement is the man who buys a phonograph will pay 20 per cent. luxury tax, indicating tax to consumer on retail value.

Answer—Tax on pianos, organs, and musical instruments 10 per cent, on mechanical player pianos, gramophones, music boxes, and records 20 per cent., payable by manufacturer or when imported.

Question—In view of proposed 20 per cent. luxury tax on phonographs and records, will the former excise tax of 10 per cent. be discontinued?

Answer—Former excise tax of 10 per cent, on phonographs discontinued from 19th May.

Question—Does the 1 per cent. tax affect smoked hams, bacon, sausages, bran, middlings, and all kinds of cattle feed?

Answer—Hams and bacon subject to tax. Sausages, bran, biddlings, and mixed cattle feed exempt.

Question—Have we to add 1 per cent. on our sales of pickles in vinegar, ketchup, syrup, jam, and preserves?

Answer—Sales tax 1 per cent. payable on pickles, ketchup, jam, and preserves. Syrup exempt.

Question—Understand excise tax 1 per cent. will now be charged on all importations. This being so, should wholesalers charge additional 1 per cent. on our invoices to our customer, which would mean he would have to pay total tax of 3 per cent? Regarding sales made by Canadian

WALL STREET ON THE ELECTIONS

First Quotation on the Presidential Nominations.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 26.—The first quotation of odds for Wall street betting on the Presidential Nomination to-day indicated Governor Edwards of New Jersey was the Democratic favorite and Senator Hiram Johnson, the Republican. The Quotations by a client of James W. Ball and Company are odds against the relative chances of the leading candidates They are: Republican, Johnson 8 to 5; Wood 2 to 1; Lowden and Hughes each 5 to 1; Hoover 6 to 1; Harding and Butler each 20 to 1.

Democratic: Edwards 7 to 5 Cox 2 to 1; McAdoo 3 to 1; Clark 4 to 1; Wilson Bryan and Marshall each 20 to 1.

HAVE BEGUN WORK FOR RAYBESTOS CO.

ALD. JONES HAS CONTRACT FOR RENOVATIONS, WHICH WILL BE EXTENSIVE.

The renovation of the old Lundy Shovel and Tool Building, which has been acquired by the Canadian Raybestos Company, was begun yesterday, under the command of Alderman Robert Jones, who has the contract for all the carpenter work.

The building will be completely overhauled, a new concrete floor will be laid, paint and whitewash will be copiously applied, a new plumbing system will be installed, the property will be enclosed with a new wire fence, and there will be other improvements beyond those at first contemplated. A number of men are working under Ald. Jones' direction; the painting contract has been let to ex-Mayor Duncan but the plumbing tenders have not yet been disposed of.

UNDERSTAND THE NEW LUXURY TAX

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE BEGINNING TO LIKE IT.

Mr. W. H. Buller stated this morning that the merchants, jobbers and wholesalers coming under the luxury and sales tax, were becoming better acquainted with the technicalities of the tax and the confusion that was apparent over it at first was being dispelled. From the department at Ottawa he has received a long list of questions and answers possible under its intricacies and these are available for all who are concerned in the tax.

That the machinery for its collection will be working smoothly by the middle of next month is the opinion of the local revenue officer.

TYRONE POWER VISITED LOCK

Tyrone Power and his daughter Chela Knight visited the Lift Lock on Monday last, and Mr. Power was greatly interested in the construction and working of the immense structure, which, he said, was one of the finest engineering feats he had ever seen in his world travels.

The famous actor, during his two visits here, has formed a fine impression of Peterborough, and, states that it is a beautiful city.

MINISTER DENOUNCES WELCOME TO BATTLER

No Missionary Ever Publicly Received in Toronto, Says W. D. Lee.

(Canadian Press.)

MILLBROOK, Ont., May 26.—"You never heard an evangelist or missionary being accorded a 'civic welcome in Toronto?" This interrogative remark was followed by a denunciation of the recent action of the Toronto City Council giving a public reception to a prize fighter by Rev. W. D. Lee of Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook, at the service on Sunday.

He characterized the present day tendency towards shorter hours and a shorter working day as contrary to the bibical injunction to labor six days a week and rest on the seventh He concluded with a plea for a united church.

McLEAN FAILS TO GET TITLE BUT BRINGS BACK $51,000

NEW YORK, May 26.—Bobby McLean, who lost the world's speed skating title on ice to Oscar Mathieson in Norway last February, returned here last week on board the Adriatic. He was accompanied by D. R. Scanlon, his manager. They brought with them $51,000 in cash, received as prize money and for motion picture stunts.

"We have no excuses to offer regarding the championship races," said Scanlon, "but there was one terrible mix-up and the judges didn't know whether to award a prize or not. All bets were declared off. When the contest was over the Norwegians emitted a yell because by the terms of the agreement McLean received more prize money than Mathieson. The gate for the two days was $104,000.

PIPPA'S SONG.

The year's at the spring,
And day's at the morn;
Morning's at seven;
The hill-side dew-pearled;
The lark's on the wing;
The snail's on the thorn;
God's in His heaven—
All's right with the world!

Serve Milk At Every Meal

Isn't it a mistake, to be sparing with milk? Are you getting what authorities say you should get—A quart a day per person, adult and child alike?

Food experts, who study diet say that no one can do without milk. For milk alone of all foods contains "vitamines' —the food element essential to growth and proper health.

Use Peterboro Milk Products Milk not only as a beverage, but as an essential part of every meal.

Add its nourishment and flavor to cereals and fruit at breakfast; to soup, sauces, puddings at lunch; to creamed vegetables and milk dishes for supper. Use it in everything you cook. Use it between meals & as a bedtime drink

It is made safe by scientific pasteurization. Our milk is clean, pure and safe

WAR ON PROFITEERS FAILS IN GERMANY

PRICES CONTINUE TO SOAR DESPITE BERLIN'S EFFORTS AND RISE IN MARKS.

Efforts by the German Government to call a halt upon the steady increase in the cost of living during the last few months have had little success, according to reports found in recent issues of German newspapers telling of thecontinued rise in prices, despite the the occasional jailing of a profiteer and the improvement in the exchange value of the mark.

In a table compiled by Dr. Moritz Elsas of Frankfort showing the cost of maintaining a family of four, by index figures for various German cities, the advance during the first two months of 1920 was put at about 17 per cent. in Frankfort and considerably more in some of the other large cities. The rise since April 1, 1919, was 98 per cent..

The Berliner Tageblatt of April 20 reports the formation in Christiania of a committee headed by a Mrs. Johannesen for the purpose of finding places among the Norwegians where several thousand undernourished German children may spend a summer vacation. Norway has been taking care of some 3,000 children from Vienna for some time, and has also sent food to the value of 3,000,000 Norwegian crowns to Austria. Furthermore, the Norwegian Embassy in Berlin has distributed foodstuffs to many hundreds of poor families. In Denmark thousands of German little ones have found welcome havens during the last Winter, and the work, which is under the direction of J. P. Nielson, a prominent labor union official now known as "the father of the German Vacation Children", will be continued during the Summer. The Danish unions have spent some 1,500,000 marks in transporting the German children to their temporary homes.

LITTLE BOY BLUE.

(Eugene Field.)

The little toy dog is covered with dust,
But sturdy and staunch he stands;
And the little toy soldier is red with rust,
And his musket moulds in his hands.

Time was when the little toy dog was new
And the soldier was passing fair,
And that was the time when our Little Boy Blue
Kissed them and put them there.

"Now, don't you go till I come," he said,
"And don't you make any noise."
So toddling off to his trundle bed
He dreamt of the pretty toys.

And as he was dreaming an Angel song
Awakened our Little Boy Blue—
Oh, the years are many, the years are long,
But the little toy friends are true.

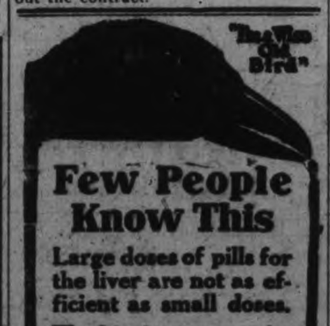
Aye, faithful to Little Boy Blue they stand,
Each in the same old place,
Awaiting the touch of a little hand,
The smile of a little face.

And they wonder, as waiting these long years through
In the dust of that little chair,
What has become of our Little Boy Blue
Since he kissed them and put them there.

MEMORIAL WAS DESIGNED IN THE CITY.

The monument erected to the memory of Joseph Scriven, and unveiled by Premier Drury on Empire Day at Pengelley Cemetery, near Bailieboro, was designed and erected by the Coughlin Monumental Works, Peterborough. The work was all carried out by this firm.

Rev. Dr. Lee, chairman of the Monumental Committee, in his address at the unveiling ceremony, stated that they were very pleased with the monument, and the able and careful manner in which Mr. Coughlin carried out the contract.



Few People Know This

Large doses of pills for the liver are not as efficient as small doses.

The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J. — "For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — that is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommended it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish, for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ills." — Mrs. MARTHA STANISLAWSKI, 524 Penn St., Perth Amboy, N.J.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

The exploit of Albert Smoke, the Chemong Indian, in winning the Ontario marathon trial race at St. Catharines on Monday, means something more than the mere winning of a foot race, although that in itself was a most creditable achievement in view of the calibre of the competitors. The victory of the Indian runner has, however, a much greater significance, for it assures him of a place on Canada's Olympic team and a trip to Belgium, where in competition with runners from all quarters of the globe he will wear the Maple Leaf of Canada in one of the biggest events of the world tournament—the Marathon. Peterborough and Peterborough county will receive much valuable advertising from this fleet-footed Indian boy, and his success in winning a position on the Canadian team for Belgium is a triumph in which every citizen should take an interest. The Examiner naturally feels gratified at the showing made by Smoke, for it was the Examiner Thanksgiving Day road race which introduced the Ontario Marathon winner to the running game as it did, some years before, Fred Simpson, who also was a member of the Canadian Olympic team, and in the great race in England was the second Canadian to finish. That the Examiner race should have produced two Olympic Marathoners is a striking proof of the benefit produced by the annual contest.

THE SUPERANNUATION BILL.

The fate of the superannuation bill introduced in the Ontario Legislature by the Drury government will be awaited with more interest than generally attends such measures. The opposition of the officers of the United Farmers of Ontario to the passage of the bill causes the unusual attention the people are paying to the legislation. The United Farmers declare that the paying of pensions to superannuated civil servants is class legislation and they are calling upon the Farmer members of the House to defeat the bill. If they are successful in their efforts it will not only be a triumph for Secretary J. J. Morrison and his associates, but it will also be regarded as evidence that the province is being governed by the United Farmers of Ontario, and not by the elected representatives of the people. Fortunately, however, there does not seem to be much danger that the defeat of the measure will be accomplished. It has already reached its third reading and with the Premier firmly resolved that it shall be passed, it is not expected that the private members will yield to the advice of the Farmers' organization. The Farmers' Sun has atempted to sound the death knell of the bill, but its funeral music on this occasion would seem to be in vain. The superannuation of public servants has been commented favourably upon by the majority of Ontario newspapers, and their approval is perhaps more reflective of public opinion than the condemnation published by the organ of the United Farmers.

COLLECTING THE TAX.

The hope that has been entertained by business men that the Government would facilitate the collection of the new luxury tax by the issuing of special revenue stamps, as was done in the case of the war tax on several articles, has been dashed to the grounds by the definite announcement that stamps are not to be provided for this purpose. The retailers are somewhat bluntly told that they must use their own discretion in keeping a record of their sales, and that they will be liable to prosecution if they have not reliable evidence in regard to sales made since May 19th. The onus is placed squarely on the merchant and he is expected to keep a complete and accurate account of all taxable articles sold and to be able to substantiate this record. The Government does not even take the trouble to offer the retailers any advice as to the best method of keeping the necessary records, and the merchants have reason to feel aggrieved at the unceremonious manner in which the full responsibility of collecting this tax has been thrust upon them, with but little information as to the procedure to be followed and with the threat that they are personally liable for the tax on all goods mentioned in the tariff resolution sold since May 19th. The issuing of luxury stamps would appear to be a much more convenient and equally effective way of collecting the new tax, but the government has declared against that system, and the retailers will have to do the best they can under the circumstances to carry out the regulations.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

It is not surprising to find witnesses appearing before the Special committee on Pensions and Re-establishment, to complain of shortcomings and mistakes in the vocational training system of the Government. While the officials in charge of the re-training are undoubtedly endeavouring to carry out their duties to the best of their ability, there are many who doubt the success of the scheme in so far as permanent benefit is concerned. The objection raised by soldiers that the vocational training courses in most trades are too short to be of any real value, is without a doubt correct, and it is equally true that in many cases men have been assigned for training in occupations for which they are not fitted. Especially is this the case with many who have elected to take or have been chosen for a commercial course and who lack the preliminary education that is necessary to enable them to make a success in business life. It would be interesting information for the country if the Special Committee, when considering this phase of re-establishment, could get the official statistics of the vocational training branch, showing what has become of the veterans whose re-training has been completed. Figures have been published from time to time giving the number of men who have been trained and the number of graduates who have found employment, and these reports would go to show that the vocational training plan has been a huge success. But the records would be much more interesting and give a much more reliable survey of what has been accomplished if they would show what percentage of men who have completed their courses, have been successful in securing employment at the trade for which they were trained. If men have been trained for six months at a commercial course only to get work as labourers, when there training is through, then there is reason to question the value of the system. The information must be available and the Special Committee would be well advised to delve into this feature of the re-establishment plans of the Government.

STRIKING IN ORDER TO FAIL.

Sometimes one is tempted to suspect that the motive which is behind some of the numerous strikes is not the desire for higher pay and better working conditions, but the desire that the strikes shall fail and in failing cause bitterness among the strikers. It is well known that this is the plan which is favored by syndicalists generally, and notably by the leaders of the I.W.W. and One Big Union.

With remarkable frankness Fred G. Biedenkapp, secretary-treasurer of the American Brotherhood of Metal Workers, has admitted that the strike which fails is, from his point of view, the only successful strike, When a strike succeeds — that is, when the strikers get what they demand—the result, he thinks, is to be deplored, for in such a case the workers are contented and it is hard to arouse in them the spirit of revolution. "The hour draws near for the revolution," said Mr. Biedenkapp the other day. "Daily our numbers grow as unsuccessful strike follows unsuccesful strike. Therefore we of the vision encourage strikes—in order that they may fail. When ten million are enrolled they will no longer fail, or be necessary, for the day of labor's emancipation will have come."

"Labor's emancipation," according to this gentleman, is the destruction of the present political and social system, the overthrow of existing governments, the seizure of supreme power by the manual workers, and the confiscation by them of all wealth; in short a repetition of the Bolshevist revolution in Russia.

Labor leaders like Biedenkapp are not working for the immediate welfare of the workers. They do not want the workers to be fairly paid and contented. They want the workers to be discontented, restless, embittered, desperate. They hold that, in order to hasten the revolution which they hope for, it is necessary that the conditions of the workers must be made intolerable. Therefore they do all in their power to bring on strikes which cannot succeed; and having brought on these strikes, they work quietly and secretly to make them fail.

And the pity of it is that there are thousands upon thousands of decent, honest workingmen, whose desire is to live in peace with their fellow-men, who are the unsuspecting dupes of these red revolutionaries and are helping them to play their game.

Contrast the policy of this man Biedenkapp with that of Arthur Henderson, the British Labor leader. Said Mr. Henderson in a recent interview: "The fact that Labor, by a huge majority, has decided to adopt constitutional methods in order to obtain its aims and objects is a clear indication of its strength."—Hamilton Herald.

FREEDOM OF LABOUR DENIED BY TROTZKY

MUST ORDER MASSES OF WORKMEN ABOUT EXACTLY LIKE SOLDIERS, SAYS HIS REPORT.

WASHINGTON.—The State Department has made public a report on the militarization of labor in Soviet Russia, made by Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevist Minister of War, at the ninth congress of the Russian Communist Party. The report was published in the Izvestia, the official organ of the Soviet in Moscow, on March 21.

The report, in dealing with, the necessity for the mobilization of Russian labor on a military basis, confirms reports received here recently of the progress of disintegration within Soviet Russia and consequent decrease of Soviet authority through the failure of the system to work. Trotzky, in the report, refers to what he characterizes as the "conditions of starvation and disorganization existing to-day" in justification of extreme measures considered in well-informed circles here a vain effort to prevent ultimate collapse.

The opinion was expressed in a high quarter here to-day that Trotzky's report of the manner in which the Bolshevist authorities shuffle the working classes about as they see fit, with scant regard for their rights and liberties as individuals, should have a salutary effect upon the elements of American labor who are inclined to look with sympathy upon the Bolshevist Russian political order.

Trotzky's report says:

"At the present time the militarization of labor is all the more needed in that we have now come to the mobilization of peasants as the means of solving the problems requiring mass action. We are mobilizing the peasants and forming them into labor detachments which very closely resemble military detachments.

"Some of our comrades say, however, that even though in the working power of mobilized peasantry it is necessary to apply militarization, a military apparatus need not be created when the question involved skilled labor and industry because there we have professional unions performing the function of organizing labor. This opinion, however, is erroneous. At present it is true that professional unions distribute labor power to the social economic organizations, but what means and methods do they possess fr insuring that the workmen who are sent to a given factory actually reports at that factory for work?

"We have in the most important branches of our industry more than a million workmen on the lists, but not more than eight hundred thousand of them are actually working, and where are the remainder? They have gone to the villages or to ther divisions of industry or into speculation. Among soldiers this is called desertion, and, in one form or another, the measures used to compel soldiers to do their duty should be applied in the field of labor.

"Under a unified system of economy the masses of workmen should be moved about, ordered and sent from place to place in exactly the same manner as soldiers. This is the foundation of the militarization of labor, and without this we are unable to speak seriously of any organization of industry on a new basis in the conditions of starvation and disorganization existing to-day.

"In the period of transition in the organization of labor compulsion plays a very important part. The statement that free labor, namely, freely employed labor, produces more than labor under compulsion is correct only when applied to feudalistic and bourgeois orders of society."

HOLLAND SETS UP DEADLINE

Drastic Measures Taken on Frontier to Keep Out Bolsheviki.

THE HAGUE.—A "deadline" zone has been established at the Dutch frontiers beyond which no one may pass, except along recognized high roads, railroads or water routes, on penalty of being shot, if he refuses to halt.

This is only one of the stringent measures recently adopted to prevent the surreptious entrance into Holland of persons classed as undesirables, particularly Bolsheviki. The entire border guard service has been reorganized in connection with the customs and passport services.

Early this year it became evident that the Russian Soviet leaders in collusion with Communist Party chieftains in Holland, had established a bureau in Amsterdam that was to act as a "world clearing house" for financing and spreading Communist propoganda. The bureau's activities have been considerably curtailed by new laws providing heavy penalties for "communicating abroad with the purpose of overthrowing organized Government."

MORE VIENNA CHILDREN GO

British Benefactions to Austrians is Hailed as Pledge of Peace.

VIENNA.—Two hundred Vienna children from 6 to 14 years old left today for London via Rotterdam. In England, they are expected to be better fed than is possible here. They are mostly children of the so-called "brain-workers," such as teachers, professors, physicians, authors and musicians. Further departures of parties of children are to follow.

Many thousands of Viennese children have already been sent to Sweden, Denmark, the Netherlands and Switzerland and a number also to Italy but the British benefaction finds the greatest interest here, since every one feels that this means—more than even a resumption of diplomatic or commercial relations—the return of those friendly relations which always existed between England and Austria before the war.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

AN EMOTIONAL EPISODE.

CHAPTER CXXXI.

When Everett came in I decided to tell him a woman had called him several times. To be truthful I could not keep still any longer. Once more I was in the throes of a jealous passion. Again I was miserable because of my imaginings.

It seemed to me that no sooner did I feel comfortably sure I had nothing to be jealous of—always excepting Leola—than something cropped up to make me unhappy.

It was late when Everett came in. I scarcely waited for him to speak to me before I blurted out:

"Who is the woman you know who refuses to leave any message with me?" I should have been warned by his look, but I rushed on, "She has called half a dozen times. When I say I am Mrs. Graham she hangs up without a word. She must be a nice sort to have something to say to you she can't tell your wife."

"Have you quite finished your tirade? Had you asked me in the right manner I should have told you what I know, or do not know. As it is, I shall tell you nothing. I am tired. Please do not talk any longer."

"You are too tired to talk because I have found you—

"That will do, Sandra!"

When he used that tone with me I never dared say any more. It was the older person's tone used to one younger who had done something displeasing; not the tone of a husband to a wife. Someway, it meant "obey."

Now again I was miserable. I fancied all sorts of things as going on. I painted Everett as with her when I thought him at the club, or busy in his office. Then one night just as we were having coffee in the library, Hetty announced a lady to see Mr. Graham.

"Show her in here, Hetty—no, don't go, Sandra,' as I rose to leave the room, wanting terribly to remain Knowing how punctilious Everett was in such matters, I had supposed he might send me away. Then too, I had hoped to see his caller in the hall. But at his words I resumed my seat, delighted to stay.

To my surprise it was the woman who had called to see Leola. The woman whose husband had loved Everett's first wife.

Everett seemed surprised when I spoke to her without waiting for him to say anything, so I said:

"Mrs. Currie has been here once before, some time ago."

His face asked why I never had spoken of her, but he said nothing, simply offered his visitor a chair, and waited.

"I have something to say to you—something perhaps you would not care to have your wife hear," she commenced, obviously nervous.

"There is nothing you can have to say to me I would wish to keep from my wife." "I could have hugged him for that answer."

"Very well it is about the other one—the first Mrs. Graham." Everett started, still he didn't speak. "I told her," motioning toward me, "that my husband died loving your wife: died with the name 'Leola' on his lips. I came to taunt your first wife with spoiling my life by taking my husband's love from me and giving me nothing in return. I discovered that she was dead, so I decided to go away and say nothing. But I have since heard that you loved her so much, even tho she was dead, that your wife was unhappy because of it. Miss Lane told me so. "She" again she looked toward me, "was kind when I came. I have decided to give you this letter which the first Mrs. Graham wrote my husband. In it she says she never"——

"Wait-" it was my voice broke in upon her, altho I scarcely recognized it; and I seemed to speak without volition of my own. "Let me have it!" I took the letter from her and tore it into shreds. "There we will say no more about your husband and Mr. Graham's first wife. I am his wife now, the mother of his boy. She had been dead nine years when I married him. Why rake up old memories?" All of us have had love affairs in our lives. Suppose, now that both the writer and the receiver of that letter are gone, we let them rest."

"You certainly are a queer sort," she said as she rose. "I only wanted to do you a good turn."

"And you have, Mrs. Currie." It was Everett who answered. I had exhausted all my courage. My emotion had left me weak and trembling.

"My brave little wife!" Everett said softly as the door closed after her, taking me in his arms and raining kisses on my face—the kisses I had so longed for, but so seldom received.

ONE GREAT ESSENTIAL TO A WOMAN'S HEALTH IS HER NERVES

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long, instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point N.S., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerve."

POLISH SOLDIERS GO TO FRONT SHOELESS

WARSAW, May 26.—The suffering in Poland due to shoe shortage is beyond calculation. In three words the story is exposure, pnuemonia and death. The whole leather and boot industry has been wrecked by the war.

Soldiers marching to the front, their feet wrapped in straw or rags, are a common sight. Shoes for civilians are almost impossible to buy.

HOLIDAY CELEBRATION

The Omemee Athletic Association are to be congratulated on the splendid celebration held on Victoria Day The town was suitably decorated with flags, pennants, etc., for the occasion and early in the forenoon the people began to gather, ready to make the day an enjoyable one. The Cannington Band arrived by motor shortly before dinner and the town soon became very much alive.

After dinner the first on the programme was the automobile parade for the best decorated cars in which several cars participated, the prizes being won by Messrs. Melville Earle and L. A. Mahood.

The crowd then proceeded to the grounds near the tannery, where a big base-ball tournament took place, Janetville, Downeyville, Mount Pleasant, Millbrook, and Omemee teams being present. An extensive number of field sports were run off and some valuable prizes awarded. Three booths on the grounds provided refreshments and all kinds of soft drinks throughout the afternoon. On account of the late hour some of the water sports had to be called off, but those who were witnesses thoroughly enjoyed them.

In the evening, the band accompanied by a large procession of cars proceeded west, to meet Premier Drury, who was warmly welcomed when he reach Coronation Hall. The address of welcome was read by Reeve Parsons. Here the crowd had gathered in such large number that the Methodist church was opened to provide for the surplus crowd and Mr. Drury along with the other speakers, spoke to both audiences, also the lady soloists were very much appreciated.

It is a long time since such a celebration took place in Omemee and long will it be remembered.

Spectators were present for miles in every direction.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

The big event of the week at the Y.W.C.A. is the Camp Shower on Friday evening. Everybody is invited to come and bring with them something for camp—kitchen utensils, dishes, pickles, canned goods, victrola records, anything that would be useful at a summer camp, not excepting tents, cots and boats. There will be an interesting program and a pleasant social hour. More than that, the member of the Campers' League have challenged the C.G.E. girls to a friendly game of basket ball to be played that evening. Come and have a good time.

On Saturday afternoon the Ever Bright and Sunshine Clubs are having sports up on Nicholl's Oval, to which all their friends are invited.

Joseph C. Lincoln, author of those numerous and inimitable Cape Cod stories that many of us have read with unalloyed pleasure, has written a new story, the first in nearly two years, which has its scene in is favorite region and to which he has given the title "The Portygee." It will be published this month. Mr. Lincoln is easily the most interesting and the most faithful portrayer, of Cope Cod life and character. Mr. Lincoln has just passed his fiftieth birthday.

Grape-Nuts

is rich in the solid meaty values of wheat and malted barley, and has a substantial amount of sugar.

This sugar is not added in making but is developed from these grains by processing and long baking.

This decreases your sugar requirements, for the average cereal needs sugar for greatest palatability. Grape-Nuts needs none.

Bear this in mind when you order your cereal and ask for Grape-Nuts.

98% Metal

A Maxwell is 98% metal, and the very best metal that metallurgists can specify. Pound for pound it equals the metal in any car built.

The Maxwell is made of light-weight but strong metals.

They had to be light because the mission of the Maxwell is economical transportation.

They had to be strong because the Maxwell is built to carry just as heavy a passenger load over the same roads and at the same speed as any car, despite its price or size.

Any engineer will tell you that in getting that rare combination of strength with lightness high prices must be paid for the metals.

Their use, however, repays the makers of the Maxwell in many ways because each car each day is winning friends.

To-day these friendships, expressed in terms of cars, are well on the road to 400,000.

You cannot go back of these numbers any more than you can go back of the fact that the sun rises in the morning.

They tell the story; and it's largely a story of what the Maxwell is made of—fine metals.

ST. ANDREW'S TROOP HAD A HIKE

PETERBORO SCOUTS ENJOYED THE HOLIDAY.

The St. Andrew's Troop Boy Scouts enjoyed a very interesting hike over the holiday. They left St. Andrew's Church shortly after dinner on Saturday with their trek-cart and journeyed to a point midway between Nassau and Lakefield on the east side of the Otonabee river, above No. 5 Lock, where tents were raised and quarters were laid out for over the Holiday.

The boys made a very interesting sight in their full Scout uniforms. They were in charge of Scout Master C. Thornton and Mr. J. I. Allen. The Scouts who were able to get away for over the holiday were: Hurry, Pulkinghorn, McFarlane, Welborne, Allen, Henry, Hawley, Francis, Killaly, Dunlop, Edgar, Thirnbeck, Perks, Sowden, Filkin and Fraser: and they all appreciated the care and attention which was shown them. One very enjoyable feature was that no accidents marred the pleasure of the hike.

On Sunday morning church services were held at nine o'clock and the rest of the day was given to the boys to do as they wished. On the holiday, after the Scout training and athletic exercises were over, the events of the day were run off in the shape of athletic games. In the 100 yd. dash, running broad jump and standing broad jump the prize was won by patrol leader Hurry. The potato race was won by Scout Francis and the high jump and backward jump was won by Patrol Leader Pulkinghorn.

The camp was struck about two o'clock when all tents had to be folded up in a certain time and laid in front of their headquarters and inspected to see if anything was missing. The ground was then cleaned of all debris in the shape of papers and left-over fire wood inasmuch as the ground had to be left in the same condition as when the Scouts entered camp. The first night the boys were very tired and did not sleep very much owing to the mosquitoes nearly eating them alive and peroxide was very much in demand to reduce the bumps which they received. However, they were all good Scouts and enjoyed the holiday very much and appreciate the attention and care which was given them by Scout Master Thornton and Mr. Allen.

The training of the Scouts in camp resembles military duty and is excellent training for boys for their future life. It is too bad that more boys in Peterboro do not belong to the different troops located here. The boys returned home about six o'clock and all reported that they enjoyed the holiday immensely.

FAMOUS SCREEN ARTIST INJURED

Wm. S. Hart Thrown From Horse and Trampled Upon.

LOS ANGELES.—William S. Hart, famed as a portrayer of cowboy heroes on the screen, was severely injured here when he fell from a horse and was trampled by the frightened animal.

Hart was riding behind another actor in a thrilling chase when a low hanging tree limb struck him in the face. He was thrown from the horse and the animal was so frightened it kicked the prostrate actor with both iron shod heels.

Hart was unconscious when picked up. He suffered bad lacerations and possible broken bones.

LARGE BABOON ADOPTS FAMILY OF PUPPIES.

"Joe" of the Sparks Circus Looks After Babies While Mother Is Acting.

It is a well-known fact that the ordinary house cat has been known to adopt an entire family of puppies and on rare occasions a mother dog has reared beasts of the jungle variety, but never in the annals of zoology has a member of the monkey family been known to "mother" a family of puppies until Fifi, one of the star actresses in the Minnie Thompson troupe of statue canines with the Sparks Circus recently gave birth to four healthy English setter puppies.

As it happens Fifi enacts very important roles in the canine dramas enacted under the "big top" and during the performances cannot devote much of her time to the babies; therefore it fell to Miss Thompson to provide an efficient nurse during Fifi's thespian duties. Ever since the birth of the youngsters, Joe, a large good-natured baboon of the dog-face variety who occupies an adjoining cage in the Menagerie seemed to show such an untiring interest in the babies that finally Miss Thompson carefully approached his cage with one of the fuzzy mites, when to her surprise he held out both arms and upon receiving it immediately began to "coo" in true monkey language and fondle it as only a mother's instinct knows—in fact he proved to be such an adept in the role of nurse that the babies quickly adopted him and during Fifi's absence in the ring it is one of the daily sights of the Sparks Menagerie to see this Simian nurse fondling his little charges. Joe is a natural born comedian and his cage will undoubtedly be the centre for all eyes when the circus comes to Peterboro to exhibit on the Exhibition Grounds, on Tuesday, June 1st.

THE TRIP TO STONEY LAKE

STEAMER "MANITA" CARRIED A FULL BOAT-LOAD OF HOLIDAY EXCURSIONISTS ON THE 24TH.

The steamer Manita, of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company, was filled to capacity as it left its wharf in Lakefield for the Lakes on the morning of the 24th. Most of the excursionists came up from Peterborough on the G. T. R.—some desiring to inspect their summer cottages for the first time this season, others coming up for the day's outing, just to enjoy the cool sail around the Lake.

Capt. P. Young was in charge of the steamer, and made a painstaking and courteous officer for the day.

The trip was fully enjoyed by all on board, and everyone felt fully repaid in seeing the first fresh spring burst of nature in the Stoney Lake region of the Trent Canal. The beauties and attractions of our own home lakes, the lure of the water, the verdure of the shores, the scenic and rocky formations, the pretty summer cottages, and the pure bracing air, all contributed to make the trip a pleasant and enjoyable one. The height of water rendered it somewhat difficult in making the various landings, as the wharves in many cases are still under water; but Capt. Young piloted the boat safely throughout the day.

The steamer called at Mount Julian, where arrangements were made for dinner, and then proceeded to Burleigh and back again, up to Crowe's Landing at the end of the Lake, making the round trip, and calling at many of the cottages on the route.

The steamer returned to Lakefield in good time for the afternoon train to Peterborough.

REV. W. L. H. ROWAND LOSES HIS SON

WAS BADLY WOUNDED OVERSEAS—MARRIED A SHORT WHILE AGO.

TORONTO, May 26.—Lieut. Elmer McLeod Rowand, who died on Saturday at his home, 45 Stibbard avenue, was the third member of the law firm of Urquhart, Urquhart & Rowand. He was the son of Rev. W. L. H. Rowand, formerly Presbyterian minister at Peterborough, and was born 30 years ago in Manitoba. He received his public and high school education in Fort William and Owen Sound, and took the Arts course at the University of Toronto, from which he was graduated in 1912. He then studied law at Osgoode Hall, was called to the Bar in 1915, and joined the law firm of Rowell, Reid, Wood & Wright. In 1916 he went overseas, and after training in England joined the 20th Battery, C.F.A., in France, where he performed for some time the duties of court-martial officer of the 2nd Division. He was badly wounded early in 1918, but did not return to Canada until last June. He is survived by his wife, formerly Florence Rowland, of Walkerton.

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them

The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not dangerous trouble they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicine such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N.B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease.

PAPER TOO EXPENSIVE PARISIANS PAINT WALLS

PARIS, May 26. — Hand-painted walls are being used everywhere in Paris because of the scarcity and high cost of wall paper.

Scene painters and tableau artists from the Latin quarter are employed at a daily wage much cheaper than the cost of new paper, which has soared to more than eight times the pre-war price.

"DANDERINE"

Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

A few cents buys "Danderine." After an application of "Danderine" you can not find a fallen hair or any dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

SUNDAY SERVICE AT MARK STREET

Mark Street Methodist, the church of the plain message, had large congregations on Sabbath and the duet by Mrs. Hurl and Mis Miller, the solos by Miss Jones and Miss Peters, with the other music constituted an excellent program of which Mr. Quinn has just reason to be proud.

"Life's Great Dynamo" was the subject of the morning sermon and was based on the text found in Ezekiel XXXVI, 26, "A new heart also will I give you and a new spirit will I put within you." The following points were discussed by Mr. Ross, the pastor: First—the Kingdom of God, either in the human soul or in the community must have for its motive power the Divine Spirit. This kingdom is like a harmonious machine, behind the complex mechanism, the engine, behind the engine the fire, but back of all is the Master Mind. What we need to-day is a Spiritual Revolution. While reformation is good it does not go deep enough. We must emphasize individual salvation. A revival never begins in a community, it begins in the individual soul, and its influence radiates. This is the blunder of the church to-day. She is trying to save souls by machinery. If the recent great Forward Movement fell down spiritually this is the cause. A peach tree nuever grows from a pebble, life must produce life, and no life is prior to organism. A beautiful church without the spirit of God is a beautiful corpse.

Second—God will remove the heart of stone, and replace it with a living throbbing heart of love to God and sympathy for men. The heart that holds God holds all God's train, even love, joy and peace. Note how many things are new: "New Heart," "New Name," "New Heaven," "New Earth." "Behold I make all things new," says the Divine One.

Third—The products of the "New Heart." Love to God, to our neighbour, to the poor and struggling. Give the employer a new heart and he will see that the employee gets a living wage. Give the employee a new heart and he will give his employer true value for his wages. The new heart gives heart service. A new heart gives just weight, measure, and quality. Give the grafter and the profiteer a new heart and you take out of the limelight the greatest human parasite the world knows. A new heart is the strike-cure of the weary world. Don't trouble your soul about Christ setting up a temporal kingdom at the old Jewish capital, with his disciples as Cabinet Ministers, an Omnipresent Christ and the New Heart is better.

The evening subject was "A Princely Visitor." Text, "Behold I stand at the door and knock," Rev. III., 20. Note the following:

First—Just as there is something in the Eastern mind that responds to the claims of an earthy king, so, the thought, "My King," when applied to Christ has given many a martyr the courage to go to the stake or lions.

Second—God's Gate of Mercy is always open, while the door of man's soul is closed against the Divine Visitor. When God knocks at the soul's door man is not receiving company; but when man knocks at the door of mercy God says "Come In."

Third—The Soul is compared to a house that God has made for his own dwelling place. Conscience, Perception, Memory, Emotion and Will are its apartments. It was made to entertain God, Love, Peace, Truth and Justice. The owner of the house stands without knocking. We cannot wait to clean house. The presence of the Prince will wither and banish all impurity. He comes to make a feast. The fastenings of the door are within. The key of our Will unlocks the door. Will you let Him in now?

HIGHER SALARY FOR MEMBERS NOT POPULAR IN AUSTRALIA

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 26. — Australian cables indicate much dissatisfaction with the bill submitted by Premier Hughes, for increasing the salaries of members of Parliament from six hundred to a thousand pounds, which, however, was carried by a large majority.

NAME BOARD TO MERGE RAILWAYS

Howard G. Kelley Will Be Chairman of the Committee.

MONTREAL, May 21.—Announcement is made from Montreal that the Committee of Management for the co-ordination of the Grand Trunk Railway with the Canadian National System had been appointed consisting of Messrs. C. A. Hayes and S. J. Rutherford, representing the Government, and Messrs. Frank Scott and W. D. Robb representing the Grand Trunk.

The four gentlemen named above appointed Mr. Howard G. Kelley, President of the Grand Trunk, as the fifth member of the committee and chairman.

Mr. W. N. Tilley, K.C., of Toronto, was present on behalf of the Canadian Government.

All members of the new committee are well known railway men. Mr. Howard G. Kelley has for some years past been President of the Grand Trunk Railway System; Mr. C. A. RATE FOR TELEGRAMS NOW 30 CENTS COMPANIES WIN THEIR APPLICATION FOR HIGHER COMMERCIAL CHARGES

HIGHER RATES WILL GO INTO EFFECT AS SOON AS COMPANIES SUBMIT TARIFFS AND OBTAIN RAILWAY COMMISSION'S APPROVAL FOR THEM.

OTTAWA, May 26. — Increases averaging 32 per cent. in Eastern Canada and 20 per cent. in Western Canada are allowed on commercial telegraph messages throughout Canada, in a judgment handed down by the Railway Commission. The companies will be allowed to sub-divide the existing rate zones east of Sudbury and extend these zones to Quebec Province.

Flat rates for these zones are increased from 25 cents a word to 30 cents a word, and excess words will cost two cents instead of one cent. Sealed increases from 10 cents to 25 cents a word are allowed on the $1.00 transcontinental rate, with a special provision to permit the Grand Trunk Pacific to charge $1.55 to Prince Rupert, B.C. Tariffs may be filed at once, based on the Commission's rulings, and the rates will come into effect as soon as the Commission ratifies the tariffs.

The increased rates do not apply to press despatches or leased wires.

Two Judgments.

The judgment of the Chief Commissioner holds that the telegraph companies are not prohibited from sub-dividing the existing rate zone east of Sudbury and extending it into Quebec.

Following the hearings held from Halifax to Victoria, B.C., a judgment by the Assistant Chief Commissioner, finding rate increases necessary, has been issued.

The Increases.

The increases are on commercial business, there being no increase on press service or leased lines. The zone rate is permitted to be increased from 25 to 30 cents. The subdivision of the zone east of Sudbury, added to the increased zone rates, works out an average increase of 32 per cent. on the business carried east of Fort William. West of Fort William, the average is 20 per cent. This average rates east and west.

The existing $1.00 rate on transcontinental movement is permitted to be increased by a maximum of 25 per cent. Shorter distances covered on the $1 rate are to be graded on increases of 10, 15 and 20 per cent.

The judgment sets out general directions which the companies are to follow in framing the tariffs.

Reduced in 1916.

In 1916, the board reduced telegraph rates 17 per cent. Between 1915 and 1918, wages increased 60 per cent; material, 85 per cent. The increased wages resulting from the application of the McAdoo award in 1918 increased the burden of wages as to necessitate increased rates, the companies successfully claimed.

The complaint of the Winnipeg Board of Trade that telegraph companies were discriminating in the matter of cable tolls between Manitoba points and Great Britain was dismissed.

Excess Word Charge Up.

In addition to the increase from 25 cents to 30 cents flat rate, in zone messages, the excess word rate is increased from one cent to two cents a word.

On the transcontinental movement, which is increased from $1.00 to $1.25, a special publication is made whereby the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway may charge $1.55 on transcontinental messages in view of specially heavy costs.

In the lengthy judgments which Chief Commissioner Carvell and Assistant Chief Commissioner McLean have written, it is pointed out that very little opposition to the increased rates developed at the sittings which the commission held in Victoria, Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina, Winnipeg, Fort William, Ottawa, St. John, N.B., and Halifax.

MIDLAND PRESS ASSOCIATION HOLD MEETING

MR. D. D. C. DAWE ELECTED PRESIDENT—LARGE ATTENDANCE AND FINE ADDRESSES.

The semi-annual meeting of the Midland Press Asociation was held in Oshawa yesterday. The attendance was probably the largest in the history for the association and the meeting was one of the most successful from every point of view. The many serious problems confronting the publishers in this district were discussed. Excellent addresses were delivered by Messrs. Sayles and Pepper, of Toronto, and Keefer, of Norwood.

The publishers were welcomed to Oshawa by Mayor Stacey, Reeve Vickery, Mr. Geo. McLaughlin, and tendered a luncheon by the town. Mr. McLaughlin very kindly extended an invitation to the party to visit the plant of the General Motors Co. Cars were provided and a tour through the extensive plants was made under the direction of Mr. Geo. Peacock.

The members of the press were delighted with the hospitality shown by the Oshawa civic authorities, and the officials of the General Motors Co., Ltd.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

Hon. President — Chas. Mundy, Oshawa.
President—D. D. C. Dawe, Peterboro.
Vice-pres.—J. W. Deyell, Lindsay.
Secretary—Geo. James, Bowmanville.
Treas.—J. Keller, Uxbridge.

WILL PREVENT FIRE IN EVENT OF CRASH

LONDON, May 26.—The airship R-33 left the Howdin aerodrome, near Selby, Yorkshire, for London last night. When she took the air the R-33 carried up with her a Sopwith camel aeroplane, which, with its engine running at full speed, was released at the height of 1,500 feet. The plane made a spiral nose dive and crashed about half a mile from the aerodrome. The experiment was to test a rubber petrol tank designed to prevent fire in the event of a crash. This tank burst when the aeroplane fell, but no fire followed.

ALARM CLOCKS MADE IN CITY

A NEW LINE OF HOME PRODUCTS IN GEORGE STREET WINDOW.

While an alarm clock is at all times more useful than ornamental it may at any time be interesting and the display of such disturbers of the morning's peace in Schneider's Jewellery store, 367 George street, is of particular interest in the fact that they were made in this city by the Western Clock Company. Big Bens and Baby Bens are arranged about a miniature bed and each is guaranteed equally efficient both from a standpoint of accurate time and ability to wake the soundest sleeper. The clocks are the first ever manufactured in the city.

MRS. A. L. WILDRICK, of Los Angeles, Calif., who says she had to spend half her time in bed and could not get relief until she took Tanlac. Declares she now feels as well as she ever felt in her life and that she has gained 15 pounds in weight.

The following statement was made recently by Mrs. A. L. Wildrck, a well known and highly respected resident of Los Angeles, Calif., living at No. 222 North Alvarado Street. Mrs. Wildrick is 69 years of age and is the mother of seven children. Her photograph appears here.

"For the past year or more," said Mrs. Wildrick, "I have been in very poor health. I suffered principally from chronic indigestion and my condition was so bad that I had to spend half of my time in bed from sheer weakness. In spite of all the medicine I took I could not possibly get any relief and I became so nervous and unstrung that at times I could not possibly get any relief and I became so nervous and unstrung that at times I could hardly realize what I was doing. I just had no appetite at all and suffered terribly nearly all the time with indigestion and was really in a very bad way physically. If I did eat a little sometimes I would always have a miserable distressed feeling afterwards and I tell you I was going down hill pretty fast.

"Well, I just can't cant find words to tell you how really bad off I was and also to tell you what Tanlac has done for me for I feel as well now as I ever felt in my life. Why, after taking only three and a half bottles of this medicine I have actually gained 15 lbs. in weight, and everybody tells me that I am looking better than in years!

"Since I have been taking Tanlac I have found out that several of my intimate friends are also taking it and everyone of them are delighted with it. I am surely glad to recommend Tanlac and help spread the goodness of this medicine. Yes, I want you to use my photograph too so that all my friends may see how well I am looking. Anyone who could see me now after seeing me only a few weeks ago would be convinced that Tanlac must be a really wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

WORLD WAR COST 35,380,000 LIVES.

LONDON, May 26.—The total cost of the World War in lives has reached $35,380,000, according to final estimates made by the Copenhagen Society for the Study of the Consequences of War. These figures were reached after an exhaustive study of the decrease in the birthrates of the countries involved, as well as increase in deaths from causes directly attributed to the War.

Actual military deaths totalled 9,829,000, according to the report. Each European nation involved lost the equivalent of 8.8 per cent. of its population from all causes. Each nation's actual killed equalled 2.5 per cent. of its population. Serbia was the heaviest sufferer. She lost 35 per cent. of her total population, while her actual killed equalled 14.8 per cent.

FLOUR PRICES STILL OWER AT MINNEAPOLIS MILLS

MINNEAPOLIS, May 26.—Flour made a further decline in price at the largest Minneapolis mills here, family patent being quoted at $14.75 to $15 a barrel in 98-pound cotton sacks, in carload lots. This marked a decline of 25 cents a barrel at the largest mills, where the $15 price was posted. This concern led the downward trend in prices last week, but Monday's $14.75 quotation was by another large mill, which last week generally maintained a slightly higher quotation than the former.

Is Your Blood Starving For Want of Iron?

Iron is Red-Blood Food—Nuxated Iron Helps Put Roses Into the Cheeks of Women and Gives Strength and Energy to Men

If you were to go without eating until you become weak, thin and emaciated, you could not do a more serious harm to yourself than when you let your blood literally starve for want of iron—iron that gives it strength and power to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. Without plenty of iron in the blood, no matter how much or what you eat, your food simply passes through you without doing you any good—you don't get the strength out of it and instead of being filled with youthful strength and energy you are weak, nervous and all run-down. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can walk or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks, then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form. But don't take the old kinds of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like Nuxated Iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. You can procure Nuxated Iron from your druggist on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or your money will be refunded.

IMPROVEMENTS AT PARKER'S DYEING, CLEANING PLANT

MODERN MACHINERY INSTALLED AND HIGH-CLASS WORK TURNED OUT.

In an effort to give the public better and quicker service the management of Parker's Dyeing and Cleaning establishment, Charlotte street, has at an expense of several thousand dollars completely remodelled their plant installing the very latest and best machines, used in the process of cleaning and dyeing, money could procure.

The new process which is employed results in every article brought into the establishment leaving in an absolutely sanitary condition. The cloth es are brought to the back of the laundry, carefully brushed free of sur face dirt, thrown for half an hour into a revolving machine containing gasoline and a special soap solution, removed eo a drying machine which alone cost $500, and in which all dust and free dirt is removed replaced in pure gasoline for another washing, dried and put through the Hoffman machine in which 60 pounds of steam passes through every inch of the garment which results in each article being absolutely germ-proof and perfectly pressed. A glove cleaning machine has also been installed which assures perfect cleanliness and is, on account of the construction of the machine, proof against tearing or damaging gloves in any way.

That the public may have the benefit of the greatest economy possible, Mr. Beach has installed a still for reclaiming gasoline which separates all dirt from the used gasoline.

The dyeing process has also been greatly improved resulting in quicker and bett service.

Building Improved.

Every department in the building has been overhauled and each made fire proof, besides which the departments have been so rearranged that all clothing to be cleaned comes in and goes out from the back door resulting in the front parts of the building being reserved for a very bright office. The west office has been fitted up to handle out of town work only which feature also adds to the efficiency and speed of the work.

COMPLETELY CRIPPLED

Terrible Experience of Mr. J. Harrop

It is seldom that anyone who has been continually exposed to every weather condition does not contract some form of Kidney or Rheumatic trouble. In many cases, cold, settling in the kidneys, so weakens these important organs that they are unable to filter the waste and poison out of the blood. The latter is carried throughout the body, causing uric acid to accumulate in the joints, with consequent rheumatism, stiff joints, swollen ankles, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, constipation, tormenting pains in back and side and head. These ills can all be made right. Gin Pills give quick, certain and sure relief. Read what Mr. J. Harrop writes to us:—

"I have been crippled up so completely that I could not stand. Work was out of the question. A few doses of Gin Pills put me right. I cannot praise Gin Pills too much, and every home should have a box."

Gin Pills can help you. If you suffer from backache, or have that dreadful feeling of lassitude, with floating specks before the eyes, highly-colored urine, stone in the bladder and general debility, get Gin Pills at once. "ENLIGHTEN THY DAUGHTER" IS A WONDERFUL SCREEN PRODUCTION

CONSIDERABLE LOCAL INTEREST IN THE PLAY—WILL BE SHOWN AT THE GRAND AGAIN TO-NIGHT.

Endorsed by the clergy and members of different women's societies who have already seen the wonderful film, 'Enlighten Thy Daughter," is being shown before crowded houses at the Grand and an unusual amount of interest is being taken in the play After seeing the great photoplay, several of the clergy have assured the management that the picture well deserves to be called the most tremendous moral force the screen has ever shown. It is an eye opener along moral lines, a protest against the stupidity and indifference of those who should have known better, a clarion call to careless fathers and mothers to shake themselves and start at the right direction. It is absolutely plain, absolutely realistic, it refuses to mince matters and goes into matters in a startlingly direct manner, but it is life itself.

Pitfalls Pointed Out.

Through it the dangers of life are shown and ways of avoiding them pointed out. The picture makes it clear to every parent, especially mothers, what a responsibility rests upon their shoulders and what a hell on earth is theirs if vice overtakes their daughters, as a result of their neglect of duty.

The story upon which this wonderful drama is based is of two girls, Ruth brought up in the atmosphere of loving parents who guide her every footstep, and Lillian, brought up in an equally loving atmosphere, but loved not wisely but too well, is spared through a false sense of modesty from knowing the pitfils of life until it is too late. The disaster which befalls Lillian and the influence it works upon Ruth's life tells a powerful screen story which has absolutely no equal.

The picture reveals a story we see in every day life, but which goes unobserved until brought home and reveals it to the audience with a shock. It handles a delicate problem in a way that tells the truth, missing nothing and yet without offence.

Each member of the caste has been chosen with the utmost care and each handles her particular role in a truly masterful manner.

CAPTAIN LAWSON CAMPAIGNING HERE

Captain Joe Lawson, the organizer for the Serbian Relief Fund, which commenced to-day, had an honourable and long career in the Canadian army. He went overseas in 1916 as the paymaster of the 204th (Beavers) Battalion, taking with him his only son, 17 years old.

As an officer he was loved and respected by all his men and in his work in the Serbian Relief he instils the same enthusiasm and pep into the campaign that he did on the firing line, and with the push and punch of Captain Joe Lawson behind it the objective of $5000 is assured.

In Military District No. 2, Captain Lawson was given credit for recruiting the largest number of men in the district.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET REPORT

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 26.—The revival of public interest in securities and the favourable news from all over the world regarding credit conditions, were reflected in substantial advances registered b ythe leading issues at the stock market opening to-day.

Traders were not pessimistic over the financial situation in Japan, which the despatches reported as critical.

Crucible opened at 127 1-2 up 3, Baldwin 113 1-4 up 3-8, U. S. Steel 93 3-8 up 1-8, New York Central 68 1-2 up 3-8, Retail Stores 74 1-4 up 1-8, Studebaker 66 1-8 up 1 3-8, U. S. Rubber 94 1-4 up 5-8, Reading 82 7-8 up 1-4, Republic Steel 89 7-8 up 1-2, Mexican Petroleum 177 1-2 up 1 1-2, International Paper 69 1-4 up 3-4, Chandler 132 up 1-2, Union Pacific 115 3-4 up 1-4, Pan-American 103 up 3-8, Sinclair 31 3-4 up 3-8, American Woollen 99 12 up 1-4.

There was some profti taking in the first half hour, causing slight recessions. However after the profit-taking had been absorbed Motors, Oils and Steels shot up to new high prices. Copper held all of Tuesday's recovery.

EXCHANGE MARKET.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 26. — German marks and Latin exchanges were features at the foreign exchange market onening to-day. Marks demand opened at $.0302 and cables $.0304 up $.0024. Franc cheques were up 50 centimes at 12.27. Lire cheques up 65 at 16.92. Demand sterling eased off ¼ to $3.84¼.

Continued advance of all Continental exchanges was attributable in financial circles as partly due to the speculation and partly as a result of the recent announcement that the British and French Premiers had decided definitely on the amount of the German indemnity.

The German mark rates have been attracting a big following for some months, and have lately shown steady progress.

BASEBALL CASUALTIES.

Port Hope, May 22. — The High School team went to Bowmanville yesterday for an exhibition game of baseball. Stanley Meeking, one of the local players, had the misfortune to break his right leg just above the ankle, while sliding to the second base. Gibson, the catcher for Bowmanville, had his collar bone broken by a foul tip. Owing to the numerous casualties the game had to be called at the 7th innings with Bowmanville in the lead.

GEORGE STREET FIRE SATURDAY NIGHT.

Goods Have been Damaged by Smoke —Store Closed for Present.

The dry goods and ladies' furnishing store of H. Kline, 430 George St., was the scene of considerable commotion on Saturday evening just after closing time. About 11 o'clock the store was seen to be filled with smoke and the firemen on arrival found a small fire getting well under way, in the office, where it is thought a cigar stub caught fire on some of the inflamable material. Very little damage was done although the stock was badly smoked.

LOCAL BASEBALL COMMENT

East Peterborough baseball enthusiasts will gather at the Windsor Hotel to-night at 8 o'clock to organize a ball league. Four teams are assured, namely, Lakefield, Keene, Asphodel and Indian River. The Nassau boys are finding it difficult to round out a team, but there is still a chance that they will enter the league. A proposition is on foot to make arrangements whereby the final championship games would be played at the annual field day held at Indian River, replacing the ball tournament. By this arrangement the league might receive a share of the gate recipts to help to defray the expenses of the season. It might also be arranged to put up the Thompson cup as a trophy for the winning team.

Ward Paterson is in Toronto to-day atending a meeting of the sub-committee of the O.B.A.A.

Manager Ernie Rahmel stands to lose several of his City League players who, on account of the strike at the Canadian General, are thinking seriously of seeking employment elsewhere.

Congratulations to Harry Soanes, baseball mogul extraordinary of Tweed, Ont. Tweed baseball club has just won a handsome silver trophy, having emerged the winner in a tournament with ball teams from neighboring pastures. Here's a shining example for the athletes on Mr. G. O. Cameron's Bell Telephone staff, of which Mr. Soanes is a graduate.

Runs were plentiful in the King George-South Central game in the Public School League last evening, the youngsters galloping around the circuit 63 times. South Centrals did the most running, with 39 runs to their credit.

Belleville Grand Trunks must be some ball team this season. Last season the Petes beat them with half a pitcher—that is, Kirn gave half of his ability to the City Leaguers and the remainder to the big show. Now the Petes have three flingers, and the result is a victory for the locomotive drivers.

The Commercial Ball League was introduced to fandom at the Oval last evening when Westclox and Barries met in the opening game. The fur trimmers won handily, the score being 9 to 4. The clock manufacturers failed to back up Herb. Wolf's good pitching, while the Barrie boys fielded nicely and hit well. The batteries were: Barrie's—Doughty and Dugan; Westclox—Wolf and Carnahan.

Queen Alexandra school boys added another win last evening when they defeated the Queen Mary school lads in a league game, by the score of 17 to 9.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

CANADIAN WOOLENS AND G.W.V.A. ON THURSDAY EVENING—EXECUTIVE MEETING TO-NIGHT—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Canadian Woollens and the Great War Veterans meet in a league fixture on Thursday evening at the Oval, kick-off at 6.30 prompt. Mr. J. Keller will referee the game.

The Caledonians now head the local football league on a goal average, but this does not count at the end of the season, when points only count. If a tie between two teams, a deciding game must be played.

Caledonians have scored 23 goals and six goals against them, while C. G.E. have 19 for and 5 against. The Gunners 8 for and 7 against, while Vets come next with 6 for and 9 against.

No doubt a great amount of the encouragement the fistic players receive from their own supporters is the cause of a lot of the trouble on the field of play, while others conduct themselves as good sports and always urge the other element to cut it out, as they desire to see the game in the right siprit. Other spectators —the comparatively few—are only too ready to "barrick" the players and the referee, to the annoyance of the clean sport. "Kidding" is all right, done in moderation, but the display of temper shown by some players in recent games is too much.

Manders and Williamson of the C.G.E. team have left the city, and it is doubtful if they will return.

The executive meeting will be held in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's shop to-night at 7.30 prompt. Referee Bates will give a report on the Caledonian vs C.G.E. game and the ordering off of Hannah and Bestard, also the J. Crow and J. Williamson incident in the Gunners vs. C.G.E. match, when Referee McKinley handled the game. The Midland Football League proposition from the other cities will also come up for discussion.

J. Williamson of the C. G. E. and Ryan were censured at the last executive meeting for fighting on the field of play—now Williamson is in the latest regrettable incident along with J. Crow. In the melee Williamson struck the referee and according to football ruling, a player is suspended sine die. Football rule applies to any goalkeeper and Flowers was not justified in running out of goals to make it worse. When a goalkeeper leaves his goal and enters a fight he must be put out of the game.

Manders and Hotson, the C. G. E. right wing pair, left Peterborough and took part in the Ontario Cup Tie for the Homesides of Hamilton on Saturday last.

The penalty kick is an endless source of controversy wherever football enthusiasts congregate. The penalty kicck can only be awarded for the following eight offences: 1, tripping an opponent; 2, kicking an opponent; 3, jumping at an opponent; 4, handling the ball; 5, holding an opponent; 6, pushing an opponent; 7, charging an opponent, violently or dangerously; 8, charging an opponent from behind. These offences must be intentionally, for, as the rule says, cases of handling the ball, tripping, pushing, etc., must be intentional before a penalty can be awarded.

A great amount of ill-feeling has cropped up against the Ontario Football Association in regard to the excessive entry fee for the cup ties. The matter will be discussed at the D.F.A. meeting next month.

Is there any juvenile football teams in the city? The city of Hamilton can boast of 11, with Toronto leading with about 30 juvenile teams.

The Comrades' Football Club are now ready to play any team in the city and dates for games will be gladly received by the secretary, Mr. N. Porter, 269 John street.

Well over 5,000 people saw Toronto defeated at football by the Goodrich team from Akron at Varsity Stadium on 24th May. The score was one to nothing in favour of the visitors.

The Canadian Woollens' Team for to-morrow's night's game will be Calendine, goal, Hillman and Cridland, backs; Barton, Jackson and Styles, half-backs; Baldwin, Montgomery, Thorpe, Hodson and C. Clarke, forwards. Reserves: Reid, Pilling and Barrell.

6 Panama Dancers, with Harvey's Greater Minstrels, Grand Opera House Matinee and Night, Friday, May 28th.

FARNUM'S HEAD WAS PRIZE THEY SOUGHT

The Dyaks, notorious head hunters of the South Seas, are seen on the screen in all their aboriginal ferocity in "Wings of the Morning," the new feature in which William Fox will present William Farnum, on Thursday and Friday, at the Allen Theatre.

During the course of the story Captain Robert Anstruther, played by William Farnum and Iris Deane played by Louise Lovely, are shipwrecked on a lonely isle in the South Seas. There they are attacked by Dyaks. Help arrives in the form of a British gunboat just in the nick of time.

The scenes in which the Dyaks appear are said to be the most exciting recently seen upon the screen. The Dyaks are unique—not to say spectacular—in their attire. The original and still prevailing costume consists of a waistcloth, generally of blue cotton, brass rings on legs and arms, necklaces of black and white beads, and large crescent-shaped earrings. The men usually carry a betal nut pouch in addition to a curved sword and a long spear.

Head hunting is essentially a religious practice with the Dyaks; each seeking a consecration for every important event of his life by the acquisition of one or more skulls.

But if heaven depends on enemy skulls the Dyaks who attacked William Farnum in "Wings of the Morning" are doomed to perdition, for both Farnum and his leading lady escaped unscathed.

LACROSSE

All the players are requested to attend Thursday night's practice, at the Exhibition Park at 7 o'clock. A business meeting will also be held at the grounds at which several important items will be discussed.

THE MINSTRELS AT THE GRAND

Minstrels are not all alike. To be able to demonstrate this fact the public is urged to attend the Harvey Greater Minstrels when it appears here.

The management of this famous colored organization emphasizes the usual quality of its wardrobe, both that worn in its parade and in the performance.

The women will perhaps be the best judges of this wardrobe and will apreciate both the value of the material used and the skill of the designing and the work.

Never was a colored Minstrel Show dressed as is the Harvey Greater Minstrels, but for it to be any different would be not to be in line with the high class entertainment offered. There are a couple of meritorious white minstrels but their success depends largely upon their ability to imitate the colored race. Therefore the management of the Harvey Greater Minstrels conceived the idea of assembling Fifty really classy natural and capable performers of that race, and consequently an unusual minstrel organization is the result. The idea of the Octaroon Beauty Chorus is original with Mr. Harvey.

At the Grand, Friday Matinee and Night, May 28th.

"PASSION FLOWER"

The personality of Jacinto Benavente, the celebrated Spanish dramatic author of "La Malquerida" and more than 100 other plays, is one of the most puzzling of contemporary authors. This play, which comes to the Grand, Saturday, May 29th, is being presented now as "The Passion Flower," with the noted American emotional actress, Nance O'Neil, in the leading role.

As an evidence of the esteem in which her dramatic powers are held by the leading critics of New York, it may be recorded that Alexander Wollcott, the critic on the New York "Times" declared:

"Do you remember the sudden and tremendous blaze of passion with which the smoldering Nance O'Neil illumined famous few moments before the fall of the curtain in the third act of 'The Lily?' Well, there was a whole evening of that with the arrival last night at the astonished Greenwich Village Theatre of 'The Pasion Flower.' "

Burns Mantle, a veteran of the pen, writing in the "Mail" says:

"Neither Modjeska, or Janauschek, or Mrs. D. P. Bowers, nor even Charlotte Cushman herself, probably ever gave a more consistent performance in her day than Nance O'Neil gave in her best scenes as the soul-tortured heroine. Her resonant voice was deep-toned and expresive, her masque a perfect reflection of the moods that swept it; her gestures broadly sweeping and eloquent of the thought that inspired them."

The dean of New York critics is J. Rankin Towse, of the sedate "Evening Post." Of Miss O'Neil's acting in the "Passion Flower" he declares:

"At her best, which ocurs in passages of fierce and unleashed emotion, Nance O'Neil reveals a dramatic quality unmatched, scarcely even approached, by any other actress upon the American or it might not be too much to add—upon the English speaking stage."

Robert Gilbert Welsh in the "Evening Telegram" pays this tribute to her dramatic genius:

"The play is absorbing in its revelation of character conflicting with character, re-action following re-action, until the abysmal depths of human souls are revealed with pitiless power. The work at the end of the second act was tempestuous and over-powering. The scenes leading up to this climax were superbly handled and in the death scene she was profoundly moving. Where Sardou and others would have written pages of mush for a Bernhardt to lie back in picturesque poses in a fifteen minute fit of agony Benavente has given Raimunda one exclamation and three or four sentences. And they are more potent than a fifteen minute death scene could posibly be."

Louis V. de Foe, perhaps the most captious of all Metropolitan critics, follows a glowing tribute to the play and all players by observing that:

"'The Passion Flower' is a breathlessly interesting play which never falters in the sweep and on-rush of its story and in the violent conflict of its characters. There is no actres on the native stage at the present time who is better qualified to express the full depth of Raimunda's emotional outbursts or portray the fierce surge of that character's tempestuous passion."

Miss O'Neil is known throughout the United States and Canada for her many powerful portrayals, and those who have awaited the time when her great powers might be utilized in a play of merit and interest will have this wish gratified by her performance in "The Passion Flower."

HAY COMING IN.

Several farmers took advantage of the fine weather to-day to bring a few loads of hay to town, and participate in the high prices paid for that necessary horse fodder. Thirty dollars was asked by one agrarian and he got it, but only one or two got the higher price. At $26 and $28 they felt that they were getting well paid.

Scott, and his subject will be "The Christ we Adore."

EPIDEMIC ABATING.

Dr. McPherson, M. O. H., said this afternoon that there were a large number of cases of measles n the city particularly in Ashburnham, where many houses were placarded. The quarantine of two weeks is not a relish for the afflicted family, but is better than smallpox for the breadwinner is still allowed to go to work.

Although there is considerable smallpox Dr. McPherson said that the epidemic was abating.

BETHANY TABERNACLE.

Next Sunday morning and evening, services in Bethany Tabernacle will be conducted by Mr. P. Sidersky, of Baltimore, U. S., one of the best known and most popular sepakers in the States, on the Jewish question, now so prominently before the world. His theme here will be "Israel Among the Nations," a subject which will be of interest to both Jew and Christian.

SOME MECHANICS LEAVING CITY

"Sixty-eight mechanics have left Peterborough, and twice as many more will be gone by this time next week," said one of the C. G. E. strikers this afternoon. It was generally admitted that the men were reluctant to leave Peterborough. Many of them had their homes here and others were boarding.

Machinists state that there is plenty of work up and down the country and they will have no difficulty obtaining employment. When the announcement that the strike was settled a week ago on Saturday was followed by a countermanding order from Toronto, some of those who at that time were working in Toronto and elsewhere threw up these jobs and returned to Peterborough, only to find that the settlement of which they had been notified by friends was very much unsettled.

Thus they had lost the railway fares coming home and returning, and they had to face the prospect of getting another new position.

DOCTORS AFTER HIGHER FEES

(Canadian Press.)

GEDDES MEETS THE PRESIDENT

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 26. — Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British Ambassador, formally presented his credentials to President Wilson at the White House to-day, and exchanged with the exeeutive the assurances of goodwill and amity. He is the second Ambassador to be sent here since the President became ill.

Sir Auckland had been waiting since 21st April to be formally received.

Several Ambassadors and Ministers of other nations who preceded Sir Auckland in their arrival here have been received by Mr. Wilson in the last ten days.

None of the diplomatic questions were touched on specifically in the adresses exchanged between Wilson and Geddes.

ANGLICAN CHURCH IS OPPOSED TO DIVORCE

Bishop Sweeny Tells Synod That Only One Cause is Recognized.

TORONTO, May 26. — Bishop Sweeny in his charge to the Synod of the Diocese of Toronto in session at St. James' Parish House, after reviewing the activities of the diocese for the year, touched on the question of divorce and emphatically stated the attitude of the Anglican church in this matter. "The Anglican church is opposed to divorce," he said, "(save for the one allowed by Her Divine Head.) This is plainly indicated by her legislation adopted in 1905 which states that no Anglican clergyman shall solemnize a marriage between persons either of whom shall have been divorced from one who is living at the time.

"Thus does she set her face sternly against that which imperils the indisolubility of the marriage tie. Thus does she strengthen the Divine appointed social order to safeguard the sanctity of the home and protect the issue of the union from plight and scandal of parental separation. In this matter she is, second to none. We must oppose by every legitimate means any legislation which seeks to enlarge the causes for which divorce is to be granted.

The Bishop stated that the appointment of Sir Hamar Greenwood as secretary for Ireland, and the action of the Vatican afford hope that some settlement of the Irish question would soon be reached.

RAYBESTOS CO. READY TO MOVE

Mr. G. N. Gordon, the chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council, to-day said he had received word from the Canadian Raybestos Company that they were arranging to have their machinery shipped into Peterborough without delay, and Mr. Farrell, the engineer, will have his plans completed for the building which will be put up on the company's land within a couple of days. Repairs are now going on in the Lundy Shovel and Tool plant. New floors will be put in and the building practically re-built.

Mr. Gordon further stated that the vice-president of the company said that they had already closed some contracts for delivery from the Peterborough plant, and the company intimated it was assured of a large output from this plant for Canadian export trade.

INVESTIGATING DISPUTE.

(Canadian Press.)

NIAGARA FALLS, May 26.—Government committee investigating the dispute between the Hydro workers on the Chippewa development scheme, held its first public session here today. Speaking for the Niagara Trades Federation, John A. Flett asked if something could not be done to have the men work under the same conditions as prevailed before May 1st until a settlement was reached. Chairman Watson of the committee, said they might make suggestions, but that nothing could be promised.

MEXICAN REBEL LEADER HAS SURRENDERED—DIAZ IN LINE.

(United Press.)

MEXICO CITY, May 27. (By R. H. Turner. — Rodolfo Herrero has surrendered to General Lazaro Cardenas and to-day was being brought to Mexico City to answer charges of murdering former President Venustiano Carranza, according to telegraphic despatches received by General Alvaro Obregon from General Cardenas. Herrero gave himself up at Coyutla, Vera Cruz.

REMAIN LOYAL.

(Canadian Press.)

VERA CRUZ, May 27. — Rebel forces commanded by Felix Diaz and operating along the coast of the state of Vera Cruz, near Nautla, are combining with other rebels and troops still remaining loyal to the Carranza government, according to the advices received here.

As yet there is no official confirmation of this report. Diaz announced some time ago that he had abandoned his opposition to Carranza government and that he wished to leave the country. So far as is known he has not departed and the reports state he has taken advantage of the fact that he has not been pursued and has reconsidered his resolution to quit Mexico. An escort for Diaz is said to be in process of formation at Misantla.

PRINTERS SUBMIT NEW SCHEDULE

ASK FOR 42 HOURS WEEK AND INCREASES APPROXIMATING 45 PER CENT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., May 27.—Winnipeg newspaper printers have submitted to their employers a new schedule calling for a 42-hour week and an increase of approximately 45 per cent. in wages.

Proofreaders, compositors, and linotype operators are asking for $35.00 a week for day work and $60.00 for night work.

The present salaries are $33.50 per week for day work and $38.50 for night employment. A recent schedule calls for a 46-hour week.

Double time instead of time and half as at present is asked for any overtime.

The new rates are scheduled to come into effect on 1st July.

CONVICTED STRIKE LEADERS CHOSEN

FOUR OUT OF NINE CHOSEN FOR THE PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS IN MANITOBA.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Man., May 27.—F. J. Dixon, M. Law, William Ivens, convicted strike leader, F. G. Tipping, and W. E. James will be the Dominion Labour Party's candidates at the Provincial election.

They were nominated at a meeting of the party last night as a result of a ballot by mail, marked according to the proportional representation system of voting, and the four were chosen from a slate of nine.

Reviews Finding

ACTION OF GENERAL DYER IN IN INDIA CONDEMNED AND UPHELD AT SAME TIME.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 27.—The Government of India, reviewing the findings of the special commission investigating the recent disorders in India, declares that General Dyer, the British Commander in India, exceeded the reasonable requirements of the case and showed a misconception of his duty, resulting in a lamentable and unnecessary loss of life.

This judgment, it is announced, has been communicated to the Commander-in-Chief, with the request that he take appropriate action.

The Catholic Archbishop of Simla has sent letter to the London papers defending General Dyer. He says that hesitation by the authorities would have meant general murder of European men, outraging of women, loss of public buildings and desecration of Christian churches.

Archbishop Maintains that General Dyer saved Europeans and saved India.

MANUFACTURERS UP IN ARMS OVER TAX

SHOE MANUFACTURERS CLAIM THEY CANNOT MAKE BOOTS FOR RETAIL TRADE AT LESS THAN $9.00.

OTTAWA, May 27.—The shoe Manufacturers Association, of which F. S. Scott, M.P., for South Waterloo is President, will wait upon the Minister of Finance in all probability this afternoon to make representations regarding the luxury tax on boots retailed at nine dollars and over. his was decided on this morning at an emergency meeting of the Association.

It is understood the members will ask Sir Henry Drayton to raise the minimum price for tax to at least twelve dollars. Manufacturers claim that boots cannot be manufactured far retail at less than this figure and delegation will attend the conference armed with statistics to show that they are manufacturing as cheaply as possible. Representations on luxury tax continue to flood department of finance and arrangements are being made to receive many delegations including jewellers and electrical men.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES FOR THE DAILY EXAMINER

Owing to the greatly increased cost of newsprint and all other costs going into the production of a newspaper, The Examiner has been forced to increase its subscription rates, and on and after June 1st next, The Daily Examiner will be sold as follows delivered:

Yearly	$6.00
Half-Yearly	$3.00
Quarterly	$1.50
Monthly	50c
By Mail Monthly	60c
Weekly through newsboys	15c
Single Copies	3c

The Examiner is about the last of the Daily Papers to increase its subscription rates. We had hoped that the price of newsprint would come down and permit us to continue the old price, but find that it is absolutely necessary to follow the course of all other newspapers in order to continue our publication.

MEN WANTED

50 LABORERS WANTED FOR WORK ON THE NEW BRIDGE APPLY AT ONCE, OFFICE OF RUSSEL-TOWNSEND CO., AT THE BRIDGE. 2d 124 9758

CANADA'S WAR INDEMNITY

OTTAWA, May 27. — The Canadian war indemnity bill which is to be presented and considered at the forthcoming conference of the allies at Spa, will aggregate $1,871,000,000, made up as follows: War and demobilizatoin, $1,715,000; separation allowances $85,5000,000; Halifax losses $30,000,000; army of occupation, $8,000,000; illegal warfare, $31,500,000.

The Halifax losses were those incidental to the explosion of the munition ship, Mont Blanc in 1917. Included in the item for compensation for illegal warfare are the losses of Canadian merchant and fishing boats torpedoed by the enemy.

Claims for Cruelty.

As indicated yesterday the dominions will share the indemnity of the empire in the proportion their outlays bear to the total expenditure of the empire. The Canadian High Commissioner is asking for more information with respect to the item for war and demobilization, as there is a question whether certain elements it it are reclaimable under the reparation clauses of the treaty. The allied governments concede that the resources of Germany are not adequate to make complete reparation for all losses or damage, but what is insisted upon include all damage done to the civilian population of the allies and their property by aggression by land, sea and air, and generally all damage defined by a schedule of the reparation clause.

In the last category are claims for cruelty, violence and maltreatment, cost of assistance by the allies to the families of prisoners, property damage and damage from levies, fines and similar exactions.

NEW COMPENSATION ACT INCREASES ALLOWANCES

BUT AMENDMENT REDUCES PROPOSED COMPENSATION FROM 75 PER CENT. OF WAGES EARNED—PROVISION FOR CHILDREN.

SOME OF THE CLAUSES

TORONTO, May 27. — The workmen's compensation act received its final reading in the legislature yesterday and now only requires royal assent before becoming law.

An important amendment was made to the original measure which it was claimed would eliminate a great deal of the objections that had been raised against it. The amendment reduced the compensation from 75 per cent. to 66 2-3 per cent. of the wages earned. This would, the minister of labor said, make it somewhat easier for the employer of labor paying into the compensation fund. At present in the province there were 16,000 such employers and the average daily amount paid out in compensation, was $14,000, or less than a dollar a day for each employer.

The maximum amount which may be allowed as necessary expenses of burial of a workman whose death results from injury in respect of which compensation is payable under the workmen's compensation act is increased from $75 to $125.

For Sole Dependents.

The monthly payment to be made to a widow or invalid husband who is the sole dependant entitled to compensation from the workmen's compensation act is increased from $30, but not exceeding 55 per cent. of the average earnings of the workman, to $40, but not exceeding 75 per cent. of the average monthly earnings of the workman.

The monthly payments to be made where the dependents entitled to compensation under the workmen's compensation act are a widow or an invalid husband and one or more children are increased from $20 with an additional $7.50, to be increased upon the death of the widow or invalid husband to $10 for each child under 16, but not exceeding in the whole $60 and not exceeding 55 per cent. of the average earnings of the workman to $40 with an additional $10 for each child under the age of 16 but not exceeding in the whole 66 2-3 per cent. of the average monthly earnings of the workman.

Allowance to Children.

The monthly payments to be made where dependents entitled to compensation under the workman's compensation act are children are increased from $10 to each child under the age of 16 years, but not exceeding in the whole $60, and not exceeding 55 per cent. of the average earnings of the workman, to $15 to each child under the age of 16 years, but not exceeding in the whole 66 2-3 per cent. of the average earnings of the workman.

The limitation of the amount of compensation to be paid under the Workmen's Compensation Act where dependents are persons other than a widow, an invalid husband, or children, to a sum not exceeding $20 per month to the parent or parents and not exceeding in the whole $30 per month, is removed.

Other Relatives Benefited.

Where the workman leaves no widow or the widow subsequently dies, and it seems desirable to continue the existing household, and an aunt, sister or other suitable person acts as foster-mother in keeping up such household and maintaining and taking care of the children entitled to compensation in a manner which the board deems satisfactory, such foster-mother while so doing shall be entitled to receive the same monthly payments of compensation for herself and the children as if she were widow of the deceased, and in such case the children's part of such payments shall be in lieu of the monthly payments which they would otherwise have been entitled to receive:

In addition to any other compensation provided for the widow, or where the workman leaves no widow, the foster mother, shall be entitled to a lump sum of $100.

Limit of Compensation.

The limitation upon the total amount of compensation payable upon the death of a workman under The Workmen's Compensation Act, shall be 66 2-3 per cent. of the average monthly earnings of the workman instead of 55 per cent of such earnings.

The amount of compensation payable to a workman under the Workmen's Compensation Act, where permanent total or temporary total disability results from the injury, is increased from 55 per cent of his average weekly earnings to 66 2-3 per cent. of such earnings.

The amount of compensation payable to a workman under The Workmen's Compensation Act, where permanent partial or temporary partial disability results from the injury, is increased from 55 per cent of the difference between the average weekly of the workman before the accident and the average amount he is earning or is able to earn in some suitable employment or business after the accident, to 66 2-3 per cent. of such difference.

DOCTORS ARE IN CONVENTION

PREVENT DOCTORS FROM BECOMING FOSSILIZED.

TORONTO, May 27.—The advisability of instituting some system for checking up the medical practitioner in order to keep him up to date was suggested by Dr. J. W. Marlow, President of the Ontario Medical Association, in delivering his address last night to the association in Hart House. In doing so he voiced severe criticism of the doctor who fails to do so, and declared that the physician who thinks himself too busy to take a few days off to attend meetings to brush up or thinks his knowledge is sufficient, is on the way to "chronic fossilization."

There seemed to be something wrong in a system which allowed a man to go on from the time of graduation from the medical school until death without further examination to check up his knowledge, said Dr. Marlow. He admitted that experience was the great teacher, but asserted that some were unable to grasp and apply the lessons of experience.

Suggests a Committee.

He thought a system for checking up the practitioner's knowledge and progress, which would be fair and simple, might be evolved. The local or county societies might form a committee of inquiry into the standard of those in their district, he thought, and the results of their examination in any case passed on to the Medical Council, which could have the power of expulsion, suspension, or ordering further courses of study where the practitioner in question was found incompetent.

Need For Hospital Room.

Hospital accommodation in the Province, and particularly in Toronto, was inadequate, asserted Dr. Marlow. The extension of such accommodation would in future have to be faced by the municipality. The day when small groups of small citizens could be looked for to provide such institutions was past. Municipalities should see that the situation is immediately and consistently relieved.

Several Peterborough doctors are in attendance.

FLEMING WANTS A CONCILIATION BOARD.

Conference at T. S. R. Offices Lasted Half an Hour.

TORONTO, May 27. — After a conference lasting for about half an hour at the offices of the Toronto Street Railway yesterday afternoon, General Manager R. J. Fleming decided to apply to-day for a board of conciliation under the Industrial Disputes Act.

After the men had entered Mr. Fleming's office an informal conversation took place between the representatives of the company and the union.

Mr. Fleming after hearing the views of the men made the following statement:

"Anything I have to offer would not be acceptable to the men. I am going to apply for a board of conciliation."

Overture From Men

MACHINISTS WILL ABIDE BY RECOMMENDATIONS OF BOARD OF CONCILIATION IF COMPANY ALSO CONSENTS.

WOULD RETURN TO WORK

The C. G. E. machinists made an important overture toward a possible settlement of their strike, when by an almost unanimous vote this morning they agreed to abide by the finding or recommendations of the Board of Conciliation, the appointment of which they were notified by the Minister of Labour to-day, and to return to work at once pending the Board's report, providing the company will also consent to whatever adjustment the Board advises.

Mayor McIntyre received a telegram early this morning from Senator Robertson, announcing the authorisation of a Board of Conciliation, at the request of the City Council.

The machinists named Mr. Fred Bancroft, of Toronto, as their representative.

Mayor McIntyre, Aldermen Whitehouse and Gordon met in the latter's office, and after deliberating upon the action they should take, telegraphed to Senator Nicholls, informing him of Senator Robertson's order, and also of the machinists' decision to accept the Board's recommendations, on condition that the company did likewise.

The telegram also intimated that the men were willing to resume work at once if the C. G. E. Company would also agree to abide by the Board's decision.

The Mayor also wired to Senator Robertson acquainting him of the men's proposal, and requesting that he urge Senator Nicholls to appoint an arbitrator.

Mayor McIntyre was awaiting a reply from Senator Nicholls this afternoon, and upon the Senator's attitude toward the concession expressed in the men's decision apparently depended the early and amicable adjustment of the dispute between the machinists and the C. G. E. Company.

DISTRICT MEETING OF METHODIST CHURCH IN SESSION THIS MORNING

PROBATIONERS EXAMINED—THE DISTRICT REPORT—ENDORSED RELIEF FUND.

Yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock the ministerial session of the annual district of Peterboro District of the Methodist Church opened in George Street Methodist Church with Rev. A. J. Thomas, chairman of the district in the chair, the following clergy present: Rev. Simon Cruikshank, Rev. F. E. Malott, Rev. H. Manning, Rev. George Ross and Rev J. Chapman of Peterboro; Rev. W. H. Clarke of Cavan, Rev. M. W. Lee of Fraserville, Rev. S. F. Dixon of Lakefield, Rev. J. D. P. Knox of Warsaw Rev. J. E. Beckel of Bethany and Rev. Andrew McLaughlin of Pontypool.

Probationers Examined.

Two probationers for the ministry Harold J. Bell of Wesley and E. Mark Cook of Victoria College were examined and found satisfactory, Harold Bell recommended to go to college and E. Mark Cook to be ordained and stationed.

Two young men Mr. A. Gladstone Finnie of Fraserville and Mr. Roy MacDonald of Lakefield were received on probation for theministry.

Superannuation Relationships.

The following ministers superannuation relationships were recommended Rev. J. A. Jewell, H. M. Manning, Benjamin Greatrix, Simon Cruikshanks and Prosper H. Neville, the latter for one year.

Statistical Report.

The statistical report showed marked progress in every branch of church work: Increase for the district in Church membership, 211; increase for givings to Missions 412; increase in givings to Educational Fund $39; increase in W.M.S. givings $627; amount raised for sussentation $485. increase in Sunday School membership, 330; amount raised by Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues for Missions $1706. Rev. Jas. E. Beckell of Bethany, was elected journal secretary by ballot and Rev. Andrew McLaughlin of Pontypool, financial secretary.

Toast to Rev. A. J. Thomas.

After lunch which was served in the Sunday School room a fitting toast was proposed to Rev. A. J. and Mrs. Thomas to which Mr. Thomas responded feelingly and a vote of appreciation was passed to the ladies for their kindness in supplying the bountiful repast.

Endorsed Relief Fund.

At noon Captain Joe Lawson addressed the meeting on the Serbian Relief Fund which objective in the city is $5,000 and the collection of the fund was heartily endorsed by the assembly.

OILING OF STREETS HAS BEEN BEGUN

The oiling of streets in the west end was begun yesterday by the city's works department. Bark, McDonnel and other streets in that neighborhood were given a first treatment with oil that had been left over from last year. This morning a car recently ordered by City Engineer Parsons was delivered in the city and will be available for the main roads, which will be oiled first.

WILSON SPIKES PEACE TREATY

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 27. — The Republican Peace resolution was today vetoed by President Wilson.

Such a method of making peace with Germany, the President said, would place an ineffaceable stain upon the gallantry and honour of the United States.

Without announcing his intention regarding the Treaty of Versailles, the President declared that the Treaty embodied important things omitted by the resolution, and said that by rejecting the Treaty, the United States had declared in effect that "it wished to draw apart and pursue objects and interests of its own."

COMMUNITY DANCE NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A community dance will be held on Wednesday evening, June 2nd, on Hunter street, between Water street and the bridge, under the auspices of the Machinists' Association. Arrangements are being completed for an evening's pleasure. The music will be provided be a selected band.

THE ARMENIANS WILL NEGOTIATE

TIFLIS GOVERNMENT WILL UNDERTAKE TO PREVENT GEORGIAN TERRITORY BEING USED AS BASE FOR AGGRESSION.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 27.—The Armenians have accepted the invitation from the Russian Bolsheviki to send delegates to Moscow, according to information received by the French Foreign office. A Tiflis despatch says the Georgians have already reached an agreement with Moscow under which the Tiflis government undertakes to prevent Georgian territory being used as a base for attacks against the Bolsheviki. The reported willingness of the Armenians to negotiate is explained by the fact that they are exposed to the attacks by Turkish nationalists on one side and Bolsheviki on the other, and probably have in view an arrangement assuring them tranquility on their Northern boundary.

STILL BOOMING THE PRICE OF SILKS

Canadian Press.

TORONTO, May 27. — The buyer of the largest silk company in Toronto, who is familiar with the conditions in Europe and in the United States, through several months of travel, said there was little hope of the better grades of silk decreasing in price before the spring of 1921.

"Raw silk," he said, "has decreased in price from $18 to $10.50 a pound, acording to reported quotations, but it must be remembered that the price of the manufactured article was never based on a price of $18 a pound but on prices ranging from $12 to $13."

TWO UNIONIST MEMBERS TO BREAK WITH THEIR PARTY

H. D. WRIGHT AND W. A. BUCHANAN, OF THE WESTERN GROUP, TO SUPPORT BUDGET AMENDMENT-- EDWARDS SAYS GRAIN GROWERS ARE PROFITEERS.

PARDEE ANSWERS MEIGHEN

OTTAWA, May 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—The first break in the ranks of the government supporters on the budget came to-night, H. O. Wright, member for Bartleford, and a farmer by occupation, announced that he would have to break with the government and support the opposition amendment. This announcement was met with loud applause from the Liberal opposition, as well as the Farmers, but the former were somewhat dampened when Mr. Wright anuounced that he "did not think there was anything material in the amendment," but the rules of the house precluded the moving of any other.

Buchanan Also Breaks.

Mr. Wright, however, was not the only western Unionist who found that he must break with his party. He had not long concluded his speech when W. A. Buchanan, member for Lethbridge, declared he had come to the conclusion that the promised tariff revision meant only protection, and he would also support the amendment. Again the opposition benches broke into applause. He could not agree with anything which taxed implements of production, thus making the costs of living higher, said Mr. Buchanan. He had been elected as a low tariff man and it was to be consistent that he was taking his present stand.

Dr. Edwards Debates Budget.

Dr. Edwards quoted from several budget speeches made by Hon. Mr. Fielding to show that while the latter was finance minister in the Laurier Cabinet, few of the articles sold by the farmer had been placed on the free list. Subsequent to 1896, Mr. Fielding had confidence in what he called tariff stability, but before that he did not seem to care for it, neither did he want it now when it was in the vital interest of the country that the tarin as well as other things should be made stable.

Edwards Raises Storm.

He declared that acceptance of Mr. Fielding's amendment would mean the defeat of the government and would plunge the country into the turmoil of a general election.

Replying to the speech of Dr. Michael Clark, the member for Frontenac declared that his preaching of free trade had been nothing but a series of quotations from the "earl of this and the duke of that."

A remark of Dr. Edwards that Liberals had not changed their belief that they were right in 1911 led Mr. McMaster, of Brome, to call out, "hear, hear."

It was, Dr. Edwards continued, a kind of delusion insanity.

Mr. McMaster protested against the remark, and appealed on a point of order.

The deputy speaker, who was presiding, said he had not heard the end of the sentence used by Dr. Edwards. But, of course, if Dr. Edwards intended to apply to word insanity to Mr. McMaster, the point of order was well taken.

Mr. Butts, (Cape Breton South)—"Do you mean to say that the insanity was well taken"

The deputy speaker—"order, order."

Dr. Edward continued that he had no intention of reflecting on the Duke of Devonshire.

Free Trade and Migration.

If free trade had depopulated rural England, why was the member for Marquette advocating it for Canada? He found it hard to reconcile the migration from England under free trade with Mr. Crerar's statement that it was the tariff which was driving Canadian farmers off the land.

Dr. Edwards drew attention to what he regarded as the utter lack of consideration shown for the farmers by the opposition. He stated that Canada was at present exporting to some forty countries. If the amendment should carry, every country in the world would be given the opportunity to send its surplus foodstuffs into Canada free of duty.

Attacks Grain Growers' Co.

Dr. Edwards then turned his attention to the Grain Growers' Company, which he characterized as the most colossal profiteering concern in Canada. The president of this organization was Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Farmers' party in the house. As far as

LOCAL MARKETS

The fresh fruit and vegetables have once again made their appearance on the local market.

A universal complaint is registered by the fruit men over the unstability of the fruit markets due to strikes and transportation tie-ups in Cuba and throughout the United States.

Shipments are undependable, they state, and they carry great risks in the perishable goods becoming spoiled.

Imported tomatoes are now selling at 60c a lb, more than they were a month ago. Cucumbers 10 to 25c; Cuban pineapples, 35c to 50c; Louisiana strawberries, 50c; cocoanuts, 15c to 20c; new cabbage, 2 lbs or 25c; lettuce, 5c and 10c; green onions, 5c and 10c; rhubarb, 10c; imported carrots, 20c bunch.

Inland Revenue Dpt. Interprets New Tax

SERIES OF QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS PROVIDED AS EXAMPLES —ONE PER CENT. AT CUSTOMS HOUSE ON ALL IMPORTED GOODS.

Question—Is 15 per cent. tax on automobiles in addition to the present 10 per cent., or instead of it?

Answer—The 15 per cent. tax on automobiles supersedes former 10 per cent. tax.

Question—Referring to luxury tax of 20 per cent. on jewellery to be paid by consumer to retailer, does this affect the existing war excise tax of 10 per cent. on certain classes of jewellery. This tax being paid by the retailer to manufacturer, and by the manufacturer being paid to Government, is this war excise tax of 10 per cent. abrogated?

Answer—Tax of 20 per cent. on jewellery supersedes 10 per cent. tax formerly payable.

Question—What tax is payable on individual sales by manufacturers or wholesalers where sales price is fraction of $1.00, as on small sales to plumbers?

Answer—Customs practice prevails.

Question—If manufacturer pays 1 per cent. excise tax on materials imported are used in producing articles subsequently exported, will drawback be paid in respect of 1 per cent. tax as well as in respect of customs duties?

Answer—Sales tax not applicable to goods exported?

Question—Should not clause D of Section 7 of new tariff include prepared cereals or breakfast foods for human consumption manufactured from wheat or corn?

Answer—Prepared cereal foods are subject to sales tax.

Question—We are manufacturers and sell to dealers and jobbers only. Are we permitted to absorb the 1 per cent. tax or pay same ourselves to the Government?

Answer—Tax must not be included in manufacturers' costs on which profit is calculated. Invoice must show separately amount of tax payable and not absorbed by manufacturer or wholesaler?

Question—Advise whether new excise tax of 15 per cent. becomes effective on 19th May. Also does the sale tax of 1 per cent. apply to all styles of automobiles, automobile trucks and automobile parts?

Answer—Ten per cent. former tax repealed. Sales tax of 1 per cent. applies to all sales of automobile parts.

Oatmeal Is Exempt.

Question—Regarding goods that are 1 per cent. tax exempt, do vegetables, fruits, mean just fresh, or does that include canned vegetables and bottled and canned fruits and jam? Is cornmeal, oatmeal, just bulk, or are packages exempt as well? Do syrups take in soda fountain syrups and coco-cola?

Answer—Cornmeal or oatmeal in bulk or packages exempt from sales tax. Canned vegetables, canned fruits, jams, coco-cola, and similar goods subject to sales tax.

Question—Advise if the wholesalers should collect 1 per cent. or 2 per cent. from retailer on all taxable sales. If we only collect 1 per cent. and pay that to the Government and pay 1 per cent. to manufacturer on all goods purchased by us, we will lose 1 per cent. There seems to be a misunderstanding on this point. Can you not remove it? Is tax to be levied once or twice on same goods in passing from manufacturer to wholesaler and thence to retailers?

Answer—Sales tax applicable to both manufacturer and wholesaler unless absorbed. Tax must be shown separately on invoice from manufacturer to wholesaler and on invoice from wholesaler to retailer.

Question—Is it compulsory for jobbers to add at bottom of each invoice 1 per cent. to cover sales tax? If not compulsory, is it permissible?

Answer—Resolutions provide tax must not be included in cost upon which profit is calculated. Tax must be shown separately on invoice when not included in purchase price.

Question—Does the 1 per cent. tax apply to supplies and other articles which we purchase as jobbers for re-sale, or simply to own line of manufacturers?

Answer—Supplies purchased by your company as jobbers for re-sale subject to sales tax.

Question—Understand that canned goods and jams being essential food products are not subject to 1 per cent. sales tax.

Answer—Canned goods and jams subject to sales tax.

Question—We are fur-skin dressers and dyers. Do we charge a sale tax of 1 per cent.?

Answer—Sales tax of 1 per cent. applicable in your case.

Question—Advise date new tax goes into effect and what method should be adopted for collection. Also state whether manufacturers collect 10 per cent. before delivering to the retailer.

Answer—Luxury and excise tax in force from 19th May. Luxury tax paid by purchaser to vendor at time of sale for consumption or use. Sales tax collected from manufacturer or wholesaler, and unless absorbed must be charged separately on invoice. Sales tax must not be included in cost upon which profit is calculated.

Question—We have orders booked in March at firm prices for delivery in June. Goods will not be shipped till June. Are these subject to the 1 per cent. tax?

Answer—Goods shipped after 18th May liable to sales tax.

Question—On re-sales of confectionery purchased from manufacturers on which they charge us to-day 10 per cent. luxury tax, do we charge another 10 per cent., or only 1 per cent. sales tax? Also, are all goods transferred to our branch house, invoiced at cost, exempt from sales tax, or only such as are named in your list?

Manufacturers Pay.

Answer—Luxury tax and sales tax on confectionery payable by manufacturer or at customs when imported. One per cent. sales tax charged on invoice by wholesaler unless absorbed. Further information requested concerning transfer of goods to branch before decision can be rendered.

Question—Are sales of plated ware to hospitals, steamship and railway companies, restaurants, and institutions, etc., to whom we sell at wholesale prices because they buy in wholesale quantities subject to the 1 per cent. tax the same as the other wholesale orders, or does the 10 per cent. tax apply? If so, do both apply?

Answer—Both luxury and sales tax are payable.

Various—Glucose and split peas not taxable. Razors and shaving brushes are exempt.

Question—Are retail confectioners who manufacture the goods they sell in part or whole subject to the same excise tax as wholesale candy manufacturers?

Answer—Yes.

Question—Are solid chocolate and chocolate products classified as confectionery?

Answer—Chocolate, no. Chocolate products, yes.

Question—Is excise tax to be added to face of each invoice, or are excise stamps to be used on all packets of candy sold in bulk or by the dozen or piece.

Answer—Tax to be shown as separate item on invoice. Stamps not to be used.

Question—Will jobbers charge excise tax on invoices on which excise tax has already been paid by manufacturer.

Answer—Yes.

Question—Is 10 per cent. excise tax payable on importations of nuts, preserved fruits, shredded cocoanut, glucose, confectionery, dipping chocolate or any part manufactured product which is the raw material for another manufacturer?

Answer—Preserved fruits, yes. Other articles, no.

Question—Will second manufacturer have to pay excise tax on his finished product? If so, will that not be double tax?

Answer—Yes, as respects preserved fruits.

Question—Biscuits are not mentioned in report. Are they subject to excise tax?

Answer—Yes, if they are sugar-coated.

THE OTTAWA SITUATION.

The opinion of the newspaper correspondents at Ottawa that many of the members of the Union government, while clamouring for bigger indemnities and angry over some features of the Franchise Act are prepared to swallow anything rather than to face a general election seems to be an accurate diagnosis of the situation. Their actions are guided by the painful thought that if they upset the government and cause an election very few of them will come back to the House, while they realize that an indemnity of $2,500, with the chance always of working a second session into the same year is much more useful than no indemnity at all, which is precisely what most of them would have in the event of an appeal to the country. They may agitate for larger allowances and threaten to kick over the traces because the franchise bill does not suit them but when the time comes to vote they will be found lining up with the government as usual. It is a merry little game they are playing in Ottawa and the private members may complain as much as they like and do all the agitating they have a mind to, but it is a safe prediction that they will take no chances on defeating the government. There is only one policy for most of them—clinging to office as long as possible, and anything that stands in the way of that policy has little chance of success.

BATHING FACILITIES.

The warm weather is an indication that the bathing season is at hand and should be a warning to the City Council to consider the question of providing proper facilities for indulging in this healthful exercise which is becoming more and more popular each year. Last year a start was made by the erection of a bathing house at the foot of Lake street and the beach—if this term can properly be used in describing the place—was extensively patronized by the people of the south part of the city, although the conditions were far from perfect. A number of improvements should be made in connection with the civic swimming place, and the members of the Council would do well to visit the spot and acquaint themselves with the necessity of improving the beach. At the same time the desirability of helping to make the Inverlea swimming place more comfortable for the hundreds of people who bathe there during the summer months might be considered by the Council. Two years ago the city authorities removed a number of stumps from this beach, improving the conditions considerably, but the bed of the river is still rough and uneven, and those who are learning to swim run the risk of painful injuries. If anything is to be done in connection with bathing facilities this summer now is the time for action.

THE ATHLETIC COMMISSION.

The bill of the Drury government to appoint an athletic commission to regulate boxing in the province is a piece of legislation that will meet with hearty approval in many quarters, albeit some narrow-minded individuals may object to it as encouraging a a sport which they regard as "brutal" and "degrading." Boxing, under proper conditions, is neither brutal nor degrading and it is to provide these conditions and to protect the public from "fake" contests that the proposed athletic commission has been organized. Under the bill as drafted a license must be secured from the commission for every professional boxing or wrestling match—a fine of from $20 to $1,000 being the penalty for holding a contest without the sanction of the commission. "We are trying to guarantee that when a man is advertised for a boxing bout that he shall show up and the public wil lnot be fleeced," is the way in which the Hon. Walter Rollo describes the object of the bill, and the many people who are interested in the manly art of self defence will readily agree that control of this kind is absolutely necessary if boxing and wrestling are to be put on an honest clean, footing. There is not a town in Ontario where the people have not been the victims of dishonest promoters who have gulled the public with fraudulent "champions," third rate pugilists masquerading under fictitious names and pretending to fight a bona fide contest. In most of these cases the only real fighting takes place in the dressing room when the spoils are divided.

The bill now before the Legislature should go a long way towards stopping these evil smelling fake contests and ensure for those who see the good points in boxing an opportunity to enjoy the sport under the proper conditions.

STRICKEN SERBIA.

Canada came through the war so comparatively lightly and is recovering from the effects of the world conflict so quickly that it is difficult to realize that in many quarters of the globe people are suffering more terribly at the present time than during the war years. Serbia is one of the stricken countries in which the conditions are of the worst—so bad that the people of Canada can hardly picture the distress that exists. Imagine a nation that has half a million of fatherless children suffering from malnutrition and with thirty-five per cent. of its population the victims of tuberculosis. Sir William Goode, British Director of Relief in Europe, is the authority for that description of Serbai and his report was made after a personal investigation of the conditions.

Canada, which has given lavishly to all worthy causes during the war and since is coming to the rescue of the Serbians, pledging $500,000 for relief work. In all parts of the Dominion the campaign is under way and Peterborough, which has never failed to raise its quota is asked for $5000 in the next three weeks. There is no question of the merit of the cause; there is no doubt as to the need of assistance for the Serbians. The money is required immediately and will be expended judiciously and economically in order that the maximum help may be provided. So that it is up to the people of Peterborough. There are subscription lists at the Examiner office for those who wish to subscribe or donations may be left at any of the city banks. All subscriptions will be acknowledged in the Examiner.

THAT SESSIONAL INDEMNITY.

Although there has been some newspaper support for the proposal to raise the sessional indemnity for members of the Dominion House of Commons from twenty-five hundred to four thousand dollars, there has been so much adverse comment that the agitation seems to have died down and there is now little likelihood of the increase being put through at the present session. It is well that this is thus. Economy has been shown in the way of the curtailment of public buildings and in needed railway extension and the country naturally expects the members to do unto themslves as they would to public service. There is no doubt that the cost of living has advanced slightly since the days prior to the war, and if the cost of living ever formed the basis of the indemnity paid to members, those who are working for an increase would have a good argument. However, the matter is not altogether one of theory. In deciding what expenditures should be made for legislative services, the fact should be taken into consideration that most of the members, the very large majority, do not need the extra money. They come from the white-collared class of men who have made themselves commercially solid before entering politics. As to those who need the money, the members who depend on wages for their support, it is doubtful if they lose much or anything by their presence at Ottawa. The present indemnity probably covers their expenses just as their earnings would do, if they remained at home. Unless the business of being a member of Parliament is regarded as a money making proposition, there is no reason for an increase at present. Members enter parliament voluntarily and should be pleased to serve the country at cost. If the present indemnity covers the cost, and no direct evidence has been advanced that it does not, an increase is not at present warranted. While considering the whole question it might be pertinent to point out that there is ground for suspicion that the members do not devote all the time they might to their parliamentary duties. It is not expected that members should occupy their seats at all times, but recent divisions recorded in the House on matters of more or less importance, such as argumentative clause, indicate that little more than half the members are attending the important debates of the House.—Turner's Weekly.

SKILLED TRAINERS WITH THE CIRCUS

HAGENBECK-WALLACE SHOW HERE ON JUNE 8TH.

Billboards and store windows are now heralding the glad tiding of the coming of the majestic Hageneck-Wallace Circus on Tuesday, June 8. Advance Car No 1 has already been here and according to the men in charge, the exhibition this year will mark an epoch in trained animal feats and equestrian novelties.

The trained animal program has received much attention this season, as it is the prominent portion of the exhibition. Skilled trainers devoted the winter months to the teaching of new feats to the animals at winter headquarters in West Baden, Ind., and have perfected an astonishing program, which is promised to introduce feats never accomplished before.

In the three big rings features of European fame and headliner acts of America are billed. Leading clowns have been contracted and much overtime was consumed in preparing new pantomimic stunts assured to bring laughter from all. A jazz band composed of these mimics is only one of their many features.

A menagerie containing practically a specimen of every living animal today is being carried. It is said to be attracting wide-spread attention, being beneficial from an educational viewpoint, as well as interesting. The doors are opened one hour before every performance so that spectators may enjoy a thorough visit through this menagerie.

For the convenience of patrons a downtown ticket office will be open during the visit of the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus at Hooper's, 414 George street.

HASTINGS NEWS OF INTEREST

HASTINGS, May 26.— An interesting baseball game was played here on Friday evening between the locals and a team from Campbellford The score at the close of the game was in favor of the home team.

Empire Day was duly observed as a public holiday and many of our citizens spent the day out of town. Quite a number took advantage of the trip to Pengelley Cemetery to witness the unveiling of the monument recently erected in memory of the late Joseph Scriven. A large crowd is reported and a very impressive ceremony.

Shrubs Arrive

The shrubs ordered by the local Horticultural Society have arrived and have been distributed and doubtless the result in the beautifying of the town will be observed in the near future.

Mr. Reg. Runnels late of the Union Bank staff, Guelph, is spending a few days at his home here. Reg. has been transferred to the management of the bank at Orton, Ont.

Mr and Mrs. W. Barrigan, of Peterboro, spent Monday with Hastings friends.

TRIP THROUGH THE DE LAVAL

"See Peterboro's Products Produced" is the slogan of the boys' observation tours through the different factories in the city, another of which was held yesterday afternoon to the plant of the DeLaval Company. Over eight-five boys were on hand to take advantage of the opportunity presented. Efficient guides are able to explain many features which even those who are employed in one department are not altogether familiar with. The boys evince such keen appreciation of the educational value of these tours that it sends each forth a publicity agent in a small way.

Entering the factory at the north gate the group was divided into parties and started through the machine shop. Wending their way along the centre passage they were able to grasp the picture of a sea of whirling belts and machinery. All crowded around to watch an employee weld small particles on what looked to be part of a separator. Then in single file they were taken through the metal polishing branch and in to the little room wherein the electro-plating is done. The process was rather predigested for the boyish minds by being explained in relationship to the plating of a pair of skates.

In the silo department, where mechanical perfection is at its best, the machinery which takes lumber from the piles in the yard and unaided by human hands turns it out ready to be erected a silo, was made the subject of discussion. In the rear of this department piles of lumber used as stock for the silo department showed how the wood is dipped in a solution to preserve it from the elements.

Milking Machines

A milking machine came in for its share of questions in the main warehouse. Though obviously of too technical a nature to permit of much discussion as to the makeup the guide was able to point out the advantage of the machine over the hand milking of yesterday.

Then came the separator department with once again the belts and busy machinery, punch press, lathes, etc. The assembled separator was shown in the testing room where it is run to assure of it being in first class order before being placed upon the market. Then came the big event to the boy. A kind-hearted employee in the dipping room by the use of the dipping tank transformed a copper into a silvery piece resembling a quarter and instantly he was beseiged with others to be put through a similar process. It was, with very evident reluctance that the young tourists were induced to leave here even after the shop closing time.

These tours are designed not alone for the interesting features they present but also for their educational value. Some of the boys present were of a too tender age to grasp even the non-technical explanations given by the guides. On this account therefore those in charge have decided that future tours shall be only for boys of 12 years and over in order that the educational value be not lost. Next week's trip promises to be the best yet. Announcements will be made later.

$2,100 AND COSTS TO MRS. FRED. H. HICKEY

TORONTO, May 26. — Mrs. Estella Beatrice Hickey, who brought action in the Assizes for $5000 damages for the death of her husband, Fred H. Hickey, when the sidecar in which he was riding was struck by an auto at Wright avenue and Indian Road, last November, accepted $2100 with $500 for costs, in full settlement of her claim. The action was brought against Mrs. Ethel McLean, owner, Edgar Rea, who was driving the car at the time of the collision, and D Secord, in whose name the auto was registered at the time. The action against Secord was dismissed. Mr. Justice Rose postponed the apportionment of the money between Mrs. Hickey and her five little girls, until the official guardian can be consulted.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickey were former residents of Peterboro.

JUNIOR'S FIRST ACCIDENT

CHAPTER CXXXII

"I wasn't brave, not a bit" I declared as Everett held me in his arms. "I couldn't help saying what I did but I am so glad."

"Glad about what?"

"That I said it, because it" — I hesitated and buried my face on his breast. I had been about to say, "because it pleased you."

"It did please me, dear. Very much It showed me I had not been mistaken in my idea of you—what you would do. I did not care what that woman might say; Leola has been dead many years, poor girl, and for years you have been my wife. But I do care a great deal to know that I have a brave, right-minded wife." He kissed me again before he let me go. "Curiosity, if nothing else would have led many woman to keep quiet until they knew what she had to say. I am very proud of the way you showed your faith and trust in me."

If only, instead of all that praise of my action, he had whispered words of love; had said he loved me, instead of saying he "was proud of me," I should have been so happy that the incident would have passed from my mind. But he had not, and next day when all stress of emotion had passed I reverted again and again in my mind to what Mrs. Currie had hinted and wondered what could have been in that letter Leola had written her husband that had made her think it would change Everett's attitude toward me.

Then I became indignant.

What right had Miss Lane to carry tales? I never stopped to think that had I been more discreet, Miss Lane would have had no tales to carry. Several times she had heard me crying, and I am sure had surmised I was unhappy She was with us a long time before Leola's picture had ben taken down, and may have espied me looking at it, the hatred I felt, the jealousy I could not hide, showing in my face.

Junior was just learning to walk and that morning had his firht serious fall, so putting Mrs. Currie, that letter and Miss Lane out of my thoughts.

He had toddled out of the nursery when Miss Pierce had stepped into the next room, and had fallen down stairs. He was not hurt, but was badly frightened, although not as much as I was. "While I was brooding, my baby might have bten killed." was the thought in my mind—exaggerated, of course. But it seemed again that nothing mattered but him. I would forget that woman who had died so long before I met Everett. I would be happy. It was my right.

I had sent for the doctor immediately, then telephoned Everett They arrived almost simultaneously, Everett white as a ghost, the doctor calm and unruff.ed.

"Fell down-stairs did he? Well, my litle man, you are beginning to get bumps early, "the doctor said as he took Junior an his knee. He looked him all over, and decided he had not injured himself at all, altho his little face was still tear-stained from crying.

"You are sure, Doctor?" Everett asked, his voice unsteady.

"Of course I am The boy's as right as a trivet.

"Thank God!" I heard Everett mutter, then; "I shall send a man at once to put a gate at the head of the stairs."

"Won't need it right away. The little rascal will remember his tumble and keep away from the stairs for a time.

"I shall feel safer to have it done.

After they left I suddenly realized I had not seen Miss Pierce since she had come running down stairs after Junior. Now I called, and she came to me, her eyes swollen, looking pale and most unhappy.

"Oh, Mrs. Graham, I feel so to blame; He isn't, hurt is he? I didn't dare come down while the doctor was there. I was so afraid he would find something wrong. I don't see how he ever had time to get as far as the stairs, "and taking Junior on her arms she hugged him close, her tears falling on his face."

"Oo's cy," he lisped, his tiny fingers wiping her eyes.

So I left them, and went back to my room resolving never to give way to my unhappy feelings again. I had my home, my husband whom I loved—even tho he did not love me as I longed for him to—and my precious baby. It was wicked for me to repine.

As I have said, it is so easy to make—and break—good resolutions.

(To be continued.)

DEATH OF FORMER PETERBORO MAN

(From the Cowichan Leader, Duncan, Vancouver Island, B.C.)—

We regret to record that Mr. Isaac Newton Van Norman, one of the most respected residents of Duncan and well known throughout the district, passed away in his sleep at Duncan hospital at 6 a.m. on Monday. His death was due to heart failure and followed an operation on the preceding Thursday for acute appendicitis.

He was born 58 years ago at Campbellford, Ontario, and educated at Hastings. He then moved with his parents to Peterborough, where he was first married. His wife died in 1892, leaving an infant son. Mr. Van Norman subsequently moved to Montreal. He was for some eighteen years foreman Bridgeman on the Grand Trunk railway. He married again and, thirteen years ago, came to Duncan.

During his residence here he bought from the late Rev. David Holmes, property on Buena Vista Heights, which he subdivided. He personally constructed the road now known as Cairnsmore street. He took a keen interest in civic affairs and, while he held no office, his honesty of purpose, keen insight and wide sympathy always commanded great respect. He worked at the building, lumbering and engineering trades and, when taken ill last Wednesday ,was engineer at the Genoa Bay mill.

He leaves a widow and four children, Charles, Olive, Bessie and William; a sister, Mrs. Kindred, Belleville, Ont., and three brothers, Thomas and Frederick of Duncan; and Jerry, of Peterborough.

PLENTY OF SUNSHINE WORKING WONDERS

The West is Now Optimistic as Regards the Crop Outlook.

CALGARY, Alberta, May 26.—Warm, drying winds and unobstructed sunshine have worked a quick change in Alberta's seeding conditions and so favorable have these become within the short space of a week that it is now reliably reported that the acreage under crop this year will be very little less , if any, than last year. Night and day and even Sundays the farmers , are working strenuously to make up for lost time and on top of this seeding rush is the encouraging fact that germination is more rapid than usual this year, so much so that on the Nelson Farm, at Dalemead, for instance, Marquis seed put in the ground sprouted up two inches above the soil within seven days after planting. This means that the crop will have caught up by the middle of June all that it has lost by the late seeding. To the eastern mind this may not mean much, but to Albertans it actually means millions of dollars in hard, cold cash

To save tires, especially if they are wet, jack up the car so as to relieve weight on the tires and permit them to dry readily.

Theft of an auto can be prevented by removing indispensable parts of the ignition mechanism, such as ignition fuse, rotor on distributor heads, or interchange wires leading to spark plugs.

New piston rings should be installed every eighteen months.

When the spark plug is removed from the engine for any cause it is well to put a cork in the spark plug hole to exclude dirt and grit until the time comes to restore the plug to its place.

POOR MOTHERS WILL RECEIVE STATE AID UNDER THIS BILL

LEGISLATURE GIVES FINAL READING TO FAR-REACHING MEASURE.

TORONTO, May 27.— With the third reading in the legislature of the bill for the payment of allowances to dependent mothers, the Labor group in the house feel they have been responsible for a very advanced piece of legislation.

The folloing are among the more important provisions of the bill, which now only awaits royal assent before becoming law:

"Subject to the provisions of this act and the regulations a monthly allowance may be paid towards the support of the dependent children of a mother who:

"(a) Is a widow or the wife of an inmate of a hospital for the insane in Ontario, or of a man who is permanently disabled and incapable of contributing to the support of his family;

"(b) Was resident in Canada at the time of the death or total disability of the father of the children on whose behalf the allowance is to be made, and for the period of three years immediately prior to the application for an allowance;

"(c) Is resident in Ontario at the time of the application for an allowance and for a period of two years immediately prior thereto;

"(d) Continues to reside in Ontario with her dependent children while in receipt of an allowance;

"(e) Was a British subject by birth or is the widow or wife of a British subject;

"(f) Is a fit and proper person to have the care and custody of her children;

"(g) Has resident with her two or more of her own children under 14 years of age, and has not adequate means to care properly for them without the assistance of an allowance under this act.

"For the purpose of this act there shall be established a commission composed of five persons, two of whom shall be women, appointed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council, and the commission shall be a body corporate under the name of the 'mother allowance commission.'

"The lieutenant-governor-in-council shall annually appoint one of the members of the commission to be chairman and another to be vice-chairman of the commission.

"In case of the absence of the chairman or of a vacancy in the office, the vice-chairman shall have and perform all the powers and duties of the chairman under this act and the regulations."

SHOE FACTORIES 'GO SLOW.'

Big Eastern Concerns, Running on Part Time or Shutting Down.

BOSTON, — Shoe workers and manufacturers in important Massachusetts centres, including Brockton, Haverhill, Lynn, Marlboro, together with those of New Hampshire and Maine, are looking to the immediate future with misgivings. No one seems to know what is in store for the shoe manufacturing trade in general. All agree that the situation is decidedly muddled.

The big factories at Brockton, makes the higher grade shoes almost entirely, are running on short time schedules, almost without exception. The cutting room of the W. L. Douglas plant employing 4,000 hands will close June 1 for "at least three weeks, it is stated.

Similar conditions exist in Haverhill, Lynn and the other centres.

That the season has been an outright failure for shoe manufacturers and retailers alike is generally admitted. The sudden refusal of the public to continue to pay high prices caused a "back kick" that has been felt all along the line. Retailers have canceled orders on every hand, and it is stated that 1,000,000 worth of returned shoes have been received in Haverhill alone in the last two weeks

"The people are demanding lower prices and there is little doubt that the demand has got to be met," said a leading manufacturer. "The new goods are to be made to a price and it is probable the level will be lower."

Every flavor in liquid form in glass

Fruits are crushed

Jiffy-Jell flavors are made by crushing the ripe fruit. Then the juice is condensed to an essence, and sealed in glass.

A wealth of the real fruit flavor comes in each dessert. For instance, we crush half a pineapple to flavor one Jiffy-Jell dessert.

An exquisite fruit flavor

The half-pineapple would cost you about as much as the whole dessert. But we crush the fruit in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship. And we bring you a rich pineapple dainty at a trifling cost.

So with loganberries. We crush many berries to make the flavor for Jiffy-Jell dessert. And so with all the fruits we use.

Fruits cost little

Lime-fruit

This flavor makes a tart green salad jell.

You get the real fruit in Jiffy-Jell at trifling cost. And fruit is a daily essential. In jam or marmalade equal fruit would cost you several times as much. Jiffy-Jell comes ready-sweetened. And with sugar, not with saccharine. It comes acidulated with lemon or grape acid. So you get two fruits, and much of both, in a Jiffy-Jell dessert.

Simply add boiling water, then the flavor from the vial, and let cool. One package of Jiffy-Jell serves six people in mold form, or twelve if you whip the jell. A serving costs less than an apple.

Try this new type

Jiffy-Jell will change your whole idea of these quick fruity dainties. Once try it and you will serve it always.

Get it today from your grocer. Get the three or four flavors you like best. Include Loganberry and Pineapple.

It will show you how to add delights to countless dinners at little cost.

Tart salads too

Lime-fruit flavor makes a tart green salad jell. Serve with your salads or mix the salad in and make a salad loaf. Or mix in meat scraps and make a zestful meat loaf—meat in aspic.

Mint flavor makes a green mint jell—far better than mint sauce to serve with meats. It also makes an appetizing side dish.

Try several flavors, they will be a revelation.

Mint

For mint jell

A package serves six

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates ,thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble, while it is only trouble.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

ACROBATS DO MANY DARING STUNTS WITH SPARKS CIRCUS.

Acrobatic stunts that require the greatest skill are one of the features of the Sparks Three-Ring Circus, which will arrive in Peterborough on Tuesday, June 1st for a one day's engagement on the Exhibition grounds.

So thoroughly trained are the acrobats that some display of nimbleness is going on all the time the big show is in action. Other troupes of performers, working with wild animals and with horses have made the stunts stand out as one of the distinctive attractions.

The big show will start with the two miles long street parade through the downtown streets. In this parade the cages of wild animals will all be open to view and the great collection of horses, camels, elephants and other trained beasts will be paraded before the crowds.

The first performance will start at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The doors will be opened at 1 o'clock and the crowds permitted to view the menagerie. The performance lasts two and a half hours and is filled with thrills from beginning to end.

The big delegation of clowns has devised many new stunts that appeal distinctively to the children. The circus has more clowns than ever before in its history, and some of them are among the highest paid artists in America.

The evening performance of the circus starts at 8 o'clock, with the doors open an hour preceding to view the menagerie.

ANAEMIA ROBS ITS VICTIMS BY STEALTH

Conditions of Thin Blood that Could be Corrected Easily are Stealing the Health and the Energy of Many Men and Women, and Boys and Girls.

Anaemia, which literally means bloodlessness is one of the most prevalent troubles of the present day. If neglected it is apt to develop into pernicious anaemia, one of the most hopeless diseases. While anaemia attacks men and boys, it is more prevalent among young girls and women and for this reason every woman, particularly every mother, should know how to recognize the signs of this trouble which makes its aproach so gradually and so stealthily that it is often far advanecd before the nature of the trouble is noticed. One general symptom of anaemia is pallor. The cheeks gradually lose their color, and the lips become pale or white. With this loss of color there comes a tendency to fatigue, a palpitation of the heart, and breathlessness after slight exertion, with occasional headaches. In the more severe cases fainting spells frequently occur.

In ordinary anaemic conditions, including the anaemia that affects young girls in their 'teens, Dr. Williams Pink Pills are all the medicine required. Fresh air, sunlight and nourishing food will do the rest. Any woman or girl taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can tell by the growing redness of her lips that the pills are making her blood rich and red.

Miss Mabel Feener, Liverpool N. S., says: Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I felt like a complete wreck of my former self. My blood was thin and watery; I suffered from faint and dizzy spells, and had headaches almost every day. I was taking doctors' medicine, but it was not helping me, and at this time I was learning my trade as a tailoress and was forced through my illness to give up work. After reading an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills one day, I decided to give the pills a trial. After taking two boxes I felt that I was being benefitted, and continued their use until I was fully restored to health. The pills certainly did wonders for me, and I cannot recommend them too highly."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood as rheumatism, neuralga, after effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug, and cannot injure the most delicate system. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WAGE BOARD WILL FIX MINIMUM FOR WOMEN AND GIRLS

ADVANCED LABOUR LEGISLATION PASSES COMMITTEE STAGE OF HOUSE.

TORONTO, May 27.—When the Legislature was in committee on the bill to provide for a minimum wage board with power to regulate in certain cases the minimum wages for women and girls, G. G. Halcrow thought the board would be paid a salary, but the minister of labor thought the proposed per diem allowance would be the better method.

The house agreed with him.

Mr. Rollo also explained that the first duty of the board was to make an investigation into the conventions under which women and girls worked. In the matter of increasing wages the board would not act until requested.

H. H. Dewart, Liberal leader, moved an amendment that the act should not apply to farm laborers or domestic servants and succeeded in having the house adopt the amendment.

Main Provisions of the Act.

Some of the main provisions of the bill, which now awaits its final reading, are as follows:

"For the purposes of this act there shall be established a board composed of five persons, two of whom shall be women, appointed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council, and the board shall be a body corporate under the name of 'The minimum wage board.'

"The lieutenant-governor-in-council shall name one member of the board as chairman, and the chairman of the board shall hold office during pleasure.

"Of the remaining members of the board, two shall be appointed in the first instance for one year and two for two years, and every member subsequently appointed shall be appointed for a term of five years.

"The members of the board shall serve without remuneration but the lieutenant-governor-in-council may fix a per diem allowance to be payable to the members on their attendance at the meetings of the board and in transacting the business of the board, and every member of the board shall be entitled to his reasonable necessary travelling and living expenses as certified by the chairman of the board.

"The expenses of the board in carrying out the provisions of the act, including witness' fees, travelling expenses and other charges incurred in any proceedings of the board or of wage conferences shall be payable out of such moneys as may be appropriated for that purpose.

May Hold Inquiries.

"The board shall have authority to conduct such investigations as it may deem necessary for the purpose of ascertaining the conditions prevailing in any cases of employment and the scale of wages payable therefor, and for this purpose shall possess all powers that may be conferred upon a commissioner under the public enquiries act.

"After due enquiry the board may establish a minimum wage for employes in any trade, occupation or calling in Ontario, but a wage lower than the minimum wage may also be established by the board for employes classified as handicapped, or part-time employes, or as apprentices.

"Where it is made to appear to the board that the scale of wages or the method of determining the same, payable to any class of employes, is inadequate or unfair the board may upon request direct a conference between representatives of employers and employes in the class of employment in question for the purpose of reaching an agreement and recommanding to the board minimum wages to be payable in that class of employment.

Both Sides Represented

"The board may appoint in writing the representatives as above, or may provide for the selection of such representatives by the employers and employes respectively, but every conference shall consist of an equal number of representatives of employers and employes, respectively.

"The board shall appoint a disinterested person to be chairman of the conference.

"The chairman shall not vote in the conference, but may advise and direct the representatives of the conference as to their procedure, and shall to the best of his ability assist the conference in arriving at a just conclusion.

"The conference shall report its conclusions to the board in writing, signed by the chairman, but a minority of the members of the conference may make a separate report.

"Every employer who contravenes an order of the board is liable to a heavy fine."

MOTHERS NEED NOT WORRY

Because Children are Frail, Ailing and Sickly

Vinol Will Build Them Up and Make Them Strong, Robust and Rosy

There is nothing that will build up frail, sickly, ailing children like VINOL.

Mrs. L. Andrews, Bainbridge, N. Y., says: "My little daughter was run-down, tired all the time, pale, thin, nervous, and had headaches so we had to take her out of school. VINOL has built her up, she has a good appetite, no more headaches, her color is good and she has returned to school."

VINOL owes its success in such cases to the tissue-building extractives of fresh cods' liver, without oil, aided by the blood and strength-creating elements of tonic iron, beef peptones and hypophosphites which it contains.

Thus in a natural manner it creates a healthy appetite, aids digestion, makes rich, red blood, and the result is a good, healthy color, strength and vitality.

Your druggists guarantee it.

VIMY TROOP BOY SCOUTS ENJOY TRIP

The boys of Vimy Ridge Troop of the Boy Scouts Association of Peterboro enjoyed a splendid camping trip over the holiday, journeying to South Beach on Friday noon, and returning on Monday evening.

The boys were under charge of Scoutmaster Tyrer and left Peterboro by the G. T. R. noon train for Lakefield with their trek cart loaded high with camping equipment. At Lakefield connection was made with the steamer for South Beach.

Ten tents were pitched in the woods, permission being kindly given by Captain Young of Young's Point to camp upon his property. Last summer the troop assisted materially in extinguishing a grass fire upon the very camp site they used last week end.

A goodly proportion of the troops attended the camp. Some motored out Friday evening, some hiked out Saturday evening and other arrived in the early hours of Sunday morning

In front of Headquarters tent was a 24 foot sectional flag pole with the saluting of flag at morning and evening. The trek cart of the troop came in very useful forming camp tables.

Time was well divided between instruction and games. Some of the instructions given by Scoutmaster Tyrer, included: surveying, bridge-building, signalling, ambulance work, cooking, tree pulling, rescue drill and instructions on the Fireman's Badge. Scouting games were played in which both sides showed good resourcefulness.

On Sunday religious service was conducted by the Scoutmaster assisted by Patrol Leader Collinson and Scout Koster and in the evening a church parade to Young's Point had been arranged with the Rector, Rev. J. H. Stringer, but rain prevented this being carried out.

Two recruits were sworn in and enrolled as members of the Troop, going through the impressive ceremony of investiture.

The attendance at camp was nineteen and everyone voted the outing a splendid success and wished it were only for longer.

The boys behaved splendidly and the trip as well as being healthful was advantageous in furnishing the boys instruction difficult to obtain at home, and many boys were advanced several notches in their ambitions.

Those present in camp besides the Scoutmaster and his family were Patrol leaders Collinson, Lundy, Patterson (Sam's Own) No. 2), Troop Leader Kennett (Sam's Own No. 2), Scouts Bert Cranfield, Russell Reid, W. Cormack, (Sam's Own No. 2), H. Cranfield, F. Taylor, McDougall, Corbett, Schweier, Neall, Rome, Jenkins and Koster.

THE REFERENDUM VOTE.

OTTAWA, May 27.—It is probable that the Ontario Referendum on the importation of liquor will be held in October, as has already been decided in the case of three other provinces. The definite date, however, has not yet ben decided.

Gifts for the Bride

And Some Things That She Must Select Herself

We are endeavouring to simplify the task of the June Bride and those who will contribute to the collection of beautiful presents. We have only enumerated a few of the many things that you might give, but we are sure that we have mentioned those she would choose, if consulted. There is a floor of house furnishings and another of furniture that offer many suggestions if you have already determined to make the gift of that nature.

The Beam of Sunshine that Streams Through an Aperture Into a Darkened Room reveals tiny specks of dust floating about in the air. They would be lost in a diffusion of sunlight. It requires the focused light from outside to make them visible.

Often the vision of the spectator is clearer and penetrates further than that of the player who is engaged in the game.

In directing the affairs of this store we welcome suggestions not only from the inside but from outside. We appreciate the vantage place occupied by the onlooker.

A Silverware That Has Been Present at Wedding Occasions for Over Seventy Years

It is most alluring. It attracts by its glint and lustre and pleases by its grace and design — but selection should not be made on appearance alone. Years of use in millions of homes has proved its worth.

The three most handsome designs in this superior plate are Cromwell, Old Colony and Louvain. The latter is the latest pattern, and is favoured by many because of its dainty gracefulness. It differs from the Cromwell in so much that the stern simplicity is relieved by a tiny trellis of flowers in the panels.

Beautiful Bright Hued Millinery in Sports and Tailored Models

Priced From $4.50 to $11.50

We will not go into details and describe them minutely. The braids and straws are novel and the smart turn of a brim or the shape of crown, or often the arrangement of a floral garniture gives them a decidedly distinctive air. Many are combination color affairs and white is employed in most of them.

Gay Summer Millinery Priced from $8 to $12

The month of June is on our threshhold and the light summery frocks and other warm weather togs will soon be making an appearance. Therefore hats to shade one from the sun are much in order. They are fashioned of leghorn, milan, Georgette and maline. They are not here in ones or twos but in dozens and a comprehensive assortment of beautiful numbers can be seen from $8 to $12.

INTERESTING ADDRESS GIVEN BY THE REV. E. E. SCOTT OF UXBRIDGE

PUBLIC MEETING HELD IN TRINITY CHURCH IN CONNECTION WITH THE DISTRICT MEETING.

"If any of you wish to claim a monkey as a grandparent, go ahead, I don't," Rev. E. E. Scott, of Uxbridge, told the large assembly in Trinity church last evening during the course of an eloquent and interesting address given in connection with the District meeting of the Methodist church.

In the address upon "The Christ We Adore," the speaker first dealt with the elements which put Christ out of the human class, introducing first His originality. Shakespeare, the speaker said, is supposed to have been fairly original, but he gathered material from history and events, while Jesus borrowed nothing from anything for his literature. His creations and parables are his own. His conception of God was original and of manhood instead of that of might and power meekness and self sacrifice.

Methods Original.

Not only were his conceptions original, but his methods also. His was not the education of schools but of the synagogue, the home and the carpenters bench. He did not follow the methods of other men in anything. He came, the speaker said, as a reporter from God. He never asked for any authority, but settled problems at once. Through his gospels, which contain less literature than an issue of an ordinary newspaper, He lifted empires.

Again, the sinlessness of Jesus puts him beyond human range. He said: "I have kept Thy commandments and could not think of a single thing left undone by himself." He never made a confession of sin, never apologized and was always at peace with God. He stepped forth with celestial authornty so great that all ages have been effected.

Claims of the Nazarine.

Speaking of the claims of Jesus, made with all coolness, calmness and confidence, Mr. Scott referred to His claim for pre-existence. "Can you," the speaker asked, put such a man in any plane other than the divine? Jesus claimed equality with God by claiming an authority to forgive sin, a lordship over human conscience, a judgeship over humanity. His claims proclaim him to be either an impostor or divine, the Son of God. His optimism was proved in his assertion that the Gospel would be preached unto all people. Science will never antiquate his last supper. Even on the cross, the speaker said, what optimism, what calmness he displayed. The marvellous optimism of Jesus demands and justifies the adoration men have given him throughout all ages.

Supreme Claims.

His power over death is his supreme claim. He lifted not only the dead but himself from the tomb, the supreme miracle. Huxley, the great agnostic, has said that there is no such thing as a miracle. If he is right how may he answer the question of how life got on the earth which some thousands of ages ago was a fiery ball. Science cannot start life without a miracle. Language makes an everlasting barrier between man and brute, which the speaker defied science to account for, otherwise than by the postulate God. Where, the speaker asked, did conscience come from. Huxley has no explanation and science can find no other answer than God. Self consciousness, which enables a man to get outside of himself, to accomplish what monkeys cannot, is a further proof of God. Science has told us that evolution has brought us from the brute stage to the human, but there is a gap in the course which cannot be accounted for, otherwise than by the intervention of the postulate God.

The Resurrection.

What the speaker asked, is irrational in believing in the resurrection? It is scientific as believing in God. Agnostics say the risen Christ was a ghost, but we have the proof otherwise of five hundred witnesses. That is the evidence we have of the resurrection. If that evidence will not prove the resurrection we can prove nothing. Again we have the resurrection of religion. At the death of Jesus Christ the hope of the cause died in the disciples. Within six weeks the men set out and preached his Gospel to all men and were ready to lay down their lives for the cause. The testimony of five hundred witnesses and the resurrection of Christianity prove without doubt, the speaker concluded, that He has risen.

The Chairman.

Rev. A. J. Thomas who occupied the chair, spoke of the great lesson Rev. Mr. Scott had taught in the eloquent address and stated that not only the laity, but the clergy, could not help but be benefitted by the helpful words.

RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION

At to-day's district meeting of the Methodist church the following resolution of appreciation was extended to Rev. A. J. Thomas, pastor of the George street Methodist church, who, as announced in the Examiner two months ago, leaves this year for Montreal. The resolution follows:

Moved by Rev. M. W. Leigh, seconded by Rev. A. McLauchlin, and supported by other brethren, that we, as members of the Peterboro District Meeting, hereby express our appreciation of the kindly, fraternal spirit manifested by our chairman, not only during his year and the church not only on his own district but during his three years among us. His indefatigable leadership in the national campaign, his untiring zeal and devotion to Christ ad the Church, ont only on his own charge, but also in the labors and counsel so lovingly given to the bretheren of the district—these, as well as his genuine Christian character, have so endeared him to us, that in his transfer we feel we are losing a Christian brother, a devoted servant of our Lord, and a faithful messenger of His Gospel, but express our fondest hopes that in his new charge he may be abundantly blessed and a messenger of hope, good cheer and full salvation to the many among whom he may do his work—

"With purpose firm and with unfailing zeal."

"MERRY MILKMAIDS" GIVEN IN ENNISMORE

A very enjoyable time was spent last evening at the Parish Hall, Ennismore, the principal feature of the evening being the charming little operetta, "Merry Milkmaids," which was presented with marked success and was thoroughly appreciated by a large audience.

Mr. Allen of Lindsay, contributed several well rendered solos, also Miss Molly Young of Peterborough, rendered a very acceptable number.

The clergy present were Dev. Father. P. McGuire ,who spoke to his old parishioners, woh were pleased to have him with them on such an occasion, Father Michael O'Brien of Lindsay, Father Guiry and Father Cote of Peterborough.

A woman can go to church three times a week and enjoy it.

The blend is right

And so Lanka Tea is equally good with or without cream and sugar.

Try it clear—you have fragrant aroma, sparkling color, exquisite flavor.

Add cream and sugar—you have a delicious, stimulating brew.

Lanka is British grown tea from the hill gardens of Ceylon.

The choicest grades are skilfully blended to produce the piquant, pungent flavor of Lanka—strong yet delicate.

The price is moderate because Lanka is brought by the direct water route from Ceylon to Vancouver.

Had a Picnic.

On Thursday afternoon the teachers and children went to Mr. Allan Payne's woods and had a very pleasant two hours. The boys played ball, the girls picked flowers. The woods were in their glory. There were some games for all, and a programme in which most of the children took part. About 3 p.m. all returned to school and made preparations for next day's regular work.

Cheese was made at Warsaw factory every day last week and will continue to make every day during the season.

A DANGEROUS WARNING —BLEEDING GUMS

Are your gums tender? Do they bleed when brushed? If so—watch out for Pyorrhea.

This disease of the gums, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, not only destroys the teeth, but often wrecks the health.

In Pyorrhea, the gums become spongy, then recede; the teeth decay, loosen, and fall out—or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about them. These germs lower the body's vitality and cause many diseases.

You can keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums prevents Pyorrhea—or checks its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean.

Start using it today. If your gums have receded, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Has Held Up Coal Shipments in Eastern Canada.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Prepayment of freight the difficulty which has held up coal imports in Eastern Canada for the past month, has been settled, as Ontario, except Ottawa district, is concerned and the railways will shortly make an arrangement which will provide for a similar solution of the difficulty for Montreal and Ottawa districts. he Action of the Canadian Railways in agreeing to accept coal Shipments with charges on Canadian haul waybilled collect, was rendered easy in Ontario by the fact that the rates to practically all Ontario points are up on the combination of local rates to and from international boundary. The arrangement with the railway association of Canada provided that coal importers in Canada can avoid paying for the haul in Canada in United States Clrrency, effecting considerable saving in cost of transportation. The settlement effects only coal and coke shipments.

WORKERS STRIKE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 27.—Twelve thousand workers on Great Indian Peninsular Railway have struck, demanding increased wages, says a Bombay despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. Yesterday afternoon the men adopted a threatening attitude, stoned workshop windows and disorganized traffic at Bombay. Trains were boarded by strikers who smashed windows, insulted passengers and held up traffic for an hour it is said.

TWO UNIONIST MEMBERS BREAK WITH PARTY

he could see, said Dr. Edwards, the new Farmers' party was not trying to help the farmers, but was trying to get what it could out of it. "While the farmers farmed the farms, they farm the farmers," declared Dr. Edwards. Mr. Crerar was doing it to the extent of $15,000 a year.

Refers to Profits.

Dr. Edwards then went on to refer to the profits which, he said, had been made by this company. During the year 1916, its profits had been $855,288 or 62 per cent. In 1917 they were $844,101 or 44 per cent. The Grain Export Company of New York, over which Hon. T. A. Crerar also presided, had made profits ranging as high as 220 per cent.

Pardee Answers Meighen.

F. F. Pardee (Lambton) referred to Hon. Arthur Meighen's speech yesterday. It had carried the good old Tory high protectionist cry of "all for the vested interests," he said, and it was delightful to note the beatific expression on the face of the member for Brantford, the while. The minisetr of the interior had wrapped Haman's gallows in the dear old flag.

Favors No Tax on Food.

Referring to the new taxes, Mr. Pardee congratulated Sir Henry Drayton on his courage and initiative in reaching out for new ways of raising money, but he had reached in the wrong direction. If the government was sincere in wanting to put an end to industrial rest, it must find some way of preventing the cost of living from soaring beyond the reach of the common man. Mr. Pardee said that he still favored the abolition of duties on food, colthing and the implements of farm production.

Mr. Pardee declared that the country would get nowhere by having an excise tax against both home and foreign goods. The excise should be only on home manufactured goods.

LIVER TROUBLE AND HEARTBURN

All liver diseases of whatever character are diseases of the highest importance and demand close attention.

The liver is the largest and one of the most important organs of the body. Its duty is to prepare and secrete bile and to serve as one of the filters of the body, cleaning it from all impurities and poisons. Therefore when the liver gets out of order it is the starting of trouble in nearly every part of the body.

Keep the liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn, constipation, biliousness, sick or bilious headaches, dull, yellow eyes, brown blotches, sallow complexion, coated tongue, jaundice, catarrh of the stomach, or the painful, protruding, internal or bleeding piles.

Mrs. John Kadey, Chipman, N. B., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some times and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers as I think they are a valuable remedy."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

12TH LINE TEAM WALLOPED HAND PIGKED OUTFIT

TERRIFIC BATTLE STAGED ON THE KING EDWARD GROUNDS— A CRICKET SCORE.

A baseball team from the 12th Line Otonabee, walloped a hand-picked nine from theSouth Ward, at King Edward school grounds, last evening, by the score of 18 to 8. The Southerners were satisfied to call it off after five innings had been played, and they had seen four "Babe Ruth" stunts performed by the agriculturists. Four home runs were made by the visitors, but they were tickled more by the fact that the defeated team had Bobby Ross the Central League and City League catcher on their line-up. Ross played at first base and pitched the last inning. "Mickey" Murray undertook to umpire the contest, and he escaped unscathed.

The teams were.—

SPORT FROM THE EXCHANGES

SO SAY WE ALL.

Just what Manager McCabe of the Petes allowed Pitcher Kirn to go through the entire game at Belleville, instead of replacing him in the unlucky sixth is hard to figure out. Fans who witnessed the game claim that Harrison, Peterborough's ace, might have saved the game for the Petes if he had been placed in the box in the 6th innings, as he has the "smoke" and the variety. Kirn, however, had been pitching good ball. But why import a first-class pitcher and then use him on the first sack, even if he is good at the initial sack?

Lindsay Warder: Cobourg got a taste of Manager Anderson on the holiday, and found that "C.P.R." not only knows the game, but is out to play the game fair and wants the opposing team to play fair also.

Lindsay has a number of coming young ball players, who should be coached along in the game.—Lindsay Warder.

LEGISLATURE DISCUSSES BETTING THAT SURROUNDS MOST SPORTS

NEW BOXING BILL PASSED IN COMMITTEE—PROFESSIONAL BOUTS MUST BE AUTHORIZED BY LICENSE.

TORONTO, May 26.—J. W. Curry launched into a warm attack on professional sports when the act to provide for the establishment of an athletic commission was considered in the Legislature yesterday afternoon. Professionalism led to betting, he said, and betting was the curse of hockey and had almost spoiled lacrosse. The aim of the professional was to win at any price.

Surrounded by Bettors.

"The O.H.A. is surrounded by a band of bettors, which is a curse to it," said Mr. Curry. "You have a crowd following a hockey team which are no good to hockey."

"Can't that be controlled by the law of the land?" asked Col. Carmichael.

"It cannot be controlled better by this commission," said Mr. Curry. "The law of the land does not control individual betting."

"The reward offered to the professional sport who comes from Vancouver to Toronto is no different to the reward which might be made to a member on this side of the house if he crossed the floor," said Pinard of Ottawa, "and I am not so sure that such an offer would not be snapped up very readily by some. If you want good sport you had better be careful not to be legislating all the time for the benefit of a few."

"The O. H. A. is trying to keep hockey clean," said Hon. W. R. Rollo, "and in spite of the fact that they try to keep hockey clean there may be $100,000 bet on a hockey game in this province. As long as there is sporting blood in human nature you will have betting. Why they stand on sidewalks now and bet on the numbers of passing automobiles.

"We are trying to guarantee that when a man is advertised for a boxing bout that he shall show up and the public will not be fleeced."

Not In Best Interests.

"It is not in the interests of the province to encourage men to leave productive industry for the sake of playing professional ball," said Mr. Curry.

Premier Drury said he did not like the idea of encouraging a few players, "and a large crowd of unathletic hangers-on" following the team. The object of the bill was to provide for clean boxing.

Can't Be Done.

"I've played in the O.H.A. when I got nothing for it, and I've played in the O.H.A. when I got money for it," said K. S. Stover, Alogma. "Human nature will do as it pleases regardless of all you do in this Legislature. Professional baseball has gone ahead because the commission had tried to run things clean."

Col. W. H. Price, Parkdale, wanted the proceeds of boxing bouts devoted to the interests of returned soldiers through the Soldiers' Aid Commission, and for the benefit of amateur sport.

Penalty $20 to $1,000.

Col. Carmichael wanted that the penalty imposed on every person, club, corporation or association who conducts or participates in conducting or holding a professional boxing or wrestling contest or exhibition without a license should not be less than $200, and not more than $1,000, instead of not less than $20 and not more than $100, as provided in the bill.

On the suggestion of H. H. Dewart it was decided that the minimum penalty should be $20, and the maximum $1,000.

"We don't want to raise up a generation of spineless beings," said Manning Doherty. "I don't think it will hurt anyone, not even the man in the ring, if a little blood is spilled. All I want is to see that sports are well regulated."

The bill passed through committee of the whole.

SAYS SMOKE DESERVES TRIP

BOBCAYGEON, May 27. — The victory of Mr Albert Smoke, of the Canadian Olympic at St. Catharines is quite a popular one here. Smoke is quite well known here, belonging to the Chemong Indian Reserve, and who has been for some time a runner of note. As a preliminary run before the race, we were recently informed that he ran all the way from here to Buckhorn and then from Buckhorn to the reserve. Any one who can do that deserves a trip to Antwerp, and we voice the sentiments of the community when we say that we hope that Albert Smoke gets the trip, and not only the trip but, like the Winnipeg Falcons, comes home in front when the race comes off.

REGULAR BUSINESS MEETING OF THE FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

MIDLAND FOOTBALL LEAGUE—PLAYERS SUSPENDED—POINTS COUNT—OFFICIAL REFEREES.

A special meeting of the Peterborough Football Association was held in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's barber shop, Charlotte street, last evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Baldwin, vice-president, occupied the chair in the absence of the president, Mr. J. Parkins.

Referee's Reports.

The reports of the official referees of the last game were accepted as read. The association thanking them for their services.

Midland Football League.

Mr. Baldwin reported that his visit to Oshawa in regard to the suggested Midland Football League had produced nothing. He paid a visit to the President of the Oshawa Football League and received a hearty welcome. The game is making great progress in the shore town. The secretary of Oshawa will communicate with Peterborough secretary.

Suspension of Players.

Hannah (Caledonians) was exonerated and Bestard (C.G.E.) received suspension for next C.G.E. game.

Crowe (Machine Gun) suspended for next game and Williamson (C.G.E.) suspended sine die. Sine die in football term means indefinitely. If the C.G.E. player desires to be reinstated at any time he may do so by appearing personally before the executive of the association.

Only Points Count.

Mr. Fred Sutclice's amendment that goal averages count in the football league went down to defeat on Mr. Cook's motion that points only count. Goal average will count in league standing. If two teams at the end of the season have the same number of points they will require to play a deciding game.

Official Referees.

The official referees were appointed as follows:

To-night —G.W.V.A. vs Canadian Woollens—Mr. F. Keller.

Saturday, May 29—Machine Gun vs. Canadian Woollens—Mr. A. McKinley. G.W.V.A. vs. Caledonians—Mr. F Keller

Thursday, June 23rd—Machine Gun vs. G.W.V.A.—Mr. A. Day.

Saturday, June 5th— C.G.E. vs. Machine Gun—Mr A. McKinley, Caledonians vs. De Laval—Secretary appoint referee.

Thursday, June 10th—G.W.V.A. vs. Canadian Woollens—Mr Bates.

JAKE SOLOMON ADDS ANOTHER LEAGUE TO HIS CREDIT AS A PROMOTER

You have got to hand it to Jake Solomon. As a baseball promoter extraordinary he is in a class by himself and no one individual has done as much for baseball in this district as the same Jake. His first exploit was the launching of the local City League the year before last and the entrance of Peterborough into the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association. True the Petes fell before the prowess of the Hillcrests, who won the Ontario title, but the appearance of Peterborough in the big series stirred things up generally. Then Mr. Solomon in the following winter turned his attention to a more ambitious scheme, the re-organization of the old Midland League, which had been dormant for many seasons. He was told that there wasn't a chance to awaken interest in the organization, but nothing daunted, he started his campaign, that eventually terminated in the formation of the Central League, and the best season of amateur ball the district has ever known, culminating in the League's champions winning the Ontario title.

And now the energetic organizer has scored again. His latest feat is the organization of an East Peterborough League of five teams, which was successfully launched last night and which promises to supply all kinds of interest for the eastern part of the country. It is the first organization of the kind that has been attempted in Peterborough county, but looks like a success from the start.

Three Leagues in three seasons is the Solomon record todate. He is the "father" of the Peterborough City League, the Central Ontario League and the East Peterborough League, and no doubt will have thought out another organization by the time the snows of next winter are melting.

EAST PETERBORO BALL LEAGUE ADDED TO THE AMATEUR RANKS

MEETING HELD LAST EVENING—FIVE TEAMS ENTER THE LEAGUE—OFFICERS ELECTED.

East Peterborough Amateur Baseball League came into being last night at a meeting of baseball enthusiasts at the Windsor Hotel. Such a league has been the dream of East Peterborough for many years, and it remained for Mr. Jake Solomon, organizer of Peterborough City League and the Central League, to add the county circuit to the ranks of amateur ball. Delegates at the meeting last night were not slow to express their appreciation of Mr. Solomon's efforts in their behalf.

Five teams entered the league, namely, Lakefield, Norwood, Nassau, Douro and Keene. Lakefield and Norwood were unable to send representatives, but communicated with the meeting over the long distance phone. Officers were elected as follows:

Patrons—J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., E. N. McDonald, M.P.P. and Warden D. B. Nicholls.

Hon. Presidents—Jake Solomon, A. T. Johnston, Walter Kidd.

President—Daniel Coughlin, Douro.

1st Vice-Pres.—E. Doris, Keene.

2nd Vice-Pres.—M. Minore, Norwood.

3rd Vice-Pres.—W. Ford, Lakefield.

Sec.-Treas.—Frank Leahy, Nassau.

Executive committee—Wm. Morrison, Lakefield; John Walsh, Douro; Jack Coughlin, Nassau; F. R. Patterson, Norwood and Charles Nelson, Keene.

Daniel Coughlin, the popular choice for President, is the Reeve of Douro, and is an ardent supporter of amateur baseball. He has followed the fortunes of the game, up and down the county for years and has played practically all the positions on the diamond. With Mr. Coughlin at its head the league is assured of able leadership.

Opening Games.

Opening games were arranged for Norwood on Wednesday, June 2nd, and at Lakefield on Thursday, June 3rd. Keene will play at Norwood, and Douro will be the visiting team at Lakefield. The games will be called at 2.30 o'clock. Games will be scheduled for the balance of the month, after which a meeting of the league will be called to consider a schedule of additional games. When admission to a game is charged, or collection taken the two teams competing will share equally in the proceeds. Home teams will supply the balls. Postponed games must be played within one week from the date of postponement. Players must be resident in the municipality which their team represents since May 24th. Interchange of players by the clubs will not be permitted.

Compete For Cup.

The cup donated by Mr. James Thompson, ex-M.P.P. for the winning team at a tournament held annually by the Young People's Society of Indian River, will be put up for competition in the new league, the winning team to hold the silverware for one year and to retain it permanently if won in two consecutive years.

Douro and Keene, who played for the trophy at the Indian River field day on Labor Day of last year, were unable to settle a dispute that followed the game, and the cup was withheld. Now, to settle the question once and for all, Keene and Douro teams will meet again at the field day on Labor Day, and the winner will hold the cup until the winners of the league are declared, when it will pass into the hands of the champions for one year.

Mr. Walter Kidd, one of the best friends of sports in East Peterborough, gave the history of the Thompson trophy, and on behalf of the Indian River organization offered the cup for competition among the teams of the new league, and expressed a willingness to do his utmost to help the league.

EMMETT MOSS, Celebrated Bass With Harvey's Minstrels, at Grand To-morrow.

FOREST FIRES IN THE NORTH

For the last couple of weeks there have been serious forest fires in the back woods north of Bobcaygeon, running over the timber limits of the McDonald estate and of the John Carew Lumber Co., and doing considerable damage. The fires have been checked, but not extinguished. Several skidways of logs which came within the path of the fires were destroyed.

Mr. John Carew, of Lindsay, said the company lost considerable standing timber last week, but the fires were pretty well out by this time. The Company has some 45 square miles in Cavendish and Harvey townships, which suffered slightly.

HARVEY MINSTRELS HERE TO-MORROW

Harvey's Greater Minstrels was organized and is owned by R. M. Harvey, a well known circus man, who for years has been spending money like water in the circus business. The expense of building an amusement enterprise does not disturb him because as manager of one of the greatest circus enterprises on the road he learned it is only by the lavish expenditure of money that success can be attained. Hence it is not surprising that Harvey's Greater Minstrels wear the swellest, most expensive wardrobe ever worn by any minstrel, and also that its olio of seven acts of vaudeville include specialties not to be outclassed anywhere and the members of this minstrel are the highest salaried and the best treated of any minstrel men on the road—the result is the best entertainment with hundreds of would-be patrons turned away five nights out of the week. It seems impossible to find theatres large eouhg to accommodate the crowds who want to see the Harvey Greater Minstrels. Moral: Buy your seats as early as possible. They will be at the Grand on Friday, Matinee and Evening.

"PASSION FLOWER"

The theatrical sharpers of New York were long puzzled over the identity of the Acacia which blossoms in "The Passion Flower" in which Nance O'Neil is appearing with such unusual success. The name of Annette Westbay has figured but once before in a Metropolitan cast, and that in the lamented "Forbidden", by Dorothy Donnelly, which had a brief and unusual engagement at the Manhattan Opera House. In that play one small character stood out prominently for the fidelity with which it was portrayed, and because the young and attractive actress was not ony good to look upon, but exhibited a dramatic force which compelled attention. The role was Kathen, the young Fraulein who remained steadfast in her affection for the Junker. It was a role the antithesis in every way to the present mercurial and sensitive Acacia in the Spanish drama, but Miss Westbay has met this new condition with the same assurance that marked her first Metropolitan appearance, and this first appearance was her third role only, the first being with Taylor Holmes in "Bunker Bean", with which she made her debut.

It was the late Joseph Brooks who "discovered" this highly intelligent and effective young emotional actress. Mr. Brooks, however, was in possession of the important intelligence that Miss Westbay was the daughter of the celebrated pianiste, Melanie de Wienzkowski, the celebrated Polish artiste who was a pupil of the noted Theodore Leschitezky in Vienna, the same internationally famous pedagogue who taught Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler, Ethel Newcomb, Ossip Gabrilowitch, Oliver Denton, Arthur Shattuck and other musical celebrities. The parents of Acacia were born as was Miss Westbay herself, in Warsaw, where her father was a noted revolutionist who was compelled to flee Poland. His death shorty followed, and Madame Wienskowski then apeared in this country on the concert stage with remarkable success, as was attested by the glowing tributes to her art. Upon her death the young daughter, already showing remarkable artistic talents, was adopted by the family of Dr. Henry E. Westbay, a well known New York dentist, and it was in compliment to her foster parents that she assumed their name.

With the exception of her appearance on the dramatic stage with Taylor Holmes in "Bunker Bean", and the melodrama, "Forbidden" and her present engagement as the "passion flower" daughter of Nance O'Neill in "The Passion Flower", Miss Westbay has had no public appearance except a brief vaudeville engagement. It will come as a surprise, therefore, to the critics and playgoers who have marvelled at her emotional power as well as her personal charm that her success is that which comes through inheritance coupled with her own rare intelligence and dramatic power.

So "That's all there is—there isn't any more", not yet,—but the prophesy that she is destined to hold a most important position on the native stage is fully justified by her present gripping and thrilling performance in the big drama by Spain's biggest dramatist.

At the Grand one performance only Saturday, May 29th.

HOT SHOT FOR THE COMMISSION

DEWART THREATENS TO KILL THE ESTIMATES.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, May 27. — H. H. Dewart, Liberal Leader in the House, to-day threatened to kill the estimates of the Ontario Board of License Commissioners by moving an amendment when they come up for concurrence.

The License Board, he declared, was nothing more than a large liquor dealing business instead of a medical dispensary.

Objections to the Hon. W. Rollo's amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act were made this morning by a deputation consisting of Col. W. B. Kingsmill, Canadian counsel for the Michigan Central, and Angus McMurchy, representing the C. P. R. They submitted that a consolidation of all funds under the Act for the payment of maintenance to widows would react unfairly on the permanent companies in that they would frequently be called upon to pay a share of the firms which go out of business and leave the widows of employers to be supported.

The Minister did not propose to agree to the request.

THOROUGHNESS

This world wants more men who are thorough. We have so many starters, but so few finishers.

Point out a dozen men, who have been successful in life, and investigation will demonstrate every man in the bunch to be a finisher, a stayer, a laster. Thoroughness is the true test of permanency.

The half and half humans who never complete, never perfect, are pretty small potatoes and few in a hill.

The fellow who puts the coping on a job, who completes the thing, is in big demand.

POLICE COURT.

Five cases which were to have come up in to-morrow's police court were disposed of to-day with remunerative results for the coffers of the law. A total of $42.40 made its way into them from five sources. One drunk paid $14.10 for a little spree, and three motorists found themselves $5.10, $2.10 and $8.10 respectively, shorter than when they entered the sacred precincts of the court. The first paid $2.00 and $3.10 costs for leaving his car on the side of the road, the other two turned a deaf ear to the pleadings of the traffic policeman to stop, with disastrous results. For speeding a local shoe repairer contributed $10 and $3.10 costs.

The four juvenile who are charged with shop breaking and several serious thefts, appear before Magistrate Dumble to-morrow for trial.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET REPORT

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, May 27. — Reaction following the brisk trading which has featured the stock market during the last few days, was evidenced in the small volume of transactions at to-day's opening, resulting in an irregular price trend, with the tendency toward lower levels. What interest there was centred in oils and equipments.

Amer Loco opened at 94 1-2 up 1-2. Read 82 ff 1-2; Beth B 88 1-4 off 1-4; Pan Amer 101 3-4 up 3-8; Crucible 131 1-2 off 1-2; Mex Pet 174 up 1 1-2; Baldwn 112 3-8 unchanged; Amer Woollens 95 1-2 off 2; Studebaker 64 1-2 unchanged; U S Steel 92 1-2 off 1-8; Gen Motors 27 1-4 up 1-2; Texas Co 46 off 1 1-2; Sinclair 31 3-8 off 1-4.

EXCHANGE MARKET

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 27.— Quotations were steady at the opening of the foreign exchange market here today. Sterling demand opened at $3.87 1-4 up 1 1-2; Franc checks 12.67 off 5 centimes, Lire checks 16.67 off 25; Marks demand $.0280; cables $.0282, off $.0018; Canadian dollars $.89.

The market showed little distinct trend in the first half hour but at the end of that period substantial buyer orders made their appearance and industrials and equipments moved forward. American loco advanced to 97. Those who sold Amn Woollen short at the opening because of the indictments handed down by the federal grand jury because of the indictments handed down by the federal grand jury after the close yesterday, did not profit during early trading while opening at 95 1-2 off 2, the stock quickly recovered the loss.

GOLD SHIPMENTS

Shorts in Crucible had another bad time of it when the stock was rushed up to 135 1-2. Traders believed the usual 12 per cent annual dividend will be declared when officials met for dividend action in a few weeks.

The officers of J. P. Morgan and Co announced that they have received gold amounting to $20,000,000 at San Francisco from Hong Kong for the account of the British Government. It is believed this shipment will be sold to the New York federal reserve bank as was the case with previous shipments from the British Empire.

CHOIR PRACTICE.

All Saints' choir practice will be held to-night.

CAPT. J. LAWSON GAVE ADDRESS TO MINISTERS

Peterborough district Methodists, at their annual meeting in George Street Methodist Church to-day, heard an appeal for aid for the people of Serbia. Pastors throughout the district will speak from their pulpits with the object of enlisting the sympathies of their congregations on behalf of the little nation whose people won an imperishable name for bravery and heroism in the Great War, but at terrible cost. German hordes devastated Belgium. Annihilation was aimed at Serbia, and the world knows how almost completely the Germans accomplished that aim.

To-day thousands upon thousands of children cry for those things that are necessary to save their lives and bring them back to health and to strength. In a world-wide campaign for funds, Peterborough city and county are asked for a gift of $5,000, and subscriptions are now being asked and subscriptions are now being received at the city banks and branches throughout the county.

Capt. Joe Lawson, organiser of the campaign in this district, hopes to make arrangements whereby speakers from outside points, will speak on the Brotherhood Federation, and make an appeal for the Serbians in the city churches next Sunday.

BORISOV CAPTURED.

(Canadian Press.)

London, May 27.—The town of Borisov, on the Beresina River, at its junction with the Minsk-Smolensk Railway line, has been captured by the Bolsheviki in a campaign against the Poles, according to the Soviet official statement for Wednesday, received by wireless from Moscow today.

J. Edward Evans, although 76 years old, never tires of the life under the big top. He joined Barnum & Bailey's circus way back in 1867 as an aerial acrobat. He has given up the act, but he is still a member of the monster organization, which is about to start out on its annual tour of the country.

Profiteers Caught and Heavily Fined

HEAVY PENALTY INFLICTED ON CLOTHING MEN—WILL INVESTIGATE SUGAR SALES.

(Canadian Press.)

SYRACUSE, May 28.— Convicted of conspiracy and profiteering in the sale of men's wearing apparel, "Weeds Inc." exclusive retailer of Binghamton and Gordon H. Smith, general manager of the concern, were jointly fined $31,000 this morning in the Federal court. The judge said the only thing which saved Smith from the maximum prison sentence was the fact that he was not financially interested in the business.

FIFTY PER CENT. PROFIT.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, May 28.—Sale of sugar in an Ottawa grocery at thirty-six cents a pound will be investigated by the Board of Commerce through all its stages back to the shipment from the refinery. Gosselin and Durocher, the merchants who sold the sugar this week to a returned soldier, testified before the Board this morning that on Tuesday they were informed by a wholesale traveller that sugar prices had advanced. They raised their prices on stocks on hand from twenty-two to thirty cents and a sale was made at 30 cents, which was afterwards adjusted to thirty cents, the sale at thirty-six having been a mistake. It was brought out that Gosselin and Durocher had six weeks' stock on hand when they purchased two bags at the increased price and raised their prices on the whole stock to conform. At thirty cents they admitted they were making a profit of at least fifty per cent.

FARMERS WANT NATIONALIZATION

URGE THAT SUCH A PLANK BE INCORPORATED IN PLATFORM MAJOR PARTIES.

Canadian Press:

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Government ownership of the railroads and merchant marine was demanded to-day by the Farmers' National Council in a letter addressed by George D. Hampton, Director of the Council to the Democratic and Republican National Committee.

Hampton urged that a plank calling for such Government ownership be incorporated in the platforms of both major parties.

NEWSPRINT IS NOW SELLING AT $300 HIGH

ALTHOUGH QUOTATION IS AROUND $100 A TON—COMPANIES STRONG.

MONTREAL, May 28. — Never has an industry in Canada found itself in a stronger position than is the pulp and paper industry at the present time.

Illustrating the strength of the position is a conversation which several of the largest producers of groundwood and newsprint in Canada had recently.

Representatives of the companies were asked whether it was true that groundwood pulp could be sold for $100 a ton. Their reply was in the affirmative.

They were then asked to explain why newsprint was being sold at $100 a ton, this being only the price of groundwood pulp. The reply was that there was a vast difference between the contract price and the price which could be obtained by those who had surplus stock for sale. Sales of newsprint were being made at from $20 to $300 a ton. These prices were naturally far above the contract price. At the same time they served to show the trend of affairs in the industry. Subsequently the announcement was made by the International Paper Company of an advance to $115 per ton for the third quarter of 1920, representing an advance of 15 per cent.

In pulp and paper circles it is the belief that the International could have obtained a very much higher price.

POLITICIANS OPEN BATTLE

PRESIDENTIAL CHAMPAIGN PROMISES TO BE FULL OF THRILLS AND FRILLS.

By Harold D. Jacobs.
(United Press.)

CHICAGO, Ill., May 28. — The greatest political advertising campaign in the history of the country is in full swing here.

Organizations representing all the principal candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination are employing every established legitimate method—and a few brand new ones—to "sell" their man to the public and the national delegates.

There are posters, banners, pamphlets, letters, public meetings, private conferences, teas for the women, buttonholing.

Michigan avenue, long world famous for its "automobile row," has now blossomed out with a "presidential row." This starts at the Blackstone Hotel, where Governor Frank O. Lowden has his headquarters, and runs northward, taking in the Congress and Auditorium hotels. Whole floors of the two latter hostelries have been taken over by the various headquarters.

SUMMER DRIVE ON BRIDGE AT HEIGHT

The Russell-Townsend Company have been increasing their corps of labourers this week, or rather have been bringing it up to strength, for the additional work on the west side excavation and cement pouring in the west arches of the Hunter street bridge. This spurt of activity indicates that the summer operations are in full swing, especially on the west side, where the preparatory form work is almost completed. In the meantime the excavations for the west pier of the main arch is being pushed ahead. Mr. C. J. Townsend stated that a number of labourers have been hired this week and others are needed. One of the machinists stated that some of the men who are on strike at the C.G.E. and who prefer to remain in the city were hired at the bridge this morning and will begin work at once.

GAME WARDEN SAVED LIVES OF MANY FISH

(Lindsay Warder).

Men who will take the initiative are the kind of men the Government require to hold such positions as game and fishery wardens and inspectors. Such a man is Mr. J. C. O'Leary, game warden, who resides at King's Wharf. He has the interest of game at heart, as well as the interest of the sportsman, and there is no person more keen on the proper observation of the Act and law than the same gentleman.

A year ago Game Warden O'Leary noticed hundreds of dead fish along the shores of Pigeon Lake after the ice went out, and came to the conclusion that they were smothered to death. To prevent a like misfortune this year he chopped several holes in the ice along the bog where the fish had been suffocated the past year and that this was a good thing to do was demonstrated by the fact that not a dead fish was to be found when the ice went out this season around the vicinity where he had chopped breathing holes through the ice. The fish thrived through the winter.

It would be a good thing if other game wardens followed Mr. O'Leary's example.

LEGAL PRECEDENT ESTABLISHED BY DECISION IN LOCAL TRAFFIC CASE

MR. JUSTICE ORDE AWARDS $600 DAMAGES TO CLAUDE GRAY, WHO WAS INJURED WHEN STREET CAR STRUCK BONNER-WORTH TRUCK —A SEEMING HARDSHIP.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, May 28.—"It seems an obvious hardship to subject the owner to liability for injury to his servant's guests due to his servant's negligence," declares Justice Orde in a judgment given at Osgoode Hall, determining for the first time a peculiar question in connection with the Motor Vehicles Act. He holds that the Bonner-Worth Co. of Peterborough are liable for injuries to Claude Gray, a twelve-year-old lad, whom one of their chauffers allowed to ride on the running board of one of their trucks. The truck was being used with the company's consent outside of business hours for the removal of waste wood from building operations at the company's plant to the homes of their employees. The truck was, in effect, lent to them. The driver's own son was on the truck, and asked his father to let Claude Gray have a ride. He did so, and the truck and a street car of the Peterborough Electric Railway, which is operated by the Hydro-Electric Commission, came into collision, resulting the permanent laming of the little Gray boy. Judgment for $600 damages for the boy and $100 for his father are awarded against the Bonner-Worth Co., the Peterborough Radial Co., and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

G. N. Gordon represented the plaintiff, Joseph Wearing, the Peterborough Radial Railway, and R. S. Robertson, K.C., of Toronto, the Bonner-Worth Company.

The accident occurred last fall on McDonnel Street, east of the Bonner-Worth factory, in the evening. The company's truck was driving east and the Jackson Park car following behind it collided with the truck as it crossed the tracks to the south side of the street.

BATTALIONS ORDERED OUT

DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY AND SHOOTING OF CITIZENS CONTINUES IN IRELAND.

(United Press.)

LONDON, May 28.— Burning of private and public buildings and the shooting of citizens continued in various parts of Ireland last night.

The coast guard station on Sybil Head, in County Kerry, was burned. Castle Caulfield barracks in the same county were likewise destroyed by fire.

The whole of Ireland is reported to be awaiting tensely the arrival of the military reinforcements now en route from Aldershot. The Second Camerons was expected to reach its destination to-day or to-morrow.

It was reported to-day that three other battalions of troops have been ordered to proceed to Ireland on Monday under sealed orders.

A Reception.

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, May 28.—Sean Oceallaigh, President of the Irish Parliament, and diplomatic delegate extraordinary of the government of the Irish Republic, gave a reception here on the occasion of the beatification of Oliver Plunkett, First Bishop of Armagh. The function was attended by Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, Irish bishops, prominent citizens of that country and students of the Irish College here. Cardinal Logue evoked prolonged cheering when he said it was the first time the Irish President had attended a gathering of the "Irish Republic." Irish patriotic airs were sung.

100 FAMILIES WILL LEAVE WESTERN CANADA FOR RUSSIA.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, May 28.—About one hundred farmers and their families—mostly Ukrainians—will leave Western Canada for the Ukraine late in July, according to news received here to-day, abandoning farms on which many of them have been living for the past ten years or longer, it was stated to-day by steamship agents.

The cause of this emigration is said to be the latest amendment to the Naturalisation Act.

LARGE COTTON PLANT FOR MONTREAL.

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, May 28.—The Dominion Cottons, Limited, a branch of the Dominion Textile Company, has purchased the plant recently owned and operated at Verdun, near Montreal, by the Imperial Munitions Board, and are starting a cotton manufacturing industry, and will during the first year employ 500 men and women. The wage bill in this period will run from $350,000 to $400,000, and the civic revenue will gain $22,500 yearly from taxation.

GRAND RUSH TO EUROPE.

STEAMSHIP LINES CANNOT MEET THE DEMAND.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, N.Y., May 28.—The crowds rushing to Europe are fighting for passage, the steamship companies reported to-day.

Employing every available vessel, the lines engaged in carrying passengers are unable to meet the demand. Bookings for Europe are filled until the middle of August.

LANTERN EXPLODES WITH DISASTROUS RESULTS.

COBOURG, May 28. — The dropping of a lighted lantern accidentally while coming down a ladder from the loft in his barn was responsible for a fire which entailed a serious loss for William Hall, who resides near Castleton village, Northumberland county. The lantern exploded and the whole building was in flames in a very short time, and was completely consumed, with its contents, including two horses, some pigs, poultry, farm implements and a new surrey. Mr. Hall had only a small insurance.

Bolshevik Trade Minister Will Meet Lloyd George on the Resumption of Relations

WANTS TO SELL RUSSIAN GOLD IN THE ENGLISH MARKET—PRESS COMMENT.

BOLSHEVIK ACTIVE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 28.—Premier Lloyd George will meet Gregory Krassin, Russian Bolshevik Minister of Trade and Commerce this week, says the Times, which also mentions a rumour circulated through channels notoriously in touch with the Premier's entourage "that the subject of the negotiations and the persons engaged in them would be more widely extended than at present acknowledged."

It is said that Earl Curzon of Kedleston, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs will, in addition to Lloyd George, confer with Mr. Krassin. M. Krassin will propose, among other things, says the news paper, to put ingots of Russian gold, stamped with the seal of the old Russian government, on the English market, and it is believed the main object of his visit here is to obtain a general license to send such gold to England and sell it here, the Times adds.

By receiving Russian gold, stolen by the Soviet, we would be virtually recognizing the Soviet government. It is impossible to dissociate the two ideas of trade relations and official recognition. It is absurd to imagine that two countries can trade with each other and not have diplomatic returns.

Bolsheviki Advancing.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 28.—Bolsheviki are advancing in the Kiev region and are engaged in fighting on the second fortified line of the Poles north-east of that city, it is announced in Thursday's official communique by the Soviet government received to-day by wireless.

The statement says the fighting line runs ten miles north of Brovari village, which is about ten miles east of Kiev.

Crushed Bolsheviki.

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 28. — Armenians have crushed the Bolshevik uprisin gagainst their government in Erivan, and the loyal Armenian army is now in control of Alexandropol, according to a message received from the Armenian capital by Armenian diplomatic representative at Tiflis. It is reported Alexandropol people received the Armenian troops with acclaim, rejoicing at being freed from the Bolsheviki who had dominated the railways.

Hostilities Ceased.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 28.—Hostilities between Russian and Japanese in Siberia ceased on May 25, according to a Reuter despatch from Vladivostock dated Wednesday. The despatch also reports arrival of Russo-Japanese Armistice Commission at Khadarovsk.

(United Press.)

LONDON, May 28. — Although Gregory Krassin, Bolshevist Commissioner of Ways and Communications, who arrived here last night, has come to England ostensibly for the purpose merely of discussing a resumption of trade between Great Britain and Soviet Russia, he admitted that he will endeavor to reach a general understanding with the British government.

METHODISTS CONDEMN SCHEME TO MAKE DIVORCE LAW EASIER

After a lengthy discussion embracing all angles of the question the clergy and laymen who attended the District meeting of the Methodist Church held yesterday in George street church, unanimously passed the following resolution, moved by Rev. H. M Manning:

Resolved that, the time has come when we must declare, with all plainness of speech, our position on the question of divorce. We view with grave apprehension the steps being taken by our Government to make divorce easier. We will oppose by every legitimate means, any legislation that seeks to enlarge the causes for which divorce is to be granted. We put ourselves in record as determinately opposed to that which imperils the indissolubility of the marriage tie and to divorce, save for the one cause allowed by our Divine Lord.

BIG INCREASE IN POPULATION

PETERBORO WILL HAVE ANOTHER FIVE HUNDRED THIS YEAR.

It is expected that the assessment returns in September will show a substantial increase in the city's population, probabl yabout 400 or 500.

All indications point to this. The increase is largely due to the city's remarkable industrial growth of the year, with the accompanying influx of employees of the new firms and the serious house shortage.

Each of the new industries which have located here have brought their quota of department heads, and have attracted workers as well, and there has also been a material increase in emigration from the Old Country.

Another contributing factor to the increase in population is the migration from the farms to the city.

Altogether a very substantial population increase is evident, with its accompanying benefit to the city.

DEWART ASKS INQUIRY INTO POWER PURCHASE

H. H. Dewart, Liberal Leader, yesterday made a demand in the Legislature that an investigation be conducted into the purchase by the late Government of the Seymour Power Company, now known as the Central Ontario System. His request came when the Hydro estimates were being considered.

The Liberal Leader maintained that the circumstances of the purchase were sufficient to warrant an inquiry. He regarded it as significant that the system was not then taken over by the Hydro. He declared that Sir Adam Beck knew the character of the transaction at the time and would have nothing to do with it. Mr. Dewart declared that the minority shareholders of the company had not received fair treatment.

MANY RAILWAY DISORDERS IN INDIA.

Stop Trains and Force Passengers to Alight.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, May 28.—New disorders in connection with the strike of the employees of the Great Peninsula Railway in India are reported in a Bombay despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., which says the strikers number more than twenty thousand. At Matunga Station several thousand men gathered yesterday and destroyed the railway telegraph line, stopped trains, forced passengers to alight, and did considerable other damage. Police reinforcements dispersed the crowd after firing blank cartridges, but the traffic over the road is being greatly embarrassed.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY.

(Canadian Press)

BRAMPTON, May 28.—George A. Armstrong, one of Peel's oldest native born residents, passed away at his home at Campbell's Cross. His death was due to a paralytic stroke.

Deceased was born on the farm on which he died, in 1834, of U. E. Loyalist stock, his father, the late James Armstrong, coming from Pennsylvania. He farmed all his life, was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and a Liberal in politics.

TAX BILLS ARE BEING MADE OUT

The 1920 tax bills are being made out at the Council Chamber to-day. Several clerks have been added to the staff of Mr. W. J. Green to handle the extra rush of work, and it is expected that the work will be completed in everal weeks at the most, and the tax bills in the hands of the ratepayers for a none too welcome consideration. July 1, when the first instalment is due, is not such a long way off, and two months later the other instalment falls due.

SLAYER OF CIRCUS MANAGER SHOT BY TOWN CONSTABLE

"HAMBURGER JOE" PORTER UNDER CLOSE GUARD IN DUNVILLE HOSPITAL—HAD CONCESSION WITH HOWE'S CIRCUS.

Canadian Press:

DUNNVILLE, May 28.—An Inquest will be opened on Monday next, on the remains of L. D. Thilman, of Dayton, Ohio, assistant manager of Howe's Circus, who was shot three times yesterday by "Hamburger Joe" Porter, alias Appert, a disgruntled concessionaire, with whom he was having a dispute over money matters. Porter, who was shot and dangerously wounded when he drew his revolver on the approach of Town Constable Winslow and two circus hands, to arrest him, is under close guard in the hospital, where, it is stated this morning, he will probably recover.

DUNNVILLE, May 27.—L. D. Thilman, assistant manager of Howe's Circus, which showed here yesterday, was fatally shot last evening by a concessionaire, Joe Porter, known as "Hamburger Joe," who later was shot and dangerously wounded when resisting arrest.

"Hamburger Joe" has had the hamburg steak privilege at a weekly fee. He was required to deposit two weeks' fee as a guarantee of good faith, and to give two weeks' notice when he wished to abandon the agreement. It is alleged he had been drinking recently; at any rate, he was in an ugly mood on Wednesday. Toward evening he apparently decided to quit the circus, as he went to the Savoy Hotel and secured a room, then back to the grounds and demanded his money deposit forthwith. Mr. Thilman, the assistant manager, was in the large waggon near the main entrance selling tickets.

Fires Three Shots.

At 8.45 p.m. Joe walked up to the waggon, rested the barrel of a revolver on the counter at the end of the waggon, and demanded his money. Thilman said he could not pay him then, but to wait until later, when Joe fired. Thilman, who had been seated, rose and picked up his stool, holding it as a protection, when Joe fired two more shots. Thilman fell back with two bullet wounds in his chest.

Wounded Man Dies.

Dr. Macaulay was hastily summoned, and the wounded man was hurried to the Haldimand War Memorial Hospital. One bullet was extracted, but the other had lodged in the spine, and the man was paralyzed. Death ensued about 1 o'clock a.m.

In the meantime, Joe, remarking that that was the way he served people who owed him money and would not pay, calmly walked off the grounds. In spite of a vigorous search for him immediately after, he was not found. About 2 a.m., however, at the west end of the town, Joe fired two shots through the circus car windows as the train was pulling out, and then attempted to get into the Savoy Hotel.

Circus Men Aid in Arrest.

Constable Winslow was telephoned for from the depot, and, with two circus employees, approached Joe. The two volunteered assistance to Winslow, and, walking up to Joe, ordered him to throw up his hands. Instead, Joe reached for his automatic, when the men fired, hitting him in the thigh and groin. Joe went down, and was handcuffed. Three guns were found on him. He was taken to the lockup, and thence to the hospital, where he lies in a bad condition. It is not yet known whether his wounds will prove fatal. Constable Hamilton is with him continuously.

You go to your Dentist at stated times to have your Teeth looked after. Do you pay the same attention to your eyes? Eyes once ruined cannot be replaced. Lack of attention now may ruin your health permanently. See W. H. Lacey, 410 George Street.

THE WEATHER

The temperature yesterday again rose several degrees above its previous highest point, and reached 83 degrees in the shade. To-day is considerably cooler.—W. P.

PRICE CUTTING HITS TOWN

HARRY ZACKS REDUCES PRICES ON HIS FINE FURNITURE STOCK, TO TURN A LOT OF IT INTO CASH.

Householders will welcome the announcement of a price reduction special sale of furniture and house furnishings by Harry Zacks. An opportunity to save money on such an important item as furniture has not been presented for some time. Mr. Zacks explains that he has made an extra big factory balance purchase, and wants $10,000.00 by 18th June in order to finance the deal. No doubt Peterborough people who need furniture have an eye to a chance to save a few dollars on the purchase, will help him get rid of a lot of his stock and raise the money he is looking for.

MANVERS TO HONOR HER FALLEN HEROES

Manvers citizens propose to do full justice to the valor and patriotism of her soldier boys on June 4th, by unveiling a tablet to the memory of their men who made the supreme sacrifice in the great war, and also to present medals to the next of kin and further to give rings to soldiers and nursing sisters who have returned from overseas. The unveiling will take place at the town hall at 7.30 p.m., and supper will be served in the Orange Hall from 5 to 7.30 p.m. General Sir Sam Hughes is expected to unveil the tablet.

The white skirt and coloured blouse will be seen together.

Hats of horsehair are ornamented with sprays of pluma.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY MEDICAL MEN

DR. J. H. MULLIN OF HAMILTON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION.

TORONTO, May 28.—Dr. J. Heurner Mullin, of Hamilton, was elected President of the Ontario Medical Association yesterday afternoon, and Dr. F. J. Farley, of Trenton, will succeed him as first Vice-President. The other officers elected were: 2nd Vice-President, Dr. F. A. Clarkson, Toronto; Secretary, Dr. R. C. Routley, Toronto; Treasurer, Dr. G. Stewart Cameron, Peterborough; Counsellors, J. A. MacGregor (London), E. R. Secord (Brantford), George S. Burt (Owen Sound), J. P. Morton (Hamilton), F. W. Marlow (Toronto), T. S. Farncomb (Trenton), H. A. Boyce (Kingston), Fenton Argue (Ottawa), Edgar Brandon (North Bay), and E. B. Oliver (Fort William.)

A determined effort will be made to standardize the scale of medical fees throughout the province, and the local societies will be asked to furnish all possible data to the executive as soon as possible, in order that some set scale may be reached. The honorarium of the honorary secretary was increased from $1,000 to $1,200 per annum.

The convention concluded to-day and features of the programme included clinics at the Toronto General Hospital and the Hospital for Sick Children in the afternoon, and in the morning the clinic in the eye, ear, nose and throat section which was one of the most complete that has ever been assembled in the city. The morning was devoted chiefly to sectional meetings.

WILSON VETOES RESOLUTION FOR SEPARATE PEACE BY U.S.A.

THE KNOX PROPOSAL WOULD EXACT FROM GERMANY NO REDRESS FOR WRONGS INFLICTED—INCONSISTENT WITH DIGNITY OF THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Presidens Wilson to-day vetoed the Knox peace resolution, declaring an end to the war between the United States and Germany, and Austria-Hungary.

The resolution, Wilson declared, is "in effect a complete surrender of the rights of the United States so far as the German Government is concerned."

The text of President Wilson's message follows: "I return, herewith, without my signature, House joint resolution 327, intended to repeal the joint resolution of April 6, 1917, declaring a state of war to exist between the United States and Germany and the joint resolution of December 7, 1917, declaring a state of war to exist between the United States and the Austro-Hungarian Government, and to declare a state of peace. I have not felt at liberty to sign this joint resolution, because I cannot bring myself to become party to an action which would place an ineffaceable stain upon the gallantry and honor of the United States. The resolution seeks to establish peace with the German Empire without exacting from the German Government any action by way of setting right the infinite wrongs which it did to the peoples whom it attacked and whom we professed it our purpose to assist when we entered the war. Have we sacrificed the lives of more than 100,000 Americans and ruined the lives of thousands of others and brought upon thousands of American families an unhappiness that can never end for purposes which we do not now care to state or take further steps to attain? The attainment of these purposes is provided for in the treaty of Versailles by terms adequate by the leading statesmen and experts of all the great peoples who were associated in the war against Germany. Do we now not care to join in the effort to secure them?

War of Civilization

"We entered the war most reluctantly. Our people were profoundly disinclined to take part in a European war, and at last did so only because they became convinced that it could not in truth be regarded as only an European war, but must be regarded as a war in which civilization itself was involved and human rights of every kind as against a belligerent Government. Moreover, when we entered the war we set forth very definitely the purposes for which we entered, partly because we did not wish to be considered as merely taking part in a European contest. This joint resolution which I return does not seek to accomplish any of these objects, but in effect makes a complete surrender of the rights of the United States so far as the German Government is concerned. A treaty of peace was signed at Versailles on the twenty-eighth of June last, which did seek to accomplish the objects which we had declared to be in our minds, because all the great Governments and peoples which united against Germany had adopted our declarations of purpose as their own and had in solemn form embodied them in communciations to the German Government, preliminary to the armistice of as signed at Versailles has been rejected by the Senate of the United States though it has been ratified by Germany. By that rejection and by its method we have in effect declared that we wish to draw apart and pursue objects and interests of our own, unhampered by any connections of interest or of purpose with othre Governments and peoples.

Question Ignored.

"Nothwithstanding the fact that upon our entrance into the war we professed to be seeking to assist in the maintenance of common interests nothing is said in this resolution about the freedom of navigation upon the seas or the reduction of armaments, or the vindication of the rights of Belgium, or the ratification of wrongs done to France, or the release of the Christian population of the Ottoman Empire from the intolerable subjugation which they have had for so many generations to endure, or to the establishment of an independent Polish state, or the continued maintenance of any kind of understanding among the great powers of the world which would be calculated to prevent in the future such outrages as Germany attempted, and in part consumated. We have now in effect declared that we do not care to take any further risks or to assume any further responsibilities with regard to the freedom of nations or the sacredness of international obligation or the safety of independent peoples. Such a peace with Germany—a peace in which none of the essential interests which we had at heart when we entered the war to safeguard—is, or ought to be inconceivable, is inconsistent with the dignity of the United States with the rights and liberties of her citizens, and with the very fundamental conditions of civilization.

"I hope that in these statements I have sufficiently set forth the reasons why I have felt it incumbent upon me to withhold my signature"

'WOODROW WILSON."

ELECTION DATE PROBABLY JULY 8.

Writs Will Be Issued First Week in June.

Special to the Examiner:

WINNIPEG, Man., May 28.—The most probable date of the Manitoba general elections is July 8. Writs authorizing the elections in every constituency, except The Pas and Ruperts Land, where the voting is to be deferred until August, are to be issued the first week in June, probably Thursday, June 4.

PETERBORO DISTRICT LAYMEN ELECTED AT DISTRICT MEETING

SESSION CLOSED YESTERDAY WITH THE APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES.

At the afternoon session of the District Meeting of the Methodist church yesterday, a resolution was moved by Rev. S. F. Dixon, and seconded by Mr. J. A. Jakeman, and unanimously passed, "Whereas, a referendum on the Ontario Temperance Act is to be held in this province, we pledge ourselves and urge upon our people to do everything possible to organize for and poll such a vote as will ensure the virtual annihilation of the retail traffic of intoxicating liquors as a beverage."

Minimum Salary.

A resolution was passed to suggest to the Annual Conference that the minimum salary of Methodist ministers be raised to $1500.

New Sunday School.

Upon motion of Rev. F. E. Malott, seconded by Mr. Decker, it was resolved that a committee be named by the chair to look into the matter of a Sunday school for the new southwest portion of Peterboro, and that a report be made to the district meeting, the committee to be the chairman of the district, the pastor of Trinity church, the pastor of St. James' church, Dr. J. E. Middleton, Mr. J. M. Greene and Rev. M. Lee.

Laymen Elected.

The following laymen were elected as members of the annual conference. Dr. Middleton, 404 Water street, Peterboro; W. C. GOVERNMENT DEFECTIONS.

The fear of what would happen to them in the event of a general election may cause enough of the government members to remain faithful to carry the Union craft safely through the Budget vote, but nevertheless the Administration is already losing strength on the tariff issue and will have to face further defections before the debate concludes. Two western Unionists, H. O. Wright, member for Battleford, and W. A. Buchanan, M.P. for Lethbridge, were the first to announce that they intended to vote for the Fielding amendment and against the government. Mr. Wright is not satisfied with that, but will sit with the cross-benchers, bringing their strength up to fifteen. He frankly informed the government that it would require more than golden promises of tariff reform to cause him to vote for a Budget such as presented by Hon. Mr. Drayton. The developments of the next few days will be awaited with much interest for there are rumours of more bolters from the ranks of the government and there is naturally keen speculation as to the identity of the newest deserters.

THE PRICE OF SHOES.

If the contention of the shoe manufacturers of Canada that it is impossible under present conditions to manufacture reliable boots to retail at less than $12.00 a pair is correct, they are quite justified in asking the government to raise the minimum price for the luxury tax on boots to that figure. Good shoes are a necessity, not a luxury, and if they cannot be purchased for less than $12 there is no logic in imposing a luxury tax of 10 per cent. on boots retailing at $9.00. Sir Henry Drayton declared in his budget speech that one object of the new taxation was to eliminate extravagance, but the buying of reliable boots is not extravagance but rather economy, and the minimum should be established at a figure which is consistent with the current price for shoes of good quality; otherwise the consumer will be forced to pay a "luxury" tax on articles that are absolutely needed.

However, it is up to the manufacturer to show that his claims are correct and that he has been making shoes as cheaply as possible and at a rate of profit that is just and fair. If he can do that and prove that a $9 limit is too low there is every reason to expect that the minimum will be raised. But the people want the proofs first.

THE REVIEW'S PASSING.

To-day marks the passing of The Daily Review, the last issue of that newspaper making its appearance this afternoon. The Review, which has been published continuously in Peterborough for forty years, is another addition to the long list of Ontario newspapers that have been compelled by the rapidly increasing cost of production to cease publication. The casualty list among daily journals in the smaller cities and towns of the province has been a heavy one, for the conditions have steadily grown worse in so far as the expenses in connection with the publishing of a newspaper are concerned, and the newsprint situation is such as to endanger those papers who are still remaining in the field.

From to-day the Examiner will be the only newspaper published in Peterborough ,and upon it will devolve the responsibility of serving the city and district with a daily journal that will give satisfaction to the community, that will combine completeness and accuracy in printing the news of the district with effectiveness in advertising service and the willingness to assist in every worthy movement that has as its aim the betterment of Peterborough and its people. It is our hope to make the Examiner a paper that will be appreciated by every member of every family in the district, that will contain something for everyone. The disappearance of the Review makes the challenge to the management and staff of the Examiner a double one, and no effort will be spared in attempting to measure up to the responsibility. The Examiner is at the service of the community.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS.

The Mothers' Pensions Bill introduced by the Drury government, has been given its third reading in the Legislature and has become law. It will be welcomed as a progressive piece of leigslation, that has long been suggested by those who realized that the children of Ontario were the province's greatest asset and that conditions which deprived a widowed mother of an opportunity of properly bringing up her family could not fail to be detrimental to the public interest. There are those who would have liked to have seen the government go even further in affording assistance to families from which the bread-winner has been removed. As the legislation stands at present, widows but with one child are not included, not matter what their financial condition may be. Perhaps after a year's trial of the present measure the government will be prepared at the next session to amend the Act so as to bring widows with but one child within the scope of the bill.

The Act as passed provides that a widow with two or more children under the age of fourteen or the wife of a man who is an inmate of an insane asylum or of a man who is permanently disabled and unable to contribute to the support of his family may receive a monthly allowance. It is stipulated, however that she must be a British subject or the wife of a British subject and must be a resident of Ontario when she makes application for an allowance and must remain a resident as long as she is in receipt of the pension.

A COMMENDABLE MOVEMENT.

The decision of the Central branch of the G.W.V.A. in Winnipeg to open negotiations by means of correspondence with the various units of the American Legion and the Grand Army of the Republic in the United States to offset the spirit of jingoism on both sides of the line and to cement the greatly improved friendliness between the Canadian and American people as a result of the war is a move that deserves the warmest commendation and is an indication that the Winnipeg veterans realize that as an association they have other responsibilities than merely looking after their own interests. There is undoubtedly some need of a movement such as the Winnipeg G.W.V.A. propose, for there are feather-brained individuals in both countries who are most happy when they are causing trouble by upsetting friendly relationships. Co-operation by the veterans' associations would go a long way towards counteracting the effects of such foolishness. The men who fought, learned to know each other in the strain of the world's greatest war, they appreciate the fact that the hearts of the people of both countries are sound and they realize that the talk indulged in by some newspapers and a few public men on both sides of the boundary line is only from, painful perhaps to hear, but bearing no resemblance to the real sentiment of the people. Good luck to the campaign of the Winnipeg veterans. They are undertaking a true service for both the United States and Canada and are proving that the Veterans of Canada have other thoughts than those that concern gratuities.

SUPERANNUATION.

The Ontario United Farmers, who found the work of criticism in public affairs an easy one, now that they have the responsibility of governing, are experiencing some of the difficulties which the old parties had to meet and for which the critics too often made small allowances. Many things which seemed simple and easy when viewed from the Opposition or Independent seats present themselves in a different light when regarded from the seats of the mighty —the seats of responsibility. The question of a pension system—superannuation it is called—for the Civil service, is a case in point. Farmers have to a large extent regarded such a system with disfavour. Working hard themselves, depending entirely on their own efforts for present sustenance and for the making of provision for the evening of life, they do not easily see the necessity of the country providing pensions for officials who, from the farmer's viewpoint, are already favored in having what some call "soft Government jobs."

The United Farmers of Ontario appear to have largely held this view of the question. It was therefore a shock to some of them when, a few days ago, their own Government, led by Mr. Drury, announced in the Ontario Legislature their intention to establish a pension system for the Civil Service of the Province. The Secretary of the farmers' organization ,a particularly energetic member of it, who, however, is not in the Legislature, proceeded to set on foot a movement to prevent the consummation of a policy which was regarded by many of the farmers as a flagrant departure from U.F.O. principles. A protest has been signed by a number of the Government's supporters in the House. Mr. Drury is standing to his guns and seems determined to proceed with the pension policy. If he has to rely entirely on his ordinary support his government might be placed in a dangerous position on this question. But it is probable that the loss of support from his own party will be more than compensated by gains from the old parties, and that he will be able to carry his measure.

At Ottawa, too there is a movement to provide a pension system for the Civil Servants, as well as for the military. Many old officials are still under the operation of a pension system which was established a long time ago. Officials whose appointments came within the last twenty years are not so favored. For them there is what is called a "Retirement Fund"—a compulsory saving of a part of the official's salary. Useful though this has proved in some cases, experience has shown that as a rule it fails to provide the means to enable the official to retire in comfort when he reaches the age of inefficiency, and that consequently a large number who have reached that condition are still retained in the service. To meet the situation the government are proposing a return to the former superannuation system for these as well as for the older ones who are still on the superannuation list.

The governments at Ottawa and Toronto are to be commended for their frank recognition of the fact that provision should be made for the retirement upon decent allowances, of those officials who have in their day rendered faithful and efficient service and who, by reason of advancing years, are not able to contine efficient work. There is something to be said against pensions from the farmers' standpoint. But all who are connected with large enterprises calling for the employment of many people, are beginning to realize that efficiency is best promoted by the assurance of comfort in old age. Our larger corporations, banks, railways, insurance companies, etc., find it necessary to have pension funds in order that they may retain the services of their best men. It is only right that the Civil Service should do likewise. In one form or another in all ranks of service the movement for making some provision for old age is commanding the world's attention.—Journal of Commerce.

OPENING OF SOUTH BEACH SUMMER RESORT

THIS POPULAR KAWARTHA LAKES RESORT WILL OPEN WITH A DANCE ON JUNE 5TH.

Mr. Wm. Brooks, proprietor of South Beach announces the opening for Friday night, June 4th. Last season the summer hotel became very popular and some of the most enjoyable dances of the season were held there. The opening will take the form of a big dance, Friday June and with good music an excellent time is assured. 2d 125

AVOID ALUM IN FOOD

Baking Powder is one of the most important food ingredients. Alum or other injurious acids are frequently used by some concerns to lower the cost of production.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

Contains No Alum

It is a pure phosphate baking powder and is guaranteed to be the best, purest and most healthful baking powder possible to produce.

W. Matthew Williams, in "Chemistry of Cooking," says: "Phosphates are the bone-making material of food and have something to do with building up of brain and nervous matter."

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

MAN'S VANITY EQUALS THAT OF WOMAN

CHAPTER CXXXIII

One more things ran smoothly for a time, altho, often the thought of Mrs. Currie would intrude for a moment, and a half regret that I had not learned what was in that letter when I had a chance. But the change in Everett had been more pronounced since her visit. He had treated me more as a woman, less as a child, or school girl who needed to be corrected for what she had done as well as told what she might do.

I was often surprised as well as pleased —when he asked my opinion of something or consulted me about his affairs. It made me very proud and happy.

I looked and felt brighter and happier than for a long time; consequently I looked younger. One day I suddenly noticed that Everett had a few gray hairs, and told him so in a shocked voice. Alice Sloane came in one evening soon afterward, and she also noticed he was beginning to turn gray, and joked him a bit about it.

"You shouldn't allow yourself to get gray," she said, "Lots of men go to the hair parlours nowadays and have their gray hairs touched up; especially those who have such young wives."

"You think I should go, do you?" he asked in a laughing manner.

"I certainly do — for your own sake."—

"They might say I was Sandra's grandfather, eh?" he rejoined. Alice laughed, but I sensed the bitterness in the speech. That was what my young friends had called him before we were married, "grandpa", and I knew he had resented it then and still hated to have anyone compare our ages.

"Indeed they will if you allow yourself to get gray!" Alice would not look at me, so my warning glances were wasted. "Sandra doesn't look a day over 18, and you can't afford to look over 40".

"I wish I were but forty," he replied so seriously we both laughed. "Sandra isn't much over 18 you know."

"What a libel! One would think the years had stood still for me, while they were running away with Everett," I said to Alice. "I have grown old just as fast as you have," I turned now to Everett, "thank goodness!"

"I know, you always wanted to be older," he smiled at me, "I never could quite understand why. Youth is the greatest thing in the world."

"I thought love was," Alice broke in. Then: "Well, good people, I must run along and leave you to settle on this age question by yourselves. But remember, Mr. Graham, lots of men get their hair touched up, nowadays," and she ran laughing mischievously from the room.

"What a nice girl Alice is. So full of fun," I remarked after she left. Everett made no answer. He seemed to be in a brown study.

The next day Everett came home late for dinner, something most unusual for him. Either he came in good time, or not at all. He had not telephoned, as he now invariably did, so I had waited.

"I'm terribly late, Sandra, I hope you will excuse me," he said in his courteous manner. But I noticed something strange about him; he was flurried, ill at ease, I never had seen him so before.

"Something gone wrong at the office, perhaps," I thought as I waited for him to freshen up. He had said he wouldn't dress if I would excuse him. Usually only something quite important kept him from dressing for dinner, that night it was simply because he was late.

He was ready in a very few moments and we sat down to dinner. His manner still puzzled me. He kept looking at me in such a peculiar manner, as if he were trying to see what I was thinking. After a while it got on my nerves and I asked:

"Whats' the matter, Everett? Something gone wrong at the office to-day?"

"No, why do you ask?"

"You act so—well—as if you—had done something; or as if something usual had happened."

"No, there is nothing."

After dinner he asked for some music. As he leaned over the piano looking for a song he had brought home a few days before, I saw that he was no longer gray.

"You have been to a beauty parlor!" I exclaimed Then I laughed immoderately, paying no attention to his embarrassment. I knew then what had made him act so peculiar thru dinner.

To-morrow—Alice Sloane is Cautioned.

China had women soldiers long before they were known in Russia. During the Tae Ping rebellion in 1850, women as well as men served in the ranks. In Nanking, in 1853, an army of 500,000 women was recruited. They were commanded by women officers.

THE MILITARY AVIATOR.

He Must Be a Soldier, a Mechanic and Absolutely Fearless.

It takes nine months to make a military aviator. This profession makes the severest possible demand upon the resources of the individual. It requires a combination of physique, of courage, of nerve poise, to make the expert flier, while to do the work of an aviator in war involves technical skill that can hardly be characterized as short of scientific.

The military flier must be a soldier, a mechanic and a daredevil. Besides sailing his craft and fighting his enemies, he must be mathematician enough to make his observations, artist enough to take photographs, telegrapher enough to operate his wireless, navigator enough to pick his way by means of map and compass over unfamiliar landscapes and resourceful enough to contend with fog, with cloud and with the thousand and one contingencies which the hazards of the air involve. Furthermore, his most difficult technical duties must be performed while that element of the death constant with which he always rides is augmented by the nasty rattle of aerial machine guns around and above him and the yap of bursting anti-aircraft shells which pursue him from below. No man with the effects of dissipation vitiating his blood and unsettling his nerves can be trusted with the issues of the air.—Peter Clark Macfarlane in Collier's Weekly.

LIVING IN JAPAN.

Hard Work For the Middle Classes to Make Both Ends Meet.

Dr. Takata, Japanese minister of education, has recently published a book concerning economic conditions in Japan. The pinch comes harder upon the middle classes than upon the lower classes since the former must not only live, but must keep up a respectable appearance on salaries no greater than those that men who work at trades receive.

For example, according to Dr. Takata, a primary school teacher earns $15.50 a month, but his lowest budget for a family of four reaches $17.33. His wife must do work at home to earn the deficit. A magazine editor and writer who has a wife, two children and a maid spends $32.75 monthly on household sundries. His earnings are irregular, but always below his expenses. He has been compelled to borrow money from his wife's relatives, and her trousseau is not unknown to the pawnshops.

The learned author states that two-thirds of the Tokyo doctors earn no more than $50 a month. Obviously the professional classes of Japan are in the grip of conditions that are far from enviable.

Washington Monument.

The cornerstone of the Washington monument was laid on its fine site, which overlooks Washington, Georgetown, Arlington and Mount Vernon, by President Polk July 4, 1848. Its marble shaft rises in all the dignity of unadorned simplicity to the height of 555 feet. The base of the shaft is fifty-five feet square, and it gradually tapers until at the 500 foot point it has diminished to less than thirty-five feet. This monument is said to contain 18,000 blocks of marble, each two feet thick. They were lifted on an elevator run by steam, suspended in an inner framework of iron, which was built up at intervals, thirty or forty feet at a time, in advance of the surrounding masonry. The aluminum capstone, nine inches high, was set in position Dec. 6, 1884, thirty-six years and a half after the cornerstone was laid.

Nature Teaches Inventors.

"We get our hints from nature," the inventor said. "Take, for instance, the hollow pillar, which is stronger than the solid one. The wheat straw showed us the superior strength of the hollow pillar. Solid, the wheat straw would be unable to support its head of grain. Where did man get his idea for carriage springs? From the hoofs of the horse, which, like the springs derived from them, are made from parallel plates. Scissors we get from the jaws of the tortoise, which are natural scissors; chisels from the squirrel, who carries them in his mouth; adzes from the hippopotamus, whose ivories are adzes of the best design; the plane from from the bee's jaws; the triphammer from the woodpecker."

Homespun Philosophy.

Don't wear out shoe leather seekin' trouble, for it's all time huntin' you and wondering why you live so far.

The fields will answer the world's prayer for its daily bread if it's in earnest with the handlin' of the hoe.

Some folks ask neither poverty nor riches, but only middlin' ground and somebody to till it for 'em.

Minimum of Waste.

"No waste, now, ma; no waste. We all gotta help."

"You attend to your own business," snapped ma with some acerbity. "The only things I throw away are tea leaves and eggshells."

Meager Achievement.

"Methuselah was the oldest man."

"Yes," replied Mr. Groucher. "But so far as I've been able to find out he was one of those men who devote their time strictly to growing old and never attempt anything else.

Quick to Hear.

Wifey—That Mrs. Brown must be an awful gossip. I never can tell her anything but what she's heard it before.—London Answers.

Being Fine.

Dick, whose father drives an automobile, is much interested in the operating of the car, especially the position of the gear shift lever. One day when some one asked him how his little sister, who was sick with the flu, was getting along, he replied: "O she is getting along fine; her fever was down to neutral this morning."

WARSAW NEWS HAPPENINGS

The young people at Cotesloe held a box social last Friday evening. There was a good atendance and plenty of nice boxes, which sold well. The work done by the young people was good. Unfortunately they were depending on outside talent for much of the programme. As their friends were unable to be there the programme was curtailed.

Good Programme.

The Warsaw Methodist Junior Bible class held their annual entertainment and social in the basement of the Methodist church this evening. The basement was so full all could not be seated, so it was quite a success financially. The programme was well rendered and well received. All sang "O Canada." There were recitations by Miss May MacDonald and Miss Nora Bowen. Mr. Henry Batten sank "The Flanders Fields." Mr. Stark (mouth organ), Mr. Stark (mandolin) and Miss Smith (guitar) gave two instrumental selections. Two young ladies from Indian River sang. Rev. J. Knox recited Tennyson's "The Revenge." Little Miss Ruth Stark sang "The Golden Gate." After "God Save the King" had been sung, ice cream and cake was served and a pleasant social time was spent.

In the Churches.

There was service in the Anglican church yesterday. Mr. Stringer of Young's Point, officiated. There will be service every other Sunday there anyway and probably every Sunday.

There were the regular services in the Baptist church, Rev. Vose officiating.

The Methodist church had the regular Sunday school service in morning and preaching service in the evening. They have their weekly prayer service on Wednesday evening.

There was a special practice in the Methodist basement on Wednesday evening to prepare for the S. S. convention in Zion to-morrow evening.

Rev. Galvin Graham was present at the Presbyterian Sunday school and conducted the morning and evening services at Warsaw and the afternoon service at Cotesloe. Mr. Graham is not preaching for a call. After the evening service Rev. Graham baptized Mr. Allan Dunford's infant daughter.

The minister who is expected to officiate in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath, will remain the week in Warsaw and conduct the services on the following Sabbath.

Cash Prizes For Boys and Girls.

In the development of type and quality in live stock public competition is a dominant educational factor. The show ring is the sorting house for type and quality and it is there through contrast that desirable animal charcteristics stand out in the most instructive manner.

The Canadian Bankers' Competitions, promoted to impress upon the younger generation the great importance of good breeding and feeding in farm live stock, provide such public competitions for boys and girls. Banking institutions in co-operation with the Dominion Department of Agriculture, offer attractive cash prizes to boys and girls woh feed and exhibit pigs and calves at the local fair. Full instructions with regard to these competitions can be obtained from the local branch bank manager, who will be glad to assist prospective competitors in every way.

Warsaw bank open Tuesdays and Fridays 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark and family and Miss Smith (Mrs. Stark's sister) are living in the house lately occupied by Mrs. Roberts.

Water Low.

The water is low in Indian River this spring and the falls at the head of Quarry Lake look little like what they usually do at this time. They are pretty and well worth a visit. Just above the falls is a cave, which is well worth exploring. Just below them in a jutting crag sixty or more feet high, is what is known as the "potash kettle," a double pot hole, about 8 feet deep and over 4 feet in diameter at the top. The upper pot hole is about four feet deep and then a second one not quite in the middle, but about four feet deep. Unfortunately frost and other causes have broken away part of the bottom within the last four years. In the crevices near the pothole there is still snow, and ice may be seen in some of them at any time. Quarry lake has beauties which surpass many that people travel far to see.

The wardrobe of the late Princess Lobanoff, (nee Dolgoruk) was one of the most amazing displays of clothing ever seen. Dying at sixty-three the Princess left a prodigious collection of every kind of garment. From the time she was seventeen she hoarded clothing. Her evening dresses numbered hundreds. She had 300 tea gowns alone. She had tens of dozens of every article of underwear, never worn, never unpinned, or unfolded, with the tissue paper just as the work girls had packed them. The wardrobe was sold recently by auction, when Paris dealers bid against each other for her lingerie, $1,000 to $1,200 for each lot of six pairs of knickers. Parisiennes were eager, too, to sleep in the Princess' sheets, and one bundle of five was knocked down for $500.

SICK HEADACHE
For Last 10 Years

Headaches affect all ages and both sexes alike, but in all cases the treatment should be directed to remove the cause for with the cause removed the headaches vanish for all time.

What is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all descriptions than Burdock Blood Bitters acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Flora Hall, Dominion, N.S., writes:—"I have been troubled with sick headaches for the last ten years. I had lost faith in all remedies until recently a friend of mine advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. This I did, and found relief in a very short time. I would now recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is suffering as I did. I only took 3 bottles, and am never troubled with sick headaches anymore."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A trial of the engines submitted was made on one October morning in 1829, when four "fine engines" were produced. One, however, couldn't be got to move, so was withdrawn, and of the other three, the Novelty, by Messrs. Braithwaite & Ericson, promised good results. An accident to the boiler crippled it, however. This left two engines competng, the Sans Pareil (which met with an accident) and the Rocket, by Messrs. Robert Stephenson & Booth. The latter surpassed the stipulated conditions, and took the prize.

DESTRUCTION IN IRELAND

KILBRITAIN CASTLE, ONE OF THE ANCIENT LANDMARKS OF COUNTRY, DESTROYED BY FIRE.

DUBLIN, May 27.—The destruction of property in Ireland by fires is continuing. Tuesday evening Kilbritain Castle, near Brandon, County Cork, one of Ireland's ancient landmarks, was destroyed. It is estimated that the damage was $500,000. The castle was unoccupied. The reports do not state the cause of the fire.

Damage estimated at $300,000 was caused by fire on the farm of Major Pollock at Gaveen, Ballinasloe. The members of the family escaped with difficulty. Several valuable horses were burned. The police and military helped extinguish the flames. Reports of the fire received here allege that villagers who watched the fire would not render assistance in putting it out.

Other reports of fires received include news of an attempt to burn the courthouse at Waterville, County Derry. The police saved the building, but valuable records were destroyed. The courthouse at Cloyne, County Cork, was burned.

One hundred men attacked the police barracks at Long's Gorge, Galway, but were beaten off.

The coroner's court has been receiving attentions from the campaigners. The members of a jury who sat in an inquest on two policemen who were killed received a notice informing them that they "had been tried and found guilty of treason," and must bear the consequences.

CONTROL OF LAND.

Control of Irish land by the Sinn Fein is very effective, as is instanced by an occurrence at Carrick-on-Shannon, which was reported here. A farmer named Morrison was summoned before the Sinn Fein land committee to show why he had attempted to buy land over the heads of young men of the district who did not own property. He had just purchased a grazing farm for $3,500, and told the committee he had bought it for his two brothers in the United States. The committee warned him to surrender it immediately, which he agreed to do with reluctance.

Unknown persons have seized and sunk Lord Kingston's yach, the Meelah, at Carrick-on-Shannon, apparently because Lord Kingston entered a claim for $10,000 for the destruction of a police barrack on his property. The claim was subsequently withdrawn, but no public announcement of this step had been made.

SAGE AND SULPHER DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Colour, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked, or grey. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay grey! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and attractive.

POWER OF MONEY.

And the Danger That May Come With Undue Love of Wealth.

It is convenient to have money. We all see many ways in which we would like to use it. But when we have money we are all apt to wish it just a little more. Who is to say what is the exact amount it is right that we should possess? Wishes, tastes, desires, differ. We ourselves do not know what our limit should be.

With too much money one is likely to become conceited, to lose sympathy and be hard hearted and more than likely regardless of the means he takes to add to his store. If he has too little he may be envious of others, embittered toward society, tempted to dishonesty, or there may be real suffering for need of what money can buy. No one, not even the man in a prison cell, can live in any degree of comfort without money. It is necessary to life.

Yet there are many things of greater value than money, things that money cannot buy, that are necessary to our welfare. Undue love of money is a poison in the soul, eating out what is of most worth. We may pay too high a price for its acquisition. We should judge our desire for money by our purpose, our motive in wanting it. Money is a power for good or evil, as we choose to use it

To Hold False Teeth In Place Use PASTE COREGA

NAPS BETWEEN EDITIONS.

They Have a Nice, Easy Going Way on Newspapers in Japan.

Eleven o'clock at night in an American morning paper is the rush hour. Typewriters click frantically, and copy boys haven't a minute to sit down and digest the baseball scores. It's the time of night when the editors are widest awake.

I chose that time, therefore, to visit the office of the Nichi Nichi, in Tokyo, says Archie Bell in the World Outlook. I wanted to find things moving at their height. The Nichi Nichi is a big morning daily, popular with the masses.

Presenting myself at the sidewalk entrance of the big building in which it is published, I roused a couple of sleeping porters, who allowed me to pass. Every one I encountered in the anterooms was asleep, with the exception of some office boys, who were preparing tea. It was like walking through the palace of the Sleeping Beauty, where every one had been sent to sleep in the midst of his task.

I was taken to the office of the telegraph editor. Fortunately, he was awake.

"The first edition has gone to press, so virtually every one has gone to sleep," he said to me, "but we will take a look around."

And what he said was true. We went to editorial sanctums, one after another, and when we didn't nearly stumble over an editor asleep on the floor we found him stretched out asleep on his desk.

Japanese editors do not believe in keeping awake at night when waiting for the late news to come in. If they do not publish it today or tomorrow they may be able to get it in the next day. What is the use of killing an article because something of greater importance arrives later in the evening? The newer stuff will make good "copy" for another day.

ACTORS OUT OF A JOB.

No Matter How Discouraged, They Must Smile and Look Prosperous.

In the American Magazine Walter Prichard Eaton says:

"Did you ever hunt for a job—any job? It isn't a form of indoor or outdoor sport that you would naturally choose, is it? It doesn't add greatly to your self esteem, your self confidence, the development of your powers, to come home tired and discouraged night after night. And player folk are peculiarly sensitive to such influences, or they would not be players. It is bad enough to rust in idleness, but it is worse to feel that you are not wanted or that you are forgotten or that you have to be judged by ignorant men, even by office boys, your chance even to earn a living depending on the tastes of those you often despise.

"Yet the actor or the actress must show none of this feeling. He or she must keep up a smiling front, must look prosperous and well dressed, youthful and charming, for the shabby actor has no chance at all. Walk along Broadway in July when the casts are being selected for the following season and observe the players on the sidewalks, conversing on the corners, coming out of the office buildings. The men are jaunty; they swing sticks; they look just a shade too 'fashionable.' The women wear their prettiest frocks and always silk stockings. But sometimes you catch a worried look on their faces, a look even of apprehension. Alone, and a mask seems to drop. Not all of them go to the Knickerbocker for luncheon—far from it. There are little cubbyhole lunchrooms where you will find these cane swinging and silk stockinged bearers of the banner of romance. They are hunting jobs, and some of them in vain."

SELLING AS AN ART.

The Road to Success, and the Reason Some Salesmen Fail.

In a story about a wonderful salesman a writer says in the American Magazine:

"Asked for his views on salesmanship and to give suggestions that would be helpful to others, he said: 'Any person can sell to any man who wants to buy, but it takes a salesman to sell to the man who doesn't want to buy. It took me five months in one case to work my way into the confidence of a wealthy man who hated life insurance agents, and we had been acquainted a month before he discovered that I was selling insurance. He later had me write him up for a $10,000 policy.

"'A salesman should know his goods forward and backward, know human nature like he knows the alphabet and not lie. Self confidence, which is indispensable to success, results from exact knowledge of what you are offering to sell and knowledge of your prospect.

"'Salesmen sometimes fail because they have a set way of dealing with all kinds of people. That will never do. They should learn to adapt themselves to all sorts and conditions of men and women. Use an easy conversational tone. Be natural. Don't get excited or talk loud. Make strong, positive assertions about your goods. You must be absolutely certain that the article you are selling is the very best on earth. Then stop talking before you kill the sale by talking too much.'"

Fireproof Paper.

Patents have been taken out at various times for paper which is claimed to be proof against fire and therefore particularly suitable for documentary records. Most of these papers contain asbestos or a similar mineral fiber, with or without the addition of clays or metallic salts.—London Standard.

Why Do People Take Monkey Glands?

Rejuvenation, both physically and mental, can be acquired, much easier and more pleasantly than by taking or eating the glands from monkeys. The French have invented a Medicine, in tablet form, that does away with all other means of rejuvenation. These Tablets are now universally sold throughout Canada, and are known as VITAL Tablets. They supply the necessary Vigor and Youth. There is no need to import chimpanzees from Africa, to take their glands to inject into people. Why go to all this trouble, and expense, when VITAL Tablets can now be procured right in your own town from your drug store? VITAL Tablets taken for a short period, disease of every description, old age with all its aches and pains, will be a thing of the past. Young men and women with their pale faces, thin blood, impure blood, blotches on the skin, run down, worn out, tired people, can be placed in a state of good health, with pure blood, strong nerves, a strong stomach, a healthy body, full of youth and vigor. Every Tablet of this new medicine contains the elements to make you feel as nature intended you to feel, no matter what your trouble is, go to your druggis tand procure a box of VITAL Tablets. If they do not do you good, go back and get your money. Get on your feet away with that pale, worn out look on the face. VITAL will bring back the rose of youth. Price fifty cents per box at all drug stores.

WHERE DUTY CALLED.

He Was "at the Front" When the Crisis Came, and He Won.

In the spring of 1913 occurred the disastrous floods in Ohio. Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, could not rest content with merely directing relief from his office in Baltimore. He rushed immediately to the scene of suffering and destruction, where he remained till the danger was past.

A New York banker, whose influence and friendship were much needed by the Baltimore and Ohio, ran down to Baltimore. He was a man to whom time is money—in capital letters—and he had a positive date with Daniel Willard. But when he reached the railroad offices the president was gone.

"He's at the front," said one of his secretaries and explained how the chief had gone out to Camden station on the preceding night. A message canceling the engagement had been sent to New York—Willard is most punctilious in such matters—but it had failed to arrive.

The banker frowned. He was not in the habit of hurrying to see railroaders who were seeking loans and then having them fail to keep appointments with him. But when he was back in his own office the next day and the newspaper extras were telling of the catastrophe that had swept over Ohio he sent a personal message to the president of the Baltimore and Ohio. It told him that he might draw for as much money as he needed to put his railroad on its feet again.

"He's at the front."

That was the thing that had hit the Wall street man clean between the eyes.—Everybody's.

GRAVEDIGGER BEETLES.

These Queer Insects Have a Remarkable Sense of Smell.

When an animal dies in a garden or in the woods and decomposition begins carrion bugs come from far and near. A dead bird, a mouse or a harmless snake wantonly killed by some wanderer provides a banquet for hundreds of insects. Among these the "gravediggers" are found, embracing forty-three species, twelve of which are found in Europe, the rest in America.

You can identify these beetles, says the Popular Science Monthly, by the two jagged yellowish red or reddish transverse bands upon their black wing covers. Their scientific name, necrophorus, means no more than "buriers of the dead." As undertakers the insects have legs especially adapted for digging.

A gravedigger beetle has a most extraordinary sense of smell. He can detect the peculiar odor of decomposition a long distance away and flies to the dead thing as straight as an arrow. His remarkably keen nose is situated in his clublike feelers.

As a rule several gravediggers are found near a dead body. They crawl under it and scratch the supporting earth away, so that the body soon lies in a hollow. Gradually the body is lowered until it sinks below the surface. Then it is covered with earth. The female lays her eggs around the interred form, thus insuring for the newly hatched larvae a plentiful food supply.

Emeralds and Beryls.

There is no decline in the vogue of the emerald, using the word not in the generic sense of the trade, but for a beryl of the accepted green emerald hue. Fine specimens always cause a flutter in the auction room, for the very good reason that those are extremely rare. Perfect stones are as costly as fine rubies and, of course, much more so relatively than diamonds.

The Duke of Devonshire owns what is believed to be the largest and nearest faultlessness in existence, and it came from Muzo, in Colombia, the main source of modern examples. The ancient emeralds of great magnitude we read of were probably not beryls at all, and, indeed, "oriental emerald" is the designation of the green corundum.—London Chronicle.

Delicately Put.

WOULD YOU WIN SUCCESS?

Then Play the Game of Safety First, and Play It Well.

All the world loves a winner when the contest has been fairly played. The local baseball team receives far greater enthusiasm and support when it is winning than when it is repeatedly losing. We praise the accomplishment of a difficult feat. Each one of us hails the skill and tenacity of purpose that puts over any great achievement. Things requiring the clear head, the watchful eye, the skillful hand and the bulldog grip of determination get our hearty commendation.

Said Abraham Lincoln, "I don't think much of the man who is not wiser today than he was yesterday." No truer words could be written of the safety first game. If you would be a winner, each day must find you wiser, keener and more alert than the day before. It is a contest in which we match our determination to have no suffering from accidents to ourselves and fellowmen against little acts of thoughtlessness and carelessness that bring these results.

Nor is this game ever ended. Each new day calls for a better score. New conditions surround us, and all of our faculties, the best that is in us, are challenged to increased effort. To have our work really well done it must be safely done, and none of us wants any less than the best.

For your own sake, for the sake of the family at home, the wife and children, the mother or sister, play the game, and play it well. Play it with the interest, the spirit, the enthusiasm, that will make you win. It will take all your skill and ability to play it right.

Yesterday is gone—forget it.
Tomorrow is yet to come—plan for it.
Today is here—use it.

Birds Weigh Themselves.

An ingenious naturalist has been making the tomtits record their weight. In order to obtain the food which he places for them they have to alight upon what appears to be a twig, but is in reality the beam of a tiny scale. As they rest upon it so they register their weight, which averages about one-third of an ounce per bird—forty-eight tomtits to the pound

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS IN LOCAL BANKS ARE ON THE INCREASE

THE AVERAGE PETERBORO CITIZEN IS TUCKING A LITTLE MONEY AWAY FOR A RAINY DAY.

Despite the high cost of everything savings bank accounts throughout the country are growing gradually, local bank managers state. This is due largely, it is thought, to the large amount of money in circulation brought about by the inflation of currency and those who have the saving habit are as a result able to lay a little more aside.

Bond Situation.

The bond situation at present is fair and there is some buying of war bonds due to their present low price. It is generally believed that to a certain extent the public has been educated to investing through the medium of war loans, though lack of capital is a draw back to investment practically all available capital being required for productive purposes.

Mortgages are suffering considerably at present on account of the fact that money which ordinarily is invested in mortgages was diverted into war loans during the past five years.

NEW SUBSTITUTE FOR SUGAR

The United States Bureau of Chemistry has been conducting an investigation to discover suitable substitutes for sugar. The Bureau has found that malt sugar is a satisfactory substitute, for it is very sweet and has something of the flavor of honey. A recent bulletin says:

"While malt sugar has long been known to the chemists its production on a commercial scale is only just beginning. Two factors have recently stimulated its production. The shortage of sugar has developed a market for it, and the recent prohibition law made available both the raw material and the machinery needed for its manufacture. Malt-sugar syrup is made from the same grains as beer and may be made from corn or potatoes or any plant containing starch. Barley, which was used until recently in the manufacture of beer, can be used now to produce malt-sugar syrup.

"Breweries with very little change, can be used and are now being used for its manufacture. Up to a certain point the process for making malt-sugar syrup is the same as the process for making beer. Evaporating pans are the principal additional equipment required by breweries to become malt-sugar syrup factories

"Malt-sugar syrup looks very much like maple syrup. It can be used for everything that cane-sugar is used for. While its use on the table may not be quite as convenient as sugar it is a most excellent substitute for table use when sugar is not to be had as it not only provides sweetness but is equal to sugar in food values. For cooking and for baking purposes and for making candy it is not only equal to sugar in convenience and food value, but is superior for some uses because it will not so readily crystallize.

"Malt-sugar syrup is now being sold in large quantities to commercial bakeries and candy and soft drink manufacturers who use it in place of sugar. The wholesale price as quoted in recent advertisements in trade papers and elsewhere is from seven to nine cents per pound in barrel lots. Many retail grocers do not handle it yet because there has been little demand for it on the part of housewives. Grocers can now obtain it, and no doubt will be glad to do so as the demand for it increases. Our housewives can well conserve their dwingling supply of sugar by using it in cooking, baking and home made confections, and even on the table for sweetening coffee, oatmeal and desserts. It can be used for every purpose for which sugar is used. If the housewives want it the grocers will get it.

"Although malt-sugar syrup is being called upon, so far as household use is concerned, merely as a pinch-hitter in the present emergency, the specialists expect that it will make such a batting average that it will hereafter have a regular place in the batting order. This is a case where the substitute makes so good that the regular article, whose place it takes, may have to warm the bench. While it is not likely that this new sweet will replace sugar for table use in normal times it undoubtedly will make a place for itself in the household as it is doing in the manufacture of food products. It is an excellent, wholesome syrup, and on account of its delicious flavor is superior to sugar for some purposes in cooking and baking"—San Francisco and Pacific Druggist.

NEW ATTRACTIONS OF SPARK'S CIRCUS

Many New Attractions With Sparks Circus Coming to Peterboro, Tuesday.

Tuesday, the rushing of switch engines as they clatter here and there in the Grand Trunk railroad yards with great strings of gaudily painted yellow cars.

Tuesday the tugging of horses and a rush of work for several hundred persons that a city may reap a benefit of happiness. For Tuesday the circus is coming, coming with its truckling wagons, its shouting, hard working "razor backs" and seat plank men, its horde of performers— many from strange lands, its waving banners and flags, its brass throated bands.

For Tuesday, out at the Exhibition show grounds there will rise the great dun colored tents of the "biggest circus in the world", while the work men hurry here and there in the preparations for the afternoon show and the performers wander about the lot looking for the landmarks that were memories of their last visit here. But all that is beside the case.

The fact is that the circus is coming to town and that before noon Tuesday, while the great parade winds its way thru the principal streets, the big tents of the Sparks World Famous Shows will be ready and waiting for the crowds it will invite. And incidentally, there are plenty of new attractions this year to bring those crowds. There will be the Sparks stable of manege, marble-like statute and tango dancing horses including "Caesar" the Champion high jumping horse of the world and holder of the record 7ft. 4 1-2 inches. There will be the group of monster bears that skate, ride bicycles, wrestle box, walk the tight rope and play musical instruments. Two large herds of elephants worked entirely by lady trainers is also one of the unusual sights of this modern circus All in all, 250 performers-animal and human- participate in the performances. Just as a sort of display of all the features of the show a sample of every thing is to be shown in the parade which will be given at 10.30 o'clock Tuesday.

The Bargain Annex Will Be Open All Day Saturday

To Enable Us to Make the Last Saturday of Progressive Month An Unparalleled Success

THE MONTH OF MAY AT THE CRESSMAN STORE HAS BEEN A MONTH OF PROGRESS in every sense of the word, and to-morrow promises to be the greatest day of all for the Annex and the other floors are crowded with goods that have been reduced, not a little but greatly. There is not one item in this advertisement that is unworthy of your inspection.

The Little Tree That You Have Planted to Shade Your Lawn

will not serve its purpose for many years. Each summer you will notice the older parts spreading and becoming sturdier, and young branches getting under way. We refuse to consider this store full grown so long as new branches are being added, and we continue to plan for the future.

The Cressman Co. Ltd.

Fifty Dozen "Kayser" and "Queen Quality" $1.50 Silk Gloves at $1.27 Pair

There Is Absolutely Nothing Wrong with Them

Every pair of our entire stock of silk gloves in these makes at this price will be on sale. All have double-tipped fingers and two-domed wrists, and first buyers will have choice of white, silver grey, palm beach, dark grey, pongee and black. There is a good range of sizes. Buy your season's supply on Saturday.

In The Annex You Will Find

ANNEX LEADER

Thirty Dozen Overall Aprons at 59c Each

The material alone is worth more. They are made of Canadian print in light, dark and medium colors—striped and figured patterns. The edges of the neck and sleeves are bound with white tape. There is a useful patch pocket in front. When you see them you will be surprised that we are able to sell such a good apron at such a low price.

"P. & G. Naphtha" and "Gold" Laundry Soaps, 8 for 69c

They are the largest size bars on the market to-day and the wholesale price is $10 for a case of one hundred bars of either line. Figure it out and you will find that you are buying it cheaper than we can. To-morrow's price is practically 8½c a bar. No 'phone or C.O.D. orders will be accepted and there is a limit of two lots to one buyer.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING DISTRIBUTION OF THE EXAMINER

WILL FURNISH READERS OF THE DAILY REVIEW WITH EXAMINER, COMMENCING TO-MORROW.

The purchase of the Daily and Weekly Review newspapers by the Peterborough Examiner Limited, which was announced last week, will result in the absorption of the Review subscribers by the Examiner to-morrow. The lists have been checked over and the Review readers will receive a copy of Saturday's Examiner. In the difficulty of taking on a list of names and getting the papers to each subscriber there might be some omissions, and if such is the case we trust they will be reported to the office.

Subscription Rates.

As announced in the Examiner for more than a week, all unpaid subscriptions dating from June 1st will be charged for at the rate of 50c. per month, delivered in the city or called for at the office. This is the first advance in the subscription price of the Examiner in over thirty years, although costs have been mounting rapidly.

Single copies of the paper will be sold at the office at 3c. and by the newsboys on the street at the same figure. Newsboys will sell the papers by the week for 15c.

Subscriptions out of town will be 40c. per month. No variation can be made in any case from these figures, as the cost and scarcity of newsprint is so serious as to make it absolutely necessary to carry out this policy. 2d.

NOTICE.

To readers of the Examiner who take the Examiner from newsboys:

With the increase in the subscription price of the Evening Examiner, the wholesale rate has also been advanced. In the past the boys have been able to purchase the papers wholesale and deliver them to you at 10c. per week; now they can only do so for 15c. per week, the rate charged permitting them to make a little more profit over the wholesale price than heretofore.

The boys cannot deliver it for less, and you should not be asked to pay more.

TWO MILLIONS SAVED BY COAL AGREEMENT

CENTRAL ONTARIO ANTHRACITE IS 231,300 TONS.

TORONTO, May 27.—H. A. Harrington, Fuel Controller for Ontario, stated yesterday that the results obtained through the decision arrived at yesterday regarding coal shipments, represents a signal victory for the coal consumers of Ontario, saving them approximately $2,225,000 on their coal bill.

"Central Ontario shipments are 231,300 tons short in anthracite, and 1,323,480 tons short in bituminous," he states, "and it is evident from these figures that any possibility of reduced prices is nil. Consumers should see to it that their requirements are ordered, and leave the delivery to the dealers. Manufacturers are urged to continue their efforts to secure every pound of coal available. The enormous demand for coal by United States industries and for export, and the depleted railway equipment, leaves little for Ontario.

Freight Rates Higher.

"Freight rates are to be increased 24 per cent., or 62 cents increase to the border, and our own lines will, as usual, follow with an increase of 25 cents to Toronto and proportionately higher to interior points. We have then one dollar increase in cost of coal and 62 cents increase in freight, or $1.62 to the border, making a ton of coal cost at the border, on an average of $11.22, plus exchange, or a total of $12.34, to which must be added freight charges from the border to Ontario destinations. Bituminous coal will be affected in a similar manner as the freight increases and exchange will apply."

C. G. S. LINDSEY DEAD.

Was Prominent Lawyer and Liberal.

TORONTO, May 27.—Mr. G. G. S. Lindsey died after a short illness at one o'clock to-day at his residence, 145 Tyndall Avenue.

He was born in Toronto on March 19, 1860, the grandson of William Lyon Mackenzie, who was leader of the rebellion of 1837. He was educated at Upper Canada College and the University of Toronto, played in the football and cricket teams there, took his B.A. in 1882, and at Osgoode pursued his law studies, eventually being made a K.C.

Mr. Lindsey was always more or less active in the political world. He was a Liberal, and from 1899 until 1901 was president of the Toronto Reform Association. Before that, in 1894, he had unsuccessfully contested the riding of West Toronto as Liberal nominee for the Ontario Legislature. He broke with his old party, however, on the issue of conscription in 1917, and campaigned for the Union Government. He was the chairman at the Unionist Convention in Hamilton in that year, when Hon. N. W. Rowell, Hon. F. B. Carvell and Hon. S. C. Mewburn were the chief speakers.

Mr. Lindsey edited his father's volumé, "The Life of William Lyon Mackenzie," which is included in the "Makers of Canada" series.

The Jewish population of the world is estimated at 15,430,000. Poland and the Ukraine each have 3,300,000, while there are 3,100,000 in the United States, 900,000 in Russia and 300,000 in the British Isles.

Among the ancient trade secrets which the world probably never will learn are the Chinese method of making a brilliant vermillion colour and the Turkish method for inlaying gold or silver on the hardest steel.

IT HAS KEPT HIM ON THE PAYROLL

MONTREAL MAN GAINS FIFTEEN POUNDS ON THREE BOTTLES OF TANLAC—FEELS FINE NOW.

"My comrades down at the foundry call me 'Tanlac,' for I am all the time praising it for what it has done for me," remarked Ovila Rochen, 429 Fuller street, Montreal, Que., while discussing the medicine with some callers at his residence recently. Mr. Rochen, who has been an iron founder for the past fourteen years, is now employed by Miller Brothers, and is popular with all who know him.

"I have the best reasons," he continued, "for praising Tanlac, for if I had not taken it I doubt if I could have remained on the company's payroll much longer. I had been suffering from indigestion and other troubles for two years and was in an awful run-down condition. I was actually so weak that at times on my way to the foundry I would get so dizzy, my head seemed to be spinning around like a top and I had to go back home and lie down. My appetite was gone entirely and I could not eat anything without bloating up and feeling sluggish and miserable for hours. My nerves were so upset that I was always fidgeting and jumping in my sleep at night, and I always felt more tired in the mornings than when I went to bed. My kidneys bothered me a great deal and there was a constant nagging, twitching pain in the small of my back. My complexion was greenish looking and there was a sour, sickening taste in my mouth all the time.

"Tanlac was recommended to me by a druggist and the results have been far beyond my expectations. I now get up in the mornings, after sleeping good and sound all night, feeling rested, cheerful and happy and can work the entire day without pain or inconvenience. My kidneys have stopped bothering me and the pains have disappeared from my back entirely. My appetite is fine and my stomach is in such good condition that I can eat just anything without feeling a touch of indigestion. I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have already gained fifteen pounds in weight. It is doing me so much good that I wouldn't think of being without it, and, to avoid missing a dose I always carry a bottle in my dinner pail to the foundry every day. After getting such wonderful results I could not do otherwise than praise Tanac."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Bonney Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

CAMP SHOWER

Those who are unable to attend the Camp Shower at the Young Women's Christian Association to-night will miss some fun. Instead of the play "This is so sudden", the camp girls are putting on the amusing pantomime "The Coquette." There will be thrills too, when the C. G. E. girls play the Campers in basket ball, and everyone may expect a fine time. Come, and bring with you, something for Camp.

VERA CRUZ, May 28. — General Felix Diaz has agreed to surrender his entire forces to General Gadalope Sanchez, the revolutionary leader, according to reports received here today.

General Diaz arrived in Misantle, in the State of Vera Cruz, and in transmitting the proposal to give himself and his army up, asked for a gaurantee of safe conduct to the city of Vera Cruz, where he intends to take a steamer for some foreign port, the despatch says.

Saturday Is Turnbull's Annual 99c Day

STORE HOURS—8.30 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.

One year ago this Saturday we held our first 99c day. It was a huge success last year; Wonderful Bargains were offered and the people of Peterboro took advantage of them and were thoroughly satisfied, so the management has, since that day, decided to make this an annual event.

Each Department from the Basement to the Top Floor has something of special interest for you at real money saving prices. 99c seems now-a-days a very small amount, but, on Saturday (to-morrow) it will have a wonderful purchasing power, and to the shrewd buyer it should attract considerable interest.

HOME OF DUFFUS MOTOR SALES

(From Canadian Motor, Tractor and Implement Trade Journal.)

Born on a farm;
Worked there until the age of 21;
Sold implements successfully for 10 years.
Entered the automobile field in 1910;
One of the first to handle Ford model "T" cars n Ontario;
Elected Alderman;
Became Mayor after six years service;
Declined nomination to the Dominion Parliament;

The foregoing is the chronology of Joseph J. Duffus, proprietor of Duffus Motor Sales, Peterboro, Ontario.

There are few garages in Ontario the equal of Peterboro's "show place." It is unique in every way—in location, design, construction, finish and equipment.

When Mr. Duffus graduated from farm implements to automobiles, the motor car industry was practically in its infancy—at least in its early childhood. Just how far Peterboro has progressed in motorization can be gathered from the fact that when Mr. Duffus entered the field the only agent in the town was a plumber, and the advent of a motor car on the street was still novel enough for everybody to come out of his store, home, his favorite saloon, to gaze at the new wonder.

For the first eighteen months Mr. Duffus occupied a small garage on George street. He realized from the beginning that the automobile business was one which called for special salesmanship and efforts quite apart from those which he had hitherto employed in selling implements. Right from the beginning he adopted the policy of publicity, and he got this by advertising in the press, by special literature, by canvassing and demonstrations.

He gave a novel turn to his demonstrations by attending every fall fair ,large or small, in the country for miles around his territory, exhibiting his cars and giving demonstrations. By following this policy day and night, week by week, and year by year, he soon built up a good business, and had to seek larger quarters. He found these on Simcoe St., but after a few more years of steadily increasing business larger quarters again had to be found.

This time Mr. Duffus decided to build and the present up to date garage on the corner of Water and Charlotte street is the result.

MR. J. J. DUFFUS.

As we stated, the new home of the Duffus Motor Sales is on the corner of Water and Charlotte streets—an excellent location. It forms one corner of the market square; the most important hotel of the town is just across the street, and at the rear of the garade, with only a road between are the C.P.R. freight sheds.

A peculiarity of the site and a special feature which has been used to advantage is the drop of fifteen feet from Water street to the road running parallel at the rear in front of the freight sheds. While the garage is only one storey high on Water street, it is two storevs at the rear. It has thus the unique advantage of having two storeys both of which have ground entrances and exits.

The offices, showroom, accessory department, and "in and out" garage are on the top storey, wth entrance on Water street; while the work room, paint shop, storage department and boiler room are on the lower storey with entrance from the freight sheds. This arrangement is the acme of convenience and does away with the necessity of an elevator.

Mr. Duffus designed and drew the plans himself, employing an architect when these were completed, to do the scaling.

The garage is 210 x 60, constructed throughout of brick and reinforced concrete and is practically immune from fire. Tapestry brick is used for the showroom and the offices, and a high grade pressed brick for the other departments.

The interior finishing is particularly good especially in the show room. The ceilings and walls are of stucco, with hardwood trimmings. The floors are 7 1-2 inches thick, composed of 6 inches of concrete with 1 1-2 inch Tarraza finish—an Italian process consisting of a composition of concrete and granite chips. White marble is used for the baseboards along the walls and around the supporting pillars. Three offices run along one side of the show room, occupied by Mr. Duffus, a bookkeeper and stenographer and the sales manager.

The accessory show cases are in this department. They are of heavy plate glass and 35 feet long. The accessories are arranged in a skillful and interesting manner and add to the appearance of the show room.

For the convenience of patrons, cloak rooms, tables and leather upholstered chairs are provided. There is ample space for displaying eight cars and Mr. Duffus makes a point of having his show room filled with new cars.

The entire garage is especially well lighted, ninety windows are provided for this purpose—artificial light is seldow required during the day time. All windows are ventilating and those in the show room are 9 x 7 1-2 feet.

The work room on the lower storey is equipped with every modern device and is capable of handling 30 cars on a working basis. A 5 h.p. motor provides the power for the machinery, which consists of lathes, drilling machines, etc. Eighteen men are employed in this department and Mr. Duffus assured the writer that they were kept busy all the year round.

There is a paint shop on this floor, 60 x 50, where 18 cars can be stored on a working basis. Three expert painters are employed who are capable of doing the highest work.

The battery department is on this floor also; it is equipped with a Tungar rectifier and there is a storing place for about 300 batteries.

There is a wash rack on both floors —each equipped to wash two cars at once—also free air pumps so that customers can be accommodated with the least possible delay and inconvenience.

The heating system is a Spencer twin boiler which burns buckwheat coal and is self feeding for 24 hours. This provides the heat and the hot water. Alongside the boiler room, and underneath the sidewalk on Water street ,there is a huge coal bin with a two car capacity.

The gasoline is stored in an underground tank with a capacity of 1000 gallons. It is pumped from here by means of gasoline pumps on the street and on each floor.

At the rear of the garage on the freight shed side there is a parking space of 210 x 40 ft. As the entrance to the repair department is on this side the significance of the parking spaee is aparent. There are some good patches of grass lawn on every side of the garage which are carefully cultivated and tended. The touch of green brightens and enhances the splendid appearance of the building.

In the busy season Mr. Duffus employs about 35 helpers. He is fortunate in having four brothers to officiate as the heads of the various departments. Although Jos. J. is the only one financially interested in the business the other brothers make an excellent staff and working team.

All the departments are systematized and put on their own feet, each manager being responsible for his own department and that only. In this way overlapping is avoided and a more rapid service is guaranteed.

The accessory department is a very special one indeed, laid out in such a way that the maximum amount of goods can be stored in the least possible space and immediately accessible. Everything is arranged in boxes and on shelves grouped according to make, style and size. The boxes are ticketed, showing article, price and part number.

A tire book is kept where the date of each tire sale, and the number of tire is recorded, so that a man can't say he purchased a tire in July, 1918, when it was purchased in July, 1919. This book also provides an interesting history of a tire each time a tire is brought in for repairs, the date and operation is entered up; thus one can see at a glance just what a particular tire has been doing.

The accessory display in the showroom is one of the best. Thirty-five feet of heavy plate glass is used for the show cases. These have a splendid appearance and display the parts to the best possible advantage. In the busy season four men are employed in the accessory department, and there is a cast iron rule that no one is allowed in this department except those employed there. The accessories occupy two floors. The department on the lower floor is for the convenience of the repair men. About $30,000 worth of accessories are carried, nearly 60 per cent. of which is sold wholesale.

As the business expands another storey will be added, and to prepare the way for this an elevator shaft already exists to connect the three floors. This new storey will be used principally for storing cars during the winter months and those cars which have been repainted and varnished.

To take care of the business outside of Peterboro, two branch garages are maintained, one at Millbrook and one at Norwood, and five salesmen are kept on the road all the year round. These men canvas the entire territory and distribute large quantities of literature of all the lines carried and whatever special advertising material Mr. Duffus is using at the time. All this literature is marked with the Duffus Motor Sales stamp.

From time to time special pamphlets are prepared for distribution. These are handled by the salesmen on the road who circulate them through the territory. One of the best mediums of distribution is the country school house. Lare quantities of literature are left there and the school children from all parts of the country take it home to their parents who are usually farmers. In this way advertising matter reaches prospective customers who are otherwise hard to reach.

Besides handling automobiles, accessories and repairs, the Duffus Motor Sales are distributors for trucks, tractors and tractor implements. They reckon on selling about 300 automobile annually and last year they succeeded in selling 18 tractors. This year and succeeding years they plan to dispose of 50 tractors.

"When we took on the agency for the Fordson tractor we started in by giving extensive demonstrations. In our first tractor season we spent $2,500 on demonstrations alone. We tried the tractor out on plowing, harvesting, hauling, belt work, etc., etc., thoroughly convincing ourselves and the farmers in our territory of the tractor's ability as a labor saving and effective farm machine. These demonstrations have sold the tractor around these parts. We sold 18 last year and expect to sell 50 annually.

"We have instances of our machines selling themselves.

"A farmer four miles out bought a tractor and commenced plowing. One of his fields was near a road where the farmers pass going to and from the town. Several of thees farmers seeing the tractor at work, watched it with considerable interest; the work pleased them with the result they made enquiries and we made several sales. We don't require to demonstrate the tractor now."

DYSPEPTICS QUIT STOMACH DRUGGING

A physician says that in most cases of stomach trouble there is really no disease of the stomach at all, but just too much acid. Excessive acid prevents the natural digestion, causes sour stomach, fermentation of food, and this upsets the liver and the intestines and causes nervousness, weakness, sleeplessness, and "blues."

Quit stomach drugs and artificial digestants. Simply take a teaspoonful of ordinary Bisurated Magnesia in a glass of hot water after meals to neutralize the excessive acidity, and you will be all right.

It works fine. You can eat what you want and sleep all night—no more walking the floor at three or four o'clock in the morning, and suffering from extreme weakness and nervousness all the next day. Bisurated Magnesia is for sale by all druggists in powder or tablet form. Try this plan for three weeks.

PRESENTATION TO MISS E. DAYNARD

On Wednesday evening on behalf of the staff and employee s of the Colonial Weaving Company with whom she has been associated for some time, Miss Gretchen Thompson presented Miss Elsie Daynard, 369 Albert street, with a handsome cabinet of silver as a token of the regret which is felt at the plant at her resignation, while a suitable address was read by Miss Aileen Foley expressing the good wishes of the company for her future happiness. Miss Daynard replied in a few fitting words assuring the young ladies of her continued interest in the plant in which she had spent many very happy hours.

57TH CHAPTER HELD MEETING

he regular monthly meeting of the 57th Regiment Chapter I.O.D.E. was held in the Armouries yesterday afternoon. The chapter endorsed the resolutions passed at the Provincial chapter meeting re Hearst Publications and military training. The meeting unanimously passed a resolution requesting the management of the theatres in Peterboro to have the orchestra finish playing the first verse of the National Anthem and that if this be impractiable at the conclusion of the performance that the same be played at the commencement. It was decided that the June meeting take the form of a picnic in Inverlea Park on the third Thursday. The meeting then adjourned.

TO-MORROW'S GAMES IN THE CITY LEAGUE SERIES

The usual City League double header will be staged at the Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon, with the Great War Veterans and the Thistles clashing in the first game, and the Canadian Woollens and C.G.E. meeting in the second.

"Hap" Harrison is slated to pitch the full game for Louis Yeates' Thistles in the first half of the double header and the fans will have a good chance of looking over the big fellow's wares. Swanston will do the receiving and Kirn will be at first base for the Thistles.

The War Veterans have not announced their pitching selection. The Lebarr outfit will be strengthened to-morrow by the addition of Harry Corrin and Clare Callaghan and are going to make a desperate effort to stop the League leaders. The game is called for two o'clock.

In the second game the Canadian Woollens will introduce a new pitcher to the fans in the person of Gilchrist, a husky youngster, who won an easy victory over the C. G. E. Test Team the other night and who, Manager Mulhall believes will provide all kinds of trouble for the Canadian General outfit to-morrow.

The C. G. E. will likely have Lornie Rose on the Rubber for them.

BETTER SWITCH THESE TWO FIXTURES

The first twilight game in the City Ball League is scheduled for next Tuesday night which clashes with the appearance here of Sparks circus. Incidentally on the following Tuesday night, when the Hagenback-Wallace circus appears here there is also a scheduled City League game. It would be good business for the City League to switch both of these games to Monday night in order to give the players and fans a chance to drink lemonade, eat peanuts and balance themselves on the circus seats.

If the chance is not made there will hardly be enough people at Riverside Park on these two nights to pay the luxury tax on the balls used.

THE WOOLENS GET TWO POINTS AT EXPENSE OF THE VETERANS

CALENDINE BRILLIANT IN GOAL—CANADIAN WOOLENS SCORE FIRST—HALF-TIME CANADIAN WOOLENS LEADING 1-0; SHARMAN EQUALIZED—MONTGOMERY COMPLETES THE "HAT TRICK."

The Canadian Woollens and the Great War Veterans met for the first time in an official football game at Nicholls Oval last evening before a fair attendance of spectators. The Canadian Woollens team played as selected, while the Veterans introduced Robertson of old Nomad fame, into the team. Prompt to schedule time Referee J. Keller lined up the teams as follows:

Canadian Woollens —S. Caledine, goal; J. Hillman and J. Cridland, backs; A Barton, H. Jackson and A. Styles, half-backs; W. Baldwin, J. Montgomery, C. Thorpe, G. Hodson and C. Clarke forwards.

G. W. V. A.—C. Griffin, goal; H. Gamble and A. Bishop, backs; A. Burrows, P. D. Ryan and C. Robertson, half-backs; F. McKinley, J. Peel, H. Norman, A. Edwards and J. Sharman, forwards.

The Game.

Right from the blow of the whistle at the start, the Canadian Woollens attacked. Griffine jumped up into the far corner of the goal to stop the ball from the foot of Montgomery. From the kick-off Sharman tore down the wing, testing Caledine with a fast drive to goal. Play was fast at this period as the forwards vsited each goal in rotation, trying to open the scoring.

Veterans Pressed Hard.

The wing men of the Vets were lashing the ball across to the centre, and try as hard as they liked, they could not penetrate the Woollens' defence. Three times in succession Sharman tested Calendine, who cleared easily. A long drive from Ryan about 15 yards out just missed the mark. Play was confined to the Woollens' end for next 15 minutes. It was, practically speaking, the Vets peppering the Canadian Woollens' goal-keeper with shots from all angles. After a nice play by Edwards, the ball travelled to Norman and getting hold, he let go for the goal as Hillman blocked it. The right defence man punted up to Baldwin, lying uncovered, raided the Vets' goal where Bishop cleared. Just afterwards Edwards and Sharman tested Galedine.

Vets' Erratic Shooting.

At the other end Baldwin gave Griffine a hot one to hold. Every forward of the Vets had a try at goal and many a time Caledine had to hustle, because the Vets were always waiting the opportunity. Nothing of interest transpired until the Woollens' left winger accepted a pass from Jackson and travelling down the wing lifted the ball over Gamble's head.

Montgomery Scored.

Thorpe let the ball go to Montgomery who wasted no time in letting drive for goal. Griffine was given no chance as the ball went rolling close past the upright into the net. The Vets now came back at the Woollens in fine style. Ryan forced the play and tested Caledine with a long drive for goal. Hot pressure was kept up on the Woollen's goal, and Norman had hard lines in not scoring after fine work and a great shot. Offside against the Veterans brought relief to the Canadian Woollens' defence. Prior to half time McKinley was winded, but continued playing. Half time, Canadian Woollens 1, Great War Veterans 0.

Half Time.

The Vets resumed in brisk style and at once surrounded the Woollens' goal, Calendine having to run out to clear and conceding a corner kick, following which Gamble put past. Gamble returned again and passing the ball nicely to Norman's foot, the latter was too slow in parting. Cridland cleared. Pressure was bound to tell as the Vets got two corners in succession.

Sharman Scored.

A break away by the whole forward line resulted in Sharman scoring from close in. Just after wards Norman missed the mark by inches. Even Bishop had a try at goal. From the goal kick C. Clarke beat it down the line, outwitted Burrows, centred to Thorpe, Bishop cleared to Ryan, who lashed it across to McKinley, and on the run returned the play to Norman, who beat the two backs and running close in hit the cross bar. McKinley got the rebound, placed it back into the goal mouth that ended with Calendine picking the ball from the foot of Norman. A run by Clarke ended with a strong cross, the ball going to Baldwin to be kicked past. Sharman on the Vets' left wing, was playing a good game, but he was very unfortunate in not scoring on many of his visits to Caledine's goal. One of the times he drew out the defence, passed to Norman who drove for the corner of the goal. Caledine threw himself at it. McKinley, lying close in, tapped the ball behind while the goal keeper was lying on the ground.

Long Passing Methods.

Clarke came into prominence by his long passing methods he adopted and from one of these Montgomery caught hold, beat the two backs on the run, he gave Griffine not the slightest chance to save. Clark and Montgomery tested Griffine with long shots. On an individual effort by Norman the game became exciting and to the surprise of the spectators they witnessed the centre hit the cross-bar with a rocket shot. Baldwin was called up for offside at the other end. However, further disaster shortly afterwards befell the Vets, Montgomery getting possession of the ball in a tackle against Griffine, he completed "the hat trick" with three minutes to go. Play was in mid-field when full time arrived—Canadian Woollens 3, G.W.V.A. 1.

MINSTRELS AT GRAND TO-DAY

Harvey's Greater Minstrels headed by Duke Anderson and Lawrence Baker both natural comedians is due here to-day. They are both natural from the fact that they act natural, just what they are, the regular dyed in the wool negro comedians, and they do their best to create laughter and create a furore of amusement at every performance.

Traveling in their own steel cars, this company of fifty colored artists are playing the principal cities and towns of the state and judging from press comments and verbal criticisms heard, Harvey's Greater Minstrels is more than making good.

This company will be at the Grand to-day Matinee and night.

"PASSION FLOWER"

The forthcoming engagement of Miss Nance O'Neil, starring in Jacinto Benavente's dramatic masterpiece, "The Passion Flower," although somewhat late in the season, promises to be the real event of the season.

Miss O'Neil's wonderful success in her latest venture into the realms of the higher class drama, has been the subject of almost unanimous praise on the part of the critics of the metropolitan press of New York. Probably no production in many years has received so much favorable comment in the publications of the better class as has this play which has just closed the season's run at the Belmont Theatre in New York, and is making a short tour to the Coast through Canada to California where a super-feature motion picture will be made in Los Angeles this summer with the original Broadway cast, a venture which has never heretofore been attempted.

Firkins, in the New York Review, says: "The play held the audience: it held the critics; and the final curtain fell upon the vivid general sense that the night was memorable in the present theatrical season in New York. Miss O'Neil seems predestined to parts in which something passionate and savage finds sudden issue through a rift in the ordered circumstance of a subdued and peaceful life. Her voice alone is an endowment. There is a brocade in its texture which can give distinction to commonplaces, can exalt them without inflating them. But its efficacy goes much further. Its depth and gravity supplies to those moments of passionate abandonment in which she delights precisely the chastening and corrective background which midnight furnishes to a conflagration."

This distinguished actress with the Broadway cast and production complete to the minutest detail, will be seen at the Grand on Saturday, May 29th, for one performance only.

"WINGS OF THE MORNING" GREAT FILM FEATURE

One of the best screen productions seen in this city for some time had its initial showing at the Allen Theatre yesterday, when William Farnum was seen in his newest photo drama, "Wings of the Morning," a William Fox picturization of the Louis Tracy novel of the same name.

The audience was spellbound throughout the unfolding of an unusually dramatic story. Mr. Farnum never was seen to better advantage and his role is one that will add more admirers to his already large following. His support is exceedingly capable, and the direction of J. Gordon Edwards was without a flaw.

A shipwreck scene, in which the hero and heroine are cast upon an uninhabited island, is startling in its realism, and the adventures of the pair are filled with heart-stirring incident.

AT THE EMPIRE

"The Thirteenth Chair", the feature offering at the Empire Theatre last night, to-day and to-morrow although somewhat complicated to one who is not acquainted with the play was appreciated by a large audience last evening. Considering the difficulties of producing such a film the features is well produced from the play and the spiritualistic effects are splendid. The leading parts are well taken by Yvonne Delva and Creighton Hale supported by an ideal cast.

The enthralling suspense and mysteriousness of the play held the house spell bound. Two murders of principal actors which are solved by spiritualism add to the weirdness of the plot. The scene "A Spiritualistic Seance" is the most wonderful part of the play and the tenseness and strangeness of this scene seem to permeate the audience as well.

A laughable comedy preceding the feature film provides much amusement and a decided contract to the heavier type of picture.

ADDITIONAL SPORT

SPORTING YOUNG SPAIN

While the war was absorbing the attention of the British, sport in general and polo and horse racing in particular took refuge in Spain under the protection of King Alfonso. It seems that the coming of peace and the return of sport to Britain and France has not found the Spaniards willing to let go of their new outdoor accomplishments. Rather, they have gone in for more of them. A writer in The London Daily Mail, acting as correspondent in Madrid, says:

"The duenna is doomed. Also the semi-Oriental system she represented.

"The death warrant was signed when the senoritas of Madrid took to playing tennis and golf, to ski-ing in the Sierra, and—to travelling in a side-car.

"Hence also the collapse of the carnival as it used to be. It is an antiquated survival of the days when lad could meet lass without the duenna at only one short season in the year, and the mask was fondly supposed to conceal identity.

"In addition to taking up more and more all the sports familiar elsewhere, the Madrilene ladies have one of their own; a sort of racquets played in a jeu-de-paume ('pelota') court, but without the basketwork cestus. They use tennis recquets and the courts are always full.

"Lately they have begun to steer their own cars, too, though that sport is not encouraged for them by the reckless speeds permitted in big Spanish cities.

"A glance at any leading Madrid paper will show whither young male Spain is tending. Not only are golf courses arising outside all the chief residential cities, but other exotics like polo are increasingly popular with the gilt-edged youth. Madrid, Barcelona, and other centres hum with motor traffic, and big sidecar outfits are all over the place.

"In one thing young Spain appears not to be changing—the modesty of her daughters and the abstemiousness of her sons. A few days ago I made a round of all the amusement places in Seville, beginning with a sort of musical costume play (the very tuneful 'Song of Forgetfulness') at a theatre at 5.30 p.m. and ending about 1 a.m. in a workmen's dance hall. The play was described as a 'Vermouth,' but the refreshments sold were chocolate and—cold water!

"After dinner I went to a popular music hall, where Spanish dances are exhibited, then to a cheaper hall (entrance fee about 2½d), and finally to the dance hall. The only alcoholic refreshment I saw consumed was a glass which I ordered myself in order to see if one could get it at all. I have wandered about the workmen's quarters of Madrid, Barcelona, and Seville and at night about the Albaicin of Granada, but I have yet to see a drunken man, still less an intoxicated woman.

"I know that a great deal of wine is consumed on occasions, such as baptisms, but the 'hotel crawl' is as little an amusement of young Spain as is the beer-soaking which characterised pre-war Germany."

HUMAN SIDE OF BASEBALL FULL OF FUN

TRAINING CAMP NIGHTS BRING OUT FUND OF STORIES ABOUT PLAYERS OF THESE AND OTHER DAYS.

In the spring training camp of the major league club is born many a tale of fun and frolic—and many a tale of blasted hopes, too. And to while away the hours of the night there is fun a plenty in the retelling of stories of many another trip and many a hot day in the thick of the pennant fight. For the unsuspecting rookie there is the inevitable snipe hunt in the dead of night, with the inevitable walk back to the hotel, a dozen miles away. Then there is the old reliable badger fight a—trick for which Fred Merkle fell twice in one week at Marlin. There is hard work for recruit and veteran down there in the South, but there are some few compensations

Larry Doyle of the Giants has a fund of these training camp stories, and not a few are at the expense of Larry Doyle. He tells one on a member of the official family of the Giants. It happened some years ago. The club was on its way to Marlin and had stopped at St. Louis to pick up Fletcher and a few others. Then the trip for Texas was started. The train rolled through the stubbly fields of Missoui, where the autumn before there had been huge corn stalks. "Say, Larry, what are these little bits of things sticking out of the ground?" the ingenuous one asked. "Why, I am surprised at your ignorance," came back. Doyle. "You are running through the celebrated match fields of Missouri." The other fellow believed Larry and wrote home about having seen where the matches grow. He hates to have the story told on him now, so we will withhold his name. He is wiser now.

Stories of Somnambulists . . .

Charley Herzog tells of a night of horror with the Giants in camp when he first joined the club. John McGraw teamed up Herzog with Jack Murray, the outfielder, as roommates. The first night was spent in peace, but in the thick of the second night Herzog suddenly was awakened by a stronge feeling that everything was not right. He sat up in his bed, and there, right in front of him, was Murray, stark naked, climbing over a chair as if he were a monkey. The oufielder then clambered over the writing table and started to shin up the wall over the bureau.

By that time Herzog was thoroughly awake. He decided that something was either spooky or fishy, and he went out after Murray. And aJck he went out after Murray. And Jack was fast asleep. Herzog led Murray back to bed and soon he was snoring the sleep of the righteous. In the morning Herzog found out that Murray had a habit of sleeping stark naked—and that he was a somnambulist. After that Herzog never minded Murray's sleep wanderings.

The greatest team of sleep walkers in the majors was the famous Yankee battery of other days—Russ Ford and Ed Sweeney. The first year that Frank Chance managed the club he took it to Bermuda for its training Ford and Sweeney were assigned to one room. Each was a somnambulist, and neither knew it about the other. One night Ford, in his wanderings, playfully kicked Sweeney's shoes out of the window, while Sweeney, on the same night, took a little sleep walk and stepped all over Ford's clothes. In the morning they were as sore as blazes at each other.

About Erratic Pitchers.

A good many stories are told on pitchers who were of erratic tendencies. Most of them became erratic through the agency of John Barleycorn. Many yarns have been told of Rube Waddell—how he called in his outfielders one day and fanned the side. Others are told of the short lived Sockalexis, the Indian, who drank himself oue of the game and out of the bigger game. "Bugs" Raymond, who was with the Giants some years ago, figured in many of these escapades.

Toward the end of Raymond's career with the Giants he never got any money. His pay checks were sent to his family. If "Bugs" wanted to buy anything John McGraw sent some other member of the club with him to pay for the pitcher's purchases. One afternoon the Giants were playing the Cubs at the Polo Grounds. The New York pitcher—whoever he was—began to get his bumps, so McGraw tossed Raymond the ball and told him to go out into the bull pen and warm up. Raymond took the ball and hit for the pen. He did not stop there He went out into Eighth avenue, sold the ball for 70 cents and hit for the nearest saloon.

About twenty minutes later Raymond, with 70 cents' worth of red eye in his stomach, reported back to McGraw, "all warmed up," he said. Mac sent him into the box. The bases were full. The first pitch went higher than the grand stand. he second tried to dig a hole all the way to China The man walked, the game was lost— and Raymond got the gate. Soon after he was released.

They tell a rather interesting story about a certain man in the majors whom we do not like to name. The incident happened last season when the players was hitting the booze trail nearly every night. He came to the hotel drunk, made life miserable for his team mates and got himself thoroughly disliked. Finally his mates decided not to put up with it any longer. They started a poker game in the "pest" room in the Majestic in Philadelphia. When the player came back at midnight, maudlin, he was denied admission.

There was a parley in which short and ugly words were hurled over the transom. But the card players would not be disturbed. There came silence and the player was forgotten. Apparently he had gone to sleep in some other room

About half an hour later one of the players looked up at the window, and his gaze met a leering face. The window began to slip down and the player started to hurl invectives anew He had walked fourteen feet an a ledge about six inches wide, a dozen stories above the street. The other players tried to assuage him with kind words in an effort to get him into the room, but he refused to budge from the ledge.

Someone sneaked upon him, grabbed him by the head, and with the aid of three other players pulled the man from his hazardous position. The man in question has reformed. His reform was started the next morning when he realized what he had done.

THE HAGENBECK-WALLACE SHOWS

Newspapers are not the only sufferers of the present paper shortage. The circus is likewise suffering from the inadequate supply and much difficulty is being experienced in obtaining the bright lithographs, which announce the coming of the show to the delight of both young and old.

The majestic Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus which is to exhibit here on Tuesday, June 8, has experienced much difficulty this season. The large stock of paper heretofore so prominent on the advance cars, is not in evidence this season and the supply is declared to be billed as fast as it arrives.

According to the circus agent, the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus is suffering more than other tented shows. It seems in all the large printing and litehographing plants there are large supplies of stock lithographs, but this show is placing newly designed paper upon the boards and in the windows this season and the plant is handicapped in securing fresh paper for the Hagenbeck-Wallace people.

The lithographs and banners this year picture many new and novel trained animal acts, which construct part of the circus programme. European novelists are also advertised, as well as the large menagerie, declared to be one of the most complete in the world. A free street parade, more than three miles long, is another of the features advertised.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus will exhibit at Peterborough both matinee and night ,and during its stay here a downtown ticket office will be opened at Hooper's Confectionery, 414 George street.

MAY BE THE HORSE OF THE CENTURY

MAN O' WAR A GRAND COLT HORSEMEN DECLARE.

Following his easy victory in the Preakness last week, when he just galloped home in front of the pick of the season's three-year-old's, Man o' War has been unanimously proclaimed the greatest colt of his age in the country, and some experienced horsemen have gone so far as to declare him the horse of the century. Certainly he is a grand horse, and on his remarkable showing as a juvenile and his first effort as a three-year-old it seems a rational prediction that he will eventually be rated as even greater than Sysonby or Colin. He indubitably possesses all the qualities essential to a great horse. He has speed, stamnia and courage, and at the present time he is without a blemish, though he has had many races and has withstood two periods of preparation.

A horse of this calibre is a distinct credit of the turf, and Man o' War will bring much prestige to racing. He is one of the products of intelligent breeding, which racing seeks to encourage among horsemen, and the manner in which he was bred will be studied by breeders desiring to perfect the race horse.

As the campaign that has been mapped out for Man o' War will keep him in three-year-old events for the greater part of the season, the public is not apt to see him in any really gruelling contests, nor is he likely to be the medium of much speculation. Rather he is destined to be a turf idol, a drawing card and people will go to see him run just to witness his speed and having little doubt about the outcome of his races.

If confined to three-year-old events exclusively, Man o' War should go through the season without a defeat if he suffers no accidents. He has already disposed of the best of his age, these being the same ones he defeated so many times as a juvenile. There is often such a material change in colts between their second and third years that it remained for Man o' War to make one appearance before it could be known how he had matured and whether any of his rivals of a year ago had developed into better races. The Preakness seems to have disposed of that question. Many of the events in which Man o' War will race this season will call for scale weight, in which case there seems not to be a three-year-old able to keep him warmed up over any distance. Even great differences in the weight have failed to bring any of the others up to the great Fair Play colt.

If he goes through the summer successfully and is in good condition in the autumn it is the intention of his owner, Samuel D. Riddle, to send him then against the handicap horses of more mature years. It will be interesting to see how Man o' War performs against them.—New York Times.

SHORT OF BREATH
Could Hardly Walk Without Resting

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes:—"I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

NICHOLLS REJECTS MEDIATION BOARD

PRESIDENT OF C.G.E. COMPANY REPLIES TO MAYOR M'INTYRE.

The C.G.E. machinists' offer to the company to abide by the recommendations of the Board of Conciliation, authorized by Senator Robertson, Minister of Labour, brought the following reply from Senator Nicholls to Mayor McIntyre to-day:

"This company declines to be represented on a board of conciliation in connection with the strike in Peterborough, and must also decline to accept any award of such board if appointed. We are still willing to grant the increases which were offered to the men before going on strike. We have advised the Minister of our decision."

This telegram was turned over to the men by Mayor McIntyre and Ald. Whitehouse, at a conference this morning. It was followed by another telegram, which, it was stated, simply reiterated Senator Nicholls' determination not to yield to the demands of the men.

Mayor McIntyre said he met Mr. E. G. Patterson, local superintendent of the company, this afternoon, and urged a concession on the point of a minimum schedule of wages, and that he also met Mr. Harry Harper, the men's representative, but without avail.

CAUGHT HIS FOOT IN MACHINERY.

BOBCAYGEON, May 28.—Roy Junkin, son of Mr. Richard Junkin, King Street, met with quite a painful accident Sunday afternoon. He went out in a gasoline launch for a ride, and while leaning over the edge of the boat got his foot in too close contact with a part of the machinery, which cut his foot and necessitated several stitches by Dr. Boyd.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

MACHINE GUN VS. CANADIAN WOOLENS AND G.W.V.A. VS. CALEDONIANS ON SATURDAY—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Football Games for Saturday are Machine Gun vs the Canadian Woollens at the Oval, commencing 3 o'clock prompt. Mr. A. McKinley will officiate as referee and G.W.V.A. vs. Caledonians at the Exhibition Grounds, kick off at 3 o'clock. Mr. F. Keller will handle the whistle.

The Machine Gun Team will be minus Crowe, on Saturday, owing to his suspension. They intend putting on a good game against the Canadian Woollens. The team for Saturday will be W. Flowers, goal; R. G McLeish and R. H. Perry backs; N. Metcalfe, A. Dodds and W. Darling half backs; Hilliard Darling and R. Payne L. Fraser, E. Bell and Harold Darling.

After such a hard fight to get a good team together, Mr. J. W. Worth thinks he has got a first class team now, and in all probability the same players that defeated the War Veterans will turn out on Saturday against the Machine Gunners. One thing, Joe, the inside right is a good one!

A very enjoyable supper was held last evening in Hooper's Parlours by the Machine Gun Team at the expense of Captain L. Fraser who promised the whole team a treat if they would defeat the C.G.E. It was a great success.

The Executive Committee of the Benefit Football Game, have decided to play on Tuesday evening instead of on Monday, at the Nicholls Oval. Kick-off at 6:30 prompt. The teams have not been picked yet, but most likely they will be pubilshed to-morrow evening.

The Caledonian team for to-morrow will be C. Fener, goal; J. Willshaw and R. Willshaw, backs; Herb Frost, S. McMillan and John Shaw, half backs; R. Hannah, Matt Shaw, J. Shaw, Ed. Hardie and R. McDowall, forwards.

SHAWKEY ASSAULTS UMPIRE HILDEBRAND

BOSTON, May 27. — An assault upon Umpire Hildebrand by Pitcher Shawkey, of New York, in the fourth inning, resulting in Shawkey receiving a scalp wound from the umpire's mask, created excitement in the game of the series with the Red Sox today, which New York won 6 to 1.

"Babe" Ruth made two home runs, sending the ball once into the right-field bleachers and the second time over the left centre field fence, thus giving him a total of 10 for the season. The New York players protested strongly when Hildebrand enabled Boston to make its only tally in the fourth by sending Schang to first on balls with the bases full, forcing in a run. After Harper, the next man up, had been called out on strikes, Shawkey approached the umpire, bowed and doffed his cap in mock thanks. Hildebrand ordered Shawkey out of the game, whereupon he rushed at the umpire and struck him several times about the head. Hildebrand defended himself with his mask and opened a wound on Shawkey's head. Umpire Evans and Capt. Hooper of the Red Sox separated the men and Shawkey was conducted from the field, Mays finishing the game.

The score—

	R.	H.	E.
New York	6	10	2
Boston	1	8	2

Batteries—Shawkey, Mays and Hannah; Harper, Karr and Schang.

LOCAL BASEBALL COMMENT

Alex. Kay will pass up the job of arbiter of the Belleville-Port Hope Central League game to-morrow, and remain at home to boss the double header at Riverside Park.

Veterans threaten to give the Thistles a mauling. Foley will start on the firing line, Harry Corrin is a certainty for first base and Clare Callaghan will fill one of the infield holes. Allan Wade will be ready to go to the rubber at any stage of the game

Keene team in the East Peterboro circuit will play under the name of Otonabee. They have a big field from which to gather recruits:

Queen Mary School senior boys won their game by default last evening, when King Edward boys failed to get a team together.

An effort will be made to have Mr. E. N. McDonald, M.P.P. for East Peterboro take part in the ceremonies attending the opening game of the newly organized league between Norwood and Keene at Norwood next Wednesday afternoon.

Babe Ruth added a little variety yesterday when he clouted out two home runs, making it ten for the season.

Goyer & Co., play in Port Hope to-morrow afternoon Next Wednesday p.m. Jack Nott's Oshawans appear in Lindsay. What will the harvest be?

Looking over some the baseball talent, and the wild beast posters, it looks like a big gummer for circuses.

Three amateur organizations in as many years for J. Solomon, Esq., and not a bloomer in the bunch.

Petes went back on us in their first game, but we won't get made and pick the Lindsay greybeards for next Wednesday.

Pity they colldn't revoke the luxury tax on sporting goods and take it on the scores retailed by the local baseball circuits.

Perhaps its just as well Finnigan Hill didn't leave Port Hope, and come this way Louie Yeotes might havebeen called upon to make another sacrifice.

City Baseball scores are grievous,
Cost of Living leaves us short,
But it's nothing to the anquish,
When we watch our favorite sport.
Please, then, let the tin can rattle.
Give us just one real tight battle.

Efforts by City Football Association officials to keep the game clean are laudable, but—
A little rough-house now and then,
Is relished by the meekest men.

SPORT FROM THE EXCHANGES

Oshawa Reformer: The visiting team was weak on the bases, but the work of the base umpire Wilson would have taken the heart out of any baseman His vocabulary seemed to be limited to two words "You're safe," and his favorite occupation was stamping the second sack into shape after he would tell a man who was out by a mile that he was safe. He would have been a joke if it had not been so serious. The Port Hope fans, however, saw that it was no use arguing with him.

It has been decided by the management of the Lindsay Greybirds to call the opening game in Lindsay next Wednesday afternoon against Oshawa at 5 o'clock, thus giving many employees in factories and the clerks an opportunity of seeng the game. —Lindsay Warder.

Oshawa Reformer claims that Friar in the Port Hope outfield is probably the best in the League.

The Concert.

The convert in the evening following the sports programme was well attended and selections by the well known Toronto entertainer Fred J. Perrin thoroughly appreciated. Dr. and Mrs. Kindred of Tweed sustained the enviable reputation they have made with Havelock audiences and Rev. J. B. Skene rendered several much enjoyed solos. Miss Gladys Haig made a most acceptable accompanist.

Receipts for the afternoon and evening totalled $785.00.

House Damaged.

Due to the upsetting of a coal oil lamp in the home of Dr. W. H Stephenson, Ontario street, the house was badly damaged by fire last week and the loss would doubtless have been worse but for the timely arrival of the chemical engine. Any damage done was covered by insurance.

Wedding Bells.

The marriage was solemnized in Toronto recently of Michael Isaac, of Havelock and Miss N. Halal of Toronto, Bishop Affimos of Montreal officiating.

Obituary

On Wednesday Dan Tomlinson, of Havelock, passed away in Oshawa, after an illness of a few days duration of pneumonia, aged 35. He is survived by his wife formerly Miss Watson of Trent River.

ELECTRIC LINEMAN KILLED.

MIDLAND, May 27. — Lloyd Bugg, was intsantly killed here yesterday afternoon while working at the top of an electric light pole. He was an employee of the Midland Electric Light Department and was assisting in running some wires on Hugel ave. The shock that caused his death was only mometary, as he was not in contact with any live wires, and his body was held at the top of the pole by a safety belt. No inquest is being held. He was the younger son of Arthur Bugg one of the Commissioners of the local Water and Light Board.

UNITED STATES' CANDY BILL A BILLION DOLLARS YEARLY.

NEW YORK, May 27. — The American people are eating candy at the rate of a billion dollars a year yet they complain of a sugar shortage, Secretary of of the Treasury Houston declared in an address yesterday before the Bird Club of New York.

He said the volume of the National confectionary feast was estimated on the basis of the tax receipts for this year.

UNIQUE PLAYS COMING TO PETERBORO

'P.B.I., OR MADEMOISELLE FROM BULLY GRENAY" TO BE SEEN AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Peterboro theatre goers are to have an opportunity next Friday and Saturday of seeing an unique theatrical performance in the apearance at the Grand here of "P.B.I." or "Mademoiselle from Bully Grenacy," the company which scored such a big hit at Hart House last winter and repeated its triumph at the Princess Theatre, Toronto, this week.

It is a war play but different from anything of its kind seen here and presented by clever veterans in a manner that has carried the warmest commendation of the critics.

"P.B.I." stands for poor bally infantry of course, and the play is a cross section from life that should prove a most popular drawing card.

TO VOTE ON SUNDAY CARS.

ST. THOMAS, May 27. — The Street Railway Committee to-day unanimously voted in favour of submitting a by-law to the people as soon as possible for Sunday street car service. It is improbable that the operation of the complete service will be voted on, the general opinion being that Sunday service to Pinafore Park is all that is required.

KLINE'S FIRE LOSS SETTLED

The assessing of the damage done by the fire which occurred in Mr. Kline's ladies' ready-to-wear store, a few evenings ago, has been satisfactorily settled. The damage was principally by smoke and water, which affected a larger portion of the premises and stock than was at first estimated. Mr. Kline is now busy cleaning up the store and arranging for a special sale of the smoked goods, and those slightly damaged by water. The date for the commencement of this sale will be announced early next week.

Introduced into Bohemia about fourt een years ago, the American muskrat has spread over a wide area and now is regarded as a pest that should be exterminated wherever found.

DUMMER TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

The Municipal Council of the Township of Dummer met as a Court of Revision on the Assessment Roll of said township on Tuesday, 25th May, at 10.30 a.m. The Reeve and Councillors were all present, and after having taken the necessary oath of members of the Court of Revision, were duly organised as follow: Chris. J. Darling, Reeve, chairman, and W. D. Robson, J. J. Crowe, George H. Barr, E. R. Hamblin, members of the Court.

The following appeals were heard and determined: U. P. Tarbox, claimed to be illegally assessed for statute labour and too highly assessed on property comprising Plan No. 3, Stoney Lake, Lot No. 8. On motion, the assessment of U. P. Tarbox was confirmed. John A. Patterson claimed to be assessed too high for east half of lot No. 15, Con. 12 (this lot is not assessed to Mr. Patterson). Appeal not sustained. Robert McConnell claimed to be assessed too high for north half of lot No. 10 and east half of Lot 11, Con. 12. On motion, Mr. McConnell's assessment was confirmed. The Toronto General Trust Corporation, as executors of Henry Abell Co. estate notified to have Lot No. 3, east side Church Street, Warsaw, assessed to the said Corporation as executors, the owners of the said property objecting to their request. The appellant failing to forward any evidence to sustain the appeal, the assessment to the owner was sustained. Mrs. C. M. Smith claimed to be assessed too high for Island No. 45, Stoney Lake. On motion, the assessment was confirmed. The following changes were authorised to be made: Island No. 44, Stoney Lake, to be assessed to Bruce Howson. Joshua Allen to be assessed as tenant for west half of Lot 15, Con. 4; Charles Ellis for assessment of bitch, to be struck off and replaced by a dog; and James Dewart's assessment of a dog to be struck off.

Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by W. D. Robson, that the Assessment Roll as now revised and corrected, be confirmed as the Revised Assessment Roll for the Township of Dummer for the year 1920.

Court of Revision was adjourned.

After the adjournment of the Court of Revision, the Council met in regular session at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon. The minutes of previous meeting of the Council were read and adopted. Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by W. D. Robson, that a committee composed of William Davis, Bruce Douglas, and George H. Barr be appointed to take the necessary steps to secure subscribers and make application to the Council of the Township of Douro, to have the municipal telephone service extended into the Township of Dummer. On motion, the following accounts were passed by the Council for payment: George Clements, for work done opening up the roads in the spring time, $7.00; Robert Hannon, for opening up the roads on the 7th Line, $5.00; T. L. Payne, for salary as assessor for 1920, $125.00.

A by-law to amend By-law No. 877, to authorise the overseer of roads for the Township of Dummer to issue orders on the treasurer for the payment of employees engaged on roads and bridges under his supervision in the Township of Dummer, was duly passed.

Council adjourned, to meet on a date as may be directed by order of the Reeve.

R. Deen, Clerk.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

By H. F. GADSBY

Paraphrasing Robert Louis Stevenson just a little. Home is the sailor—home from the sea. The golfer is home from the links. In other words Premier Borden is on the job again and the surmises begin all over once more.

Will the Premier stick it? Will the Government carry on? Will the Cabinet be reorganised? Will the unionist party be perpetuated, with a policy to fit? And so forth and so on—the questions are thicker than currants in a pound cake. Some of the questions can be answered on the principle that one guess is as good as another.

The chances are that the Premier will stick to it as long as he is able. How long he will be able is another story. Spite of the mask of tan he brings back, the Premier is not in first-rate health. He has lost flesh and his legs are shaky. Two months' work at top speed might put him back where he was before he went away. Sir Robert's war endeavours have seriously undermined his constitution and for some time to come he will have to nurse himself carefully.

Some good guessers are saying that the session will last two months longer, in which case Sir Robert will have to conserve his resources. Others—and their guess is the more likely—count on proroguing by 1st July, which means six weeks' hard labour for Sir Robert. In any case the recess will come as a welcome relief to a greatly harassed and overburdened statesman.

Although the House has accomplished considerable work in its slow dandling way a great deal remains to be done. The Franchise Act is almost out of the way, but the Budget is next up and the Budget is good for a month at least. Thus Sir Robert finds himself in the thick of it. The Opposition which has not shown much fight so far threatens the heavy artillery now that the big man is back. They have been waiting for a foreman worthy of their steel, and if Sir Robert wants a fight, it is willing to take him on almost any day. In the Great War at Ottawa it's always the last thirty days that count.

Twenty years in the Press Gallery have never yet shown me the reasonableness of crowding all the fighting into the last month. It would interest the public and please the newspapers more if the battle were spread out more evenly through the session. Parliament is capable of brisk movement when it likes, and brisk movement is what the times demand, absentee Premiers notwithstanding. Brisk movement and courage — these are the two great requisites.

The Wind and the Lather.

To get just that combination, it may be necessary to have a new breed of M.P. whom we shall pay more or less as our judgment decides. If we pay him five thousand dollars a session we may get the professional politician in worse guise than we have him now. If we pay him nothing except his board, lodging and railway fare—we might build a Parliamentary hostel for him—we may get patriots or we may not. What we want is a Member of Parliament who will tell the truth and stand up for the right, let his head fall where it may. We have too many members of Parliament talking for the next election instead of talking for the good of Canada. Even when he is talking for the good of Canada he should not be allowed to utter more than fifteen hundred words of highly condensed wisdom on any one subject and to ensure that these words shall be as brave as they are true it should be the law of the land that no Member of Parliament shall be eligible for re-election. One term to do his best or his worst in—only so shall we secure the ideal Member of Parliament, also the ideal Parliament which will do its work in two months and go home.

Will the Government carry on? There can be little doubt that it will. Whatever its unpopularity in the country there seems to be no one in the House—with the possible exception of the Farmers' Party which is very much subdued since it reached Ottawa — that wants it to do otherwise. It exists on tolerance, it is true, but it exists and will probably continue to exist until calmer days are in sight.

It seems a great pity that the Government does not take advantage of this truce of opinion to do certain brave and necessary things which their successors will be so happy to find done that they will never think of undoing them. The three brave and necessary tings are (1) to tax resolutely, (2) to cut down expenses, (3) to deflate the currency. Something has been done along the line of taxation—we have both kinds now, direct and indirect—it might be advisable to do a little more in the way of direct taxation as the farmers profess to be very fond of this kind of medicine. The Inside Civil Service clamours for reform and retrenchment, but before that is done it would be well to tackle the war establishments which are scandalously overstaffed at the present time.

No compunction should be felt in reducing these establishments at once to a peace footing and relieving the payroll of a host of spongers who have no work to do and who set the treasury back millions of dollars every month. Deflating the currency is another matter which demands immediate attention. This paper money jag of ours is a prime cause of high prices and will remain so as long as a paper dolar represents only about 12 cents in gold.

The Moulting Season.

Will the Cabinet be re-organised? It certainly will — time and circumstance will do the trick. The Cabinet will re-organise itself by shedding Cabinet Ministers, one at a time, until there are not enough Cabinet Ministers left to carry on. Suppose Sir Robert drops out and the would-be-Premiers get a chance—Mr. Meighen or Sir George Foster, or Mr. Ballantyne, or the latest candidate, Mr. Guthrie, who has won golden opinions by his dignified conduct of the Franchise Act. That's one portfolio to fill, unless the Premier doubles up or Sir Edward Kemp does his duty as a spare part. Cabinet Ministers, who don't need a by-election are becoming fewer and fewer—nearly all the shifts and doublings have been made. Then there's Sir George Foster, who would like to go to London as High Commissioner, and Mr. Rowell who would like to go to Washington as Minister Plenipotentiary, and Dr. Reed who would like to go to the Senate, and Mr. Sifton who would like to go somewhere else, and Mr. Burrill who would like to go into the Parliamentary library, and—but why string it out! There is hardly one Cabinet Minister who isn't willing to do his part toward re-organising the Cabinet by dropping out himself into a safer job. It is worth noting that Mr. Calder and Mr. Rowell are no longer mentioned as possible Premiers. They have suddenly remembered that they are lawyers, and, failing softer spots, a place on the judge's bench would suit them, as it would Mr. Meighen, very well indeed.

Will the Unionist party be perpetuated, and what will be its policy? The inquest has not been held yet. That is to say the caucus which is to decide whether the Unionist party is to be or not to be has not had the nerve to meet. It is doubtful whether Sir Robert has either the strength or the inclination to breathe the breath of life into a new party weighed down with old sins. Time was when he could swing a party by the tail, but that time is past. To galvanise the Unionist party into life is a harder job than King Canute had waving back the almighty ocean.

Human nature is much too strong even for Sir Robert Borden. It looks as if the Honourable Robert Rogers had the right sow by the ear when he calls on the grand old Liberal-Conservative party to rise up on its hind legs and declare itself. The Honourable Robert's Round Table conference at Toronto, which brought Premier Borden scurrying home is a sign of the times as are also the Tory newspapers which gave it a friendly pat on the back and the Members of Parliament who gave it God-speed secretly though not wishing to expose their hands as yet. The general opinion in and out of Parliament seems to be that the Liberal-Conservative party may be a little shiny at the elbows and baggy at the knees but with a little cleaning and pressing, there is a lot of wear in the old clothes yet. The last thing it wants is a new Union suit.

WAS ACQUITTED.

Harvey Sanderson was acquitted on the charge of speeding, in police court this morning. Sergeant Deannard swore that the accused was driving faster than the allotted 20 miles an hour when he saw him and caught his number. The accused and a fellow passenger held up the other end of the story nobly. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the defence.

Four gay male joy riders and three young ladies were all charged with creating a disturbance in the wee sma' hours of Tuesday, May 25 while returning through the city from a dance in Lakefield. The girls in the party were not present. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the young men. They pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Magistrate Dumble when the festivity and noise of the returning dancers was described to him, contended that anyone would be feeling a little gay after a little dance, so a little gaiety might be pardoned. He dismissed the case.

GRAND SONG SERVICE AT TRINITY CHURCH.

A choir of 50 voices will give the sacred cantata, "The Saviour of Men," in Trinity Church on Sunday night. The solo parts in this beautiful cantata will be taken by Mrs. King, Mrs. Park, Mr. Hartshorn, Mr. Lee, and Captain Park. Mrs. Hooper and Mr. Herbert Hartshorn, violinists, will assist the choir. This promises to be one of the most pleasing and inspiring services of song ever given in Trinity Church. At the morning service Mrs. Maurice Park will sing "Evening and Morning," by Spiker. The pastor will preach. Visitors and strangers welcome at both services.

TENT CATERPILLAR IS AGAIN AT WORK.

The tent caterpillar is showing up again and all the nests should be destroyed at once to save further trouble. So far the nests are not too far advanced to be destroyed either by cutting or burning and if left for a few weeks longer will be then too late, the foliage will then hide the nest and the caterpillars be too big.

NO MILITIA CAMPS HELD THIS YEAR
There will be no militia camps this year, owing to the fact that the reoragnization of the various units is not sufficiently complete to warrant taking them into camp for summer training, according to information received by the local military headquarters. It is hoped, however, that when funds are voted, a cadet camp of six days will be held, although neither date nor location is known.

OBITUARY

DR. JOSEPH DANN.
The late Dr. Josph Dann was well known to the oldest inhabitants of these counties, having enjoyed an extensive practice here. On leaving Peterborough he went to Deloraine, Man., where he followed his profession. He was government inspector there for a number of years. On retiring nine years ago he moved to Surrey Centre, where he has since resided.
He leaves to mourn his loss his widow and one son, Ernest Hugh, and several brothers, among whom is Mr. Wm. Dann of Port Hope, a former resident of this city.

Movements in the Financial Markets

CORRECTIVE MEASURES WERE AGAIN IN EVIDENCE—SENSATIONAL ADVANCES.

MARKET NEWS

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, May 29.—Corrective measures were again forced in financial markets this week as indicated by smaller operations on the stock exchange. The tone was steadier however and confidence prevailed. The process af price reduction extended to a point where it encompassed provisions and other food stuffs, Alboit, in a moderate degree while such commodities as textiles and learthers experienced further depreciation. On every hand it was conceded that substantial benefits already have resulted from additional curtailment of credits, except in instances where this policy has temporarily affected productive enterprises and legitimate business expansion. The turn into June brought about no apparent change to local money market, call loans lending throughout week at six per cent, subject to slight hardening. Time loans running into mid-year were comparatively negligible, however at 8 1-2 to 8 3-4 per cent bid.

Sensational advances in exchange on Germany and Austria with marked betterment in Italian rate featured active dealings in the Foreign Exchange. Francs also improved and bills on London rose almost ten cents to the pound over previous week's lowest quotation.

Arrival of gold from Orient, in payment of loan made to Omsk Government over year ago reversal of exchange on Argentina to level where gold was released for that account at this cent, and more acute financial disturbances in Japan comprised significant international developments of week

PROPOSED TAX ON HOSPITALS

Deputation Will Wait on the Ottawa Government.

(Special to Examiner.

TORONTO, May 29. — In view of the proposed tax on proprietary and patent medicines included in the federal budget, a deputation from the Toronto Hospital Association, will wait on Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, next week to discuss with him the bearin gof the tax on the hospitals of the country. The proposal is for a thirty per cent. tax.

"It surely cannot be the purpose of the Minister of Finance to place additional burdens on the hospitals," said Dr. W. H. Harris, of Grace Hospital, in discussing the situation."

SEES FINISH OF TROTTING RACES

NEW REGULATIONS WILL STRANGLE THE SPORT.

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 29.—It will be impossible for race tracks to pay both the tax placed by the Provincial Government and the new regulatians on taxing the pari mutuel machine is the opinion of Mr. Sam McBride and official of the Canadian Racing Association. Providing also that if the new federal bill calls for the installing of the pari mutuel machines in the smaller tracks where trotting races are held Mr. McBride sees the finish to trotting in Ontario.

"The trotting tracks will go out of business if they are called upon to instal the pari mutuel machines", continued Mr. McBride "How could the machines be installed in smaller places like London, Stratford, Preston, Galt, Kitchener, Teeswater and other small places?" "The cost to install the machines is too large ot make it absolutely prohibitive. Trotting, standard bred horses must stop in Ontario if this is put into force. In Winnipeg and the west, trotting is continuing every day but with the new proposed installation of the pari mutuels it will have to close.

"The only fair means of settling the racing question is for the government to call a conference of Ontario racing men and talk the situation over," said Mr. McBride.

JEALOUS GIRLS AND A JEALOUS LOVER CAUSE MOTION PICTURE PROMOTOR LOT OF ANNOYANCE

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG Man., May 29.—Jealous girls among whom Alice Lawrence worked, and a jealous lover caused Ernest Shipman, motion picture promoter, much annoyance yesterday in Minneapolis. He was detained there for a few hours by the police while he explained why he was taking Alice Lawrence to New York. On proving that he had a contract with the Dominion Films Co. of New York City to engage in motion pictures with the company which will film "The Foreigner" in Winnipeg and that she had the consent of her guardian to go, the couple were immediately released. The police received the information to detain the girl from Father O'Gara, of St. Mary's parish, but the priest said his information was a priest's secret and refused to tell where he got his information that the leaving of the girl was illegal. Shipman just completed forming a company with a hundred thousand paid-up capital to produce motion pictures here, with the leading men of the city in it. He is on the way to New York to select directors for the company and was taking the best type of applicants among local talent to try before the camera. She is a telephone operator.

WAGE AGREEMENT WILL EXPIRE ON JUNE 15TH

TORONTO CITIZENS ANXIOUS TO KNOW IF THEY WILL HAVE TO WALK AFTER THAT DATE.

Special to the Examiner

TORONTO, aMy 29. — The time is rapidly approaching when the agreement covering the wages and conditions existing between the Toronto Street Railway Men's Union and the Toronto Street Railway, will expire. The date is June 15th it is said. Toronto citizens are anxious to know whether like last year they will have to find other means of transportation.

The Ontario Legislature has concluded its session and there is no change in the law with regard to the T. S. R. and its franchise.

The situation at present is that the Toronto Railway Company has applied for a Board of Conciliation and it is announced by the street railway men's officials that the union is considering the chosing of a representative to go on the board.

According to the Industrial Disputes Act, before either the company or the men can declare a strike or a lock out a board of conciliation must sit and make its award, and the award must either be accepted or rejected. Of course it is well known that this provision has been ignored many a time. Last year the strike was on in Toronto before the board was at work.

APPLICATIONS AT LABOUR BUREAU

The C.G.E. strike has caused a considerable increase in the number of aplications at the Labour Bureau and several of the strikers, mostly machinists were placed in positions.

The farm labour situation remained unchanged.

The domestic help situation, however, took a boom this week when the Bureau was able to secure and place one woman as a domestic.

During the past week, the Bureau had 48 applications, 29 local vacancies, placed 28 locally and transferred 7 to the Sudbury lumber camps.

THE COAL SITUATION LOOKING VERY SERIOUS

"ROW ON, NOW"

By Henry Wood.
(United Press.)

PARIS, May 29.— France, herself mourning two million dead, will pause to-morrow to do homage to the Allied dead buried in her soil. Over the graves of men who fell in defence of civilization the friendship between the French republic and the Allies will be re-consecrated.

The government has ordered a nation-wide observance of memorial day. Headed by Marshal Petain, French troops will join Allied soldiers in military ceremonies in many parts of France. Civilian committees have been oragnized in many cities and towns to decorate the graves of the dead. A small tri-color will be placed on the crosses, "Row on Row" in the military cemeteries. Wreaths of flowers will also be placed on thousands of graves "In Flanders Fields."

The French people have donated large sums for flowers to be placed on the soldiers' graves.

Poilu squads will sound taps at all the larger cemeteries. Troops from the Rhine area are being brought to France for this purpose. The Archbishops of Rheims and Lisieux have ordered prayers [illegible] throughout their diocese for the soldier dead. Hundreds of relatives of the buried dead have pilgrimaged to France to pay respects to their lost loved ones.

C.G.E. TELEGRAM SENT TO OTTAWA

A COPY HAS ALSO BEEN SENT TO MAYOR M'INTYRE.

A copy of the appended telegram, which has been forwarded to Senator Robertson, Minister of Labour, has also been sent to Mayor McIntyre:

Peterborough, 20th May, 1920.
Mr. A. A. McIntyre,
Mayor, Peterborough.
Dear Sir,

For your information, following is copy of telegram forwarded to the Minister of Labour:

"We have offered a generous increase in wages, notwithstanding the fact that all our contracts were entered into on a basis of previous lower wages, and that prices of labour and materials have a downward tendency. The last Board's findings, plus an additional offer of 5 cents per hour, is still unaccepted by the men, who are still on strike. We have offered the utmost increase we can afford to pay, and are willing that those on strike should return to work at the increased pay offered. I have assumed that the Labour Department, the City of Peterborough authorities, and the men would appreciate that under existing circumstances our offer is a generous one, and a just one, and we cannot reconsider decision."

MANUFACTURERS HAVE SENT OUT A WARNING LETTER TO MEMBERS.

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, May 29.—Following up previous efforts with regard to the crisis that is threatening in the bituminous coal situation, it is stated by leading manufacturers that a warning circular has been issued for their guidance. This sets forth that the year commencing April 1 had started with practically no reserve stocks, a condition without parallel in the history of the continent. To meet this state of affairs the circular asks that manufacturers with area of distribution Maritime Provinces and Alberta and British Columbia procure their supplies from these sources so as to avoid over-loading transportation.

WILL DISCUSS FLAT RATE FOR HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER

A special committee of the Legislature has been appointed to devise a more equitable system of distributing" Hydro-Electric power. Its investigations will be of special interest to Peterborough from the fact that this committee will also consider the practicability of a flat rate for power throughout the province. This demand has been heard from a number of districts in the west and at the meeting in Peterborough some weeks ago Trenton and some other sections in the eastern group also advocate the flat rate.

Mr. Thomas Tooms M. L. A., expressed the opinion that there is little likelihood of the flat rate being adopted. It would mean that municipalities situated far from the sources of power would be charged the same rates as in the communities where it was generated. Thus Peterborough for example would obtain no benefit whatever from having placed itself under the Hydro wing instead of playing a lone hand and developing the local power herself.

Mr. Tooms was appointed to the committee which will inquire into the proposed proportional representation.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKET REPORT

Marching Orders Issued to Troops

POSTAL CLERKS GETTING UNEASY

Threaten to Take Action After Monday Next.

(Special to Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man. May 29.—Employees of the local postoffice stated to-day the public may look for trouble after Monday next, which is pay day here. Failure of the Government to put into effect recommendations of civil service commission regarding increased pay and regulations governing work will then force the men to take a step which may cause great inconvenience to the service. All present employees are men who remained at work during strike of year ago or ex-soldiers taken on since. None of strikers been taken back up to the present. They number 400.

GAS TROUBLES LAID TO AUTO INDUSTRY

EXPERTS IN CONFERENCE IN NEW YORK DECIDE TO SEEK RELIEF IN PUBLICITY.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Representatives of 1,100 gas companies at an "emergency conference" of the American Gas Association decided to lay their grievances before the public and acquaint the consumer, through the press and otherwise, which conditions which they say will mean the shut-down of many gas companies next winter unless relief is obtained.

Speakers asserted the automobile industry is largely responsible for the shortage of fuel and gas oil because they are running everything "on high". Waste must under pleasure runing they said must be eliminated and the whole automobile industry must undergo a change. It was suggested that gasless Sundays are more imperative now than they were during the war.

A campaign program adopted calls for "priority in shipment of oil, coal and coke with preference in allocation;" immediate and substantial increases in rates;" emphatic protests against the present tremendous exports of oil and coal;" the abolition of the candle power standard; reduction of oil consumption by gas companies to the smallest quantity practicable; readjustment of heating standards accordingly and the "establishment of elastic rates responsive to changing conditions of operation."

SPECULATING IN THE PAPER MARKET

SEVERAL NEW HIGH RECORDS MADE.

MONTREAL, May 29.—Frantic excitement prevailed in Montreal Stock Market yesterday afternoon owing to the runaway movement in the Paper stocks. The noise of the shouting as members stroye to outbid each other was heard in every office on St. Francois Xavier street, and a crowd filled with curiosity, sensing that something sensational was afoot gathered outside the exchange and enjoyed the excitement within. Several new high records were made, commencing with Brompton at 117 in the forenoon. This stock was almost neglected in the afternoon when it subsided to 113 1-2 and attention centred first on Wayagamack which shot away up to 107 3-4 closing 105 1-2, and then on Laurentide, which sprang to par, and Abitibi, which ran up to 69

Riordon also showed up well, rising to 183 and closing at 180. Howard Smith recovered to 124 1-2. Spanish rosce to 96 and Spanish pfd. to 134 1-4. Outside of the papers, Brazilian was the most interesting, rising to 47 on talk of dividend consideration shortly. Quebec Railway was stronger at 25 3-4. Lyall rallied a point to 56. Steamships, after touching 73, yielded a fraction Canadian Cottons was steady at 95 and Iron easy and quiet at 64 1-4.

STRAW HATS TO COST LESS

Immediate Slash in Prices Promised by Dealers.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Arnim W. Riley, special assistant to Attorney-Gen. Palmer, in charge of the profiteering investigation here, announced that after a conference with prominent hat dealers he had obtained their promise to slash straw hat prices immediately. He said he had convinced them they were making too great profits.

CABINET MEETS TO DEAL WITH THE IRISH SITUATION.

GETTING WORSE

United Press.

LONDON, May 29. — The British military officials to-day took steps to meet the critical situation in Ireland, following the attacks upon the soldier barracks at Killmallock, where two constables were burned to death in a wing of the baracks set on fire by a band of more than a hundred men.

Premier Lloyd George presided at a cabinet conference last night at which it was understood drastic action to cope with the Irish disorders was decided upon.

Flying columns of cavalry have been sent to Killmallock. A motor cycle corps has also been organized and was expected to proceed to the seat of the trouble immediately.

Four 18 pounder guns, a quantity of rifle ammunition, grenades, petrol and barbed wire were landed at Kingtown last night, according to a despatch received here. Army lorries also have been rushed to Dublin.

The latest reports received here regarding the attack upon the barracks at Killmallock, declared that 10 constables were in the building when it was attacked by more than a hundred men, many of whom took positions in nearby houses, sniping from the windows.

OIL BOMBS USED BY THE ATTACKERS.

A heavy fusilade of rifle fire was the first indication that the constables in the barracks had that they were being attacked. Bombs, containing oil and parrafin were thrown upon the roof of the barracks, setting fire to one wing in which constables Keane and Morton were endeavoured to fight off a mob that attempted to break through the door Both men weer severely wounded and were unable to escape. Their charred bodies were bound in the ruins of the burned wing of the barracks.

Reinforcements were sent to Killmallock but arrived after the attackers had withdrawn. An airplane flew above the barracks all last night.

Marching orders have been issued for troops at Aldershot and other points in England, and these forces were expetced to start for Londonderry to-day.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES FOR THE DAILY EXAMINER

Owing to the greatly increased cost of newsprint and all other costs going into the production of a newspaper, The Examiner has been forced to increase its subscription rates, and on and after June 1st next, The Daily Examiner will be sold as follows delivered:

Yearly	$6.00
Half-Yearly	$3.00
Quarterly	$1.50
Monthly	50c
By Mail Monthly	40c
Weekly through newsboys	15c
Single Copies	3c

The Examiner is about the last, of the Daily Papers to increase its subscription rates. We had hoped that the price of newsprint would come down and permit us to continue the old price, but find that it is absolutely necessary to follow the course of all other newspapers in order to continue our publication.

THE OTONABEE CHAPTER, I.O.D.E., WILL HOLD A COMMUNITY DANCE ON THURSDAY EVENING, 3RD JUNE, ON THE SIMCOE STREET SQUARE, BETWEEN GEORGE AND WATER STREETS. A GOOD ORCHESTRA WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE, AND LIGHT REFRESHMENTS SERVED.

OUIJA BOARD LANDS WOMAN IN JAIL

Ouija Told Her a Murder Had Been Committed But For Once it was Mistaken.

PITTSBURG, May 27.—A ouija board was responsible for Miss Bertha Henry landing in jail recently and police authorities demand that she take steps to prevent it from getting out of control on murder tips.

The ouija board, Miss Henry said, informed her that three persons had just been shot in the room overhead, and to make sure she had the message "repeated" three times. The police arrived at No. 507 Amery St. in response to her alarm that a murder had been committed, but no trace was found. Coroner Dempsey asked her. Where do you get that stuff?" She referred him to the ouija board.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

CHATS ABOUT BOOKS—BOOK REVIEWS—OF INTEREST TO BOOK LOVERS.

Many months ago there was an account in the "Manchester Guardian" of a conversation which the writer of it had with some Canadian soldiers on the subject of English literature. The soldiers said that certain classical authors, "particularly Dickens and Thackeray," ought to be scrapped because the wrote only of heroes who "can't earn their own livelihood, and spend nearly all their time in hanging after some old woman to get her money." They added to this condemnation of English authors in general—and of most authors of whatever nationality — a particular condemnation of Thackeray on the ground that "there are only two heroes in" his books "who have some sort of a job."

This curious criticism of English Literature by the Canadian soldiers, came back to my mind lately when I was travelling from Cincinnati to Toronto. I had to change trains at Detroit and in order to pass the time of waiting between the arrival of the train from Cincinnati and the departure of the train for Toronto I bought a popular magazine and read it. I was impressed by the fact that the hero of each of the stories, oddly similar in form and theme, was a business man so closely engrossed in his work that he had no time for the consideration of anything but the problems of his employment. The villain, when there was a villain, was addicted to æsthetic oursuits. While the hero studied statistics and trade returns, the villain wasted his mental energies on art.

Part of the design against the hero consisted of an effort to lure him from the consideration of Big Business to the consideration of Culture. The more despicable of the villains lived in Greenwich village, which is the Chelsea of New York, or were frequently to be seen in the purlieus of Washington Square holding converse of a subversive character with painters and poets and other varieties of "artistic" people. The heroine, if she were frail, attended at lectures by novelists sometime of foreign origin, in women's clubs, and was only rescued in the nick of time from her evil associates by the hero persuading her, just as she was about to give herself to the villainous æsthete, to take an interest in Big Business. The better type of heroine never for one moment felt any artistic impulses whatever; her whole mind was bent on Big Business.

By the time that my train had left Detroit I had discovered the cause of the Canadian soldiers' complaint against English literature—they were confusing moral indignation with literary appreciation, and were giving their support to a pernicious heresy, very prevalent in America, that the most interesting thing about a man is the job by which he keeps himself provided with food and lodging. If they had their way with our authors they would very narrowly limit the scope of literature, and when we asked for works of art they would offer us books of technical instruction. They have fallen into the error of the Puritan who imagines that man is desirable, when he conforms to the common standard, the truth being that man is desirable only when he differs from the common standard.

Had the complaint against Dickens been that he followed too closely in the footsteps of Samuel Richardson, making his heroes too noble to be tolerable and his villains too wicked to be credible, there would have been reason in it. The problem which puzzled Hamlet, of how a man "could smile and smile and be a villain," offered no difficulties to Dickens. To his way of thinking a man could not "smile and smile and be a villain"; he could only scowl and scowl and be a villain. That is why Nicholas Nickleby is such a tiresome hero and Mr. Squeers is such a preposterous ruffian. It is hard to believe that Nickleby was always uttering exalted sentiments at great length; it is still harder to believe that Mr. Squeers never only kindly patted the head of a pupil at Dotheboys Hall. We know most of us, that Nature has so mixed up the elemets in man that the villain of one moment is the hero of the next, and the pioneer of to-day is the reactionary of to-morrow; but Dickens will have none of this pandering to Nature; his villains must be very villainous, and his heroes must be pedantically noble; and so though an excess of villainy is more entertaining than an excess of virtue, there is a danger that Dicken's refusal to acknowledge Nature even in his villains will cause the downfall of his work. "She's a rum, 'un, Natur'," said Mr. Squeers, and if Dickens had only paid attentive hee dto his own schoolmaster we should not now be lamenting the disrelish with which so many young people regard his books.

The judgment of the world is against the Canadian soldiers, and it is against America. Work is not the chief end of man, nor is he of interest only or principally because of his occupation. There is a limited interest to be derived from the reading of the way in which a man can take iron and beat it into shoes for horses and wheels for carts, but there is illimitable interest to be derived from an account of the way in which he wooed and loved and hated and fought and died, and that interest is no less in extent when the man happens to be a tramp instead of the president of a railroad. The complaint made by the materialists who called themselves Puritans was that art was not definitely useful in the sense in which a steam engine is useful, and something of that complaint must have been in the mind of the Canadian soldied when they railed against heroes who had not got "some sort of a job."

"A Son of Courage," by Archie P. McKishnie, (Toronto: Thomas Allen). Price $2.00.

Archie McKishnie's latest story "A Son of Courage," will find a place in the heart of every boy and girl who is fortunate enough to read it. It is a story brimful of wood lore and reveals the author's intimate knowledge of Nature. It is a Canadian book, written by a Canadian writer, whose work is destined to take a prominent place in the realm of Canadian literature. The story opens with a breezy introduction to a small but rugged youth who posseses an insatiable desire to fish and cultivate the acquaintance of the wild life in a very thickly wooded and sparsely settled country. The plot is one of many parts skilfully interwoven and concludes to the satisfaction of even the most critical reader. Acquaintance with such characters as adorn the book is good for the soul and goes a long way to prove that many a kindly personality is hidden behind a grim exterior.

It brings to the reader many a vivid impression of Canada one hundred years ago or less when the pioneers first hacked their way through innumerable difficulties and gave to Canada the rich heritage we have today. The setting of the story is on the shores of Lake Erie in the vicinity of Rondeau Park, and its five thousand acres of forest wealth. The book which is a splendid contribution to Canadian fiction, is dedicated to a sister of the author, Mrs. Jean Blewett.

School for Writers

They are trying to make journalists in London through the medium of a correspondence school. As already mentioned in these columns it is under the direction of Max Pemberton, author of many novels, with numerous sponsors, titled and untitled, on its board of patrons, and a list of distinguished writers of such eminence as Sir Arthur Quiller Couch, W. B. Maxwell, Barry Pain and the late Charles Garvice among those who have taken a hand in preparing its series of lessons, which include not only instruction in journalism, but also in story-writing.

Study Dante.

The elaborate preparations that are being made in the Romance countries to celebrate the sixth centenary of the death of Dante—he died September 14, 1321—are not to be confined to the delivering of addresses and the writing of articles. Paris is planning, according to Pierre de Nolhac in the "Journal des Debats," to establish a chair at the College de France for the sole special study of Dante.

Book of Travels

Alfred Kerr, known primarily for his writings on the theatre, has written a book of travels in two volumes, which is said to be one of the most fascinating "studies of the world" ever brought out in Germany. The work is entitled "Die Welt im Licht." S. Fischer, of Berlin, is the publisher.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, MAY 29TH, 1920.

THE LAST MINUTE RUSH.

The request of Sir Robert Borden that the Dominion Parliament should sit on Saturdays henceforth and also hold morning sessions, might be accepted as an indication that the government has realized the necessity of speeding up the business of the country, were it not for the suspicion that there is another motive behind the move. Hon. Mackenzie King drew attention to that suspicion the other day when he criticized the proposal because it would be impossible for the Opposition to give proper attention to the important legislation that is yet to come before the House if there were to be three sessions to-day. The trouble is that as usual with every session, weeks of valuable time have been wasted in useless debate and unimportant legislation, leaving most of the important work for the last days of the session. As a result measures involving huge expenditures and of the greatest moment are hustled through without a chance to properly consider them being given. To the man on the street there does not seem any reason why the important legislation should not be brought down early in the session, leaving maters of minor importance to the last so that if there is need of speeding up the machinery there would be no danger of the measures that really matter being rushed through in the dieing hours of the session. Mr. King's point is well taken. The Opposition will certainly be handicapped in their effort to keep a close watch on the legislation yet to be considered if they have to be in attendance morning, noon and night.

THE VETERANS' CAMPAIGN.

Mr. R. B. Maxwell, the Dominion president of the Great War Veterans' Association, has sent a message to every branch of the association in the Dominion—there are 776 in all —to commence a campaign to force an early general election and to show the Union government that public opinion through out the country demands an end of the present regime. Mr. Maxwell calls upon the branches to immediately hold public meetings at which an opportunity can be given to secure "an unmistakable expression of the wishes of the people in regard to the necessity of a general election." Unfortunately, however, for the success of Mr. Maxwell's plan, it is to be feared that the Union government will pay but scant attention to resolutions, no matter how numerous or how strongly worded. The government does not need mass meetings to prove that it is unpopular in the country; the results of the by-elections that have been held since the end of the war have been a criterion of public opinion that could not be mistaken by even the most optimistic member of the administration .But the government has chosen to ignore the wishes of the people and has frankly declared, through several of its ministers, its intention of remaining in office to the full limit of the present term. The Great War Veterans' campaign is therefore confronted at the outset with a condition of affars that cannot be altered by merely holding meetings and condemning the government. Nevertheless it may be attended by beneficial results, for it will afford a chance to the people throughout the country to once more indicate their opinion.

GIVE THEM CREDIT.

To the credit of the majority of the Farmer members of the Ontario Legislature, let it be said that in the vote on the Civil Servants' Superannuation Bill, only seven of them voted against the measure. The campaign carried on by the headquarters of the United Farmers in opposition to the bill was a complete failure, for the legislation was passed by a vote of 64 to 10. Secretary J. J. Morrison and the other officials of the U.F.O. had exhausted every effort in their power to ensure the defeat of the bill, but the members of the Legislature proved that they were determined to use their own judgment and to refuse to be employed as rubber stamps by the Farmers' organization. Many of the members — and they should be given every credit for it by the people of the province—ig[illegible] the demands of the Farmers' clubs whose support had neglected them. They believed that the principle of the Superannuation Bill was sound; that the Ontario Civil Service would be improved by the establishment of a pension system and that the passing of the measure was in the interests of the province, and braving the wrath of the U.F.O. they stood up in their places and voted according to their own convictions. The Drury government has gained in prestige as a result, for its position would have been prejudiced had it yielded to the pressure exerted by the Unitd Farmers.

THE SERBIAN FUND.

So many demands have been made upon the generosity of the public as a result of conditions arising out of the war that people can be pardoned if they were sometimes slow in reacting to a fresh appeal. The Examiner realizes that there has been a heavy drain upon the incomes of citizens as a result of these calls taken in conjunction with the high cost of living and the burden of increased taxation, and were it not satisfied that the plight of the Serbian people is desperate and that all the assistance that more fortunate countries can give is needed, would have hesitated to endorse the campaign that is being held in Peterborough at the present time. But the need is great; the condition of the Serbians is such as to claim the pity of the world, and the half million dollars that the people of Canada have pledged themselves to raise may save the lives of thousands of unfortunates who otherwise would be condemned to death through starvation or disease. Under these circumstances the Examiner believes that it is the duty of this paper to use its influence and devote a portion of its space to placing the appeal of the Serbian Relief Fund before the people of Peterborough, in the confidence that when the seriousness of the situation is realized the call upon this city for $5,000 will be answered completely and unhesitatingly as similar calls in the past have been answered by the warm-hearted readers of the Examiner. It is a simple statement of fact that no country has felt the strain of the war more acutely than has Serbia. Practically its whole male population fought on the side of the Allies, and of a total enrollment of 707,343 soldiers, only 150,000 were able to escape. Under such circumstances it is not difficult to understand that the families of the men who did not come back are in desperate need of help.

Donations may be left at the local banks or the Examiner office and will be gladly acknowledged through the columns of this paper.

THE WAR'S AFTERMATH.

How have the mighty fallen! In one European capital, nobles and princes once arrogant and wealthy, are acting as their own or others' servants; in another the daughter of a chief stablekeeper is in a fair way to sit on a throne hitherto reserved for those of royal blood. And their conditions are recorded, not as matters of political importance, but in the human-interest newspaper stories of a day — just highlights in the strange aftermath of war as it concerns individuals, not nations.

In Constantinople, the bluest blood of Russia is becoming thin in poverty. Refugees from the Soviet are serving as waiters, dishwashers, and cooks, and although two or three years ago they owned broad estates and commanded regiments of servants, they are glad of even the living they have.

Sir Philip Gibbs cables interestingly of the condition to the Montreal Gazette. Some are sheltered and fed by the British at Prinkipo and elsewhere. Others support themselves for the time being on the proceeds of the sale of their jewels and furs. Of money they have none, and Russian money would be useless for it has practically no value. Its purchasing power is two thousand times less than normal. One group of refugees pay the equivalent of seven millions of roubles—the cost of a palace—for the annual rent o a house in Constantinople.

Strangely enough, those who have valuables, which obliging Levantines accept in exchange for amounts of cash much less than their real worth, are spending freely and living gaily. In the most expensive city in the world they are getting what pleasure they can in dining and wining and dancing and gambling. Apparently they do not worry against the day when the last pawnable diamond will be gone.

And from Athens King George of Greece has gone to Paris to visit his wife, daughter of the keeper of his stables, and it is expected that one day soon he will take her back to share his throne. The King and the stableman's daughter were childhood sweethearts. Last November they ended a canter in the park at her home, where they were married. The Athenians, it seems, were not prepared to acknowledge the bona fides of the marriage, and their gossip drove the little lady from the Royal Palace to the French capital, where George has now arrived to spend a few weeks with her.

Not being of Royal blood, the King's wife cannot become his official consort without the sanction of the Greek Parliament. But this is expected to be obtained. Premier Venizelos sent the young monarch off to Paris with his best wishes for a good time, and it is said that he will "request" Parliament to approve of the King's marriage and of the elevation of his wife to the throne.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The report that one physician in Hamilton issued 22,000 liquor prescriptions in a year may be an indication that Hamilton is a very unhealthy city. And again it may only mean that the population is more than usually thirsty.

There is the unusual feature about some of the Provincial nominees in Winnipeg They are not worrying so much about getting in as they are about getting out.

Some of the newspapers have been trying to devise a new name for the Union government It has been called a lot of things in the past two years.

HAT SNATCHING NEW DIVERSION

Second hand Chapeaux are Worth Real Money.

LONDON, May 28. — London has a new kind of thief, the hat snatcher. He mingles with the crowd, snatches og a hat and passes it to a confederate, who makes a quick getaway. In the region of Victoria station five hundreds complaints have been received from persons whose hats have been yanked off while they were nursying to catch trains. Because of the prevailing high prices for hats second hand chapeaux can be sold by the thieves at a substantial profit .

For Flat Roofs

FLAT roofs of wooden or concrete construction require special treatment. For such, we advise laying Brantford Rubber Roofing or Brantford Asphalt Roofing according to what we term Brantford Specification.

The 60 lb. roll roofing is used and is laid into our special Branroco Cement. A top coat of superior Roof Coating is then applied. The completed job furnishes an absolutely watertight roof and one that is also unaffected by frost. It is a permanent form of construction the same as the walls of a building.

Brantford Specification Roofs

are suitable for factories, stores, public buildings, apartment houses, warehouses—any class of building with a flat roof. Particulars and estimates of cost will be furnished on application to our local branch.

INSANE THROUGH LOVE

Brewing Fires Revolver, but Cannot Awaken Stage Star's Affection.

PARIS. —Leon Breuing, aged 45, loved Mlle. Valpreu, the beautiful star of the Comedie Francaise.

Morning and evening he wrote her impassioned epistles.

She took no notice and never replied

Last night he wandered about for hours up and down the embankment of the Seine. At 3 o'clock this morning what was left of his mind was made up.

He rang the bell at the house where the beloved lived and was admitted to the courtyard. With a revolver he had bought he fired six shots into the window of her apartment. Mademoiselle did not waken.

Leon has been taken to a madhouse certified insane through love.

CHAIR READY FOR TEN YEARS FOR CANADIAN AMBASSADOR

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—A musty diplomatic secret has been disclosed here through the announcement that Canada soon will send its own Minister to Washington. It is that for thelast ten years a specially made chair, carved with the Canadian coat of arms, has been waiting in Washington for use of this Envoy.

Elihu Root, then Secretary of State, ordered the chair, one of many specially designed for the Pan-American Union Building at the Capital. Andrew Carnegie's memorial to cement more firmly the relations of the Americans. The story is told by Albert Kelsey of this city, one of the architects of the Pan-American Building, who said:

"Once a month the Ambassadors and Ministers of all the American Republics meet, and are presided over by our Secretary of State in the Pan-American Building, and each representative has a chair of his own, with the arms of his country carved on the back.

"Now when these chairs were decided on, Secretary Root asked me to have an additional one made with the Canadian arms on it, which was done, and which has been hidden for the past ten years, for Secretary Root cautioned me—to use his expression—to be a 'little reticent about the matter.'"

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

ALICE SLOANE IS CAUTIONED.

Suddenly I stopped laughing What in the world ailed Everett, usually so self-possessed He was flushing like a school girl. Never had I seen anyone look more sheepish then it dawned upon me: He HAD been to the beauty parlor, and he was ashamed.

"Don't look so ashamed," I said "or I never shall be able to stop laughing," as once more I gave way to merriment. "I can't see why you should be so embarrassed because you had your hair dyed. Women never mind."

"I know, Sandra," his blush deepened, "but it seems different in a woman. I did it because of you. I don't want you to be mortified by references to my age."

"One, to hear you talk, would suppose you a Methuselah, at least. You do not look a bit old to me, Everett really you don't."

That's because you are accustomed to me. I SEEM old to you, tho."

"Sometimes At others you seem quite young," I answered honestly.

"Is it very noticeable?" he asked, again referring to his hair.

"No, not at all. Had you been more gray, it might have been. But you only had a few gray hairs."

"Then I" keep it up. For heaven's sake tell Alice Sloane not to talk about it," he blushed again as he mentioned Alice

"I'll promise she will say nothing I replied. I was awfully amused altho now I tried to hide it. That my dignifiied, proper husband should spend time in a beauty parlor was to me about the most incongruous thing he could have done. Every time I thought of it I wanted to laugh.

I took particular pains to let Alice know how he felt right away. The next morning after breakfast I walked over to her house, and told her as she valued our friendship to keep still.

"Everett is horribly sensitive about it," I said after we had stopped laughing—really I couldn't help laughing, altho I tried not to before Alice, who fairly screamed. "He never would forgive you if he heard it you had told it, because you were the one who put it in his head."

"Oh, it is too funny, Sandra," she went off into another peal of laughter, "Think of Mr. Graham doing a thing like that. If it had been anyone else it would not have seemed so ridiculous. But he is so dignified.

"That is the very reason probably he will be sensitive over it," I returned. "So be careful. I wish you wouldn't even speak of it to Duane.

"I won't! Cross my heart!"

It was like Everett not to say anything when I simply remarked that I had called on Alice. I did not mention the fact had I had warned her; but he knew and so ignored the subject—as was his way.

I never have known a man who could ignore things the way Everett could. He would simply act as if he had not heard, or as if nothing had either been said, or had happened, when all the time he was acutely conscious of what was going on.

So, from that time, dyeing his hair was never mentioned. Yet he regularly had it done.

"Marrying a young wife seems to have given Graham a new lease on youth," I heard that odious Mr Leveridge say one night at a dinner party.

"Yes, he not only keeps his looks, but he acts younger than he did ten years ago."

"He hasn't a gray hair, and I know he is older than I am," Leveridge grunted.

"What you don't know won't hurt you," I thought, delighted at having overheard the conversation.

To-morrow—What's in a Name?

Purina Calf Chow

Is Different

Yes, it's unlike any calf meal on the market.

1st. It's different because it's better.

2nd. Every ingredient is a pure feed of recognized value, no "phony" products of unknown worth. It does not contain anise, or any appetizer. Calves eat it as greedily as they do whole milk.

3rd. It does not scour; blood flour is one of the important ingredients, which insures freedom from scours.

4th. Easy to feed, no boiling, just mix with warm water.

5th. It is balanced just like whole milk. Calves thrive from the first on Purina Calf Chow and it keeps them making gains without sickly periods. It is used by many of the best dairy farms in the country to raise the finest calves.

6th. But it is cheap enough to use on any calf, costs less than half as much as milk feeding. So easy to feed that boys or girls are assured of success.

"There's a Purina Feed for Every Need."

GIRLS ARE MAKING CLOTHES AT HOME

PRACTICE BECOMING QUITE COMMON IN PETERBORO.

Fashion's dictates, which this season call for absolutely straight lines have favored the geural public as it has provided for costumes any amateur may make with the greatest ease. This, the dry goods men claim, has resulted in a big percentage of the young women in the city making their own clothes as far as dresses, skirts and smocks are concerned, but as yet very few of them have touched suits.

"And they are making a good job of them," the dry goods men claim. The girls are not a bit ashamed to claim their clothes as homemade and not two percent. of the girls who never made a garment in other years, have returned for more of the same material on account of spoiling part of any garment in cutting it out or putting it together.

The dressmakers have been kept unusually busy this season and say this is due to the fact that they are necessary for the making of suits and that the average business girl has not enough time to devote to making clothes. The largest number of amateur dressmakers are amongst the unemployed girls.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE HARVEY MINSTRELS.

It is a long time since Peterborough has seen a better minstrel performance than that given at the Grand yesterday by Harvey's greater minstrels, a company of clever coloured people who scored heavily in singing and dancing and in vaudeville specialties as well. There was not a dull moment from the opening chorus until the last number of the olio, and the programme moved with a "pep" and vim that kept the audience always in good humour. The first part was the conventional minstrel, opening with plenty of good music, lively dancing and the usual cross-fire of jokes between the end men and the interlocutor, with the difference that much of the repartee was new, and it was all delivered effectively. The introduction of female voices into the circle was a pleasing addition to the vocal numbers. The honours in the first part were carried off by Emmet Moss, a bass singer with a splendid voice, and the ability to use it. His rendition of "The Big Bass Viol" and "Old Black" were thoroughly appreciated, enhanced as they were by some particularly effective harmony by the chorus.

The vaudeville numbers were well above the usual minstrel average. Frank Kirk's musical act, in which he introduced a number of peculiar instruments of his own manufacture, was an offering that took the house by storm. Little Willie nad Mabel Edwards contributed an acrobatic performance that would have been a hit on any bill, and the Australian waiters did some marvellous whip cracking stunts. Alonzo Moore's magic feats were clearly and cleverly put over and Leland Goldman made his saxophone talk in a musical talk in a musical number that was well received.

The Harvey orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Payne, had a big part in the success of the performance. The organization, which was seen here for the first time yesterday, can include Peterborough in its itinerary for next season in full confidence that it will be heartily welcomed back again.

One of the most important theatrical events of the season is the appearance at the grand to-night of the famous actress, Nance O'Neil, in her record-breaking success, "The Passion Flower."

WILL INVESTIGATE O. T. A.

Findings Will Take Form of Drafted Amendments.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, May 28.—An important committee, composed of the representatives of all parties, to investigate the Ontario Temperance Act and its administration and return its finding to the House in the form of drafted amendments at the next session, was named by Premier Drury in the Legislature this morning. The possibilities of proportional representation will also be investigated by another committee named.

At the opening of the session Col. W. H. Price, Parkdale, requested the Premier's permission to introduce an amendment to the Beck Act of 1900 to make it impossible for a Municipal Council to pass by-laws, permitting any alterations or modifications of franchises without the consent of the electors. Consent was given and the bill given its first reading.

FATHER CARRIES OFF HIS TWO CHILDREN.

Canadian Press:

MONTREAL, May 27.—Two little girls, both seven years of age, disappeared from the Ladies' Benevolent Institution, 247 Ontario Street, yesterday afternoon. The police and some of the clergy are now searching everywhere for them. They are the children of William Roy of Sabrevois, Que., and they had been placed in the home last November, at the instigation of Bishop Farthing, of Montreal.

Yesterday the father called, and asked to see the children, saying that he was leaving town for some time. While he was talking to them the Superintendent was called out of the room to answer the telephone. While thus engaged she happened to look out of the window, and saw the father, with a child under each arm, running toward a waiting automobile.

You Pay only the Same Duty on Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea as on the Very Poorest Tea

Before the war there was no duty on tea.

To-day there is a duty of 7 cents a pound on tea brought from British possessions, and one of 10c. a pound on tea brought from other countries, regardless of the quality.

If it were levied on the value of the tea, as is the case with other goods imported into Canada, the duty on a pound of Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea would be about double that levied on common tea.

But the duty on a pound of this fine-quality, mountain-grown tea — Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea—is the same as that on a pound of the very poorest tea.

This is one of the reasons that this tea of extra quality—as well as our standard, well-known Red Rose brand—is so much better value than ordinary teas.

You pay less duty.

This situation is appreciated by tea lovers all over Canada. There is a greater demand for fine-quality tea to-day than before the war. And our NEW fine-quality tea—Red Rose Orange Pekoe—is already enjoying a brisk demand.

Try it. Sold only in our new package—the waxed board carton.

MAYOR MACBRIDE SUSPENDS DR. HUTTON

Latter Had Defied Request to Enforce Pasteurization By-law.

BRANTFORD, May 27.—Mayor M. M. MacBride suspended Dr. W. L. Hutton, M.O.H., this morning. The Health Department doubts his authority, but the suspension is said to have taken effect This action follows the defiance of Dr. Hutton of the Mayor's request that he, Dr. Hutton, refrain from enforcing the compulsory pasteurization enactment of the City Council. The Board of Health resented the Mayor's request as an impertinence, and ordered Dr. Hutton to commence prosecution, even if other legal talent than the City Solicitor had to be secured. Mayor MacBride's action followed the commencement of prosecution against William Britain, who refused to pasteurize his milk, and who had organized opposition to the by-law, contending that his milk, while not certified, is pure.

QUEBEC, May 25.—Damage estimated at two hundred thousand dollars was done at St. Joachim last night when a fire destroyed a sawmill, lumber yard and five houses. The fire was got under control after assistance had been sent from here and neighboring municipalities. The mill was erected over a century ago.

BOARD OF COMMERCE WILL REPORT ON MAY 31.

W. F. O'Connor Refused to Comment on Disagreement of Two Commissioners.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, May 28.—The report of the Board of Commerce, covering its activities during the past year, will be submitted to the Government on Monday, May 31. This is the last day under the requirements of the law on which the report can be made.

Asked to-day if there was any truth in a report published in an Ottawa paper that there was a disagreement between two Commissioners of the Board over the tenor of its report to the Government, W. F. O'Connor refused to make any statement. The probability is that the decision of the Supreme Court defining the jurisdiction of the Board of Commerce as a profit fixing tribunal also will come down on Monday morning.

Skin Blemishes

How to get rid of them

Skin specialists are tracing fewer and fewer troubles to the blood. They say more often, skin blemishes can be traced to the bacteria and parasites that are carried into the pores of the skin with dust, soot and grime. To clear your skin of blemishes caused by this insidious and persistent enemy, use regularly the following special treatment.

Just before retiring, wash in your usual way with warm water and Woodbury's Facial Soap; then dry your face. Now dip the tips of your fingers in warm water and rub them on the cake of Woodbury's until they are covered with a heavy cream-like lather. Cover each blemish with a thick coat of this soap cream and leave it on for ten minutes. Rinse very carefully with clear, hot water; then with cold.

In addition to this special treatment, use Woodbury's regularly in your daily toilet. This will make your skin firm and active. It will help the new skin to resist the frequent cause of blemishes. Before long your complexion will take on a new clearness and freshness.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

PLUGGED QUARTER WINS GAMBLER A SMALL FORTUNE

COMES BACK AGAIN AND LOSES WHEN DICE GOES AGAINST HIM.

CHICAGO, May 29. — "Shorty" Lester, whose sinuous wrist technique is admired and respected by those dice-men of the town who are wise in the Iscariot ways of the agitated dominoes, has had his crowded hour.

He has done what is the ambition and prayer of all those who read them and weep. He took a plugged and questionable quarter—a symbol spurned and spat upon in the average game—and multiplied it by hectic temperature of the ivories and the flamboyant twist of the wrist into 15 grand; that is to say, 150 yards, or $15,000.

Gunga Din Profits.

He gave large largess to his faithful Gungo Din—"Cocky" Doris, his eager waterboy, who fetched him glass after glass as the crazed "Shorty" made pass after pass.

"Shorty's" occupation is that of box man of a profitable and popular dice game. The box man of a crap game is the dignitary whose duty it is to rake in the nickels for the house, which is the only sure profit there is in the game.

Even boxmen have their days off. On one of "Shorty's" days off recently he visited the game and noticed that the ivories were extremely warm.

Near "Dope" Helped Him

He felt in his pocket. He had obtained a prescription at a certain drug store and all he had left was a quarter. It was damaged goods, but when put down carefully it could get by.

Someone said "two to one" on a four pass that had been thrown, and "Shorty" took the bet and won.

By degrees he ran that bad quarter into a good $25.

Then he rolled up his sleeves and started the "shoot" that made him famous, and will live in local crap history.

'Shoots the Works."

He shot his $25 all in a lump. He had taken the prescription purchased at the certain drug store, and the caution of years was dulled by the strength of his medicine.

He won. He shot the $50. He won. He shot the $100. They began to plead with him to 'pull in."

"Shorty" knew no caution.

"Water!" he gasped to Gunga Din Doris. Doris came back with a glass, the contents of which "Shorty" swallowed in a gulp.

He shot the $200. He won. He shot the $400. He won. One spectator fainted with the excitement. Doris was bringing water now in a pitcher. "Shorty" trembled so much his wrist motion looked like the ague.

Heart Skips Some Beats.

He shot the $800. He won, and his heart missed a dozen beats.

He could no longer speak. He weakly made a motion which signified he wanted to "shoot the works." He was faded and won. By this time he had the habit.

The dice were so warm they prespired. All thoughts of restraint were gone. "Shorty" saw himself as the Monte Cristo of dicemen. He visualized a Rolls-Royce, residence at the Blackstone, and many other things.

How it happened nobody can tell coherently. But ten minutes later "Shorty," his stomach bloated with water, walked out of the place with $15,000. He took a handful of money—several hundred dollars and tossed it to Gunga Din.

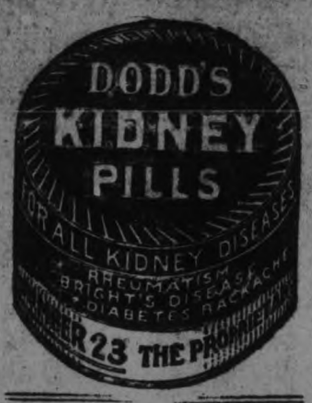
He journeyed to a certain drug store and filled several prescriptions.

When he came to, 48 hours later, he went back to the game. The dice had gone down in temperature. They were below zero.

Five hours later "Shorty" walked out again. In his pocket he had a quarter.

It was just enough to buy some ham and eggs at a certain all-night beanery.



BULGARIA "COMING BACK".

Rapidly Distancing Other Balkan States in Regaining Strength.

SOFIA.—Bulgaria has had a remarkable recovery from the war. Contrasted to the situation that existed a year ago, conditions prevailing to-day give promise that the country will out-distance all other economic strength. And the remarkable fact is, that this quick recovery has been made without any outside assistance. Apart from some flour purchased from the United States last year, Bulgaria has had to depend for its subsistence and support entirely upon its own resources.

While other Balkan countries have been busy celebrating the victories and seeking the acquisition of new territories, Bulgaria has been hard at work. Its factories, farms and mills are going full blast. Chastened by defeat, the people are working with doubled energy to regain their former footing. The farms are yielding good crops, the fields are teeming with cattle, the mines are busy and the shops are filling up.

Fifteen months ago, when The Associated Press correspondent visited Bulgaria, the country was facing starvation, economic disintegration and financial exhaustion. There was a grave shortage of all the necessaries of life, prices were beyond the reach of all except the rich, the spirit of the people was gone, and the country was threatened with Bolshevism. To-day there is a complete change. Bulgaria has again come into its own. Abundant crops, perservering toil, the absence of labor troubles and the revived hope of the people are the main factors.

LIMIT BETTING AT RACE MEETS TO PARI-MUTUELS

MINISTER OF JUSTICE INTRODUCES BILL TO AMEND CRIMINAL CODE.

OTTAWA, May 29.—Hon. C. J. Doherty, Winister of Justice, introduced a bill yesterday afternoon, the purpose of which is to amend the Criminal Code in several respects. The bill contains an amendment extending the present law regarding the carrying of fire-arms to a wider list of weapons.

A further amendment provides for the raising of the age of consent. The amendment to the code has several times been defeated in th Senate. Further amendment deals with the race track gambling and provides that the methods of organized betting be limited to the use of the pari-mutuals, and that the sums taken thereby be restricted to a limited percentage on the amount of the stake.

Another amendment provides penalties for the unlawful wearing of uniforms, badges, or button.

Still another provides for more severe penalties on persons keeping disorderly houses. It provides for a minimum penalty of three months in jail without the option of a fine.

It is further provided that in the event of the Appeals Court of two different Provinces differing upon a finding, either the Attorney-General or the accused may apply for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court.

NEURALGIA AND SCIATICA

Caused by Starved Nerves Due to Weak, Watery Blood

People generally think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same. The cause is the same, and the remedy to be effective, must be the same. The pain of neuralgia, whether it takes the form of sciatica, or whether it affects the face and head, is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the excruciating pain you feel is the cry of the starved nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is usually because the blood itself is weak and thin.

When you build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams Pink Pills, you are attacking neuralgia, sciatica and kindred diseases at the root. As proof of the value of these pills in cases of this kind we give the statement of Mrs. Thomas McGuire, North Malden, Ont., who says: "I have been a severe sufferer from sciatica, which attacked the sciatic nerve in the left leg. At times the pain was most excruciating and as a result of the trouble there was a distinct shrivelling of the leg. I could only hobble about by using a cane, and if I attempted to walk to the fields I would have to sit down every little while to ease the agony I felt. I was under medical treatment, but as there was no improvement shown, I was getting very despondent, as the trouble was affecting my general health. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills and I decided to do so. I took the pills faithfully for several months, finding a gradual and increasing improvement in my case, until finally every vestige of the trouble had gone, and I was again enjoying the blessing of good health and freedom from pain. What Dr. Williams Pink Pills did for me seems almost a miracle and I hope that my exnerience may benefit some other sufferer."

If you are suffering from any ailment due to weak blood avail yourself at once of the splendid home treatment which Dr. Williams Pink Pills so easily afford, and you will be among those who rejoice in regained health. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Doughnuts that melt in your mouth!

The EASIFIRST way

What is the secret? Well, the cook and the recipe both count, but the big factor is really the frying fat you use. You see, EASIFIRST will stand a high temperature—you can make it 100 degrees hotter than lard and 200 degrees hotter than butter before it smokes or burns. This means that when the doughnut is dropped into the hot EASIFIRST a protecting crust is instantly formed around it—no grease soaks in to make the doughnut heavy or soggy.

A DOUGHNUT RECIPE
that means Success

1 heaping teaspoonful EASIFIRST
2 eggs.
1 cup white sugar.
½ teaspoonful salt.
1 cup sweet milk.
4 level teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon nutmeg.
3 cups flour.

Mix sugar and EASIFIRST together. Add well beaten eggs, milk and nutmeg. Sift flour, baking powder and salt twice. Mix with above ingredients. Roll out, cut with doughnut cutter and fry in hot EASIFIRST

The EASIFIRST that's left over may be used again without carrying any flavors.

Be sure you get EASIFIRST—your dealer will supply you. In cartons and tins. Costs less and goes farther than butter or lard.

EXPERT IN ECONOMICS EXPECTS GENERAL DROP

CLEVELAND BANKERS REPORT CREDIT DEFLATION UNDER WAY.

CLEVELAND, May 28.—C. C. Arbuthnot, Professor of Economics at Western Reserve University, saw here the beginning of a general decline in prices in the national price cutting movement.

"Three things have brought about the price cutting," he said. "They are the halting of buying by many consumers; the fact that merchants have large stocks on hand, and the beginning of a policy of credit restriction on the part of the banks."

To bring prices back to their prewar stage, it is necessary to speed up production, get Europe to work again, and untangle our transportation systems, he said.

Deflation of credits is well under way here, George W. Coulton, president of the Union Commerce National Bank said. Loans are being called on on all non-essentials. He believes, however, that deflation of credits is not the remedy for a price reduction.

"The old law of supply and demand will continue to govern prices," he said.

Col. J. J. Sullivan, president of the Superior Savings and Trust Company, expressed his belief in the efficacy of credit deflation as a deterrent to speculation and rising prices."

A score of Cleveland merchants anounced cuts of 20 per cent. in clothing and shoes.

SCOTSMAN AT GOLF CLUB MAKES A MISTAKE.

Thought Sandy Hook was a "Mon."

NEW YORK, May 28. — A golfer just over from Scotland arrived at the Richmond Country Country Club, Staten Island, the other day. There is a superb view of the sea from the links. A club member was pointing out the scenic beauties to the Scot.

"Over there," he said, "is Sandy Hook."

"Why, all I see is a long stretch of low ground," said the visitor.

"Well, that's it" said the member.

"It?" exclaimed the Scot. "Great heavens—I thocht it was a mon."

GALT MERCHANTS PROTEST AGAINST THE LUXURY TAX.

GALT, May 27. — At a special meeting of the local retail merchants a resolution was passed protesting against the new luxury tax imposed, claiming that it will work detrimentally to many lines of business, curtail the amount of legitimate sales; that it specifies many regular lines of business as luxuries, that where amounts are named as an exempted limit it should tax only the amount in excess; that it put a premium on the cheaper grades of goods in exclusion to quality.

ACCIDENTS AT FENELON FALLS

Gazette: Two accidents occured at the Woodturning Products Limited on Friday morning of last week, when Mr. Fred Ellis had the end of his fingers on the right hand cut off and another man by the name of Beaton had the ends of two fingers taken off and another one injured quite badly on one of the lathes. Both victims weer rushed to the doctor, where the wounds were dressed. They will both be laid off work for some days.

Face Peeling Habit Becoming Fashionable

Women of fashion and refinement seem to have been acquiring the mercolized wax habit, depending less and less upon cosmetics for their complexion difficulties. It does seem a lot sauer to just peel off the wornout skin when it loses its youthful colour and appearance—now that this can be done so easily, safely, painlessly, and economically.

There is no trouble getting mercolized wax at any drug store (an ounce will do), since its virtues have become generally known here, and there's no trouble using it—just as you use cold cream, applying at night, washing it off next morning. The way takes off the old scarf skin, in tiny flakes, a little each day. The new under-skin which gradually appears, is velvety soft and beautifully white, radiant with girlish loveliness. Any surface trouble like pimples, red or yellow patches, freckles, etc., vanishes of course with the discarded cuticle.

HAIL VIENNA, FIRST IN MUSIC

Three Weeks' Historic Review Led by Strauss and Weingartner.

VIENNA. — A music festival arranged by the Vienna municipality, opening here and continuing to June 13, promises to be the greatest ever held, according to advance comment published here.

The festival programs wil embrace representative productions of both classical and modern music of Viennese origin, the selection being designed to show Vienna's position as the world's music centre, which she is determined to maintain in her present time of misery.

All the artistic and musical bodies in the capital, including orchestras, opera and theatre companies and choir, are participating. The principal conductors are Richard Strauss and Felix Weingartner.

The choice of a refrigerator should be gone into very carefully. For, of all articles of home equipment, it stands among the most important.

Such a great deal depends on a refrigerator—preservation of food; guarding food against invasion of disease germs; consumption of ice—

No longer is it thought sufficient to keep food cold. It is absolutely necessary that there be ventilation, and a steady sweep of air through the refrigerator,—pure, fresh, chilled air!

Dampness in refrigerators or ice boxes invites the invasion of disease germs, which rapidly poison and contaminate perishable foods. Absence of air circulation and ventilation results in air stagnation, and the foods become unpleasantly tainted.

Not so in a Barnet! Food can be preserved for indefinite periods, and simply cannot become tainted.

The syphon system of air circulation, combined with our own system of ventilation, causes a steady flow of pure, dry air through the food and ice chambers all the time. Vents in the roof of the food chamber draw off the food odors and gases, which are conveyed to the open through a specially constructed passage, in the top of the refrigerator. This ventilation system is an exclusive Barnet feature, protected under our patent No. 121,577.

The Barnet is equipped with a snow-white, one-piece, vitreous porcelain lining. There are no crevices, joints or cracks in which bits of food can hide away and spoil.

There are eleven distinct walls scientifically arranged to keep out the heat, and retain the cold. That, of course, means very slow consumption of ice, and low temperature at all times—even as low as 34 degrees!

The drainage system is sanitary and clean. There are no long drain pipes—just an outlet, and patented trap in the floor of the ice chamber. It is not necessary to remove any part of the refrigerator to clean this outlet. A dash of hot water every once in a while cleans it thoroughly.

The Barnet is, indeed, a real refrigerator, and a fine investment. It is made in twelve different sizes, in ash and natural birch.

SUGAR SHORTAGE NOT SERIOUSLY FELT IN PETERBORO HOUSEHOLDS

AMATEUR BREWERS IN THE CITY FIND SUFFICIENT SUGAR FOR THEIR NEEDS—CANDY MAKERS HARD HIT.

Perhaps the hardest hit man in the sugar shortage is the candy manufacturer who is experiencing the greatest difficulty in getting enough sugar to keep up a supply sufficient for the demand in the city and is to a great extent unable to keep anything like the customary stock, which added to his woes over the new luxury tax is making his life unbearable for him. Through the present interpretation of the luxury tax the candy consumer may prepare for a 22 per cent. advance as the manufacturer has to pay the tax upon the gelatine and extracts which are used in every brand of candy and the consumer has to pay ten per cent. for the luxury tax resulting in a double tax for the consumer.

At the Wholesale Houses

The wholesale men say they do not anticipate any shortage and there will be plenty of sugar for the canning season. "The public will be mighty short sighted if they let the canners get away with all the fruit on account of their difficulty in securing sugar as every household must have canned fruit and if the householder is short of a fruit supply the canner will be able to charge a higher price for his produce," one wholesale man said to-day. He strongly recommended that all persons should put forth every effort in canning as much fruit as possible, regardless of the sugar prices.

The Retailers

The retailers claim there has been very little, if any, falling off in the demand for sugar due to the high prices and the average family supply, about three pounds a week otherwise than in the canning season, has been kept up the same as when sugar retailed at less than one quarter the present price. About twice as much granulated sugar is sold in the city as brown, very naturally, as while brown is the same price it does not answer as many purposes or suit as many tastes as granulated sugar. No adequate substitute has been offered on the market as yet and substitutes used in the past, corn and cane syrup have risen too high to answer the purpose.

The Biggest User.

The biggest consumer in the city is the Peterboro Milk Products Company but their supply is handled direct from the refineries. After this comes the candy manufacturer closely followed by the baker who uses an average of one bag a day. Wholesalers claim that the travellers from the big fruit canneries say that the factories they each represent have absolutely no reserve stock of sugar.

Wine Creates Shortage.

One grocer said he would venture to say one family in every twenty is making dandelion wine and an average of three pounds is being used by each amateur brewer. This naturally creates somewhat of a shortage and will likely continue as long as dandelions, small fruits and grapes can be secured.

THE HOBOS LIKE JACKSON PARK

While hoboes are thick along the tracks no word of their yearly migration to the city has as yet reached the police department o cially and the department has not had any calls to hasten any of the "sons of rest" on their journey. Residents about the country north of Jackson Park claim to be more or less bothered, not by their attentions, but by their presence in the vicinity while several south enders claim to have extended the hospitality of their back door steps, to apparent tramps who shuddered at the mention of a wood pile or the suggestion of menial tasks.

WHEN BABY IS SICK

When the baby is sick—when he is cross and peevish; cries a great deal and is a constant worry to the mother—he needs Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are an ideal medicine for little ones. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. Concerning them Mrs. Philippe Payen, St. Flavien, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been a wonderful help to me in the case of my baby and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LOWER PRICES FOR VEGETABLES PREDICTED.

NEW YORK, May 29. — Lower prics for vegetables and fruit in New York, were predicted here by Dr. F. H. Porter, the state commissioner of foods and markets. He based his prophesy on the sudden drop yesterday in wholesale prices in these commodities. Trains from the west and the south brought in record shipments.

The commissioner declared some of the dealers were glad to accept "almost any price" for some vegetables.

THEY DO MANY KINDS OF SHIMMY AT SPARKS THREE RING CIRCUS

And now the tango and very popular shimmy have even invaded the realm of the circus.

It's the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. For when Sparks Big 3 Ring Circus comes to Peterboro on Tuesday, June 1st., there will be exhibitions of every sort of tango that exists. There will even be a sample of the oldest sort of tango in the world, originated about the time—as far as history can be made accurate—that Adam and Eve had trouble over their rent in the restricted Eden district and were forced to move without waiting for the first of May. The dancers?

Permit us to introduce, ladies and gentlemen, with your kindest attention, Vena Barren and Baron De Bell, true exponents of the tango, as well as the more modern shimmy. Vera and Baron let it be known, are the leading members of the Sparks stable of dancing horses and when they start dancing there is nothing in the code of the Convention of the Dancing Teachers of America that can even approach them.

But Vera and the Baron are not the only dancers with the circus. There are tango dancing monkeys, shimmy dancing elephants and even the bears have been taught to do intricate steps. Of course they can form a part of the circus performance. Then too, there are the forty clowns and all the other circus features that go to make up a program of rare excellence.

WOULD EXTEND SCOPE TIMBER LIMITS PROBE

R. T. Harding Suggest Mining and Fishing Licenses Be Included.

TORONTO, May 29.— The question was broached by R. T. Harding at yesterday afternoon's sitting of the Crown Lands Commission of extending the scope of the inquiry, taking in mining concessions and fishing licenses. The Crown representative said he had been thinking about this, and he had discovered recently that there was a very large number of timber and mining lands mixed up together.

Justice W. R. Riddell said with these matters and fishing licenses they would be dealing with practically all the national resources. The question of extending the scope was a matter for the Government.

NOTED COLLECTION OF JAPANESE ART

CRITICS DECLARE CANADIAN'S COLLECTION THE MOST IMPORTANT EVER EXHIBITED IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, May 29.—(By Canadian Press.—A Canadian collector has just shown New York what the critics declare to have been the most important collection of prints of Hiroshigo, the master of Japanese landscape art, ever seen here. He is Colonel H. Appleton, of Victoria, B.C., one of the leading art collectors of the Dominion.

Col. Appleton's collection of Hiroshige prints were placed on exhibition recently at the Walpole galleries here. It attracted widespread attention in art circles and high prices were obtained at the sale held at the conclusion of the exhibition. The collection included many rare impressions of the famous Japanese artist's work, the most notable probably being those of the "Yodo Neisho Hyakhai," or hundred views of Yeddo. Experts here have agreed that this group is unequalled by anything in the United States. In addition to the Japanese prints Col. Appleton also exhibited an interesting group of Thibetan art, silks, bronzes and lacquers of old China, Burmese and Korean objects, and old Viking silver.

Col. Appletin spent the early years of his life in India and the Orient and then settled in London, where his collection of Japanese prints was a noted one among connoisseurs. About ten years ago he went to Canada and his first collection was dispersed at Sotheby's. Col Appleton settled in Victoria and immediately began a collection of perfect prints of the great Japanese landscape artist, and the success of his efforts in this work is attested by the verdict given by New York art circles upon the collection shown here.

REFUSES TO ACCEPT OLYMPIC LAURELS WHICH THORPE FORFEITED IN 1912

ANTWERP, May 29. — Wislander, the all-round Swedish athlete, who was second to Thorpe in the 1912 Olympic games as individual champion, has met with the same fate as Thorpe — disbarment from competition in the 1920 Olympiad, for his refusal to accept the prizes won by Thorpe, but awarded to Wislander when Thorpe was declared a professional, according to Swedish athletes who attended the Olympic ice events here.

Wislander has steadily declined to acept the medals and statuettes on the ground that they are not his, but Thorpe's, by right of victory, and these awards still are in the hands of the 1912 committee at Stockholm.

For refusing to accept the committee's rulings, Wislander has been barred from Olympic competitions.

Athletes who wish to train for the Olympic games at Antwerp would find training in a low altitude preferable. Antwerp is only a few feet, perhaps six, above the sea level and the climate generally is about that of London — some fog and a bit of murkinss.

As to what effect this climate would have on athletes trained in a high altitude, none of the atmospheric experts in Belgium ventures a prediction. During August, at which time the games are to be held, the weather at Antwerp is usually warm, and perhaps as dry as any other time of the year. Records show that rain is comparatively rare during this month.

...COLUMBUS, O., May 29.—A warrant charging assault and battery was issued here against Joseph B. Tinker, president of the Columbus team of the American Association, following an alleged encounter between Tinker and W. J. Cahill, Columbus real estate dealer, when the automobiles of the two men collided in the business district. Cahill, in his complaint, alleged that Tinker struck him twice.

"This spring," says Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, "I heard the funniest baseball expression not on record. We were playing down at Winston-Salem, Ernie Shore's home town, and Babe Ruth clouted one of those home huns.

"By the way, that's the longest drive he has hit since he joined our club. Way over the race track. Next time up, Babe's big swing missed the third strike a mile.

"On the front row was a pile of whiskers, behind which sat a Carolina agriculturist. That third strike cut the middle of the plate. I don't see how Babe missed it. The farmer could not understand, either.

"'You can't tell me this game's on the level,' he said to Pipp. 'He meant to miss that one. Nobody could hit a home run and then strike out on a ball comin' right down the Main Line!'

"I've heard it called 'groove' a million times, and 'alley' and 'lane,' but that 'Main Line' tickled the boys. That's what our club calls it now.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

WINNIPEG PIONEER FOUND DEAD.

(Special to Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man. May 29.—William Clarkson, found dead in place of business at midnight last night. Dr. McConnell, Provincial Coroner, ordered removal of remains to Undertaking rooms pending official investigation. Indications are that Clarkson's death was from natural causes. Deceased was 78 years of age. He ha dbeen resident of Winnipeg for over 40 years and his name is one of those appearing among those of pioneers registered in the first issue of publication, 1876. He is survived by widow who is at present visiting in Toronto

TURKISH NATIONALISTS ON OFFENSIVE

(Canadian Press.)

CONSANTINOPLE, May 29.—Nationalists have subdued virtually all territory surrounding Ismid, on the Eastern end of the Sea of Marmora. They are at very edge of tre town which is being held by the British. The Turkish cruiser Sultan Yaswaz Selim, formerly German cruiser Goeben has left Ismid for Constantinople.

Advises People to Cure Constipation Without Drugs; Suffered Ten Years, Well in Three Weeks by Internal Bathing.

Did you ever ever hear of a person being cured of chronic constipation with drugs? They relieve at the time some, but larger doses are usually necessary from time to time. Nature's own cure, just pure sterilized water, administered with the J.B.L. Cascade, is the only scientific and permanent treatment. Don't forget Nature with drugs. Bathe internally.

Mrs. A. McLeod, Middleboro', B.C., writes: "For ten years I suffered from constipation, and for the last year I became a wreck. I had awful pains in my back, severe headaches, indigestion and swollen limbs. I tried all kinds of medicine and many doctors without permanent benefit. It was an act of Providence that I saw the J.B.L. Cascade advetrised. The first time I used it I felt relieved, and in three weeks I was completely cured. My habits are now quite regular, and I am in better health than I have been for years. I am very thankful to be doing my own work again."

The J.B.L. Cascade is the perfected invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York for internal bathing. It is now being shown and explained at Warne Drug Co.

'Phone or ask them for free booklet all about it—or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 108 College street, Toronto.

PRAYERS DELAYED BY THE FILIBUSTER

Congressmen Would Not Let up for 25 Minutes After Gavel Fell.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Proponents of soldiers' relief legislation launched their filibuster in the House yesterday immediately after the Speaker's gavel fell, and it was 25 minutes before the chaplain, the Rev. Henry N. Couden, offered the customary opening prayer.

The filibuster was renewed immediately afterwards and efforts were made to prevent the reading of the journal of the day. Supporters of the relief legislation have announced that they will prevent consideration of any matters until the relief bill is brought up.

Remarkable Statement of Woman Who Was Nothing but Skin and Bones

You have heard the old adage, "Laugh and Grow Fat", but this woman tells of a more reliable method. She says: "I was nothing but skin and bones — was weak, nervous, rundown—could not sleep, and was unfit for work. Three doctors had failed to help me. One day I saw VINOL advertised and commenced to take it, and I really believe it saved my life. I have regained my strength, flesh and health, and everyone is so surprised to see such a change in me in such a short time."

The reason VINOL was so successful in this case is because it contains the tissue building and medicinal elements of cods' livers, aided by the blood making, strength creating properties of tonic iron, beef peptone and hypophosphites.

Thus in a natural manner it increases the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood with thousands of red corpuscles, and imparts strength, health and vitality to every organ, muscle and tissue of the body.

Physicians recommend it and druggists guarantee it.

WILL OPEN A DENTAL OFFICE IN THIS CITY

Dr. R. A. Sheehy, son of Mr. Richard Sheehy, will open a dental office over Madill's drug store about June 1, 1920.

Dr. Sheehy graduated in 1916 and since that time has been connected with the Canadian Army Dental Corps in Europe and Canada. He has had four years' experience before commencing practice for himself, and the citizens in general will welcome him back to his native city.

While attending University Dr. Sheehy was a member of the Varsity football team and had a Provincial reputation as a football player.

D'ANNUNZIO STILL ON THE WARPATH

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 29.—Gabriele D'Annunzio has occupied the village of Cavalaja and threatens to seize, Susak in region of Fiume according to reports received in Paris from Belgrade.

Dispatch adds that Jugo Slav Government has denounced action of poet to powers and declared that Jugo Slavia is obliged to take measures forcibly to resist.

Belief is expressed in high quarters in Paris that D' Annunzio by treating an incident seeks to prevent settlement of Fiume question which it had ben supposed was almost reached, regardless of consequences to Italy.

ALLIES ADVANCE IN THE BALKINS

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29.—Greek troops advancing upon dedeagatch, on Aegian Sea are reported to have been fired upon to-day by Bulgarina artillery near Akchilar. Few shots only were exchanged reports indicated. Greeks have not yet entered Turkish thrace and it is not expected they will do so until decision has been reached as to whether Turks will sign peace treaty. French have floated tricolor over all railway stations in Bulgarian and Turkish thrace and have announced they will continue to operate railways.

BADLY HURT.

LINDSAY, May 29.—Mr. James Burtchaell, who lives near Lindsay, met with a painful accident on Tuesday while trying to break in a colt. He had the colt hitched to a cart, but the animal became unmanageable and got away from him. He was thrown to the ground, resulting in a broken collar bone and two broken ribs.

Medical assistance was sent for, and the patient is doing nicely, although suffering considerable pain.

Never a corn
on millions of feet nowadays

Do you know that millions of people who use Blue-jay keep entirely free from corns?

If a corn appears it is ended by a touch. A Blue-jay plaster or a drop of liquid Blue-jay is applied.

The corn pain stops. Soon the whole corn loosens and comes out.

The method is scientific. It is gentle, easy, sure. Old-time harsh treatments are supplanted by it with everyone who knows it.

It is made by a world-famed laboratory, which every physician respects.

It is now applied to some 20 million corns a year. You can see that corn troubles are fast disappearing.

Then why pare corns and keep them? Why use methods which are out-of-date?

Try this new-day method. See what it does to one corn. You will never forget its quick and gentle action. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

W. N. WARBURTON DIES AT LONDON

Was Manager of L. & L. E. Ry., Had Built and Managed Others.

LONDON, Ont., May 27.— William N. Warburton, for a number of years Manager of the London & Lake Erie Railway, which two years ago gave up business, died at his home, No. 5 Cove road, to-day, after a lengthy illness occasioned by an attack of influenza two years ago.

He was born in Sparte, Elgin county, in 1854. He began life as a telegraph operator on the G.T.R., spending elevent years at Lucan and other points. He left that position to take the management of the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway in 1880. From 1896 to 1904 he promoted and built the Chatham, Wallaceburg and Lake Erie Railway, later as General Manager building the Essex and Lake Shore Railway. He came to London in 1912 to assume the management of the London and Lake Erie Railway.

He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Legente of Chatham, two daughters and four sons—Misses Marie and Grace at home, Granville of London, Clarence and Albert of Windsor and Ernest of Hamilton.

NO CHANGE IN THE STRIKE SITUATION

There was no change in the C. G. E. strike situation to-day. Mayor McIntyre is still hopeful of terminating the controversy by an adjustment through the medium of Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor, but there is nothing new from that quarter. Posters at the C.G.E. gates declaring that the company had not committed itself to a board of conciliation also intimated that its offer of the old wage and whatever increase was offered before the strike might be withdrawn at any time.

FARMERS WANT MORE RAIN

The farmers continue to bewail the lack of rain, which is making itself noticeable in the crops. One rural dweller stated to-day that his hay needed rain badly and the growth of the crop was being stunted. He had not done much in his garden he said, for the seeds would not sprout without rain. The extreme dryness had not caused any serious situation yet but he claimed that if the much desired showers did not come soon it would indeed be grave.

"If we could only get plenty of rain and heat also—we need them both for the cold nights have impeded growth — everything would grow like sixty,' a farmer at the market commented.

A CRICKET GAME.

LAKEFIELD, May 29. — A local team went up to "The Grove" on Friday afternoon and played a friendly game of cricket.

Rev. Dr. Archbold returned home from the Anglican Synod at Toronto on Friday.

Rev. F. W. Ashton will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday evening next. He is leaving on Tuesday, with his family, to take charge of his new pastorate at Osnabrook.

Miss Hilliard is in the village visiting friends.

Next Tuesday evening there will be a communication of Clementi Lodge, No. 313, A. F. and A. M., at which several initiations will take place.

CANTATA WAS A BIG SUCCESS.

Large Audience Greeted the Event.

Last evening the cantata, "A Day in Flowerdom," presented by the members of All Saints' Sunday School was greeted by a large audience, and the Sunday School Hall was filled almost to capacity. The different members of the cast and choruses were splendid, and the entire presentation was a marked success.

LAKEFIELD WILL OBSERVE HOLIDAY

LAKEFIELD, May 29. — Next Thursday, June 3rd, being the first Thursday in June, will be observed as a half holiday by the business men of the village, the stores closing at 12:30 p.m. Will the public take notice that this is the first of the holidays for the season, and will be continued every Thursday afternoon during the months of June, July, August and September.

A STEAMER TRIP TO VICTORIA, B.C.

The Empress Hotel, Victoria, B.C.

Half way from Vancouver, on the seventy-mile trip to Victoria, a warning whistle sounds just before the steamer enters Plumber's Pass, a narrow gap between two islands which like a chain, fringe our Pacific seaboard. It is from here onwards that one sees the real beauties of the Coastal Belt of British Columbia, scenery of which one never tires. Here and there, on the chain of islands, the vivid green of alders or a pretty and prosperous farm peeps out from the sombre forest of firs. The giant Mount Baker, whose snow-cind cone stands a landmark for 90 miles or more, now on our port beam shines in the glittering sunlight above the rest of the cascades, and we see it all the way as it recedes far distant in the steamer's wake. To our south and east where the land and sea seem to meet is the faint outline of the entrance of Puget Sound on whose shores stand Seattle and half a dozen American towns. To our south and west, some twenty miles away, are the foothills of the mighty Olympics, whose glistening white peaks tower high above the skyline.

The Straits, which still bear the name of Juan de Fuca, are full of traffic. Side by side we pass, and dip our flag too, in passing, another of the Canadian Pacific Railway's palatial steamers—a tiny tug, towing a big boom of whole trees, swings into a little cove to shelter for the night. Another tug flying the Stars and Stripes, with half a dozen scows behind on its way from Tacoma to Sewards Bay, tells of big things up North where the building of a railway to the Behring Straits is in progress. We have left the mosquito fishing fleet at the Fraser's mouth, but every here and there are groups of gasoline launches trolling for salmon. On our starboard side, back from the hundred and one little islands, shows up the shore line of the Sanich peninsula and the small town of Sidney. On and on past rocks and islets and the same wonderful scenery.

C. P. R. Steamer Princess Charlotte.

As the steamer rounds the fruit farms of Gordon Head, and clears the point that separates Cordova and Cadboro' Bays, a natural park of irregular but perfectly spaced oaks, forms the feature of the Island landscape. Oak Bay, Shoal, Foul Bay, Ross Bay, the last resting place of the "old timers," are passed in turn. Each with its own charm, delightful homes in white and red, in light and tan, and a variety of other hues, stand out from the remnant of the forest gardens, many a blaze of brilliance, green lawns grit with flowering shrubs, and, in the background, stately mansions, seemingly fairy palaces, steeped in a maze of marvellous loveliness, recall the memory of a picture sprung from the brain of some old master. Such is one's first impression of the "City of Homes," the "City of Clear Skies," the city that knows no winter and whose summers are cooler than our own.

The point that forms the entrance of the outer harbours is passed, and the charm gains and grows. The stately Parliament Buildings in grey stone, their broken lines to give them grandeur, their twenty turquoise tinted copper cupolas, their great dome crowned by Vancouver's statue, and the bold Norman entrance-arch above the façade of steps, have a fitting setting in a front of grass and flowers, and in the glorious background of the snows of the distant Olympics.

Victoria, the Queen City, and such

part of Vancouver Island where the mountains shelter the land from the Pacific gales has the ideal climate of the temperate zone. The winters of New Orleans, the summers of Labrador. The rain fall is 26 inches, the summer with the exception of a little rain in June are invariably dry, there are no high winds, and no thunderstorms. It is the nearest approach to paradise on earth.

Every Canadian owes it to himself, some time or other, to make himself acquainted with Victoria, the capital of the Province of British Columbia, as well as the ideal surroundings of the East Coast of Vancouver

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, May 29.—Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hilliard and Miss Hilliard came up from Peterborough on Wednesday, and spent the day on Stoney Lake.

Miss Pemberthy, of Peterborough, was the guest of friends in the village on Friday.

AVIATOR MARRIES GIR LHE FELL FOR

CHESTER, Pa., May 29.—Fred S. Hurst, of this city, knows what it means to "fall in love." He did.

While flying near Staymar, Canada, late in 1918, Hurst, who was a member of the Royal Flying Corps, felt his plane givin gway beneath him and before he realized what it was all about he and the plane were falling at a rapid rate.

When he recovered consciousness Hurst found himself looking into the eyes of Miss Violet C. Lucas, of Staymar, who had extricated him from the wreckage. That's how he came to fall in love, and as a result he has claimed Miss Lucas for his bride.

BABY QUELCH.

A Wonderful Change
Due to Virol

Toronto, November 5th, 1918.

The Virol Co.,
Montreal.

Dear Sir,—I am sending you a picture of my little boy, who from birth till eight months old never gained one lb. in weight though I had tried almost every food on the market without success.

A friend told me to try Virol, and from the very first feeding I noticed a great change in my baby.

He started to improve in health and strength, and to-day I am a thankful mother, thanks to Virol for saving his life. Now I shall always recommend Virol to mothers who have sick and delicate babies.

I remain, respectfully,
Mrs. QUELCH.

CRESSMAN'S DISPOSED OF THE LOCK WORKS LAST EVENING

GOOD GAME IN THE COMMERCIAL BALL LEAGUE—THE SCORE WAS 6-4.

In the Commercial Ball League at the Oval last evening, Cressmans defeated Lock Works by 6 to 4, in a game that was interesting all the way. Leith Bartley fanned twelve of the lock-makers; he hit out a double and a single; scored a run; drove in two others; and, altogether cut some fine figure in the victory by the departmental store crowd. He had the bad session, the fourth, when he was touched up for a double, and three singles, the latter in a row, which, with an error, gave the Lock Works three runs. At that he fanned the side, getting his third strikeout with the bases choked. Against him was Gordon Connors, a portsider, who got along famously till the fifth when Bartley made trouble for him by leading off with a double. A nice double play, Ward to Guerin, held Cressmans to a brace of runs, but they pounded the ball hard in the sixth. Connors gave way to Liddell who dead-headed the first man he saw. Another double play saved Liddell from a threatened deluge, but Cressmans sent three runs across, giving them a lead of two, which they maintained in the seventh, when Huntery took a long fly from Black. Graham got under Hill's high one, and then went over to the apple tree to pinch a difficult foul fly from Ward. This was the fielding feature of the game.

Lock Works used Frank Jobbit behind the bat, and the former City leaguer presented Cressmans with two runs oin the fifth when he dropped the ball and threw high [illegible] after Connors had fanned Sage. Harry "Ty" Cobb did the receiving for Cressmans and made a neat job of it, although he failed to live up to the Georgian's rep with the willow.

First Innings.

Jobbitt leading off for Lock Works drew a pass and he stole. Liddell and Huffman fanned. Black took one in the slats and when Graham threw badly to first on Hill's bingle, Jobbitt scored. Ward fanned.

For Cressmans, M. Long flew out to short, F. Wolfe singled, and the pitcher threw out H. Long. Liddell threw wild on Hunter's grounder but no damage was done as Jobbitt threw the runner out trying to make third.

Second Innings.

Guerin singled but Cobb got him stealing. Ward fanned, Connors was hit, Jobbitt missed three.

C. Wolfe was safe on Liddell's error and he stole second. Bartley walked, but Jobbitt pegged out Wolfe at third. Ward took Sage's fly and Guerin threw out Graham.

Third Innings.

Only three men faced Bartley, Liddell being retired on a grounder to the pitcher, Huffman fanning and Black fouling to Graham.

Connors repeated the stunt. Cobb sent a fly to Ward, M. Long grounded and F. Wolfe fanned.

Fourth Innings.

Hill doubled. In trying to hold the runner at second, Bartley held up the play on Ward's grounder, and finally, Wolfe missed the throw. Then Guerin, Ward and Connors singled in succession, three runners getting home. Bartley steadied and fanned Jobbitt and Liddell. Huffman hit safely but Black ended the rally by missing three.

H. Long revived the hopes of his team by a single, Jobbitt nipped him at second, and then took Hunter's fly. C. Wolfe got a free ticket, went to second, but failed going into third, Jobbitt's accurate throw to Liddell getting him easily.

Fifth Innings.

Hill was thown out by Sage. Ward dumped a hit into shortfield and stole. H. Long threw wild on Guerin's poke and Lock Works supporters called for some runs. But nothing developed as Bartley fanned his fellow twirler.

Bartley doubled and Sage singled, both scoring when Jobbitt threw the ball away after missing the third strike on Graham. Ward took Cobb's fly and doubled Graham. Bartley fanned Long.

Sixth Innings.

Jobbitt fanned, Liddell flew out to Sage and Huffman hit the air.

F. Wolfe singled through first. H. Long piffed one through second, and Hunter hit Wolfe home. Then Manager Whaley sent Connors to middle, brought Liddell to the mound and directed Ward to third. C. Wolfe was hit, filling the bags. Bartley drove in Long and Hunter, Sage hit into a double play and Graham fanned.

Seventh Innings.

Black flied to Hunter. Hill to Graham and the latter ended it by getting Ward's foul fly.

Rollicking Comedy of Canadian Soldier Life in France

Written, Staged and Acted by Veterans with an Average of 20 Months Service in the Line

READ WHAT THE TORONTO CRITICS SAY OF "THE P.B.I.":

"It gives a true and realistic picture of the life of 'The Poor Bally Infantry' in France."—Toronto Globe.

". . . It brings home the spirit that won the war, the spirit that faced hardships with devotion and with humour, quite free from stagey heroics."—Daily Mail and Empire, Toronto.

"A military play devoid of heroics, in which a vast number of characters are presented with a versimilitude that convinces the auditors who know, is something of an achievement. . . . A panoramic vision of the life of the infantry. The cast, a very large one, showing almost every type of soldier, . . . unmistakably the real thing."—Toronto Saturday Night.

"If the essence of drama be the unfolding of our actual sight of visible representations of character . . . then surely 'Madamoiselle of Bully Grenay' is real drama.—Toronto Evening Telegram.

"The veterans can take their production of 'The P. B. I.' anywhere, and be assured that they will do themselves and their country credit."—Toronto Evening Telegram (Editorial Page).

"Laughter as spontaneous . . . as that of children . . . the tribute played to the playing."—Toronto World.

"Soldiers who have seen all war plays in London and on this side, claim, without show of exaggeration, that Toronto . . . has produced the finest piece of war realism that has yet appeared on the stage."—Toronto Star Weekly.

PROPOSED SCHEDULE FOR THE EAST PETERBORO BALL LEAGUE

EACH TEAM GETS A BYE—FOUR GAMES AT HOME.

A schedule covering the month of June, for games in the East Peterboro Baseball League has been drafted for the inspection of the five teams. An endeavor has been made to allow Norwood and Lakefield to take full advantage of their weekly half-holiday, Norwood observing Wednesday and Lakefield Thursday. Douro and Keene have not been scheduled to meet, as these two clubs may arrange to plan a league game at the annual Douro picnic, at the latter part of the month.

Each team gets a bye, plays four games, and has two games at home. No games are scheduled for the last Wednesday in the month, they being moved forward to Thursday, Dominion Day. The draft schedule follows:

June 2—Keene at Norwood.
3—Douro at Lakefield.
9—Nassau at Douro.
10—Lakefield at Keene.
16—Nassau at Keene.
17—Norwood at Lakefield.
23—Norwood at Douro.
24—Keene at Nassau.
July 1—Douro at Norwood.
1—Lakefield at Nassau.

SPORT FROM THE EXCHANGES

The Millbrook Baseball Club journeyed to Omemee on the holiday to participate in the baseball tourney staged by the Omemee Athletic Association. Five teams being on the programme, Mount Pleasant, Janetville, Downeyville, Omemee and Millbrook. In the first game which was between Janetville and Downeyville, the former won by 10 to 7. Millbrook then faced their old rivals, Mount Pleasant, and our boys won by a score of 6 to 2. Millbrook was then drawn against the Omemee club, and again came out victorious by the score of 13 to 3. This left Janetville and Millbrook to play off, but by this time the crowd began to disperse owing to the lateness, so the final game was called off, Millbrook, however, taking first place. The Millbrook team played good snappy ball, pulling off double and triple plays.

Wild Women.

Through the generosity of Vermilyea & Son and the druggists of the city the Belleville team have been supplied with a grip and first aid necessities. Mr. T. Sullivan also contributed towards the latter supplies. Belleville expects to meet with some emergencies. They will possibly need more than first aid methods to recover from the staggering blow which the Lindsay Greybirds say they are going to administer to the champs.—Lindsay Warder.

Fast Ball.

Warder.—Some interesting and fast ball is promised in the Intermediate Town League this season. It looks as if the opening game between the Veterans and the K. of C. will be worth watching.

A Babe Ruth.

Ashton, who made his first appearance in big company at the Cobourg game, and performed in great form in centre field, tore off a home run for the Scouts the other night with the bases full. It was some clout and practically won the game for the Scouts.—Lindsay Warder.

DISPUTE OVER A DAM.

KINGSTON, May 27.—An inquiry is to be held to-morrow before Justice of the Peace Bradshaw with regard to a dam at Collins' Bay, owned by Anthony Rankin, M.P.P. for Frontenac. Recently the dam was blown up. Farmers in the vicinity have claimed that the dam did damage to their lands, which the owner disputes. Thirteen farmers have been summoned to give evidence.

"PASSION FLOWER"

Breaking away from convention and sterotyped methods in dramatic production requires no less courage than the same process in other pioneering ventures, and in the presentation of "The Passion Flower," Jacinto Bonavente's masterpiece, Miss Nance O'Neil, who not only plays the leading role, but produced the play, has displayed a measure of courage and confidence seldom found in these mercenary days when the spirit of commercialism boldly invades the portals of art. As one of the best known critics of the New York press (Benjamin de Casseres, Evening Globe) has said: "One must see this great play by washing himself clean of all his Broadway conventions." Therein lies the key to the fascination and enthralling interest with which this superb example of the master playwright holds its audience from its inception to its gripping, thrilling climax. The tools with which Bonaventa has builded have not been dulled by long usage; neither are the methods of Miss O'Neil in her powerful characterisation of the great part of Raimunda of the hackney type. With her wonderful voice, a masque which at all times is a perfect reflection of the moods and emotions that sweep her being, gestures that are never lost or misplaced, and a compelling stage presence, she leads her audience from one tense situation to antoher as the story of an elemental, unbridled passion unfolds in stages, each more thrilling than its predecessor, until the denouement, as unexpected as it is sudden, which finds the spectator spellbound, gripping chair arms with set lips and muscles tensed.

"The Passion Flower" will be at the Grand to-night.

DEFEATED JUNIOR CENTRAL SCHOOL.

A Cricket Score in the School League

At the Queen Mary School grounds yesterday evening the South Central team defeated the Junior Central School team by a score of 21-20.

The two teams tied at the end of the fith, sixth, and seventh innings.

The batteries were:

Central—Sutton and Miller; South Central—Parrington and Morrison.

Mr. Bert McGill umpired the game very satisfactorily.

ANGEL HUSBANDS WON'T SUIT REGULAR G RLS

Girls, if you were married for three weary years to a perfectly good man, who never came home a little "tipsy," who never ate onions, who never looked at another woman, who never snored in his sleep—if you were married to this sort of a saint, what sort of a husband would you look around for after the demise of this noble one?

It is a ten to one bet that you would do just as Georgina Charbourne did—step out and search for the wickest man in New York And if you could not find one—what then?

"In Search of a Sinner," starring Constance Talmadge and distributed by the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, which opened a two days run at the Allen Theatre on Monday, will explain the whole thing better than you could dope it out for yourself. Miss Talmadge is the virtue weary wife and Radcliffe Fellows is the "good little devil." The screen version was adapted by John Emerson and Anita Loos.

GETTING READY FOR CUP RACE

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 29.—The first official activity in connection with the America's Cup races off Sandy Hook, July 15, will begin next Friday on Long Island Sound when the prospective cup defending yachts Resolute and Vanitie meet in the opening race of the 1920 elimination series. Weather permitting six races will be held off New Haven, Conn., before the end of May after which the yachts will proceed to Newport for a more extended series of races under open sea conditions. The schedule calls for races off New Heaven on May 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, and 27. The Newport races are set for June 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 12 14 15 16 17 18 and 19.

The contests off New Haven are to be short practise events probably twice around a short course and will not count materially in the selection of a defender. Their chief purpose will be to afford the crews practise and to stretch sails and rigging.

The real trial races will be the ones off Newport. There will probably be twelve or fourteen of the brushes. The cup committee then will announce the defender. These races will be "for blood." The friendship that exists between the two crews will be forgotten, each desiring to be the "cup boat." Once the defender is picked, the "brains" of the two yachts will again get together to plan the defense of the America's cup.

The regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club will have full charge of all trial races. It is made up of H. de B. Parsons, chairman; Joseph M. Macdonough and Frederic O. Spedden.

With both Resolute and Vanitie in the water again yachtsmen are once more beginning to take an interest in the international series for the classic yachting trophy. The race to put Resolute and Vanitie into the water first was watched with interest throughout the country. The honors went to Vanitie. Not only was she relaunched a day ahead of the Resolute, but she was under sail 24 hours ahead of the Herreshoff designed craft. This, of course, means nothing in the selection of the defender of the cup. Still the race to put the yachts into commission was interesting, as it showed the keen rivalry between the managing directors of the craft.

Vanitie, designed by William Gardner for Alexander Smith Cochran, a member of the New York Yacht Club, originally was built by George Lawley & Son Corp., at Neponset, Mass., in 1914. Her general dimensions are 118 feet overall; 75 feet on the waterline; 22 feet, 6 inches extreme breadth and a draft of about 14 feet. Since 1916, the craft has been at Robert Jacob's yard, City Island. Last winter Mr. Cochran gave the yacht to the Cup Committee of the New York Yacht Club and the committee, in turn, placed Vanitie in the hands of Rear Commodore George Nichols, one of the best amateur sailors in the country.

Throughout the winter, Rear Commodore Nichols has been experimenting with the vessel. In the trial races of 1914, Vanitie had to allow Resolute time. The junior flag officer of the New York club tried to find a way of eliminating the handicap. With this idea in view changes have been made in the rig and centerboard and the yacht generally lightened. Naturally, there has been considerable secrecy regarding the changes. Whether Rear Commodore Nichols has gained his point will not be known until the defending yachts are officially measured.

The changes in Vanitie were made at Robert Jacob's yard. It is said that Starling Burgess, a yachtsman of Boston, a member of the afterguard of the Gardner boat, principally is responsible for the changes. One is a new hollow topmast. The yacht also has new hollow spruce spreaders, about thirty-five feet from tip to tip. These changes have been made to lighten the craft.

Regardless of the fact that it had been frequently reported that Vanitie's stem was to be shortened materially and that her rail, which is really the continuation of her sides above the deck, was to be removed, these changes have not been made. The rail has been cut away, from about two-thirds way aft, so as to selves of seas, that may come on board, more rapidly than if the waters had to get away through the small scuppers. The angle at which the centreboard of Vanitie extends has been altered so as to throw the weight forward. This is hoped to increase her windward qualities.

Vanitie will be raced by Rear Commodore George Nichols. In addition to the flag officer and Mr. Burgess, there will be on the quarterdeck in the majority of the races, C. J. Nourse and C. Sherman Hoyt. Both are well known New York yachtsmen, the former being prominent in the weekly racing of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club of Oyster Bay and the latter interested in yachting for years.

G. A. Gautesen is the professional skipper of Vanitie. In former races for the America's cup, the professional skipper has been the all-important personage on board a cup yacht. That is not so to-day. Both Shamrock IV. and the American defender will be sailed by an amateur. Still the professional skipper plays an important part on a cup boat and although he is not as well known as some of the other paid racing men, Captain Gautesen is an excellent sailor, who has had many years of experience on board racing yachts.

This is not the first time that Captain Gautesen has shipped on Vanitie. Back in 1915, when Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt had the yacht under charter he was her first mate. At that time Vanitie was commanded by Captain Chris. Christiansen, Commodore Vanderbilt's sailing master, who is the professional skipper of Resolute. Later, Captain Gautesen was engaged by Rear Commodore Nichols as the sailing master of the latter's 50-footer, Carolina. He did such excellent work on Carolina that it was only natural that he should be Rear Commodore Nichol's selection for the cup boat.

Like Vanitie, the other candidate for the honor of defending the America's cup was built in 1914. She was designed by Nat Herreshoff and built by the Herreshoffs at their Bristol yards in 1914. Her general dimensions are 106 feet, 3 inches over all; 75 feet on the waterline; 21 feet 2 inches extreme breadth and about 12 feet draft. Although the same length on the waterline, Resolute is smaller than Vanitie and so during the trial races of 1914, received considerable time.

Resolute was built by a syndicate of members of the New York Club. The syndicate was headed by Henry Walters, erstwhile commodore of the club; with Arthur Curtiss James, Frederick G. Bourne, Cornelius Vanderbilt, George F. Baker, jr., and J. P. Morgan as the other members. All have flown the senior flag of the club. With the exception of Frederick G. Bourne, the members of the syndicate are all alive and deeply interested in the defense of the trophy.

The cup situation, in-so-far as the New York Yacht Club is concerned, is most unusual this year. The syndicate that built Resolute is practically the "cup committee" of the organization, which also is in control of Vanitie. Again, Rear Commodore Nichols, in 1914, was a member of the afterguard on Resolute and probably would be there to-day, had not Vanitie been turned over to the club.

The "interlocked directorate" explains why the new sails for Vanitie came from Herreshoffs' sail loft and why Rear Commodore Nichols and Captain Robert W. Emmons, 2nd of Boston, managing director of Resolute, have been in continual communication throughout the winter. Each has helped the other place his respective craft in commission. The reason is self evident. The New York Yacht Club is playing no favorites in its defense of the trophy. The "yachting brains" of the club are not trying to make Resolute beat Vanitie or Vanitie beat Resolute. They are out to make either Vanitie or Resolute beat Shamrock IV. and with that in mind, they have been working to get as much as possible out of each yacht.

With changes being made in Vanitie to lighten the craft, it was natural that Designer Herreshoff should make a few in the Bristol craft. These principally have been centred in the racing rig. Changes have been made in the tophamper of the craft, on the basis of flotation, in the hopes that a shorter waterline will draw more time from opponents. It is stated that about 900 pounds have been removed from the tophamper of the craft. The new Resolute mast, with its aluminate gaff, is considered unmatched in strength and lightness. The changes have made Resolute ride a little higher in the watertleeon ride a little higher out of the water than in tora. In her trials to date she seems to have gained by the alterations in running before the wind

Can't you see the Value?

IF you want to judge motor car values, examine the cars—compare them. You can see the value in the Gray-Dort. You can see where we have used more costly construction—made big improvements. And you know the price is only $1465 (plus war tax).

Our dealers tell us that Gray-Dort value is creating a shortage of cars. We would advise you to see the Gray-Dort dealer now.

The Gray-Dort 5-passenger touring car is $1465 f.o.b. Chatham, (war tax extra.) The 2-passenger roadster is the same. The Gray-Dort Special, with extra equipment and beautifully finished, is $150 extra on the standard. The Gray-Dort Ace, the most beautiful light car of to-day, is $255 extra on the standard.

TUNING UP FOR BIG AMERICAN CUP RACE; THE SHAMROCK IV. LOOKS THE BEST YET

NEW YORK, May 28.—"Give us 90 days and we'll build a sloop that'll beat 'er."

It was back in 1851 that British yachtsmen served this warning on old Captain Dick Brown, who had just sailed the America to a victory over the Aurora and 13 other British craft.

That was 69 years ago and ever since then British yachtsmen have been trying to win back America's Cup, which was won by old Skipper Brown.

When a generation had failed, Sir Thomas Lipton, the tea-king of Ireland, took up the task. He has tried four times to win the cup and spent close to $3,000,000 upon a family of Shamrocks that has always been too slow for American sloops.

Shamrock IV., which was caught in mid-ocean by the declaration of war in 1914 and which narrowly escaped destruction by a shipyards fire this spring after six years' "storage," will make the supreme effort this summer to win back the cup.

Against either the Resolute or the Vanite, two American candidates for the honor of defender, Shamrock IV. will sail a series of three races off Sandy Hook starting July 15.

In the presence of her designer, Charles Nicholson, British marine expert, Shamrock IV, was taken out of her "cradle" and launched recently. Her masts and sails, recently arrived from England, will be installed and will she will go through her trial races with Shamrock III., a 23-foot sloop now on her way across the Atlantic under her own sail.

The Vanitie, designed by William Gardner and sailed by W. Starling Burgess, will fight it out with the Resolute, designed by Capt. Nat Herreshoff and sailed by Robert W. Emmons, 2d, for the honor of defending the cup in a series of races starting early in June.

Both yachts went through trial races in 1914 but the declaration of war caused a postponement of the race and no choice was named. Resolute, however, did the better work as she was allowed 3 1-2 minutes over a 30-mile course by the Vanitie. Some changes have been made, however, and it is possible that Resolute may have to allow Vanitie time. Some expert yachtsmen connected with the New York Yacht Club are making Vanitie the favorite as the defender.

Captain W. P. Burton, who arrived here recently from England with a crew of 15 to take charge of the challenger, said that Sir Thomas Lipton probably wouuld not come over until early in July. Burton and his crew have sailed together on the yacht Octavia and have won 31 out of 45 races, he said.

Measurements have not been announced, but it is said that Shamrock IV. will spread about 10,600 feet of canvas, Vanitie 9,300, and Resolute 9,100. This will require the challeger to give the defender about six minutes' handicap.

In addition to Captain Emmons, there will be on board the Bristol yacht, Charles Francis Adams, 2nd, of Boston, who will hold the wheel, George A. Cormack, secretary of the New York Yacht Club, and John Parkinson. All served as members of the afterguard in 1914. No one has yet been selected to take the place of Rear Commodore Nicholls. Captain Christiansen also served on the craft in 1914.

CHANGES HER MIND IN MID-OCEAN

Decides to remain Single after Taking a Sea Voyage.

NEW YORK, May 28. — There is nothing in the United States immigration laws about a woman who changes her mind in mid-ocean, so Miss Violet Cooper, an English girl, who come to New York on the Lauretania, the other day, is now on her way back home.

She started for America to marry an American soldier who had been her sweetheart in England but she thought the matter over during the voyage and decided to remain unwed. The immigration authorities turned her back because of the decision.

Constipation or Costiveness

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Terrible Weeping ECZEMA

Mrs. E. Hayes, of Hamilton, after going South to find relief, finally cured by odinol remedy.

"To have suffered with weeping eczema of the hands, so bad that my hands were helpless—to have tried and tried remedies, without relief—to have given up work and come South for help—to have been cured completely on half a bottle of D. D. D." This is the substance of Mrs. Hayes' letter, 23 Sunset St., Hamilton, Ont.

Cases can be sent you from your own vicinity. Write for Canadian testimonials, or secure a bottle of D. D. D. today. Why suffer lifelong torment another moment? If you don't get relief on the first bottle, we will refund without question. $1.00 a bottle. Try D. D. D Soap, 25c.

DO YOU EXPECT TO LIVE LONG?

The facts are against you. In one Life Insurance Company during three months, Sixteen died of OLD AGE, 2,736 died at PREMATURE AGES, and each one was sound when the Insurance was issued.

Each one had just as good a right to expect to live to old age as you have.

Another Insurance Company shows that out of Claims paid last year, 6.8 per cent. died the FIRST YEAR, and 72.5 per cent. died INSIDE OF TWENTY YEARS.

Note well that the Men and Women who died the first year left approximately fifty times as much to their heirs as if they had "saved" the premium.

THE SUN LIFE OF CANADA, with over $105,000,000.00 of Assets, is the logical place to Insure.

FAILURES "GLOSSED OVER."

Says Secretary's Attacks on British Navy Are So Far from Truth That They Could Not Be Seriously Made.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Legislation reorganising the United States Navy Department and creating a responsible military adviser to the civilian secretary was urged before the Senate Naval Investigating Committee yesterday by Rear-Admiral Sims, who continued his testimony in rebuttal to Secretary Daniels and other witnesses.

The Admiral ascribed the wartime failures charged by him against the Navy to the present organisation. He declared that Mr. Daniels in his testimony had not attempted to reply to specific criticisms, but had endeavoured to "gloss over" the Department's failures.

Criticised Friendly Navy.

"In defending the Navy," Admiral Sims said, "the Secretary has also seen fit to introduce matters reflecting upon the war services of the Navy of a friendly nation with whom we were associated in the War. He has charged that this Navy was ineffective, that it had not plans, and he has quoted the President's assertion to the effect that in the crisis it was helpless to the point of panic. He has further charged that I was so hypnotized by this service that I genuflected continuously to its policies and leaders. These charges are, of course, so baseless, so thoroughly in contradiction to the established facts that it seems hard how they could be seriously made."

His Brief Hour.

(By Geo. L. Stryker.)

We saw you, oh, so proud to go,
So willing to obey
The mandate of your King, and right—
It seems like yesterday.

You heard the call; the threatened world?
You answered with your Clan,
You fell; but in your one brief hour
Lived more than all our span.

Your name is golden in our hearts—
Your deeds were those of love.
You fought, you died; your life flows on
In Glory's realm above.

DEWART AND THE SEYMOUR POWER CO.

TORONTO, May 29.—H. H. Dewart, Liberal Leader, made a demand in the Legislature that an investigation be conducted into the purchase by the late Government of the Seymour Power Company, now known as the Central Ontario System. His request came when the Hydro estimates were being considered.

The Liberal Leader maintained that the circumstances of the purchase were sufficient to warrant an inquiry. He regarded it as significant that the system was not then taken over by the Hydro. He declared that Sir Adam Beck knew the character of the transaction at the time and would have nothing to do with it. Mr. Dewart declared that the minority shareholders of the company had not received fair treatment.

THE IRISH SITUATION

WILL BE DISCUSSED BY BRITISH CABINET TO-DAY—PRESS AND PUBLIC CALL FOR EARLY ACTION.

BARRACKS ATTACKED

(Special to Examiner.)

LONDON, May 31.— With the press and public clamoring for immediate action to settle the critical situation in Ireland keen interest was manifesed in the meeting of the British Cabinet to-day. The meeting will be presided over by Premier Lloyd George, Viscount Lord John French, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, will attend the sitting, as will also Hamar Greenwood, secretary for Ireland and Sir Neville Macready, Commander in chief of British forces in Ireland.

While confirmation was obtainable a report was circulated to-day that British warships were being groomed to be sent to Irish ports. his report was not credited in naval circles, however. It was believed the warships might be used to transport munitions to Ireland owing to the in ability to unload these materials on accouit of the refusal of Irish dock workers and railway men to handle them.

Doubt Labour's Help

The press discredited the report that the triple alliance of labor would lend its support to the Irish workers in refusing to handle munitions. The Daily Chonicle urged the use of all available British Military forces to conduct an offensive with unresisting energy against the Sinn Fein catching them red handed in their acts of murder, arson and pillage."

A Dublin despatch to-day said that an attempt had been made last night to burn the entire town of Kilmallock where a band of one hundred men attacked the military barracks on Friday. Crowds saturated the fronts of shops and residences with parrafin oil and then set fire to the buildings, the despatch said. Inhabitants of the town fled from their homes. Considerable damage was done.

Towns Fire Swept In New Brunswick

BLAZING FORESTS HAVE WIPED OUT ST. QUENTIN AND SEVERAL HAMLETS ARE ALSO REPORTED DESTROYED—PILE OF PULPWOOD RUINED.

MEANS LOSS OF MILLIONS

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 31. — Aided by continued drought and strong winds, forest fires are continuing to destroy much timber in the Maritime Provinces. So far, reports from various points in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia indicate no loss of life, but a number of the settlements are in grave danger and work has been given up by the men in them in order to fight the flames. In a number of the churches yesterday prayers were offered for rain. According to the lumber men's estimates damages so far approximate two million dollars.

(Special to The Examiner.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 31. — Forest and bush fires, which have been raging throughout New Brunswick, for the last week, have assumed alarming proportions, particularly along the line of the International Railway Division of the C.N.R. which runs across the northern part of the Province from Campbellton, to St. Leonards, through the heart of the Crown timber lands.

The incorporated town of St. Quintin in Restigouche County, has been almost entirely wiped out, the financial loss being estimated at half a million dollars. Sixty five main buildings including mills, railway buildings, post office, bank, every store in the town (except one conducted by a Syrian named Zesbee) dwellings and scores of outbuildings, were destroyed.

The Catholic church which occupied a somewhat isolated position on a hill in the town, was one of the few buildings that escaped destruction. Much valuable timber was also destroyed. Communication with the place has been cut off information in this despatch came from the crew of a freight train who came through the burned district and arrived at St. Leonards.

Pulpwood Burned.

Peters' Siding, a village on the International Line, has also been destroyed and it is feared that the same fate will happen to Four Fingers, another lumbering village, four miles from St. Quentin. At Collins Siding, on the International Railway, 5800 cords of wood pulp held by various owners and valued at more than $100,000, is said to be so ruined that there is little or no hope of saving it from destruction by the fires which are raging everywhere along the railway line, alhtough patrols have been following every train.

$150,000 DAMAGE TO NOVA SCOTIA TOWN

LONDONDERRY, N.S., May 31.— Property loss in the fire which destroyed a portion of this town yesterday is estimated at $150,000. Forty-eight buildings, including four churches, a glebe house, rectory, hall and school were burned. Forty out of about two hundred and fifty families in town are homeless. It was decided to make a general apepal to the public for relief.

PPREPARE TO VACATE HOME IN FIRE'S PATH

People of Preston, Near Dartmouth, Contemplate Removing Valuables.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, May 31.— Fire which has been burning between Preston and Waverley Road, Halifax county, for the past four days, and which yesterday was within three miles of Dartmouth ferry, was still spreading rapidly this morning toward the village of Preston, three miles from Dartmouth. Althought no buildings are in imminent danger, residents contemplate removing valuables if the fire is not soon under control. Forest fires have been raging around Aylesford and Gaspereau Lakes and Blue Mountain, but have been extinguished. Men are still on guard, however.

SWEEPING THROUGH AROOSTOOK.

HOULTON, Maine, May 30.—Extensive areas of timber land and pulpwood frests have been devastated by fires which are sweeping through a larg part of northern Aroostook county. Fire wardens said todayq that there was little hope of extinguishing them until a heavy rain fell. In Nashville plantation a pulpwood camp was caught in the path of the flames and many shacks and a large quantity of supplies were burned.

ROYALIST REVOLT MOOTED IN BERLIN

Revolutionary Indications Where Prince August Wilhelm Moves.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 31.—Rumors of an impending revolt are steadily growing in Berlin and there are indications that headquarters of a new revolutionary movement are at Potsdam, where Prince August Wilhelm, son of former Emperor Wilhelm is staying. He is regarded as a leader of the military party. Advices from Doorn declare Wilhelm Hohenzollern is in high hopes of a successful coup, and believes he will once more become the ruler of the German Empire.

NINE KILLED AND NEARLY 100 HURT

IN COLLISION OF PASSENGER TRAINS NEAR TULSA, OKLA.

TULSA, Okla., May 31.—Nine persons killed and between seventy-five and one hundred were injured early to-day in a head-on collision between two St. Louis and San Francisco passenger trains near White Oak, fifty miles east of here, according to reports received her.

Two Killed at Elmira, N.Y.

ELMIRA, May 31.—Engineer and fireman of the Lehigh Valley train were killed and three passengers slightly injured in a head on collision with drawn by two engines near Vanetten, N.Y., early this morning.

NOVA SCOTIA FOREST FIRE HALF MILE WIDE

(Special to The Examiner.)

SYDNEY, N. S., May 31. — Four hours of desperate fighting by town firemen, reinforced by the powerful engines of the Dominion Collieries was necessary to save a portion of the town of New Waterford, from a serious forest fire.

The fire cut a path fully half a mile wide and at one time threatened the destruction of Mount Carmel Church and many residences in the vicinity.

DELAY PEACE TERMS PARLEY WITH TURKS

(Special to The Examiner.)

PARIS, May 31.—The Allied Supreme Council has decided to grant the request of Turkey for an extension of the time for discussing the terms of peace. It was announced that the time was extended to July 11th.

Announcement has also been made here that the Spa Conference scheduled for June 21st, will not be postponed, despite the protest of Italy. Formal note to this effect will also be sent to the Rome Government immediately.

WAR ECHOES IN BALKANS

TURKS BOMBARD SUBURB OF ADRIANOPLE WHICH GREEKS ARE OCCUPYING—MINOR ENCOUNTERS REPORTED.

OTHER COMMUNIQUES

(Canadian Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31. — Karagatch, a suburb of Adrianople, situated on the right bank of the Maritza river, which is being occupied by Greek troops, was under fire from the Turkish artillery yesterday.

A number of shrapnel shells fell about the station but the building was not damaged.

Several small encounters between Greek and Turkish soldiers south of Karagatch are reported.

Ten thousand Bulgarians, members of irregular bands of troops, have assembled at Harmanli, about sixty miles north west of Adrianople on the Maritza.

SIGN FOR BULGARS.

BUDAPEST, May 31. — The Minister of War, General Soos, who has been chosen to sign the peace treaty instead of Count Telekey, the foreign minister, will leave for Paris immediately. He was Admiral Horthy's chief of staff.

SOVIETS ADVANCE IN PERSIA.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 31. — Resht, an important city in Persia, 16 miles southeast of Enzeli, and about 150 miles northwest of Teheran, has been occupied by Russian Bolshevik troops, according to advices received by the Persian legation here.

D'ANNUNZIO ACTIVE.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, May 31. — Troops commanded by Gabrielle D'Annunzio, the Italian poet aviator, shelled a small town in the vicinity of Fiume, which had been occupied by Italian regular forces since May 26, according to reports received at the Foreign Office to-day. No details of the incident were received.

APPEALS MADE FOR SERBIAN FUND

PASTORS OF LOCAL CHURCHES BRING CAMPAIGN BEFORE THEIR CONGREGATIONS.

Eloquent appeals on behalf of the Serbian Relief Fund were made in the city churches yesterday the urgent need of help for the stricken Balkan country being brought squarely before the congregations.

Capt. Joe Lawson the organizer of the local drive has asked the Examiner to express his hearty thanks to the different pastors who from the pulpit yesterday appealed for support for the Fund. He is also most grateful to the banks for their assistance in acting as collecting agencies.

Capt. Lawson also wants to thank the proprietors of the local moving picture theatres for displaying slides calling attention to the campaign.

SPLENDID CONCERT BY G.W.V.A. BAND

SUNDAY PROGRAMME WAS APPRECIATED BY HUGE CROWD.

The concert by the band of the Great War Veterans under the direction of Bandmaster Walter Hughes in Victoria Park last night was a most enjoyable success that attracted thousands to the beautiful park. The band gave a very attractive programme, its work being thoroughly appreciated by the big audience. Perhaps the best of its offerings was the selection from "Maritana" which was most artisically interpreted. The favourite "Raymond" overture was also successfully presented while the always popular "Wee McGregor" patrol scored as heavily as usual. Their snappy marches were played in good style. Bandsman Frank Robinson's cornet solo "A Perfect Day" was a feature of the programme. The musician got beautiful tone in this number and the applause it received was merited. Bandsman Everett in his vocal solo "The Bells of St. Mary's" with band accompaniment also scored a triumph and had to respond to an encore.

Soviets Repulsed

SUCCESSFUL MANOEUVRES BY POLISH FORCES FOIL ATTEMPTS OF BOLSHEVIK ARMY.

ARMOURED TRAINS TAKEN

WARSAW, May 31.—Bolshevik attacks against the Polish line between Lake Narocz and the upper reaches of the Beresina river are weakening, while further south manoeuvres by Polish forces have "paralyzed" the attempts of the Soviet army to break through, according to the official statement issued at army headquarters here. Foiled on each end of the battle front the Bolshevik have again tried to force the line of Beresina at several places, but have ben rpulsed at all points the statement says, the battle being especially heavy around Borisov. On the Ukrainian front Polish troops by a skillful manoeuvre, have captured two Bolshevik armored trains which were firing on the Polish positions in the Kiev brideghead. Reconnaisances have been made by Bolsheviki at various points along the front.

BOLSHEVIKI CLAIM POLES ARE CHECKED

FRESH TROOPS THROWN BACK SOUTH OF KIEV, ACCORDING TO MOSCOW REPORTS.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 31. — Poles have thrown fresh troops into the fighting in Tarashtcha region sixty miles south of Kiev, but their heavy attacks on Bolsheviki lines have been repulsed, says Sunday's official statement from Moscow by wireless to-day. The communique reads:

"In the Tarashtcha region our troops, developing their success, occupied a number of hamlets 27 miles from Tarashtcha. North-west of Tarashtcha we are successfully repulsing force's enemy attacks, the latter having flung in new re-infrocements in this region. Fighting is still proceeding.

Has a Familiar Ring.

"In the direction of Eventsiany (55 miles south of Dvinsk) after overcoming enemy's resistance we occupied a series of points three miles east of Koziany village and also further south. North-west of Postavy we repulsed enemy attacks.

"In the direction of Molodechno, (north-west of Minsk), a long sector, Krivitchy - Dolginov - Pleshonhenitay-Lake Polik, fierce fighting continues. In the Borisov region we occupied positions on the left bank of Beresina. In the Bobruisk region an enemy attack was repulsed. In Vapniarka region we held up an enemy counter advance, driving him back beyond the line of villages 20 miles south-east of Vapniarka."

SHORTAGE OF CARS HITS PAPER MILLS

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 31. — Toronto publishers who buy their newsprint from the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Co. were advised today by the company that unless more cars can be obtained for the shipping of paper from their extensive mills they will be obliged to close down their mills. The car shortage is due to the great number of cars of the Canadian railways in the United States which are not being returned.

THE WEATHER

To-day is the warmest day of this season up to the present time. At noon the thermometer was up to 83 degrees in the shade and still climbing. Conditions look favorable for a possible thunderstorm. Speaking of rain, this is the dryest May for many years. To-day I looked through old weather records for 24 years back. On no occasion was the rainfall so light as this month. Up to to-day it has only amounted to .24 of an inch, .20 of this amount falling on Sunday night a week ago, and the balance on two other days on which slight showers fell. The nearest approach to the drought of this month was May, 1914 when but .62 fell, and May of 1913, when .83 was the amount. The usual amount for May is between 3 and 4 inches.—W.P.

CONFERENCE OPENS ON IMPERIAL NOTE

Representatives of the West Indies in Ottawa To-day.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, May 31.—Sounding a note of Imperial solidarity, the conference between Canada and the West Indies began business to-day. Opening proceedings were marked by addresses of welcome to the delegates by the Governor-General and Sir Robert Borden. All the British West Indies were represented and the British government was represnted by Lieutenant-Colonel Amery, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for the Colonies.

The Duke of Devonshire remarked on the spirit of co-operation shown between various portions of the Empire during the war and stated that one of the strongest methods to make future secure was to make the Empire as self-supporting as possible.

RETAIL MERCHANTS WANT TAX CHANGE

ASK DRAYTON TO COLLECT IT FROM MANUFACTURERS.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Ont., May 31.—The burden of collecting "discriminatory and confusing luxury tax, which they consider, ill-advised, poorly conceived and poorly devised" was asked to be removed from their shoulders by the retail merchants of Canada at a special interview with Sir Henry Drayton this morning when some two hundred retailers from all over Canada were present. They asked that it be collected at the source of supply; namely from the manufacturer and importer and absorbed in the same manner that all systems of taxation were absorbed. In replying Si Henry did not answer any specific objections nor indicate that any change would be made in the budgets proposals. One of most striking statements in reply was "in interest of everybody government desires to check extravagance and pull down cost of living."

WOULD NOT HAZARD OPINION ON PRICES

SIR JOHN EATON SAYS GREATER PRODUCTION MUST COME FIRST.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., May 31.—The new luxury tax will have a tremendous influence in curbing extravagance throughout the country, was the opinion voiced by Sir John Eaton today. It will make everybody pay for the upkeep of Canada, said Sir John, and as Canada must meet her obligations it is the best policy that could be adopted under the circumstances.

Asked whether he thought the high cost would come down in the Fall Sir John refused to hazard an opinion. One thing is certain, he said, that prices will not come down until production increases. The output of the country will decide whether high cost of living is to rise or fall. The effect of the luxury tax on retail business cannot be stated as yet, said Sir John. Machinery for its collection has just been put in order and it is hard to say what lines will be most effected.

CAMP SHOWER BROUGHT MANY GIFTS TO 'Y' GIRLS

Many useful and acceptable gifts were received at the camp shower held at the Y.W.C.A. on Friday evening and a very successful evening was spent. After the campers had trimmed the C.G.E. girls at a game of basketball by a score of 12-9, a short programme was given to which the following contributed selections: Opening remarks, Miss Layton; piano solo, Miss Francis Edwards; reading, Miss Josephine McGill; vocal solo, Miss Ina Allen, while Miss Helen Bulmer, Miss Florence Johnson, Miss Olga Johnson, Miss Margery Bridge and Miss Sadie Webb took part in the clever pantomine, "The Coquette."

The gifts were opened by Mrs. Thomas Cruikshanks and Mrs. E. Morrison. The evening closed with light refreshments.

UNRULY MOB IN WINDSOR

FORCED POLICE TO RELEASE PRISONER—AFFAIR TO BE INVESTIGATED—CROWN TO ACT.

PUNISH RINGLEADERS

WINDSOR, May 31. — "We are going to teach these hoodlums that they cannot run wild on the streets," was the statement made this morning by Crown Attorney J. H. Rodd, regarding the riot on Saturday night when a mob of 600 demanded and secured the release of Fred C. McLean, who had been arrested after a fight in which a policeman was wounded about the head.

"I have the names of several of the ringleaders and they will be prosecuted immediately," declared Mr. Rodd."

"Conditions like this cannot and will not be tolerated. The matter will be fully investigated, first of all by the police commissioners."

POLICE WEAKENED

WINDSOR, May 30. — A mob of between four and five hundred men made up of returned soldiers and civilians, surrounded the City Hall, where the police headquarters are located, at nine o'clock last night, and demanded the release of Fred McLean, a returned man, who had been arrested a short time previously for being drunk and disorderly.

At first the police refused to give him up but later the actions of the mob became so threatening that the cell was unlocked and McLean turned loose.

Before the mob dispersed many stones were thrown and the windows in the police office as well as those facng into the council chamber were smashed. With McLean in their midst the mob then marched down town singing and cheering. Later a number of the men who had assisted in McLean's release called at the home of Patrolman Murray and demanded to see him, but the officer's wife stood at the door with a revolver in her hand and pluckily ordered the men off, declaring that she would shoot the first one who attempted to enter her home.

A special meeting of the police commissioners has been called for to-morrow to investigate the affair, which the authorities declare, was result of an agitation by a rum-runner who has been reecntly arrested and heavily fined. One prominent county official declared to-day that the release of the prisoner was one of the "worst mistakes that have been made," and several city clergymen stated to-day that the affair was the outcome of wholesale transactions in whisey, many of the mob being at least partially intoxicated.

INCREASES FOR LOCAL BANK CLERKS

Bank clerks in several of the local banks who have been wont to meditate on their own salaries and its relation to the H.C. of L., when balancing up some wealthy customers's pass book, have been given a new impetus in their chosen path by the recent increases received

The elation over the much desired boost in salaries has been noticeable amongst some of the clerks, and broad smiles are giving vent to some of the exuberation in the interior.

The clerks in other banks, which have not yet increased the salaries, are eagerly awaiting word from head office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES FOR THE DAILY EXAMINER

Owing to the greatly increased cost of newsprint and all other costs going into the production of a newspaper, The Examiner has been forced to increase its subscription rates, and on and after June 1st next, The Daily Examiner will be sold as follows delivered:

Yearly	$6.00
Half-Yearly	$3.00
Quarterly	$1.50
Monthly	50c
By Mail Monthly	45c
Weekly through newsboys	15c
Single Copies	3c

The Examiner is about the last of the Daily Papers to increase its subscription rates. We had hoped that the price of newsprint would come down and permit us to continue the old price, but find that it is absolutely necessary to follow the course of all other newspapers in order to continue our publication.

KAROLYI ARRESTED

AUSTRIAN COUNT CHARGED WITH HAVING INSTIGATED MURDER.

(Special to The Examiner.)

BUDAPEST, May 31. — A warrant for the arrest of Count Michael Karolyi, the former provisional president of Hungary, has been issued by the commandant of the military tribunal. He is charged with having instigated murder and with acting against national defence.

Voice Of The People

Sir,—In answer to the telegram from Senator Nicholls to Mayor McIntyre, the argument contained only affects one branch of the establishment, or approximately 4 per cent. of the employees affected, and is therefore very misleading and unjust.
—Yours,
Local Union 261, I.B.E.W.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

Many advertisers, and particularly retail advertisers, never get the full cumulative power of advertising behind their business because they lack patience. They demand direct returns. Thy run a one-time announcement in the local paper to-day and look for sales enough—sales directly traceable to the little one-time advertisement—before next week to pay for the cost of the space.

Of course they are disappointed. Retail advertising seldom works out that way. But they are impatient for results. They are not prepared to invest money in advertising as they would in new goods, in store fixtures, in stocks or in real estate—and wait for profits to be earned. No. The returns of to-day's advertising must ring in cash profits to-morrow, or, in the estimation of too many retail dealers, the advertising is not worth what it costs.

Hand-to-mouth advetising is not worth what it costs. It yields only hand-to-mouth returns. To show the best results as a business building power, the advertising of the retail merchant must be persistent. Its chief purpose should be to build up permanent trade; to make the people of your community turn to your store in preference to other stores; to make them think of you and of your place of business; to convince them that they cannot get better quality and price and service anywhere.

"Would you advise a sixty-inch advertisement in the newspaper once a week or six ads. covering ten inches of space each week?" was one of the questions asked.

"I would advise six ads., one each day, or, better still, three twenty-inch ads. each week," replied the advertiser.

"Anything that is desirable is advertisable," he said, and pointed out that the desirability of an article depends much on the consistency with which it is advertised.

"One of the best ways to advertise is to cultivate the customers you have acquired and they will assist you in your advertising."

His final message was: "Advertise and get out and prosper."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE PASSION FLOWER

Unfortunately for themselves many of Peterboro's playgoers were absent from the Grand on Saturday night and accordingly missed one of the most powerful plays and one of the finest exhibitions of histrionic ability that has been seen here in many a moon. The appearance of the celebrated actress Nance O'Neil in Jacintel Benavente's great drama "The Passion Flower" will not soon pass out of the recollection of those who were in Saturday night's audience. The play itself dealing as it does with the conflict between elemental impulse and Christian duty is a gripping soul stirring drama that holds the audience spell bound as the plot develops from climax to climax until the sensational end.

The Passion Flower is Acacia's daughter of Raimunda's who has married a second time, Raimunda's husband Estebar falls violently in love with his step-daughter although he fights desperately against the passion that is devouring his soul and Acacia, while she too loves, tries to drive her affection for Estebar out of her heart. When the play opens Acacia's engagement to a young man of the neighborhood has been announced. As her fiancee Faustino is on his way home he is murdered, killed by a shot fired in the darkness. The action of the play develops in intensity from this stage, tense scene after tense scene holding the audience breathless as the realization that the murder has been done at the instigation of Estebar sinks home and then at a most unexpected moment the smouldering passion of Estebar and Acacia breaks forth and the horrible truth is revealed to Raimunda.

Nothing more stirring in its dramatic effect has been presented at the Grand than the excitement of the last act.

As for the acting too much cannot be said. Miss O'Neil as the unhappy Raimunda, wracked between her love for her husband and her love for her child, makes the character a masterpiece. Her wonderful voice entirely suited to the exacting nature of the lines and of the feeling she has to interpret her facial expression, her artistry in producing the effects the author intended in the big scenes of the play, combines to make her performance an unforgetable one. And her associates are worthy of their star for this company is of uniform excellence and skill. Miss Annette Westbay scores heavily in the title role, and Mr. Alford Hickman's conception of the part of Estebar is worthy of the role and of the production, while the other members of the company compare favourable with those mentioned.

Peterboro was very fortunate in having a chance to see "The Passion Flower" for it has been recalled to New York for another run in that city. The company leaving here on Saturday night. Playgoers in New York to-night will be witnessing the same production as some of Peterboro's lovers of the theatre saw here on Saturday.

HEART SO BAD
WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Iva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines, and took several different kinds but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them. Before I had taken more than two boxes I could see that they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me and I advise anyone troubled with their heart to try them as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE POLICE WILL ENFORCE CITY'S NEW TRAFFIC LAW

Chief Thompson Reminds Car Drivers Must Turn at Corners.

No longer will motorists, bicyclists, and drivers of vehicles of different varieties be permitted to turn around in the street wherever the fancy overtakes them. On May 21, Traffic By-law 1685, of the City of Peterboro, was amended to make this punishable offence and who is caught turning his conveyance around in a street except at the corner will find that it would have paid him to keep within the requirements of the law. The maximum fine is $50 and Chief Thompson intends to carry the amended By-law out to the last letter. Too many accidents have occurred by vehicles turning around in front of an approaching car or rig and a stop will be put to this dangerous practise.

PHYSICAL AS WELL AS MORAL DECAY IN EVIDENCE TO-DAY

REV. MR. ROSS SPEAKS ON TEXT "AS A MAN IS SO IS HIS STRENGTH."

The services yesterday were most successful at Mark Street Church. Large and appreciative congregations greeted the pastor in the morning and Rev. Dr. Speer in the evening. The music was excellent, and more than twenty voices composed the choir.

The morning subject was "The Dignity of Human Power," and was founded on the text recorded in 8th chap. of Judges, 21: "As the man is, so is his strength." The following thoughts were developed:

First—Zebah and Zalmuma were kings of Midian, and had murdered the brothers of Gideon. On being captured by the great leader of Israel, Gideon commands his son to rise up and slay these murderers. While these two kings are willing to die, they ask that Gideon himself will do the deed rather than the youth. That is, they would rather die by the hand of a great warrior like Gideon than be slain by a stripling. This was certainly a very reasonable attitude on the part of Zebah and Zalmuma, and we assume the same ourselves. If we are to be defeated, outdone, or slain in life's conflict, let us receive the blow from a man and not a weakling.

Alarming Debility.

Second—As the man is physically so is his strength. In any and every walk of life a strong healthy body is required to support a strong mind. The body is becoming weak and puny to-day, and the nervous derangement of the child as well as the adult is alarming. What is the cause? I believe that the exciting pictures in the movies, the ten-cent novel, and the cigarette constitute the withering curse of the age. The ruddy glow of the cheek, the sparkle of the manly eye, the elasticity of the youthful step—yes, in a word, the glory of youth—is departing, and we welcome with open arms any movement that will help to arrest this moral and physical decay.

Third—As a man is in thought, so is he. A man is neither bigger nor better than his thoughts. As he thinketh in his heart, so is he. Education is not piling up facts in the mind. It is a training of the whole man, physically, mentally, morally, and spiritually. Three great books are open before us, namely, Nature, Revelation, and Experience. Pity any man who is trying to solve life's problems without experience. The man in the pew is struggling with the greatest problems of his life, and if inexperience fills the pulpit, what is he to do? He is going to stay at home or go where some help is to be found. The "nice man" no longer fills the bill.

Fourth—As a man is in Christ, so is he. If any man be in Christ he is a new creature. He will work out in his daily life what God works in by His spirit. A young man said to his father, who was a coal dealer, after a revival had been held in the church, "Father, if we all join the church who'll weigh the coal?" As a man is in Christ so will his strength be for honesty, purity and righteousness."

Dr. Speer delighted the congregation with his eloquent sermon in the evening and Capt. Lawson made a fine impression.

Remember the Boys' and Girls' Concert next Friday evening. Mrs. (Rev.) Ross has been requested to repeat the program given some time ago and has decided to do so next Friday evening.

HYDRO WORKMEN ARE COMPLAINING

ALLEGE LONG SERVICE MEN DISCHARGED NEW MEN HIRED.

(Special to The Examiner.)

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 31. —The men on the Hydro are complaining that new men are still being taken on while discharging old men on the ground of the reduction of the staff. There is also a certain amount of dissatisfaction at a new appointment. An American citizen has been appointed as superintendent on one of the section. This man came here from Lancaster, Pa., and has never been in Canada before. More men have been laid off, chiefly men who have been prominent in the Federation.

ENUMERATOR SYSTEM IN ELECTIONS PASSES

Legislature Orders Return to Method of Using Municipal Lists.

TORONTO, May 29.—Thanks to the manner in which the measure was discussed by the special committee appointed by the House there was very little discussion in the Legislature last night when the revised Ontario Elections Act was given its third reading. Under the new act the enumerator system of preparing election lists is a thing of the past. Municipal lists will be used for provincial elections in future, provision being made for a complete revision of the voters' list before election day.

Polls will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the evening. In certain districts, however, in order to help industrial workers to exercise their franchise, polling places, may, at the order of the election board be opened at 6 o'clock in the morning.

WHEN JOBS GO BEGGING---

PROBABLY YOU THINK right now that the pay you are receiving is not in proportion to the work you are doing—in other words you believe you are poorly paid. And, perhaps you are right.

BUT what is it that governs the amount of your wage? Is it not the law of supply and demand—the same law that governs the cost of merchandise?

THE TROUBLE is—there are more men than jobs—a fact which causes so much trouble at the present time.

A CITY IS PROSPEROUS to the fullest extent when there are more jobs than men to take them. Get busy, therefore, and help bring about this ideal condition. Whenever you go into a store ask for the Peterboro City Brand of the Article you want. Insist that your wife and all your family do the same. Thus you will be laying stones in the foundation of a greater Peterboro City—a Peterboro City having enormous factories which will employ thousands of people and cause millions of dollars to be distributed right here at home.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, MAY 31ST, 1920.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

The concert by the splendid band of the G.W.V.A. in Victoria Park last evening was an innovation that proved most enjoyable to hundreds of citizens, and there seems no logical reason why similar opportunities should not be given during the summer months to hear such programmes on Sunday evenings. Held as it was after the churches were out, there was no interference with the services, and the people were enabled to spend a pleasant hour listening to good music amid beautiful surroundings. The experiment of last evening warrants a repetition.

HYDRO RATES.

In opposing the idea of a flat rate system for Hydro-Electric power in the Province, the member for West Peterborough, Mr. Thomas Tooms, is undoubtedly in line with the opinion of his constituents. Peterborough would have nothing to gain and everything to lose by the adoption of such a system, and it is to be hoped that the special committee of the Legislature which has been delegated to inquire into Hydro rates will effectively dispose of this demand for a flat rate, which arises, of course, from those municipalities which are away from the sources of power. Their claim that they should receive power at the same rates as the communities situated at the points where it is developed is ridiculous. There is no more reason why power should be distributed at a uniform rate than there would be for the railways to charge the same fare for ten miles as they do for two hundred. Some adjustments of the rates may be necessary, and no harm will be done by an inquiry into this feature of the Hydro system, but any attempt to foist a flat rate system on the Province should be opposed tooth and nail.

THE FIRST SESSION.

The Drury Government has concluded its first session, and it would be unfair to deny that it has come through its first test in a manner that has surprised many people. With a very small majority, and that only secured by an alliance with the Labour members of the Legislature, the Government's position at the beginning of the session could not be described as by any means assured. It was prophesied that the Farmers and Labour members would never be able to work harmoniously together and that the alliance between the two wings of the Government would be shortlived. But while there are points upon which they cannot see eye to eye, and possibly never will, these contentious issues were shoved to one side, and upon the whole there was little friction between the two factions. The fear, too, that the Legislature would be dominated by the U.F.O., with results that would not be beneficial to the whole people, proved unfounded. Indeed, in the only issue in which the United Farmers' organization attempted to force the hands of the Government — the Civil Service Superannuation Bill—the Cabinet and majority of the farmer members ignored the advice of the Farmers' Clubs, and placed the measure on the Statute Books.

The legislative programme was not a particularly heavy one, and perhaps the most important piece of legislation that was carried was the Bill establishing mothers' pensions, and it is true that the Legislature managed to make the session just concluded the longest on record; but much of the delay was caused by the fact that many of the members were strange to Parliamentary customs, and that there were four factions in the House who insisted upon being heard.

On the whole, the Drury Government has emerged with considerable credit from its first session.

A CANADIAN PLAY.

To refer to a coming theatrical performance in the editorial columns of a newspaper is perhaps an unusual proceeding, but there are features in connection with the coming to Peterborough on Friday and Saturday of this week of "The P. B. I.", the Canadian war play, that place it in a different class from the usual dramatic productions.

In the first place, it is perhaps the first play written and staged entirely by Canadians that has been created for use on the professional stage. That in itself makes it a unique production. But there is added interest in the fact that its caste is composed of Canadian war veterans — Varsity students, whose average service in France was twenty months.

The play is a realistic portrayal of some features of the adventures of the Canadian Army in France, played by men who actually went through those adventures. It is not morbid in its tone, nor mawkisk in its sentiments. There is no flag-waving or mock patriotism; but there is a true picture of the Canadian Army and an opportunity to visualise what it did in France, and the feelings that inspired its members to the deeds that have made the name of Canada famous.

Peterborough is one of the few Ontario cities that at present will have the opportunity of seeing this production, and The Examiner has no apologies to make in calling attention to the coming of "The P. B. I." in this editorial reference.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

Below, The Examiner is pleased to publish a letter from Major Gifford, the district vocational officer, in reply to some comments on vocational training which appeared in these columns a few days ago. The article in question was a general one, not intended as a criticism of the local branch, and there was no intention of "reducing the confidence" held in the Department by those with whom it has to deal. But the comments Major Gifford complains of are those commonly heard among returned men, and if there is a false impression abroad as to the working out of the system of vocational training, The Examiner certainly is not responsible for it by merely calling attention to the fact that such a feeling exists. However, the figures given by Major Gifford in his letter are such as to dispel, in so far as Peterborough is concerned, any doubt as to the beneficial results of vocational training.

That 95 per cent. of those who have received a commercial course in Peterborough have secured employment in work for which they were trained is a showing much better than is generally understood, and the Department is to be congratulated upon the success achieved; while the fact that 75 per cent. of all the men who were trained have been employed along the lines in which they received courses, is also a creditable record.

Major Gifford's letter is published the more willingly because there is no intention on the part of The Examiner to unjustly criticise the work of the Department. It is as follows:

Editor, Peterborough Examiner.

Dear Sir,

In your issue of 26th May an article appears under the above caption which does anything but justice to the work of the Vocational Branch of this Department, and which will no doubt have a seriously detrimental effect locally in that it tends to reduce the confidence in this Department held by disabled ex-soldiers and people with whom we have to deal.

Your article generally creates the impression that vocational training is next thing to a failure, and at the same time you admit your article is without foundation by asking for statistics. Do you not think it would be more advisable and show more consideration for those who require retraining to get the statistics first and create your impression afterwards.

These statistics are always available, as far as this branch is concerned, at this office.

Regarding commercial courses, you are certainly far wide of the mark. We show 95 per cent. of local graduates employed along the lines they were trained, and earning from $75.00 to $200.00 per month. Locally, particular care has been taken to place in commercial courses only those men who have the necessary preliminary education to ensure at least a fair chance of being successful. Special arrangements have been made with the Principal of the Peterborough Business College whereby all prospective commercial students are interviewed by him before being written up, with the result as shown above.

Regarding the length of course, if all our students were written up to learn trades in the true sense of the word, the length of course as at present would indeed be far too short, but as it is, the majority of men training in industries are simply learning an "operation," and as our figures show, longer courses are only necessary in special cases. Locally 75 per cent. of the men who have completed are employed along the lines they received training in, and are satisfied with the results of their training.

It is not surprising that witnesses appearing before the Special Committee to complain about the Vocational Branch, simply because these witnesses have been called for, and in some cases produced by the Vocational Branch itself to show where the existing regulations are too narrow.

The figures given above are, of course, local, but are consistent with figures of the whole Province. There is no doubt that the figures for the Dominion will be presented to the Special Committee showing actual results of the work of the Vocational Branch.

Figures for this branch for week ending 21st May are as follow:

Engaged Along Lines Trained—75 per cent.

Engaged Along Other Lines—13 per cent.

Unemployed—2 per cent.

D. S. C. R. Hospital Patients—4 per cent.

Waiting Information—6 per cent.

In view of the above, would respectfully ask you to give this letter the same publicity which was given your article, with a view to correcting the false impression you have undoubtedly created locally.—Yours truly,

H. Gifford,
District Vocational Officer.

To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock will mark the opening of the tanbark, sawdust and spangles season in Peterboro at the Exhibition grounds.

For months the Sparks Circus cohorts have been diligently rehearsing the long programme and all is now in readiness. The performance will start off with an entry of wondrous splendor in which all the performers of this great tented enterprise will trail their way in stately procession around the hippodrome track. The costumes and all properties are entirely new and the resources of the circus in horses, elephants and camels, etc., are drawn upon to the fullest extent.

After the entry will come the purely circus features and for a matter of over two hours the rings and hippodrome track will be scenes of kaleidoscopic activity. There will be the Sparks Stable of Shimmy and Tango Dancing Horses who actually dance to the music of the band, and keep perfect time even when the music changes. Madge Evans, the world's greatest lady elephant trainer will be on hand with her many tons of elephants. Then there will be the roller-skating and bicycle riding bears, the musical seals, and the great Matoka will do his front and his backward slides for life on a narrow thread like wire from the highest point of the tent to the ground, traversing a distance of 150 feet. Of course the usual clowns will be on hand to extract the laughs left over from the last visit of the circus.

The menagerie will be found to be most interesting and one hour's time will be given before the performance starts so that you can see it in its entirety. One can get a very fair idea of the magnitude and the calibre of the Sparks Circus from the two mile long, open den street parade, at 10:30 a.m. Two performances will be given to-morrow, at 2 and 8 p.m.

PLEADS NO WORK HERE.

John O'Connor claimed in the Police Court to-day that he couldn't get any work in Peterborough, and had spent the winter at Midland, where conditions were more congenial for him. The charge was vagrancy, which means that he was not able to give a satisfactory account of himself and shunned work. O'Connor said No. Chief Thompson said "Yes. There's lots of work. He does about two months' work in a year."

The accused winced under the accusations against him, but reiterated his denial of loafing.

A remand for a week was asked by the Chief Constable until another case in which the accused is said to have played a prominent part, is completed.

Magistrate Dumble consented.

To save handling of soap in kitchen sinks a holder has been invented that can be so mounted on a faucet as to be swung into position for the water to flow through it.

Germans Announce Compliance With Peace Treaty Terms.

BERLIN, May 28.—The Ministry of Transport announced to-day that the delivery of 5,000 locomotives to the Entente, in acordance with the Peace Treaty, had been completed.

The former Prussian-Hessian Railway system now possesses 23,000 locomotives, which is 1,400 more than it had before the war, but has only 13,000 locomotives which are capable of being used. Compared with the pre-war period, the percentage of unserviceable engines has increased from 19 to 24.

BREATHES OF BILLETS DOES NEW WAR PLAY

'MADEMOISELLE OF BULLY GRENAY' —A REMINDER OF OTHER DAYS.

This coming event for the Grand Theatre, on Friday, June 4th, is one of unusual interest. The first production of an unique play, the spirit of the Canadian Corps epitomized in a four act presentation. It is a true-to-life "war play"—the good humored, good natured Johnny Canuck as he did his daily "bit" in France in the Spring of 1918.

What was the keystone that held the Canadian corps arch of war fame in place? What does one really know of the soldiers' life at the front. The French looked at them as dear, incomprehensible and abnormal children. Prussianism saw them as most awkward amateurs in the highly specialized German art. But the whole world respected them. Haig relied on them as the one corps to hold the salient at Ypres; they were known as Foch's "Pets" when the great offensive of March, 1918, came.

What was it made these boys turn from happy ,sky-larking youths in rest billets to-day to such fiends incarnate in "No Man's Land" to-morrow? It was the spirit of the British army handed over confidently by the "Old Contemptibles" to the Canadians. The play gives again that wonderful spirit, true and natural, for the cast is made of ex-service men only living once again the days spent in France.

Others in the cast are Vivienne Osborne, Stanley Walpole and Frances M. Gordon. George Archainbaud directed the picture from Oliver D. Bailey's play, "Liza Ann."

"IN WALKED MARY" TO ESCAPE BECOMING CHARITY CHILD

"Charity Chile? Nebah!" said Mammy, which translated means that Mary Ann Hubbard's faithful old servant would fight if necessary to keep her beloved charge, the same Mary Ann, from being taken in charge by the Ladies' Aid Society ,and placed in a charitable organization.

To escape such disgrace to the honored name of Hubbard—of which Mary Ann was the sole and penniless surivor—Mammy used her few savings to send Mary Ann to New York and Dick Allison, whose acquaintance they had made while he was seeking health in the South.

Dick had almost forgotten about his little Southern friend when — in walked Mary, who certainly hadn't forgotten him, and who could not understand why it was not all right for her, thoungh unchaperoned, to visit a bachelor. But as Dick was about to marry a widow who, though in love with another, was marrying Dick for his Bradstreet rating, ti was lucky for him that Mary walked in when she did.

What happened when "In Walked Mary," is showing at the Grand Theatre to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday with Jane Caprice starring as Mary Ann. Thomas Carrigan is the Capellani-Pathe's star's leading man.

Question: "What's wrong with the average husband?"

Answer: "He's too good!"

Such is evidently the opinion of John Emerson and Anita Loos, according to their latest effort, "In Search Of A Sinner," starring Constance Talmage, and distributed by First National Exhibitors' Circuit, will have a two days' run at the Allen Theatre, commencing to-day.

"The average husband," says Mr. Emerson, ,'is required to do a hard day's work in these times in order to make a living. And when he comes home he is too tired to take his wife out and show her a good time. The wife, bored to death by her every-day mind to go out on her own hook and look for excitement that her husband can not, or does not furnish.

"And what is the result?—merely that she has no more success at trying to be wicked than does her husband. There's nothing left for a girl to do to be devlish. Liquor, of course, no longer offers any assistance on that score. And cigarette smoking never made any one especially wicked. So that "searching for a sinner" is about one of the most uninteresting jobs on the market. Wickedness is, after all, a lost art."

"Being good is about the easiest thing we have to do,' says Constance Talmadge. "I didn't realize how hard it would be to be naughty until I started work on 'In Search Of A Sinner.' Then I saw that trying to get insulted is about four times as impossible as selling oil stock to John D. How can a girl be devlish in New York? How can she flirt when there's no one to flirt with her? How can she even get arrested when there's not enough wickedness going on to keep the cops awake on their beats?

"And it's just about the same for a man. He can't help being good when there's no opportunities for wickedness. How can he stir up any trouble or excitement at home by being good all the time? He can't come home with a whiskey breath any more. And his wife couldn't smell ice-cream on his breath if he'd been bathing in it. Of course, if his wife were a brunette he might come home with a blonde hair on his coat But where is he going to get the blonde hair, if he's working all day, which he has to do to make a living?

Interviewed on the subject Miss Loos gave vent to almost the same views.

"People are too busy to-day to worry about being bad," she said. "No one can be bad unless he is idle and has plenty of time to figure out his plan of wickedness. You can't remain idle to-day or you'll starve to death. Hence the sudden, widespread morality.

"So the best we can do is to simply content ourselves with being good. After all, it's too good a world to live in.

More Mileage from Tires

MANY tires which because of long, hard driving or accidents give only average mileage, could be made to give unusual mileage simply by the use of Goodyear Reliners. This Goodyear Reliner is a Tire Saver produced by Goodyear to help car-owners keep down tire costs.

They are complete new linings, of new fabric and rubber, shaped to fit the inside of the tire. Cemented in, they strengthen any tire weakened by road shocks or other injuries, often increasing the mileage 25% or more.

You can easily and quickly apply a Goodyear Reliner to your casing Or if you prefer, your repairman will apply it for you at little extra cost.

See any Goodyear Service Station Dealer or your tire repairman.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Chapter 135.

Once more I became jealous of Miss Pearce and it was all due to her name—Marta. Everett and I, were talking of names ,particularly women's names.

"Miss Pierce has a very pretty name," he remarked.

"You like 'Marta'?"

"Yes, very much. I don't think I ever have known anyone of the name."

"Probably taken from some novel—people of her sort are apt to name their children after the heroine in some book of fiction," I said with a sneer.

"Oh, I would not say Miss Pierce came from common people. She is very refined. It is natural refinement, too, of manner as well as in speech."

"You are quite enthusiastic."

"Yes, I think we have been extremely fortunate. First, in having Miss Lane to look after Junior; then in Miss Pierce."

"Because her name is 'Marta'?"

"Don't talk nonsense, Sandra. Her name has nothing to do with her ability to care for Junior."

But you like the name, you think it adds to her attractiveness?" I insisted in anything but a pleasant tone.

"I certainly do. If you stop to think you will recall that you also have an odd and attractive name."

"So did your first wife."

It was the first time in months I had mentioned her. Not since Mrs. Currie's call. He turned white and looked severe as he always did when her name was brought into the conversation. Then said:

"Yes, 'Leola' is an unusual name."

"Which do you like best?" I asked childishly determined to make him declare himself, 'Leola,' 'Sandra,' or 'Marta'? you see I am putting them in the order in which they came into your life."

Everett looked keenly at me as if trying to fathom my reason for continuing the conversation. I put on a look of innocent questioning and then waited for his answer.

"That isn't an easy question to answer. Your name is perhaps the most unusual; 'Marta' the prettiest."

"Oh, you think it is the prettiest, do you? Perhaps you think Miss Pierce also the most attractive of the three?"

"What in the world are you driving at, Sandra? Sometimes I think you atcually TRY to find something to be unhappy about. Suppose she were the most attractive—what then."

"I should know your reason for wanting me to keep her," I answered—throwing all caution aside.

"You don't mean—you can't mean—what has Miss Pierce done to annoy you? You have seemed to like her very much—at least I have thought so."

"Well, I don't like her—I dont' like servants with fancy names. A girl who works out should be Jane, or Sarah or Mary—some plain name—suitable to her position."

Everett threw his head back and laughed immoderately for him. To me his excessive laughter was suspicious. Finally he stopped laughing and said:

"What a queer girl you are, Sandra. What difference does a name make? I should think you would like something out of the ordinary." Then, more seriously, "And I do not think it fair to class Miss Pierce as a servant. She is an educated, and refined girl. We think enough of her to trust our boy to her. I imagine she has seen better days; that she hasn't always been obliged to work for her living. And—"

"I suppose she has made a confidant of you?"

"No; Miss Pierce and I never have held any private conversation, save about you—the time of our anniversary. Aside from that I never have talked to her. But I think her a very capable young woman and as I have said before I consider that we are very fortunate to have her with us."

I said no more, but the very next day I asked Miss Pierce what her middle name was.

"Katherine," she replied.

"I shall call you 'Katie,' hereafter." I had always addressed her as Miss Pierce. Then I added: "Miss Pierce is too formal." She looked pleased, then puzzled, as she replied:

"I you don't mind, I prefer 'Marta.' I never have been called Katherine."

"I prefer 'Katie,' and commencing right away, I called her 'Katie.' Everett thought me small, and although he did not say so I felt sure he had made some sort of explanation and apology to Miss Pierce.
